Opinion

By Craig Bucher

Sexual harassment has become a part of the news coverage this past week with charges flying around the entertainment world as well as in the political arena. Federal complaints have been lodged at sitting legislators, state officials and at a judge seeking to become a senator. Oh boy! What tangled webs we weave. I suspect before it is all done, there will be a bunch of resignations in the political world. The one that bothers me the most, is the case of Judge Roy Moore. He is not qualified to serve in the U.S. Senate by any stretch of the imagination. He has twice... yep that is right. He has twice been removed from the Alabama Supreme Court bench. Two times his colleagues booted him off the bench. Fellow judges saw fit to remove him, yet here he is leading the race for the U.S. Senate, even before the sexual harassment claims had been made public. After the claims have been made public, he is still leading. I just don't get it?

The seasons of the year sure pass quickly. Football is past the halfway point, hockey, basketball and wrestling have begun on college campuses and hunting season is upon us. Along with this comes cold weather and snow... Snow is a four letter word that, as I grow ever older, becomes more and more, a real "Four Letter" word.

On Monday, Sue Jungerberg was laid to rest. Sharon and I have lost a good friend. Sue and her husband Bruce were members of a group who met, for breakfast, after church on Sunday mornings. That group no longer meets, but the memories of our time together will never end. The Augustana church family has lost a valued member. "Sue, Sharon and I miss you and Augustana will miss you as well." SEE YOU NEXT WEEK!

Inside Wisconsin
by Tom Still

Government rollbacks aside, renewable energy here to stay

MADISON, Wis. – Whether it's the Trump administration order to scrap the federal Clean Power Plan or legislation to jettison renewable energy goals for Wisconsin state agencies, it seems like a grim time for advocates of wind, solar and other clean energy technologies.

Less grim is this reality: The energy marketplace has already embraced renewables as part of a balanced portfolio.

Despite President Trump's oft-repeated affinity for coal and a recent spike in U.S. production, energy experts don't expect a long-term surge in coal production for power plants. There are two main reasons: More natural gas plants are coming on line and renewable sources, mainly wind, are filling the energy gap in many parts of the country.

That transition is not only because the Obama-era Clean Power Plan compelled utilities and industry to burn less coal. The shift is mostly because market prices, consumer demand for clean energy and changing technologies have made renewables more attractive – and sped the retirement of less efficient coal-burning plants.

In 2015, according to a state report, wind power made up two-thirds of Wisconsin's renewable energy supply. Solar energy, organic matter used as fuel, and hydroelectric power accounted for the other one-third. Coal-fired, nuclear and natural gas plants still supply the bulk of Wisconsin's energy needs, but renewables are grabbing more of the market share.

More than two-thirds of Wisconsin's wind power is not generated on Wisconsin wind farms. It comes from wind turbines to the west – primarily Iowa, Minnesota and the Dakotas – over transmission lines that carry electricity from where the wind blows to where power is needed.

Some 345-kilovolt transmission lines are in place, and work continues on completing the system and making the Midwest less reliant on coal and natural gas. One project on the books is the Cardinal-Hickory Creek transmission line, which would span about 125 miles from northeast Iowa to the town of Middleton in Dane County.

Proponents say the Cardinal-Hickory Creek line would improve the overall reliability of the regional and local transmission grid, reduce costs over time and provide a conduit for renewable energy – primarily wind power. Environmental groups such as Wind on the Wires and RENEW Wisconsin support the project mainly because they see wind power as reducing Wisconsin's reliance on coal, a heavy contributor to greenhouse gases, while spurring the regional wind industry.

Wind on the Wires estimates the Cardinal-Hickory Creek line will advance 10 wind farms in four states, help avoid 1.2 million metric tons of carbon dioxide emissions per year, power more than 400,000 homes and save 757 million gallons of water each year.

RENEW Wisconsin has estimated a $5 billion investment in transmission lines will unlock $50 billion in wind energy investment in the upper Midwest.

"The cost of wind has come down about two-thirds in the last decade and some Wisconsin utilities are signing contracts for wind power purely because it's the lowest-cost option," said Tyler Huebner, executive director of RENEW Wisconsin. "The power grid is changing and it's changing in favor of renewables."

Opponents wonder if more electrical power is needed, based on economic growth and improved conservation strategies. Others question proposed routes for the Cardinal-Hickory Creek line. One proposed route follows existing roads and right-of-way but the other, more controversial route, is largely "green-field" in nature.

