Cumberland Healthcare welcomes New Year's Baby

Brooke Thompson and Taylor Paulson of Cumberland hold their new son, Zander Paulson. Zander is Cumberland Healthcare's New Year's Baby born on January 15, 2019, at 9:11 am weighing 7 lbs. 3 oz. and was delivered by Dr. Gary Degerman, OB/GYN. Cumberland Healthcare presented Brooke and Taylor with a gift certificate from the Chamber of Commerce and the Corner Boutique at Cumberland Healthcare. The Cumberland Piecemakers donated a beautiful, handmade baby quilt. Congratulations to Brooke and Taylor on their sweet baby boy Zander.

New All-Time Record Holder!

A huge congratulations to Reid Olson for becoming Cumberland's new record holder for the most wins in school history. Reid picked up his 146th win with a Championship at the always tough St. Croix Falls Invitational. It is quite an honor when you think of the number of excellent wrestlers to have gone through Cumberland High School. Reid broke the old record held by Trey Lundequam. Olson's season record stands at 31-2.

2018 Cumberland Fire District Annual Activity Report

Last year, 2018, proved to be an eventful year for The Fire Department as we responded to 127 calls for service. The statement that today's fire service does more than put out fires was proven by the 20 DIFFERANT call types we experienced this year. Here is a rundown of what we were called out for; 12 structure fires, 4 CO alarms, 36 medical assists, 16 false automatic alarms, 6 false called in alarms, 22 vehicle crashes, 1 vehicle fire, 9 haz-mat releases, 1 dumpster fire, 3 police assists, 5 grass/brush fires, 2 power lines down, 1 electrical box fire, 1 missing child, 1 drowning, 1 grain dryer fire, 2 chimney fires, 1 food left on stove fire, 1 grain bin rescue, 2 misc. service calls.

The average response time from page out to arrival on scene was 8 minutes and 17 seconds.

2003 man hours were consumed responding to and mitigating these calls. It should be noted that 123.75 man hours were consumed answering false alarms. This amounted to nearly $5,000 in man power and equipment usage costs. Please be reasonably sure that what you are reporting is an actual emergency. Also, before doing any significant burning outside, call the dispatch center and let them know. Barron 715-537-3106, Polk 715-485-8300.

1760 man hours were spent on training, drills and service projects. This includes 9 fire prevention events in our schools and other public venues. 10 smoke alarms and 9 carbon monoxide alarms were provided and installed by fire department members. If you are in need of any of these alarms, please let us know.

As of December 27, 2018 $43,572.69 was spent on wages and benefits. If this were a full time department with enough members to make a full response 24/7, the cost would have been in excess of $2.5 million. Just think of how that would impact our tax bills.

THANKS TO OUR SUPPORTERS we were able to purchase the following equipment during the year 2018. Two new thermal imaging cameras, a hydrogen cyanide detector, (this instrument tells us when we have been exposed to significant amounts of hydrogen cyanide which is a by-product of modern furnishings being burned). four sets of new turnout gear to replace out of compliance or worn gear. 2 new cold water suits, 1 new drop tank, 1 new

Minnesota mans dies after truck goes through ice on Balsam Lake

On the afternoon of Thursday, January 17, 2019 at 4:53 pm, the Polk County Sheriff's Office Dispatch Center received a 911 call that a vehicle had gone through the ice in the narrows between Balsam Lake and East Balsam. The caller advised that they had not seen anyone exit the vehicle. Emergency services and local law enforcement were immediately dispatched to respond to the location.

At approximately 5:30 pm, 63 year old David Maki, from Blaine MN was recovered by fire/rescue personnel from a silver Toyota Rav 4 bearing MN license plates which was almost fully submerged. CPR was administered and Maki was transported to the St. Croix Regional Medical Center. A medflight helicopter had been dispatched; however, hospital staff advised at 8:15 pm that Maki had passed away.

This incident remains under investigation by the Polk County Sheriff's Office and the Polk County Medical Examiner's Office.

The agencies assisting in the incident were as follows: Balsam Lake Fire Department and First Responders, Balsam Lake Police Department, Lakes Region EMS, the Polk County Sheriff's Office and the Polk County Medical Examiner's Office.

Tragic loss of life

A Minnesota man lost his life after his vehicle went through the ice in the narrows between Balsam and East Balsam Lakes. This is a poignant reminder to always know the ice conditions where you are traveling before venturing onto the ice. Please, please, please stay away from channels, river mouths, culverts and pinch points. Check your local bait shop for ice conditions. Ice is NEVER 100% safe. Always exercise caution. Many tragedies, such as this one, can be avoided.

Cumberland Healthcare Foundation Presents 5th Annual Progressive Dinner with a Purpose

The Cumberland Healthcare Foundation is excited to announce its 6th Annual "Dinner with a Purpose" Fundraiser on Friday, February 1, 2019, starting at 5:00 pm.

The event will be at the Community Center in Barronett, Wisconsin and begins at 5:00 pm with a social hour and wine stations, followed by a short program at 6:00 pm. At 6:30 pm you can enjoy a 4-course wine dinner catered by Bistro 63 and at 8:00 pm games and raffles. For entertainment, Larry Savina, Island Wines and Tim Grenier, Saratoga Liquor, are the "dueling winos."

Cumberland Healthcare is a nonprofit healthcare facility. As a nonprofit, all monies go right back to the facility and ultimately the community, we do not have shareholders. With your help, money raised at the fundraising event will go towards Bio fire laboratory equipment. Bio fire lab equipment allows for quicker results for certain lab tests, which means the provider can diagnose and treat patients faster. This technology, until recently, has only been available in larger healthcare facilities. Cumberland Healthcare is very fortunate to acquire

Card of Thanks

Paula Helstern and the family of Mark Kasper, would like to thank everyone for the thoughts, prayers and support extended to our family with cards, flowers, food and memorials for the loss of our beloved Mark "Spanky" Kasper.

Thank you to the many doctors and nurses and staff members at Cumberland Hospital, Marshfield Medical in Eau Claire and Marshfield, WI. for their compassionate care and concerns for him and for our whole family.

A very special thank you to Fr. Thompson, Deacon Steve and Deacon Greg for all their prayers and support extended to all of us, and most importantly the very special and personal funeral Mass at St. Ann's.

Many thanks to Shawn Muench and the St. Ann's choir for the beautiful music and the funeral committee for the delicious lunch served, and finally to the Skinner Funeral Home for all their care and help during these difficult days.

May God bless you all,

Paula Helstern and family,
Ann and Duane Nelson and family,
Kathryn and Donnie Klinkhammer and family,
Gloria Kasper and family

Card of Thanks

Margaret's Project Santa thanks all for your generous help this year. It was a difficult year for many families.

Thanks to your help, 80 Cumberland families received toys, clothing, personal care items, food boxes and a sense of caring this Christmas. Your part, big or small, was a critical piece in the puzzle giving families hope and dignity this Christmas.

Thank you to all who made beautiful quilts, collected or donated food, contributed money, clothing and toys, packed bags, shopped and made deliveries, telephoned and typed! The care and concern you have shown to others made Christmas special to many people this year.

Northwoods Notebook: The coffee group: a retiree's refuge

by Larry Werner

It's my habit, as I've mentioned before in this space, to walk from my home each morning to Peter & Annie's for a latte. I know it's an extravagance, but I justify my $4 coffee by telling myself I don't spend on smokes or booze.

On Wednesdays, the big table at Peter & Annie's coffee shop is filled with retired teachers. Among those at this weekly gathering are Sue Skinner, Chris Hopkins-Hile and Barb Lynch, to name a few of the friendly former educators who sometimes look up from their conversation to say hello to a retired newspaper guy.

They remind me of a group I joined several years ago at a coffee shop in south Minneapolis, where I lived at the time. I had moved from the suburbs to a city neighborhood because my two married children had settled there, just three blocks from each other and a block from my best friend, Bob.

So we moved to within a few blocks of two kids, their kids and my buddy, Bob, with whom I would walk to the coffee shop, which is called Sovereign Grounds. When Bob and I first started going there, we were a group of two. In the shop, we'd notice other old guys sitting with a friend, or perhaps alone. Being pathological extroverts, it wasn't long before we had joined a few others, and soon the group had grown to a dozen or more.

Among the guys in the group, which I still join when I'm in the Twin Cities, are a retired business owner, a retired librarian, an airline executive, a former educator, a corporate trainer, a retired postal worker, a 95-year-old classical pianist (who attended until he died a few weeks ago) and a dental-school professor. We talk about all kinds of things —books, movies, politics, grandkids and, often, nonsense.

Frequently, our conversation gets downright silly, and we joke that when our wives ask us what we discussed at coffee, we can't remember, because it wasn't significant enough to commit to memory.

What we talk about isn't why we meet each Saturday: It's the gathering itself that's the point. There's something very enjoyable about drinking coffee with other retirees and talking smart — or dumb. The medium, as Marshall McLuhan said, is the message. The medium, in this case, is a group of old guys drinking coffee.

