Hat's Off to the Cumberland High School Class of 2017!

The weather may have forced the commencement ceremony indoors but it did not dampen the enthusiasm as the Cumberland High School Class of 2017 celebrates their graduation last Saturday morning, May 20th, in the Elemer Beran Gymnasium.

Click It or Ticket campaign Update on tornado damage underway

The Cumberland Police Department will mobilize along with hundreds of other law enforcement agencies throughout Wisconsin for the annual Click It or Ticket safety belt enforcement campaign from May 22 to June 4, 2017.

"Whenever our officers see an unbelted driver or passenger, they will stop the vehicle and issue a citation. Their goal is not to write more tickets. They're simply trying to get everyone to buckle up through effective

While the official volunteer reception center closed on Sunday, we realize that there is still a need for assistance across the county. The Barron County Sheriff's Department and the Barron County Health & Human Services will still continue to be the lead agencies for our recovery efforts. They may be reached at: Sheriff's Department, 715-537-3106 or 911 for any property or traffic concerns;

Health & Human Services will continue to monitor 211 to provide assistance to victims. For specific needs: Economic support, trauma services, or other requests, please call 715-537-5691.

In addition, the Chetek Chamber of Commerce has been providing assistance to this disaster with volunteer resources to residents in need, utilizing the Resort Owner's Association information booth as a headquarters.

This team will continue these services during the week. Volunteers are needed for physical labor and supporting rolls in clerical, meal preparation, delivery and traffic.

The need for assistance remains very high. Volunteers are encouraged to follow the updated post at www.explorechetek.com and use the form there to register. Residents can also use this form to submit a request for aid and one of our team volunteers will follow up. You may also call 715-924-4440.

An initial report estimates that 231 properties and four commercial properties received damages.

(Damage estimate-excluded any tree damage, which is heavily damaged). This amounts to an estimated $5 million in personal property and $5 million in commercial property.

"As this recovery continues we want to not only thank the hundreds of volunteers, businesses and organizations that assisted, but the county staff that worked day and night on this disaster for the citizens of Barron County," stated Sheriff Chris Fitzgerald.

Election of officers and new hirings on agenda of May School Board meeting

The Cumberland School Board met on Monday, May 22nd at 7:00 p.m. for open session. First order of business was to elect the officers positions after the Spring elections. Don Horstman will once again serve as Board President. The other positions are: Jennifer Hyatt, Vice President; Eric Stone as Clerk and Jonelle Gideo, Treasurer.

In other appointments, Jonelle Gideo will serve as the Board's CESA 11 Delegate, Adam Skinner will represent Cumberland at the WASB convention on June 5th, and Eric Stone will serve on the Indian Education Committee.

Athletic Director, Mark Fuller started his report with the announcement that at Monday night's baseball game versus Chetek/Weyerhaeuser, The District donated over $1,200 dollars to the Chetek District and the Barron County Disaster Relief Fund. The money was given by students, and the administration and collected in homerooms. The Senior Class gave $500 towards the effort.

Fuller also reported on the WIAA annual meeting, which he attended on April 26th. The major announcement was that in 2017 all WIAA schools will be covered by concussion insurance. The WIAA purchased a policy which would provide a fund so that any athlete suffering a concussion would be guaranteed zero out-of-pocket costs as a result of the injury.

The board then heard a report from the Island City Academy on the activities that have been happening over the last month. The students also invited the Board (and public) to come to their Ice Cream Social and Open House on June 5th. Students will share some of their independent projects for the quarter and new students and parents can get an idea of what lies in store. Dwight Griffith from the ICA's State Champion Envirothon team spoke to the board on the Team's upcoming trip to Maryland for the National competition. He thanked the district for their support and told of fundraising efforts to come up with the remaining funds.

In action items, the board agreed to the Federally mandated raise in school lunch prices. This annual increase brings us in line with the Federal pricing requirements in order to qualify for aid. Breakfast costs will remain the same. Lunch costs will be raised by 10¢ across the board, bringing the Elementary School prices to $2.50 and Middle and High School price to $2.65.

The Board voted to approve the renewal of the District's technology lease. The renewal provides for every student to have a new iPad with detachable keyboard for their use. The units assigned to the Elementary School students will remain in the classroom and the other grades will follow the same guidelines as now. Each of the new units comes with a very sturdy protective case. The lease also includes additional technology for the teachers to help them utilize existing classroom technology.

Also approved was the continuation of Cumberland's involvement with the Barron County Mental Health Consortium, which allows member schools to offer counseling services to students. The consortium allows districts to share costs thereby reducing overall cost to each district.

The Board voted to approve the hiring of two new teachers for the High School. Jason Matthys will fill a new Math position and Lorne Majewski joins the ranks as High School Science/Athletic Director. Also for the High School, Corey Berghammer was named as Varsity Head Football Coach.

Marry Keller was approved to fill a fifth grade teaching spot and Heidi Fauske will transfer into a newly created Multi-level teaching position. She will work with students in fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

The Board also approved the hiring of Dani Allen as a half-time Special Education and half-time Regular Education intern for the first semester of the 2017-18 school year.

Once again, the Board held discussion on the formation of a Wisconsin Interscholastic Ice Fishing team and continuation of sponsorship of the Clay Target Shooting Team. The Board will bring the issue to the table for next month's meeting.

With nothing further to discuss, the meeting adjourned at 8:31 p.m.

The next regular meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, June 20th at 7:00 p.m.

The cast of the ETC production of Charlotte's Web is rehearsing hard for their opening on June 8th. Tickets are available for the show at Peter & Annie's or at the door on the night of the performance.

enforcement and education," said Cumberland Police Chief Rick Rieper.

According to WisDOT statistics, approximately 86% of Wisconsin motorists buckle up, which is an all-time high in the state. However, approximately half of the drivers and passengers killed in crashes last year in Wisconsin were not wearing a safety belt. In 2015 there were nearly 55,000 convictions in Wisconsin for failure to fasten a safety belt.

"Besides avoiding a ticket, buckling up will protect you and everyone in your vehicle from being violently ejected during a crash. An unbelted occupant also can hit another person in the vehicle with massive force causing death or serious injuries," stated Chief Rieper. "Vehicles now have tremendous safety features. But they won't be effective unless all the occupants in the front and rear seats are safely secured with seat belts," Chief Rieper concluded.

ETC presents Charlotte's Web in June

It's been called the best children's book of the past 200 years, but Charlotte's Web is also a play that will be performed by a cast of 20 youth and a few adults at the Cumberland Fine Arts Center. Opening night is June 8 at 7 p.m.

There also are 7 p.m.

performances June 9, 10, 15, 16 and 17. And there's a 2 p.m. matinee on Sunday, June 11. Enrichment Through Culture (ETC), Cumberland's arts council, is offering special pricing for this show, as it did for last year's children's play, Alice in Wonderland. Adults are $10, and student tickets are $5.