The need for transmission lines, Wisconsin's share of the costs and possible routes are subject to review by the state Public Service Commission.

Fossil fuels such as oil, coal and natural gas aren't going away anytime soon. However, the share of U.S. electricity generation met by renewables has grown to 15 percent from 8.5 percent a decade ago. Consumer demand and market forces likely have as much to do with that growth as government policies.

The Midwest can continue to wean itself off coal without overpaying for emerging energy sources such as wind. Transmission lines that efficiently tap into regional wind farms is a part of that transition, no matter how hard the White House tries to rescue the coal industry.

Still is president of the Wisconsin Technology Council. He is the former associate editor of the Wisconsin State Journal.

Brandon M. Schultz, 27, of Chetek, has been charged with burglary to a building or dwelling, and theft of moveable property. His initial appearance will be held December 6, 2017.

Brian M. Vobeda, 47, of Cameron, has been charged with possession of methamphetamine, and disorderly conduct. His preliminary hearing will be held November 20, 2017.

Heath P. Jassoy, 36, of Rice Lake, has been charged with felony bail jumping. (Failure to comply with the terms of his bond by using an internet capable device). His preliminary hearing was held November 20, 2017.

Jeffrey A. Rush, 30, of Rice Lake, and Jessica M. Schutz, 34, of Rice Lake, have each been charged with entry into a locked building, as a party to a crime, and felony bail jumping.

The criminal complaint states that on August 28, 2017, Barron County Sgt. Graf responded to 5th Avenue in Prairie Farm Township for a trespassing complaint. Dispatch informed him that the landowner, said she saw three people enter her property, including going into an old schoolhouse on the property, without her permission. Dispatch stated that the subjects were traveling in an F150 pickup truck, whose license plate she provided.

Sgt. Graf arrived at the location and made contact with the landowner. She stated they are in the process of renovating. The schoolhouse had several smashed out windows that were unsecured.

The landowner said she has had problems in the past with people going into the old schoolhouse, and that on this date, she was driving by and noticed a pickup parked behind some trees east of the old schoolhouse. She stated she stopped to see what was going on and to offer assistance if any was needed. She further said that there was a young male in the passenger seat of the truck, wearing a hat with marijuana leaves embroidered on it saying, "Kush."

She said the subject denied needing any assistance and that he was waiting for some friends. He said that his friends had gone for a walk. The landowner detected a strong odor of marijuana coming from the open window of the vehicle. She insisted that he was on private property and asked him to leave. The male subject began searching for the keys, realized that he did not have them, and then proceeded to honk the car horn twice.

At that time the landowner heard noises coming from the old schoolhouse. She headed toward the schoolhouse, and saw a male and a female inside the structure. She then observed the two subjects crawl through the window on the front door, and she took photographs of them. She said she did not know any of the subjects and that they did not have permission to be on her property.

Sgt. Graf knew the owner of the truck and knew that his grandson has a hat with customized lettering of the word "Kush" from prior contacts with him.

Sgt. Graf became aware that during the evening hours of that day, Barron County Deputies made contact with the grandson, Jessica Schutz, and Jeffrey Rush in the process of recovering a pickup truck matching the description of the one involved in the above described events.

The next day Sgt. Graf responded to the grandson's residence, and made contact with his grandfather, who advised that he had allowed his grandson and some of his friends, to use the truck for moving. Sgt. Graf made contact with the grandson shortly after, he said he was with Jeffrey Rush and Jessica Schutz when they went to the schoolhouse. He said he was in the pickup truck the entire time.

Sgt. Graf checked the records for Rush and Schutz and one of the conditions of their bonds were that they not commit any new crimes.

If convicted they may each be fined not more than $20,000 or imprisoned for not more than six years and nine months, or both. The initial appearance for Jeffrey Rush is scheduled for November 15, 2017, and Jessica Schutz is scheduled to appear November 22, 2017.

Brian M. Morris, 42, of Turtle Lake, has been charged with two counts of misdemeanor theft, and one court of fraudulent writings.

The criminal complaint states that on June 19, 2015, Sgt. Tomesh of the Rice Lake Police Department reported to speaking to a Multi-Unit Papa Murphy Manager who advised that Brian Morris, former manager of Papa Murphy's in Rice Lake was fired on June 17, 2015 for stealing money from Papa Murphy's in Rice Lake.

