City Council approves DOT TEA Grant funding at February meeting

The Common Council for the City of Cumberland met in open session at 7:00 p.m. on Tuesday, February 2nd at City Hall.

The council got right down to business, granting approval for the City to apply to the Wisconsin DOT for TEA Funding, and appointing Mayor Skinner to be the authorized signer for the Grant. TEA Grants are given to fund roadways which link business areas (jobs) to existing highways. In our Cumberland's case, the funds would be applied to the roads used to link Berdan to Hwy. 63. The funding is based on a "jobs created" formula and is expected to return around $250,000+.

The council next approved the Certified Survey Map for Lot 1, located in the NE ¼ - SW ¼, and the NW ¼ - SW ¼, City of Cumberland (Utility Land). This adjusted some property lines to allow for the entire parcel to be in one lot instead of split between two. It was the final step needed for the land sale to proceed for this lot.

Also approved was the Final Plat for the Sub-division development of the Utility Development Project M.C. 18.03.

Some of the grant programs used to fund our public works projects require audits as part of the funding conditions. The council approved Clifton Larson Allen to conduct the CDBG required single audit report for the Federal Audit Clearing House for one of those grants.

Changes to the Employee Handbook in regards to Health Insurance were approved. The changes made language and costs conversant throughout all departments & handbooks.

Also approved were:

- The Application for Payment from McCabe Construction for the 2020 Waste Water Infrastructure Improvements, in the amount of $575,379.38.
- Application for Payment from Haas in the amount of $149,621.27. This represents money left in the account at the end of the project; and
- Change Order #2 from Haas Sons Inc for the Arcade Ave and Water Street Project.

City Attorney Pete Van Sickle gave a Raze Order update for property located at 1480 2nd Ave, Cumberland, WI (Tax Parcel ID #212-1199-37-000). Pete reported that the order is in the process of being served. If physical service isn't achieved, then there is an option for posting in the paper which will be followed.

The council also approved four Applications for Alcohol Beverage Retail Operators Licenses. These are the licenses given to clerks at establishments that carry "off sale" liquor or beer.

The council went into closed session per WI Stat 19.85 (1)(c) for the purpose to consider matters relating to personnel wages, hours, and benefits of any public employee over which the board has jurisdiction or exercises responsibility.

The next regular session of the council is scheduled for March 2nd at 7:00 p.m. at City Hall.

Clarence Alfonse; Another of Cumberland's Great Athletes

by Mark R. Fuller

We have heard the story of Julie Alfonse, one of Cumberland's greatest athletes, who went on to play on two NCAA National Championship Football teams at the University of Minnesota and become a Second Round Draft pick of the NFL Cleveland Rams in 1937. His older brother had an equally impressive life.

Clarence Alfonse was a three-sport athlete for the Beavers, before graduating in 1927. He would start both ways in football, be the teams second leading scorer

in basketball and bat cleanup for the Cumberland

Baseball squad, for whom he pitched and played second base.

In football he was called by the school paper, "A triple threat man" as a quarterback, adding, "His passing was beautiful to behold." He would pass for 10 touchdowns his senior year, a total uncommon at that time in history. Among his other talents, the Advocate said was, "His punting was excelled by few in the territory."

In basketball, Alfonse would play for Fred Moser as the team went 12 and 5 his senior year. "Al" as he was known, would make the All-Tournament team at the District Tournament that season, scoring almost a third of the teams overall points, despite missing two games with injury.

Following his outstanding high school career, Alfonse would attend UW-River Falls, where he would again play all three sports. He would become a First Team All-Conference full-back and team captain in football, Second Team All-Conference in basketball, and letter three times in baseball.

After graduation, he would teach math and coach football, basketball, baseball and golf at Bloomer. His football teams won three Conference Championships, while his 1936 basketball team would go on to finish third at the State Basketball Tournament.

Alfonse would move on to Sparta High School where he again found coaching success. His 1939 and 1941 football teams took Conference Championships, while he would win two more in basketball.