Charlotte's Web, of course, is the story of Wilbur, the lovable pig who desperately wants to avoid the butcher. Charlotte, the spider, proves to be a special friend, as does Fern, the little girl who understands what animals say to each other.

Tickets are available at Peter & Annie's World Market in downtown Cumberland and can be reserved by calling 715-822-2787.

Opinion

By Craig Bucher

It was a good week. We attended the Cumberland High School graduation on Saturday. The weather was awful, but the graduation ceremony, held in the gym, was well done. Year after year, the school does itself proud with a program, that the graduates and their parents will long remember. This year was a special year for me and Sharon as our grandson, Isaac, was one of the graduates.

I remember 18 years ago, when we returned from a Viking game and the telephone rang, just as we entered the house. "How was the game, grandma" Paul asked. "After a moment of stunned silence, Sharon stuttered, "grandma, grandma, grandma," put down the phone and yelled at me - "we have to get to the hospital." There she proudly held Isaac and put on a pair of Viking socks (got to get the kid started right.) In a couple of weeks I will turn 80 and God has been good to both Sharon and me. We are in relatively good health and we have been able to watch our first grandson graduate from high school. Next week, God willing, we will drive to North Dakota to experience the graduation of our other two grandsons, as Nick and Chris will walk across the stage to receive their diplomas. Chris, Nick, and Isaac are all great kids. Next fall, they will continue their education and I hope they fare well. Despite all of the troubles in our world, it is still a beautiful world. I hope every grandma and grandpa get to watch their grandchildren graduate. It is a wonderful experience.

I spent as much time as I could this past weekend watching the NCAA softball tournament. The Big 10, despite not having a team advance to the Super Regionals, played well. The Gophers lost two games by 1-0 scores and Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan and Ohio State all played competitive games. The biggest problem I see, with the tournament, is that it favors the southern teams as almost all tournament locations are in the south. The tournament should be played at neutral sites. SEE YOU NEXT WEEK!

Inside Wisconsin by Tom Still

Why Wisconsin is a bottom-feeder in startup index – and how it can improve

MADISON, Wis. – There are some specific steps Wisconsin policymakers can – and should – take to improve its business startup rate, which once again anchored the bottom of the Ewing Marion Kauffman Foundation's annual index.

The real reasons for Wisconsin's quasi-permanent status as a Kauffman bottom-feeder, however, likely have more to do with who we are as a people versus what state or local government can do.

The latest Kauffman Start-up Index has unleashed the usual amount of hand-wringing about Wisconsin's startup production, even though other national studies have cast the state in a more favorable light; investments in Wisconsin early stage companies have nearly doubled in five years; and high-growth companies are popping up well outside the confines of the Dane County startup zone.

Here are reasons why Wisconsin may not escape Kauffman's startup cellar for quite some time:

We're older than most states: Reports from 2016 rank Wisconsin's population as the 15th oldest among the 50 states with a median age of 38.7, about a year and a half older than the U.S. median. Entrepreneurs are statistically more likely to be younger, although there has been a trend toward more "gray 'treps" of late.

We have fewer immigrants than most states: While the share of foreign-born Wisconsin residents has grown and nearly doubled since 1990, it stood at 4.8 percent in 2015. The U.S. percentage of foreign-born residents was 13.5 percent for the same year. Immigrants are statistically twice as likely to start a business as a native-born American. The "glory days" of Wisconsin business creation in the early 20th century came at a time when about 25 percent of the state's population was born overseas.

We're more "inbred" than other states: In 2012, 72 percent of the people who lived in Wisconsin were born in Wisconsin, a rate exceeded by only five states. About 15 percent of the people who live in Wisconsin come from Illinois, Minnesota or other Midwest states. That reflects well on the state's ability to retain its natives and neighbors but also suggests we're not reaping the benefit of a more diverse talent pool. No West Coast, Rocky Mountain or Great Plains state stood higher than 66 percent state-born, and most were around the 50 percent mark. States west of the Mississippi are among those with the highest startup rates.

Most of us already have jobs: Wisconsin's estimated unemployment rate last month dropped to a 17-year low of 3.2 percent, down from 3.4 percent in March and well below the 9.2 percent peak during the darkest days of the Great Recession. The U.S. jobless rate is 4.4 percent. Historically, Wisconsin's unemployment rate is lower than the national average – good times and bad. While some entrepreneurs pursue opportunity regardless of whether they currently hold a job or not (a fact measured by Kauffman), many people are too risk-averse to do so. That may be imbedded in Wisconsin's culture.

Those demographic and cultural factors are baked into Wisconsin's startup cake, but the flavors can vary by community. The Madison area is a prime example of a younger, more diverse economy. Milwaukee continues to struggle in some ways but has a growing cadre of entrepreneurs. The Chippewa Valley in western Wisconsin and the Fox Valley in north-east Wisconsin are producing more young companies, as well.

What can be done to help? Whether you believe the Kauffman Index or more favorable figures from Cybertates or the Milken Institute, there's plenty of room for improvement. Some examples from the Wisconsin Technology Council's policy papers:

- Continue to improve the state's infrastructure to support entrepreneurs, which most observers agree is far stronger than five, 10 or 15 years ago.

- Accelerate investments in broadband deployment, which will dramatically improve the startup and business climate in rural Wisconsin.

- Make strategic changes in the state's early stage investment tax credit laws and remove other investment barriers, such as the state tax on investments in Wisconsin companies organized in other states.

- Re-invest in higher education, which is the source of most young talent.

- Make it easier to succeed as an entrepreneur in Wisconsin. Barriers to success include employment non-compete agreements; certain professional and occupational licensing requirements; local or state rules that "fence in" older economic models; and a lack of flexibility regarding new types of corporate structures.

In time, progress on those points will help attract and retain risk-takers who start companies. Don't expect Wisconsin to crack the top 10 or even the top 45 next year, but the time to lay the groundwork is now.

Still is president of the Wisconsin Technology Council. He is the former associate editor of the Wisconsin State Journal.

Jason B. Hawkins, 42, of Chetek, has been charged with obstructing an officer.

According to the criminal complaint, on Tuesday, May 16, 2017, at approximately 6:30 p.m. Barron County Detective Hagen was requested to respond to the Prairie Lake Estates trailer court in Prairie Lake Township, near Chetek. Detective Hagen was requested to go to that location due to a tornado that was suspected to have caused significant damage to the trailer court and to assist in searching for any injured or deceased individuals that lived in the trailer court.

During the course of the search efforts, Detective Hagen was assigned to clear the area of any non-emergency personnel so as to avoid looting and interference with any rescue efforts. Officers were in the process of identifying all the residents that lived in the trailer court and attempting to account for each one of them. The residents that lived in the trailer court that were present, were instructed to go to a temporary Red Cross shelter in Cameron. During the course of clearing individuals from the trailer court that were not emergency personnel, Detective Hagen instructed people to exit the trailer court and to stay outside of the taped off area and established perimeter. During the course of doing so, Detective Hagen had contact with an individual identified as Jason Hawkins and a female subject. They both appeared to be walking in the direction of the trailer house where the female subject lived. They were trying to get to a residence to check on friends. They did not indicate that they were going to the female subject's residence. They were advised that all the residences that were safe to go into, had been cleared by law enforcement. They were also instructed to exit the trailer court. Hawkins and the female were somewhat argumentative and intoxicated and difficult to reason with. They had to be explained to several times that they would not be allowed to go into any of the residences in the trailer court and that all the residences that were safe for law enforcement personnel to go into had been cleared of any people and that law enforcement was working on identifying who lived in the trailer court and accounting for residents of the trailer court.

