

Crash on Hwy. 53 leaves two fatalities

On Sunday, September 23, 2018, at 12:50 a.m. the Barron County Sheriff's Department received a 911 call of a semi vs car accident on Hwy 53 north of Haugen.

Deputies from the Barron County Sheriff's Department along with the Rice Lake Police Department, Bear Lake Haugen Fire Department, Washburn County Sheriff's Office, Rice Lake Fire Department, LMC Ambulance and Life Link Helicopter responded to the scene.

Upon arrival it was determined that a semi loaded with liquid oxygen driven by Jeremy Loeffelholz, age 43 of Orfordville, WI, was traveling north on Hwy 53.

A car traveling south being driven by Mathew Krear, age 28 of Chetek, crossed the median and struck the semi head on. Krear and his passenger, Morgan Lasley, age 20 of Chetek, were both deceased at the scene. Loeffelholz was treated at the scene and released.

No oxygen was released during the crash and Hwy 53 was closed for about two hours. The accident remains under investigation by the Barron County Sheriff's Department with the assistance of the Barron County Medical Examiner and is being reconstructed by the Wisconsin State Patrol.

News from City Hall

by Julie Kessler, Clerk-Treasurer, City of Cumberland

Public Fire Protection Charge & Budgets

It is that budget time of year again and that is what we will be working on at City Hall for the next couple of months. This is actually why the Public Fire Protection Fee change came about. The state has imposed strict levy limits on municipalities since 2005. Under the current limit, a municipality may increase its property tax levy over the prior year by the percentage increase in equalized value from net new construction. For the City of Cumberland, that is .757% or $7,650. Doesn't go very far with cost of operation increases that we have no control over. In the past, the City has been using property tax dollars to subsidize the utility at the rate of approximately $177,251 per year for facilities in the City.

Due to the budget constraints and reduction in State Shared Revenue, the City can no longer afford to subsidize the Utility through the use of general property taxes. Utility customers will now have to pay the Public Fire Protection charge. This means that all Utility customers will now be treated equally and non-profits, including the City, will now pay for their share of these costs.

If you have questions, feel free to contact me at clerk@cityofcumberland.net or at 715-822-2752.

Comstock man charged in burglaries

Kyle A Craine, 29, of Comstock, has been charged with two counts of burglary of a building or dwelling.

The criminal complaint states that on April 7, 2018, Barron County Deputy Storberg and Detective Nelson, responded to 20 1/2 Avenue in Comstock to a complaint of a burglary.

When Deputy Kolb arrived at the residence, he made contact with K. S., who stated that he arrived at his cabin that afternoon to go fishing and discovered that his garden shed and camper had been entered and items taken from inside them.

He advised the last time someone should have been at the property was March 17th, and that when he arrived, he discovered someone had entered the property, but noticed there were no tracks in the fresh snow, leading him to believe that the incident had occurred prior to the snowfall on April 4th. The property consisted of a cabin, a pull behind trailer/camper, and a garden utility shed. K. S. said that the cabin had not been entered, but that a TV was missing from the camper and other items had been taken from the shed. He said that the lock had been removed from the garden shed, and that it was not found anywhere in the area of the shed. K. S. said that the shed had been closed up, but the lock was gone.

K. S. said that the camper did not appear to be damaged, but he knew the camper had been locked. He said he believed someone was able to pry open, or pull the door open, as there is a small gap on the rear door of the camper, and that the door was still locked, but not properly shut when he found it. He reported that a 26 inch RCA flat panel television, estimated at $150-$200, an Interstate deep cycle marine battery, estimates at $120.00; a Minnkota transom trolling motor estimated value of $150.00 and a gray kayak, estimated value of $350.00 had been taken.

Deputy Kolb observed that the property did not have a plowed driveway, and that K. S. had accessed the property from a neighbor's residence which was in very close proximity to the camper.

On April 23, 2018 at approximately 10:00 a.m. Deputy Storberg was dispatched to Loon Lake on 1 1/2 Street to a burglary complaint. When she arrived on scene she made contact with W. B. the homeowner, and J. B., his son. W. B. said he had gotten a call from his neighbor that his shed door was open at his cabin and that it may have been broken into. He said that his neighbor had just gone to open his cabin for the spring and that his neighbor's cabin had also been broken into.

W. B. said that when he arrived at his residence the driveway had not been plowed, and there was over a foot of snow, so he used his neighbor's driveway and walked to the residence. He said he found that the screen window to the mas-

Grand Opening!

Northern Lakes Community Church has finished construction of its new Ark Ministry Center facility.

Ark Ministry Center Grand Opening! Community Welcome!