The dental professor I mentioned above, Jim Gambucci, is only semi-retired. He once said he loves our Saturday gathering so much, "I start looking forward to it on Wednesday." To which one of us replied, "You need to get a life, Jim."

Truth be told, we all look forward to our goofy gathering. And it might even be healthy for us.

A book entitled The Blue Zones deals with the places in the world where people live the longest. One of those places is an island in Italy called Sardinia, where old men are known to gather daily to have coffee and wine and talk silly.

According to the book, "Men in this Blue Zone region are famous for their sardonic sense of humor. They gather in the street each afternoon to laugh with and at each other. Laughter reduces stress, which can lower one's risk of cardiovascular disease."

We've discussed whether our group at Sovereign Grounds should have a name. I suggested "Sovereign Sounds." But a better name might be "Sardinia Saturdays."

Whatever you call these coffee klatches, they are the highlight of the week for some.

We moved back to the suburbs when my kids and grandkids moved there, and then to Cumberland, where I spend most of my time. My pal, Bob, likewise, left the city for a suburban townhouse a year ago.

But every week, Bob religiously drives to Sardinia Saturday from the northern suburbs, as do I when I'm at my place south of the Cities, to join a group we are proud to have organized years ago.

As the retired Cumberland teachers know, a little coffee with conversation is a recipe that's hard to beat.

The Island City Academy Charter School held their second Gallery Walk event last Thursday, Janaury 17th. Held quarterly, the Gallery Walks give students, such as Devan pictured above, a chance to share their independant projects with other classes and the community. Devan's project was entitled Color Come To Life.

Ultra-Trail Runner Annie Weiss to speak at UWBC

Annie Weiss will tell about her 1200-mile record setting run across the Ice Age National Scenic Trail at 7 pm, on Friday, January 25. Her program entitled, "The Hills and Valleys of a Trail Runner" is sponsored by the Superior Lobe Chapter of the Ice Age Trail Alliance and will be held in the Blue Hills Lecture Room of Ritzinger Hall at UW-Eau Claire -Barron County in Rice Lake.

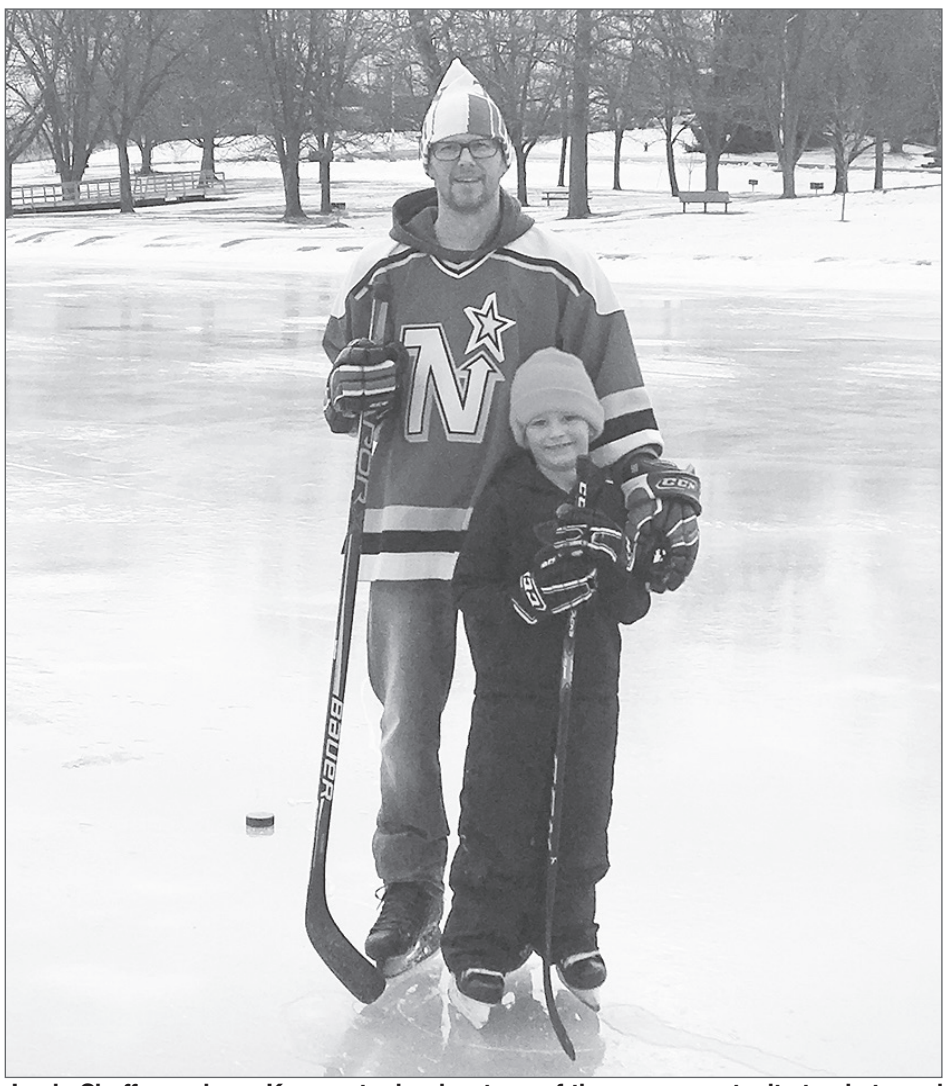

Weiss broke Jason Dorgan's 2007 record by completing the entire trail in 21 days, 18 hours and 7 minutes. It's approximately the equivalent of running two marathons a day for 21 days. Weiss also broke the fastest woman's time of Melanie McManus that took 34 days. Weiss averaged 50 miles a day even though there were some 30-mile days on challenging sections. On the last day she chalked up 80 miles.

The speaker is prepared to describe her motivation, training program and joys of an accomplishment of a goal she set for herself. Her story includes setbacks such as her 2017 disheartening failed attempt that had to be abandoned as result of a leg infection.

Annie is one of a growing number of marathoners and endurance athletes who have been attracted to ultra trail challenges. The three-day Tuscobia Winter Ultra from Rice Lake to Park Falls, held between Christmas and New Year, with 193 bikers, walkers, skiers entered in races of 80 and 160 miles is one of a number of such events.

A social period with free treats and refreshments will start at 6:30 pm. The public is also welcome to attend the Superior Lobe Chapter's annual meeting scheduled from 6 pm to 6:30 pm. For further information, contact Bob Held, 715 761-1657 or heldharbor@gmail.com

