Cumberland loses a leader

The Cumberland community was saddened to hear of the passing of a true Cumberland icon, Charles “Chuck” Christensen who passed away on May 15, 2018.

Charles “Chuck” Christensen

Chuck was involved in so many things it is almost hard to believe in this day and age.

He was a leader in both Cumberland, a community he truly loved, and Barron County. From a Cumberland Police Officer to the first Criminal Investigator for Barron County, to being president of the Municipal Electric Utilities of Wisconsin. He was president of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club and Director of Cumberland Federal Bank.

Much of his time was spent as General Manager of Cumberland Municipal Utilities, working to improve and expand the city’s power and water service, which helped to create one of the finest Municipal power plants in Northwestern Wisconsin.

The list of his accomplishments goes on and on. He was the Cumberland Citizen of the Year in 2010 and a Cumberland High School Graduate of Achievement in 2016, just to name a few.

In his spare time ‘cruising’ Beaver Dam Lake on his pontoon with family and friends was a must. He loved to tell stories and was a very generous man. He will truly be missed.

A complete obituary can be found on page 9.

A long procession

Flags flew on “Main Street” in Cumberland on Monday afternoon during the funeral procession honoring the life and service of Charles Christensen. Chuck was a respected and well loved member of this community. He will be remembered for his years of service not only to Cumberland but Barron County, as well. Well loved for his sense of humor and smile, he will be missed.

Governor appoints Barron County District Attorney

Governor Scott Walker has appointed Brian Wright to the position of Barron County District Attorney. Wright will fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Barron County District Attorney Angela Beranek.

“I am pleased to appoint Brian Wright to be the next District Attorney in Barron County,” said Governor Walker. “Wright’s legal experience, professionalism, and commitment to justice give me great confidence that he will serve the citizens of Barron County well.”

Wright brings over 24 years of legal experience in civil, criminal, and administrative law to the position. Currently a solo practitioner in Eau Claire, Wright also serves as the municipal attorney for ordinance and traffic violation prosecution for the villages of Lake Hallie and Cadott. Previously, Wright served as a judge on the Eau Claire County Circuit Court, a civil litigator for Herrick & Hart, S.C., and as Eau Claire County District Attorney.

Wright volunteers with the Wisconsin High School Mock Trial Tournament, the National College Mock Trial Tournament, and the Eau Claire County Veterans Tribute Foundation, Inc. He also volunteers his legal services in assisting Eau Claire’s veteran organizations.

“I have found [Mr. Wright] very approachable and noticed he worked very hard for the appropriate resolution of cases with fairness to both his clients and to law enforcement,” Barron County Sheriff’s Office Detective Jeffrey Nelson said, who has worked with Wright on cases in Barron County. “Brian is the most qualified candidate for this position.”

Wright earned his Juris Doctor degree from Marquette University Law School, his Master of Business Administration from the University of Denver, and his undergraduate degree from LaGrange College. He resides in Eau Claire County with his wife, Haley, and their daughter.

New officers and staffing changes on agenda at May School Board Meeting

The school board met on Monday, May 21 for their annual re-organization meeting and election of officers. Superintendent Barry Rose started the meeting by once again congratulating the senior class on the great prank they pulled. They have received well over 1 million views and have eclipsed the “Snow Day” video, which only garnered 771,000 views.

Getting down to business, the board welcomed new member, Police Chief Rick Rieper, and voted on the new officers for the next year. Those officers will be President Eric Stone, Vice President Jennifer Hyatt, Clerk Adam Skinner, and Treasure Jonelle Gideo.

In addition, Adam Skinner will act as the delegate to the WI Assoc. of School Boards, and Jennifer Hyatt will act as alternate. Jennifer Hyatt also agreed to be the CESA 11 delegate for this year, and Eric Stone will continue as the Indian Education Committee representative.

The Cumberland Advocate was named as the official newspaper of the district and the board decided that for this year their regular board meetings will be held, schedules permitting, on the third Monday of each month at 6 pm. This is a new day and time for the board meetings.

Having completed the re-organization agenda the school board heard a report from students in the Island City Academy. They gave a report on the activities that the ICA has been doing, and told about the vertical hydroponic farm that one of the ICA students, Dwight Griffith, has built as part of his independent projects for the year. The ICA will be holding an open house on Thursday, May 24 from 4 to 6 pm in the AG classroom in the high school to offer anyone the chance to view Dwight's project.

Moving onto action items, the school board approved the Open Enrollment applications for the 2018-19 school year. Only two applications had to be denied. These were made because the classes that they wish to transfer into were their maximum enrollment with students already in the district.

The School Board also approved the new five-year contract with the Island City Academy Charter School, and the annual resolution for short term borrowing to cover expenses over the summer months, if needed.

The board next moved on to the shell game of shifting staff positions and employment changes. Here is a run down of the changes approved at this meeting. Cassandra Flottum will be moving from first grade to second grade; Corey Berghammer will move from third grade to second grade; Jean Taylor will move from

by Larry Werner

In the winter of 2016, ETC received a grant from the 3M Co. to produce a children’s play. We did “Alice in Wonderland” with a cast of kids and, last spring, did “Charlotte’s Web.” As Mike Clay, the longtime theater chair of the arts council, was planning 2018, he announced that this year our spring play will be “The Wizard of Oz.”