It is time to celebrate and open the doors of Northern Lakes Church's new Ark Ministry Center! We want to specifically invite you and everyone in our Cumberland community to join us on Sunday, October 7, at 10:00 AM for this special event.

After nearly four years of planning, building (approximately 90% built by church volunteers), donations, and miracles, we are excited to welcome you to attend the 10:00 AM service and stay for our celebration, which will include activities for the whole family. Food, fun and fellowship will continue until about 3:00 PM. Tours of the new building are scheduled during this event. You'll see the new building, including a great hall for gathering, offices and classrooms, a full kitchen, and a full-size gymnasium/worship center!

We built this building not only to use as our church, but also to serve and share with our community. We envision the Ark Ministry Center as a safe place for parents to bring their children to learn and play, especially during the cold winter months, and year-round as a place for teams to practice their sports, a venue for community concerts, etc.

Church and community activities have begun in the new Ministry Center. The very first was the funeral of one of our valued and respected members, Jean Ricci, with nearly 300 guests paying their respects. As well, we currently have Peterson Wrestling Camp on Sunday and Monday evenings. Starting October 9, dance/exercise classes are scheduled on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, and the Cumberland School District will hold their "Respect" class for freshman on October 19.

In addition to various community event opportunities, NLC offers regularly scheduled adult Bible studies, Sunday adult and youth group classes, and children's Sunday school, Awana/Impact groups for youth on Wednesday, and vacation Bible school in August. Please visit our website at <http://northernlakeschurch.com/calendar/> to view our full schedule. We also encourage you to contact Duane Most, Director of Ark Activities, through the church office at 715-822-5502, to discuss your ideas for utilizing this facility.

Northern Lakes Church is becoming a vibrant community of Jesus followers who are experiencing God and living out His kingdom in our personal lives, in our families, and in our community. We believe God loves us so much, that He accepts us just as He finds us, but we also know that He loves us too much to leave us where He found us. "Hope begins here" is a sign found over the door and in our hearts at NLC. Come, see, and experience this yourself.

On Sundays at 9:00 AM begins our adult, youth and child classes prior to the sermon service which begins at 10:00 AM. Contemporary Christian songs, followed by prayer and announcements, a reading of relevant Bible scripture, and then a Bible-based teaching is delivered in a way that you can understand and relate to the Word of God. Special emphasis is given to family, youth and children. Come and see for yourself. You'll be glad you did.

Be sure to visit us at 825 Berdan Street and at <http://northernlakeschurch.com> for more information. You are welcome here!

Cumberland Fire Department

“Safety Tip of the Month”

Hunting Safely

It's the time of year when hunters head to their favorite tree stand, jump in the duck boat off to their favorite pond or walk their favorite field in search of small game.

The Cumberland Fire District wants to remind all hunters of some important safety tips –

1. Always carry a waterproof fire-starting kit in a pocket. If you get wet, being able to start a fire is crucial to staving off hypothermia.

2. Have your boat, motor, and trailer serviced before the season starts. Make sure everything mechanical is in good running order and that batteries are at full charge.

3. Always wear a certified personal flotation device when running or paddling a boat.

4. Never go hunting without telling somebody where you're going and when you expect to return.

5. Stock your boat or ATV box with safety gear: survival rations, rope, flare gun, space blanket, hand axe, whistle, etc.

6. Attach a small compass to your parka via pin or string. This way, it'll always be there when you need it.

7. Never attempt to run an overloaded boat. If hunting on a large river or lake, use a boat that's big enough to handle rough water.

8. Treat every gun as if it's loaded, even when you're sure it's not.

9. Before each hunt, open your gun's action and check the muzzle for obstructions.

10. Carry a cell phone in a waterproof plastic bag when hunting. Cell phone service is available in most places around the country. If an emergency arises, you can call for help.

Tree Stand Safety Tips

11. Always wear a full-body harness also known as a fall-arrest system. Connect to your tether line and keep your tether line short. The tether is designed to keep you in the seat, not to catch you after you fall.

12. Always have three points of contact while climbing into and out of the tree stand: This means two hands and one foot or two feet and one hand at all times.

13. Always use a haul line to raise and lower your unloaded firearm or bow into and out of the stand. You can also use the haul for other things like a heavy backpack.

14. Use a lifeline when climbing up and down, this keeps you connected from the time you leave the ground to the time you get back down.

Wishing all Hunters a successful and SAFE hunt!

Filmmaker John Mitchel to visit Library

It will be an interactive experience to insight the imagination.

