Preliminary 2018-19 Budget; wage increases and School Resource Officer position approved at July School Board meeting

The Cumberland School Board met on Monday, July 23rd at 6:00 p.m. for their regular July meeting.

Athletic Director Lorne Majewski gave a report on the end of last year's sports and the preparations for this year. They have decided to move this year's cross country meet to the Rice Lake Ski Trails. There are already trails of the right length and the cost/effort of marking the routes will be reduced.

Later in the meeting, Lorne also asked for approval to create a Middle School Cross Country program. Other schools in the conference are doing it, and he believes there is support amongst the students for the program. The Middle School team would travel to meet with the High School and the plans are for the Middle School events to start before the High School events. The Board approved the team.

Also approved by the Board were the 2018-19 Professional and Associate Staff Handbooks and a 2.5% wage increase for the Professional and Associate Staff.

Steve Mann, District Financial Officer, then took the floor to discuss the preliminary budget for the 2018-19 school year. Steve announced that, thanks to the Referendum and increases in State Funding, the District will have more than enough funds to cover the projected expenses, with some left over to put towards the planned maintenance and renovation schedules. Projected income is approximately $13,389,000 and expenses are projected at $12,186,000. Steve cautioned that the budget was "a living thing" and the figures may change before the budget is finalized. Steve also noted that the Mill Rates projected during the referendum process have, in reality, been lower than anticipated.

The School Board also voted to approve the formation of a School Resource Officer position. This will be a shared resource with the City of Cumberland with the School District funding 70% and the City the remaining 30%. The Officer will be assigned to the District during the school year and the City when school is not in session.

Lastly, the board approved the hiring of Joan Gibson to fill the vacant Food Service position.

The Board will meet next on Monday, August 20th at 6:30 p.m. at the District offices.

Packed Bus of Barron County Kids Depart for Washington D.C.

$700,000 Dollars Donated to Support Summer 'Learning Journeys'

On Monday, July 9, a bus of 40 youth from the Boys & Girls Clubs of Barron County left from the Lincoln Clubhouse for a five day all-expense paid journey to Washington D.C. The youth, members from Barron, Cumberland, and Rice Lake, submitted essays about why they were interested in being chosen to participate in this paid trip. They will join over 650 other club kids from across Wisconsin taking these summer field trips to learn about American government and history, visit institutions of higher education and develop imporwhat it is like today to what it was like in the 1800s." The local club customized their own personal field trip, and visited the White House, Congress, Smithsonian, Dr. Martin Luther

"We want young people to see history come alive, expand their horizons and imagine themselves as our future leaders, and most of all, be ready to take their place as responsible, productive citizens of this great nation.

Whether it's the trip of a lifetime or a life-changing trip, we encourage and support individual Boys & Girls Clubs across the state to make these trips happen in 2018.

"Kohl Philanthropies provides access to students who might not otherwise have this opportunity. Our mission is to enable young people who need us most to reach their full potential. So this is a perfect match," said Deanna Aubart, Executive Director of Boys & Girls Clubs of Barron County.

"For many of these kids, it will be their only visit to Washington D.C., so this is a great partnership." The trips are expected to continue in 2019.

Airport Happenings

by Richard Brekke, Manager, Cumberland Municipal Airport

Summer is here and it feels like it's running as fast as it can to get out of the way to let the snow come back. I remember as a kid, summer being so long you got tired of it and were almost ready to go back to school. These days it seems like you turn around and it's over.

It's been a busy summer at the airport. Aviation Resources has had a steady stream of aircraft from all over the country in for service. The airport hosted an FAA sponsored safety seminar in June that brought about 40 pilots to the airport and a second seminar just recently where Al Flora, a local pilot from Hayward, was presented with the FAA Wright Brothers Award for 50 years of safe flying. We are gearing up for the Rutabaga Festival in August. We will be giving free EAA Young Eagle flights over the country in for serv-

Northwoods Notebook: It's two-thirds gone before we know it by Larry Werner

It was one of those perfect Cumberland days with a temperature about 75, low humidity and puffy clouds drifting west to east across a brilliant blue sky. As I walked over the Grove Street bridge into downtown, it hit me: Summer's first two months are about gone.

I looked up at the power lines over the bridge that separates Beaver Dam's Rabbit Bay and Library Lake. Hanging from those power lines were fishing lines with lures and bobbers that had been lost by young anglers whose casts from the bridge were too high.

The sight took me back to days of my youth, perhaps 60 years ago, when, in my hometown on the Saginaw River in Michigan, my buddies and I would toss our lines from the river bank, taking a break between casts to bite from the sandwiches Mom made for us, then bike home and brag about the big ones we caught.

In that river, they were usually carp.

Having just celebrated 71 years of life at a birthday party with kids and grandkids, I've found myself thinking back over summers past. Why do these beautiful days of June, July and August provoke memories and melancholy of this too-brief season? For some reason, the magnificence of a July afternoon makes me aware of how fleeting summer is.

Family gatherings on Memorial Day weekend and Fourth of July week are in the books. In late spring, we begin to plan: Who's coming? Who will sleep where?

What's the schedule for making meals?

Then, those days are here and gone.

There's still Rutabaga Festival and maybe some

Fishing lures on a power line

visitors on Labor Day weekend. But with the grandkids involved in soccer, baseball and gymnastics, with commitments to camps and invitations to the lake homes of their friends, the kids might not come to our place again this summer.

The Tuesday concerts on Library Lake and the couples league at the golf course are both more than half over. Heck, I haven't been out fishing even once, and that new pontoon I bought hasn't burned a full tank of gas yet. Ann and I have taken our kayaks out only twice.

Where has summer gone? I get tired of hearing that question, but then I find myself asking it.

