Give thanks for good health by donating blood this holiday season

The American Red Cross encourages people to share their good health this holiday season by donating blood for patients in need.

Mike Healey's son was born prematurely, weighing three pounds, and immediately needed blood. "I gave blood the next day and have done it 56 times since then," he said. Though Healey's son spent his first 49 days of life in the neonatal intensive care unit, he has thrived and is now a healthy, 10-year-old little league baseball player. "I will never forget whoever selflessly gave blood for my son."

A decline in donations occurs from Thanksgiving to New Year's Day when donors are busy with holiday activities and travel. However, patients don't get a holiday break from needing lifesaving transfusions. In fact, every two seconds, someone in the U.S. needs blood.

By giving blood or platelets, donors may give patients more time – and more holidays – with loved ones. Make an appointment to give blood by downloading the free Red Cross Blood Donor App, visiting redcrossblood.org or calling 1-800-RED CROSS (1-800-733-2767).

The next donation opportunity in Cumberland will be November 21, 2017 from 12 noon-6 p.m., at the American Legion, 1220 Veterans Drive.

Something You Should Know About... Veterans Day and remembering a local hero by Hope Lee Vicich

One of the things we can be proudest of in our community is the recognition and tribute we pay to our members who have served in the military. Our Memorial Day and Veteran's Day observances are first rate.

This year, Veteran's Day will fall on a Saturday. Rather than forego the annual ceremonies held in the Elementary School and High School, the School District decided to hold the annual observances on Monday, November 13th. The program at the Elementary School will begin at 9:55 am, and the High School Program will start at 10:30 am.

I realized that, even though I have been celebrating Veterans Day all my life, I really don't know much about its origins, so I did some digging. This is what I found.

Originally known as "Armistice Day," what we now call Veterans Day was first commemorated on November 11, 1919, the first anniversary of the end of World War I. Congress passed a resolution in 1926 for an annual observance, and November 11 became a national holiday beginning in 1938.

Unlike Memorial Day, Veterans Day pays tribute to all American veterans—living or dead—but especially gives thanks to living veterans who served their country honorably during war or peacetime.

In 1954, President

Dwight D. Eisenhower officially changed the name of the holiday from Armistice Day to Veterans Day.

When the Uniform Holidays Bill was passed, the celebration of Veterans Day was moved to the fourth Monday in October, but in 1975 President Gerald Ford returned Veterans Day to November 11th, due to the important historical significance of the date.

Ernest Goodrich

While other countries celebrate days honoring the Veterans of the two World Wars, our commemorations include Veterans from all our wars including Vietnam and Korea.

In fact, to help commemorate this year's Veterans Day, I would like to tell you a story recently shared with me about a local veteran of the Korean War.

Terry Goodrich (the "Friendly Moocher") of Barronett stopped by our office and wanted me to tell you the story of his late brother, Ernest, and his service in Korea.

Ernest, who attended Cumberland High School, enlisted in the army in March of 1950. After basic training at Ft. Riley in Kansas, Ernest was assigned to the Second Infantry Division and sent overseas to Korea for service.

Shortly after his arrival, Goodrich received injuries which required evacuation to Japan for recovery. When fit for active duty again, Ernest returned to Korea, only to be injured a second time in a Jeep accident. Once again, Ernest found himself recuperating in a hospital in Japan. When those injuries healed, Ernest was once more returned back to Korea for combat.

Shortly after this return to Korea, Goodrich, along with the rest of the 7th Infantry Division was sent to participate in one of the Korean War's harshest conflicts - The Battle of the Chosin Reservoir.

Chosin Reservoir is a man-made lake located in the northeast of the Korean peninsula, near a crucial supply route. The battle was fought over some of the roughest terrain during some of the harshest winter weather conditions of the Korean War.

On November 14, 1950, a cold front from Siberia descended over the Chosin Reservoir, and the temperature plunged to as low as -35 °F. The cold weather was accompanied by frozen ground, creating considerable danger of frostbite casu-

K-9 Koda apprehends Clayton man

On Saturday, November 4, at 10:20 p.m. the Barron County Sheriff's Department responded to a call at 157 2nd Avenue in Clayton, the Cabin Bar and Grill, for a subject causing problems.

The subject was not there, but was identified as Andrew Bauerfield, 34, who had fled to a nearby house. Deputies made contact with Bauerfield, but he refused to exit the house. Deputies were able to get him to open the door and observed a shotgun next to Bauerfield.

Deputies attempted to talk Bauerfield out, but he continued to refuse deputies commands. Deputies deployed a taser to apprehend Bauerfield. But Bauerfield continued to refuse commands and K-9 Koda was sent in the house to apprehend him.

Bauerfield was treated for minor injuries from the K-9 apprehension and is currently being held in the Barron County Jail on charges of disorderly conduct, possession of a firearm by a felon, probation violation and resisting arrest.

Andrew Bauerfield

Deputies from the Barron County Sheriff's Department responded to the scene. While en route to the scene a second call came in advising this subject was now outside the bar and had a handgun.