The other day, I was meeting with Lori Bock, president of ETC, and board member Dave Evenson, and I asked them if we have, in effect, created a children’s theater at the Cumberland Fine Arts Center.

I guess we have, they said,

Pete Martin, the community education director in Lakeville, Minn., who directed plays with large casts of young folks.

In Cumberland, retired teachers Mike and Paula Clay have partnered with Phil Warner, the elementary music teacher, to put on our annual children’s production. I sat in on a rehearsal recently and was in awe of Phil, the play’s director, as he shouted encouragement and directions to the young people on the stage.

The expression “herding cats” came to mind.

A few years back, I mentioned at a board meeting that

Hydroponic Vertical Farm being unveiled at the Island City Academy

Dwight Griffith, a junior in the Island City Academy, has created, as an independent student project, has researched, designed, and built a Hydroponic Vertical Farm.

Like the name implies, this system of growing uses water instead of soil, and grows plants stacked on top of each-other. Dwight is very excited to share his Vertical Farm with the community. To that end, the Island City Academy Charter School, located in the Middle School building, hosting an open house for the community to come and experience this innovation in hydroponics. The event takes place on Thursday, May 24th from 5-5:00 p.m. in the High School Ag Classroom. Refreshments will be served.

Dwight would like to personally invite you and your families to come to the open house. If you are an educator and are interested in scheduling a classroom visit, they would be more than happy to schedule a time for your visit. For more information about the project, please visit icacademy.wixsite.com/icagarden.

The ICA thanks you for your continued support and hopes to see you there.

Phil Warner

and I think it’s one of the best things our little non-profit has done.

ETC, as you probably know, stands for Enrichment Through Culture, and we’re now enriching the lives of our young people with an opportunity to participate in live theater. My youngest child, now 26, was given the opportunity to participate in a children’s theater production when he was going through a very difficult time as a fourth-grader with an emotional disorder.

Our hero was a guy named we should do a children’s play or maybe a drama camp for kids, mentioning my son’s experience with Giant Step Theater in Lakeville. A former board member, who is one of our finest adult actors, said she does not have the patience to work with kids.

Phil does.

He’s a special person who not only teaches kids but is a great actor and singer. His rendition of “Oh, What a Beautiful Morning” in our “Lifesong” musical revue last January is etched in my memory, and his portrayal of Staghart of the Golden Horns in “Guys & Does” last fall, had me in tears.

Phil is one of those talented artists who make Cumberland a wonderful community for the arts. Phil is not only directing this play but also built the set.

“The Wizard of Oz” opens at 7 p.m. June 8 at the old church on main street. It will

By Craig Bucher

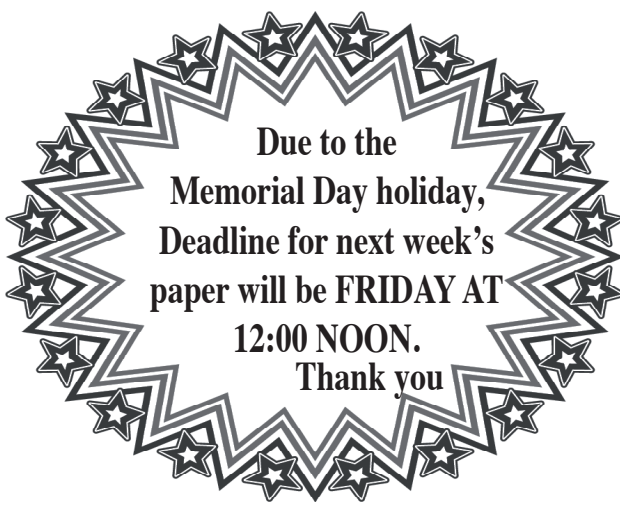

It seems as though, every other day, there is news about another human tragedy that consumes the news just until another tragedy takes its place. This week it is the Texas school shooting. Along with all this tragedy there occasionally comes along an event that restores our faith in human-kind. A couple of weeks ago, the French buried a hero police officer. The officer, Lt. Col. Arnaud Beltrame was shot and killed by an Islamic terrorist. The terrorist, identified as Radouane Lakdim hijacked a car, where he killed the passenger. He then drove to a supermarket where he killed two more people and took hostages. Lt. Col. Beltrame traded places with a female employee who was being held hostage. The terrorist shot and killed Beltrame before the police stormed and killed the Moroccan-born French national. The bishop, who officiated at the officer’s funeral called Beltrame’s actions one of “extraordinary devotion.” What a “profile in courage.” I don’t know about you, but this kind of act restores my faith. There are truly some extraordinary people out there.

I spent some of my television time, this past week, watching the college women’s fast pitch regional tournament. The Big 10 was well represented with teams from Ohio State, Wisconsin, Michigan, Northwestern and Minnesota in the mix. None of the Big 10 teams won their regional but every team won at least one game. Minnesota got to the regional final where they lost to Washington. College women’s softball is a great game. If you haven’t watched it, the Super Regionals are this weekend..

SEE YOU NEXT WEEK!

P.S. Congratulations to all the graduates.

Inside Wisconsin

Even in prosperous times, rural Wisconsin economy faces an uphill climb

MADISON, Wis. – By many standards, Wisconsin’s overall economic condition has never been better. Its core unemployment rate in the nation’s eighth lowest; it ranks fifth among the states in the percentage of adults who are part of the labor force; it ranks 11th in the per capita growth of its gross domestic product since 2010; and it ranks 19th among the states in the percentage growth of total business establishments in this decade.