Opinion

By Craig Bucher

For those of you who read my column, you noticed that I missed writing last week. Well, I have been in the hospital. All of a sudden my mortality just sort of snuck up and bit me. I can remember going into the bathroom and the next thing I can recall is waking up, on the couch, with Sharon talking to me. She says she found me on the bathroom floor bleeding from the face. I guess the vanity is harder than my head. Her sister, Kathy, came over and they got me to the emergency room. Three days later they let me out with no real diagnosis as to the reason I passed out. I am healing nicely but may require a bit of facial surgery. I won’t know until all the swelling goes away. I have no energy and get tired easily. I guess I am, now more than ever, thankful for each day that goes by with me feeling well. Life is a precious thing and it can be gone in a twinkling of the eye. I had some more added to this column when I got a phone call that informed me that longtime Cumberland resident Al Fox had suddenly passed away. His wife Debbie worked for the Advocate before she moved across the street to work at Cumberland Federal. Through the years she has remained a good friend. Sharon and I are extremely sorry. Our thoughts and prayers are with you Debbie. God bless!

SEE YOU NEXT WEEK!

P.S. God willing, I will write a column next week!

LETTERS Editor

“Pro Education” Governor?

To the Editor:

Whoa! I don’t believe that is true!

This governor, Walker, wants to be known as the “pro-education governor”. It’s time to look at the facts. It is true that he and the legislature plowed a large sum of money into the K-12 system this year, but one year’s increase in funding does not make up for several years cuts. In the first 6 years of Walker’s control of the state, he cut the K-12 budget by nearly 13% while at the same time Minnesota increased its support by nearly 7%. This budget falls short by $300 million of what the 2010-2011 budget would have been if increased at the rate of inflation.

Part of this year’s funding is just an election-year ploy to get votes—giving every school-age kid $100 for school supplies. I guess the governor thinks he can buy your vote!

If we start back at the beginning of this governor’s reign, we have to begin with Act 10 which was a major blow to all levels of education because it was the governor’s way of balancing the budget off the backs of all state employees, but especially teachers, by increasing their contributions to their pensions and health insurance. Teachers in this state are already among the lowest paid in the nation. This only added to their plight.

Not only has Walker underfunded K-12 students, he has hurt the University of Wisconsin System. In his first year he cut the system by $300 million and has continued to add to that deficit in following years. Now he wants to hold student tuition at the same level for the next several years without compensating each segment of the University for the loss in funds it will suffer. If you think all these cuts have not hurt the University, you need to check out various majors to see the dramatic cuts made in the offerings in such fields as music, arts, and some sciences.

This governor is not the “pro-education governor”, he is anything but! He has hurt education in this state at all levels. The K-12 students are less well funded, the University of Wisconsin System is no longer the model for the rest of the nation to imitate, and the teachers are worse off than ever. We need to elect someone who truly is pro-education. Vote for Tony Evers!

Fear of technology not new, but history says humans prevail

MADISON, Wis. – Admit it: Somewhere in the back of your head, you’re worried that Artificial Intelligence will somehow triumph over your own Above-Average Intelligence. You suspect a new computing age powered by AI will make your job obsolete, or that a robot will soon build another robot that will do the same.

It’s true that AI, robotics and other emerging technologies will squeeze out many jobs that could be computerized – but it will also create many more jobs that likely pay better, create more economic activity and generally benefit society.

That’s the take of Byron Reese, a successful tech entrepreneur, futurist and author of “The Fourth Age: Smart Robots, Conscious Computers, and the Future of Humanity.” He will speak Oct. 17 at the first WARF Innovation Day at the Discovery building in Madison.

“I think the case that AI is going to eat jobs is very hard to make,” said Reese, who has led two companies to initial public offerings, sold three and written extensively on the effects of technology on society. “Some employment will be disrupted by AI, but people have always adjusted and advanced. An order-taker won’t become a geneticist, of course, but the real question is: Can everybody do a job that may be a little harder than the job they now have?”

Reese points to history for evidence. The human ability to control fire, the invention of the wheel, development of language and the advent of agriculture over countless millennia were all tech transitions in their time, often leading to the rise of civilizations. Within the past 250 years or so, technological transitions have included the shift from animal power to steam power, the assembly line, the electrification of industry, the petroleum age and the coming of the internet.

The shift to steam power was accomplished over a few decades, Reese noted, all the while creating more jobs and better jobs than were lost. Other transitions were similarly brief, and more jobs – not fewer – were invariably the result.

“The biggest technological trends in the last 250 years didn’t bump the unemployment figures,” Reese said. “I don’t have any reason to believe that what is happening now with AI and other developments is any more, or any less, likely to costs jobs overall than what has happened in the past.”