She advised that it was Morris's job as manager to make deposits at the local U. S. Bank. He was to make same day deposits since he was promoted in April of 2015. She said that during this time, deposits from May 6 and 7, 2015 were never made and the money went missing. She further stated that deposits from June 13 and 14, 2015 that were supposed to have been made by Morris also went missing. She said that the deposits for June 13 and 14 totaled $1,028.94 and the May, 2015 deposits totaled $997.76.

She went on to tell Sgt. Tomesh that when the deposits in May were not made, she began contacting the U. S. Bank at Cedar Mall, where all Papa Murphy deposits are made. They reported to her that no deposits were made on May 6th and 7th. A week or two after that Morris was confronted. He claimed he found copies of the deposit receipts for the days in question. She brought the copy of the deposit slips to the U.S. Bank Manager, who said that the copies of the deposit slips were forged. He said that the total amount on the slips and the dates on the slips appeared to have been copied and pasted onto real U. S. Bank deposit slips.

On June 22, 2015 Detective Thompson of the Rice

Lake Police Department went to U. S. Bank at Cedar Mall where the deposits were supposed to have been deposited. He spoke with the U. S. Bank manager to review deposits made to the Papa Murphy's account.

The bank manager reported that the employees at the bank had made comments to him about Morris's behavior when making deposits. The tellers had to consistently tell Morris that his deposit was short. They stated that Morris would then make up the difference by finding money in the car he was driving. Morris had repeatedly tried to deceive the tellers at his bank.

Detective Thompson spoke with Morris on June 22, 2015. Morris told Detective Thompson that he was not responsible for the May deposit because he was not manager at that time. He did confess he had found the original deposit slips. He said that he copied the original deposit slips, then lost the originals, but managed to keep his copy.

He also told Detective Thompson that he was responsible for a missing deposit in April of 2015. He said he had accidentally left money in his car and when he returned the money was gone. He said that he paid the money back.

Detective Thompson questioned him about the missing deposit slips from June 13 and 14. Morris told him he had made the deposits.

Detective Thompson conducted follow-up investigations regarding the fake deposit slips in October, 2017. He contacted the bank manager, who stated that Morris had come into his office with the District Manager of Papa Murphy's and presented him with two photocopies of deposit slips that appeared to be altered by crinkling the paper and then physically writing and pasting the amount and date on the deposits.

Detective Thompson then made contact with the District Manager, who reported that managers would normally take the money to be deposited at the bank by 3:00 p.m. and come back from the bank, would take the banks' printed out deposit slip, scan it into their system and send it to accounts receivable; accounts receivable then uses that deposit slip to balance the store's deposit screen and bank statements. She said that Morris scanned both of the above-described forged deposit slips into the system used by accounts receivable. She said she made repeated efforts to get Morris to provide her with the original copies of the deposit slips, and that he was unable to obtain them.

If convicted Morris could be fined not more than $30,000 or imprisoned for not more than six years and six months, or both. His initial appearance will be held November 22, 2017.

Berghammer All Region-All State; Narges All Region

Several Cumberland football players have received postseason awards following the completion of their recent season.

Team awards went to Jack Martens as “Rookie of the Year”, Reid Olson as the “Pride Award” winner, Alex Ricci as “Lineman of the Year”, and Kobe Berghammer the team, “MVP”.

Being named All-Region were Max Narges as a receiver and Kobe Berghammer at both quarterback and defensive back. Berghammer was also named First Team All State at quarterback and Honorable Mention All State at defensive back. Berghammer threw for 3201 yards and 36 touchdowns on the year, while grabbing five interceptions and forcing four fumbles. Narges, meanwhile, had 67 receptions for 1025 yards and 17 touchdowns.

“The football team would like to thank everyone for their support and wish our seniors nothing but the best in the future,” said Coach Corey Berghammer. Seniors included Hunter Lee, Steven Hanson, Gio Torres, Nik Burling, Colton Wilson, Berghammer, and Narges.

Outstanding Combo!

Kobe Berghammer All Region-All State!

Volleyball Holds Banquet

The Cumberland Volleyball Team handed out their postseason awards last week at a Banquet for the players. The awards included the naming of Izzy West as team “MVP”. Ania Hyatt received the Varsity “Most Improved” and “Outstanding Offense” Awards, Lauren Green the “Outstanding Defender” Award, and Sophie Bassett, the “Heart of the Team Award.”