When deputies arrived,

The Members of the Cumberland VFW would like to congratulate the winner of this year's VFW Essay Contest, Miranda Ricci. The VFW took this opportunity to also present the Cumberland School District with a donation of $9,000 towards their scholarship endowment fund. Library Happenings

by Rob Ankarlo, Director,
Thomas St. Angelo
Public Library

It's been a busy autumn at the Thomas St. Angelo Public Library. Patrons of all ages have replaced their summer flip flops, shorts and t-shirts for slacks, flannel shirts, sweaters, wool socks, closed toed shoes and boots. We look forward to our new wave of winter tourists/patrons as Jack Frost continues to blanket us with the season's first layers of white snow.

In addition to a change of the weather, we are blessed to have new part time staff members helping in all areas of the library. These new staff members are Rhea Macak and Jeanette Rydberg; they have recently retired from their educational careers and join us with a lot of valuable expertise. Both Rhea and Jeanette are doing a wonderful job of keeping our library organized and meeting the patrons' needs.

The TSAP Library continues to be a gathering place for both youth and adults. The youth service librarians joined efforts with the Cumberland's Chamber of Commerce Pumpkin Give-A-Way and opened its Anna St. Angelo Youth Library to hold the second Annual Pumpkin Decorating event. This creative event attracted 82 patrons which double the number of participants from last year. The Library participated in Cumberland's Main Street Safe Trick-or-Treat event. Friends of the Library and Junior High National Honor Society students passed out chocolate candy bars and free book coupons to approximately 600 kids. The candy expense was funded by the Friends of the Library and the free paperback books were funded by community members who made donations to the new non-profit, Cumberland TSAP Library Foundation.

The TSAP Library staff, Board of Trustees and the Friends of the Library wish to recognize all veterans on Saturday, November 11 at 10:00 AM by hosting speaker Mr. David Tindell. Mr. Tindell will give a special presentation focusing on the 50th Anniversary of the Vietnam War while paying tribute to all veterans (and their families), including personnel who were held as prisoners of war (POW), or listed as missing in action (MIA), for their service and sacrifice to our country. Friends of Library volunteers will be serving refreshments for this event.

November is "Food For Fines" month. Anyone who is wishing to donate a non-perishable food or cleaning/personal hygiene items will receive $1 per item off their fines. In addition, we are encouraging patrons to donate $1 and to receive $2 off the amount of fines owed. All monetary, food items and other cleaning donations will benefit our local community members at the Cumberland Food Pantry.

By Craig Bucher

Bullying has gotten quite a bit of attention the past few years and there have been several horrible cases of teens committing suicide after suffering intense periods of being bullied. The Sunday edition of the Star-Tribune had a rather lengthy article about how to help a child become a kind person. In 1734 the phrase “Just as the twig is bent, the tree’s inclined” was penned by Alexander Pope in “Several Epistles to Several Persons.” The first part of the phrase is not often quoted but I think it holds meaning for us as you consider “kindness” and “bullying.” Pope wrote - “Tis education forms the communal mind, just as the twig is bent, the tree’s inclined.” The newspaper article suggested that being a good example for children will help them turn out to be kind people and I agree. Kids really look up to their parents and if you want your kids to be kind people, then it is important that you set a good example. Education at home is where it all begins. If we want our little “twigs inclined” to be good, kind people, we have to start at home.

Last Sunday was “All Saints Day” in the Christian Church calendar. A day when we remember those who have left this life. The litany we used moved me and I thought I would share it with you.

In the blowing of the wind, we remember them.

In the blueness of the sky and the warmth of summer, we remember them.

In the midpoint of the year, and at its beginning and end, we remember them.

When we are lost and sick at heart, we remember them.

So long as we live, they too shall live, for they are a part of us, we remember them.

SEE YOU NEXT WEEK!

Measuring quality: Why health care can attract business, workers

MADISON, Wis. – Every few years someone in state government laments, “We need a better brand for Wisconsin!” Cabinet secretaries scurry about, agency communications directors scratch their heads over possible slogans and marketing campaigns go largely unfunded.

Here’s an idea: Let’s talk about Wisconsin’s tangible business assets without making it all about tourism and cheese (as much as Badger state loyalists value both).

One such asset is quality health care, a commodity largely taken for granted inside Wisconsin and largely unknown to people and companies who may be thinking of moving or expanding here.

Much like an educated workforce, reliable public utilities and affordable business costs for land and talent are worth bragging about, so is quality health care. That’s the conclusion of a report issued this month by the Wisconsin Technology Council.

“Taking the pulse: How quality healthcare builds a better bottom line” examined leading indicators of health-care quality, based on public and private data. It also compared quality rankings to costs. Key findings were:

- Wisconsin is consistently one of the top states for quality health care, as measured by 200 metrics compiled by the federal Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality. It ranked No. 1 in the nation in 2017. In the seven-state region surrounding or within a day’s drive of Wisconsin, only two other states (Iowa and Minnesota) ranked in the top quartile. Wisconsin has ranked no lower than 7th nationally since 2006.

- Wisconsin ranked just $3 above the national median ($4,666 versus $4,663) in the average employer share of single premium health insurance in 2015. That placed the state in the second-lowest cost quartile among the 50 states. Wisconsin was $800 above the national median ($13,187 versus $12,387) in the average employer share of family premium health insurance for the same year, still outside the most expensive quartile.