Reese is not alone. The U.S. edition of the Guardian reported a year ago that fear of technology is nothing new. “In the past, reports of the death of human jobs have often been greatly exaggerated, and technology has created a lot more jobs than it has wiped out. It’s called the “Luddite Fallacy,” (a reference) to the 19th century group of textile workers who smashed the new weaving machinery that made their skills redundant. Further, in the last 60 years automation has only eliminated one occupation: Elevator operators.”

Closer to home, workforce experts such as Matt Kures of the UW-Extension also agree. “Change is difficult, but if technology hadn’t pushed that change, we would still be manufacturing buggy whips,” Kures said.

Reese is a part of the lineup for the Oct. 17 event, which is being produced by the Wisconsin Alumni Research Foundation, a 95-year-old organization that handles many UW-Madison discoveries. Other segments of the program will demonstrate how technology isn’t standing still.

Quick pitches or innovation awards will highlight campus-based discoveries such as machines that can see around corners; artificial vascular grafts; improved drug development platforms; renewable chemicals for paints, coatings and adhesives; using cosajaba oil as food for high-value fish; and a breakthrough that could neutralize the common cold.

Reese will speak about halfway through the Innovation Day event, which will run from 1 p.m. through a reception at the Discovery Building, 330 N. Orchard St., which is across from Union South on the UW-Madison campus.

Depressions and recessions come and go, of course, but tech advancements spur growth over time. Relax: Your own brain can’t be replaced by a robot, but it might be used to work with one.

Still is president of the Wisconsin Technology Council. He is the former associate editor of the Wisconsin State Journal.

ter bedroom in the northeast corner of the residence had been cut, but the window had been locked. He eventually found that someone had forced entry to the front door of the cabin and both the utility sheds on the property. He said that one of the sheds did not have a lock on it, an the other had been forced.
W. B. showed Deputy Storberg the front door to the residence, and it appeared someone had used a flat-head screwdriver or similar item to bust the molding around the lock and gain entry to the cabin. W. B. said that several of the drawers inside the cabin were open and things were moved around. He reported that items missing from the kitchen were a basket, some phone chargers, USB charging cords, glasses and sunglasses, food from the cupboards, a bottle of vodka and possibly a bottle of gin. Miscellaneous tools, such as screwdrivers and a flashlight which had been around the house were also missing. Items missing from the cabin included fishing tackle and numerous miscellaneous or decorative items, gas cans, a trolling motor, and an air compressor were taken from the sheds.

On June 19, 2018, Detective Nelson was briefed by Detective Olson, regarding the arrest of Kyle Craine for his involvement in the theft of an ATV. During the interview Craine confessed to participating in burglaries in eastern Polk County and he drove out with Detective Olson and pointed out specific properties where he had committed burglaries.

On June 28, 2018 Detective Nelson interviewed Craine, during which he confessed to burglarizing the above-described properties. He said he walked from a relatives house to K.S's cabin. He said he retrieved a key from inside the camper and unlocked the shed door., and he kept to lock so as to not leave it behind. He said he was able to get in the camper by maneuvering his hand through a crack and reaching the handle to open it. He said he remembered stealing a TV, a marine battery, a trolling motor, and a kayak from the property.

When Detective Nelson asked what he did with the items, he said he gave the TV to a subject for assisting him, and the kayak (which had previously been recovered) was traded to a female subject from Clayton.
When asked about the other burglary, he said he didn't recall who pried the door open, but they got into the place and looked around and took some things. He recalled taking a red portable air compressor, a bicycle, several food items and vodka. He said he also took some miscellaneous small tools, some fishing tackle, an old set of binoculars, decorative wall hangings and a trolling motor.
If convicted Craine may be fined not more than $50,000 or imprisoned for not more than 25 years, or both. His preliminary hearing was held September 20, 2018.

Football Team Defeats Bloomer; Barnes Has Big Game

The Cumberland Beavers rallied from a 22-12 halftime deficit last Friday night, to defeat the Bloomer Blackhawks 36-22 in front of a large hometown crowd. The win was the Beavers first over their southern neighbors in the past six years and keeps them in contention for the HON title. “We stayed the course in the second half and never flinched when we fell behind. It was a great team victory,” said Coach Corey Berghammer.

The Beavers swarming defense caused five Bloomer turnovers after intermission holding the Blackhawks scoreless in their come from behind victory. The comeback included two defensive scores, one on an Andrew Barnes interception return of 16 yards and a second on a Reid Olson fumble recovery, which he returned 97 yards to paydirt.