Those are statewide snapshots from a mix of sources, but there is really no such thing as a “statewide” economy. Depending on where you stand in Wisconsin, you might see a thriving tech-based economy in Madison, manufacturing vibrancy in the Fox Valley or a struggling small-town economy in hundreds of villages and cities.

The survival challenge for rural Wisconsin, which includes many municipalities of 5,000 or fewer people, is one of the state’s most vexing issues.

Unless current trends reverse, rural Wisconsin will be much older in 2025 than it is today or that it was 10 years ago. In northern Wisconsin, it is projected that people 60 and older will make up at least 30 percent of about two-dozen counties. In some counties, the 60-and-over share could be as much as 50 percent.

That demographic trend may be impossible to reverse unless lots of people move to rural Wisconsin from elsewhere, including other states and countries, or the “baby bust” that includes most of the western world turns into a mini-boom. You can’t force people to live in rural settings if they don’t want to do so, you can’t stop them from getting older and you certainly can’t force them to have more children.

So, what are some courses of action in places around Wisconsin that have yet to fully share in the overall economic resurgence of the state? Here are a few examples from recent conversations involving researchers, agriculture experts and economic development professionals.

- Accelerate rural Wisconsin’s connection to the digital economy. About 99 percent of the population in state urban cities have access to broadband at 25-megabit speed levels. In rural Wisconsin, it’s 57 percent of the people. National surveys indicate about 75 percent of city-dwellers use at least one social-media platform; it’s 59 percent in rural America. The right connections can turn a solid Main Street business into a growing digital business.

- Increase access to capital. For most people in rural Wisconsin, that doesn’t mean angel and venture capital but smaller grants, loans and other private investments. The federal Dodd-Frank law that was intended to rein in larger banks has instead hurt small community banks and lending institutions, to the point the Federal Reserve Bank of Minneapolis predicted there will be no banks in Wisconsin with less than $50 million in assets by 2025. From 1985 to 2016, the number of banks and thrifts chartered in Wisconsin declined from 575 to 227. Rural businesses and entrepreneurs will need to shop harder for money.
- Enhance traditional businesses while diversifying. Food, paper, timber and other natural resources are staples for rural Wisconsin and will continue to be so. Existing businesses will need to embrace innovation in those sectors through organizations such as FaB

Wisconsin, the statewide food and beverage cluster, and the Food Finance Institute of the University of Wisconsin Extension. Attracting new companies may well depend of ensuring rural communities have modern housing stock and more things for workforce-aged people to do. Otherwise, no one should be surprised when young workers move away in search of jobs.

Most people live in rural Wisconsin for a reason – they like it. They have traded the hassles and benefits of living in bigger cities for a different lifestyle, and usually understand that means a lot of conveniences and public resources cannot be delivered straight to their doors.

Within that reality, however, there are ways to strengthen a part of the state that remains home to many people. Wisconsin’s overall economy looks strong. The question is whether much larger trends will make it difficult to stop the hollowing out of its rural communities.

About 35 persons, most of them Second Avenue business owners and store representatives, attended a May 17th meeting organized to address concerns over the 1989 street reconstruction. DOT officials were on hand to answer questions and offer suggestions. Total reconstruction of 6-8 weeks duration, is planned on Second Avenue, extending from the intersection of Elm (48) and Second Avenue, to an area near Island City Express. Approximately 3,000 feet of curb gutter and sidewalk in various areas will be removed and replaced. Resurfacing only, of Highway 63, would take place from an area near Cifaldi Motors to the intersection of Elm and Second Avenue and also from I. C. Express on up Highway 63 to Shell Lake.

Julie A. Bronstad, 59, of Cumberland, has been charged with possession of methamphetamine, and operating a motor vehicle after revocation of her driver's license.

The criminal complaint states that on Wednesday, May 16, 2018, Rice Lake Police Officer Olson received an anonymous tip that individuals named Julie and Clara Bronstad would be driving on Orchard Beach Lane at about 6:30 p.m. The tip indicated they would be in a gold Ford Taurus and gave him the Wisconsin license plate number. Julie Bronstad was reported to be the driver and did not have a valid license. The tip further stated that there could be narcotics in the vehicle.

Officer Olson was familiar with both of these individuals from previous law enforcement contacts.

At 6:20 p.m. Officer Olson parked his patrol car on the side of Orchard Beach Lane. At approximately 6:35 p.m. he observed a gold Ford Taurus with the same license plate drive by him heading westbound toward the City of Rice Lake. He recognized the driver of the vehicle as Julie Bronstad.

Officer Olson conducted a traffic stop of the vehicle and made contact with the driver. She advised that she knew she did not have a valid license and knew it was revoked due to an OWI related offense. Prior to the contact Officer Olson had spoken with Barron County Sgt. Ryan Hulback about the initial tip that he received and requested Sgt. Hulback be in the area with his K-9. During the course of the stop, Sgt. Hulback had arrived to assist.

Sgt. Hulback deployed his K-9 to complete a sniff search on the exterior of the vehicle and Officer Olson was advised that the K-9 had alerted to the presence of possible narcotics in the vehicle. This all occurred before Officer Olson completed the citation he was going to issue to Ms. Bronstad.

