Cumberland Woman charged with theft

Amber J. Hirsch, 30, of Cumberland has been charged with theft in a business setting. The criminal complaint states that on April 24, 2019, Cumberland Police Officer Chafer was advised by dispatch that a Malanie Vinz was at the Police Department requesting to speak with an officer.

Amber J. Hirsch

Officer Chafer made contact with Vinz, who advised that she was the Regional District Manager for Bob and Steve's BP Amoco. She informed him that they had an employee who was stealing from the Cumberland B.P. Office. She stated they noticed that this began shortly after they hired Amber Hirsch. Vinz told Officer Chafer that Hirsch had been hired in early October, 2018 and that she worked as a store opener and her duties included opening and putting cash in the ATM.

Officer Chafer followed up with Vinz on May 10, 2019, and asked her to explain the relevant ATM employee procedure. She stated that the ATM is opened at least once a day at which time the money in the ATM is counted. She stated that money is added at that time, and if more money is needed later, the ATM would be opened again and more money added.

Vinz stated that when the money is added, a check is written out for $2,000 and they always add one hundred twenty dollar bills to the ATM. She stated that the check is cashed at U. S. Bank and once the money is added to the ATM, the person who adds the money makes changes on the ATM journal to show that one hundred twenty dollar bills were added to the ATM.

She indicated that the person who opens the store also opens the ATM and counts the money, and once the money is counted, that person creates a daily fax sheet. She indicated the daily fax sheets include the number of bills in the ATM, along with information about sales from the store. She stated that the number of bills written on the fact sheet and the number of the bills in the ATM should always be the same.

Vinz explained, specifically relating to the Cumberland B.P. that Hirsch would open the store, and thereby be responsible for opening the ATM and counting the money. She indicated that if the ATM needed more money, Hirsch would open it back up and add the money. The only other person that could add money to the ATM at the Cumberland BP was the store manager.

Vinz indicated that on some occasions, Hirsch would count the money in the ATM in the morning, and that the manager could add money later in the day, and that did occur a few times. She stated that they are able to determine who added the money by checking who signed the check that was cashed to acquire the deposit money. However it was indicated that a few times Hirsch signed the managers name to the check.

Vinz advised Officer Chafer that she reviewed security footage going back to March 27, 2019, and found footage where it appeared that Hirsch was putting money from the ATM into her own bag, or down her shirt.

She advised that Hirsch also had been stealing merchandise and in particular, lottery tickets. Vinz indicated that she had reviewed video footage of Hirsch at the counter scratching and scanning lottery tickets while she was working.

Officer Chafer was provided with a handwritten monthly lottery inventory log, which was filled out by the store opener. Vinz advised that in the month of October, 2018, the lottery was short $579, in the month of November, 2018, it was short $3,222, in the month of December, it was short $4,675; in the month of January, 2019, was short $5,519; in the month of February it was short $1,403; in the month of March it was short $4,039; in the month of April it was short $3,686.

Vinz advised Officer Chafer there was video of Hirsch scratching and scanning lottery tickets and concealing what she was doing from other employees. Hirsch can also be observed taking bunches of lottery tickets, checking to identify the winners, disregarding the non-winning tickets, and not paying for them.

Vinz advised Officer Chafer that BP's total loss was $52,807.

If convicted Hirsch may be fined not more than $25,000 or imprisoned for not more than ten years, or both. Her preliminary hearing will be held July 9, 2019.

Police Department.

New hires topic of June School Board meeting

The Cumberland School Board held their regular monthly meeting on Monday, June 17th. Staffing was the topic of the agenda items for this month. The Board approved the hiring of Taylor Hayes as Middle School Counselor and Karen Nelson as Elementary Special Education Teacher.

The Board also approved Colin Green's resignation as Co-Head Softball Coach. The Board also heard from Elementary School Principal Jim Richie on the 2018-19 AGR report. The AGR tracks the schools progress towards goals for the PALS and STAR tests. According to Richie, the Elementary School had a mixed bag of results this year. The goals were met or exceeded in Kindergarten reading and math and Second Grade Math. While the other grades test scores came close to meeting the goals set, there is still room for improvement. Richie stated that they will be looking at the results and use them to better understand where improvements need to be made. At the end of the district reports, the Board adjourned to closed session at 7:25 to discuss 2019-20 personnel and employee negotiations. The next regular board meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, July 23rd at 6:00 p.m. in the District Offices.

Library Happenings

by Rob Ankarlo, Director
Thomas St. Angelo Public Library

Summer vacation has officially begun and the library has become a gathering place for many youth. They have been using the computers, reading books, playing video games, browsing magazines, attending special programs/presentations and participating in hands-on "maker space" activities. Free youth t-shirts are being awarded to all who sign up and participate in the youth summer reading challenge. This custom designed t-shirt has been highly coveted by many youth and the library has needed to place another t-shirt order to meet this high demand. Along with receiving a free t-shirt, the youth have the opportunity to win weekly prizes and awards for reading library materials and spying Treky/Spaceship in the scavenger hunt.

To complement the summer youth program, the TSAP Library is serving daily breakfast and an afternoon snack throughout the week days compliments of the USDA Summer Meal Programs and the Boys and Girls Club of Barron County. A bowl of cereal, milk and a fruit cup is served from 9:30 AM - 1:00 PM and a snack consisting of a juice box/milk and bag of crackers is served from 3-5:00 PM. This healthy summer meal program is enhancing the library's community-building efforts with youth of all ages while making sure no child goes hungry while visiting the library.