Opinion

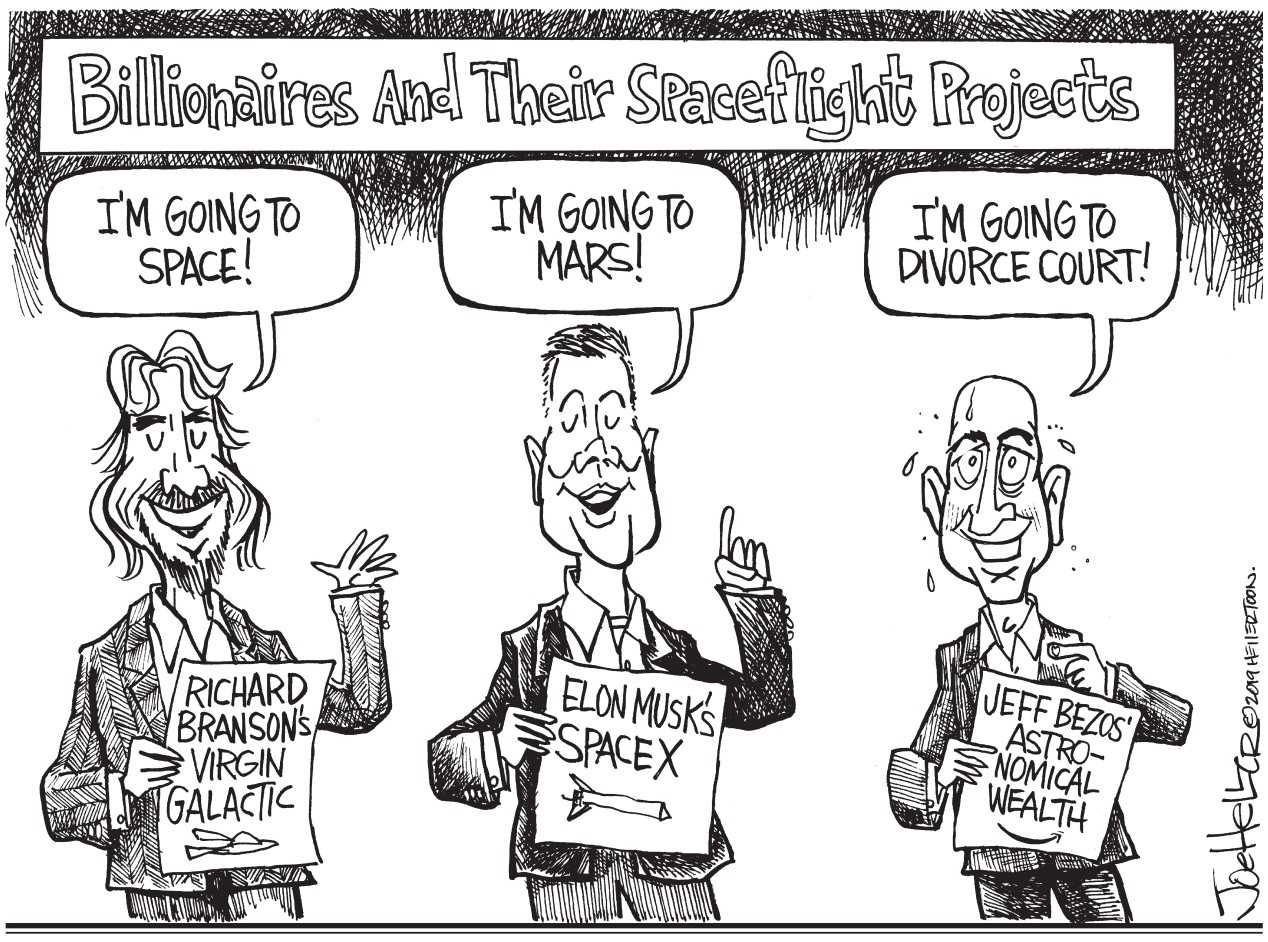

By Craig Bucher

For football fans, the two games played on Sunday must have been nirvana. Two championship games played on the same day and two overtimes to decide the games. It just doesn't get any better. Wives all over the country saw their husbands retreat into "man caves" only to reappear to get more barley pops and to use the restroom. I am sure that there must have been a record number of pizzas delivered all over the country. Pizza deliverers must have made record amounts of tips. Just think, the Super Bowl is yet to come. That should be quite a game between two excellent teams. I only wish the game had featured the Chiefs against the Rams.

We took a trip, last week, to our daughters home in Madison. Rather than drive, we decided to take the train. We got on in St. Cloud and arrived six hours later in Columbus, where our son-in-law picked us up. It was a quiet, smooth ride. The seats were comfortable and roomy. We had breakfast in the dining car where the food was good and the service was excellent The train was on time and it was interesting to see the world from a different viewpoint. The train travels along next to the Mississippi River and even in the winter, with the river frozen, we saw eagles and other wildlife. We had an interesting conversation with a man who served on a submarine. He talked about what it was like to be underwater for 80 straight days. It would not be for me. He was headed to Chicago. He was from Bloomington, Minnesota and said he often takes the train to Chicago to visit friends. "The Chicago depot is right downtown and you don't need a car to get to your hotel and I can walk most places," he said. I found it was an interesting way to travel and I would like to ride the Empire Builder train all the way to Seattle. I will have to convince Sharon - I don't think she was as enamored as I am.

SEE YOU NEXT WEEK!

Catching up on some Wisconsin companies: Epic, Fiserv and Exact Sciences

MADISON, Wis. – Thoughts on three Wisconsin tech titans in the news…

Jim Cramer, the perpetually energetic financial analyst for CNBC's "Mad Money," thinks it would be a natural for Apple to part with a chunk of its reported $123 billion in cash to buy Verona-based Epic Systems.

It makes a lot of sense for Apple, which has been venturing into the electronic health records space, to acquire a market leader such as Epic. Don't bet your iPhone on it happening, however.

Epic founder and Chief Executive Officer Judith Faulkner has been on record throughout the company's 40-year history that she wants it to remain privately held. Those reasons range from a tradition of intense customer service for Epic's hospital and health system clients to nurturing a corporate culture Faulkner believes is at the core of the company's success.

Faulkner has created a charitable foundation to take over her shares in Epic when her time as CEO is finished. The estate gift to the Epic Heritage Foundation will comprise nearly every share of stock that Faulkner owns. As she told Modern Healthcare in 2015, the foundation will operate and fund non-profit organizations in health care and other areas, while ensuring Epic remains a private company.

"My stock will go to the foundation," Faulkner told Modern Healthcare at the time. "The foundation will control the stock. This plan is designed to preserve the company as a private company forever."

Cramer reasoned Apple should buy Epic because it has launched a service to allow iPhone users to access their medical records by linking to participating hospitals. Smart phone sales have dipped and, as Cramer said, Apple should portray itself to the market as "more than a hardware company."

Convincing Epic and its founder to change a course that can be traced to the company's humble roots on 2020 University Ave. in Madison will take a lot more than market chatter, however.

Imagined company acquisitions are one thing, but a real deal was announced Jan. 16 when leadership at Brookfield-based Fiserv said the company will acquire First Data Corp. for $22 billion later this year.

The combined firm, which will remain headquartered in Wisconsin, will represent a powerful financial technology and payments company. Fiserv provides "fintech" services for banks and credit unions; First Data is a major payment processing firm. The deal is believed to be the largest ever in that market space.

Fiserv CEO Jeffery Yabuki was reported as predicting the combined company will invest $500 million over five years in automated financial service technology, which can't hurt young Wisconsin companies in that sector.

The footprint of Exact Sciences in Madison continues to grow physically; the vision for its healthcare mission has expanded, as well.

Exact Sciences is already well known for Cologuard, its non-invasive test for colorectal cancer. President and CEO Kevin Conroy told the Wisconsin Technology Council board Jan. 15 that about 1.9 million people have used the home testing kit since 2014, helping to pinpoint tens of thousands of early stage cancers or pre-cancerous polyps. There were about 940,000 Cologuard stool tests in the last year alone.

About 40 percent of Americans aren't screened for colorectal cancer, however, because they don't want to undergo a colonoscopy. Exact Sciences' goal is to sharply expand its ability to process tests – well into the millions per year – to close that testing gap.

A major processing laboratory south of Madison's West Beltline Highway will help handle the demand when it opens this year. Nearby, the former Spectrum Brands building has been "reskinned" with a glass exterior, renovated inside and occupied. A separate research and development center is being built near two other Exact Sciences facilities in University Research Park; another processing facility is part of the Novation Campus in Fitchburg.

About 2,000 people already work for Exact Sciences, of which 1,500 are in Wisconsin, and Conroy expects that number to grow significantly as the company adds "great, family-supporting jobs."

Meanwhile, Exact has registered plans for studies to focus on other cancers, such as those that affect human livers, lungs, blood and more, with much of its clinical work around early stage biomarkers involving the Mayo Clinic. Other partnerships tap into Epic and its expertise in health data systems, and Pfizer for its sales and distribution network.

"It's the power of the science that really changes lives," Conroy said. It may be years away, but that science could forge more tools for the cancer-fighting kit.

Still is president of the Wisconsin Technology Council. He is the former associate editor of the Wisconsin State Journal.

Solar really works - even here!

To the Editor:

You can do something about climate change by yourself. In 1980, I put my first two solar panels for hot water heating on my house. They are still there today working in Maple WI. You can do the same thing. I built the frames to hold them on the roof. I connected the pump and sensors from a pre-fab control set-up to power. I ran the pipe from the basement to the roof alongside the chimney. I added antifreeze to water to carry heat from the roof top panels to the basement water tank. Thirty-eight years later, I'm still getting free hot water.

Yes, there have been a couple of problems along the way. After 25 years, the hot water tank had to be replaced. Sometime along the way, the expansion tank had to be replaced, but the original panels are still there working on the roof.

If it matters, long ago, probably twenty-five years ago, the system paid for itself with reduced heating costs. Think about it!

Criminal Complaint

Melanie R. Kuula, 43, Almena, has been charged with misdemeanor bail jumping. (Failure to comply with the terms of her bond by consuming alcohol). Her hearing will be held March 6, 2019.

Andrew A. Zook, 41, of Rice Lake, has been charged with disorderly conduct, domestic abuse. His hearing will be held March 13, 2019.

William J. Ebler, 32, of Chetek, has been charged with disorderly conduct, domestic abuse. His hearing is set for March 13, 2019.

Denver L. Koach, 55, of Chetek, has been charged with two counts of misdemeanor bail jumping. (Failure to comply with the terms of his bond by violating the no contact portion of his bond). His hearing is scheduled for March 13, 2019.

Alan B. Resnick, 47, of Rice Lake, has been charged with theft-false representation, and fraud against a financial institution. His initial appearance will be held February 6, 2019.

Douglas E. Minor, 40, of Rice Lake, has been charged with operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated, 4th. His preliminary hearing is set for February 6, 2019.

Danielle R. Hagen, 20, of Cumberland, has been charged with manufacture/delivery of THC; Kristi L. Thompson, 42, of Cumberland, has been charged with possession of THC, and possession of drug paraphernalia.