A search was conducted of the vehicle. In the glove box of the vehicle a wallet was located with Julie Bronstad's Wisconsin ID card in it. Officer Olson also located a small clear, gem bag that contained a clear white crystalline substance inside the wallet. A field test was conducted and it tested positive for the presence of methamphetamine.

Officer Olson explained to Bronstad what he found in the wallet and she stated it belonged to her.

If convicted Julie Bronstad may be fined not more than $12,500 or imprisoned for not more than four years and six months, or both. Her driver's license may also be suspended for not less than one year or more than five years. Her preliminary hearing was held May 22, 2018.

Rosemarie F. Hart, 33, of Cumberland, has been charged with delivering counterfeit methamphetamine.

According to the criminal complaint on March 15, 2018, Detective Carroll of the Barron County Sheriff's Department utilized a confidential Informant (CI) for the purpose of a controlled buy of a "ball" 3.5 grams of methamphetamine from Rosemarie Hart. The price of the drug was to be $240.

At 2:30 p.m. on March 15th, Detective Carroll met with the CI to prepare the CI for the controlled buy. Also involved was Detective Hagen from the Sheriff's Department. After preparing the CI with a covert audio/GPS transmitter and $240 of pre-recorded buy money, CI then used an undercover vehicle to travel to the target residence.

Upon arrival at the target area the CI met up with another vehicle, a silver colored Pontiac Grand Prix. After a brief period of time the CI contacted the Detective to inform him the transaction was completed. The CI confirmed that the person involved in the transaction was Rosemarie Hart.

Upon contact, the Detective was given a Newport cigarette box which contained the purported methamphetamine. Upon looking inside, a substance was found in small clear gem bags; the Detective indicated that immediately upon seeing the substance it was apparent that it was not methamphetamine. While inspecting the package the CI received a message from Hart via Facebook Messenger, wherein she stated "U jacked my mom, so I jacked u, you still owe my mom too." It is apparent from the comment that Hart's intent was to sell the CI fake methamphetamine. A test of the suspected methamphetamine was negative.

If convicted Hart may be fined not more than $50,000 or imprisoned for not more than 15 years, or both. Her preliminary hearing will be held May 23, 2018.

Oliver C. Chartraw, 34, of Barronett, has been charged with resisting an officer causing a soft tissue injury to officer, attempt resisting an officer causing a soft tissue injury to officer, criminal damage to property, and felony bail jumping. (Failure to comply with the terms of his bond by committing a new crime).

The criminal complaint states that on February 4, 2018 at 5:25 a.m. Officer Dexter of the Barron Police Department was dispatched to Washington Street in Almena. Upon arrival Officer Dexter heard glass breaking down the street. He responded to the location of the broken glass and arrived at 200 Soo Avenue.

Upon his arrival he heard a subject yelling. Officer Dexter observed a large window broken out of the upstairs apartment. Additionally he observed the subject throwing what appeared to be toys and other miscellaneous objects onto the street. Officer Dexter and Officer Frey of the Cumberland Police Department, attempted to respond to the subject's apartment inside the building, but were unable to gain access.

Turtle Lake Police Chief Gabe, and Deputy Weise with the Barron County Sheriff's Department arrived on scene. Both Chief Gabe and Deputy Weise were familiar with the subject and identified him as Oliver Z. Chartraw.

Chief Gabe, along with the three other officers on scene, went up to Chartraw's apartment and knocked on the door. However he refused to answer the door. After approximately 15 minutes of waiting outside the door, officers breached the door to the apartment.

Upon entry Officer Dexter observed a large laceration on Chartraw's right hand. And observed him dripping blood all over himself and the apartment. He further observed that the burners on the stove were turned on, and observed two couches covering the windows.

Chartraw yelled that all the officers were going to die and began to act aggressively. Chartraw, an approximately 500 pound man, began charging Deputy Weiss and Office Dexter. He continued to walk toward the officers and verbally threaten them, despite Deputy Weise's warning for him to stop or he would be tased.

Chartraw continued walking toward the officers and threatening them. At this point Deputy Weise deployed his taser, which was ineffective as he continued to come at the officers. Officer Dexter deployed his taser, striking him in the lower chest, but that was ineffective as well. Chartraw continued to move toward the officers. Officer Dexter applied physical force to Chartraw's shoulder in an effort to stop him from advancing toward the officers. Chartraw then walked backwards to a chair and sat down.

An ambulance was called to the scene to treat the laceration on Chartraw's right hand. After allowing the paramedics to wrap his hand, Chartraw again became aggressive toward the officers. Chartraw stood up and tried pushing past Chief Gabe. Officer Dexter, along with the other officers, tried to restrain him, but he then began fighting with the officers.

Chief Gabe put his arm up to stop Chartraw when he refused to walk down to the ambulance and attempted to get past Chief Gabe. When Chief Gabe put his arm out to stop Chartraw, Chartraw swung his left arm and hit Chief Gabe in the left side of the head. Chief Gabe continued to struggle with Chartraw until the other officers were able to subdue him.

Deputy Weise again deployed his taser on Chartraw with little to no effect as officers were trying to subdue him. It took all five officers to wrestle Chartraw down on the chair and hold him down. Chartraw was told he was under arrest and again to stop resisting. As the officers were holding Chartraw down, he attempted to bite Officer Bates. The officers were able to restrain Chartraw using leg shackles. He was subsequently escorted to the ambulance by officers.