I have to stop thinking of summer as a chunk of time. The key to enjoying summer, or any season, to enjoying life, I think, is to take each day as it comes. Live in the moment, we're told. Yesterday is gone, and tomorrow never comes. Enjoy today.

There will be more days on the boat, on the golf course and more morning walks into town over the bridge where the boys and girls of summer cast their lines, sometimes errantly, into a beautiful lake in this town where I bought a home five summers ago. And when autumn comes, there will be cooler, crisper days to enjoy — one at a time.

Sharing a "Love of Food"

Kelly Thompson-Frater demonstrated the art of Pizza on the Grill as part of the Island City Food Co-op's "Love of Food" tour.

The first Love of Food Tour is off to a good start!

Friday afternoon at the Cumberland library, Katrina Hausman presented Gluten Free Cooking for Friends, Family or Yourself to an enthusiastic group. She has been cooking this way for 12 years. Some of her family is also gluten free, while the rest are not. Her recipes satisfy both! The information made gluten free less daunting and sparked curiosity. Samples of Meaty Balls, Quinoa Salad, and Pumpkin Muffins were well received and attendees received extra samples to take home and recipes. Hausman and the Library offer wide range of materials regarding gluten-free.

Saturday afternoon, Kelly Thompson-Frater demonstrated the art of Pizza on the Grille. With a tried and true recipe, Kelly walked everyone through the technique of making dough, and then demonstrated the rolling and grilling of the pizza crusts. Participants were able to get their hands in the flour and flip crusts like a pro! After choosing their own toppings and the final grilling everyone enjoyed a personal pizza hot off the coals. For added interest, a gluten-free frozen crust, Against the Grain, was used. The bucolic setting on Little Largon Lake added a delightful woodsy atmosphere for all to enjoy the pizza lunch. A recipe with instructions was also available for the participants to take home.

Join in next week, Saturday, July 28, for Lunch with Legumes at the Cumberland home of Patty Zais. She will share her favorite Lentil Burger recipe, a grain free specialty of hers, along with kale salad and raspberries from her garden. Later that afternoon, Danielle Maxwell-Parker will demonstrate the hottest 2017 Christmas gift, the Instant Pot, at the ICF Co-op. She will bring samples of prepared foods and show you how to cook with it as well. Showcased dishes include cheesecake, beef tips, and steel cut oats.

For reservations and more information contact the Island City Food Co-op, at icfoodcoop@gmail.com or call at 715.822.8233. Suggestions are already being made for next year's Love of Food Tour, including scones, Christmas in July gingerbread houses, sustainable gardening and wood fired oven baking. Adults and children will be included. Let the Co-op know if you have any interests or can showcase a specialty.

Opinion

By Craig Bucher

Summer is here and it has been beautiful weather to enjoy - that is, if you have the time. Most Americans simply don't have the time, as they hustle off to work each day just to keep the "wolf from the door." I wonder - do Americans work too much? Consider the following: 1. In 1960 20% of women worked while today 70% work. 2. The U.S. is the only country in the Americas without a parental leave benefit. 3. In the U.S. 85.8% of males and 66.5% of females work more than 40 hours per week. 4. In the U.S. the average American has 13 days of vacation time while in France and Finland the average worker has 30 days of vacation. In the U.S. workers use only 54% of their vacation time. 5. In the U.S. the workday never seems to end as most workers answer e-mails after hours and on weekends while, in Europe, almost no e-mails are answered after working hours have ended. So what has it gotten us? Productivity is about the same when comparing the U.S. and Europe and we work longer hours and more days per year. A recent article compared 14th century peasants working time with our present day workers. It argued that the peasants had 52 Sunday's off, 90 rest days, and 38 holidays off. That is half a year off. Clever men can make statistics say what you want them to say and that may be true in this case. However, it is something to think about. Maybe we need to make some dramatic shifts in our approach to work, especially since most of the rewards seem headed toward corporate America and not the average worker.

Court decision on collecting online taxes could hurt entrepreneurs

MADISON, Wis. - For many state and local governments, the U.S. Supreme Court's decision in South Dakota v. Wayfair Inc. may seem like a revenue windfall. States such as Wisconsin may collect millions of additional sales tax dollars because the high court upheld South Dakota's law requiring online retailers to collect them.

It's not a windfall, however, if the net effect of the law is to harm commerce by making it a lot harder for small businesses to conduct business through the internet.

That's the emerging fear in the wake of the June 21 Wayfair decision, which allows states to require out-of-state online retailers to collect sales taxes from South Dakota - even in states where they don't have a physical presence, such as a store or warehouse.

While the Amazons of the world likely won't see much effect on their bottom lines, the cost and paperwork headaches of complying with new sales tax rules in 50 states and thousands of local jurisdictions could drive a lot of small e-commerce companies out of business.

The justices overruled a 1992 Supreme Court decision, Quill Corporation v. North Dakota, which set the standard for how states tax online purchases. Until the Wayfair ruling, states could tax only businesses with a physical presence in their state. The latest ruling is a departure from 25 years of legal precedent and threatens e-commerce, in general, but poses special challenges to on online entrepreneurs.

Some Main Street businesses had been clamoring for years for the Quill ruling to be overturned, perhaps thinking internet competition would disappear. The smart Main Street merchants elected to set up online sales networks of their own, turning a "mom-and-pop" store with sales limited to a single city or county into a business that reached across state and even national borders.

That phenomenon appears to be as true in rural Wisconsin as in its cities, with strong results for small towns with signature online businesses.

These businesses don't usually sell "a zillion things home," as Wayfair advertises, but specialty items ranging from crafts to art, from T-shirts to organic products, and from gifts to indigenous foods.

