WINTER PARKING & TRAVEL RESTRICTIONS

Due to the Governor's Safe at Home order, Winter Parking Regulations have been suspended. However, in the event we receive snow, streets must be cleared of cars to allow the crews to do their job.

Talk to your kids - keep them home. No unnecessary trips.

Also, if the police are called to your home, we will practice social distancing and not enter the house.

Please use common sense. We will get through this. Thank you for your cooperation.

Fatal accident at logging site near Barron

On Monday afternoon, March 23, 2020, at 12:45 pm, the Barron County Dispatch Center received a 911 call of a logging accident in a wooded area west of Barron. The incident occurred in a parcel of woods caused from a 2019 blowdown storm near Hwy 8 and CTH TT in Barron County.

Deputies from the Barron County Sheriff's Department along with Mayo Ambulance, Barron Fire Department, First Responders, Lifelink Helicopter, and Barron County Medical Examiner's Office responded to the scene.

Initial investigation shows Nathan P. Hecker, age 56, of Stone Lake, was repairing a piece of equipment on a log skidding machine when he became pinned between the cab and engine compartment. Hecker died at the scene.

Cumberland Healthcare's Response to COVID-19 Virus

Effective Monday, March 23rd, to ensure patient and staff safety, we will lock down Cumberland Healthcare to only one entrance, the main entrance of all properties. If you are a rehabilitation patient, you will be able to enter through that door.

Patients & Visitors: All visitors, staff, and patients will have their temperature checked upon entry to the hospital/clinic. If you are a visitor, and have an elevated temperature greater than 100.0, you will be asked to leave the building. If you are a patient to be seen and your temperature is greater than 100.0, you will be masked and referred to the clinic triage nurse regardless of the service you are coming in for. The nurse will further screen before allowing the person to proceed to their appointment. This will be done in Turtle Lake and outpatient rehab also.

Triage Phone Screenings: On Monday, March 23rd, in light of social distancing, we will have a phone triage line to call if you are having respiratory symptoms for questions regarding COVID-19. The phone triage line is open Monday through Friday from 8:00 am to 4:00 pm. If we experience a higher than normal call volume, you will be placed on hold for no more than 5 minutes and then transferred to a voice-mail messaging system. Calls will be returned the same day if between 8:00 am and 4:00 pm. Cumberland Healthcare patients can access the triage phone line by calling 715-822-7500. After 4pm, your call will be directed to the emergency department. The triage line will guide and educate callers to the level of care they need based on mild, moderate and severe symptoms, including consideration of their own past medical history whenever possible.

Elective Surgeries: Effective Monday, March 23, Cumberland Healthcare will no longer be doing elective surgeries to preserve our supply of personal protective equipment (PPE). We will continue to provide urgent and emergent surgeries.

Cumberland Healthcare is dedicated to keeping our community safe and informed. We will post updated information every week through the Cumberland Healthcare Facebook page and our website. Thank you for your understanding.

Both federal and Wisconsin income tax payment and return due dates are automatically extended to July 15, 2020. Wisconsin law will automatically extend time and waive interest and penalties for taxpayers due to a presidentially declared disaster.

Governor Tony Evers said, "this is just one more thing we can do for Wisconsinites during this challenging time. Our main goal is to assist our citizens in any way that we can."

Gov. Evers Directs DHS to Issue Safer at Home Order

Gov. Tony Evers has directed Department of Health Services (DHS) Secretary-designee Andrea Palm to issue a Safer at Home order that prohibits all nonessential travel, with some exceptions as clarified and defined in the order. The order is available here.

The order is effective at 8 am on Weds., March 25, 2020 and will remain in effect until 8 am Fri., April 24, 2020, or until a superseding order is issued.

"I know the COVID-19 outbreak has been difficult and has disrupted the lives of people across our state. Issuing a Safer at Home order isn't something I thought we'd have to do and it's not something I take lightly, but here's the bottom line: folks need to start taking this seriously," said Gov. Evers. "Each and every one of us has to do our part to help slow the spread of COVID-19 so we can flatten the curve to ensure our doctors, nurses, and healthcare workers have the opportunity to do their important work. Let's all do our part and work together."

Individuals do not need special permission to leave their homes, but they must comply with this order as to when it is permissible to leave home. Similarly, if a business is an Essential Business or Operation as defined in this order, it does not need documentation or certification to continue its work that is done in compliance with this order.

Under this order, Wisconsin residents are able to:

- Perform tasks essential to maintain health and safety, such as obtaining medicine or seeing a doctor;
- Get necessary services or supplies for themselves or their family or household members, such as getting food and supplies, pet food and supplies necessary for staying at home;
- Care for a family member in another household; and
- Care for older adults, minors, dependents, people with disabilities or other vulnerable persons.

Businesses allowed to operate under the Safer at Home order include, but are not limited to:

- Health care operations, including home health workers;
- Critical infrastructure;
- Businesses that provide food, shelter, and social services, and other necessities of life for economically disadvantaged or otherwise vulnerable individuals;
- Fresh and non-perishable food retailers, including convenience stores, grocery stores, farmers' markets, and food banks;
- Businesses that ship or deliver groceries, food and goods directly to residences;
- Pharmacies, health care supply stores and health care facilities;
- Child care facilities, with some limitations;
- Gas stations and auto repair facilities;
- Banks;
- Laundry businesses, dry cleaners and services necessary for maintaining the safety, sanitation and essential operation of a residence, including garbage collection;

• Hardware stores, plumbers, and electricians;

- Educational institutions, for the purposes of facilitating distance learning;
- Roles required for any business to maintain minimum basic operations, which includes security, and payroll; and

• Law and safety, and essential government functions will continue under the recommended action.

The order contains detailed information regarding the exemptions provided to certain businesses. If a business is unsure about whether or not they are exempted from this order, please contact the Wisconsin Economic Development Corporation at <https://wedc.org/essentialbusiness>.

This is a rapidly evolving situation and we encourage you and the public to frequently monitor the DHS website for updates, and to follow @DHSWI on Facebook and Twitter, or dhs.wi on Instagram. Additional information can be found on the CDC website.