Chief Gabe sustained an injury to his right shoulder during the struggle with Chartraw. Chief Gabe was unable to lift his right arm out from his side after the incident. Chief Gabe was examined by doctors for a full tear in his right rotator cuff for which he is continuing to receive medical treatment.

If convicted Chartraw may be fined not more than $35,000 or imprisoned for not more than 17 years and nine months, or both. His initial appearance will be held June 6, 2018.

An Outdoorsman's Journal

by Mark Walters

Two Lucky Dogs

Hello friends,
Fire and Ruby are my sixth and seventh golden retrievers over a period of 36-years in which I have always had a golden retriever. Back in March I wrote about a serious problem that I have where if both of them are loose together they vanish like snow in July and may be as much as five miles away in no time at all.
I had a lot of feedback to that column and to really understand my situation there are two key components. My dogs travel with me a lot with my job, and really add to the quality of my outdoor adventures.
In our home life I frequently have them loose in the yard with or without me as I live a work oriented, hobby farming way of independent living.
When the dogs took off in heavily wolf oriented country back in early March I made a point of keeping Ruby on the chain at all times if Fire was loose, or keep Fire in the house if I let Ruby off the chain.
As deceptive as this may sound, Ruby loves the forested area where her chain and dog house is and about a third of the time hangs out in that area even when she is loose. What Ruby does when she is on the chain is watch the world as she is incredibly observant.
So here is the gist of this weeks column. I am on a remote turkey hunt and camping trip near Mather, WI in an area that is well over 200-square miles of marsh, forest and wolf country.
On day one I pounded a stake into the ground, put Ruby on a chain, left Fire loose and drove my truck a couple of miles to where I was going to hunt.
Now before you think I am really foolish you have realize that I have never had dogs that run and Ruby does not fight a chain and until recently, I could leave my dogs free, leave camp and they would always be there when I returned.
So here is where things get really ugly. I come back to camp, the stake is knocked over and Ruby and Fire are gone. After two hours I knew I had a problem. At 2:09 a.m. I was woken up by a wolf howling very close to camp. I did what I could do by calling for the dogs.
So here is the reality, Fire is getting older and Ruby is dragging a 15-foot chain. Wolves, or getting snagged up on a tree or brush and perishing from dehydration in country where the sand/gravel roads have miles of forest and swamp between them is what I was looking at.

The following day I did section sweeps both calling and looking for what might be a live, snagged up dog or the head of a dog on chain and the rest of her body consumed by wolves.
My daughter Selina is in Atlanta, it is prom week and when she arrived home I picked her up two days later and thankfully she was staying at her ma's that night. Selina is very close with Fire and losing her was not an option, especially on prom week.
That night I went back to the woods and slept on the forest floor where the pups had last been seen. Altogether they had been missing three nights and for the most part everyone that was familiar with this story assumed they were in heaven. The chain was the key element in the reality of this bad situation.
I called and hollered and howled until I had to sleep at 2:30 a.m. My turkey season had been over for two days so I was simply there to at least have closure, and it was really looking like that would not happen.
At 5:12 a.m. I was woken by something approaching camp at a fast pace. It was now the start of day four of this really bad story.
Just like that I had two golden retrievers rolling, hugging and loving life as they had made it back to camp. There was no sign of Ruby's chain and I had to be really careful as she had what would turn out to be 40 porcupine quills inside of her mouth and 35 on the outside, Fire did not have a one.
Later in the morning I used a pliers and removed every one and Ruby took it like the incredibly tough dog that she is.
I am in a first class conundrum. I do not want to get rid of these dogs. Ruby is probably the smartest, prettiest, toughest and most observant golden retriever that I have ever had.
Fire is the Queen of our neighborhood! Everyone loves Fire, she is kind, tough and loves life.
The simple fact is that these dogs are pure, hunting stock, golden retrievers and like their master, outdoor adventures are a part of their lives.

Removing 75 porcupine quills from Ruby was a chore!

I am learning to only one loose at a time rule and with this crazy story you just read I have made the decision that I am going to have pups with Ruby this fall, her bloodline is healthy, tough as nails and full of love.
If you want a pup get a hold of me!

Baseball Team Has 4-2 Week; Finish Tied for Second in HON

The Cumberland Baseball Team played six games in four days last week, coming away with a 4 and 2 record. The victories move the Beavers towards the end of the regular season with an overall record of 12 and 3, tying Northwestern for second place in the HON behind the Hayward Hurricanes. The team opens WIAA Regional play this Thursday with a home game against Clayton. Game time is 5:00 pm.
The Beavers split double-headers with Hayward and Northwestern last Tuesday and Thursday, before taking two from Barron last Friday night.
Tuesday in Hayward, the Beavers dropped the opener 12-2, but came back to take the nightcap by a 9-4 score.

In the opener, Brady Christenson was too much for the Beavers as the right-hander pitched a complete game, striking out 11 Cumberland hitters. Reid Olson took the pitching loss for the Beavers. Cumberland only managed three hits in the contest, one a double by Riley Bodsberg.
Cumberland rebounded in game two behind Jerrad Lindfors six inning effort on the mound. Kobe Berghammer and Bodsberg each had three hits for Cumberland, with Berghammer driving in three runs in the game.
Thursdays double dip in Northwestern was very similar, with Cumberland dropping the opener 10-1, but rebounding for a 15-5 victory in the second contest. Eric Sedin went the distance on the mound for the Tigers in game one, allowing only one unearned run. Riley Bodsberg took the pitching loss, while Jack Martens led the Beavers offense with a pair of hits.