The Library Lake - Island City Music Concert Series has started and to help avoid scheduling conflicts, the library will be changing Tuesday PM Story Hour time to 5:00 PM. Moving the starting time will allow the parents and youth to participate in Story Hour and then be available to enjoy the band which starts at 6:00 PM.

The Friends of the Library will be holding their next meeting on Thursday, June 20th, at 7:00 PM in the CW Johnson Community Room. New and current Friends of the Library members are encouraged to attend. The Friends provide on-going programming support to our library.

Don't forget to mark your calendar for the arrival of the well-known Teddy Bear Band on Tuesday, July 2nd. Blue Hills Chiropractic and Ardisam have partnered with the Cumberland TSAP Library Foundation to sponsor this energetic family friendly band. Through engaging participation and interactive activities, the Teddy Bear Band provides a wholesome entertainment experience for the whole family to enjoy. Following the Teddy Bear Band, Richard and the Resisters will be performing family friendly rock and roll music. The youth are encouraged to BYOTB (Bring Your Own Teddy Bear) or other stuffed animals. In addition to enjoying the show, all youth will be given the opportunity to select a free book donated by the Cumberland TSAP Library Foundation. This family event will be an exciting way to begin celebrating the Independence Day holiday.

The TSAP Library is open 7 days a week and it is a community hub where one can check out DVDs, books, magazines, audio books, hotspots, and other materials at no charge. Check us out!

The sun is shining this morning and I hope all of you fathers had as good a day as I did. I heard from all three of our children. All of them are healthy or getting healthy and all of them are happy. I guess you can't ask for anything more out of life. I watched the Twins bumble away the last game of the series with Kansas City and as a Twin fan, I am happy they have played better ball than they played on Sunday. Oh well, I have to remember that the baseball season is not a sprint, but a marathon and thus far, the team has played wonderfully. I guess a couple hiccups are due. I just hope the hiccups are not severe and they pass quickly.

I watched the morning news shows this morning and I was quickly discouraged by the "talking heads" who reminded me that there are 500 days until the next presidential election. Just think there are 500 days of "repeat, repeat, repeat" coupled with at least 10,000 flashes of "BREAKING NEWS" announcements, that we will watch, as they move across our television screens. We could stop all this nonsense just by exercising our thumbs on the remote control, punching the "Off" button. Will I? No! I admit it! I am a confirmed "News Junky."

I am offended by the amount of time spent on the first presidential polls announced on Monday morning. With 500 days before the voting takes place, these first polls have absolutely no meaning. 500 days in politics is several lifetimes. We could have a war. We could have a major national disaster. We could have a major political figure die. We could have a massive change in the economy. We could have any number of other things happen that could change the political landscape. It is, I believe, a waste of time and money to conduct these polls. They simply allow the cable news shows time to have so-called experts pontificate about how one side is gaining ground or how one side is in serious trouble or how one candidate is either gaining or losing ground. This far from the election I don't think polls have any meaning. I work on my morning chores when this part of the so-called news is on.

SEE YOU NEXT WEEK!

Inside Wisconsin

Transportation budget should reflect what future will bring

MADISON, WI – Coming up with ways to pay for highways, ports and other forms of travel is a challenge as old as the nation. Since the first toll road opened in Virginia in 1772, policymakers and planners have tried to meet the growing demands of people and goods in motion.

It's not much different in the State Capitol these days, where Gov. Tony Evers and the Legislature are coming to grips with a transportation budget – except the cost is much larger, the issues are more complicated, and the trends changing the transportation system are more inevitable.

Highways and vehicles in Wisconsin and across the United States may not look the same 20 or even 10 years from now. Here are some reasons why:

- Electric vehicle sales will account for 20 percent of the U.S. annual total by 2030, according to the Edison Electric Institute, hitting 3.5 million that year alone. With a total electric fleet of 18.7 million vehicles by 2030, it is estimated 9.6 million private and public charging stations will be needed around the country.
- As of late last year, 24 states had some type of incentive (such as grants or tax credits) to support deployment of EV charging stations. Electric utilities across the country are gaining state regulatory approvals to invest in electric transportation, putting at least $1 billion into the effort so far.

- Ride-sharing vehicles will continue to change how Americans get around, especially for younger people who often tell pollsters and researchers they are not enamored with driving and dealing with traffic jams and parking. That trend will touch everything from urban congestion to parking strategies to housing.
- Autonomous vehicles hit a string of caution lights in recent years, but they're not going away. The technology that guides them continues to improve and may make headway first in vehicles such as urban mass transit, truck convoys and ride-sharing. Uber unveiled its latest autonomous car a few days ago, for example. Many roadblocks remain, from infrastructure to public acceptance to the future of auto insurance, but AV is not DOA.

- Fuel efficiency is improving for most conventional vehicles, even if the roads are filled with more light trucks and SUVs. That has hit fuel tax collections in most states, not just Wisconsin, and is likely to continue with or without new federal standards.

- In a time-crunched world, more people are willing to pay for convenience in transportation. That may explain a shift in how motorists view highway tolling, where RFID electronic transponder systems and a connected system in many states have largely replaced the staffed booths of old. Tolling could be a part of the answer for interstate expansion, even in a state such as Wisconsin, which took mostly federal money in the 1950s and 60s to build its I-system in exchange for not tolling. Law changes mean it's possible for such states to toll in designated lanes in the same corridor. That could help pay for "hot lanes" on I-39/90 from Beloit to Madison, and eventually the Wisconsin Dells.