Clearing The Way!

Logging crews have been busy clearing trees from land located on Cumberland's west side along US Hwy 63. New roads, homes and businesses will soon be part of the landscape. More details to come as they become available.

Gov. Evers suspends Utility Rules and allows for additional Consumer Protections

Gov. Tony Evers has issued Emergency Order #11, suspending several utility-related administrative rules, paving the way for the Public Service Commission of Wisconsin (PSC) to temporarily order further consumer protections amid the COVID-19 public health emergency.

"It is critically important to give people flexibility during this emergency, when paychecks might be disrupted, to keep the lights and heat on and water flowing," said Gov. Evers. "We're making sure that folks don't have to make the critical choice between keeping their utilities on and paying for other essentials."

Immediately following the governor's emergency order, PSC Chairperson Rebecca Cameron Valcq directed regulated utilities in the state to take the following actions for the duration of the emergency:

- Stop utility disconnection for nonpayment for all customers, including commercial, industrial, and farm accounts. Previously this applied to residential accounts only;
- Cease assessing late fees to customer accounts;
- Halt the practice of requiring deposits from customers for reconnection of service;

- Allow deferred payment agreements for all customers who request them;
- Remove any administrative barriers for customers establishing or reestablishing utility service; and
- Authorize water utilities to provide budget billing arrangements to customers.

Electric and natural gas utilities are allowed to do this under current rules.

"I want to thank the governor for his prompt action on this and our utility providers for their continued efforts to keep our homes and businesses supplied with light, heat, and water," said Chairperson Valcq. "This is a difficult time for many. We're asking that those who are able to pay their utility bills, please continue to do so. For those who can't, today's order allows them to remain connected."

Previously, the PSC directed utilities to cease disconnecting residential service for nonpayment until the state public health emergency had been lifted. Additionally, utilities were required to make reasonable attempts to reconnect service to an occupied dwelling that had been disconnected.

VOTE for

ATTENTION
3rd WARD RESIDENTS

The election for City Council is approaching quickly. My original intention was to come to every household in the third ward to meet you and discuss my candidacy for City Council. That was before the pandemic struck the world. Out of an abundance of caution I am ceasing the door-knocking part of my campaign. I am really sorry that I will not be able to come to every household in the 3rd ward.

When I was in the workforce I learned there are five ways to address risk. They are avoid, assume, spread, reduce and transfer. Given the uncertainty of our challenge from the Coronavirus, I believe the safest decision is to avoid the person-to-person contact as recommended by Health Officials world-wide.

This is not my first choice but I believe this is the safest for all of us. I hope you agree with my decision and will still cast your vote for me for City Council

Library Happenings

by Rob Ankarlo, Director
Thomas St. Angelo Public Library

During times of uncertainty and stress, no matter your age, sometimes all you need is some sage advice from someone wise to keep yourself calm and get you through the day.

Clare Janty, who is a physician assistant, master certified life coach, and active Friend of the Library, has reached out to the library staff to share her tips on coping with stress and anxiety amid this COVID-19 global outbreak. Here are her words of wisdom:

"Dear Cumberland Library Staff,
I know these are trying times.

I would like to share some anxiety buster strategies. Think about how you could put into practice those that appeal to you.

1. As with our inner critic, notice and in your mind see that anxiety monster shrinking to an inch like in the Incredibles.

2. Deep breathing really works when we are stressed, sometimes we are holding our breath without even knowing. Try to lengthen your breath so that the exhale is twice as long as the inhale and you can even roar like a tiger on the exhale for releasing more.

3. Relaxation moments - Scan your body and actively concentrate on releasing those muscles where you are feeling tight. Bring your personal energy to that area. Think of it as heating up and then melting that tension away.

4. Be mindful of what you are putting in your body. Treat it like a temple. Be cautious about caffeine, high sugar foods and alcohol.

5. Take some physical activity breaks. Maybe the first five minutes of every hour which could add up over the day to 60 minutes of activity. Your body will be thankful.

Take care, Clare"

In addition to Clare's advice, I remind myself that it is critical to stay connected with one another, even as we practice social distancing. I make a point to phone and check in with a friend and/or family member each day. This time together makes their day, and it brings a feeling of security to them and myself.

Our community and country has made it through hard times before and we will get through this by supporting one another. As we navigate this challenge, I hope everyone continues to remain healthy and safe.

Take care — be well,

Voting in the April 7, 2020 Election

by DeeAnn Cook, Barron County Clerk

All polling places will be open from 7am to 8 pm on Election Day. We have been told by the Wisconsin Election's Commission that there is no plan to postpone the election due to COVID-19. Rest assured that Municipal Clerks and poll workers will take extra care in sanitizing election equipment, voting booths and their facility. Municipal Clerks will also do their best to accommodate the increase in absentee requests. Please be patient because many of them in smaller municipalities are part time clerks and have other jobs. They are very concerned about having enough poll workers on Election Day to process all of the absentee ballots then count the results once the polls close.

REGISTERING TO VOTE

The deadline for registering to vote online has been extended to March 30, 2020 by using the MyVote system. Voters will also be allowed to register and vote at the polls on Election Day. Voters must be registered in order to receive an absentee ballot.

VOTING BY ABSENTEE BALLOT

Any qualified elector who is unable or unwilling to appear at the polling place on Election Day may submit a request to vote an absentee ballot to their municipal clerk. A qualified elector is any U.S. citizen, who will be 18 years of age or older on Election Day, who has resided in the ward or municipality where he or she wishes to vote for at least 10 consecutive days before the election. The elector must also be registered in order to receive an absentee ballot. Proof of identification (Photo ID) must be provided before an absentee ballot may be issued.

You must make a request for an absentee ballot in writing or online at MyVote.wi.gov.

You may submit a written request in the form of a letter or you may apply for an absentee ballot online at MyVote.wi.gov. Your written request must list your voting address within the municipality where you wish to vote, the address where the absentee ballot should be sent, if different, and your signature. You may make application to your municipal clerk for an absentee ballot in person, by mail, by fax, by email or at MyVote.wi.gov.