In game two, winning pitcher Wyatt Tift received support in the form of a 19-hit Cumberland attack. Bodsberg had four hits for Coach John Peterson, while Kobe Berghammer added three safeties.
The week concluded in Barron, where the Beavers won twice, 10-4 and 4-2.
Reid Olson took the mound win in the opener, with relief from Trystin-Neitzel, who got the three inning save. Kobe Berghammer continued his hot hitting with four more hits, while Olson and Jack Martens had three hits each. Max Narges and Neitzel added two hits a piece, in another offensive explosion, featuring 18 Cumberland safeties.

The nightcap was a tougher victory, with Berghammer going the final inning and two-thirds to take the important save. Adam Nyhus had two hits and three runs-batted-in to pace the Beavers offense.
Cumberland now takes their second seed into the WIAA Tournament opener on Thursday night, where a victory brings them back to the field next Tuesday, May 29 for a second round Tournament home game. The Regional Championship will be next Wednesday, likely at either Webster or Cumberland.

Barronett News
By Judy Pieper

The first thing I must do this week is apologize to Reta Moe for spelling her name wrong a couple weeks ago. We had a call from Mary Kay Hefty, who lives in Anchorage, to let me know that “Rita” is not right. Mary Kay said that she has taken over Curt’s job as Alaskan proof-reader, so will try to keep me on the straight and narrow from now on. Nice to know that someone is looking after me up there. I didn’t get a chance to talk to Mary Kay, Duane took the message, but I will be calling her to thank her today.

Here’s one of the news items that I couldn’t get from my stupid broken computer last week. Donna Ness attended a mother/daughter tea at Park View Church in Turtle Lake the last Sunday in April. Then, on May 6th, she and eleven other members of Park View worked at the Kenny Chesney concert at U S Bank Stadium. They use the money they earn to travel to Texas, where they buy building supplies and help build and repair homes. Donna is one BUSY woman. I haven’t seen many people bustle around like she does.

And, we also had our first report of a bear sighting. Jenö Herman spotted a bear with two cubs right by their home in the Timberland area the first part of May. Jenö, Chrissy and Lily were at our house one evening to play a few games of cribbage, so naturally, I had to give them a tour of the tree house too. Lily really enjoyed herself up there, and she promised to come by on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons this summer to play with Tru. It’s going to be a great summer.

Sue (Hefty) Meier came up from Monroe to visit with us for a while this week. While she was here we had lots of fun. We went to a couple yard sales and I found a beautiful rocking chair for the tree house. We went to Lorne and Ruth Barta’s auction and I bought a couple of camp coats for the tree house. Duane was there too, and he bought a two-bottom plow that he has been looking for forever. On Sunday we went to breakfast at Peggy’s in Shell Lake with Bill Gill and then to the Rolling Oaks for a baby shower for Jensyn (Marsh) Hines.

Wrigley Marsh spent the night with us on Saturday, and he is very excited about being an uncle. After breakfast with Bill, Duane, Sue, Wrigley and I went to Spooner to get a gift for Wrigley to give to Jensyn. Wrigley was only able to stay at the baby shower for a few minutes because he and his dad had to run to Eau Claire to buy him a bike, but while he was there he also got to visit with his cousin, Tru Lehmann, for a while.

The Wiesner Chapel plant sale went very well this past weekend. Tonja said that they still have a few plants left though, so they will be parking a trailer full of plants over by Tracy Thompson’s tire shop in Cumberland in hopes of selling a few more. I bought a dozen dahlia roots and put them in the north garden by our house. Hopefully they will all bloom. I told Cathy that the reason I don’t plant dahlias anymore is because I’m way too lazy to dig them up in the fall. She said, and it makes perfect sense, “Then you should just leave them in the ground and buy new ones from us every spring.” What a smart woman!

The Scoop and Brew in Shell Lake will opening this week for the summer. Pat Olson has been busy getting everything ready. Tru, Wrigley and Kane are all excited about that because they love to stop by for ice cream after playing at the beach.

I hope you have a wonderful Memorial Day weekend. While you are camping, picnicking or just hanging out, please remember the men and women in the armed forces who bravely served our country to ensure that you have the freedom to do the things you like to do. We (or at least I) tend to take those things for granted most of the time, so Memorial Day is a good time to think about how “lucky” we are here in the United States.

That’s about all I know from Barronett this week. Remember, if you need any perennials, the trailer from Wiesner Chapel plant sale will be by Cumberland Tire shop for a while. Have a great weekend.

A Look Back...

An item of interest in the Advocate 25 years ago has a sequel which proves interesting. The story, which read, “Three Valedictorians in the Same Family is Unique Family Record” is from the May 18, 1938 Advocate and reads, “With the graduation of John Bauman Jr., from CHS, he becomes the third member of his family to so lead in scholastic honors, the first being William Bauman in 1945, then Catherine Bauman in 1946, and now John.” Now a daughter of Miss Bauman (now Mrs. Lloyd Wickre), Rosemary Wickre is valedictorian of her ‘63 class and another second-generation member, John Wickre, while not a valedictorian is an honor student of his class.