The criminal complaint states that on January 16, 2019, at approximately 4:25 p.m. Rice Lake Police Officer Eckes was on routine patrol in the location of Highland Avenue and Main Street in the City of Rice Lake. He observed a vehicle traveling northbound on Main Street that matched the description of a vehicle that was reported to be in front a residence that is known to law enforcement to be a drug residence.

Officer Eckes used the car's radar unit and obtained a reading that the vehicle was traveling 25 miles per hour in a posted 15 mile per hour construction zone. Officer Eckes began to follow the vehicle, which traveled through a yellow light. Officer Eckes conducted a traffic stop on the vehicle.

Immediately upon making contact with the driver, who was later identified as Kristi L. Thompson, Officer Eckes could smell the strong odor of marijuana coming from inside the vehicle. He advised Thompson that he could smell the marijuana, and observed the passenger, later identified as Danielle Hagen, reaching around in the vehicle. He advised Hagen to stop and then observed her push a baggie underneath the front of her pants.

Officer Eckes informed Hagen to exit the vehicle, and when she did so, he observed the baggie on the ground near the car. He later weighed the baggie and obtained a weight of 9.96 grams. He tested the green plant-like material in the baggie and obtained a positive result for the presence of THC.

Upon returning to the vehicle, Sgt. Tomesh, with the City of Rice Lake Police Department, had directed Thompson out of the car. Officer Eckes searched the car and located a baggie inside the center console of the vehicle, which contained green plant-like material with the same consistency and look as the substance in the baggie that Hagen had placed underneath her pants. Underneath this baggie, Officer Eckes located an additional small baggie containing a green plant-like material, as well as a glass smoking device. Officer Eckes later weighed the baggie he located inside the center console with the larger baggie weighing 13.75 grams and the smaller baggie weighing 1.4 grams. Officer Eckes tested the green plant-like material in both baggies, as well as the glass smoking device, and obtained a positive result for the presence of THC.

Officer Eckes asked Thompson where she had gotten the marijuana and she stated she had just dropped Hagen off at Ann Street. She said she did not know who Hagen had gotten her marijuana from, only that it was from the house on Ann Street where she had dropped off, and picked up Hagen, and Hagen had come back to the car with the marijuana.

Thompson consented to Officer Eckes searching her cell phone. On her phone he observed a message to the number that is listed to Hagen, requesting "to buy a half or a quarter." Thompson had received a reply back saying "90 and your getting 2 gs over the quarter." Thompson then messaged, 'OK WYA." She received a reply, "we gotta run to rl."

If convicted Hagen may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned for not more than three years and six months or both. Her driver's license may also be suspended for not more than five years. Her preliminary hearing will be held February 6, 2019.

If convicted Thompson may be fined not more than $1,500 or imprisoned for not more than six months and 30 days, or both. Her driver's license may also be suspended for not more than ten years. Her adjourned initial appearance was scheduled for February 6, 2019.

A Nationwide warrant has been issued for Michael J. Balog, 37, of Rice Lake, he has been charged with felony intimidation of a witness and three counts of felony bail jumping.

According to the criminal complaint on January 15, 2019, Sgt. Larson with the Rice Lake Police Department was dispatched to a Rice Lake business for a threat received by an employee. He and Officer Koenig responded and spoke with the employee. She advised she had received a threatening message from Michael Balog, who is her bother. The message read, in part to "tell my wife I'm coming there-gonna make scene right in your office."

The employee said that her understanding is that Shelly had tried to drop the no contact order that is in effect, but it had not been dropped and Balog blamed her for this. She stated that Balog was pressuring her to drop all the charges in that case. She stated he is unstable and is not really sure what he is capable of. She further stated that he and Shelly have been living together in Ladysmith since his arrest in violation of his bond, and she is the alleged victim/witness in the case.

Sgt. Larson then spoke with Shelly, who claimed that Balog is mad about the charges in the case not being dismissed. She said she tried to drop the no contact order, but the court wouldn't, which further upset him. She said that they are currently residing together in Ladysmith.

She further stated that he works in Chisago, Minnesota, but she knew from him calling her all day that he had left work early. Sgt. Larson contacted Barron County Dispatch, who sent a TTY text message to surrounding law enforcement agencies advising that Balog needed to be arrested.

On January 16th, at approximately 4:05 a.m. Rice Lake Police Officer Taylor was on duty, when Shelly called the Rice Lake Police Department and said that Balog had contacted her again. Office Taylor met with Shelly, who said that approximately 3:08 a.m. she received a call on her cell phone from Hawkins, WI. She answered and recognized the caller to be Balog. He told her he had "wrecked our truck down by my friend Stacy's house," which is near Tony. He told her he was on his way to Stacy's house to find her. She told him she was not there, he then told her he would go to her sisters. She again told him she was not there either. He told her he would "keep looking in all the places he knows I would go."

She attempted several times to get him to tell her whose number he called from, but he would not say. He then told her he would "find her and cut the brake lines to her car." He told her he would be "waiting for her at the courthouse this morning." His preliminary hearing was scheduled at 9:30 on January 16th. She stated he knew she planned on going to the preliminary court hearing. She received four more phone calls from the same Hawkins area phone number, along with a phone call from his cell phone.

If convicted Balog may be fined not more than $55,000 or imprisoned for not more than 28 years, or both.

Alec J. Hopke, 27, of Shell Lake, has been charged with operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated, 4th offense, and hit and run-attended vehicle.

The criminal complaint states that on January 2, 2019, at approximately 7:24 p.m. Barron County Deputy Allen responded to a call advising there was a subject walking down the middle of the road, just east of Highway 25 on US Highway 48.

Deputy Allen responded to the area and eventually observed what appeared to be fresh tracks for a period of time, and eventually located three subjects on foot, who appeared to be having difficulty maintaining a balance and who were stumbling over each other.

Deputy Allen eventually identified one subject as Jacob Chilstrom, the second subject as Kevin Chilstrom and the third subject as Alec Hopke.

Deputy Allen made contact with the subjects and Jacob told him they had gotten stuck in a ditch a ways back. It was immediately apparent to Deputy Allen, his speech was slurred. Deputy Allen asked who had been driving, and Jacob stated that Al had, and pointed to Hopke. Deputy Allen turned to Hopke and asked him if he was driving, at which point Hopke raised his hand and waved it in a confirming manner.

Deputy Allen reported it was pretty apparent that they were highly intoxicated, and he began to question the subjects alcohol consumption.

He asked for the subjects' identification, and Hopke appeared to be having a very difficult time completing the task. He kept handing him a piece of paper that was not identification related, but he suggested it was. The subjects briefly began changing their account as to who was driving and Jacob started claiming that he was the one who was driving.

After a period of conversation Kevin said that he was not going to let his son take the fall for what happened, after which point Deputy Allen asked Hopke if he had been driving. He nodded his head once, but would not answer verbally.

Deputy Allen questioned him about what kind of vehicle he had been driving and he stated he believed it was a Cadillac. Deputy Allen asked for additional details, and Hopke became uncooperative. The keys to a Cadillac were found on his person.

Deputy Allen returned to questioning Jacob and Kevin, who confirmed that they had been coming from the VFW in the City of Barron, where they had been drinking. They advised the vehicle went into a ditch immediately after which they got out and began walking towards Rice Lake, and that neither of them had consumed alcohol since the vehicle had gone in the ditch.

Other deputies attempted to locate the vehicle.

On January 2, 2019, at approximately 7:08 p.m. dispatch received a call from a female subject who advised she had been involved in a hit-and-run on 16th Street north of Barron. Deputy Sedani responded to her location and made contact with her. She advised she had been traveling southbound on 15th Street when she encountered a vehicle traveling northbound on 15th Street in the southbound lane of traffic. She advised she pulled over to the side of the road, slowed down and started honking her horn at the vehicle. She stated that as the vehicle drove by it took out her driver's side mirror. She said that the vehicle was a silver or gray sedan and that it continued northbound.

A gray Cadillac sedan registered to Hopke was located on 16th Street just north of Highway 48, and the driver side mirror of the vehicle was damaged and missing.

Hopke refused to participate in a field sobriety test and refused to provide a preliminary breath sample, as well as a blood draw. He continued to be uncooperative and Deputies Allen and Sedani had to hold his arms down for the blood draw to be completed. Hopke's driver's record showed that Hopke had a blood-alcohol restriction of .02.

If convicted Hopke may be fined not more than $11,600 or imprisoned for not more than six years. His driver's license may also be revoked for not more than three years. His arraignment is scheduled for March 13, 2019.

Boys Basketball Team Falls to Bloomer

The Cumberland Boys Basketball Team saw their record fall to 9 and 4 on the season, 5 and 3 in the HON with a 57-44 loss to Bloomer last Friday night. With the victory, Bloomer stayed within one game of undefeated Northwestern in the HON standings.

The Beavers were only down 31-28 at halftime, but would only score 16 second half points against a tough Blackhawk defense. "Bloomer played better than us in the 2nd half. They showed good patience on offense and played better defense than us," said Coach Corey Berghammer.