- Wisconsin health insurance premiums are growing slower than other states in the seven-state region and the nation, especially since 2010. For single coverage, the cost increase has averaged 2.2 percent per year versus 3.8 percent nationally. Wisconsin ranked second best in the nation in this category. For family coverage, the cost increase has averaged 4 percent versus 4.5 percent nationally. Wisconsin is tied for 10th nationally in controlling the growth in family coverage premiums since 2010.

- Wisconsin also ranks favorably in national and regional comparisons of deaths that could have been avoided by proper health care, Medicare 30-day hospital readmissions, hospital length of stays, mean inpatient charges, the percentage of the total population covered by health insurance and use of electronic health records. All are rankings that speak to quality while controlling costs.

The logjam over Obamacare in Washington, D.C., has upended the health insurance market as companies and workers come to grips with rising costs. That confusion is playing out this fall in Wisconsin and elsewhere as group health plan enrollments come due for employers and employees alike.

One potential asset for Wisconsin is that it’s not a captive health insurance market. The report revealed that Wisconsin is one of only two states (New York is the other) in which the three largest insurers control less than 60 percent of the market. Other states in the seven-state region showed “top three” insurance market shares ranging from 67 to 97 percent. The U.S. median is 90 percent. More choice may lead to more competition over time, even if Obamacare is dismantled.

Employers have a right to complain about health-care costs, but they aren’t powerless to control the rate of increase or the outcomes.

As the reported noted, individual companies, groups of companies or institutions have found ways to work with health systems. This is often accomplished through on-site clinics, incentive programs and prevention strategies that engage employees. Results include lower rates of absenteeism and people showing up sick; avoiding procedure costs through preventive care; and lower costs of care due to better physical fitness and health habits.

Examples cited in this report include Colony Brands and Monroe Clinic; Ashley Furniture and Gunderson Health System; Hoffmaster and Thedacare; Organic Valley and Vernon Memorial Healthcare; Northeast Wisconsin Technical College and Bellin Health; a collection of companies working with Columbus Community Hospital; and a mix of Chippewa Valley institutions working with Mayo Clinic.

Quality health care is not only nice to have; it’s an asset in the state-to-state race to attract and retain companies and workers. Let’s market one of the things Wisconsin does best.

Darin A. Jenkins, 46, of Rice Lake, has been charged with possession of methamphetamine.

The criminal complaint states that on Monday, October 30, 2017, Officer Schwartz of the Barron County Sheriff's Department was working as the booking officer at the Barron County Jail, when an individual named Darin Jenkins was brought to the jail by Barron County Deputy Weise.

Officer Schwartz stated that Jenkins was brought into the booking change room and advised to change into a jail issued uniform. Jenkins was verbally resistant and did not wish to change into the jail uniform. During the process of changing out from his street clothes to the jail uniform. Officer Schwartz asked Jenkins to turn his socks inside out for the officer. During the process of removing his socks, Officer Schwartz saw that Jenkins appeared to be attempting to conceal something in one of the socks.

When Officer Schwartz inspected both of the socks, he observed that in one of the socks was a baggie of what appeared to be a white powdery substance that, based upon his training and experience, he recognized to be methamphetamine. He subsequently turned the bag over to Deputy Weise and was advised by Deputy Weise that the baggie tested positive for the presence of methamphetamine.

When Deputy Schwartz advised Jenkins about the substance found in the socks, Jenkins response was, "I should haven't of had anything in there." When Deputy Schwartz advised him that the baggie was found in his sock, Jenkins indicated that if anything was in his sock he would have felt it.

If convicted Darin Jenkins may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than three years and six months, or both. His driver's license may also be suspended for not less than six months nor more than five years. His preliminary hearing will be held November 28, 2017.

Randy L. Denoyer, 31, of Cumberland, has been charged with misdemeanor battery, possession of tetrahydrocannabinols (THC), and possession of drug paraphernalia.

On Sunday, October 8, 2017, Cumberland Police Officer Westberg was dispatched to an altercation on Jeffrey Blvd, between Randy Denoyer and D. B.

Upon her arrival, Officer Westberg made contact with a female subject, who indicated that Denoyer had come to the residence and kicked the door and fought with D. B. and then left in a white truck. Officer Westberg was aware where Denoyer lived, and went to his residence to try and locate him.

Upon her arrival at his residence she made contact with him and asked if he knew why she was there. Denoyer indicated that he did. When asked to explain, he indicated he had gone into town and saw his ex-wife's vehicle at D. B.'s residence and became angry. He stated he went to the residence and knocked on the door, but no one opened the door, so he kicked it in. When he got into the residence, he indicated that his ex-wife was in the entryway and asked him what he was doing. She also told him D. B. was in the residence and to get outside. D. B. came outside and then Denoyer punched him in the face with a closed fist and then pushed him onto a car and then approximately 50 feet in the back yard. He said they were rolling around fighting until a neighbor broke it up. Denoyer said he had been struck in the face by D. B.