Barnes return was part of a huge night for the Beavers senior. Barnes had three interceptions in the contest, giving him six on the season, while offensively catching five passes for 169 yards and a touchdown. His scoring pass from Reid Olson covered 99 yards, his eighth six-pointer of the season. For his efforts, Barnes has been nominated for the State Player of the Week.

Numerous other Beavers also had big nights. Olson continued his excellent quarterback play with 13 completions in 25 attempts for 277 yards and three scores. Besides his scoring toss to Barnes, Olson hit Jack Martens and Adam Nyhus for two other scores. Martens caught four balls in the contest for 49 yards. The passing game was much needed, as Cumberland would only rush for 42 yards in 16 attempts against a big Blackhawk line.

Martens also had a big defensive night as did Nyhus, Travis Runberg, and several other Cumberland defenders. “We’ve been known for our offense the past few years, so it was good to see our defense step up when needed,” added Berghammer.

Cumberland now readies for a trip to Hayward this Friday night in a 7:00 pm start. “The kids have been preparing well and focusing on our game plans. They are doing things the right way during our preparation,” Berghammer concluded.

Soccer Team Has 2 and 1 Week; Stand at 5 and 5 on the Season

The Cumberland Soccer team went 2 and 1 last week, raising their overall mark to 5 and 5 on the season. The team played B/W on Tuesday and now travel to Barron this Thursday for a Middle Border contest against the Bears. Game time is 4:30 pm.

The loss was a 7-0 defeat to the State Ranked Amery Warriors. “They are well coached and very talented,” said Coach BJ Brenna. One of the hi-lights in the contest, was the return of All-Conference defender Max Brenna, who has been out all year with an injury.

The two victories came over Spooner by 1-0 and 3-1 scores. Aaron Woodly was strong in goal in both wins.

In the 1-0 victory, Ethan Sandman got the lone goal on a counter attack, scoring after strong passes from Yannick Woehle and Kevin Koser. The contest was played in wet conditions.

On Friday, the defense was again strong as the Beavers took a two-goal victory. “The back line of Tyler Bohn, Ethan Sandman, Zach Bertelsen, and Andrew Cunningham worked really well together. They made it tough for Spooner to get shots,” said Coach Brenna.

The Beavers, meanwhile, got two goals from Chase Lussier and another from Sandman, who rebounded his own penalty kick. Kevin Koser picked up an assist. “These victories over Spooner came with some excellent defensive play by both teams. We seem to be finding a real rhythm in our play,” added Coach Brenna.

Volleyball Team Splits Conference Pair; At Barron This Thursday

The Cumberland Beavers Volleyball Team continued HON play last week, by splitting a pair of contests, defeating Hayward and losing to Ladysmith. The team also participated in a Tournament at Northwestern on Saturday. The team gets back into Conference play this week, including a Thursday night match-up in Barron in a 7:00 pm start.

Cumberland swept Hayward in three straight games last Tuesday in Educator Appreciation Night. “We played well in a well balanced attack,” said Coach Jessica Olson.

Maya Brenna had seven digs, Ania Hyatt eight kills, while Izzy West, Payton Nyhus, and Amie West all served at 100 percent.

Thursday, Cumberland dropped a tough five game set at Ladysmith. “We battled back after Ladysmith won the first two games to send it to a fifth game. Unfortunately, we came up a little short,” added Olson.

Ania Hyatt had 25 kills, and seven blocks in a great individual night in Cumberlands loss. Izzy West added 38 assists, Lauren Green contributed eight kills, and Kiya Talbot was 21 for 21 serving in the five games.

Cumberland completed their week by traveling to Maple on Saturday, where they went 1 and 3 as a team on the day. The teams lone victory came over Solon Springs, while they took losses to Hudson, Washburn, and Eau Claire Emmanuel. “Lauren Green, and Izzy West had nice all around games, while Ania Hyatt blocked well and Kiya Talbot played some good defense,” concluded Olson.

Sturgeon on the Flambeau River

Hello friends,
I like to catch big fish and I like to catch big fish out of a canoe. This week I spent 21-hours in a row living in my canoe and trying to catch a legal sturgeon (60-inches). I was alone and anchored on the Flambeau River in Rusk County southwest of Ladysmith.

Sunday, September 16th
High 85, low 50

So here is my plan and I have been looking forward to this adventure since the last time that I was here, and I think that was two years ago. I would canoe up to the "sturgeon hole" where I would drop two anchors and settle in, until noon the next day.

If I got a big fish on I would pull anchor, and let my monster from below pull me around (the last time that I did this I caught a 54). Catching a large sturgeon out of a canoe in a fast flowing river is crazy with a capital K, and that is why I do this. I also fish sturgeon because once you are set up it is time to relax.