The JV winners included

JV “MVP” Payton Nyhus, Erika Yawn, “Heart of the Team”, Kristen Nyhus “Most Improved”, and Ellie Rieper “Outstanding Defender.”

The C-Team Awards went to team “MVP”, Erin Stokes, “Most Improved” Katelyn Gonzales, and “Heart of the Team”, Tia Anderson.

“I want to thank the Coaches, players, and fans for a great season,” said Coach Jessica Olson.

Back On The Hardwood!

Wrestling Team Opens Team Drills; Dual Tournament on December 1

The Cumberland Beavers will hope to continue their league dominance as drills open on the 2017-2018 season. The Beavers took yet another Conference Championship last year, sharing the title with the Barron Bears. That was the fifth straight year they have taken at least a share of the HON Championship. This years squad will get to show off their new team on December 1, as they start their season with the Cumberland Dual Tournament.

The Beavers had four Individual Conference Champions last February and with most of them and other experienced wrestlers returning, the Beavers will be a HON favorite again this winter. Logan Steglich (106), Reid Olson (126), Isaiah Skidmore (145), and Mathew Larson (195) won those crowns. Gabby Skidmore added a second at 113 pounds as the lower weights look to be a strength for the Beavers again this year. “We return many talented and experienced wrestlers,” said Coach Isaac Lundquist.

Steglich was the team MVP last year and will start the season at 120 pounds. He returns from a 37 win season and a trip to the State Tournament. The other Cumberland wrestler to make a trip to Madison was Gio Torres, who won 24 times last winter.

Isaiah Skidmore brings 36 wins and 20 pins back to the 152 pound class, while Bo Nelson, Kole Adams, Konur Pasko, Matt Spry, and Cody Paul join him in a good senior class. “Bo has prepared for this season as well as anyone in our part of the state,” said Lundquist.

Other strong returners include junior Reid Olson, who was a 2015-2016 State participant and led the team with 44 takedowns last winter. Adam Nyhus, Trystin Neitzel, Aaron Gunderson, Manny Torres, Jacob Simon, and Gabby Skidmore also have strong credentials to make this a deep Beavers line-up.

Skidmore placed in many woman’s Tournaments last summer including a Second Place finish at the “Conflict at Carver” in Iowa City.

“The incoming freshman class also produces good numbers and talent,” added Lundquist.

The Beavers are ranked 7th in the Division 3 pre-season poll, while last years Regional Champion, St. Croix Falls, is ranked 5th. They will be among the teams at the December 1 Duals in Elmer Beran Gymnasium, as will Boyceville and several other area powerhouses.

Barron, Ladysmith, and C/W seem to be the Beavers top competitors in the HON. It looks to be another exciting season of Cumberland wrestling.

Two Pups and a Teal Hunt

Hello friends,

Ever since I noticed the boat trailer damage for my War Eagle in early October I have been on a negative roll that is expensive and at times scary. I am well aware that this is just a period of time and am very excited to see it end.

Friday, October 27th
High 48, low 30

My daughter, Selina Walters is 16 and each fall on this particular week she does not have school on Thursday or Friday so we generally do some bow hunting and duck hunting. Most of our hunting takes place in The Meadow Valley Wildlife Area in northern Juneau County, which is the hardest place that I know of to hunt deer with a bow.

You are probably wondering why I would make such a statement and here is why. To our south, east and west is mixed farm and forestland and farmland is as easy as it gets to hunt deer. Five miles north of us you can bait deer and that makes the game much easier.

We hunt 200 square miles of forest and marsh, it is loaded with wolves, which have the deer very wise and generally they have no reason to walk left, right or forward.

Back to the hunt, this weekend is very cool for both of us; we push ourselves and generally have some pretty cool stories. Today, when I checked the trail cameras, there was not a picture and after the almost one mile walk I had yet to see a scrape when I arrived at my stand after making sure Selina was safe in hers.

The conditions were perfectly comfortable and neither Selina nor myself cared that we did not see a deer. While hunting I did get a text from my stepson, Travis Dushek, that he had just harvested a beautiful ten-point buck. Anyone that knows Travis is aware that he is addicted to hunting and fishing and always gets what he is after.

Saturday, October 28th
High 46, low 33

The last weekend of October is one of the biggest weekends in the United States for hunting and seasoned hunters can just feel it as they work the woods and waters.