Tolls export a fair share of road maintenance to users from other states, no small matter in tourism-conscious Wisconsin. The I-90, I-94, I-39 and I-43 corridors connecting Chicago, Milwaukee, Madison, the Twin Cities and many places in between are busy commercial alleys for traffic originating far outside Wisconsin, much of it in the form of heavy trucks.

Express-lane tolling can also relieve urban congestion. Colorado has a strong start on express-lane tolling in the Denver and Boulder areas, with those lanes getting a high-tech upgrade in a test to relieve traffic tie-ups and provide more reliable travel times.

If it works in those heavily traveled stretches of highway, so-called "dynamic tolling" that sets prices based on traffic volume and speed could be rolled out to other highway corridors in Colorado where similar toll lanes are being built or are being planned.

Evers and the Legislature must focus on some of the most pressing transportation problems at hand. After all, they're debating a two-year budget ... not the entire future of transportation. However, that same budget can help set the tone for coming cycles by embracing innovation.

After a half a century, the feed mill at Barronett has been closed. The first mill was operated there 50 years ago by Melvin Arnes and later by Clifford Jerry and Raymond Glessing. Clinton Leischner purchased the mill and moved it from the north end of the community to a warehouse at the south part of main street. In 1949 the Cumberland Farmers Union took over the business and has operated the mill and general farm supply business ever since.

A violent storm front moved through Northwestern Wisconsin and Minnesota Tuesday, causing some tornadoes, heavy thunder showers and considerable damage. Cumberland itself was quite fortunate in the damage department. The only damage here was to some TV antennas and trees. Power to areas in the north part of the city was off for some time due to downed branches. The heaviest damage seemed to be around Barron where some buildings and trailers were destroyed and personal injury reported.

Amanda R. Merrill, 39, of Turtle Lake, and Candace R. Sauvola, 45, of Pelkie, Michigan have each been charged with possession of methamphetamine, and possession of drug paraphernalia.

The criminal complaint states that on Friday, May 24, 2019, Turtle Lake Police Officer Posey assisted in the search of a residence on Martin Avenue in the Village of Turtle Lake, concerning the presence of possible controlled substances at that residence. The basis of the search was based upon information that Turtle Lake Police Officer Schallock had received from another individual that he had used controlled substances with a female identified as Amanda Merrill at her apartment. Officer Posey, along with Turtle Lake Police Chief Gabe and Officer Schallock learned that Merrill was on probation for possession of methamphetamine and that this probationary status started in 2018.

When Officers Posey and Schallock, arrived at her residence, Chief Gabe made contact with Merrill and advised as to the reasons the officers were there. The officers made contact with a female subject, subsequently identified as Candace Sauvola. During the course of asking if she had identification, she indicated that it was in a purse that belonged to her at the residence. Prior to providing the purse to her, Officer Schallock looked in the purse for her ID and during the course of doing so, he located a digital scale and a cut straw that is typically used for the use of methamphetamine. He also observed that there was enough of the substance in the straw to be tested and a subsequent test of it indicated a positive result for the presence of methamphetamine. In addition several needles and syringes were found in her purse and when she was asked about them, she claimed they belonged to a male subject that was located at the residence. She said the male injects meth and that she used to inject methamphetamine, but doesn't anymore and indicated that she snorts it now.

Merrill was taken into custody on a probation hold and during the course of gathering medication for her, she indicated she had medication in her purse. Officer Schallock went to the purse and observed a cut straw which is typically used to ingest methamphetamine. He also observed a syringe. The straw that was located in Merrill's purse was field tested and a positive result for the presence of methamphetamine was obtained. Officer Schallock asked Merrill the last time she had used meth and she indicated about two weeks prior to the officers being there.

If convicted Amanda Merrill and Candace R. Sauvola may each be fined not more than $10,500 or imprisoned for three years, six months, and 30 days. Their driver's license may also be suspended for 10 years. Their preliminary hearings are scheduled for July 16, 2019.

Trevor L. Davis, 29, of Rice Lake, has been charged with obstructing an officer, and felony bail jumping. (Failure to comply with the terms of his bond by committing a new crime.

The criminal complaint states that on Thursday, May 9, 2019, at approximately 11:35 p.m. Barron County Sheriff's Deputies Hodek, Allen, Sedani and Cook, responded to an anonymous call received by Barron County Dispatch Trevor Davis, was currently at a residence on 19 3/4 Street in the Township of Prairie Lake. They were advised Davis had outstanding felony warrants out of Barron County (possession of methamphetamine); Rusk County (Armed robbery); and Eau Claire County (strangulation and suffocation, false imprisonment, aggravated battery and multiple bail jumping charges).

Deputy Cook and Sgt. Hodek parked at a business at the intersection of 19 3/4 Street and 10th Avenue and adjacent to the reported location where Davis was said to be. They began walking on foot toward the residence which is a small trailer home on the east side of the property.

Just moments after exiting his squad, Deputy Cook saw what appeared to be brake lights illuminating in the area of the trailer home and what sounded like a vehicle's engine start. Deputy Cook could not see the vehicle directly because a fence was obstructing his line of sight. Deputy Cook relayed this information via radio to Deputies Allen and Sedani, who were parked down the road waiting to pull in, in an attempt to arrest Davis.