What is my version of set up? Two rods out, both have 65-pound braided line and are weighted with 1.5 ounce egg sinkers, a large hook, and each has two night crawlers on it.

So I am truly in paradise and anyone that has spent time on the Flambeau or Chippewa Rivers knows what I mean, a constant view, lots of wildlife, and excellent fishing.

Naturally there has to be problems and mine was a constant flow of vegetation flowing down the river as it has ended its life cycle and high water is moving it towards the Gulf of Mexico. My problem, and it never ended, was that the longest I could fish without having up to three-pounds of weeds on each line was ten minutes. Weeds covering your bait means no fish.

On the other hand almost as soon as I started fishing I caught a 15-inch smallmouth bass. An hour later I caught a 19-incher that gave an excellent aerial show, and just before dark I caught my first sturgeon which was only 32-inches.

I did have a huge sturgeon clear the water not 30-feet from me and that was very inspiring.

Just about dark I figured I was settled in for the night and very comfortable in a lawn chair when my good buddy Joe Flater gave me a call and informed me that I was not in the "sturgeon hole". Joe or "Muskie Joe" guides on this river and if he told me to move I was going to.

So I paddled in the dark down river for one mile and found the "sturgeon hole" which I did by hitting the bottom of the river with my paddle until I found seven-feet of water.

I caught a catfish right away and another small sturgeon and the problem with the down river vegetation was really bad.

Once I fell asleep and had a dream that I was in Antarctica in this canoe doing this same thing. There were icebergs everywhere, and I was laying on the floor of my canoe watching the stars when a giant fish grabbed my bait and pulled my canoe underwater with me in it. That fish pulled my rig and me at breakneck speed and when I woke up listening to the current of the Flambeau I have to admit I was a bit scared.

Anyhow I never got out of my rig until 1:00 p.m. the next day. I drove home in a powerful thunderstorm, just about crashed my truck and that is my sturgeon story.

Mark Walters caught and released this 19-inch smallmouth bass while sturgeon fishing on the Flambeau River.

Vegetation floating down river made sturgeon fishing very difficult for Mark Walters.

Abiding Words

By: Pastor John Miels

St. Paul Lutheran Church, Cumberland

"If you abide in me, and my words abide in you, ask whatever you wish, and it will be done for you." John 15:7

In order for the words of the Lord really to abide in us, it seems clear that we should commit as many of them to memory-not only in our minds, but in our hearts-as we possibly can. "Your word have I hid in mine heart," the psalmist said, "that I might not sin against you" (Psalm 119:11).

There are many promises of blessing to those who have God's Word in their hearts. "For it will be pleasant if you keep them within you, if all of them are ready on your lips." (Proverbs 2:18). "My son, if you receive my words and treasure up my commandments with you, then you will understand the fear of the LORD and find the knowledge of God." (Proverbs 2: 1, 5).

Both the apostle Paul and the apostle Peter have noted the importance of Scripture memorization. Paul says: "Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; and admonishing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord" (Colossians 3: 16).

Peter's exhortation is as follows: "...beloved, I now write unto you; in both which I stir up our pure minds by way of remembrance: that you may be mindful of the words which were spoken before by the holy prophets (the Old Testament Scriptures) and of the commandment of us the apostles of the Lord and Savior (the New Testament scriptures)" (2 Peter 3:1-2). The words "be mindful" mean essentially "recall to mind."

To most of America's founding fathers, the Bible was true from beginning to end, and it was the only source upon which to establish the new, independent nation. If the absolute authority of God's Word is removed and moral relativity becomes the order of the day, on what will government and freedom stand? John Adams (one of America's founding fathers) emphasized this truth when he said "We have no government armed with power capable of contending with human passions unbridled by morality and religion. Our constitution was made only for a moral and religious people. It is wholly inadequate for the government of any other."

OBITUARIES...

Bruce F. Miller

Bruce Frederic Miller, 63, of Cumberland died Monday, September 24, 2018 at Cumberland Healthcare after a short, but intense battle with esophageal cancer. He was born October 12, 1954 in Shell Lake to Frederic and Shirley (Heinecke) Miller. Bruce graduated from Cumberland High School in 1973, then from Superior Technical College in 1974. He was married in Rice Lake on April 2, 1977 to Doreen Nelson. Bruce earned employment at 3M in Cumberland in 1981, and was nearing retirement. He was an avid fisherman and hunter, loved hours spent in his garden and watching the many varieties of birds, but his favorite time was spent with his grandchildren.