Charles "Chuck" Christensen, Jr.

Charles "Chuck" Christensen, Jr. was born in Cumberland on March 1, 1942 to parents Charles Christensen, Sr. and Minnie Christensen (Stoll). As a young man he was active in Cumberland Boy Scout Troop 24 and in high school athletics. He graduated from Cumberland High School in 1960. After graduation, he worked for his family business, Christensen Electric, and later became owner and operator of Christensen Marine in 1964, constructing the building that currently houses Lakeside Pizzeria. Chuck was also a member of the Cumberland Fire Department, and an ambulance driver and EMT for many years. Continuing as a civil servant, he became a police officer for the Cumberland Police Department in 1963 and as a reserve conservation warden for the Wisconsin DNR. He eventually concluded his career in law enforcement as the first Criminal Investigator for the Barron County Sheriff's Department in 1977.

Chuck was an active leader in Cumberland and in Barron County. He served as the President of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club. He was Director of Cumberland Federal Bank and a member of the bank's board of directors for many years. Charles was a member of the Cumberland Healthcare Governing Board since 1985 and was President since July 2006. He has been instrumental in the improvements and planned expansion to a new Cumberland Memorial Hospital campus. He also served on the Barron County Board of Administrators as Criminal Justice Supervisor from 2002 to 2018 where he oversaw the construction of the Barron County Law Enforcement and Government Center. He was also Chairman of the Barron County Solid Waste Management Board and a member of the First Lutheran Church Council.

Chuck's dedication to the municipal utilities of Wisconsin was undeniable; he was president of the Municipal Electric Utilities of Wisconsin for a time, Chairman of the Dairyland Power Cooperative, and a member of the Tri State Power Cooperative. Much of his time as General Manager of Cumberland Municipal Utilities was spent improving and expanding on the city's power and water service which resulted in the creation of one of the finest municipal power plants in northwestern Wisconsin and a substantial yearly revenue for the city. As a testament to his service, Chuck received many awards including the Larry Hobart Seven Hats Award from the American Public Power Association and the Donald L. Smith Distinguished Service Award from the Municipal Electric Utilities of Wisconsin for "exceptional leadership and dedication to public power." It is the highest honor one can receive for such duty in Wisconsin.

Additionally, he headed Cumberland's Economic Development Committee which established Cumberland's Industrial Park that led to new businesses and jobs coming to the city. He was currently working on the expansion and development of Cumberland's Commercial District with the vision of creating more jobs and added opportunities for the city.

Chuck was also named Cumberland's Citizen of the year in 2010 and Cumberland High School Graduate of Achievement in 2016. In Chuck's acceptance speech, at the 2016 High School Graduation, he stated that the most rewarding thing one can do is work hard to give back to the community they are from and spend as much time as possible surrounded by family and friends.

A true renaissance man, Chuck knew a lot about a lot and loved to work on side projects from rebuilding boats and cars to aviation, electronics, history, and hunting and fishing. It was well known that Chuck had a dry and playful sense of humor and a quick wit.

He was generous and humble and always willing to spend time giving advice, wisdom, and friendship to anyone who asked. He was also a fantastic story teller who loved to travel, but his most treasured time was cruising Beaver Dam Lake in his beloved 35 foot pontoon boat with his cherished family and friends.

Chuck is survived by his wife, Kay Christensen of Cumberland; daughters: Lauri (John) Ranallo of Comstock and Michelle (John) Johnson of Sedona, AZ; sister, Charlene Samlaska of Cumberland; grandchildren: Benjamin (Brittany) Ranallo of Duluth, MN, Marissa (John Ehrlinger) Ranallo of Madison, Jack Charles Johnson of Sedona, AZ, Hannah Johnson of Eagan, MN and Joseph Johnson of Sedona, AZ; great grandson, Samuel Charles Ranallo, Sylvia and Miles Ehrlinger; nephew and niece: Christian (Mark) Samlaska and Kari Jo (David) Johnson. Chuck was preceded in death by his parents and brother-in-law, Lawrence "Bud" Samlaska. Funeral services were held on Monday, May 21, 2018 at First Lutheran Church in Cumberland with Rev. Timothy Schmidt officiating and burial followed at Lakeside Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Dean Bergstrom, Gene Pierce, Casey DeLawyer, Josh Ash, Jordon Peichel and Louie Muench. Honorary pallbearers were Justin Abrahamson, Craig Turcott, Dennis Zappa, Tom Goldsmith and Jerry Thon.

If you would like to donate to the Charles Christensen Scholarship Fund, an account will be set up at Cumberland Federal Bank

"IF ONLY....."

By: Pastor Ellery W. Groth
Zion Lutheran Church, rural Almena

We must pay more careful attention, Therefore, to what we have heard, so that we do not drift away. Hebrews 2:1

Somebody once said that the saddest words ever spoken in the English language are the words "if only..." "If only I had listened to my friends,..." "If only I had listened to my doctor,..." "If only I had put more money away when I was young..." Those words, "if only..." show regret over having done something in the past that has now impacted ones life in a very negative way.

I suspect that those same two little words will be spoken by many on the Last Day, when we must all appear before Jesus. "If only I had read my Bible more...." "If only I had made time to get to church..." "If only I had taken God more seriously..." In spite of their sincere regrets, the sentence of damnation will stand.