Selina and I did not see a deer and that was a real bummer as our clock was ticking. Selina is with me seven out of 14 days and she has a full calendar in her life other than the outdoors.

On a positive note I received two very cool texts, one from my buddy Jeff Moll who lives up in Niagara and was hunting ducks with his golden retriever “Georgie.”

Jeff had harvested two Canada geese and a couple scaup. On an even brighter note, down in southern Louisiana my brother Tom was participating in a Youth Deer Hunt with his ten-year-old grandson Nathan Wooddruff.

This would be Nathan’s first deer hunt and he was with grandpa on a very go for it, use the boat and get way back their hunt. Nathan did not get a deer but he did harvest a beautiful wild boar.

Sunday, October 29th
High 39, low 24

It was windy and very cold today. Selina and I switched our attention to ducks and we knew there would be good shooting after a go for it one mile paddle by canoe to paradise. Unfortunately, five hundreds yards before I reached the landing for this afternoon hunt I got a flat tire.

This story gets worse; I had taken every tool out of my truck to change a tire and forgot to put them back.

Two good Samaritans tried helping but my spare would not lower. Another one of my stepsons, Joey Dushek, did Selina and I a big favor when he let us use his spare and helped change the tire.

Selina Walters and her pals, Fire and Ruby shortly before she got very wet.

After the canoe journey and I have to tell you, the wind and air temp was brutal. I had Selina get out of the canoe first. She did a face first digger in deep water and immediately told me she was ok.

I had bought three shotguns along because two of mine are junk. There were ducks everywhere and just like that it was a one-gun shoot because two of our three shotguns were junk (the worst purchase of my life).

One beautiful greenhead was harvested, Fire made an excellent blind retrieve and we had to quit early because my daughter was starting to freeze solid.

On the paddle back I got a text stating that my brother-in-law Dick Schuster had just harvested a beautiful 11-point buck.

Every dog has its day!

Barronett News
By Judy Pieper

This past Sunday at Barronett Lutheran Church Pastor Todd based his sermon on Veteran’s Day. He recounted a very moving history of his Uncle Gordy, who was stationed in Italy in 1944 during WWII. Gordy had finally talked to Pastor Todd about his experiences shortly before he passed away, the one and only time that he discussed the ordeal in detail. We all know that being on the ground during war is a horrible thing, but I don’t think that most of us can put a face to the suffering that soldiers go through, even after they return home and try to live a normal life. Pastor Todd was able to share with us some of the feelings Gordy had, one of them being survivor’s guilt. It was an extremely moving sermon, and we appreciate Pastor Todd’s sharing it with us.

We also had the dedication ceremony on Sunday for the statue of the risen Christ donated by Ron and Sue Helstern. It is such a beautiful statue, it was placed on the right hand side of the altar, and we can’t thank Ron and Sue enough for their donation.

Peg Thompson asked me to mention that the deadline for returning the coin-filled baby bottles, which are donated to the Pregnancy Help Center, will be on Sunday, November 26th. If you still have the baby bottles at home, please bring them in at that time.

Peg also sent a note saying that on October 29th, Barron County 4-H held their annual awards banquet. Zach Thompson, who belongs to the Barronett Dragons 4-H Club, received an award for his 4-H Record Book.

The hunter’s supper, hosted by Barronett Civic Club last Friday evening, was as once again, a huge success. I was visiting with Wrigley Marsh in Rice Lake and so I couldn’t attend, but Duane had a pretty great time there. He didn’t have to eat alone, he was in the company of two lovely ladies, Anita Lehmann and Deb Leonard. Hmmm-maybe I should have brought Wrigley over.

The Scandinavian Smorgasbord, hosted by Oak view Adult Family Home, has been a while ago, but because of (what I thought was) an early deadline last week, I couldn’t tell you about it until now. It was a huge success! We were so happy that so many people stopped by to eat, visit, and stop by the kitchen to say hello. Several Oak View employees, Lance Wisner, Hailey Johnson, Chris and Karen Borgen and one of their friends, McKenzie Johnson, Eddie Robarge and Jessi Stouffer helped with pouring coffee, cleaning tables, keeping the buffet dishes full and just generally doing everything that was asked of them. Kandice Thon did just about any job that we needed done, pouring coffee and milk, cleaning tables and setting new places. Anita Lehmann greeted guests as they came in. Pat Olson, Sue Meier and Lynn Thon were working in the kitchen. Duane was doing his usual job of convincing guests to try the fruit soup, which is a little difficult. Tammy Quinn, who did the radio advertising for us this year, donated a big plate of rosettes, and Pat Sweet donated a pan of delicious brownies. Cheryl Lehmann, who came for supper, stayed to help with clean-up. I, on the other hand, stood around and watched everyone else work. I hope I didn’t miss anyone. Everyone worked so well together and it was much easier this year than it has ever been. The Oak View employees who helped said that they were looking forward to doing it again next year. And, so am I.