As Sgt. Hodek and Deputy Cook walked around the fence toward the trailer home, Deputy Cook observed a vehicle in the process of leaving. At this point Deputy Cook was near the driveway of the residence and the vehicle's headlights illuminated Sgt. Hodek and Deputy Cook.

Deputies Allen and Sedani pulled into the driveway to block the vehicle from leaving. The vehicle came to a sudden stop and a male subject whose stature was consistent with that of Davis, rapidly exited the driver's seat of the vehicle and fled running to the north. Deputy Cook yelled "Police, Stop." The male subject continued running with Deputy Cook chasing him for a distance of approximately 100 feet. The male subject rounded around the back side of a parked motor home that was nearby to the entrance of the trailer house. Deputy Cook searched the immediate area, but did not locate the subject.

Sgt. Hodek made contact with a female who was seated in the front passenger seat of the vehicle. She stated she knew the male subject that exited the vehicle and fled as "T-Dog" and they had been inside of the trailer earlier that evening.

Meanwhile, Deputy Allen and his K9 stood perimeter while Deputy Sedani made contact with David at the front door of the trailer house. As he was approaching the trailer house, Deputy Sedani could hear a male subject talking to somebody else in the residence. Initially David said he didn't know anybody named Trevor, but then advised he did know Trevor, that Trevor was there earlier, had just left, and was possibly in the woods. David insisted there was no one else in the trailer house. Deputy Sedani confirmed David was on probation for possession of methamphetamine. This was the second time Deputy Sedani had been to the trailer house when David was present. David said the trailer house was his dad's camper.

With this information, deputies determined they would conduct an Act 79 search as they believed David was attempting to conceal Davis in the residence. Sgt. Hodek observed multiple weapons on the deck of the trailer house, including an axe. Deputies did not know if Davis was armed with a weapon or not. When David became defensive, he started swearing and told deputies they weren't going to search his house. Deputy Sedani placed David in handcuffs and removed him from the porch when he became uncooperative.

Deputy Allen stood outside the front door of the trailer house with his K9. He made multiple loud K9 announcements stating that anyone inside needed to announce themselves and come out or they would potentially be bitten by a K9. Deputy Allen gave two K9

• My apologies for misspelling Jack Neurers name in last weeks Hall of Fame announcement article. He is part of a great class of individuals tied to Cumberland athletic history. The Banquet will be October 5 and I hope a big crowd will turn out to honor Mr. Neurer, Carroll Schell, Dick Nelson, Scott Nelson, and Jennifer "Olson" Hyatt.

• Our part of the State did extremely well at last weekends State Baseball Tournament. For those that think Northern Wisconsin is not the Madison area, we play some pretty good sports up this way.

• Youth baseball and softball are busy into their summer activities as we move into the latter stages of June. Stop up, almost every night, and watch some good Cumberland youth teams in action.

• Three former Cumberland football players had good spring practices with their respective teams as they prepare for football in the fall. Kobe Berghammer will compete for the UW-Oshkosh quarterback position, Max Narges will look for time at corner back at UW-Platteville, and Payton Rose will look to build on a fine season at Lindenwood University near St. Louis. As a redshirt freshman last season, Rose caught 21 passes for 342 yards and two scores, while appearing at wide receiver in all eleven games, including five starts.

• Reid Olson will be playing in the State Football All-Star Shrine Bowl in Oshkosh, July 20. Good luck Reid.

Heart O' North Conference-Team Sportsmanship Awards

The Heart O' North Conference has established a Team Sportsmanship Award that was awarded for the first time at the end of the 2008 fall sports. Conference sportsmanship is a two-part plan. The lowest two schools in ratings, per the by-laws criteria, or those meeting the 1.330 average, shall be awarded a sportsmanship banner award at the end of the 2018-2019 school year. Officials rate both schools at each contest for BASEBALL and SOFTBALL for 3 categories: Fans, Coaches and Player Sportsmanship using a 1-5 point system based on HON Officials/School Sportsmanship Rating Grid. Final voting format will be Officials counting 80% and Schools counting 20%. Sportsmanship for Boys & Girls Track & Boys Golf shall be based on the schools vote by the athletic director and coach and should reflect the overall view of other people in the district. For each individual sport, the award will be a metal plate that can be placed on a plaque to be displayed by the school.

The following is a list of the top three schools for each spring sport:

Thirty years an Outdoor Writer

Hello friends,
This week I have to cover the deadline for the ten-day fishing trip that I make each year to Shultz lake which is a fly in lake 60 miles northwest of Red Lake, Ontario!

This past May I hit the thirty year mark for writing this column and so I am going to go down memory lane a bit.

The real reason that I became an outdoor writer is because of the way that I was raised by my father the late Robert Walters, who did one heck of a job of single parent providing for my sister Lynn, brothers Tom, Mike, and myself.

The story behind the story is that our house and garage were always made up of piles of boxes and duffle bags from either the last or next outdoor excursion that we were going on. When I say going on it was between 12 and 20 low budget camping adventures where we were either hunting or fishing.

When I say low budget our outboard motor was a six horse power Mercury.

When I graduated from high school all I cared about was adventure and earning a living. I traveled with dad, my friends, other family members and at least half of the time by myself.

Back in 1987 I tried to canoe up the Mississippi River. In reality I only knew half of what I was doing but I was super healthy and scared of nothing. During that adventure I kept a journal which is exactly how this column got its name because when I returned from the Mississippi River I let people read the journal and many of them told me that I should write on the outdoors.