Hawkins was especially argumentative with the officers, and told them that he didn't think they could keep him out of the area. Another male individual that was with Hawkins, was telling him to stop arguing with the officers and leave as they were told. After further discussions with the female subject and Hawkins, they both began to walk away as if they were leaving as instructed.

Approximately five minutes later, Detective Hagen observed Hawkins walking back towards the area where the emergency vehicles were parked. He observed Hawkins trying to walk between cars and trying to blend in to avoid being seen. Detective Hagen and Deputy Kolb confronted him and again directed him out of the trailer court. He was again advised to leave the trailer court and was advised that if he did not comply with those directions, he could be subject to arrest. Hawkins called the officers names, and walked away from them.

Approximately 15 minutes after that Detective Hagen returned to the area where the command post had been set up. When he arrived there, he observed Chief Deputy Leu conversing with Hawkins, advising him to leave the area. Chief Deputy Leu requested that Hawkins be shown the way out of the trailer court. Detective Hagen and Deputy Hodek approached Hawkins once again, and advised him to leave the trailer court. He was advised to follow the road all the way out of the trailer court and not return until the emergency service personnel left. They observed Hawkins begin to follow the road toward the exit, as if he was going to leave. As Detective Hagen observed Hawkins leaving, he again observed him veer off the road and cut through a grassy area in the direction of the trailer he was headed to when Detective Hagen first encountered him. When Detective Hagen approached him and asked what he was doing, Hawkins indicated that he was leaving. He had to be advised that he was going the wrong way, at which point Hawkins became argumentative with Detective Hagen and Deputy Hodek regarding whether or not they can make him leave. It was at this point that Detective Hagen decided to arrest Hawkins.

If convicted Hawkins may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than nine months, or both. His hearing is scheduled for July 26, 2017.

Dawn M. Radtke, 40, of Cumberland has been charged with felony bail jumping.

The criminal complaint states that on Sunday, May 14, 2017, at approximately 7:15 p.m. Cumberland Police Officer Smith was advised by Cumberland Police Officer Frey, that Dawn Radtke had not shown up for her preliminary breath test at 6:00 p.m.

Upon learning this information from Officer Frey Officer Smith drove to her parents residence. When no one came to the door, Officer Smith went to an address on Elm Street due to the fact that he knew that she associated with individuals that lived at a residence there. Upon his arrival he could observe Radtke sitting on a couch in the residence.

Upon being led into the residence, Officer Smith made contact with Radke and asked why she hadn't shown up for her preliminary breath test. She advised she had forgotten about it. She further indicated that she had been at the police department before 6:00 p.m. but had left. When asked why she left, she could not provide a reason. When asked if she had been drinking alcohol, she indicated that she had not. She was advised by Officer Smith that she was being taken into custody for violating her bond as a result of not showing up for the 6:00 p.m. test.

Once outside the residence Radtke spontaneously indicated to Officer Smith that she had been drinking that day, but would not say what or where she had been drinking. A preliminary breath test was obtained from her, which showed a result of .19. She was subsequently transported to the Cumberland Police Department, where an intoximeter test was administered to her by Officer Smith. This test showed a result of .16.

If convicted Radtke may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than six years or both. Her arraignment will be held July 26, 2017.

WisDOT Law of the Month: After a crash, move vehicles out of traffic

Any traffic crash—even a minor fender-bender—can be nerve wracking and chaotic for everyone involved. However, motorists involved in a crash need to maintain their composure and take steps for their own safety and the safety of others on the road.

After a crash, the first step is to check for injuries and call 911 if medical assistance is needed. If no one has been injured, motorists need to follow the steps contained in the "Steer It, Clear It Law."

The "Steer It, Clear It Law" requires motorists involved in crashes to move their vehicle to a safe location away from traffic if no one is injured and it can be driven. The vehicles should be moved to a location, such as a highway shoulder, a side road, an on or off ramp, a parking lot or a crash investigation site where they will obstruct traffic as little as possible. Once the vehicle is moved to a safe location, drivers can contact law enforcement and exchange information. The Steer it, Clear It Law also grants immunity from civil damages to any person who removes a crashed vehicle from traffic as well as debris in the roadway or other obstruction.

Sour End To Conference Season!

Sports

Baseball team edges Barron

The Cumberland Beavers traveled to Barron last Friday, coming away with a 3-0 victory. That puts the Beavers one win from at least a share of the HON Conference Championship. The team tried to wrap-up that title on Monday, when they hosted C/W in a 5:00 start. The Beavers are 14-4 overall entering this week.

The Beavers relied on good pitching from Isaac Bucher and Reid Olson in the win. Bucher took the pitching victory with four innings of two-hit ball, striking out two. Olson was equally affective, striking out eight hitters in his three innings of relief. He took the pitching save.

The Beavers struggled hitting the ball, managing only four hits in the contest, two by Riley Bodsberg. Three Barron errors led to two unearned runs, helping lead to the Cumberland win.

After Monday, the Beavers will be hosting Ellsworth in a Tournament tune-up on Thursday at Islander Park. Game time is 5:00 pm. The Beavers open up WIAA play on Wednesday, May 30 with a game at home against the Turtle Lake/Clayton vs. Grantsburg winner. The Regional Title game would likely be at Unity on May 31.

On another note, Cumberland put seven players on the HON First or Second All-Conference Team. This large number of players were led by First Team selections Kobe Berghammer, Payton Rose, and Jerrad Lindfors. Berghammer also shared HON Player of the Year honors with Brady Christianson of Hayward.

Second team nods went to Isaac Bucher, Max Nargess, Tyler Landsworth, and Reid Olson. Hayward also had three First Team selections and one Second Team choice.

First baseman Dylan Peterson flips to pitcher Tyler Landsworth for an out during the Beavers loss to the Bulldogs. Landsworth threw well but some shaky defense and lack of a key hit led to the loss.

Beavers finish second in HON

The Cumberland Beavers dropped a heartbreaking 5-4 decision to C/W in 10-innings Monday night, to finish up the conference season in second place in the Conference standings. Hayward won the HON Title with a 5-0 victory over Spooner. It was a disappointing end for the Beavers as they dropped three of their last four Conference games and needed a win over the 2 and 10 Bulldogs to claim a share of the Championship.

The Beavers struggled at the plate, with only eight hits in the game, and in the field, where four errors led to all five runs being unearned. A great catch in right field by Dale Griffith in the sixth inning kept the Bulldogs from winning the contest in regulation.