The South Dakota law has a "small seller" exception for out-of-state retailers that don't exceed $100,000 in sales or 200 separate transactions in the state. Even if other states follow those standards, however, a small business with $5 million in online sales spread across the nation will find itself paying taxes in all 50 states. That same business could find itself collecting sale taxes on 200 sales averaging $20 each in one state, thus requiring that business to set up expensive procedures to collect taxes on about $4,000 in gross revenue.

There is some good news in the Wayfair decision. It's not retroactive and it may encourage states to collaborate to balance competing interests.

Along with 23 other states, South Dakota has adopted the Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Agreement, which was created in part by leadership from the Wisconsin Department of Revenue. More states could follow suit.

In the meantime, Wisconsin is set to collect online sales taxes from out-of-state sellers beginning Oct. 1. About $120 million in revenues are expected in the first year. State Revenue Secretary Richard Chandler has said Wisconsin will adopt a "smaller seller" exception consistent with the Wayfair ruling, and the agency will keep businesses and practitioners aware of coming changes.

What's needed, however, is more thinking about how the Wayfair ruling could set back young e-commerce companies based in Wisconsin. If the state wants to encourage, attract and retain entrepreneurs whose businesses involve selling online beyond Wisconsin, it should consider ways to help those businesses handle the paperwork of sending monthly payments and reports to 50 different states and 10,000 local governments.

Purely brick-and-mortar retailers may applaud the Wayfair decision, but even those traditional stores usually extend their sales reach by tapping online customers. The challenge for Wisconsin policymakers is not to grab the Wayfair money and run, but to consider ideas that can set the state apart as a place where online merchants can thrive.

Greener was asked to explain what will happen during the construction. He said beginning May 1, 1989, Second Avenue will be torn up from the 4-corners to the Athletic Field and no through traffic will be allowed. He said all through traffic will be diverted to First Avenue, which has been approved by the state. Depending on the weather, Second Avenue will be closed for six weeks.

The power crisis in Cumberland is in Stage Two, according to Cumberland Municipal Utility Superintendent Charles Christensen. While this is not yet at the critical stage, it is just one step away according to Christensen. The local utility had to go to their own generating equipment since Monday between the hours of 8 a.m. and 6 p.m. And with the hot, humid weather on Monday, the plant was very near capacity and this without Stokely Van Camp doing any canning. Christensen urged everyone to conserve every bit of power during the critical time of 10am - 3pm.

Quentin P. Veitch, 49, of Cumberland, has been charged with possession of narcotic drugs.

The criminal complaint states that on Wednesday, July 18, 2018, Barron County Sheriff Fitzgerald and Deputy Allen were on duty at the Barron County Fair, when they were alerted by a fair-goer that a subject at the fair was a sex offender who may not be allowed to be at the fair.

Dispatch located the records on the subject while Deputy Kuffel located Veitch.

Sheriff Fitzgerald was advised by dispatch that Veitch was not to have any unsupervised contact with children without prior approval. The fair was very busy and there were multiple children in the area.

Sheriff Fitzgerald made contact with Veitch, who said he did not have prior approval to be at the fair. Sheriff Fitzgerald contacted Probation, who advised that they would be placing a hold on Veitch.

Veitch was taken into custody and searched. Sheriff Fitzgerald found a bag of orange pills in Veitch's front pocket, which Veitch claimed to be heartburn medication. The pills had no markings on them.

Deputy Allen responded to the fairgrounds to transport Veitch to the Barron County Jail. He took custody of Veitch, as well as the 15 orange pills found on Veitch's person.

Deputy Allen conducted a Google search based on the pills description, which indicated a possible match with an amphetamine substance. Deputy Allen tested the pills, for methadone and amphetamine, which yielded a presumptive positive result for the presence of methadone.

If convicted Veitch may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than three years and six months or both. His driver's license may also be suspended for not more than five years. His preliminary hearing will be held August 3, 2018.

Ryan W. Koenig, 33, of Cameron, has been charged with operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated, 4th.

The criminal complaint states that on Sunday, July 15, 2018, at 2:55 a.m. Barron County Deputy Allen was traveling southbound on Count Highway SS near 17 1/4 Avenue, when he observed a lone vehicle traveling southbound on Highway SS south of his location.

The vehicle attempted to turn west into 16 1/2 Avenue, but failed to complete the turn. The vehicle then stopped, went into reverse, and backed into the lane of traffic on County Highway SS. The vehicle then began moving forward westbound on 16 1/2 Avenue.

Deputy Allen conducted a traffic stop of the vehicle and made contact with the driver, Ryan Koenig. The vehicle was registered to Koenig who had a valid driver's license and had a .02 blood-alcohol restriction.

Immediately upon approach to the driver's side window, which was down, Deputy Allen detected a strong odor of intoxicants emanating from inside the vehicle. Koenig's eyes were bloodshot and glossy.

Koenig admitted he consumed alcohol, and when asked how much, he stated probably more than he should have. Koenig exited the vehicle and Deputy Allen could still detect a strong odor of intoxicants emanating from his breath.

Deputy Allen conducted field sobriety testing, and then asked him to recite the alphabet from A to Z. After the Y Koenig paused for a second with a blank stare on his face before saying Z.

Deputy Allen formed the opinion that Koenig had been operating a vehicle while intoxicated and was not safe to do so. Koenig submitted to a preliminary breath test, which yielded a result of .205.

Koenig's preliminary hearing is scheduled on August 21, 2018. If convicted he may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than six years, or both. His driver's license may also be revoked for not less than two years, nor more than three years, and he shall be ordered to submit to an alcohol and drug abuse assessment and to comply with treatment as a condition of reinstatement.