In April of 1989 I contacted Richard and Molly Emerson the owners of The Poynette Press and DeForest Times-Tribune about writing a column on the way of life while running a fly in fishing camp in the Canadian bush.

I still remember the interview. I was in my camper at my dad's place in Poynette. I offered Dick a can of Budweiser and did not wear a shirt. I was offered the spot for ten bucks a week and when I came home in November the column "North of the Border" was pretty popular.

Fast forward a couple of years. The Emersons cannot afford to pay me a full time wage, I was at $25.00 bucks a week at this point, and my savings was depleting. Dick Emerson who truly was my mentor in this business told me that I needed to self syndicate and that is what I was about to do even though I did not know what it was.

I traveled the state and secured The Plymouth Review, The Portage Daily Register, The Baraboo News Republic, The Daily Citizen out of Beaver Dam, and The Waunakee Tribune, and that put me at $90.00 bucks a week.

At the time I hand wrote my column, had my photos processed at a one hour photo mart and the Emerson's mailed the column to my papers.

I saved on expenses by literally living out of a tent, camper, cabin, or whatever and going from trip to trip. One of the adventures was 116 days and it was 1244 mile trek on The Appalachian Trail. I always mailed out my column and life was good.

Another part of this way of life is called "winter". Instead of writing about every boring technique on how to fish this or that or selling my soul and my pen to the outdoor industry I chose to become a hardcore winter camper.

Folks I literally had ZERO idea what I was getting into. My first winter camping trip was a simple 130-mile round trip camping, survival trip of the North Country Trail from Mellen to Iron River, WI and back.

I pulled a sled, both of my golden retrievers pulled a sled, I did not bring a tent. The lows at night were from ten to forty below. Every hill was a marathon up and down was a hard run so the sleds did not run over man or dog.

As the years went by I picked up plenty of papers, one at a time and peaked out at 73, back in the hey day of the late 90s.

I have never lied in this column, I have never missed a week of putting out a column and would have to say that my 170-mile trek on the ice of Lake Superior was my most dangerous and blindly stupid major quest of my life.

I parked my truck in Superior and started hiking the ice. As was always the case, now that I really knew what I was doing, man and beast pulled sleds, I did not use a tent and I used many of my one million lives!

In the end I met my goal and was back on the ice the following week.

Many of my comrades have witnessed the harrowing experiences, Dan Berry and I should have died on a mountain in Montana about ten years ago. Three years ago I helped save a man that made some poor choices and went through the ice three times on the Mississippi River near Stoddard.

This fella was gonna drown and he knew it and I knew it. Three times I went to the edge of the ice and pulled straight up thinking the ice that would not hold him was going to give way. In the end we all made it home, but that experience kind of messed me up.

I have never been bored, I literally have more friends than time! My health is excellent and this is not a job, its a way of life.

Push yourself, you will have no regrets!

Barronett News By Judy Pieper

Richard Pieper traveled to Stevens Point on June 7th with the Barron County Special Olympics team. Richard had earned the privilege of competing in the state softball toss and the running broad jump events. Well, imagine trumpets doing fanfares here, he won a bronze medal in the softball toss and a gold in the running broad jump. To say he was pleased would probably be the understatement of the year. We are very proud of him and are so glad that he has decided to compete in Special Olympics again.

This past Saturday Lynn and Kane Thon and I went to Rice Lake to check on Richard's softball team. The teamwork was great, they won the first game, but lost the second. Very exciting stuff. Kane was thrilled to be there watching the games and cheering for everyone. Richard said that his next game is on July 13th in Oshkosh, so we'll have to allow for a little more driving time to attend that one. I hope Savanna Marsh can join us for the games. She goes to school and works in Oshkosh.

Jerry and Karen Lombard and Vic and Linda Ostrum traveled from Many, Louisiana and Rockport, Texas to Columbus, Wisconsin to attend the high school graduation of Vic and Linda's granddaughter, Jaden Buske, daughter of Nikki and Jeff Buske. After spending some time with the Buske family, Jerry, Karen, Vic and Linda traveled to Cumberland to spend time with other family and friends. While they were here, Jerry and Karen stopped by to visit with Jamie Lombard, Kaitlynn and Jessica Holmen and Lynn Thon. Jerry can't just sit and visit, you know, so while the ladies were visiting, he went out to the garage and built a chicken coop for the twin's chickens. Amazing! It looked very nice and the little chickens seem to be very happy in their new home.

Oh, Jerry told us about a new puppy Nikki and Jeff have. Nikki loves it, but Jeff wasn't completely sure a puppy was one of their better ideas. Jerry was trying to explain to Jeff the unconditional love a dog gives its person, and the way he described it was as follows: You put the wife and the dog in the trunk of a car, drive three house and open the trunk. Which one do you think will be happy to see you? Hmmm. I'm pretty sure we all know the answer to that, so let's not try that experiment.

The Miss Rodeo Wisconsin 2020 Pageant was held in the fairgrounds in Glenwood City this past weekend. Miriah Lehmann, a former Miss Rodeo Wisconsin, helps organize the pageant and Lynn and Kane Thon and I attended the fashion show portion of the competition. In addition to fashion, the girls are judged on horsemanship, knowledge of rodeo history and speaking. I'm so glad I'm not a judge, they were all very good. Anyway, after very careful consideration by the judges, our next Miss Rodeo Wisconsin is Makayla Kleiber of Black Creek. Makayla will take over the duties of Miss Rodeo Wisconsin in January. Our new Miss Teen Rodeo Wisconsin is Mariah McFaul of Jefferson. Mariah takes over the duties of Miss Teen Rodeo Wisconsin immediately. Congratulations Makayla and Mariah. We wish you all the best and know that you will do well promoting rodeo.