Tyler Landsworth had three of the Beaver hits, while Jerrad Lindfors had a pair of singles. A late rally by the Beavers, in the bottom of the tenth inning, saw the contest end with the bases loaded.

Cumberland takes a 14-5 record into the regular season finale against Ellsworth on Thursday night. They open up WIAA Regional play next Tuesday in a home contest beginning at 5:00 pm.

Softball team sweeps doubleheader against C/W

The Cumberland Softball Team took a home doubleheader from C/W last Friday to raise their overall record to 12-7 on the season. The team finished up the regular season on Monday at Bloomer and begin WIAA Tournament play on Wednesday in a home opener against St. Croix Falls. A victory their puts them into the second round on Thursday, likely at Northwestern.

The team dominated Fridays action, winning 15-0 and 7-3.

Lauren Green went four innings to take the pitching win in the 15-0 opener, striking out four and walking five. She allowed one hit.

Cumberland, meanwhile, had only four hits themselves, but received 12 walks and three hit by pitchers from C/W pitchers.

Green also went the distance in the nightcap, to take another pitching victory. She struck out nine, allowing five hits.

Green also had a big night at the plate with three hits and two runs batted in. Green and battery mate, Stephanie Walters, both had doubles in the game. Cumberland stole 13 bases in the twinbill.

The HON named their All-Conference Team on Monday and the Cumberland team is well represented.

Outfielder Adreanna Johnson and shortstop Mykayla Anderson both made First Team, while pitcher Lauren Green and infielder Payton Nyhus made Second Team. A third Cumberland player, infielder Ellie Rieper was named Honorable Mention.

Coho in a canoe

Hello friends,
Walking on thin ice and fishing out of a canoe on Lake Michigan have two things in common; you should probably not do either. Well I happened to hear that they are catching Coho salmon at Port Washington and I thought I could bring my boat over there and troll and live in it for a night.

That was not exciting enough for me, so I set my 16-foot canoe up with rod holders and rigged three poles with the thought of trying to catch a salmon out of my canoe.

I have attempted to do this about 15 times, at best, I have caught a fish on half of these experiences and though I have seen fishermen in kayaks, I have never seen another fishermen on Lake Michigan in a canoe.

Monday, May 15th, High 74, low 43

Fear and excitement were both a part of my world as I rigged my canoe at South Beach, which is a very nice park and beach at Port Washington.

I had talked to some fishermen that had fished on charters and in private boats and the bite was on so I just had to hope that I could paddle my rig fast enough for my dodger/ fly, spoon and crankbait to do their job on my three poles.

My electronics are dead so I would be paddling blind as far as water depth knowledge but word was the fish were shallow and deep.

Here are some of the challenges in this sport. To run three lines of which two were on planer boards and one was straight back with lures on planer boards being about 35-feet behind the board is no easy task.

In a perfect world the wind has to be at your back or you drift over your lines as you set them. Also, you want to be in water deeper than the line behind the planer or you pick up zebra mussels or vegetation from the bottom, and do not know it and are totally wasting your time while fishing.

So, I start my experience with just two lines out which is a left and a right planer board, one is rigged with a dodger/ fly and the other with a spoon called a Stinker, both have ¾ ounce in line weights 3-feet in front of them. To run three lines is looking for trouble in the event of a snag or a fish in the form of tangled lines.

For two hours, I paddle my rig and force myself to check my lines about every half hour for problems. I did not have a hit, realized that I had to be patient but was concerned that I may not be paddling fast enough.

I decided to put out the crankbait straight behind the canoe and I chose a purple #7 Flicker Shad and started paddling. I was not paddling five minutes and it was fish on and I was one happy canoe/salmon fisherman (possibly the only one on Lake Michigan today).

I was smooth and lucky as in my Coho did not get away and in reality if I did not catch another I was fine as long as I made it home alive.

So I go back to work, which in this case is paddling about a 2-mile stretch about 200 yards east of the lighthouse. I paddle for maybe an hour and holy moly if it isn't fish on and the dodger fly has a Coho and I lucked out and landed it.

Last night I only slept for two hours and lately I have not been sleeping or eating much as I have been really busy. Long story short, about 3:00 I paddled to the beach north of town and crashed for an hour.

When I woke up, the sky was saying "storm a coming" and so I fished for two hours, did not have any action and then hit South Beach just minutes before a two-hour storm hit.

A little inside story is that I only had one fly for my dodger/ fly combo and had lost it when I brought my line in. I headed over to the boat landing and talked to some young men from Rio into selling me two.

I was back on the water with two hours of daylight left and very excited. The best I have ever done in one day is three salmon out of a canoe and I at least wanted to tie that.

About an hour before dark, the dodger/fly combo got a hit and yeppers, I caught Coho number three and only had three hits all day.

Tonight, I slept in the back seat of the Chevy Hotel for the millionth time of my illustrious career and was really excited for the following morning on the water.

Kind of bad luck came my way but too bad, I have run out of space to make a fool of myself once again so all I can say is. I had a blast on this trip and there is no rush like catching salmon out of a canoe on Lake Michigan.

Track team runs in HON Conference Tournament

The Cumberland Track Team ran in the HON Meet last week in Barron. It was there last regular season meet of the year with WIAA Regionals scheduled for Monday, May 22 at Cameron. Those qualifying for Sectionals will then head to Medford this Thursday, May 25 for a chance to qualify for State.

At Barron, the boys finished seventh and the girls fifth. Bloomer took the Woman's Championship, while C/W was Men's Champion.

The top finish for Cumberland was a second place finish by Skyler Ruetz in the 100-meter hurdles. The junior runner ran a 17.65 to finish inches behind Breanna Thiel of Northwestern, who took first with a 17.63. Ruetz had defeated Thiel in the preliminaries.

Ruetz fine day at Barron also included a fifth in the 300-meter hurdles with a 54.08, trailing winner Grace Post of Bloomer, who ran a 49.02.

The Beavers next best finish were fourths by Damien Capuzzi in the shot put with a throw of 40'1" and MacKenzie Johnson in the 100-meter dash (13.91). Dillon Richardson of C/W won the shot put with a toss of 45'08", while Johnson saw Taylor Snider of Hayward take her event with a 13.22.

Mackenzie Johnson added a fifth in the 200-meter dash (27.84), as did Kevin Johnson in the 110-meter hurdles (17.27) and Alex Thompson in the 100-meter dash with a time of 12.12. Cumberland also received fifths from the girls 4x200 and 4x100 meter relay teams. Runners included Autumn Donatell, Sarah Gunderson, Cora Grunseth, Maleea Kasper, and Isabella West.

Barronett News

By Judy Pieper

Congratulations Graduates of the Class of 2017! Our Barronett graduates are:

Cody Elfers. Cody will be attending UM Duluth this fall, studying computer science. Cody's graduation party was held at his home this past Saturday, and I just happened to stop by at the time the festivities were going on. Everyone was so friendly, and his Aunt Wendy, who I have been told loves her nephews and nieces a lot, made Cody the cutest cake and cupcakes. The cake was in the shape of a beaver and the cupcakes were decorated as beaver faces complete with buck teeth.