One key to the Bloomer offense was their ability to knock down the outside shot. Bloomer was nine for 16 from three-point land.

Andrew Barnes and Jack Martens scored 11 points each to pace the Beavers effort, while Noah Schradle added 10. Sam Schradle added five points off the bench, while seeing significant time for a foul-plagued Riley Bodsberg.

The Beavers traveled to Hayward on Tuesday for a battle against the Hurricanes and then travel to Ladysmith on Friday for a match-up against the 1 and 12 Ladysmith Lumberjacks.

The Beavers next home game is against Luck, who they play at home next Monday in a 7:15 pm start.

Wrestlers Fall to Ashland; Olson Sets Record in St. Croix Falls

The Cumberland Wrestling Team dropped a 52-27 dual decision to Ashland last week, while also finishing ninth at the St. Croix Falls Wrestling Classic last Saturday in St. Croix Falls.

The Beavers overall HON record fell to 4 and 2 with last Tuesdays loss to the Oredockers, while Ashland also moved to 4 and 2. The Beavers still lead the South Division with a 4-0 record, however, matching them against the North leading Northwestern Tigers in the HON Duals competition, which will be held this coming Friday night in Hayward.

Ashland jumped to a 23-0 lead last Thursday, before Reid Olson pinned his opponent in nine seconds to stop the Oredockers momentum. Manny Torres then picked up a major decision to cut the defecit to 23-11 before Ashland won again to pull away to the victory. Milan Monchilovich, Bryce Baldwin, and Gabby Skidmore added wins in the match for the Beavers.

Cumberland then traveled to St. Croix Falls on Saturday, for their always tough Invitational. The Saints easily outdistanced the field for the team victory, while Hudson finished second and Boyceville third. The Beavers finished in ninth place.

A hi-light in the Meet was a First Place finish for Reid Olson at 145-pounds. With the victory, Olson moved his seasons record to 31-2, while gaining his 146th win as a Cumberland wrestler. This makes him the school record holder in career victories.

Olson received a bye, had two pins, and defeated Totino Grace wrestler William Jaeger 18-12 in the Championship match.

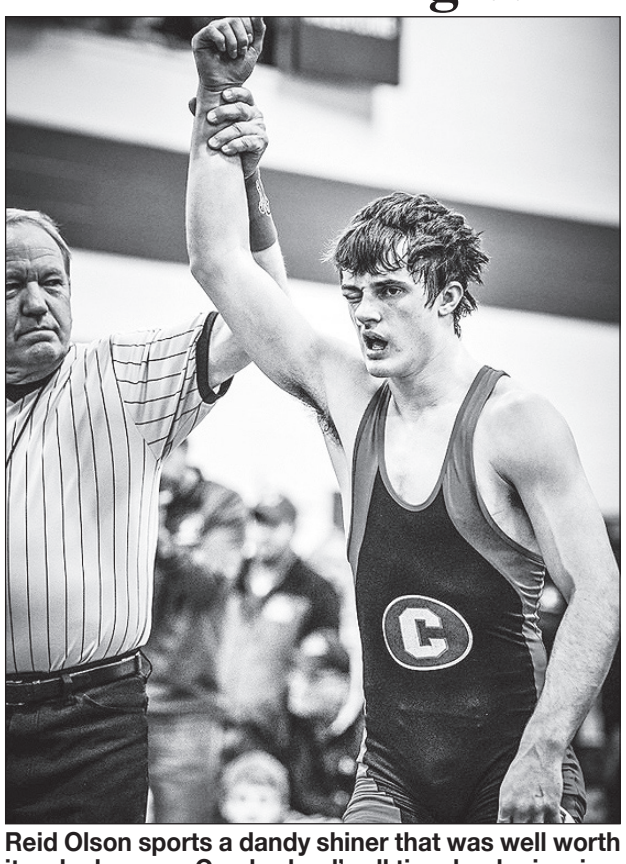

The Beavers received fourth place finishes from Blake Siebert at 182-pounds and Milan Monchilovich at 195-pounds.

Siebert moved to 20 and 10 on the years by receining a bye and going 1 and 2 on the day, while Monchilovich moved his overall record to 29 and 5 by going 2 and 2 in the meet.

Another wrestler having a good day on Saturday was Adam Nyhus, who received a bye, suffered a loss, and then rebounded with three straight victories at 170-pounds. This moved his seasons record to 22-12, while giving him fifth place at St. Croix Falls.

After Fridays duals, the Beavers will then prepare for the HON Tournament, which will be held on Saturday, February 2 in Chetek.

Record Breaking Win!

Reid Olson sports a dandy shiner that was well worth it as he became Cumberland's all time leader in wins. Congratulations Reid!

Northwest Icemen Drop Decision to Baldwin-Woodville

The Northwest Icemen WIAA Hockey Co-Op traveled to Baldwin last Friday, where they dropped a 6-1 decision to the Blackhawks. The loss drops the teams overall record to 9-8-1 on the year as they prepared for a Tuesday night game against Ashland. The teams next game will be next Tuesday, January 29 against Amery in a game played at the Spooner rink.

In the loss, the Icemen were outshot 40-17. On the year, Cumberlands Jonah Becker has all nine team wins in the net, while Tyler Bohn has seven team points, RJ Gunderson and Lucas Anderson have six team points, and Carter Bickle has accumulated five assists.

Girls WIAA Hockey Co-Op Record Stands at 7-8-3

The Cumberland Girls Basketball Team hosted Hayward last Tuesday, dropping a 57-19 decision to the Hurricanes.

"The game started off with a back and forth battle, both teams playing good defense. Unfortunately, the Hurricanes were able to capitalize on a few turnovers to extend their lead to 29-12 at halftime. They would eventually pull away to the victory," said Coach Corey Chilson.

Maisen Gores scored six points and grabbed five rebounds for Cumberland. Izzy West and Mecina Garibaldi added four points each.

Cumberland plays at Chetek this Thursday in a 7:15 pm start and then host Luck in a non-conference game on Monday, with the Varsity game beginning at 5:45 and the JV game to follow.

The Pursuit of a Fisher

Hello friends,

Last spring I applied for a permit to trap fisher in Wisconsin's southern zone which includes Juneau and Wood County. I received a permit, and for the last month I attempted to catch a fisher by using 160 body grip traps.

In the end my trap line was spread out over 58-miles with 12 sets, and was more of an outdoor adventure than an attempt to make a dime as you are only allowed one fisher and if I caught one I planned on doing a full body mount.

Thursday, December 13th
High 30, low 16

Here is my plan, I would start my trap line near my house and the furthest set would be 28-miles away on the Jackson/Wood/ Juneau county lines. Other than a dozen hikes in either forest or frozen dikes I would be using my pickup.

In reality fisher trapping for someone like me is more of a way of checking out nature in the winter and getting a lot of exercise and I was a winner either way. If I harvested one I would have a very unique mount in my living room. If I did not harvest one, I would not have to come up with the money for a taxidermist.

Today I made six sets, each was a cubby set which can either be made with a bucket and bait inside of it and a trap at the entrance or by digging a hole in the ground with the same theory.

I have to admit that I saw a lot more otter sign than fisher and had an otter tag but decided not to use it as the fur price is very low for otter and I have a 57-inch otter on my wall.

Trapping fisher in either big forest or by foot travel on ice, and is physical and a constant education. If you have snow that will allow tracks, every day is a new day as the wolf, deer, otter, fisher, weasel, mink and beaver all leave tracks.

This year we had either excellent ice for foot travel or very scary ice, which means you better know how to get out of the ice if you fall through the ice. Another very interesting part of trapping in very remote country is making sure that you do not get your truck stuck. Much of the time I was driving on gravel or sand roads that were snow covered and if you go in the water filled ditch you have a pretty good sized problem.

I consciously practiced by driving in two wheel drive as often as possible and I have to admit this made me a better off road driver.

The fisher season ends on January 6th and I personally do not see why it cannot go until at least February. Trapping keeps men and women outdoors and in touch with nature. With the winters that we have these days December often has unfrozen back roads or very scary ice to negotiate and with a limit of one animal that most trappers do not catch, I say let us keep trapping.