We want to thank everyone who came to our smorgasbord. We received lots and lots of compliments on the food and decorations. Because of your generosity we were able to donate a little more than $1,000 to both the Cumberland School District Nutrition Over Weekend Program and the Shell Lake School District Care Package Program. (That’s what they call their backpack programs). We are so glad that so many children will benefit from the generosity of our guests.

Something new on our table this year, was a salad made of pickled herring, pickled beets and onions suggested by our friend, Rick. Sounds awful, doesn’t it? But people really liked it-we ran out. Next year I’ll make more.

Bill Gill invited Duane and me to the meatball dinner served at the Arland Lutheran Church last week. We enjoyed the meal and were able to visit with Pam White and her daughter, Lisa, and with Judy Keilholtz while we were there. After supper Bill took us on a tour of the area and showed us how much Twin Town Creamery has expanded. Amazing-I think it’s about ten times bigger now than the last time I saw it. It was a nice, relaxing way to spend the evening.

I think that’s about all I know from Barronett this week. Have a wonderful week, and I’ll see you next time.

Senior News
By Gloria Lindeman

Looks like winter is here to stay, so now is a good time to plan for indoor activities like card playing, Bingo, art class, crocheting, knitting, coffee drinking, Dining at 5, and guess what-all of these activities are at our local Senior Center. So come down and grab a calendar and newsletter to check the dates and times so you can join in.

I had a great time doing an on line auction for the first time last week. I ended up with lots of “stuff.” Ken Pendleton does a great job of running this. I got to see all the stuff to bid on, and it was excellently displayed and the pictures were good too, so you could see exactly what you were bidding on.

If you have a houseful of items you would like to get rid of give Ken a call and he will be glad to help you. His number is 715/671-3018. He likes to be busy and lets make him busier-that’s good for him.

It won’t be long and deer season will be here and you know the world stops when that is going on! Good luck to all the deer hunters-and be careful.

Thanksgiving is also getting here fast. I know this because all the Christmas decorations are getting put up. The seasons get rushed too close together. Hope all of you stop and think about all the things to be thankful for. I know I am blessed with a loving family and friends-these are the most important things in life. The years go by so fast and more and more it’s easier to sit back and appreciate the things happening each day that mean the most.

I’m reminding you again to put the Christmas party on December 7th at noon on your calendar. Hope all of you can attend.

Have a good week and stay warm.

Susan Jungerberg

Susan Jungerberg, 68, of Cumberland, died at Cumberland Care and Rehab Center on November 9, 2017. Susan was born June 16, 1949, in Watertown, Minnesota, to George and Joyce Yager. While at Gustavus she met Bruce Jungerberg and they were married August 7, 1971. Susan obtained her Master's degree in school counseling from the University of Wisconsin-Stout in 1975; that was followed by an internship in the Bloomer School District where she was a counselor and freshmen girls basketball coach with a 9-1 win-loss record.

Later Susan worked as a counselor for the Stevens College University Without Walls program, personnel associate at the University of Missouri Medical Center, Social Services Director at Indianhead Hospital in Shell Lake and counselor for Lutheran Social Services. Susan was named an Outstanding Young Woman by the Island City Young Women in 1985. For many years Sue served on the Cumberland Library Board. While there she co-founded and developed the Prairie Project, a service learning experience for students. She serviced as President of the Clear Lake teachers union for several years.

Susan was an avid reader and enjoyed spending time at Peter and Annie's with her friend, Evelyn, as well as traveling with Bruce across the United States and Europe. Sue enjoyed spending time with her family.