Officer Westberg arrested Denoyer in connection with the incident. During the course of searching his person, she located a plastic baggie that had, what she believed to be, marijuana along with a multicolored glass pipe and a scale in his back pocket with traces of what she believed to be marijuana on it. Officer Westberg field tested the items and they tested positive for the presence of tetrahydrocannabinols.

Officer Westberg met with D. B. who indicated that he had been at his mother's residence when Denoyer showed up there. He said that Denoyer started to scream at him as soon as he saw him. He also indicated he had been punched multiple times and that Denoyer had bit his fingernail, which had to be removed by a doctor.

If convicted Randy Denoyer may be fined not more than $11,500 or imprisoned for not more than one year and four months, or both. His driver's license may also be suspended for not less than one year, or more than ten years. His hearing will be held December 20, 2017.

WI State Patrol Law of the Month

Guidelines to follow when stopped by Law Enforcement

Getting pulled over by a law enforcement officer can be a difficult experience, but following some simple guidelines will greatly enhance safety for motorists and law enforcement. The Wisconsin State Patrols November Law of the Month reminds motorists of their legal responsibilities and offers guidelines on what to do when stopped by law enforcement.

State law (346.19) requires drivers to pull over immediately when they observe emergency lights approaching from either direction. Move out of the lane of traffic and stop as near as possible on the right-hand shoulder of the roadway.

When pulled over by a police officer, the first thing drivers and passengers should do is try to stay calm, said Wisconsin State Patrol Captain Nick Wanink of the Northwest Region. Keep in mind that the top priority for law enforcement is the safety and well-being of the travelling public. Police officers are well-trained in handling traffic stops, but there are several things motorists can do to help things go as smoothly as possible. This includes:

Place your vehicle in park. Turn off the ignition and put the keys on the dashboard in front of you.

Do not exit the vehicle (unless asked to do so). At night or during low-light conditions, turn on your vehicles interior dome light. The officer will likely shine a bright light into your vehicle. This is to keep you and the officer safe.

Place your hands in plain sight, preferably on top of the steering wheel. All vehicle occupants should keep movements to a minimum. Refrain from reaching into your clothing, purse, glove box, console, etc. to locate your license, registration or insurance cards. Wait for the officer to request such items.

When the officer arrives at your window (this could be the driver or passenger side), comply with any orders. Provide clear and concise answers to the officers questions.

Be polite and patient. The officer may need time to verify your identification, etc. If you are given a citation, dont argue. You will have an opportunity before a judge or court to express any concerns.

"Following these steps will help keep everyone safe, and in most cases, will get you back on your journey as quickly as possible," Captain Wanink said.

Girls Basketball Team Opens Practice; First Game November 17

The Cumberland Girls Basketball Team began their quest to become a stronger competitor in the HON on Monday, when they opened up practice for the 2017-2018 season. They come off a 1-22 record, but return a significant part of their team from last winter, providing hopes from a big improvement this year.

Only one girl, Joey Carlson, was lost off the 2016-2017 team. Six girls with vast experience began, providing Head Coach Corey Chilson with hopes for a big jump in the win column.

Those returning are an athletic group, including Lauren Green, Ania Hyatt, Izzy West, Hannah Delzer, Cora Grunseth, and Adrianna Johnson. The key to wins will lie in the ability to improve a shooting percentage from the floor that was under 30 percent last winter.

Hayward would look to be a strong favorite to repeat their title of last winter. They return multiple players who received All-Conference recognition. Cumberland will get an early look at the team on November 17, when they host Bruce in a non-conference game starting at 7:15 pm.

Boys Basketball Team to Open Practice on November 13

The Cumberland Basketball Team will open practice on Monday, November 13, for the 2017-2018 basketball season. "Our expectations are to improve on last years 11-10 record," said Head Coach Corey Berghammer.

The Beavers will be without 15-point scorer Payton Rose, but return several players with experience off that team. Leading the way will be Kobe Berghammer, a First Team All-Conference selection last year. The team MVP, Berghammer averaged 20-points and eight rebounds a game as a junior. "It will be hard to replace Payton, but Kobe, Riley Bodsberg, Andrew Barnes, Nik Burling, Noah Schradle, and Erik Sandman all return with experience. We'll need some more scorers to develop and must improve our defense, but are optimistic about the season. Unfortunately, Sandman will miss the first part of the season with an injury.

"We think the Conference will be very competitive and we believe we can get into the upper half of the Conference" stated Berghammer. Bloomer was a huge favorite to take the crown, but the move of All-Conference underclassmen Gabe and Mason Madsen opens up the HON race. Only three All-Conference players return to their teams this winter: Bloomer's Payton Dachel, Hayward's Phil Ziegler, and Berghammer.

Northwoods Pheasant Hunt

Hello friends,

One of the original three chapters of KAMO (Kids And Mentors Outdoors) www.kamokids.org is the Northwoods Chapter, which is headquartered out of Florence but covers the general area of upper Michigan and Wisconsin.

Mick Milnar is the only original KAMO Chapter President still standing and Mick and the dozen or so members in the Northwoods Chapter do one heck of an excellent job of helping local kids experience the great outdoors.