He is survived by his wife, Doreen of Cumberland; two children: Michael (Angela) Miller of Rice Lake and Cassandra (Ryan) Prechel of Hillsboro; two grandchildren: Abby and Brock Prechel; two siblings: David Miller of Cumberland and Lori (Randy) Flach of Cumberland; his mother, Shirley Miller of Cumberland; nieces, nephews, cousins and many other relatives and friends. Bruce was preceded in death by his father, Fred.

Funeral services will be held at 1:00 PM Thursday, September 27, 2018 at St. Paul Lutheran Church in Cumberland with Pastor John Miels officiating.

Serving as pallbearers are Dustin Flach, Cody Flach, Colin Johnson, Ted Newhouse, Chris Anderson and Ryan Prechel.

Visitation will be from two hours prior to the service at the church. A light luncheon will be provided during the visitation hours.

Skinner Funeral Home of Cumberland is serving the family.

Learn About Mental Health

September is Suicide Prevention Month and the first week in October is Mental Illness Awareness Week.

It is important to learn about suicide and mental health. Often someone who attempts or succeeds in taking his or her own life was struggling with depression or another form of mental illness. The hopelessness a person is feeling is too much and seems impossible to escape. We do not understand Mental Illness very well. We often identify it through how a person acts.

What causes mental illness? It can be physical; a person’s brain may be working differently. New medical tests can look at the living brain and show how it is working. We can study the blood flow, activity, and size of parts of the brain. This information shows a connection between a brain working differently and mental illness. If a close relative has a mental illness it can make it more likely that another family member will also have a mental illness. Life events can trigger symptoms of mental illness.

The good news is that we can prevent suicide and treat mental illness. Early recognition and treatment is important. Therapy and medication can be helpful. Using both therapy and medication is the most ef-

Victor M. Torres Gonzalez

He was married in Aguas Buenas, Puerto Rico on September 27, 1976 to Carmen S. Dingui. Victor worked many years as a stone mason in Florida and Puerto Rico, prior to his illness. He absolutely loved to fish nearly every day of the week.

He is survived by his loving wife, Carmen of Cumberland; children: Luis F. Torres of Cumberland, Jesus M. (Linnette) Torres of Cumberland, Loane “Janette” (Javier Lopez) Torres of Aguas Buenas, PR and Alexandra (Apolinar) Santiago of West Palm Beach, FL; grandchildren: Luis Javier Torres, Javier F. Torres, Giovanni Torres, Emmanuel Torres, Jonathan Torres, Nilmarie Lopez, Javier Lopez, Xavier Santiago, Alex X. Santiago, Alexandra M. Santiago and Yandel L. A funeral service will be held at 11:00 AM Saturday, September 29, 2018 at Skinner Funeral Home in Cumberland with Pastor Juan Carlos Bermudes officiating. Visitation will be from 4:00 to 7:00 PM Friday and for one hour prior to the service on Saturday.

Barronett News By Judy Pieper

Happy Autumn. It was a perfect weekend to usher fall in, wasn’t it? I hope you were able to be outside enjoying the beautiful weather.

I have to apologize for missing one of the most important things about last weekend’s Color Fest and that is the “thank you” from civic club members to all the people who helped make the Color Fest such a success. The Color Fest is the biggest event of the year here in Barronett, and it takes a lot of people to pull it off. There are so many volunteers that they could never name them all, but they appreciate everyone of them. And, they would also like to thank all the local businesses and individuals who donated items for the raffle. Thanks! It wouldn’t have happened without your help.

Bonnie Fogelberg sent me an e-mail with the names of the top three winners in all categories for the kids’ pedal tractor pull. Thanks, Bonnie. The winners are: Four-year old and under girls: Aubree G. Aubriella Benjamin and Brynlee Young. Four-year old and under boys: Treven Wohlk, Braden Genatempo and Noah Minor. Five and six-year old girls: Grace Metz (Grace was the only girl who pulled in that age group). Five and six-year old boys: Cameron Wohlk, Mauston Johnson and Mason Gilbert. Seven and eight-year old boys: Jason Benjamin and Austin Hornstein. Nine and ten-year old girls: Abigail Schultz and Isabella Neitzel. Nine and ten-year old boys: Evan Hornstein and Tyler Genatempo. Eleven and twelve-year old girls: Savanna Briese and Gabbe Newmann. (Savanna and Gabbe tied the first pull and had to have a pull-off). And, last, but certainly not least, eleven and twelve-year old boys: Thomas Gravinski and Carter Would. Congratulations to all our winners, and good luck in your next competitions.