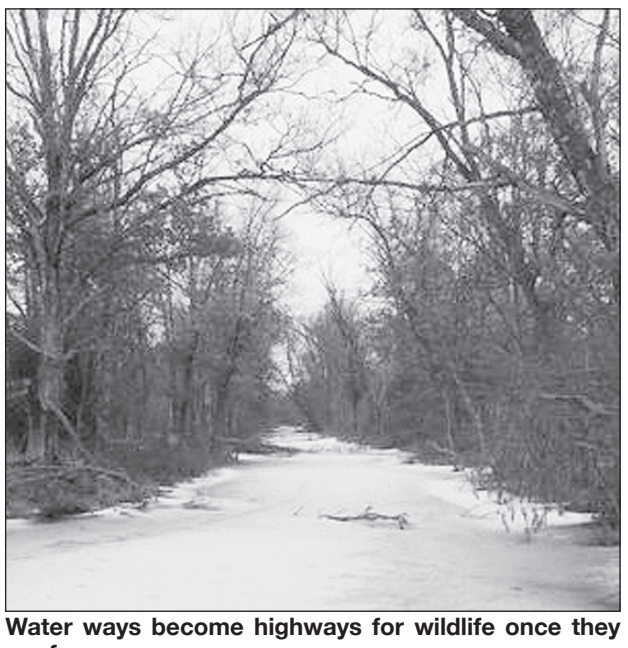

One day I saw where several otter had been catching mud minnows. The mud minnows like open water and the otter just hang out by the open water, eat their fill, sleep, and eat more.

I saw a very large otter (generally they average 38-45 inches) and I have to admit that I really wanted to lay some steel but I told myself, maybe next year when the money train comes back to town, and it will be a super big otter.

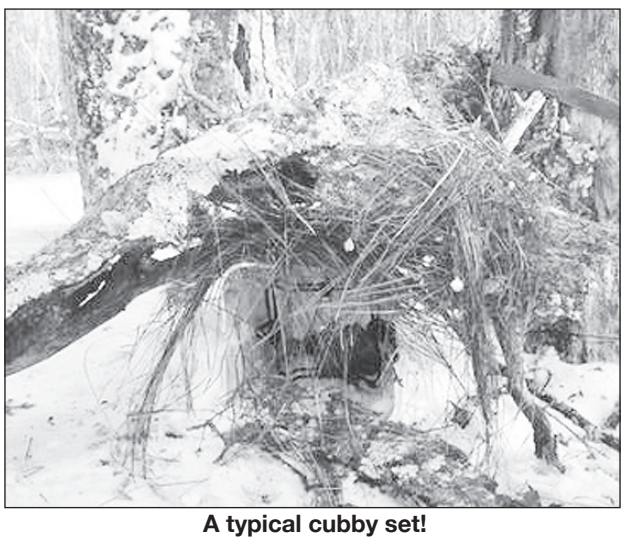

The last two weeks I had 12-sets out and trail cameras by two of them. Other than a raccoon I did not get a decent picture.

Three years ago while very remote I got my left hand caught in a 330 body grip trap (beaver size). Getting my hand out of that trap before my hand was dead on the scene was a lesson in do not panic, use your knee, and the other hand.

Two years before that I smashed that same hand in a wood splitter and broke three fingers. This winter that hand is starting to show signs of those injuries and my guess is they will become more evident as time passes.

Water ways become highways for wildlife once they are frozen.

A typical cubby set!

I wish fur prices would come back, I set my first trap as a very young boy and love this outdoor sport.

Stay active, you will have no regrets!

Cumberland Girls Fall To Hayward

The Cumberland Girls Basketball Team hosted Hayward last Tuesday, dropping a 57-19 decision to the Hurricanes.

"The game started off with a back and forth battle, both teams playing good defense. Unfortunately, the Hurricanes were able to capitalize on a few turnovers to extend their lead to 29-12 at halftime. They would eventually pull away to the victory," said Coach Corey Chilson.

Maisen Gores scored six points and grabbed five rebounds for Cumberland. Izzy West and Mecina Garibaldi added four points each.

Cumberland plays at Chetek this Thursday in a 7:15 pm start and then host Luck in a non-conference game on Monday, with the Varsity game beginning at 5:45 and the JV game to follow.

Barronett News
By Judy Pieper

Man, it was really cold out on Shallow Lake for the ice fishing contest this past Saturday, but lots of fishermen and women braved the arctic blast and were out trying their best to get the big one. There were quite a few heated ice fishing shacks on the lake, but there were also quite a few people out there who had only a vehicle for a warming house. It was a good thing the sun was shining so brightly.

Let's see now-the winners were: First Austin Winter with a 12 1/5 lb. northern; second: Ralph Jerry with an 8 1/4 lb. 34 inch northern; First place bass: Leo Moos; second place bass: Kelly Snowbank; First place panfish, Josh Schumacher; second place panfish: David Ullom.

After the contest, the Barronett Civic Club members hosted a soup super at the community center. There were games, raffles and lots of fun. The winners of the major raffles were Rick Ranallo, first; Derrick Steffens, second; and Tanner Ronde, third.

The big event of the evening of course, was the crowning of the new King and Queen of the Ice, Bill and Debbie Carothers! Luanne and her Ice Mavens thought long and hard about it before deciding on the Carothers. We are all sure that Bill and Debbie will represent us throughout the year in the same fantastic manner of last year's king and queen, Isaac Neitzel and Rita Arnes, who very graciously passed the crowns down to the new royalty.

Civic Club members would like to thank all the volunteers for their hard work and the businesses and individuals who donated prizes for the contest. And, of course, they also want to thank everyone who joined in the fishing contest and the fun at the community center afterward. It was a great day and, if you happened to be out of town and couldn't attend, don't worry-there will be another Shallow Lake Fishing Contest in 2020.

Did you watch the eclipse of the moon on Sunday evening? The moon was one of the most beautiful I have ever seen, and I did watch the eclipse, but I stayed inside the house to do that. It was way too cold to stand outside. I'm glad the sky was cloudless, so the entire eclipse was easy to see. It was more fun the last time we saw an eclipse, though, because it was summer, and we sat on Lynn Thon's deck and watched the whole thing.

Duane had great birthday. Well, actually, he had a great birthday weekend because he started celebrating by fishing with Jerry Marsh at the contest on Saturday. They were in Jim Marsh's ice shack, so they stayed nice and warm and had a microwave to heat up coffee and stuff. Not exactly roughing it. Jerry caught a few little fish, but nothing to write home about.

Then on Sunday, which is actually his birthday,we had breakfast with Jim, Summer, Maddy and Wrigley Marsh, Ryan, Tinille and Miriah Lehmann and Jerry Marsh. That evening Lynn Thon had a bunch of family over to her house for supper and birthday cake. We had a really great day.

Barronett Lutheran's annual meeting will be held this coming Sunday, January 27th following the worship service which is at 9:00 a.m. There will be quite a few decisions to make so if you are a member, please plan to join us. After the meeting we will be gathering in the church basement for a potluck dinner. We hope everyone will join us at that time.

I have to tell you, I don't do Facebook, but Dune does. He reads some of the stuff to me, and I'm amazed and dismayed at the things people say about our elected senators and representatives. One of the rumors floating around Facebook concerns the 28th amendment to the U. S. Constitution. Well, if you are interested you can do a little research and find that there are only 27 amendments to the Constitution at this time. The proposed 28th amendment is also something that can be looked up, and it says the opposite of what is posted on Facebook.Please don't use social media to make decisions about the senators and representatives and the decisions they make. Okay, that's my rant for the day.

That's all I know from Barronett this week. Stay warm-I'll see you next week.

Cumberland Police Dept. Call Log

Monday, January 7

Officer received a traffic complaint regarding a goldish colored vehicle that was driving across the center line and over the fog line. The vehicle was going into Cumberland from Highway H. A restaurant then advised of an intoxicated male inside who said he was tired and deaf. They advised he left and went over their curb in a gold vehicle. He had advised them he was going to another restaurant for coffee. Officer located the vehicle at a parts store. He had not been drinking and advised he will be waiting for a ride.

Tuesday, January 8

Subject advised they are following a blue extended cab pick up. They advised the tailgate is down and is almost falling off the truck. Officer located the truck at Elm and 8th. Subject advised they are going to fix the tailgate.

Wednesday, January 9

Officer conducted a traffic stop on a subject driving the wrong way on a one-way street. He was not able to provide proof of insurance and will be cited for both.

Thursday, January 10

Officer received a report of a subject who hit a deer. The vehicle had heavy front end damage, but was driveable. Officer gave him his business card and told him that his insurance company can call dispatch to get a copy of the report. Deer was moved into the ditch.

Officer received a complaint regarding a subject who pulled into a bar and ran over the curb and is not parked straight. They advised the subject staggered into the bar. Officer will be trying to locate the driver.

Friday, January 11

Business advised of a vehicle with two passengers that were intoxicated. Advised they were bragging inside the store about how drunk they were. They left and went through two stop signs. Dispatch advised units and Cumberland Police Department. Cumberland advised they were trying to catch up to the car, but lost the vehicle.

Officers received a call advising of a vehicle in the ditch. Advised it is occupied by four intoxicated male subjects and one made a comment that he is not afraid to fight with law enforcement. Dispatch advised Cumberland and County units. Cumberland Officer has one subject detained and the other fled westbound on foot.

Friday, January 11

Caller advised there was a car on the ice on Beaver Dam Lake, and then the lights disappeared where the lake narrows and the ice thins. Caller thinks it's by Eagle Point Park. Officer advised he saw other vehicles and subjects on the ice. He did not see anything that broke through.