For several years I have been hoping to witness their annual pheasant hunt and trap shoot and this past week I did just that.

Saturday, October 21st
High 69, low 46

So for myself the day started out kind of a bummer and as everyone would witness it stayed that way. I woke up at my good friends Jeff and Sue Molls home near Niagara with a bad case of the flu that just got worse as the day went on. The flu was not going to stop me from at least witnessing the Northwood's Chapter at work and to meet several new friends.

First, we headed out to Shady Game Farm, which is owned and operated by my new good buddy Howard Reed. Howard runs this 400-acre piece of paradise that borders the Brule River and knows how to have fun including doing a lot of fishing and hunting.

So back to the event, I am the president of KAMO and let me tell you, I was really impressed at how down to earth and smooth this event went. There were 16-kids that took part in it and by the end of the day 1000 shotgun rounds had been fired and 700 clay pigeons went to heaven along with several pheasant.

What really impressed me is that their plan for this entire event is very systematic. Please forgive me if I make a mistake, as I was all over the property and pretty sick but Tom Jonet and Keith Davis, along with our good buddy Tom Oravec ran the clay pigeon shooting end of this deal and each kid has to hit five birds before they can hunt pheasant.

Next, and one at a time, the young hunters, which I might add, all seemed to be really good shots go on their hunt.

Jim LaBeske is a hunting and fishing guide from the area that has a German wirehaired pointer named Heuver and each young hunter gets to flush and "hopefully" shoot one pheasant.

There are two "wingers" on the far outside of the young hunters and I was so sick that I did not feel I could handle being a winger, which is a very fun job.

Everything is about safety, common sense and having a good time. The kids were from schools such as Niagara, Iron Mountain, Florence and Kingsford and several of them were veterans of this event and really into this special day.

After the hunt a meal is provided and Jeff Moll a KAMO original from day one gave a class on pheasant cleaning, all the kids were able to go home ready to bring a feast to their family.

Everything about this day was super impressive (but me) and I want to let you parents, kids and potential mentors know in this part of Wisconsin and the U.P. The Northwoods Chapter of KAMO rock and rolls, they can use mentors, they appreciate all of their sponsors and bring on the kids, and they have a predator hunt coming up in January that I wish I could make.

In closing, I want every one of you to try and talk my buddy Mick Milnar into becoming KAMO President. I have had the job for ten years and this spring chicken is a far better man than me.

Milnar for President!

WisDNR: Deer Hunt 2017 -What's New?

Important Changes to Tagging:

- Validation and tagging is no longer required, but hunters must still carry proof of a hunting license and deer tags. Keep in mind that even with electronic forms of proof of deer tags available, hunters will need the unique tag number to begin the harvest registration process.

- The following forms of proof of a deer hunting license and deer tags are accepted:

- a paper copy;
- an authenticated Wisconsin driver's license*
- a DNR-issued Go Wild Conservation Card; or
- a digital tag image displayed on an electronic device.

Paper copies of licenses and tags may be obtained at no charge if printed at home or obtained at DNR service centers. There is a $2 convenience fee for reprints obtained at license agents.

- Paper carcass tags: though no longer required, paper tags already issued are still valid and contain the deer tag number, which is required when registering a deer.

- The requirement to register deer by 5 p.m. the day after recovery has not changed.

Hunters must use the unique deer tag number to register their harvest.

Hunters may retrieve a list of their deer tag numbers in their My GameReg section of their Go Wild account.

Other Changes:

- North of Highway 64, ground blinds and tree stands may be left out overnight on DNR-managed lands; see requirements on page 34 or visit dnr.wi.gov and search "hunting regulations."

- The antlerless-only Holiday Hunt will be held in select DMUs from Dec. 24 -Jan. 1, 2018. See page 9 of the regulations for more information.

- Baiting and feeding bans have been lifted from 15 counties and will stay in place for 28 counties.

- Baiting and feeding bans are lifted from the following counties for the 2017 season: Barron, Burnett, Calumet, Clark, Dodge, Jackson, Kenosha, Manitowoc, Milwaukee, Polk, Racine, Sheboygan, Washburn, Washington and Waushara.
- Oconto County is now closed to baiting and feeding deer.

- View baiting and feeding regulations at: <http://dnr.wi.gov/topic/hunt/bait.html>

* To authenticate a Wisconsin driver's license, the hunter must present it to license agent or enter number for online purchases. The hunter should check purchase receipt for confirmation that their Wisconsin driver's license is authenticated and the hunter is authorized to use his/her driver's license as proof of holding the required license, stamp or hunter safety certificate.

Girls Hockey Co-op Moves to Hayward

After unsuccessfully trying to Co-op in Girls Hockey with Webster and Siren, the Cumberland girls will join Hayward for a WIAA Girls Hockey team this winter. Hayward also Co-ops with Ashland, Grantsburg, Rice Lake, Spooner, Shell Lake, and Northwestern.

Two Cumberland girls who played prominent roles on the now defunct, Burnett County Blizzard Co-op, Makayla Anderson and Makenzie Johnson, will be strong additions to the Hurricanes. They were the leading scorers on the team for the year and one-half they were WIAA involved.