Susan was active at Augustana Lutheran Church where she was involved in many activities including being Vice President of the Church Council, coordinator of Vacation Bible School, adult leader for the youth group, a member of the Call Committee, teaching assistant for the confirmation class, personnel committee member, and funeral luncheon coordinator. "A Tale of Two Kingdoms"

By: Pastor Preston Paul

St. Matthew Lutheran Church, Almena

The Christian Church deals with sin differently than the Government. It's the way God instituted them. It is the responsibility of Government to establish laws with consequences. The Government is to provide society without rampant crime and constant fear of harm from evil. The smallest of "governments" is the home where father and mother keep order through rules and thoughtful consequences. Governing in society and home requires great wisdom, time and energy.

The Christian Church, which God established to do the work of the Kingdom of Heaven, pours out the mercy and love of Jesus upon repentant sinners. The Christian Church is the place of the forgiveness of sins. The Christian mother and father, having established rules and consequences, also forgive and love their children in Jesus. A parent forgiving sins doesn't mean they remove consequences.

Christians who are of the Kingdom of Heaven confess that they "believe in the forgiveness of sins." Believing that God forgives sins by the death of Jesus means that we also believe that sin is real and horrifically evil in God's sight. The forgiveness of sins is not a free pass to live and do as you please against God's good law. There is right and wrong. Jesus' death of the cross didn't buy "cheap" but real forgiveness of real sin that leads to everlasting life with Jesus in His kingdom.

The Bible teaches that we are to honor those who serve in worldly Governments, and pray that they will do their duty according to God's will. The Bible also teaches that God established in this world, His Church that does His work of the Kingdom of Heaven. In His Church, He provides pastors (shepherds) who are to serve, preach and teach only according to His command and word. The church teaches what God says is right and wrong so that those who hear see their sin clearly and turn from it. God's forgiveness is poured out upon repentant sinners. Jesus died and rose that your sins may be forgiven and remembered no more. Indeed, there is great joy in the Kingdom of Heaven when one sinner repents and lives in the joy of forgiveness and life in Jesus.

Born in Boston, Massachusetts on September 18, 1924 he was the son of Dorice Thauvette and step son of Rene’ Thauvette.

Eldon grew up mostly in Hyannis (Cape Cod), Massachusetts and Cedarville (Plymouth), Massachusetts and lived a good part of his adult life in Hyannis. He moved to Wisconsin over 30 years ago and loved the people and the area.

In 1935 when he was almost 12 he and his grandfather watched the opening of the new Sagamore Bridge at the Cape Cod Canal. It was an exciting day!

Eldon signed up for the Navy two weeks after Pearl Harbor in December 1941 at the age of 17. His mother had to give her permission because he was under age. He received his diploma from Barnstable High School in Hyannis in 1942 even though he was still in the Navy.

He was stationed in Guantanamo Bay, Cuba and Maine for a while during the war and was honorably discharged in 1945.

He and his wife, the late Sally Dean Logan, lived for a short time in Maine and Boston and later returned to Hyannis to raise their children.

Eldon graduated from Cape Cod Secretarial School and also radio school in Boston. Years later he attended Cape Cod Community College. He was a smart man and always did well in school.

He worked for his in-laws (Dean’s record, tv, and radio store on Main St. in Hyannis) for twenty years installing and building tv antennas, arranging window displays, etc. He and his father-in-law were at the Hyannis Armory on election night for John F. Kennedy setting up speakers for the crowd. As a child he also was a golf caddy a few times for Joseph P. Kennedy, Sr. and later in life he installed antennas for the Kennedys at the Kennedy compound in Hyannisport.

When Cape Cod Cablevision started up on the Cape they contacted Eldon after hearing of his experience and his knowledge of all the underground cables. They hired him and he became vice president and general manager. A few times he had to climb a very tall tower (sometimes in the dark) to try and figure out what was causing a problem with the cable reception. Dick Leghorn, president and owner, was very good to him and he enjoyed working for the company.

He was also on the Hyannis Fire Department as a firefighter and member of the rescue squad for about twenty years. He retired as a lieutenant. He loved that job and enjoyed all the guys at the fire station. He had fun with them and also liked spending time at their camp in New Hampshire.

After his Cablevision career he worked for his friend doing poleline construction. He was still good at climbing poles.

While living in Wisconsin he worked on a couple farms and enjoyed the work very much even when some cattle got loose and he had to chase them to round them up!

He told his family that the most rewarding job was with a program in Wisconsin called Daybreak. It is a respite adult daycare program in Barron County for people with Alzheimer’s disease, confusion, and memory loss. He worked there as an employee for quite a few years and later as a volunteer. He loved his co-workers. It was a great bunch of very caring people and he made many friends there.