Shawna M. Beaupre, 19, of Turtle Lake, has been charged with possession of methamphetamine;

Joshua P. M. Bautch, 31, of River Falls, has been charged with delivery of methamphetamine, as a party to a crime, and possession of drug paraphernalia;

Brandon S. Larson, 27, of River Falls, has been charged with delivery of methamphetamine as a party to a crime, and possession with intent to deliver methamphetamine, as a party to a crime;

Eric W. Sorenson, 34, of River Falls, has been charged with delivery of methamphetamine, as a party to a crime, and possession with intent to deliver methamphetamine, as a party to a crime;

According to the criminal complaint during the late evening of July 10 and the early morning hours of July 11, 2018, Detectives Hagen and Carroll of the Barron County Sheriff's Department, conducted a controlled buy of methamphetamine and subsequent arrest of the above four subjects, at a hotel in Turtle Lake.

Detective Hagen had obtained from a Confidential Informant (CI) that he/she knew Sorenson and between early summer of 2016 and the summer of 2017, they had both been using methamphetamine and Sorenson was involved in selling methamphetamine. CI showed him text message conversations that he/she had with Sorenson over the previous couple of days leading to CI having a face-to-face conversation with Sorenson he/she offered a room at a hotel in Turtle Lake as a meeting place for CI to purchase methamphetamine from Sorenson. In the discussion CI had with Sorenson CI arranged for the purchase of 1/8 ounce of methamphetamine from Sorenson for $80 and a room at the hotel. The use of the hotel room was arranged by Detective Hagen and security staff at the hotel. The room and everything in it were in control by Detectives Hagen and Carroll. Security staff provided a room card to Detective Hagen and Detective Carroll for entry into the room should the occupants refuse to open it.

Detective Carroll and Deputy Kolb met with CI on June 10th at approximately 10:45 p.m., at which time CI and his/her vehicle were searched with no concealment of drugs or contraband located. Detective Hagen provided CI with $100 in pre-recorded money to purchase the methamphetamine, and a covert audio/GPS transmitter enabling him to monitor and record the interactions between CI and the others involved in the transaction.

CI made contact with Sorenson in the lobby of the hotel at approximately 11:22 p.m. Once CI finished checking in, CI and Sorenson went inside the hotel room. Sorenson discussed with CI that he rode to Turtle Lake with some other individuals who had the meth. He indicated those individuals left him and went to Cumberland. He said that he left the meth in his backpack, which was in the car. Sorenson told CI that he contacted them and they were on their way back.

Prior to Sorenson leaving the room to meet the others that arrived from Cumberland, he observed a green Thunderbird arrive at the hotel. He observed a woman and two men get out of the vehicle and walk into the lobby. Over the next several minutes, he observed the two men go in and out of the hotel room. Detective Hagen heard conversations via the transmitter between CI and others about the pending transaction, including Sorenson saying he needed a scale to weigh the meth. Detective Hagen saw one of the men come back out to the Thunderbird looking for something, as he was in and out of both the driver and passenger doors of the car on a couple of occasions.

At approximately 12:32 a.m. on July 11th, Detective Hagen saw CI leave the hotel room with a man, who was later identified as Sorenson. He observed CI return to his/her vehicle while Sorenson followed. CI told Sorenson that he/she would be back in a couple hours and then left in his/her vehicle.

At approximately 12:34 a.m. Detective Hagen saw Sorenson go to the Thunderbird. Sorenson was in the car for a couple minutes before returning to the hotel. When Sorenson returned to the hotel room, he returned to the prearranged meeting location to debrief CI. Other officers continued surveillance on the hotel.

At approximately 12:40 a.m. Detective Hagen met with CI, who turned over the package of meth that was purchased during the controlled buy, as well as $20 of the prerecorded money. The substance weighed greater than three, but less than four grams, and tested positive for the presence of methamphetamine.

Detective Hagen debriefed CO who stated Sorenson went down to the lobby to meet the other three people who arrived at the hotel. The first person to come up from the lobby was Beaupre. CI said Sorenson and Larson next came up to the room. CI said Sorenson had his backpack and dumped it out all over the bed looking for the meth. Sorenson did not locate the meth when the contents from his backpacks were dumped on the bed and it was then that Larson gave Sorenson the meth. After Sorenson got the meth from Larson CI said Sorenson said he needed a scale. There was some discussion about getting a scale and one of the others in the room asked Bautch, who had not come up to the room yet, to bring a scale with him. Bautch then came up to the room and provided Sorenson with a scale.

CI then observed Sorenson take meth out of the bag that CI estimated contained almost an ounce of meth. CI said he/she observed Sorenson weigh 3.5 grams of meth out on the scale, put that in another bag and then give it to CI. CI then handed Sorenson $80 in pre-recorded money. Sorenson followed CI outside when CI left because Sorenson wanted to find a bubble pipe to smoke meth with.

At approximately 1:00 a.m. after the controlled buy operation was complete and CI had purchased the methamphetamine from Sorenson, Detective Carroll, Sgt. Hodek and Deputy Kolb went to the room to locate and arrest the three other suspects for their involvement in the controlled buy operation. Upon entering the room, Detective Carroll observed Beaupre immediately slam down a blue binder that was sitting on the bed next to her. Detective Carroll later found the $80 in pre-recorded money and a small binder containing a small amount of suspected meth in the pocket of this binder.

Detective Carroll arrested Beaupre, Sorenson and Larson, who were also in the room. He observed a clear glass pipe, which contained a white residue. Sorenson said the pipe was his, along with all of the contents that had been dumped out of the backpack on the bed.

Officers located a medium-sized gem bag which contained a crystal like substance on the toilet lid in the bathroom. The substance, weighed .6 grams, was tested and tested positive for the presence of methamphetamine. The small paper binder with the suspected meth in the pocket of the binder weighed .7 grams and tested positive for the presence of methamphetamine. The clear glass pipe which contained white residue also tested positive for the presence of methamphetamine. Officers located four cell phones and multiple packages of new gem bags in the hotel room.