Making application to receive an absentee ballot by mail

The deadline for making application to receive an absentee ballot by mail is April 2, 2020. See the list below for municipal clerk information:

Opinion

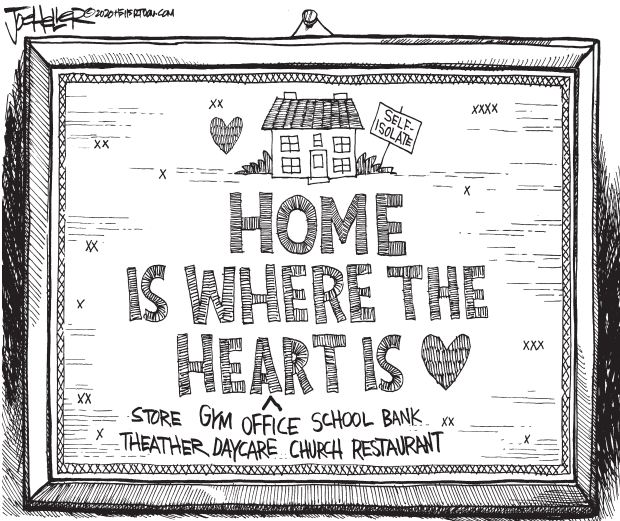

By Craig Bucher

I guess it is time to admit it - I am old. I am not handling the Caronavirus very well. In addition, Sharon and I are moving. We are going into an assistant living apartment in Rice Lake. It is difficult to admit that we need help. For almost 60 years of married life we have “paddled our own canoe.” We can no longer do it. It is wonderful to have a great family. Our oldest son has been living with us for the past three weeks.. I have discovered that he is a great cook.. I know that your publisher, Paul, is a good cook and our daughter, Heather, married a man who also is a fine cook. I guess I am the only one who needs directions to boil water. Heather has come up from Madison on her days off to help and Paul has directed this whole moving operation. Sharon’s sisters have also been of great help. It is times like this that one appreciates a close family.

I hope the good Lord allows me to continue writing the scribbles that come from my pen each week, as I enjoy it. I enjoy reading newspapers each week and this past week I notice that almost 60% of each paper is on some aspect of the virus now hitting our country. I recognize the seriousness of our situation, but I can’t quite handle the repetition of the same old rehashed information over and over - again and again. I would sure like to see some variety - there must be something else happening in the world. I only hope we get back to a bit of “normal” soon.

SEE YOU NEXT WEEK!

LETTERS Editor

This nation needs God back in it’s life.

To the Editor:

Our Country was started and based on Gods word. We’ve thrown Him out of our government nation. “A woman should have the choice to care for her body the way she wants to.” It’s fine as long as she does not destroy the body of any other. Where is the choice of any unborn woman?

God’s command is “thou shalt not murder.” Abortion has become such a common word, BUT do we realize what it is? How barabrie!

What this whole Country needs is to rid our government of the devils (starting with house speaker and her-cronies) and put Godly people back in the office.

Seek first. The kingdom of God and all thse things will be given unto you.

Let us listen to Psalm 81, verse eight and following, and have God speak to America as well as Israel.

And then we should remember 1 John 1:9 & 10 and Proverbs 3, and live up to what they say.

We have a Godly president. Lets give him some good credit for a change.

THEREFORE BEWARE OF WHAT YOU VOTE FOR!

Inside Wisconsin
by Tom Still

“Following the flight of the ‘black swan’: Entrepreneurs in the coronavirus era”

MADISON, Wis. – Sequoia Capital, the Silicon Valley venture capital firm with a 50-year track record of overall success, issued a March 5 memo headlined: “Coronavirus is the Black Swan of 2020,” meaning the spread of the virus is an unexpected disruption with wide-spread financial effects.

Within two weeks, word got out that the same Sequoia Capital was seeking to raise $7 billion for a set of venture funds to invest in young businesses in the United States, China and India.

The average person might react with a huge “Huh?” at the seeming conflict between a memo about massive market disruption, followed by what appears to be a decision to raise a new set of funds that would be bigger than the last time Sequoia did so two years ago.

The explanation has to do with the overall message behind Sequoia’s “Black Swan” memo, which wasn’t quite as dire as forecasts by the same venture giant during the 2008 market crash. The latest message was two-fold: Young companies need to plan wisely now on how to survive COVID-19’s onslaught on the economy, and not lose sight that some of today’s success stories got their start during previous economic crises such as the Great Recession.

“In downturns, revenue and cash levels always fall faster than expenses,” read the March 5 memo, in which Sequoia advised extending cash runways during a time in which revenues could fall, supply chains could be interrupted, marketing becomes more difficult and managing head counts is necessary.

“We sent that memo because we wanted to signal to our (company) founders they should take this seriously,” Sequoia partner Alfred Lin told Bloomberg Television. “We need to focus on survival. For many of our founders, that means focusing on their cash flow and understanding how much cash they have to get to the other side.”

The second part of the memo was a reminder that opportunity sometimes springs from hard times.

“Many of the most iconic companies were forged and shaped during difficult times. We partnered with Cisco shortly after Black Monday in 1987. Google and PayPal soldiered through the aftermath of the Dotcom bust. More recently, Airbnb, Square, and Stripe were founded in the midst of the Global Financial Crisis. Constraints focus the mind and provide fertile ground for creativity,” Sequoia partners wrote.

To that list can be added companies such as Pinterest, Uber, Dropbox, Slack and WhatsApp, to name a few.

It’s not just the big Silicon Valley investors that are adjusting. Wisconsin Investment Partners, one of Wisconsin’s oldest and largest angel networks, held its March 18 screening meeting virtually to hear from four young companies seeking investments. (A screening meeting doesn’t mean an investment will occur; it’s just one of the first steps in a longer courtship.)

For most investors, the issue at hand is managing what’s already on the plate.

“We’re having in-depth conversations with companies in our portfolio ... to make sure they have ample cash runway to weather the storm,” said John Neis, managing director of Venture Investors, Wisconsin’s oldest and largest venture-capital fund.