Cherie Jerry. Cherie plans to take a few months off and then attend Chippewa Valley Tech College in the spring. Cherie will be taking courses in graphic design.

Jordan Malone. Jordan will be attending WITC this fall, taking courses in Computer Numerical Control operation and set-up.

Morgan Neitzel. Morgan said that she has not yet decided what she will be doing after high school. Whatever she decides, I'm sure she will excel at it.

Sondra Zarr. Sondra plans to go to UW-Barron County for a couple of years, and then transfer to River Falls to study journalism.

Once again, congratulations. We wish you success and happiness in whatever you decide to do with the rest of your life. And, trust me on this one, when you attend your 50th class reunion and reminisce with your fellow classmates, you will be absolutely amazed at how differently, and hopefully, how much more wonderful, your life turned out than you had planned.

Garett Thon graduated with honors from WITC with a degree in Criminal Justice on Friday evening. Garett will be attending the Academy for the next four months, and then hopes to get a job in law enforcement in this area.

Art and Jill Adams took a little time off a couple weeks ago to spend a few fun-filled days in Nashville, Tennessee. They did a lot of sightseeing, saw the Country Music Hall of Fame, checked out the Titans football stadium and the Nashville Predators Hockey Arena. They said that the National Predators are still in the play-offs, so that was a pretty wild place. They walked over the pedestrian bridge which spans the Cumberland River. They spent quite a bit of time people watching at all the fun bars on Broadway. And, one pretty exciting thing, a rat came out of the sewer and ran right in front of them. (Well, that would have been the end of the trip for me. I would have been in the car heading for home as fast as I could). They left home on May 10th and came back on May 14th, and from the sounds of it, they must have been having way too much fun.

Wrigley Marsh visited with us last Thursday, and we had a ball. The first thing we did was attend the volunteers' luncheon hosted by Cumberland Care and Rehab. The luncheon was originally planned as a picnic in the parking lot, but because of the stormy weather, it was held in their dining hall. The food was wonderful and we had a good time talking to other attendees. Tonja Metnik was there, of course and she told me that when she read the Barronett News to the residents last week, they had a good laugh about my inability to find the bus garage on my own and then picking up lilacs when I went to get peonies. I wonder if I'm already too far gone for Cumberland Care and Rehab.

After we left the luncheon, Wrigley and I went fishing at his cabin on Long Lake. He caught two rock bass and one sunny. I caught one sunny. We let them all go so they could grow up to be big fish. He kept telling me how to set the hook, but he is much better at it than I am.

After we left the cabin we came back to our house and picked nine pounds of rhubarb. Wrigley helped me wash it and cut it up. The next day I made ten pints of rhubarb strawberry jelly.

Oh, I almost forgot, I was talking to Janet Broome and she wanted the recipe for the jelly. So, just in case anyone else is interested, here it is. Put five cups of thinly sliced rhubarb and three cups of sugar in a bowl and stir it until the sugar is dissolved. Let it set overnight. The next morning put the rhubarb/sugar mixture in a big pan and bring it to a boil. Turn the heat down to medium and simmer it for 12 minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from the heat and stir in one three ounce package of strawberry Jello. Put in jars, use two piece lids, and hot-water bath for ten minutes. It's one of the easiest jelly recipes I have ever used. Hope you enjoy it.

Jerry Marsh, Duane and I went to breakfast with Don and Sue Frolik at the Hilltop Sunday morning. We hadn't seen Don and Sue for quite a while, so it was nice catching up on what they had been doing. Pat Olson was there too, of course, and she told us about her interrupted trip to Missouri. She had just started out, had turned from Highway 48 to 53, and a deer decided to make her life a little more exciting. He jumped out in front of her, she couldn't avoid him and-KaBoom! He took out most of the front rider's side and part of the driver's side of the car. What a mess. She limped her car back home and cancelled her trip.

We saw snowbirds Ron and Kay Theese too, while we were at Hilltop. They just recently returned from the sunny south and are looking tanned and healthy. It sounds as though they are glad to be back in God's country.

We were invited to Lynn Thon's home for supper Sunday evening. Kandice Thon made lasagna rolls for the family. Instead of layers of noodles like regular lasagna, the filling is rolled up in one noodle. They were delicious. Kandice is quite the chef, she even made her special chocolate chip cookies for dessert.

Okay-I have some jokes again. Al Stouffer and his daughter, Jessi, both sent one to me. Here is Al's. Question: Why did the chicken cross the playground? Answer: To get to the other slide. And now Jessi's. Jessi said that the bathroom humor is not her favorite, but it does come in as a solid number two. Jessi, Jessi, Jessi. We expected so much more from you.

That's about all I know from Barronett this week. I hope you have a very nice Memorial Day weekend. See you next time.

Medicare and Medicaid cuts and 24 million people losing coverage.

Since the 1980s corporations purchased many non-profit hospitals, turning them into for profit businesses. Hospital costs increased with innovation and excessive corporate hospital executive salaries (www.salary.com/executive-salaries). Executive salaries also increased in insurance, pharmaceutical, and Pharmacy Benefit Mangers (PBM) companies. Most of these CEOs make over $10 million per year, many over $30 million per year, and the rest of their executive staff make millions.

Other industrialized countries use the same drugs and have great hospitals, but their health care costs are a fraction of the US. Why? Their governments negotiate drug prices and they do not have a complicated distribution system. Salaries for insurance providers are lower, many countries limit salaries and no bonuses. Everyone must have insurance and companies pay also. The results are longer, healthier life spans, and better overall care to all citizens. All these countries have paid maternity leave from six weeks to six months. No one in their countries go bankrupt over health issues. One third of US bankruptcies are due to a health crisis.

The Affordable Care Act, ACA, or Obamacare, covers only 7% of the population, others are covered by employers or Medicare. The ACA had a .9% additional Medicare tax on high income earners above a threshold to strengthen Medicare. Plus a 3.8% tax on certain net investment income on high-income taxpayers to increase payments for those who struggled to pay for insurance and better payouts for Medicare and Medicaid. To keep costs down, the healthy must insure. Increasing fines encourage insurance. Individuals with insurance pay for those without insurance. So why repeal?

It appears the GOP is appealing to its big donors: wealthy individuals, insurance and pharmaceutical companies, and Wall Street. They want to bankrupt Medicare so to voucher it, limiting payouts, and privatize Medicare, Medicaid, and Social Security.

Something You Should Know About... Watch out for wildlife by Hope Lee Vicich

Spring has sprung and as summer approaches, we be coming into closer contact with some of the "wilder" neighbors in our community. Nature has truly blessed us here in the northwoods. We enjoy the close proximity of the water, forest and wildlife. However, sometimes the proximity of the wildlife is a little too close.

While we love the beauty of the deer (and some enjoy hunting them in the fall), but it is not so enjoyable when they help themselves to our carefully tended vegetable or flower gardens.