He was a past commander of the Barnstable American Legion, Post 206 on Cape Cod. He’s was also a member of the American Legion, Anderson-Thomson, Post 98 in Cumberland. He always looked great in his uniform and he marched in a number of parades on the Cape.

Eldon delivered Meals-on-Wheels for Barron County and liked visiting with clients. It was a very satisfying job for him and it really made his day when he saw them smile.

He was a friend of Bill W. for over 30 years and met many wonderful people through the organization both in Massachusetts and Wisconsin.

He loved learning, reading, history, certain tv shows, the New Yorker magazine cartoons and articles, all kinds of music, crossword puzzles, documentaries, helping people, animals, kids, horseback riding and scuba diving, being with friends and family, and he enjoyed many other things like the time he drove Joel Grey’s (“Cabaret”) equipment from the Cape Cod Melody Tent in Hyannis to his next gig in the Catskills in New York state.

He also played the banjo in his younger years and was good at it. He loved his ham radio and until recently kept a log of all the cities and countries he connected with. He also had a map on the wall in his home and would mark each and every place that came through on his radio. And he still knew Morse Code from his time in the Navy.

He will be greatly missed by his family and friends.

He leaves a brother, Andre’ Thauvette, of Murphy, North Carolina and five children: Sandra Medeiros (Jack) of Massachusetts, Susan (Steve) Meador of Virginia, Deborah Logan (Ron) of Washington state, Jane Logan of Massachusetts, and son, James.

He leaves four grandchildren whom he was very proud of: Joan, Susan, Dana, and Dustin all of Massachusetts. He also had nine wonderful great grandchildren.

The family would like to thank everyone at the hospital, Cumberland Healthcare, who took such great care of our father. We appreciate all you did for Eldon. A huge thank you to the nurses, nurses aides, physical and occupational therapists, and Dr. Barbara Ankarlo. You were all so good to him. Also, thank you to Dr. Lingen who helped him in the emergency room.

The family would also like to thank everyone at Cumberland Care and Rehab for helping our dad feel welcomed and cared for in his new home last June. You all went above and beyond to accommodate him. We so appreciate everything you did for him. He really enjoyed all of you and living at your facility. He told us he had everything he needed right there!

There will be a graveside service at the Massachusetts National Cemetery in Bourne, Massachusetts (Cape Cod) in the spring of 2018. The date will be announced.

Memorial donations in Eldon’s memory may be made to the Barron County Office on Aging, Daybreak Program, 335 E. Monroe Ave., Room 112, Barron, Wisconsin 54812 or to an animal shelter or a charity of one’s choice.

*We thought of you with love today,
But that is nothing new.
We thought about you yesterday,
And days before that too.
We think of you in silence.
We often speak your name.
Now we have great memories.
Your memory is our keepsake, with which we will never part.
God has you in His keeping,
We have you in our heart.*

Amery Hospital & Clinic recognized for Environmental Excellence

Amery Hospital & Clinic has achieved designation as a “Certified Audubon Cooperative Sanctuary” through the Audubon Cooperative Sanctuary Program (ACSP), an Audubon International program. Luke Wittkop, Groundskeeper, has led the effort to obtain sanctuary designation on the property and is being recognized for Environmental Stewardship by Audubon International. Amery Hospital & Clinic is the first property in Wisconsin and the 34th property in the world to be certified in the Audubon Cooperative Sanctuary Program.

The final step for certification requires a visit by a local community representative. Tim Ritten, the Director of the Polk County Land & Water Resources Department, was given a tour of the property and sent his observations to Audubon International. “I found the hospital to be a strong leader in water and energy conservation, recycling, and runoff control, while also promoting birds, pollinators, educational and community involvement activities,” reported Ritten.

“Amery Hospital & Clinic has shown a strong commitment to its environmental program. They are to be commended for their efforts to provide a sanctuary for wildlife on their property,” said Jessica Latus, Director of Sustainable Community Programs. “By taking action to implement indoor and outdoor conservation projects, the management and staff at Amery Hospital & Clinic have demonstrated their commitment to the sustainable management of their natural resources.”

“We want to be a resource for the community, for exceptional health care and for general well-being,” said Luke Wittkop, Lead Groundskeeper and Maintenance Technician at Amery Hospital & Clinic. “This certification reflects our commitment