Neis noted that many investors will look first at “follow-on” investments in existing portfolio companies, where previous investments must be protected. Major institutional investors facing an overall loss of assets due to the market downturn may find themselves squeezed to put more money into alternative asset classes, such as venture capital, at least until some measure of certainty returns.

“In the classic sense of ‘buy low and sell high,’ I guess one could say this is not a bad time to make investments in our (venture) world because there are bargains to be had and exits don’t happen for years, anyway,” Neis said. “But this isn’t ‘business as usual’ or even close, and it may not be for a long time.”

Market and economic troubles were at the core of upheavals in the late 1980s, early 2000s and 2008. The “Black Swan” of 2020 is a bird of a different feather, which makes it more difficult to follow for young companies and investors alike.

Davis Jr., 35, of Rice Lake, has been charged with, disorderly conduct, criminal damage to property, domestic abuse, and contact after domestic abuse arrest. Officer Wolfe, with the Rice Lake Police Department, reports on March 14, 2020 at approximately 2:34 p.m., she along with Officer Koenig, were dispatched to a residence in the city of Rice Lake, for a report of a disorderly male. A female subject called 911. Officer Wolfe notes she later determined that the female who called 911, was the owner of the residence and had rented the upstairs rooms in her residence to another female, and Davis, for the prior three days. The female subject informed the 911 operator that Davis was smashing out the windows of his girlfriend’s vehicle and acting crazy. Upon arrival, Officer Wolfe reports she observed a vehicle parked sideways in the roadway on a side street in Rice Lake. As Officer Wolfe was driving by the apartment complex, she observed a vehicle parked in the parking lot with the windows smashed out. The front windshield was damaged and appeared to have been struck by something three times. The driver side mirror was broken and was hanging from the side of the van. The middle passenger side window was completely smashed. The rear window was completely smashed and the rear view mirror had been ripped off and was lying on the dash of the vehicle. Both tail lights had also been smashed out. Officer Wolfe later determined that the girlfriend of Davis, was the owner of both vehicles. Officer Wolfe reports she was flagged over by several people in the parking lot. Officer Wolfe asked them what was going on with the van and they stated a male subject drove it to the parking lot with the windows already smashed out and exited the vehicle. They further stated Davis was bleeding from his hands and appeared to be under the influence of drugs and alcohol. They stated he left walking, and described what he was wearing. Officer Wolfe reports that Barron County Dispatch began receiving 911 calls of a male subject walking in the middle of the road who was yelling and throwing rocks at passing vehicles. Officer Koenig observed Davis walking and detained him. Officer Wolfe arrived a short time later and observed Davis had multiple injuries including lacerations to his hands and a large scrape on the right side of his back. Davis was wearing what the witnesses gave description. Officer Wolfe reports the key to the vehicle was located in Davis’s pocket. The keys for the other vehicle were not located and the vehicle had to be towed back to the residence. Officer Wolfe observed another vehicle in front of the residence with three males inside. Officer Wolfe made contact with the driver of the vehicle. The driver stated they were driving downtown when Davis jumped on the hood of the vehicle. Davis was yelling and swearing. The driver stated he was punching the windshield and the driver’s side window of the vehicle. The driver was afraid Davis would not get off the vehicle so he continued driving and turned the corner. The driver stated Davis flung off the vehicle when the driver turned the corner and that is when the driver pulled into the driveway. Officer Wolfe observed the driver’s vehicle had a damaged windshield wiper which he confirmed was damaged by Davis. Officer Wolfe reports she later obtained a video of the incident after Davis jumped on the hood of the vehicle which was filmed by one of the males in the vehicle. Officer Wolfe reports she spoke with the female who owns the apartment, and she stated that Davis got upset earlier that day saying his girlfriend wasn’t at her place of employment where she was supposed to be and accused her of cheating on him. She also stated that Davis was yelling and calling her bad names, and saying she was covering up for his girlfriend. The female stated Davis walked outside and began striking the windows on the vehicle with his fists. She stated Davis struck the rear and middle windows so hard with his fists that the glass shattered. Davis then picked up a bicycle that was nearby and threw it at the windshield causing the damage to the windshield. The female also stated Davis got a ladder and climbed up it and started ripping siding off of the side of her house. The female heard Davis when he was outside yelling that he was going to kill his girlfriend, and said something along the lines of how he had access to obtaining a firearm and was going to shoot his girlfriend in the head with it when he got it. Officer Wolfe reports she also spoke with the girlfriend. The girlfriend stated she and Davis have been in a relationship for over three years. She stated they have lived together off and on at Davis’s parent’s house. The girlfriend stated Davis had recently been accusing her of cheating on him, and not being at work when she said she was. She stated it had gotten so bad that she had to videotape herself clocking in and out of work so Davis knew she was actually at work. Officer Wolfe reports the girlfriend completed a non-consent form. The statement of loss for the damaged vehicle, lost key, and tow bill is $1,080.00. Officer Wolfe reports she reviewed the victim’s notice with the female subject and the girlfriend, and they both elected to enforce the 72 hour no contact provision. Officer Belich, with the City of Rice Lake Police Department, reports he transported Davis to the Barron County Jail. At the jail, Davis signed two no contact provision forms. Officer Belich reports on March 14, at approximately 9:22 p.m., he was dispatched to the same residence for a report that Davis had violated the 72 hour no contact order. Upon arrival, Officer Belich made contact with the female and the girlfriend, who stated Davis had arrived at the residence approximately five minutes before Officer Belich arrived wanting to pick up some of his property. The girlfriend stated they kicked him out of the residence. Officer Belich reports he observed Davis walking. Officer Belich made contact with him who admitted he was at the residence to get some of his clothes. Davis stated when he posted his bond to get out of jail, a jailer told him a waiver had been signed. Officer Belich confirmed with the female and the girlfriend that neither had signed a waiver of the 72 hour no contact order. Officer Belich also confirmed with jail staff that no one had told Davis anything about a waiver being signed. If convicted for disorderly conduct, Davis may be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than 90 days in jail. For criminal damage to property, Davis may be fined not more than $10,000, or imprisoned not more than nine months or both. For contact after domestic abuse arrest, he may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than nine months or both.