Crissy Herman was sitting outside Bistro 63 taking a break this past Friday evening, so I invited her over to the house for a cup of coffee and a couple games of cribbage. We had a blast! She is so much fun to talk to. The cribbage games were fun too-she beat me soundly the first one and then I won the second. We are going to do it again soon.

Art and Jill Adams invited Duane and me to dinner with them at Lakeview last Thursday evening. We had a great time enjoying the delicious food, visiting and laughing a lot.

The Hook/Copus family reunion was held in Mount Horeb on Sunday. Jerry and Dawn Burk organize the reunion and every year, Jerry asks me if I am going to put anything in the Barronett News about it so, yes Jerry, I am. We really do have a wonderful time at the reunion. I see relatives there that I only see once a year because they live so far away. When my dad was still with us, he said that he would be at that reunion if he had to crawl on his hands and knees to get there. I agree with that. Actually I don't think I would crawl on my hands and knees that far, but I would hate to miss the reunion. The meal is potluck, and the food is always wonderful. Every year I promise myself that I won't overeat, and every year I do anyway. Okay Jerry, here it is--A good time was had by all. See you next year.

That's about all I know from Barronett this week. I had better get out and start weeding the garden, so I'll see you next time.

Mrs. Everything: A Novel
by Jennifer Weiner

c. 2019, Atria • $28.00 • 466 pages

Welcome fellow Book Geeks! My name is Terri and I'll be bringing books to your attention each week in the Cumberland Advocate. You'll find things for every member of the family in this column... and if you're still in search of something great to take in the car, on vacation, on the tractor, or to the lunchroom, holler at me at bookwormsez@yahoo.com. Join me... and Happy Reading!

"I'm sorry."

Two words that you've heard all your life, say reflexively a dozen times a day, but don't always believe. "I'm sorry, so sorry, I apologize," whatever, what does it mean? Is saying it or hearing it helpful? As in the new novel "Mrs. Everything" by Jennifer Weiner, is being sorry ever enough?

Jo Kaufman knew that the news wouldn't be good.

The second she picked up the call and heard her doctor's voice, heard the news, she was afraid but not because she was going to die. Jo was afraid that there wouldn't be enough time left for her to fix her family.

Ever since her sister, Bethie, was born, Jo had felt that Bethie was perfect. Bethie was cute and pert, their mother's favorite, while Jo spent her childhood feeling awkward, sure that their mother hated her, blaming Bethie for it. It didn't help that Jo was lanky and athletic at a time when that wasn't acceptable.

The fact that she liked girls didn't help, either.

And so, Jo was always her family's wild child, until Bethie started college and, through action or ac-the subject did not say they would be willing to make a statement. Officer following the vehicle stated that the driver appears to be okay.

Caller advised there is a male who is punching a female subject and her sister. Officer detained the male subject, who was arrested for disorderly conduct.

cident, outdid everything Jo ever did. As the oldest, Jo had to come to the rescue at least once in a big manner, and it changed her life in ways that she felt she had to accept because not accepting them was too hard. And eventually, that led to a wilder Bethie, which led to a sister-fight and an estrangement that lasted too long.

They had patched things up, though, carefully and fragilely. Jo got married and had three children. Bethie dived into Summers of Love and joined a commune. Their mother was not pleased about that, or about the rift, but things had somehow gotten better over time between Bethie and Jo.

As for Jo's daughters, though, well, that was a different matter, as though family fights were a poisonous legacy she'd unwittingly passed down.

Was there still time left to make things right?

Put "Mrs. Everything" in your hands. Crack open the cover, smell the pages, and then remember that exact moment. It'll be the last time for a long time that you'll be in this world instead of the one author Jennifer Weiner gives you.

From the end of the fifth sentence, little else will matter to you except what happens to Jo and Bethie, starting in 1950 in a small tract house for what looks like a perfect family of four. You, of course, will know that the only perfect thing in that scenario is the story to come, as Weiner takes readers forward on a wave of sisterly details, switches, love, and loss. Yes, you know how this novel ends, but you don't, really, because its sixty-year journey is a lot like real-life's unfolding.

Authentic characters, normal situations, great storytelling, what more do you want? This book, that's what, so take it to your reading group, on the airplane, to your bedside, or cabana chair. Just take "Mrs. Everything." You won't be sorry.

"Post Father's Day"

By: Pastor Dennis Wright
Northern Lakes Community Church

This past weekend we celebrated Father's Day." Many Dads were honored. Good food, time together, 'Father's Day cards' and often the words: "I love you, Dad" were all ways appreciation was expressed. Our small-town community is blessed in this way. I've seen some amazing Dads and families here.

At the same time, recently several research efforts have identified a developing change in our culture. That change has been entitled the "missing father." Of course there are many ways to "be missing" (physically, emotionally, and spiritually to name a few). And, if someone reading these words finds themselves in such a 'missing father' situation, this is in no way critical. Your sorrow and pain are shared by many. Life is messy. No one is perfect. We all need help in different places and spaces of life. I am praying for you.