Hayward, coached by Kate Sherry, has a strong tradition in the State. The 2013 and 2016 State Champions made it to State again last year, but were eliminated in the State semifinals by the Green Bay East Co-op. They finished with a final record of 19-6-2.

The team opens up their season on November 17th at Lakeland in a contest starting at 6:00 pm.

Northwest Icemen Hope to Continue Improvement

The Northwest Icemen WIAA Hockey team opened practice on Monday with hopes of continuing to build on last seasons fine season. Comprised of players from Barron, Chetek-Weyerheuser, Shell Lake, Spooner, and Cumberland. The team was 16-9 last year, one of the best record in the history of the Co-op. Clayton Timm returns as Head Coach, his second year at the helm.

Coach Timm must replace some fine players from last years squad, but knows he has some fine young talent coming. "I'll know more about the make-up of our team after the first few practices," he said.

The team opens up their season, at the Cumberland rink, when they host Amery on November 28 at 7:00 pm.

Barronett News By Judy Pieper

This Saturday, November 11th is Veteran's Day, as I'm sure you are well aware. I hope you will take time to think about all the sacrifices our military men and women have made over the last two and a half centuries, and maybe thank one of them that you are close to.

Because it is a time to remember our Veterans, I'm going to tell you about two of my favorite U. S. Army vets, my Uncle Bud and Aunt Helen Hefty. Bud (William) was the son of Lutheran farmers from over by Mikana, and Helen was the daughter of rather well-to-do Jewish parents from Albany, New York. They both enlisted in the Army at the start of WWII, and were stationed at Fort Riley, Kansas. I believe Bud was in communications, and Helen worked at the administration and admissions desk at the nurses' station in the infirmary. Bud came to the infirmary because of an illness, and from the way they told it, it was love at first sight. They were married about three months later in a private ceremony many miles from home and family.

I'm sure things were a little difficult for the young couple because Helen's parents must have thought she had completely lost her mind when she told them she married a poor farm boy from Wisconsin. But, over the years, they came to know and love Bud and their four grandchildren, Sue, Rachel, Ed and Burt.

Well, back in the 1940s, women were not allowed to remain on active duty if they were "in the family way," so when Helen became pregnant she was given an honorable discharge for medical reasons and instead of returning home to New York, she went home to my grandparents farm by Hemlock Lake. Bud, on the other hand, was transferred to the Pacific where he served on Guam. At that time Guam was not exactly the tourist attraction that it is today, but Bud survived the war, came back to the farm and his new wife, and worked on the farm with Grandpa and Grandma.

Things were pretty different on a small dairy farm than Helen was accustomed to. For one thing, there was no indoor plumbing! And, when she was growing up in New York, it was never one of her responsibilities to do any of the cooking. But, despite the differences, she and Bud settled into the little house on the farm with their new baby girl and were very happy.

There are lots of funny stories about Helen as she was learning the ways of a farm wife, but one that I remember best is the time Bud had to go into the big town of Mikana for supplies and asked her if she needed anything from the general store. She said that she would like a soda, and so Bud, being a good husband, brought her back a box of baking soda. She had no idea why he would bring her something that is used in baking, and he had no idea that New Yorkers call cola "soda."

Grandma used to make wonderful homemade soup, which Bud liked a lot. Helen got tired of hearing about what a great cook his mother was, and her comment was, "I can make soup too, if you buy me a can." She never lived that one down.

Bud and Helen lived on the farm for a few years and then moved to Madison, where they raised their four children and worked at Oscar Meyer until they retired. After they retired they spent their summers on the family farm and winters in Florida. Bud passed away in 1994, and Helen moved to Monroe to be closer to their children.

A few years later Helen was able to take the Badger Honor Flight to Washington D.C. It was absolutely the most wonderful event in honor of her military career. Her son, Burt, accompanied her, and they were able to see the Veterans' Memorial and many other landmarks in D. C. Helen felt so honored because when they boarded the plane in Madison, Wisconsin, there was a crowd of people to thank them for their service and to see them off. When they arrived in Washington D.C. there was also a crowd of people to thank them for their service and to welcome them to the nation's capital. I think Aunt Helen was close to 90 years old when she took the flight, and for the rest of her life she never tired of telling people how wonderful it was.

Like most veterans, Bud and Helen were patriots all of their lives. They loved our country and were proud to tell anyone how much better America is than any other country. They were wonderful people, and we were very honored to have them in our family.

I hope you remember that this Friday, November 10th, Barronett Civic Club members are hosting their Hunters Supper. They will be serving two kinds of homemade stew served in bread bowls, salad and desserts. They will also have hot dogs, mac and cheese and chips for the kids. There will be games, prizes, meat raffles and a buck board. They will be serving supper from 5:00 to 7:00 p.m. and, of course, the fun will last pretty much all night. It's always a good time and I hope to see you there.

There will be a dedication ceremony at Barronett Lutheran Church this Sunday, November 12th, for the beautiful hand carved statue of the risen Christ that Ron and Sue Helstern donated to our church. This is an unbelievably beautiful statue-please plan to join us for the dedication and worship service at 9:00 a.m.