Fire Dept. Safety Tip...

the ice to be absolutely “SAFE”

Ice Safety Tips

- Never go on the ice alone. A friend may be able to rescue you or go for help if you fall through the ice
- Always keep your pets on a leash. If a pet falls through the ice, do not attempt to rescue your pet, go for help
- New ice is usually stronger than old ice. As the ice ages, the bond between the crystals decay, making it weaker, even if melting has not occurred
- Beware of ice covered with snow. Snow can insulate ice and keep it strong, but can insulate it to keep it from freezing. Snow can also hide cracks, weak, or open ice
- Slush is a danger sign, indicating that ice is no longer freezing from the bottom and can be weak or deteriorating
- Ice formed over flowing water(rivers or lakes containing a large number of springs) is generally 15% weaker
- Ice seldom freezes or thaws at a uniform rate. It can be one foot thick in one spot and only one inch thick 10 feet away.

An Outdoorsman’s Journal

by Mark Walters

Two Nights with the crew from Night Ops

Hello friends,
One of the coolest parts of my job as an outdoor adventures writer, is the all of the very interesting people that I meet. A couple of months ago, Brian Ball, who lives near Waupaca with his wife Sharon and their yellow lab “Dux” reached out to me and invited me on a night time coyote hunt.

Brian, and his long time friends Jeff Leitner and Tom Hoinacki, also of Waupun run “Night Ops Coyote Control.” What these guys do requires brains, physical endurance, patience, the ability to pull into a hunting location with your lights off and not getting too caught up with your bullet not hitting the “yote” if that should happen.

Friday, March 13th
High 41, low 23
As I said, today would be my first real experience around these guys and it was interesting and pleasant. First I drove to the Ball’s cabin near Waupun which Brian and Sharon built from the ground up, including the doors.

Next I learned about Heroes Hunt For Veteran’s which Brian is the Founder and Chairman of and is one extremely active organization. In a nutshell, at the Balls property, WHFR has set up a permanent hunting camp. In the fall, for 14-weekends in a row they take a group of either two or three vets bowhunting and the local community really helps in a big way (more on that in another story).

Next, Brian has a Daniel Defense M4 AR15 with an ATN X-2 night vision scope set up on it and I got to shoot it. About all I can say is that I could have, would have, put the left eye ball out of Osama Bin Laden at 400-yards with that rig.

I fired two rounds, hit the bullseye both times and was amazed.

One of the biggest parts of being part of the Night Ops team, is speaking with lots of landowners, guns going off on their property in the dark require permission and notice. We spoke with landowners in both Fond du Lac and Dodge County and here are common reasons they want some coyotes killed. Soon the calving season will begin, coyotes love to kill young calves when they are vulnerable. Next the fawn season will begin, many fawn die to coyotes as well adult deer. The other reason are that coyotes also find dogs very tasty, especially small ones.

Back to the hunt, I am an observer Jeff and Tom are on one side of a wooded fence line and Brian and I are on the other with maybe 100-yards between us. Everything is planned out with the wind, these guys have put a whacken on over 90 coyotes in the last three winters, and have some incredible stories of cold conditions, fatigue, messing up, and a lot of success.

So everyone is either looking through a night vision scope a thermal scope or a thermal scanner “minocular.” All the rifles are resting on tripods.

Brian sets out the Fox Pro 499 which is a top of the line call and it is located about 80-yards up wind of us. Within seconds a coyote howls back after Brian puts out a call imitating a passive female. I can see very little but enjoy the show. Brian spots one and long story short it lives to hunt another day.

After the call is activated constant scanning is required to spot a coyote.

On our next set up, the guys let me watch through one of their thermal scanners and it was just nuts.

Before we let out the first holler on the call, we could see 6-deer and 8-raccoon scavenging in a last years soybean field. I was told to watch what was going to happen once the call was activated. The deer headed for the forest and the coon went to the closest trees.

Folks for two nights we put in big hours all over this part of the world, and was I ever impressed with the lay of the land here. Fence lines that are tree lined and 40-feet wide, deer everywhere, always the sound of geese, next to no human activity after dark. All of us are in the same age bracket “tag end of 5 five centuries,” and the hiking, patience, dealing with the cold wind, and a positive attitude were always apparent.

These guys sell their hides but Brian also has a vision of making a blanket for his bed out of them and I have to tell ya, I was impressed with everything about Night Ops!

Zappa Competes in Alaskan Iditarod

Cumberland native, Monica Zappa, has finished another Alaskan Iditarod-also known as the Last Great Race. The 975 mile sled dog race starts in Anchorage and ends in Nome. Zappa, who moved to Alaska in 2010, finished in 31st place. A total of 58 mushers hit the trail at the start of the race. Mushers and a team of 14 dogs, typically cover the course in 8-15 days but sometimes longer. Teams encounter blizzards, whiteout conditions, and sub zero temperatures along the way! Congratulations Monica Zappa on an impressive feat!

Use caution but their is still some good late ice fishing to be done!

Baseball Royalty Part of Moser Field History

by Mark R. Fuller

Although one gazes across from the Dairy Queen today and sees nothing but a grassy section of the city, it once served as a Sunday gathering spot where baseball was a big event for the viewing pleasure of our residents and where baseball royalty once participated in America’s game.

One can find records of the game being played in Cumberland and all the surrounding communities going back to the early 1900’s. Throughout the area, local teams participated in the sport. For instance, a Barron County League in the 1940’s consisted of a Northern and Southern Division.

The North contained teams from Arland, Almena, Pipe Lake, Cedar Lake, Silver Lake, Clayton, Chetek, Comstock, and two teams from Cumberland. The South was comprised of Shell Lake, Barronett, Lewis, Timberland, Indian Creek, and McKinley.

The sport was thought to be invented by Abner Doubleday. Although he would actually invent the Cable Car, still used in San Francisco today, it was actually Alexander Joy Cartwright who created the modern version of baseball.