Bonnie also mentioned that the next event at the community center will be the kids’ Halloween party, which will be held on Saturday, October 27th. There will be games, prizes, cake-walks, snacks, all kinds of things for the little ones to do. At this time civic club members are looking for volunteers to help with the games, make cakes for the cake-walk, etc. If you want to spend the afternoon having fun with some really cute kids, give one of the club members a call. They will certainly appreciate it.

And, another event coming soon is the Oak View AFH Scandinavian Dinner, which will be held the first weekend in November. I’ll let you know the exact date and time of that dinner later, but all of us at Oak View hope you will be able to come, enjoy the really great food, and visit with us for a while.

Cheryl Lehmann said that she had visited with Karen Lombard for a while last week. Karen had traveled up from her home in the sunny south to visit with friends and relatives in the area.

The Cumberland JV Football team is doing great this year-they are undefeated so far. Last Monday they played against Bloomer at Bloomer, and they beat them. From what I was told, this is the first time the JV has ever beaten Bloomer. I bet the varsity coach is happy to see those guys coming up.

Terry Goodrich and his friend, Maria, traveled to Northfield, Minnesota for Jesse James days a couple weeks ago. They watched the re-enactment of the James brothers defeat, and Terry shared that he had been one of the participants in the re-enactment a few years ago. He was one of the bad guys who got shot at that time. You probably know the story-the James gang were robbing banks everywhere and didn’t think anyone could stop them. Well, when they hit Northfield in 1876, they underestimated how tough the people in that little farm town were. I’m not sure how many were captured and killed, but it put a definite damper on the gang. If you call Terry I’m sure he could tell you names and numbers of the people on both sides of the law. He’s quite the American historian.

The Thon family, Lynn, Garrett, Kandice and Kane, and I hosted an Oak View AFH employee picnic at Lynn’s house on Sunday. The picnic was very well attended. We had lots of food and conversations, and played bean-bag toss games. It was a perfect day for the picnic, sunny and cool. We had a great day.

That’s about all I know this week. Remember, if you want to help out at the kids’ Halloween party and don’t know who the civic club members are, give me a call. I’ll put you in touch with someone who will be overjoyed to hear from you. See you next time.

Homecoming...

•The annual tailgate party at Endeavor Stadium from 5:30 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. The cost is $7.00 per plate which includes: Bona Casa cavatilli, sausage, breadstick, cookie and water or lemonade.

this all leads up to the Homecoming game against the Spooner Rails! The game starts at 7:00 p.m. Pregame activities include: delivery of the game ball by the Cumberland Cross Country team, introduction of the Homecoming Court and homecoming results from the day. Halftime will feature the Cumberland Marching Band and their field show entitled “Divine Comedy.”

Again this year, there will be no formal dance homecoming weekend. Instead, a Fall Formal will be held later in the fall.

Cumberland High School students and staff would like to extend a welcome to all CHS alumni and the community to attend their homecoming festivities.

I grew up in Evanston, IL which is home to Northwestern University. Back then, “Homecoming” always was NU’s not Evanston Township High School’s. It is so much more personal when it is the local High School’s event.

Football parties also meant only one thing in our house... Chili. Mom always made this recipe because it serves an army and you can doctor it anyway you like. It really is great on “chili” fall days.

Vera’s Chili

You can use whatever ground meat you want. I love it with beef and/or venison, but chicken and turkey work just as well. You can omit the meat all together for a vegetarian meal. Feel free to switch out colored peppers and types of beans for the Kidney beans - for some visual interest.

Ingredients

3 lbs. Ground meat
2 cups each - diced:
Onions
Green Peppers
Celery
60 oz. of canned whole tomatoes
60 oz. Dark red kidney beans - drained
12 oz. tomato paste
3 TBSP chili powder
3 TBSP minced garlic
1 TBSP salt
2 Tsp pepper
2 TBSP Worcestershire sauce
Tabasco/hot sauce to taste.
Butter

Garnish ideas:

Onions
Shredded cheese
Chopped jalapeños
Diced tomatoes
Sour cream
Fritos®

Directions:

1. In a very large pot put tomatoes (w/liquid), beans, tomato paste, garlic, Worcester-shire sauce and spices, stir and start to simmer.

2. Brown and drain the ground meat and add to pot.

3. Sauté the diced veggies in butter until translucent then add to pot.

4. Stir well, taste and add Tabasco sauce. Feel free to add more sauce or chili powder to bring it to the heat level you want. Continue simmering, uncovered, for at least an hour (the longer the better!).

Tip: If you find there is a canned tomato “aftertaste,” put a tablespoon of brown sugar in the pot!

Top with your choice of garnish and serve with some corn bread, saltine crackers and a salad for a great family meal.

Enjoy!