Bears are majestic at a distance, but not so much when they are on your deck patio, or digging through your garbage. There is a lot of early bear activity this year, so a few precautions might be worth your while.

The fact is bears, like most of us, are just looking for a free lunch. The quickest way to get rid of them is to remove the food sources.

My family has been guilty of providing a ready feast for the local deer. My daughters love birds and we have hung a number of feeders in our yard. One afternoon, I received a text message from my girls with a photo of a "funny brown bird with a white tail" eating at our feeder. The photo showed a doe nose up to the feeder, tipping it so the seeds ran straight into her mouth!

Our family friends didn't get off so easy. A couple of years back, their daughter placed her feeders on the second floor balcony outside her bedroom. She received a visit from a bear who climbed up the log walls of their home, destroyed the feeders, and then climbed back down, leaving huge claw marks on the walls and posts of the home.

The moral of these stories is - take down your feeders during the summer. While it is great to have the birds visit our yards all year, the other visitors are not as welcome. The birds do not need the extra sustenance during the summer. Even hummingbird feeders can cause a risk (think "juice boxes" for bears!). Hang the feeders up again in the late Fall after the bears are sleeping and the birds need the food. You must also clean up under where the feeders were, removing all fallen seeds or suet.

If you have had bears in your area you must take extra precautions. Simply putting lids on your garbage cans is not good enough. Bears have a terrific sense of smell. If you have to leave your trash outside until pick-up, you must routinely clean your cans with an ammonia or bleach solution to remove any food odors. Do not leave pet food outside for your outdoor pets. Feed them at regular times and then remove the food bowls. The leftover food will not only attract bears but raccoons, foxes and coyotes. Even your backyard grill is a possible source of attraction. If left outside, the grill must be cleaned thoroughly to remove any left over grease or meat smell.

If you do get a visit from a bear, stay inside or on the deck, bang pots and pans, use air horns, and at night shine bright lights. This should spook them and get them to leave. Once the food is gone, they will have no reason to return.

As for the deer, there are chemical sprays available, but here are some ideas for a more "natural" approach to keeping them out of the garden. Spreading items such as mothballs, clumps of hair, fish heads, and fabric softener sheets around the outside of the garden have been known to help. Placing thorny branches in the fencing and hanging aluminum pie plates along the fence so they blow in the wind also deter the approach of deer.

It should also be noted that there is a City Ordinance which makes it an offense to purposefully feed the deer, the cost of that fine can be up to $200. Due to CWD problems in the past, Barron County is part of a four county baiting and feeding moratorium from the DNR as well. That fine can run from $343.50 up to $2,152, depending on the circumstances.

At this time of year, I am prompted to ask a personal favor of everyone. PLEASE do not run over turtles. As humans encroach more and more on their habitats, turtles (both painted and snapping) are endangered.

This is the season of year when the turtles are crossing the roads to get to their nesting places. Just like their larger cousins the sea turtles, our local varieties return to the general area where they hatched to lay their eggs. Since it takes at least six years for a turtle to reach breeding age, the landscape may have changed and they are forced to cross roads to fulfill their instinctive mission.

They are a beautiful addition to our lakes and ponds and a vital part of the ecosystem. Please let them continue on their life's journey in peace, instead of ending it in pieces.

A few simple, common sense ideas will help all of us enjoy nature without it getting too up close and personal. Have a great summer.

"The Solemnity of the Ascension of the Lord" By: Deacon Steve Linton St. Anthony Catholic Church, Cumberland

This coming Sunday we celebrate the Solemnity of the Ascension of the Lord. This is Jesus' final appearance to the disciples following His death and resurrection before He ascends to heaven and remains until His return at the end of time. In Matthew 28:16-20 we read: The eleven disciples set out for Galilee, to the mountain where Jesus had arranged to meet them. "When they saw him they fell down before him, though some hesitated. Jesus came up and spoke to them. He said, 'All authority in heaven and on earth has been given to me. Go, therefore, make disciples of all the nations; baptize them in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and teach them to observe all the commands I gave you. And know that I am with you always; yes, to the end of time.'"

In his final appearance, Jesus provides the Christian community with three charges. Make disciples, baptize and teach. As we draw to a close this Easter season, a time of reflection, remembrance and celebration, let us take heed of His call to us who believe in Him. Let us make disciples for Christ. May it become a part of our Christian duty to share with others our belief in the risen Lord. Our charge is not to try and beat others into submission, but to simply share the good news of Christ and His works in our life and in our faith. Let us live a life that exemplifies Christ's presence within us for others to see. For those who accept our invitation, let us baptize them in the name of the Father and the Son and Holy Spirit so they too can share in the great Paschal Mystery. That they may die to sin and rise again in a new birth to receive the light of Christ, forgiveness of sins and to live a long and faithful life serving our Risen Lord. May we then do as Christ charged us and teach the will of God to all who are willing to listen and accept His word. The word revealed to us through the written work of the biblical writers, the traditions of our faith, and the Catechism of our Holy Church, so they too may share fully in the liturgy of Christ's church. We can do this as we put our trust in Jesus because He is with us always and will give us His strength and authority to the end of all time.

May God Bless Us Always!

Ordinance 701

An ordinance to Amend Section 3.08 of the Municipal Code of the City of Cumberland related to Special Assessments.

The Common Council of the City of Cumberland do ordain as follows:

Section One: Section 3.08 of the Municipal Code of the City of Cumberland is hereby amended to read as follows:

3.08 - SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS. (Cr. #488)

(1) PURPOSE. This section provides the standards which are to govern when capital improvements are to be paid for through property tax or special assessments. It establishes policies and methods of levying special assessments according to the benefits to the property due to the improvement. The types of improvements shall include new construction, reconstruction and repairs to street, curb, gutter, sanitary sewer and appurtenances, water mains and appurtenances, water laterals and appurtenances, storm sewers and appurtenances, sidewalks, retaining walls and driveway approaches.

(2) REFERENCES. Sections 66.54, 66.60, 66.63 and 66.635, Wis. Stats.

(3) RESPONSIBILITY FOR ENFORCEMENT. The Clerk-Treasurer and chairman of the Public Works Committee have the overall responsibility for enforcement of this administrative policy.

(4) STATEMENT OF INTENT. It is the policy of the City:

(a) Cost, unless otherwise stated in this section, shall include, but not be limited to, the amount paid the contractor or contractors, engineering, inspection, restoration of land disturbed during construction, administration and legal fees. Section 66.60(5), Wis. Stats., is incorporated by reference.

(b) Repair or reconstruction of sidewalks shall be paid for by the City if due to deficiency as determined by the Public Works Committee. Costs assessed shall include only the amount paid by the City to the contractor or contractors for removal and replacement.

(c) The cost of replacement driveway approaches, including removal thereof, is considered a benefit to abutting properties and is assessed at 100% of cost to property owners.

(d) When a street is located half in the City and half in a township, any improvements to that street shall be assessed in accordance with terms mutually agreed upon by the City and township.