A volunteer firefighter and bank clerk, Cartwright and a group of New York City men founded the New York Knickerbocker Baseball Club in 1845, creating a set of rules that would form the basis for modern baseball. It called for a diamond-shaped infield, foul lines and the three-strike rule. He also abolished a previous dangerous practice of tagging runners by throwing balls at them.

Sundays were a time to go to Church and then head to a local diamond to spend an afternoon of entertainment. It would lead to names such as Gramps Risberg, Al Peer, Wimpy Reitz, and Johnny “Swish” Engesether becoming part of our Monday morning musings.

Peer would become one of our best known local heroes. A left hand pitcher with an explosive fastball and hard breaking curve ball, Peer would put together summers that would have made even the great Walter Johnson become jealous.

In 1952, he would go 19 and 0 in leading the Cumberland Islanders to the Wisconsin Amateur Baseball Associations State Championship. Given the MVP of the Tournament, Peer would give up one hit and strikeout 15 batters in the State Championship game.

In 1953, Cumberland would repeat their State Championship as Peer went 13 and 4, striking out 197 batters in 141 innings of work, while a third State Title came in 1956 as Peer grabbed another MVP Award by going 18 and 0 on the season with seven shutouts. Striking out 201 in 148 innings of work, Peer would have an earned run average of 1.46 for the year.

In The State Tournament, Peer would pitch 21 innings, giving up one run, while striking out 28. He would appear in each of Cumberlands three games in the Tournament.

Perhaps his best pitched game, however, came in 1957, when the Milwaukee Braves Class D team from Eau Claire came to town. Managed by Gordon Maltzberger, the Braves had won the Northern League Championship the previous two years and were in first place again when they came to town on a warm summer evening that summer.

Among the Braves players was a young catcher by the name of Bob Uecker, who was batting .290 at the time. Eau Claire would throw their top pitcher, Roberto Barbosa, but he would be bested by Peer as the Islanders would take a 3-1 victory.

Thanks two a two-run single by Bob Nesvold and six innings of one-run and eight strikeout pitching by Peer, Cumberland had taken the win.

The Eau Claire Leader-Telegram ran a story the next day marveling at the play of this tiny Northern Wisconsin community. They said nothing that our residents didn’t already know.

Peer would leave the city for a new job in 1958. He would be honored on “Al Peer Night” on June 22 in 1958. He would leave after two undefeated season, two WABA MVP Awards, and helping lead the Islanders to three State Championships.

As big as Bob Uecker was, the biggest name to play here was Baseball Hall of Fame pitcher Satchell Paige, who appeared with the Kansas City Monarchs in 1961.

Fifty-six years old at the time, Paige had just completed his time in professional baseball, which began at the age of 42 as a rookie in 1948. Paige would pitch two innings for the Monarchs in a game they won 7 to 2. The biggest memory of the contest would be left with Cumberland’s Bob Davis, who would be plunked in the ribs with a Paige curve ball in the eighth inning.

One final future Major League player would have a short appearance in 1959. Tommie Aaron, the brother of Hank Aaron, would play parts of seven seasons with Milwaukee and Atlanta. He came with the Eau Claire Braves for a contest as a minor leaguer that summer.

The game would only last an inning, due to heavy rains, but Aaron would get an at-bat before the game was halted. The Civic Club used the contest to hold a raffle for a 500-pound steer and would realize a profit of $503.00 despite the rainout.

A final Baseball Hall of Famer would make an appearance on the Moser Field Diamond in 1982, when the last of the legal spitballers, Burleigh Grimes, would throw out the first pitch before a Cumberland contest, at the age of 87. The winner of 270 games as a pitcher, Grimes would live his final days in his hometown of Clear Lake.

He would warm-up by playing catch with Cumberland Sophomore Tom Bergmann, before tossing out the first pitch and spending several innings watching the Beavers take a victory. I would be lucky enough to be invited to his 88th birthday party a couple months later and spend several afternoons at his home talking about the memories of his 19-year career playing in MLB.

Yes, Moser Field was the site of many great events. From the 2,000 people who showed up on August 15 of 1950, when the dedication of lights took place to the hosting of the WABA State Tournament in 1955, when Sam Donatelle did such a great job as Tournament Chairman, the Island City has been at the center of State Baseball. That Tournament would draw a record 5,326 paid customers during the eight-day event.

Baseball at Moser Field had become known to the State as well as the residents of Cumberland.

Barronett News

By Judy Pieper

Well, well, well – What can I say about the state our world is in? Not much, because we certainly aren’t doing much around here. Duane and I have been practicing the “shelter in place” thing very religiously since last Wednesday. Well, we were being a little careful before that, but Jerry Marsh let us know, in no uncertain terms, that we should not be going places where we would be interacting with other people. Anyway, by the time you read this we will be celebrating(?) our seventh day in captivity.

Barronett Lutheran has cancelled all services until at least Palm Sunday, so there went our last hope for social life. We are still getting the Sunday message though because Pastor Todd is e-mailing the service and his sermon to members of the congregation. This Sunday’s sermon was about Saul, David and Jesus. We appreciate receiving the message from Pastor Todd.

Duane and I had signed up to provide the Wednesday evening meal at the church and were planning to do a New England boiled dinner because it was the day after St. Patrick’s Day. We had ordered corned beef from Louie’s and were going to pick it up Wednesday morning. Well, Geri Pittman called on Tuesday evening with the news that services were cancelled. So, right away Wednesday morning I called Louie’s, told them what had happened, and asked if it would be okay if I cancelled the order. They were very nice about it, said that they would just sell it at the meat counter to someone else. I really appreciated their understanding. It would take us a long time to eat that much corned beef at home.

Bonnie Fogelberg sent an e-mail letting us know that the Barronett Civic Club annual Easter party has been cancelled this year. Club members are hoping that they will be able to put something together for the children at a later time this spring or early summer. She will keep us posted.

Ted Schoenhals sent a letter and a copy of the flyer that he will be posting around the area about the fishing rods and reels that he will be giving away in April. At this time, he plans to hold the give-away on April 25th at Cumberland Park/Beach at 10:00 a.m.

to 1:00 p.m., and Barronett Civic Center at 1:30 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. The rods and reels will be free to all boys and girls who want to go fishing, so please have your youngsters take advantage of Ted’s generosity. Hopefully, by April 25th, we will all be able to be out and about again. If that changes, I’m sure Ted will let us know.