Saturday, January 12

Officer stopped a vehicle for speeding. He warned the driver for speed, expired registration and not up to date insurance. Driver stopped at the store to up date his registration.

Officer received a call from a subject who worked the previous night at a convenience store and did not ask two subject if they had gas, so the gas was never paid for. Officer advised he will attempt to make contact with the owners of the vehicles. He made contact with one subject, but was unable to make contact with the other.

Sunday, January 13

Officer received a call from a subject regarding her vehicle that had been missing since November. Caller advised a friend was arrested in it back in November and left it at the old Kiwk Trip. The vehicle has been gone since. She mentioned two subjects who may be persons of interest.

Dispatch received a call from a subject stating he feels that people in a vehicle are selling drugs. Caller called back and said they are now at the Eagle Point Campground. Officer checked the suspected persons and there was no evidence of drugs.

Master Gardener Volunteer Training to be held in Spring

Garden enthusiasts in Burnett, Sawyer and Washburn counties who are interested in learning more about horticulture and who have an interest in volunteering in their local communities can now register for the UW-Extension Master Gardener Volunteer Training program. This program is a gateway to learning for personal growth, and a mission to volunteer through community events, school projects, outreach, and UW-Extension activities.

The first session is scheduled to begin Tuesday, March 26 from 6:00 to 9:00 p.m. at the Spooner Agricultural Research Station and continue each Tuesday evening through June 18, 2019.

Participants will receive a minimum of 36 hours of in-depth horticulture training. Each week a different horticulture subject will be explored including: Annual, Perennial and Native Plants, Houseplants, Landscape Design, Fruit and Vegetables, Weeds, Wildlife, Soils, Insects, Plant Diseases and Low Input Lawn Care. Participants will learn from a wide range of instructors from University of Wisconsin, UW-Extension, local experts and through on-line materials.

Cost of the course is $125 or $200 for two people willing to share printed materials; the fee includes access to online lectures and instructional material, the UW-Extension Master Gardener Manual: Foundations in Horticulture, a one year membership to the Wisconsin Master Gardener Association, and speaker costs. Registration deadline is March 1, 2019.

The purpose of this program is to train volunteers to assist UW-Extension with community projects related to horticulture, gardening, and nutrition. To become a certified UW-Extension Master Gardener Volunteer participants must complete 36 hours of training, pass a final exam, and complete 24 hours of volunteer service per year.

The Spooner Area UW-Extension and Master Gardener Volunteers are sponsoring the Master Gardener Volunteer Training. For more information and an application, visit http://www.northcountrymgv.org/training.html or contact Kevin Schoessow,

We improved our ISO (Insurance Services Office) rating from a Class 5 to a Class 4.

In 2018 we instituted a CANDIDATE PHYSICAL ABILITY TEST, which we will use to evaluate potential members ability to perform basic firefighting tasks. We will also use the test to evaluate current members so we do not ask anyone to perform tasks they are not able to do efficiently. This helps ensure that our personnel are ready and able to protect our citizens.

SOME GOALS FOR 2019 are, to make some needed improvements to our building and grounds, keep upgrading our personal protection equipment, order a new engine for spring of 2020 delivery, to replace our now 17 year old first out engine.

AS ALWAYS, if anyone has questions or comments about the operations of the fire department or would simply like to see our equipment, you are welcome to stop in any weekday morning. If I don't happen to be there, I am likely running errands or performing fire prevention inspections. One can also call the fire house at 715-822-8107 and set up a time to come in. OBITUARIES

Jeanne N. Brekhus

Jeanne Norine Brekhus, 97, of Cumberland, died Tuesday, December 25, 2018 at Our House Memory Care. She was born July 5, 1921 in Early, IA to Harry and Emalee (Stroble) Patee. After high school, she traveled to Pennsylvania and attended business school.

She was married in Marietta, MN on June 14, 1942 to Elmo Brekhus. After a time in Dawson, they moved to Minneapolis. Jeanne worked out of the house for many years while caring for not only her own children but many of their friends. She was very active in Trinity Lutheran Church in Minneapolis. Later she worked at Seneca Foods for many summers after they retired to the cabin near Cumberland. She had a voracious appetite for reading, particularly mystery novels. Jeanne's creativity was legendary and it included painting, crafting, sketching, writing and storytelling.

She is survived by daughters: Sandra Brekhus and Lynnette Jones, both of Minneapolis, MN; sons: Michael (Melody) Brekhus of Eagan, MN and Randal (Karin) Brekhus of Carrollton, TX; 11 grandchildren; 26 great grandchildren; daughter-in-law, Dorothy Brekhus of Prior Lake, MN; many nieces, nephews and other relatives. Jeanne was preceded in death by her husband Elmo; their infant son, Edward; son, Harry; siblings: Marjorie Lorenzen, Edward "Bud" Patee, Patricia Edwards.

A memorial service will be held at 2:00 PM on Saturday, January 26, 2019 at First Lutheran Church, in Cumberland, with Pastor Timothy Schmidt officiating. Burial will be in Lac qui Parle Lutheran Cemetery, Dawson, MN.

Visitation will be from one hour prior to the service at the church.

Skinner Funeral Home is serving the family.

Lynn R. Jentzen

Lynn Rose Jentzen, 66, of Cumberland passed comfortably in her home, surrounded by loved ones on Wednesday, January 16, 2019.

Lynn was born on January 29, 1952 in Buffalo, NY, to parents John and Evelyn (Valsted) Rizzo. She married Ernest Jentzen on August 3, 1977 in Chicago, IL, where they lived until moving to Spooner to raise their three children.

Lynn had a love for many things. Most importantly her children, grandchildren, nieces and nephews. She had a great passion for WWE Wrestling, bingo and TV Land classics.

Lynn is survived by her three children Charles W. Dickson and his three children; Carl M. (Trish) Dickson, their two children and three grandchildren; and Evelyn E. (Leroy) Jackson, their four children and one grandchild.

Preceding her in death were her parents, her husband of 41 years, and her brothers Paul and Michael Rizzo.

Services will be held at St. Francis DeSales Catholic Church in Spooner at 11am on Saturday, January 26th. Honorary Pallbearers are sons Charles and Carl, grandsons Jaron and Corbin Dickson, nephews Jason Rizzo, Lance Leech, and Vincent Anderson, and son-in-law Leroy Jackson.

A luncheon will follow the services at the Spooner Legion Hall, where stories and memories of Lynn will be shared.

Life on the Family Farm Under an Open Heaven

By: Tom Heck

Give It Enough Snort

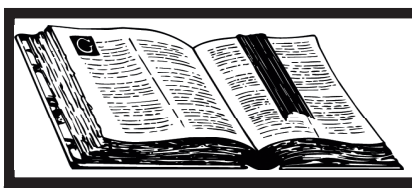

It was one of those falls up here that was wetter than normal. We had gotten our corn silage chopped off and now we were going at our high-moisture corn. I always hired my neighbor, Howie, to come with his combine and two trucks to harvest my corn. While he combined, I would unload the corn into the roller mill that rolled the corn and then blew it up into the silo. Usually things would work pretty well and we could get it done in one to two days.

But, this fall was different, the fields were very wet. Howie parked his trucks on my field road and started to open the field up with the combine. That went fine. As he started to get more of the field off, he had me park the trucks in my field close to where he was combining so that it would be faster for him to unload the combine. I was hesitant to do it, but followed his instructions. He filled the truck way full of corn and the truck started to go down a little.

When I got back to the field with the other empty truck and saw the loaded truck sunk down about six inches already, I felt we were in for trouble. Howie said to me, "Give it plenty of gas, Tom." Now a grain truck loaded full doesn't go very fast in first gear even with the gas pedal to the floor. I went ahead about four feet and the truck died. The back end had sunk in a good two foot deep! It was not a nice looking sight.

We looked the situation over and Howie said, "If we try to pull that truck out loaded, we'll just pull it apart. To which I readily agreed. We went and got Howie's big four

The Authority of the Bible
" I shall not forget Thy Word" Psalm 119: 16
By: Rev. Jerome C. Nikunen
Timberland-Ringebu Lutheran Church, Barronett

If many people today were to be honest, instead of saying, "I shall" not forget Thy Word, they would have to say, "I have forgotten it."

Many of us have forgotten to read God's word because we have so much else to read. Who of us doesn't have an armful of newspapers to carry out each week? And then there are the magazines. Any one of them could take all our spare hours for a week--and there is always another one. Then, there are the books that appear in bewildering succession.

Maybe we have forgotten His Word because our ideas about the Bible have changed. Modern man thinks that science has disposed of Genesis. He even asks if the gospels are trustworthy. So, he has made up his mind that the Bible is not quite the book he thought it was, and he has largely forgotten it.

Or, we have forgotten the Bible because we have become so involved in reading other religious books, some of which are, of course, very good. But they can take up the time we should be reading the Scriptures themselves.