I'm writing this on Friday because of the holiday, so I don't know yet how our Scandinavian Smorgasbord went. I'll tell you about that next week.

I guess that's about all I know from Barronett this week. See you next time.

Senior News By Gloria Lindeman

Yikes it's Friday already and I am just sitting here drinking coffee and realized I better get the news out! Beds are not made, dirty dishes in the sink and I better get the clothes washed, but the top priority is this news, or I won't be able to show my face at the Senior Center.

Breaking News---The Wii Bowling Team were happy to tell me they took first place over Barron and Chetek. The team consists of Tami, Lois, Angel, Jim and Rita. Good job-Congratulations!

The newsletter is out for November, along with the calendar, so stop in and pick one up so you can keep track of our activities. Thanks to Dave for getting this done for us every month.

As long as I am on the subject of Thank You. I would like to say there are lots of things done at the center that nobody realizes. These people just quietly clean up, make sure the sidewalk is not icy, and the many other jobs that are done. So Thanks to those people who make our Center a nice place to hang out.

Our annual Christmas Party will be held on December 7th at noon. The Center will furnish ham and rolls and we will have a pot luck, so you are welcome to bring a dish to pass. There will be a sign-up sheet at the center so we have an idea how many people to provide for. This is a fun time for all, so mark your calendars. I will be mentioning this every week, so don't worry, I will keep reminding you.

Remember membership dues expire January 1st, so I hope all of you will renew for the coming year. We are saddened by the fact that we lost quite a few members this past year.

One of our projects we need to be thinking about is updating our bathrooms. They need a good overhaul. We will be discussing this in the near future. We need to get started on our budget for the coming year.

It's nice to see our snow has gone for a little while, we always get that first blast to remind us to be prepared.

Till next week-have a good one.

"Be Grateful For What Has Been Given"

By: Deacon Steve Linton

St. Anthony Catholic Church, Cumberland

Death and dying are two things that we don't like to talk about. Unfortunately, they are a reality that we must all come to accept. Nobody gets a pass. We will all face this scary time of our life at some point. We spend billions of dollars every year in our country trying to avoid it, or to delay it, but inevitably death will come to us all.

I am fortunate, as well as all of you, to have known and loved many people in my life who have had a tremendous impact on my life, who have died. The grief that we feel at the loss of a loved one is overwhelming at times, but we must come to death with this reality in our own way.

In our reading from 1 Thessalonians this weekend we hear, "For if we believe that Jesus died and rose, so too will God, through Jesus, bring with him those who have fallen asleep."

This is the great joy of being a Christian. If we truly believe in Jesus Christ, and if we truly believe that He rose from the dead and ascended into heaven, then we can have faith and hope that we too shall rise again.

We are eternally grateful to God for sending His own son to live and die on this earth. We are grateful, not just for the tremendous act of love Christ showed for us by dying on the cross for the forgiveness of our sins, but also for showing us, through His life, death and resurrection, that there is more in store for us when this life on earth has passed. Because of our faith and trust in Jesus Christ we can endure life a little easier in this world knowing that we have hope of eternal life with our Father in Heaven.

Let us be grateful for the life God has given us, and for those that He has brought into our lives; both those who are presently with us, and for those who have gone before us. While there is great sadness and real grief that we must experience in death and dying, there is also great joy in knowing that we are promised more than just this life on earth if we truly believe in Jesus Christ.

May the grace and peace of God be with you all. May you turn to your faith and trust in Jesus Christ as you suffer death and dying in your own lives. May you find comfort and peace and knowing that God has more to offer us than the pain and struggles we face in this life. Pray daily for those who have died or are dying. Grieve all you must, but take comfort. Christ is with us. Christ is in us.

Northwoods Notebook:

We need the escape of laughter in these times

By Larry Werner

I was chatting the other day with friends who said they've stopped watching the news because it depresses them and makes them angry. I'm a news junkie, I said, and can't stop watching the programs that tell us about wars abroad, terrorism at home, rampant drug addiction and politics so ugly we avoid discussing it with friends and family.

If there ever was a time for escape it's now, and I found it right here in The Island City. It's been awhile since I laughed so hard tears ran down my cheeks, but that's what happened last week when Ann and I got to see Guys & Does at the Cumberland Fine Arts Center. Three local guys played the roles of deer hunters and a talking white buck in the production written for Northern Sky Theater in Door County.

Many of you saw it at ETC's playhouse. So I won't spend my space on the story of two hunters bonding in deer camp while discussing their relationships with their women back home. I'd like to salute the three actors I've got to know since moving to Cumberland and the two directors of this hilarious play.

I love live theater and have been lucky enough to see professionals on stages in Minneapolis, New York City and many places in-between. I've been to Second City, Chicago's famous comedy club, and I've seen Phantom of the Opera and Les Miserables on Broadway. But I can honestly say I've not enjoyed an evening at the theater more than I did watching Tom Toftness, Jeremy Westin and Phil Warner in this hilarious deer-hunting musical.