(e) If there is damage to the sidewalk, curb or gutter that is caused by property owner, the property owner shall be assessed for the repair or replacement the sidewalk, curb and/or gutter.

(e) The number of annual installments in which an assessment is to be paid may be determined by the City based on the total amount of the assessment. If the assessment is less than $500, the assessment shall be paid in one annual installment. If the assessment is at least $500, but less than $999, the assessment shall be paid in 3 annual installments. If the assessment is at least $1,000, the assessment shall be paid in 5 annual installments.

(5) LEVY OF SPECIAL ASSESSMENTS.

(a) Procedures. The City Council must adopt a preliminary resolution which declares its intention to exercise its police power to specifically assess for a stated municipal purpose. The preliminary resolution must describe the contemplated purpose, the limits of the proposed area to be assessed and either specify the number of installments in which the special assessment is to be paid or that the number of installments will be determined at the public hearing. The resolution will also direct the City Engineer to prepare a report on the proposed work or improvement and the proposed assessment levies. The Engineer's report should include:

- Preliminary or final plans and specifications.
- An estimate of the entire cost of the proposed work or improvement.
- An estimate as to each parcel of property affected of:
 - The assessment of benefits to be levied.
 - Damages to be awarded for property taken or damaged.
 - The net amount of damages over benefits or benefits over damages.

(b) Notice of Hearing.

1. The City Clerk shall publish a Class 1 notice under Ch. 985, Wis. Stats. The notice must contain:

- A statement concerning the nature of the proposed work or improvement.
- A description of the general boundary lines of the proposed area to be assessed.
- The time and place where the report can be inspected.

d. The time and place at which interested parties, their agents or attorneys may appear to be heard concerning the proposed project.

2. The hearing must commence not less than 10 days nor more than 40 days after publication of the notice in the newspaper. According to §66.60(7), Wis. Stats., the Clerk will mail a copy of the notice to every interested person whose post office address is known or can be ascertained with reasonable diligence at least 10 days prior to the public hearing. The Clerk shall execute an affidavit of mailing to be filed as part of the special assessment procedure.

(c) Public Hearing. The purpose of the hearing is to elicit comments and hear complaints regarding the proposed improvement or work assessments. If comments are in writing, they should be read into the record by either the Mayor or the Clerk. After the hearing, the Council may approve, disapprove or modify the report. When the City Council finally decides to proceed with the work according to §66.60(8)(c), Wis. Stats., it shall approve the plans and specifications contained in the report and adopt a final resolution directing the work to be performed and assessments levied as indicated in the report. The final resolution must be published as a Class 1 notice in the assessment district and mailed to each interested person whose address is known or can be ascertained with reasonable diligence. As soon as a contract for any part of the improvement project has been awarded, the special assessments levied by the final resolution may be collected.

(d) Waiver of Notice and Hearing. Section 66.60(18), Wis. Stats., provides that if every owner of property affected by the proposed special assessment executes a waiver, a municipality may levy the assessment against the benefited property without the requisite notice and hearing. If notice and hearing have been waived in writing, the governing body need only adopt the preliminary resolution specified under §66.60(2), Wis. Stats., and the final resolution specified under §66.60(8), Wis. Stats. With the adoption of the final resolution, the prescribed assessments are levied and become a lien against the assessed properties.

(e) Payment and Collection. The City Council may determine that the special assessments levied to defray the cost of any public improvement may be paid in full or in annual installments. If the City Council determines to permit the assessments to be paid in installments, the property owner is nonetheless entitled to pay assessments in full within a designated period of time. The Clerk must publish a Class 1 notice of installment assessments in accordance with §66.54(7)(e), Wis. Stats. Penalty for late payments may be established by the City Council under §66.60 (15), Wis. Stats. If special assessments are not paid by the date specified, they may be extended on the tax roll as a delinquent tax and collected in the same manner as delinquent real estate taxes.

(f) Reopening Assessments.

1. After completion of the project, if the actual cost is found to materially vary from the estimates, if the estimate is declared void or invalid for any reason or if the City Council determines to reconsider the assessment, the Council may reopen the special assessments under §66.60(10), Wis. Stats. When an assessment is to be reopened, notice and hearing similar to the original notice and hearing must be given and conducted. After the hearing, the City Council must pass a resolution amending, confirming or canceling the prior assessment. This resolution must be published and mailed to all interested persons in the same manner as the original final resolution.

2. If the actual cost of the project is less than estimated, the City Council must reduce each assessment proportionately as required by §66.60(11), Wis. Stats. No notice of hearing is required to reduce an assessment. Excess payment of the assessment or installments may be refunded or applied to reduce succeeding installments.

(g) Appeal . Any aggrieved person having an interest in property affected by special assessments may appeal the assessment within 90 days after the date of the notice or the publication of the final resolution. Any question involving the amount or validity of the assessment may be appealed to the circuit court under §66.60(12), Wis. Stats. All assessments or installments due during the period of appeal must be paid or the appeal will be dismissed. Fraud or latent defects in the improvement discovered after the completion of the project are exempt from the 90-day limitation period. The one-year statute of limitations established by §893.72, Wis. Stats., to challenge a special assessment does not apply to special assessments levied under §66.60, Wis. Stats. Section 66.60(12)(a), Wis. Stats., requires that notice of appeal be served on the Clerk and that a $150 surety bond with 2 sureties or a bonding company be posted to insure "faithful prosecution of such appeal and the payment of all costs that may be adjudged against the objector to the assessment." Under §66.60(12)(d), Wis. Stats., the court may affirm, annul or modify and affirm the assessment.

(h) Assessment Policy; New Construction.

1. Sanitary Sewers, Water Mains and Appurtenances.

- Lots shall be assessed the entire cost at 100% on a front foot basis for distribution mains except that a minimum assessment shall be based upon 80 front feet for odd shaped lots as determined by the City. (Am. #570)

b. Corner lots shall be assessed based on the total feet abutting the improvement, not just the front footage, only when the corner lot requires connection to the main from both sides of the lot.

c. Parks or other City property shall be exempt from assessments, but a portion of the cost shall be allocated to such property. (Am. #570)

2. Sewer and Water Laterals and Appurtenances. The expense of laying laterals from sanitary sewer and water mains to the right-of-way line and of connecting such laterals with the mains shall be charged to and made a lien upon the real estate to be served by such laterals. All such laterals shall be maintained and kept in repair under the supervision of the Sewer and Water Commission at the expense of such property. The laterals shall be constructed and connections made for the actual average cost thereof using the average size and average length of all laterals constructed in the particular project, except that water laterals larger than 1" shall be assessed at actual cost.

3. Interceptor Sewers.

- a. The entire cost of interceptor sewers shall be assessed based on the estimated area to be served.
- b. The City will generally exclude from such assessment parks or other public lands not planned for development.
- c. The cost of interceptor sewers shall be assessed at the time local sewers are installed by adding such cost to the assessments for the local sewer.