An inventory search of the vehicle was conducted and Deputy Kolb located a digital scale, which contained white residue in a yellow bag. The residue on the scale also tested positive for the presence of methamphetamine.

If convicted Joshua Bautch may be fined not more than $50,500 or imprisoned for not more than 15 years and 30 days, or both. His driver's license may also be suspended for not more than 10 years, or both. His preliminary hearing is scheduled for August 2, 2018.

Brandon Larson may be fined not more than $100,000 or imprisoned for not more than 30 years, or both.

Eric Sorenson may be fined not more than $100,000 or imprisoned for not more than 30 years, or both. His driver's license may also be suspended for not more than 10 years.

Shawna Beaupre may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than three years and six months, or both. Her driver's license may also be suspended for not more than five years.

Joshua Bautch, Brandon Larson, and Eric Sorenson's preliminary hearings will be held August 2nd, 2018.

The arraignment for Shawna Beaupre is scheduled for October 10, 2018.

Hall of Fame Inductee!

Dave Olson

Dave Olson-Athletic Hall of Fame Inductee 2018

When the Cumberland Athletic Hall of Fame Induction takes place this October 6, 1994 graduate Dave Olson will be among the four to receive their plaque that Saturday night. Olson received 10 letters during his four years of participation in football, basketball, and baseball. He had the rare honor of being named First Team All-Conference and a team MVP in each sport during that time.

In football, he set a then school record of 39 receptions as a tight end his senior year. It included a game-winning touchdown catch in the last seconds of an upset over Bloomer.

In basketball, he was a two-time First Team selection and averaged 20.2 points and grabbed 10.1 rebounds a game his senior season. He would play in the State Coaches All-Star game and was named Academic All-State.

In baseball, Olson played on two Conference Championship teams and was also named First Team All-

Conference twice. Again he was Academic All-State as well as playing in the State All-Star Classic, where he had four hits.

Following his outstanding high school career, Olson attended Winona State University, where he lettered four times in football and was twice named First Team All-Conference. He played on two Conference Championship teams and was invited to the Indianapolis Mini-Camp following his senior season, after being named the 31st best Tight end in the 1998 NFL Draft.

After a brief time in the business world, Olson returned as a math teacher to his alma mater, where he works today. He has coached in each of his high school sports and is currently an assistant in both football and baseball. On October 6th, his story of excellence will be told once more.

Tickets for the Induction Banquet go on sale in September.

Anglers encouraged to take questionnaire about bag, size limits on Mississippi River

Anglers who fish the Mississippi River between Prescott, Wis., and the Iowa border can take an online questionnaire about what they think about existing bag and size limits on that stretch of the river and their reactions to potential regulation changes.

The online questionnaire is part of a multi-state review by Wisconsin and Minnesota natural resources departments of size and bag limits on the Mississippi River flowing between the two states. Many of the regulations have not been revised in decades. You may access the questionnaire at the DNR website (dnr.wi.gov) through July 31.

Jordan Weeks, Wisconsin DNR fisheries supervisor in La Crosse, said the online questionnaire aims to give anglers more opportunities to provide input as the two states review regulations. Earlier this spring, Minnesota and Wisconsin natural resources departments held five public input meetings to kick off the review.

"Fishing regulations along this stretch of the Mississippi River have been the same for decades and it's time for a review," Weeks says. "We want to hear from anglers on whether they are happy with the quality of fishing or want changes to size and bag limits."

All gamefish species are being looked at, including sunfish, crappie, largemouth and smallmouth bass, northern pike, white bass, walleye, sauger, catfish and yellow perch.

Input from the online questionnaires, the public meetings and other fisheries data, may be used to develop recommendations for possible regulation changes agreeable to both states. After that, each state would have to go through its own official rule-making process, with additional opportunities for public comment. The earliest any changes might go into effect would be 2020, according to Kevin Stauffer, Lake City area fisheries supervisor for the Minnesota DNR.

Cumberland Well Represented at High School Football All-Star Game

Cumberland was well represented at the Small School All-Star Football game held last weekend in Oshkosh. The North team dropped an exciting 22-21 decision on a last second 40-yard field goal in the contest, but two Cumberland football players had nice games for the North.

played quarterback, completing 12 of 26 passes for 111 yards and one touchdown. Two of his aerials went to former Cumberland teammate Max Narges, who caught two passes for 20 yards. Berghammer added 12 yards on four carries from scrimmage, while Narges had several nice blocks to help spring North ball carriers. Berghammer will be playing College football at UW-Oshkosh this fall, while Narges will be doing the same at UW-Platteville.

Former Cumberland Football player and current Coach at St. Croix Central, Tony DiSalvo, was Head Coach for the North, while current Beavers Head Coach Corey Berghammer and his brother Chris Berghammer joined DiSalvo as assistant coaches.

The fundraising done for the game by players and coaches annually raises over $400,000. for Children's Hospital.

The 14U Babe Ruth Cumberland Team placed 3rd in the Season's Final Tournament on Saturday. They beat Barron 14-13 in the 3rd Place game. Musky/Walleye on Green Bay out of a Canoe

Hello friends,
If you have been reading this column for long you are probably aware that some of my adventures go really well, and some of them do not. This week's outdoor experience was pretty close to incredible, enjoy!

Friday, July 13th
High 83, Low 53

Fishermen that have been fishing on Green Bay during the month of July have been experiencing phenomenal luck for walleye, and in some cases musky. I had been hearing a lot about this and made the decision that I was going to head over to Geano Beach which is north of Green Bay about 15-miles and try my luck.

My plan was to paddle troll out of a canoe and I would use two planer boards and run one rod straight behind me. I would put night crawler harnesses on two of the rods and a Berkley "Purple Candy" Flicker Shad on the other.

Another part of my plan was to put some gear in my canoe and sleep wherever I ended my day.