But for a moment, let me write to the fathers among us....both to those who are "present and accounted for" and those who are to be found among the "missing." Being a 21st century father is complex. Many demands upon time, energy and life are present. They come from all sides. The 'job description' for fatherhood has multiple pages of main points and responsibilities followed by an unending list of sub-points explaining the expectations. The challenges are many.

Every father needs resources to help. I've observed three (3) such resources that are true difference makers: (1) identifying a mentor, (2) participating in a men's group and (3) a personal relationship with God as our Father. The spiritual heart and character are central to everything regarding fatherhood. These are only found as one personally experiences God in his own heart and soul.

Have you experienced God as your Father? Jesus' parable of the Prodigal Son gives the example of God as Father. Like the son, we come to our senses and returning to Him, we find God reaching out to us. He receives us. He forgives us and claims us back as His sons. It is an amazing picture of God as Father. Does this describe your experience with God? Jesus said, "...tell my disciples I ascend to My Father and your Father, to My God and your God..." Is this true in your life? It's an essential for fatherhood.

Rhea Thompson

Rhea Thompson, age 85 of Becker, MN passed away on June 6, 2019. Rhea was born in Holdingford, Minnesota, to William and Mary Epsky. Shortly after, she and her family moved to a farm near Clarissa. Rhea's academic lessons were learned in a one-room country school close to home. While growing up on the farm, she developed a strong sense of drive and determination, as well as the deep connection to nature.

Rhea attended St Cloud State where she majored in Elementary Education. After receiving her degree, she taught in a number of schools around the upper Midwest. Eventually, she found her "Home" with the Hopkins, MN School District where she taught 4-6th grades. It was her ideal job where she truly loved her career, her colleagues and especially her students. She won a "Teacher of the Year" award for teaching excellence. However, equally rewarding was the fact that, throughout her life, former students connected with her and told Rhea how much they enjoyed having her as a teacher.

On March 3, 1978, Rhea married Conway Thompson. As her step-son-in-law said "Rhea went from being single to being a grandma in five minutes." Rhea was thrilled!

Conway introduced Rhea to golf and whether playing or just riding along, she thoroughly enjoyed her time outdoors on the many golf courses that they visited. For many years, when winter came, they would head to Florida or Texas where they could continue golfing and appreciate the outdoors.

Rhea always had a passion for animals, however she had a special place in her heart for birds. For years, she and Conway operated a bluebird trail at the Pebble Creek Golf Course near their home. They recorded how many eggs were laid and counted the number of bluebirds fledged. At home, she kept feeders full of seed, nectar, and meal worms so her feathered friends would be well fed.

She had a great sense of humor and an eternal optimism that put people at ease. She always had the perfect greeting card that would bring a smile or an appropriate quote or other encouragement that would bring comfort in tough times. She will be missed.

Rhea is survived by step children, Wendy (Glenn) Smith, Heidi (Tracy) Broin, Bruce Thompson; grandchildren, Eric (Kim) Smith, Amber (Raymond) Bonte, Bradley Thompson; great grandchildren, Vincent Smith, Sophia Smith, Luke Bonte, Zachary Bonte, Holly Bonte, Alivia Bonte and Taylor Mills; sister-in-law, Arlie Epsky; nephew, Doug (Janet) Epsky; nieces, Mary Claire Epsky, Barbara (Gary) Polesky, Marilyn Epsky, Nancy Epsky.

She was preceded in death by her parents; husband, Conway Thompson; brothers, Raymond Epsky, Edward Epsky; sisters, Helen Epsky, Lorraine Berg; and granddaughter, Brooke Thompson.

Memorial services will be held on June 26th at 2pm at Faith Lutheran Church in Becker, MN with visitation 1 hour prior to the service. Arrangements have been entrusted to Williams Dingmann Family Funeral Home, Becker.

Memorials are preferred to CentraCare Hospice, Faith in Action or Quiet Oaks Hospice House.

Obituary, guestbook and video tribute available online: www.williamsdingmann.com.

announcements and a final warning announcement and received no response from anyone inside. Deputy Allen released his K9 into the trailer house to search for Davis. A short time later, Deputy Allen heard yelling from inside the residence.

Deputy Allen and Sgt. Hodek removed their ballistic vests in order to get to where Davis was hiding. Deputy Allen's K9 released its hold on Davis's left arm as soon as Deputy Allen reached Davis and gave the verbal out command. Davis said he heard Deputy Allen's K9 warnings.

Davis sustained a sizable wound on his left arm and multiple punctate wounds. Sgt. Hodek applied a tourniquet to Davis' left upper arm. Mayo ambulance service arrived approximately one minute later and took over medical care of David, who was treated for his injuries at Luther Mayo Hospital in Eau Claire.

If convicted Davis may be fined not more than $20,000 or imprisoned for not more than six years and nine months, or both. His initial appearance is set for July 10, 2019.

Northwoods Notebook: A cold, wet spring to forget

By Larry Werner

As I write this in mid-June, a cold rain is falling, and the house is buttoned up against what the TV weatherman calls "free air-conditioning." Our first "summer" concert of the season had to be held indoors, even though the rain had stopped, but it was too cold and damp for music lovers to sit in lawn chairs on the shore of Library Lake.

"That's OK," said John Westin as he and his Higher Vision colleagues set up in the Nezy's Event Center. "We sound better inside."

Always good to look at the bright side, when the weather outside is anything but bright. Last fall, I wrote that I hoped winter would be followed by an early spring, not like the snowy spring with an April blizzard that we had in 2018. No such luck: This spring, blizzards came in May.