And many people have forgotten the Bible because they have become so interested in all the quasi-religious ideas floating around these days, and they are looking to some popular movie star instead of to the Bible for an answer to the fundamental problems of life.

And, who of us doesn't know how busy one can get just trying to make a living and trying to squeeze in a little time for rest and relaxation. Could it be that we have become just "too busy" and that's why we are neglecting God's Word?

And so, the Bible has become a memory. We still possess our Bibles; but we have stopped using them. We may not have completely dismissed the Bible from our minds, but we have to admit, "I have forgotten it." It used to be that I was amazed by the Biblical ignorance among young people preparing to confirm their faith. But now I'm seeing the same thing in adults who have been members of a Christian church all their lives.

If people have forgotten their Bibles, it is largely because they have lost their faith in the authority and the inerrancy of Scripture. Everywhere today people are looking for authority. It is because the old ideas of Bible authority have gone and are even questioned by pastors today. When we get it into our heads once more that the Bible does speak with authority and is inerrant, then we will turn to it again and say with the Psalmist, "I shall not forget Thy Word."

The Bible contains a message so personal that each one who reads it feels that it was written just for him. And this is where the secret of the Bible's authority lies. Coleridge once said: "I know that the Bible is inspired, because it inspires me." The point is, it inspires everyone who reads it prayerfully. It never grows old; it's never out of date. It has a private message for the secret needs of every soul.

The Bible speaks with authority that carries conviction and comfort with it. It tells us that there is a God who loves us; that there is forgiveness through His Son, Jesus Christ; that there is an everlasting mercy that reaches our human needs. And when it speaks of immorality, it says, "Let not your heart be troubled." The Bible speaks with an authority which the heart does not resent, but craves instead.

Read your Bibles! I mentioned the Biblical ignorance prevalent today, but I am also happy to report that lately I've noticed great interest in getting into the Word again on the part of many adults. They are questioning what others told them it's supposed to mean for us today and want to find out for themselves what it really says. Why not join them? Don't depend on what other say about it. Check it out for yourself. And don't get so involved in reading other things that you have just a few minutes left over to read your Bibles. Don't neglect Sunday morning worship and Bible Class either. May you never have to admit, "I have forgotten Thy Word and I have neglected it."

Life on the Farm...

wheel drive Case tractor and two scoop shovels. Back in the field, we drove the other truck alongside the stuck one and then started shoveling corn from the one to the other. By the time we had it almost empty, we were about wore out too. Then we drove the good truck out of the field, and hooked on to the other one and pulled it out with the tractor, all in one piece.

After that, Howie had me park the trucks on higher, drier ground, even though it meant he had to drive a little further to unload his combine. It was late afternoon by the time we got that field done. Since we still had some daylight left, we decided to start my marsh cornfield.

We were being very careful where we parked the trucks for him to fill them; we had learned our lesson very well earlier in the day. Howie got the outside rows all off without any problem whatsoever. So I assumed this field would go just fine. But, there's always the unexpected. On the other end of this cornfield, I had about two acres that was way too wet to plant in the spring. I had to leave it lay idle all summer long and it grew up in weeds.

When Howie got to the other end, instead of just turning the combine around on the headland, he made a big turnaround out in the weedy hunk, or I should say that he tried to. He got half turned around, and the one side of the combine went down to its axle. When I got up there, I was astonished at what I saw. It was not a pretty sight after a long day of hard work. Howie wasn't too happy over it either. I asked him, "Why did you go out in that wet area?" To which he replied, "It didn't look wet to me."

Howie and I talked it over and we agreed that we would never pull the combine out with its hopper nearly full of grain. We also agreed that we didn't dare drive an empty truck in there either, neither one of us wanted another stuck truck. So we went and got a tractor with an empty grain wagon and backed it in to the wet area just far enough so that we could unload the combine. After that, we were able to drive the tractor and wagon out of there.

Then we went and got Howie's big tractor from the other side of my farm where we had left it after pulling the truck out earlier that day. We hooked it up to the combine, and I could tell Howie was real uneasy about it. He said, "If that other tire goes down, I don't know how we're going to get it out." I had to agree with him; I was uneasy about it too.

As I headed to the tractor, Howie's last words to me were, "Give it enough snort." We both knew that we only had one chance to get it out with that tractor. I said a quick prayer. When Howie was in the combine and ready, I tightened up the chain and pushed the throttle almost wide open. I wasn't going to fail by not giving it enough snort. The Lord blessed and the combine came out, for which we were both very thankful and relieved. With the sun almost down, we decided to call it a day.

Every year when we combine corn here, I always think back to that and to what Howie said, "Give it enough snort." That's how we need to live our lives, to the fullest, to the glory of God. So many people today live such empty, selfish, meaningless lives. But with God they don't have to.

Howie passed on a short time ago, but he lived a full life. He was a loving husband, father and an excellent, hard working farmer. He was also a wonderful neighbor and friend to us. I could never have asked for a better one. I'm sure someday I'll see Howie on the other side, and we'll smile as we think back to that night down in my marsh when he told me to, "Give it enough snort." I'm sure too, that there will be no stuck trucks or combines for us in heaven.

WI Food and Nutrition Programs will continue despite Federal Government shutdown

FoodShare members will receive their February benefits this month

The Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS) has announced that funding for February benefits will be available for current FoodShare members, those participating in the Women, Infants and Children (WIC) program, The Emergency Food Assistance Program (TEFAP), and the Commodity Supplemental Food Program (CSFP), despite the federal government shutdown.

"During this time of uncertainty, Wisconsin residents should be assured that FoodShare, WIC, and other federally funded food assistance programs will continue uninterrupted through February," said DHS Secretary-Designee Andrea Palm. "Our top priority is to ensure the needs of Wisconsin residents are met and to share information with members, partners, and stakeholders as the situation evolves."

FoodShare: FoodShare members will get their February benefits loaded onto their QUEST cards as soon as January 20, 2019 and there will not be an additional benefit in February. FoodShare members will need to budget their benefits and plan accordingly.

Wisconsinites can submit new FoodShare applications during the shutdown, however federal funding for benefits has not yet been guaranteed. FoodShare benefits are 100 percent federally funded. DHS will be posting up-to-date information on our FoodShare webpage.

WIC: Participants in the Women, Infants and Children program, which provides nutrition education, breastfeeding education and support, supplemental nutritious foods, and referrals to other health and nutrition services, will receive their benefits in February. All retailers will be paid for February. DHS will be posting up-to-date information on our WIC webpage.

TEFAP: The Emergency Food Assistance Program, which provides food to pantries and meal sites, will continue to do so through February. DHS will be posting up-to-date information on our TEFAP webpage.

CSFP: The Commodity Supplemental Food Program will continue to offer free, nutritious foods to low-income seniors aged 60 and older through February. The monthly food package is intended to supplement to a complete diet. DHS will be posting up-to-date information on our CSFP webpage.

The FoodShare Employment and Training (FSET) Program, FoodShare Outreach, and the SNAP-Ed program will not be impacted in February.

Health care benefits provided under BadgerCare Plus, Medicaid, and SeniorCare are not impacted by the federal government shutdown.

WINTER PARKING REGULATIONS

There will be no parking on any city street between the hours of 2:30 a.m. and 6:00 a.m. on any day between November 1 through April 1. Violators may be ticketed or towed.

Unemployment Insurance 2018 Tax Statements Now Available Online

The Department of Workforce Development (DWD) is reminding state residents who received Unemployment Insurance (UI) benefits last year that they must report UI benefits as taxable income on their 2018 tax returns, and that their 1099-G income tax statements for the year are easily accessible through UI's secure and confidential online system.

UI benefits are considered taxable income for both federal and state income taxes, and the 1099-G form shows the amount of UI benefits a claimant received during the previous year.

To access 1099-G tax statements, claimants can go to https://dwd.wisconsin.gov/uiben/1099.htm and then follow a few easy steps to obtain an electronic copy of their 2018 benefit payment records. Claimants can also sign up to receive an email alert when future 1099-G forms are available online.

In response to customer service trends toward the convenience of online self-service, claimants who have logged onto UI's online benefits services system since October 1, 2015 are being notified their 1099-G statements for 2018 will be accessible online and that they should not expect to be mailed paper copies. Claimants who have been granted a long-term exception to using online services will receive their 1099-G statements by mail. DWD will continue to mail paper copies upon request.

By accessing UI's secure, confidential online benefit system and obtaining 1099-G forms electronically, claimants will have immediate access to their tax information for UI. Additionally, the transition from paper mailings to e-copies of 1099-G forms will save the public tens of thousands of dollars in annual processing, printing and mailing costs. For example, the UI Division saved taxpayers approximately $150,000 in printing and mailing costs in 2016 and 2017.

DWD securely stores 1099-G forms online for all claimants to access and print for their records. Claimants' statements are available online for the past six years, which is helpful if claimants have to file amended tax returns. The UI Division is required to send 1099-G information to the Internal Revenue Service and the Wisconsin Department of Revenue.