So there are lots of storms in the area and most fishermen that I talked to at the boat landing had very good results with walleye in the 15-26 inch range, the only problem is the walleye are being caught in 21-25 feet of water which is at least a 2-mile paddle from shore, and storms, canoes, and two-miles out is a touchy situation.

I began paddling northeast at 3:00 this afternoon with a plan of dodging a storm to my south and one to my north. That plan worked perfectly, and when I was over 15-feet of water one of my planer boards started acting erratically, and I ended up catching a walleye just under 15-inches. I let that fish go and decided that I was going deep and headed straight east. There was only two other boats as far as the eye could see and when I hit 25-feet of water (no electronics on this trip) the Purple Candy was hit, and holy moly I caught me a 20-inch walleye and was I ever happy.

I figured I better bring both the crawler harnesses in and check them and when I started reeling the first one in, something BIG hit it and I was literally as happy as I could be. Long story short, 25 minutes later

I am still being pulled around on Green Bay, there is a storm approaching to the south, and I still have not seen what I am starting to think may be either a catfish or giant sheephead.

When my friend on the other end of my line would make a run I would loosen the drag on my trolling rod/reel, when I would try to gain some ground, I would tighten it and reel.

I cannot tell you the incredible feeling that I had when I saw that my fish was actually a musky and it was incredibly heavy. For about five minutes I worked my plan which included having my net as ready as I could.

When it was "make it or break it" time (the crawler harness) everything went perfect, and I had what would end up being a 47-inch musky which was a true slob. I talked some fishermen in another boat into measuring her in their boat and taking my picture and with great pride released her.

At dark I found a piece of sand to sleep on, and could not have been in a better mood.

Saturday, July 15th
High 86, Low 51

I am a goal oriented guy, and today's goal was to limit out on walleye while paddle trolling in my canoe.

The first thing that you have to do is paddle for at least 15-minutes to deep water or your lines are just going to get weeded up and you are no longer fishing. About 20-minutes after I dropped my lines I caught a 17-inch walleye on the Purple Candy, than I caught a 14-incher which I let go.

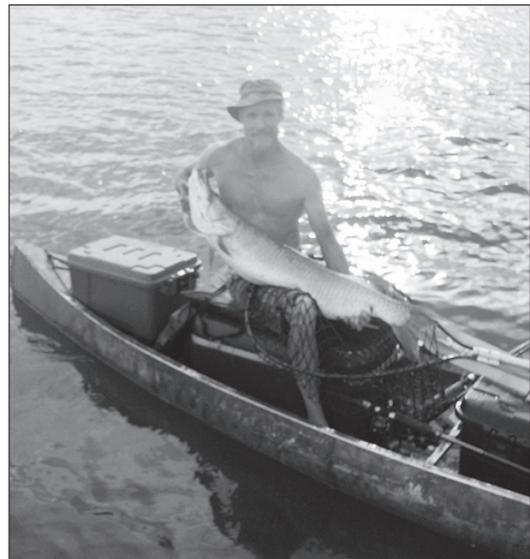

For an hour I paddled in my usual excellent mood and I did not see any other canoes or kayaks. Good luck came my way when a good fish hit the Purple Candy and I landed a beautiful 25-inch walleye. Next I had two hours without a strike and then I headed to shallower water and it was game on. In just over two hours I landed three, 20 inch walleye and I had a limit.

In reality this trip could not have gone better, I caught a trophy musky, my health was excellent, and I got a limit of beautiful walleye that made for an excellent fish boil, and a gift to a neighbor.

Push yourself!
Sunset

Home for a night.

This 47-inch musky gave Mark Walters an excellent fight and was released back into Green Bay.

Aug. 1st deadline looms for Upriver Lakes Sturgeon Spearing Drawing

Sturgeon spears have until Aug. 1 to apply for a 2019 Upriver Lakes sturgeon spearing license or purchase a preference point to be used in future drawings.

Participation in the Upriver Lakes sturgeon spearing season on lakes Butte des Morts, Winneconne and Poygan in February 2019 is controlled through a preference point system where applicants possessing the most preference points are given priority in the drawing. As a reminder, you must apply once every three years to retain your preference points.

All applicants are notified by Oct. 1 of whether they were drawn for a license and authorized to purchase a license for the 2019 Upriver season. All applicants not drawn for an Upriver Lakes license, or those who purchase a preference point only, can still purchase a license before the Oct. 31, 2018, deadline to spear on Lake Winnebago. Spearmen can only buy a license for either Lake Winnebago or the Upriver Lakes, not both.

Groups of up to four may apply together by designating a leader and using his/her Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources customer ID on all applications. Each group will carry the preference points of the group member with the fewest points.

Spearmen can apply for the license drawing or purchase a preference point through Go Wild or any of our sales locations

Barronett News By Judy Pieper

Vacation Bible School at Barronett Lutheran Church is coming up in just two weeks, from August 6th through the 10th. The kids had so much fun at our Bible School last year, and from what I understand, there will be just as much, or more, to do this year. There will be crafts, stories, play time and lunch. Peg Thompson and Judy Norton have been planning all kinds of fun for the little ones. All children from age four through twelve are welcome. The theme this year is "Time Lab, Discovering Jesus from Eternity Past to Eternity Future." Please pre-register your children by calling 715-822-3527, or on line at barronettlutheran-church@gmail.com so that Peg and Judy can order the right amount of supplies. Anita Lehmann and I will be working in the kitchen, getting delicious and nutritious meals and snacks, ready for the kids. Peg and Judy are still hoping to get a few more volunteers to help with the class and play time supervision. If you can help in any way, please give Peg or Judy a call. Classes run from 10:00 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. Remember, whether you are or are not a member of our church, your children are welcome.