4. Storm Sewers.

- a. The cost of installing storm sewers shall be paid out of the general fund, except as hereinafter provided.
- b. The City Street Department foreman shall annually present to the City Council a list of storm sewer projects which he recommends for construction during such year. The Council will review such a list and give individual priority as the public interest may require to each of the separate projects so listed. The Council will then proceed to have bids called for and to award a contract up to the amount allocated in the budget for such purpose.
- c. Additional storm sewer construction during that year which is in excess of the amount of money budgeted by the Council for storm sewer construction may be approved by the Council if the public interest of the City would be substantially served thereby and if the persons benefiting therefrom enter into a contract with the City wherein they assume such portion of the cost of such additional construction as the Council deems reasonable and proper.

Law of the Month...

"Vehicles involved in crashes that are left in the roadway contribute to traffic back-ups that may cause additional crashes," says Wisconsin State Patrol Superintendent J.D. Lind. "Moving the vehicles away from traffic also helps law enforcement officers and other responders to quickly remove disabled vehicles and clear the crash scene so that normal traffic can resume."

The State Patrol offers the following additional advice for motorists involved in a crash:

- If your vehicle is disabled, do not risk injury by trying to push it out of traffic by yourself.
- If your vehicle cannot be moved, stay inside with your seat belt fastened for protection until responders arrive.
- To help prevent additional crashes, warn oncoming traffic of the crash by turning on your hazard lights or raising the hood of the vehicle

Just what you expected from a fairy tale! Cinderella (Kayla Young) weeps alone in the ashes as her Stepmother (Deanna Westphal) and step sisters (Aliana Tomesh, Emma Magnone) leave for the ball; Jack (Ben Ankarlo) has been sent by his mother (Stephanie Lawrence) to market to sell his cow Milky White (Jordan Lawrence); the Baker (Paul Baribeau) and his wife (Michelle Balk) have bargained with the Witch (Keira Stager) for a child; Rapunzel (Anna White) languishes in her tower; Red Ridinghood (Ella Olson) sets out for Grandmother's (Grace Schara) house. Jack climbs a beanstalk and discovers the giants, the big bad wolf (Paul Adams) lurks after Red Ridinghood while his brother wolf (Finn Olson) threatens the three little pigs (Katherine Bauer, Hannah Farm, Teagan Stager). Cinderella meets the Prince (Isaiah Jensen) at the ball, his brother Prince (Bobby Pittman) rescues Rapunzel from her tower, Jack returns down the beanstalk with riches, and the Baker and his wife finally have a baby, having kept their promise to help the witch. So many happy endings! But expect the unexpected. Who is the Mysterious Man (Jeron Paulson) and what does he know? Who cursed the Witch and why? What threatens the happiness of Cinderella and Rapunzel? Who will rescue Sleeping Beauty and Snow White (Maya Schumaker)? What does the Giantess (Gavin Orson) demand? Will the Baker's baby (Jack Hedtke) ever stop crying? Who will prosper? Who will survive?

Northwoods Newcomer Let's all gather at the lakeside

By Larry Werner

As I've mentioned before, Ann and I spend the month of March in a Florida community that is about as far away from beaches as you can get and still be in the Sunshine State.

The Villages, a retirement community an hour north of Orlando, has a man-made lake about the size of Library Lake. So you don't go to The Villages for the water. We go there for the music – live bands every night of the year at three town squares that are gathering places for those who live and vacation in the three sections of this fast-growing community in the center of the state.

I must admit that it was spending time in this strange place, where old folks dance the way they did as teenagers, that inspired me to organize a summer concert series on Library Lake. Beginning June 6, we'll have live music every Tuesday from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. on the small stage used for concerts during 'Baga Fest.

The concerts will be free, thanks to the Cumberland Area Business Alliance (CABA) and individual businesses that have ponied up sponsorship money. I've worked on this project with Tia Duncan, owner of Lairdchurch B&B and head of an informal group called the Placemakers, who are dedicated to creating and enhancing places where folks can gather.

So why is it smart to create public gathering places? One reason is to attract visitors who spend money in our community. Many of you have no doubt gone to Rice Lake or Shell Lake for weekly concerts and perhaps had dinner or drinks or shopped there. But another reason has nothing to do with tourists: It has to do with the joy of getting together with friends and family for fun and socializing. You can do that at bars or coffee shops or on the shore of the beautiful lake that surrounds Cumberland.

On June 6, our series kicks off with Higher Vision – a quartet that sings everything from barbershop to gospel to doo wop. The next week, June 13, Chris Kroeze of Barron, will sing his mix of pop and country, as he does several times a week around the lake.

On June 20, Randy Sabien will play his fiddle on the Baga Fest Stage. Sabien, who lives in St. Paul but also has a place in Hayward, played at the Cumberland Fine Arts Center last fall with guitarist John Beland. The final June concert is by the Blue Hills Band of Birchwood, twin brothers Levon and Travis Soaper and a saxophonist friend who have a unique, eccentric sound. You might have met Levon at The Dancing Bird, where he works part time.

Many of you know Dan Hoffmann, a retired teacher who has been writing songs about Cumberland for many years and performing them in his Simple Dan Show. He's on stage July 11. Mark Stary, who grew up in Cumberland and plays frequently at The Five O'Clock Club, plays July 18. Manfred Schonauer from the Pipe Dream Center, is on July 25.

On Aug. 1, we'll hear some rock from two local buddies – Jeremy Westin and Ben Peichel. It's bluegrass with The Stringsmiths on Aug. 8, and Lyzander, another regular on The Five O'Clock Club deck, concludes the summer series on Aug. 15.

Bring your lawn chairs on Tuesdays this summer to the east shore of Library Lake for some good music and fellowship. And if you're inclined to paddle the lake while listening to music, parents and staff from The Island City Academy will be there with the school district's kayaks.

Public Meeting for US 8 in Turtle Lake on May 31

Local business owners and residents are encouraged to attend

The Wisconsin Department of Transportation (WisDOT) Northwest Region will hold a public meeting on the roundabout project in Turtle Lake. This meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, May 31 from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. at the Turtle Lake Village Hall, 114 Martin Ave, Turtle Lake.

The project is intended to replace the intersections of US 8 and US 63 North and US 8 and Barron County Highway K with roundabouts. Construction is scheduled to begin in late May and be completed by October 27.

US 8 will remain open at all times during construction with some local road closures. US 8 will be reduced to a single lane in each direction during construction. Temporary traffic signals will be installed to facilitate traffic movements at the Cherry Street intersection.

The meeting will be an informal open house and information will be targeted to address concerns of local business owners during the construction process. WisDOT representatives will be available to discuss the project and answer questions.

If you are unable to attend the meeting, or would like more information, contact Project Manager Brendan Dirkes at 1701 N 4th Street, Superior, WI 54480 or Brendan.Dirkes@dot.wi.gov.

Citizens who are hearing-impaired and require an interpreter may request one by contacting Diana Maas at least three working days prior to the meeting via the Wisconsin Telecommunications Relay System (dial 711).