Perhaps I'm biased because I know these guys, having served on the ETC board with Tom and Jeremy and having been in a play with Phil. But that's part of the enjoyment of community theater: We know the actors in their real-life roles and seeing them become other characters is part of the fun.

Even before he speaks his first line or sings his first song, it's simply funny to see Tom the chiropractor as Fritz Dingleheimer, the paper-mill worker getting away "Up Nort'" with Duane Puddles, the character played by Jeremy Westin, a techie who works at Ardisam. And when music teacher Phil Warner steps onto the stage with an assault rifle as Joe Jimmy Ray Bob Johnson III, or as the talking white buck, Staghart of the Golden Horns, you can't help but laugh at who Phil has become.

Dan Hoffmann and Ann Kysely, retired teachers who have acted in and directed many ETC plays, gave their time and talent over the past few months rehearsing this cast of local talent. I know they were as tired as the actors by the end of the run, but I know they feel they directed something very special.

Mike Clay, theater director of ETC, is to be commended for selecting this play, which had never been done away from Door County. In fact, one of the playwrights flew in from California to watch the performance. He was impressed that the play he wrote was performed so well by three guys who have regular jobs in our town and, in their off time, take on other identities so they can make us laugh so hard we cry.

Thanks, fellas. I needed that.

Community Ed Happenings

by Susan Bridger, Director CCE

Fall has been a very busy time for Cumberland Community Education and the start of the winter season looks to be just as busy!

On Monday, November 13 from 5-6 p.m. CCE presents Healthy Holiday Meal Planning. The holiday season is such a hard time to think about our eating habits! Come watch and taste as Susan Rouzer, a registered Dietitian and Nutritionist, prepares healthy dishes...with tips and tricks. There will be no cost for this event.

We are very pleased to say that Rebecca Walsh is back this year with two Essential Oils classes. On November 29, there will be an Essential Oil Make and Take of Holiday-themed roller balls. Then on December 6th there is an Essential Oil Gift-Making Class both at 5 p.m. at the Cumberland Middle School.

Pauline Schell will host a Beginning Quilting Class in January. The first class will be an hour of introduction where the pattern will be handed out and instructions given etc. The class will then meet on two Wednesdays, from 6-9pm where attendees will work on their "Trip Around the World" project. Cost of instruction is $30. Dates TBA soon!

There is really no excuse to not be in great shape this year with all the exercise offerings that CCE is advertising! A late addition to the new class line-up is Beginning Kettle Bells. Come and let Certified Personal Trainer, Cassy Golberg show you the fundamentals of this popular exercise craze on Tuesdays at 6:30 p.m. at the HS room #18. The cost for a five-card punch is $25 and walk-ins will be charged $6.

Yoga is back at the High School in room #18 with instructor Pam Baker. All levels of experience are welcome. Cost is $8 per session.

Bench Stepping continues to be offered by Pat Chuchwar on Mondays at 5:30 pm and Wednesdays at 5:00 pm in the Cumberland Middle School Commons. Cost: 10 classes for $25.00 or a three month pass for $45.00.

Exercise, Move, Dance! Dancersize (Formerly Zumba) is now offered by Laura Schultz on Mon-Wed-Fri at 5:30 pm at the Cumberland Fitness Center. Cost is $6 per class or a 10-punch card for $50.

Instructor Jada Hamilton is offering an early morning class, Body 360 (Formerly HIIT). This first 10-week session class will run until December 15. Cost is $7 for walk-ins, and 10/$60 20/$100. Watch for dates in the new year!

New to CCE Pickle Ball is a paddle sport created for all ages and skill levels. The rules are simple and the game is an easy one for beginners to learn. The game combines elements of tennis, badminton, and ping pong. It is played with a paddle and a plastic ball with holes and a modified tennis net. At this time Pickle Ball is available from 7-8am on Mondays and Fridays at the High School gym. If different morning days would work for you or if are interested in a 7 pm class, please contact me!! To make it even better there is no cost for this fun exercise event!

In the planning stage for CCE are two charter bus excursions. Due to the fact, it is difficult for CCE to fill a bus on our own we are partnering with Turtle Lake Community Education in hopes these offerings will become a reality.

At this time, we are planning on a fun family-event on December 1st. Try to plan on joining us as we kick-off the holiday season and venture to Bentleyville in Duluth MN home of America's largest "Free Walk Through Lighting Display."

Then on December 8th we are planning on a charter trip to the Day Tripper's Dinner Theater in Bloomington MN. A matinee performance of The Nutcracker's Nuts! a holiday comedy will be performed complete with a full buffet lunch.

Please watch for more information about both of the above charter bus offerings.

As always if you have an interest in any of these mentioned opportunities or a question or an idea for a class that you may wish to present please call or email me at any time, HS-715-822-5121 EXT. 403 or sbrid@csdmail.com. I am specifically looking for someone who may wish to teach a group how to make lefse.

Please check CCE's offerings each week in the Cumberland Advocate under CSD News and be sure to listen to WJMC every M-W-Fri. with Island City News at approximately 8:10 a.m. Also, check out our CSD website, click on Community and Community Ed.

CSD also has a Facebook page, be sure to sign up by simply typing in Cumberland Community Education. I look forward to hearing from you!