So that you might avoid those regrets, now is the time to do something. The writer of our Bible verse encourages us to pay more careful attention to the things we have heard. He's talking about the teachings of Jesus from the Bible, those Ten Commandments you learned as a child, those Scripture readings you listened to in church as a youngster. Pay attention to those things. If you have forgotten them, it's not too late to get out your Bible and start reading about them again. It's not too late to attend a worship service and listen to the pastor explain God's Word again. I pray that you will never have to utter those sad words in front of Jesus: "If only...."

WATER SYSTEM INFORMATION

We are pleased to present to you our 2017 Annual Water Quality Report. This report is designed to inform you about the quality water and services we deliver to your home every day. Our constant goal is to provide you with a safe and dependable supply of drinking water. We want you to understand the efforts we make to continually improve the water treatment process and protect our water resources. We are committed to ensuring the quality of your water. Our water source is from 4 deep wells within the city of Cumberland that pump from Cambrian-Ordovaian Aquifer system. We add no chemicals nor do we, at this time, use any treatment processes in your water unless deemed necessary. If you would like to know more about the information contained in this report, please contact Dean Bergstrom, Assistant Manager at (715) 822-2595.

OPPORTUNITY FOR INPUT ON DECISIONS AFFECTING YOUR WATER QUALITY

We want our valued customers to be informed about their Water Utility. If you want to learn more, the Utility Commission meets the first Monday of the month at 4:00 PM, in the Conference room at the Cumberland Municipal Utility.

HEALTH INFORMATION

Drinking water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the Environmental Protection Agency's safe drinking water hotline (800-426-4791).

Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, persons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune systems disorders, some elderly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Environmental Protection Agency's safe drinking water hotline (800-426-4791).

Source(s) of Water
Source id	Source	Depth (in feet)	Status
1	Groundwater	500	Active
3	Groundwater	385	Active
4	Groundwater	295	Active
5	Groundwater	470	Active

To obtain a summary of the source water assessment, please contact, Dean Bergstrom at (715) 822-2595.

EDUCATIONAL INFORMATION

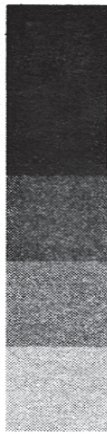

The sources of drinking water, both tap water and bottled water, include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs and wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity.

- Contaminants that may be present in source water include:
- Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment plants, septic systems, agricultural livestock operations and wildlife.
 - Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally- occurring or result from urban storm water runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining or farming.
 - Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agricultural, urban storm water runoff and residential uses.
 - Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are by-products of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations, urban storm water runoff and septic systems.
 - Radioactive contaminants, which can be naturally occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and mining activities.

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations that limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. FDA regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water, which shall provide the same protection for public health.

DEFINITIONS

Term	Definition
AL	Action Level: The concentration of a contaminant which, if exceeded, triggers treatment or other requirements which a water system must follow.
Level 1
Assessment	A Level 1 assessment is a study of the water system to identify potential problems and determine, if possible, why total coliform bacteria have been found in our water system.
Level 2
Assessment	A Level 2 assessment is a very detailed study of the water system to identify potential problems and determine, if possible, why an E. coli MCL violation has occurred or why total coliform bacteria have been found in our water system, or both, on multiple occasions.
MCL	Maximum Contaminant Level: The highest level of a contaminant that is allowed in drinking water. MCLs are set as close to the MCLGs as feasible using the best available treatment technology.
MCLG	Maximum Contaminant Level Goal: The level of a contaminant in drinking water below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MCLGs allow for a margin of safety.
MFL	million fibers per liter
MRDL	Maximum residual disinfectant level: The highest level of a disinfectant allowed in drinking water. There is convincing evidence that addition of a disinfectant is necessary for control of microbial contaminants.
MRDLG	Maximum residual disinfectant level goal: The level of a drinking water disinfectant below which there is no known or expected risk to health. MEDLGs do not reflect the benefits of the use of disinfectants to control microbial contaminants.
mrem/year	millirems per year (a measure of radiation absorbed by the body)
NTU	Nephelometric Turbidity Units

DETECTED CONTAMINANTS

Your water was tested for many contaminants last year. We are allowed to monitor for some contaminants less frequently than once a year. The following tables list only those contaminants which were detected in your water. If a contaminant was detected last year, it will appear in the following tables without a sample date. If the contaminant was not monitored last year, but was detected within the last 5 years, it will appear in the tables below along with the sample date.

ADDITIONAL HEALTH INFORMATION

If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. Cumberland Waterworks is responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline or at www.epa.gov/safewater/lead.

The Almena Fire Department was called to 118 Garfield Ave at Approximatley 8am for a structure fire. The fire started in the living room and spread to the stairs blocking an escape route for the occupants sleeping upstairs. One person climbed out a window, jumped to the ground and found a ladder to help another occupant escape. Fire Chief Vince Wohlk stated” They were very lucky to wake up. There were no working smoke alarms in the residence. This is a great reminder to check your smoke alarms. They can save your life.” The Almena Fire Department was also called to a house fire on Washington Avenue the previous Wednesday. The fire started in the bedroom but was contained. There were no injuries in either fire. The cause of both fires are unknown at this time.