I love summer vacation. We get to see so much more of our little grandchildren and great grandchildren when they are off school for the summer. Tru Lehmann comes to visit every Monday and Tuesday and she can find lots to do here. For example, last Monday she went with Grandma Anita to Shane Lehmann's home and played all day with Gavin and Addie.

That afternoon I picked her up and we went to Jim and Summer Marsh's cabin. It was Wrigley's birthday and his mom and dad had bought him a little go cart so he was delighted to give Tru lots of rides on it. It was also his grandpa Dave Barta's birthday, so Dave and Diana were at the cabin too, and Jim took us all for a boat ride to a restaurant on Long Lake for supper.

She spent all day Tuesday with Danny Smothers. We went to Our Savior's Lutheran Church in Campia where the kids played on the playground and I watered the flowers on graves. Then we went to McDonald's for lunch and then to the beach in Cumberland. Oh, one very exciting thing, while Tru was in the water playing with four other little girls, a muskrat swam right past them. They all screamed, and when I heard what was going on I told them to get out of the water. Well, they rushed in to shore as though there was a shark out there. One little girl though, decided to stay in the water and try to catch the muskrat. She got close enough to touch its tail, and it turned around and hissed at her. Then she came out, I'll tell you. I was very much afraid she was going to get bitten. Danny missed that excitement because he was at the playground playing with a new friend. Anyway, everyone survived, and Tru had a great time telling everyone about the rogue muskrat.

The Barron County Fair was, once again this year, absolutely wonderful. Duane and I went on Friday, and the 4-H flower and plant exhibits were still nice and fresh and beautiful.

The wood working projects were simply amazing. Hard to believe there are so many talented kids out there. And the animals were all blue-ribbon beasts as far as I could tell. The kids must work all day long keeping them clean and curried. I wouldn't want to be a judge.

Have you ever been to the Lumberjack Days in Hayward? If not, it's worth the trip up. Jill Adams invited us to go along with her, her dad, Gerald, and Jerry Marsh this past Saturday. We were so glad we went! There is something going on from about 6:00 until 10:00 p.m. Log rolling, log running, axe toss, people competing to get through logs with one person buck saws, axes, chain saws and two person buck saws. The most exciting event, though, was the pole climbing. Men climbed up sixty feet and ninety feet and, I'm not kidding about this, they climbed those poles and came down faster than most people could have walked that distance. They went up fast, but they came down so fast they almost looked like they were plummeting out of control. I took videos of the events, and when I showed three-year-old Kane the video of the pole climbing he wanted to try it. I told him that he can't do it now because it's too dangerous, and that when he is 25 and I'm dead, it will still be too dangerous, and he can't do it then either. I'll come back and haunt him if necessary.

Duane gave me the joke this week. A middle aged man and his wife went to the mall to shop and they left their cell phones at home. They got separated somehow, and he searched all over for her to no avail. Suddenly he spotted a beautiful twenty-something woman, walked over to her and asked if he could talk to her for awhile. She was curious and asked why, and he said, "I can't find my wife, but if I talk to you for about two minutes she will magically show up." Yup. That sounds about right.

I guess that's about all I know from Barronett this week. Please remember to get your kids registered for our Bible School. It's really going to be a lot of fun. See you next time.

OBITUARIES

Eva Irene DeNucci
Eva Irene DeNucci (Danielson), 93, of Cumberland, passed away peacefully surrounded by her family on Wednesday, July 18, 2018, at Barron Care and Rehab in Barron.

Eva "Irene" was born April 9, 1925 in Yankton, SD, to "Eva" Evalina (DeMars) and Griffith Hall Danielson. She was the first of three girls born to Eva and Griff. Irene and her husband, Joe, both graduated from Cumberland High School, after which Irene attended nursing school at the College of St. Catherine in St. Paul, MN while Joe went off to basic training and WWII. Joe and Irene were married in January, 1945 at St. Anthony Church in Cumberland. Joe was still in service, having just returned from Italy, and he was planning to be shipped off to Japan. However, when those plans quickly changed to deployment in Nebraska, Irene left nursing school at St. Kates to be with Joe in Nebraska and start their family. Irene and Joe moved several times due to Joe's work, living in Cumberland, Beloit, and Milwaukee over the course of his career.

Irene was heavily invested in civic affairs, her community and her church. Over the years she served on the Board of Directors for the Women's Chamber of Commerce in Beloit; helped form and lead the Beloit Area Community Catholic Council, serving on the Madison Diocese Central Planning Committee; she was the Director of Life Counseling for the Greater Beloit Area Program; and was a member of the Wisconsin State-line Community Planning Council. Irene attended the Governor's Conference on Children and Families as a delegate for her area.

Irene was selected Woman of the Year by the Catholic Women's Club of Beloit; she served as the president of the Rock County Deanery Council of Catholic Women; she was Director of the first Birthright Chapter in Wisconsin; she was the president of the Beloit Republican Women's Club; she served on the diocesan pastoral council in the Superior diocese.

She was a devoted member of St. Mary's Catholic Church and assisted with its eventual merger into the Cumberland Catholic Community with St. Anthony Church. Both she and Joe served as Eucharist Ministers in several parishes. Irene would also take time to be a Eucharist Minister for the Cumberland Extended Care facility and would often bring her guitar along to sing for the residents. She was actively involved as a supporter of the Red Barn Theater in Rice Lake and helped form a Cumberland Art Group in support of the Red Barn. After Joe retired, Irene and Joe moved back to Cumberland in order to spend more time with their growing extended family and to travel. During their lifetime, she and Joe traveled extensively in Europe, visited Alaska several times, and wintered in Fort Myers and Fernandina Beach, FL. With children scattered around the world, she and Joe always had a reason to travel. Irene and Joe loved being with their family and made it their priority to spend time with all of their children, grandchildren and great grandchildren.