Art Adams called on Thursday evening and said that he and Jill were going to go up to Lake View in Shell Lake for take-out and asked if we wanted them to pick up anything for us. We had already eaten, so we told him that we didn’t need anything, but we really appreciated the call. And, now, I wish we would have ordered a pizza. We could have had cold pizza for breakfast – that’s a real treat. I’m glad that a lot of the restaurants are staying open for to-go orders, and I hope that you will take advantage of that. They will still have bills to pay, and we can all still enjoy the delicious food that we have come to expect when we go out. We might have to throw it in the microwave for a minute when we get it home, but that’s easy. I hope you will be able to continue supporting your favorite restaurants, bars, grocery stores, etc. while we wait for the “all clear” signal.

We are so lucky to have our family and friends. They have gone out of their way to be sure we have everything we need while we are hunkering down. Duane doesn’t even have to go to Cenex in the morning for the newspaper anymore. Lynn Thon picks that up for us every morning and leaves it on the porch. She has also picked up a few groceries for us. Sharai Hefty calls when she is at the store to see if we need anything, and, like I said before, Art called to see if we wanted a to-go order. We are well taken care of. If you are one of the young people who are still getting out, and you know some neighbors who may not be able to do so, maybe you would like to help them out. Even a phone call is appreciated. We will get through this, and it’s nice to know that neighbors care about one another.

I think I told you that Duane’s son, David, and his family, who live in Guam, were planning a trip home in June. We were so excited about the visit – we haven’t seen them for about ten years – but, of course, they had to cancel the trip. We hope they can reschedule later this summer, but things are pretty much up in the air right now. I know we are all praying for good news on the vaccine and treatments soon.

That’s all I have from Barronett this week. Stay safe. See you soon.

Northwoods Notebook: Home is sweeter than sun in troubled times

By Larry Werner

It was sort of like the loons getting word in their winter homes on the Gulf of Mexico that spring had come early to Wisconsin, causing them to head north a few weeks early.

But these were snowbirds, not waterfowl, who left their perches in Florida and Arizona because they learned a monster named Coronavirus had invaded the U.S. So we packed up our shorts and tee shirts and hit the road for home sweet home.

We were at a B&B in Crystal River, Fla., after spending some time at The Villages, planning another couple weeks visiting warm places, when a news report said this thing might infect 100 million of us. I texted my sister in Naples that we wouldn’t be visiting because we’d be heading north the next day.

I posted on Facebook that we were on the way home. Gerard Bents commented on the post that he and his wife, Marcy, were cutting short their time in a condo on Marco Island “for the very same reason. If we get it ... we want to be home,” he said.

They had a sweet deal: house-sitting for the condo owners who were spending a month back home in the Netherlands. Their friends were stuck there because of the ban on flights from Europe. But at least they were home also, and this thing has attacked countries all over the world.

Also home are Connie and Gene Bussewitz, who left Green Valley, Ariz., for Cumberland earlier than they had planned.

“With the virus issues and everything closed in Green Valley we decided it was time to head home to family, friends, and familiar turf,” Connie wrote.

Yes - family, friends and the familiar are what we want in times like these, when we’re supposed to be keeping our distance from family and friends. The snowbanks were still high and the air cold when we got back to Cumberland, but we felt the warmth of our small-town friends when Ann and I took a walk along the lake. We were greeted on the walk by Al and Lori Bock, Ron Ruppel and Bill Tews, who stopped to say he had just been to Peter & Annie’s for his coffee.

Vickie Komarek had to close the café at Peter & Annie’s, but she’s still open for takeout coffee and meals. She posted a note on Facebook about the warmth of Cumberland people, who are still stopping by her place, which she plans to close when her lease is up in August.

“The yoga ladies show up for coffee every Saturday morning after yoga class,” Vickie wrote. “One of those yoga ladies sent a message to Pam Baker (yoga instructor) asking her to send out a message to her entire crew of yoga participants asking if they would be willing to donate $20 to Peter & Annie’s to provide food for the healthcare workers in this time of chaos. By Wednesday at noon we had over $100 contributed to the cause. As of today, we have $385. Thank you, thank you, thank you. Not only does this help me as a small business owner but hopefully it will brighten the healthcare workers’ day too. We hope with all of these donations, we will be able to make all healthcare providers in Cumberland see the kindness that comes with small towns.”

She ended with this: “Please help support as many small businesses in the area that you can.”

Let’s do that. Buy a gift card or pay in advance for your haircuts. And if we “pay it forward,” as Vickie suggests, maybe when the pandemic is over, the shops, restaurants and service business in The Island City will still be there.

If we don’t ...

OBITUARIES

Evelyn J. Beaver

Evelyn J. Beaver, age 75, of Hayward, known to many as “Freddie” or “Evie,” died Monday, March 16, 2020 at her home.

Evelyn Jo Beaver was born January 8, 1945 in Knox, IN, the daughter of Vern Beaver and Lois (Purcell) Porter. She attended Hayward school and went on to own various local bar and restaurant establishments. Freddie took over the Hayward family business, Phipps Tavern, in the early 70’s. She was an icon of the community - taking part in community events and hosting a yearly bike run at Phipps Tavern where all proceeds were donated to local nonprofits in her community. You could always find Freddie playing cards, at Bingo, or cooking for her family and friends. She loved fishing, hunting, and family gatherings. Anyone who knew Freddie knew she was extremely strong spoken, but she always knew when to lend a helping hand to anyone who needed help. She will be missed by family and many friends that had the pleasure to be a part of her life.

She is survived by her children Ted (Pam) Olson, Kip (Lisa) Olson, Michael (Michelle) Strenke, Nick (Tammy) Strenke, and Casie (Jill) Strenke; 16 grandchildren, 33 great grandchildren, and four great-great grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her husband Pete Foss; daughter Hope Lee Strenke; parents Vern Beaver and Lois Porter; brother Jackie Beaver; and sister Barbara Beaver.