In February, I expressed hope in a column that I could get my boat in the water by mid-May this year. Michael Benjamin delivered it June 12. The record-high lake level prevented us from getting our docks in until June 11 at Serenity Shores. The water was too high to walk them in. Fortunately, MDM Dock Services of Barronett was able to install them using a barge equipped with a lift.

According to Paul Douglas, weather guy for the Star Tribune in Minneapolis, "There is a continued cool and perhaps wet bias through the last week of June, which seems par for the course this year."

And speaking of par for the course, I've been golfing once this year, after promising myself I would play more, just as I promised myself I would fish more, but haven't because my boat was in storage and the temperatures have been only slightly above ice-fishing temps many days.

"Why oh why didn't I plant iceberg lettuce and snow peas in the garden?" my friend Gerard Bents joked on Facebook one day last week. "36F this AM on 2019-JUNE-13! Sunny, clear, and 39 already. Gonna be a beautiful March-like morning."

But moving back to the bright side, Gerard got to play his guitar and sing on a beautiful June 8 at Tourist Park during Celebration of the Arts, an event that has a history of getting rained on. Of course, 24 hours later, we were putting on our ski jackets again.

Other parts of the country have had a warmer spring, but not a dryer one. Here's a headline from the Washington Post: "The United States just had its wettest 12 months on record." The headline continues with a bright side — "It's nearly drought-free" — and then back to the dark side — "but flooding is rampant."

This will be our sixth summer living on Beaver Dam Lake. The previous five have, for the most part, been what I had dreamed lake life would be: warm days for pontoon rides and kayaking, relatively few all-day rains, cool nights when we could leave our windows open to hear the loons' nighttime lullaby.

Here's hoping the rainy weather ends soon, and the temperature rises, so we can complain again about the heat and worry about sunburn rather than mold.

Larry Werner's email is lwerner47@gmail.com.

June State Patrol Law of the Month

State Patrol Reminds Motorists to Properly Secure Trailers and Cargo

It's that time of year when many travelers are pulling boats, campers and hauling a variety of items along highways. As part of the June Law of the Month, the Wisconsin State Patrol reminds motorists to ensure that trailers are in good mechanical condition, safely attached to the vehicle, and that anything loaded into a trailer or truck bed is properly secured.

"We regularly see problems with trailers that break down or break loose, and items jarred loose from boats, trailers or truck beds that create hazards along our roadways," said Wisconsin State Patrol Captain Nick Wanink of the Northwest Region. "To avoid a potentially dangerous situation, make sure before you leave home that everything is properly attached and secured."

Things to keep in mind when towing campers or trailers:

- Make sure that trailer tires, axles and lights are in proper working condition.

- For towed equipment, ensure that the ball and hitch coupling assembly are the same size and latch securely. The latching mechanism must be able to prevent disengagement of the trailer while the vehicle is in operation.

- Two safety chains of proper length and strength must be attached between the vehicle and the trailer with enough slack to allow proper turning.

- Its a good idea to criss-cross the safety chains. This creates a cradle that can catch the tongue of the trailer and prevent it from striking the pavement if an unexpected disconnection occurs.

- Failure to properly secure a trailer (state law 347.47) can result in a $200 citation with two demerit points added to a drivers license. More info regarding safety chains, cables and leveling bars can be found in Wisconsin Transportation Administrative Code 308.12. State law 348.08 details various requirements related to vehicle trains. Wisconsin law also provides for a $200 citation for failure to properly secure a load (348.10) or for spilling a load or waste along a highway (346.94).

"Items such as coolers, chairs, lumber or fishing equipment that bounce out of trailers or truck beds become dangerous obstacles that can damage other vehicles or result in crashes when drivers swerve suddenly to avoid roadway debris," Captain Wanink said. "Covering a load is not required by law, but having a cover over a truck bed or trailer will help ensure that any load is properly secured and contained."

Lightning Safety Tips from Barron County Sheriff's Department

When Thunder Roars – Go Indoors

Each year, more than 400 people are struck by lightning in the United States. As average of 54 people are killed and hundreds of others suffer lifelong pain and permanent neurological disabilities. In Wisconsin, we've had 23 lightning deaths since 1982.

Lightning Facts:

- Lightning often strikes the same place repeatedly, especially tall isolated objects

- Most lightning victims are in open areas or near a tree

- The rapid heating and cooling of the air near the lightning channel causes a shock wave which results in thunder.

Lightning Myths:

- Rubber car tires protect you from lightning by insulating you from the ground.

- o FALSE: The metal roof and sides protect you, NOT the rubber tires. When lightning strikes a vehicle, it goes through the metal frame into the ground.

- If trapped outside and lightning is striking around you, lie flat on the ground.

- o FALSE: Lying flat increases your chance of being hit by ground current. If you are caught in a storm, keep moving toward a safe shelter.

Protect yourself and your family by knowing these simple lightning safety facts and tips:

- If you hear thunder, you are in danger. Don't wait, seek shelter immediately. Remember, When Thunder Roars – Go Indoors!

- If a building is not available, get into a metal vehicle and close all windows

- Don't use a corded phone except in an emergency. Cordless and cell phones are safe to use

- Because water pipes conduct electricity, don't take a shower during a storm

- Stay away from isolated tall trees, towers, and utility poles. Lightning tends to strike taller objects in the area

- Get an Emergency Weather Radio for latest storm forecasts

Act fast if someone is struck by lightning:

- Call 911 immediately