She is survived by her children; eight sons: Donald (Paula) DeNucci, Michael DeNucci, Joseph (Christine) DeNucci, John (Sara) DeNucci, Peter DeNucci, Daniel (Leigh) DeNucci, Tony (Shelly) DeNucci and Philip (Nancy) DeNucci; three daughters: Connie Thomas, Kathy (David) Domanski and Mary (Tom) Cellitti; 25 grandchildren; 19 great grandchildren and one daughter-in-law, Kathy Rose DeNucci and her sister, Mary Ellen DeNucci. She was preceded in death by her loving husband of 71 years, Joseph Martin DeNucci, her son William DeNucci, her parents, and her sister Corine (Petman).

A Mass of Christian Burial will be held at 11:00 AM

Tuesday, July 31st, 2018 at St. Anthony Catholic Church, Cumberland, with Father Tom Thompson officiating. Burial will be in St. Anthony Cemetery, Cumberland.

Visitation will be from 9:30 - 11:00 AM on Tuesday at the church. Lunch in the Social Hall at the Church will follow the burial service.

Pallbearers are Andrew DeNucci, Chris DeNucci, David Cellitti, Joe DeNucci, Justin DeNucci and Tony Cellitti and honorary pallbearers are Angie (DeNucci) Taraboi, Anna DeNucci, Erin DeNucci, Heidi (DeNucci) Zender, Kiara DeNucci, Lisa (Cellitti) Herman, and Meredith DeNucci. Irene's family would like to offer our sincere gratitude to all the staff at Barron Care and Rehab for the exceptional care, support and love they showed our Mom while she was a resident for the past two years.

In lieu of flowers, memorials can be made to Catholic Relief Services.

"Why?"

By: Pastor Preston Paul
St. Matthews Lutheran Church, Almena

Sadly, tragedy and violence sells and dominates the airways and cyberspace. Killings, war and disasters fill eyes instantly, even constantly. Suffering everywhere. Why?...a fair and good question. Where is God? Does God Care? It may seem that God doesn't even exist. These questions and feelings are nothing new to humankind. The Bible's answer to evil and suffering is straight forward: sin. Human rebellion against God is the source of evil and suffering. The evil that human beings are capable of causes tremendous suffering. May beholding and suffering and injustices not drive us away from God, but to Him.

Jesus is the only source of life and salvation from suffering and sin. God out of justice cursed the world out of fatherly divine goodness and love, in order to drive His creation back to Him. He desires life, not death and suffering. Sometimes the suffering that is incurred is a result of individual decisions and choices. Quite often, we simply don't know why suffering has taken place. The answer to why is always in God. He knows. His plans and purposes are often intentionally hidden and beyond our understanding...He is after all, God. It would be good and wise to "disconnect" and be more connected to those around us. There is plenty of evil and suffering in our own homes, and just outside our doors.

Your family, friends and neighbors who suffer need you, and you need them. Those who witnessed an obviously innocent man (Jesus) suffering horrible cruelty at the hands of His own people, didn't know the why then...But we do now. Behind, "hidden in," Jesus' suffering and death on the cross was God's good will towards His creation and desire for all humankind to come to Him for life, relief and salvation. We are free to bring our suffering, complaints and fears to God. He truly understands and is well aware. We pray for strength and relief for ourselves and others according to His will and trusting His merciful hand in the end, we know that when Jesus returns God will free His children from all suffering, along with the entire creation...and the "why?" will be answered.

Airport Happenings..

to youth ages 9-17 on Saturday Aug 25 from 10am-2pm. Bring your kids to the airport for a free airplane ride. Sandi Randal has been busy teaching people to fly. She is concentrating on float plane instruction right now. You have probably seen her splash in and out of Beaver Dam Lake. If you or your kids are interested in a career in Aviation now is the time to start looking at it. Over the next ten years the industry will be looking at severe shortages of workers in all area of aviation. There will be thousands of openings for pilots, mechanics, avionics technicians, airport managers, heavy equipment operators, air traffic controllers and hundreds of other jobs linked to aviation and airports.

The pancake breakfast and airshow are scheduled for Sunday Aug 26 from 7am-12pm. We will have a Blackhawk helicopter from the National Guard here along with a Vietnam War Huey helicopter and helicopter rides. We are anticipating a few WWII warbirds along with other interesting aircraft from around the area. Skydivers will start the airshow with performances from at least three of our local aerobatic pilots. Last year, in the weeks leading up to Rutabaga Festival we garnered some complaints from our neighbors concerning the aerobatics pilots practicing for the world championships they were headed to after Rutabaga. For the few times they were expected to be out here this year we limited their practices to two hours and I offered to call people when they were coming so they could plan accordingly.

I have one neighbor that has taken advantage of that offer. Two weeks ago three of the pilots were here to practice and flew five 15 minute routines and once again people complained. The airport commission has elected to close the aerobatic box to practice on Sundays and still limit practice time to two hours in a good will attempt to keep our neighbors happy. My offer to call people to notify them when a practice is scheduled is still open. Please call me at 715-205-4474 and give me your phone number and I will be more than happy to call so you can plan to be somewhere else for those two hours.

The Island City Aero Club sponsors the pancake breakfast and has been a wonderful supporter of the airport and has paid for many of the improvements made at the airport. Your airport is a beautiful facility and is recognized by many in the state as being one of the nicest small airports in Wisconsin. The Island City Aero Club is trying to attract new members in an effort to purchase a club airplane to offer a less expensive avenue into flying instruction and flight to its members. Dues are $10.00 a year. If you are interested in flying or know of a plane someone might be willing to sell or donate to the club please give me a call for information. You don't have to be a pilot to be a member or supporter.

We're all keeping our fingers crossed for good weather for the Rutabaga Festival this year. Hope to see you out here. Have a wonderful summer.