A Celebration of Life will be held in the spring.

Online condolences can be made at pineviewfuneralservice.com.

Cumberland Fire Department Safety Tip of the Month

Ice and Cold Water Safety

Here in Wisconsin ice and cold water safety is an important issue each winter when too many residents are injured from exposure to cold water. Skaters and ice fishermen fall through the ice; boaters and canoeist overturn their crafts. Hikers and explorers sometimes lose their way and have to camp out overnight in harsh weather conditions. Unleashed pets run onto the ice and people chase after them.

Cold Water Dangers

- Cold water is any water below 70 degrees Fahrenheit
- Cold water robs the body of heat 25-30 times faster than air

- Safety experts estimate that half of all drowning victims die from the fetal effects of hypothermia, not from water in the lungs

What To Do If Someone Falls Through Ice

- Reach-Throw-Go- If a companion falls through the ice and you are unable to reach that person from shore, throw them something (rope, jumper cables, tree branch, etc.). If this does not work, go for help before you also become a victim. Get medical assistance for the victim immediately.

- If you fall in, try not to panic. Turn toward the direction you came from. Place your hands and arms on the unbroken surface, working forward by kicking your feet. Once out, remain lying on the ice (do not stand) and roll away from the hole. Crawl back to your tracks, keeping your weight distributed until you return to solid ice.

What is Hypothermia?

Hypothermia is the severe lowering of the body’s temperature. This occurs when the body loses more heat that it can produce, which prevents the heart and lungs from functioning properly. Hypothermia is caused when the body is exposed to cold, chilling winds or by getting wet. Hypothermia can happen on land or in water and progresses quickly.

Symptoms of Hypothermia

- Absentmindedness or confusion
 - Lack of coordination and weakness
 - Difficulty speaking or slurred speech
 - Uncontrollable shivering
 - Semi-consciousness or unconsciousness
- To Prevent Hypothermia
- Wear layers of warm clothing
 - Protect your head and hands from the elements by wearing winter hats and gloves/mittens
 - Keep as dry as possible

- Always wear a personal floatation device when around cold water
- Carry matches in a watertight container

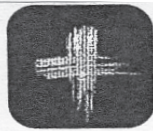

How to Help Someone with Hypothermia

- First call for medical help immediately
- If the situation is safe for you to do so, remove the person from the cold water or cold air
- Remove wet clothing
- Keep the victim in blankets or in a sleeping bag
- Build a fire to warm the victim
- Give the victim warm fluids to drink (no alcohol or caffeinated drinks)
- Seat the victim in a warm shower or warm bath with the arms and legs of the victim out of the water. This allows the core of the body to warm first

How Thick Is “Safe” Ice?

Ice on moving water in rivers, streams and brooks are never safe. The thickness of ice on ponds and lakes depends upon water currents or springs, depth and natural objects such as tree stumps or rocks. Daily changes in temperature cause the ice to expand and contract, which affects its strength. Because of these factors, no one can declare

“The Everlasting/Eternal Gift”

by Wayne Romsos,
Timberland Ringebu Free Lutheran Church

How would you react if I said to you “Merry Christmas”, “Happy Birthday”, “Happy Anniversary” or greeted you with some other similar statement this time of year. These comments imply that it may be time for a gift to be presented for the occasion. Recently (March 4th), in this devotional column Pastor John Meils closed it out by mentioning the “gift” by quoting 2 Corinthians 9:15 “Thanks be to God for His indescribable gift.” As we review the last two weeks of the Lenten season and look forward to Easter, let’s keep that in mind. Remember that the most significant gift that was ever given, was the salvation that occurred as a result of our savior’s crucifixion. The high price that Jesus paid through his death on the cross and resurrection should get our attention. This allows us to receive something that we do not deserve but He freely gave it all, for anyone that humbly receives it. We do not take the gift of salvation, we receive it. What is the best worldly gift that you ever were given? Do you still have it or did it get used up, consumed, worn out or maybe gathering dust sitting on a shelf. Most gifts have a certain shelf-life, we can lose interest in a gift that seemed so important at the time. Some gifts get handed down to others when one passes away. However, the one gift that lasts forever is the very salvation that we reflect on, in our Christian beliefs. Salvation cannot be passed on from one human to another, it’s personal for each one, for you and for me. We all have certain “gifts” that shape our personality. However, reflect this Lenten/Easter season on what has been made available for us and in 1 Peter 4:10 “Each one should use whatever gift he has received to serve others, faithfully administering God’s grace in its various forms.” Jesus has made the “everlasting/eternal gift” available for us today, receive it.

Danielle Neurer

On Monday, March 23rd, Danielle Neurer announced her candidacy for the Municipal Judge position currently held by Kathryn Ault. "Cumberland Community Members, it is with great excitement that I introduce myself as a candidate for Cumberland Municipal Judge.

I was born and raised here in Cumberland where much of my family remains today. I moved away for college and to begin my career. Since college I have been employed in the Corrections and Human Services realm in capacities of jailer, dispatcher, probation and parole agent, juvenile justice case manager, social worker, and mediator. Being present in a courtroom is nothing new for me. These positions have given me experience in different roles allowing me to approach cases fairly, with an unbiased lens, to achieve outcomes that best serve our community as well as the defendants appearing in court.

I returned to Cumberland three years ago to raise my own children. Cumberland is my home and I am thankful my children get to experience the kindness, generosity, and charm Cumberland has to offer. For the past two years I have been actively involved in the Cumberland Youth Hockey Association serving on their board and coordinating all fundraising efforts.

In 2019 I was elected in an Alderman position for Ward One of Cumberland. In this capacity I have been able to serve our community in full council, as well as on the Public Safety and Parks and Recreational boards.

I would be honored to have the opportunity to serve our community in a new way. The position of Municipal Judge allows me the capacity to hold people accountable for their actions with the freedom of appropriate liability. This allows flexibility in case by case basis, where a first time offense disposition is able to look different than a repeat offense, while keeping in mind the safety of the community and reducing the risk of recidivism.

I reach out to you, requesting your vote to allow me the opportunity to serve our community."