With the onset of WWII, Alfonse would leave teaching for four years in 1942 and join the Navy. After his discharge in 1946, he would marry Madeline Roessler of Shell Lake and move to Ft. Lauderdale, Florida where he would resume his teaching career until his retirement in 1970. After his wife's death in 1982, he would marry Jane Simonson in 1988.

In 1979, Alfonse would be inducted into the UW-River Falls Athletic Hall of Fame. He would pass away in 1999 at the age of 90 years old leaving behind two daughters, five grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. Today, we remember once more, one of Cumberland's all-time best.

A Year-Round Concern -- The Sun!

It seems as though we should be discussing sunglasses in the summer, not in February. What we must remember, however, is that the damaging effects of the sun are a concern year round, regardless of what the temperature is outside.

The sun's brightness creates a disabling glare that interferes with comfortable vision and the ability to see clearly. It causes eyes to squint and to water. This glare occurs on cloudy as well as sunny days. On snowy days, sunglasses reduce the reflected glare that occurs when the sun's light bounces off snow.

The sun gives off ultraviolet radiation -- we know that to be true. According to Dr. Jennifer, long-term exposure to UV-A and UV-B can contribute to the development of cataracts; retinal problems; benign growths on the eye's surface; cancer of the eyelids and skin around the eyes; and photokeratitis, a temporary but painful sunburn of the eye's surface.

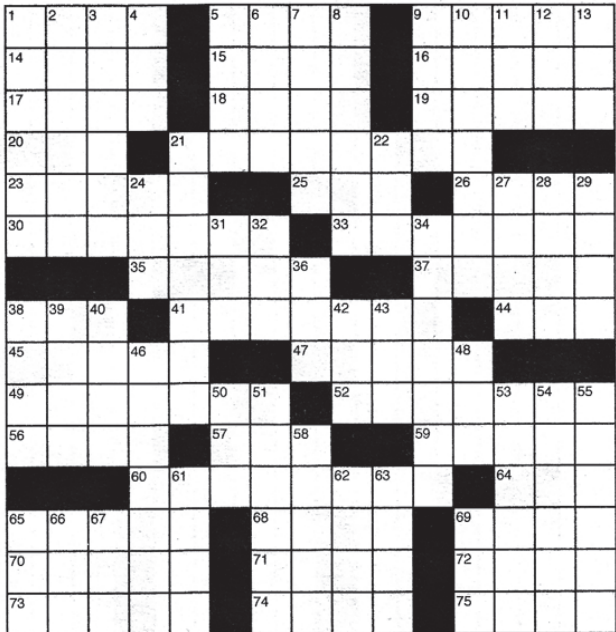

Dr. Jennifer

The best protection against the sun's damaging rays is consistent use of sunglasses. Children and teenagers are particularly susceptible to the sun's damaging rays because they typically spend more time outdoors than adults. The effects of UV radiation are cumulative, so it's important to develop good protection habits early in life. Sunglasses are not just a fashion statement, they are critically important -- not just in the summer, but all year long.

Kelly Duncan and Tia Bismonte-Duncan

Tia Bismonte-Duncan is unquestionably one of the most interesting people I've met since I moved from the Twin Cities to Cumberland in the summer of 2014. We met about a year after that when I stopped by the former church in McKinley she and her husband, Kelly, had bought to operate as Lairdchurch B&B.

We sat on the screened-in porch of that place, where she told me her story of a Paris-trained chef and a food-industry engineer who moved from the big city of Chicago to a town that isn't even a wide spot in the road between Cumberland and Luck. Over the ensuing years, this French-speaking native of Manhattan operated the bed and breakfast, catered local events, bar-tended at venues ranging from the Legion to the Tower House.

She got involved in the community, acted in a play at the Cumberland Arts Center, and she worked with me organizing the Island City Music series on Library Lake.

And then she moved -- reluctantly -- to the Green Bay area when Kelly took a job there with Saputo, the worldwide cheese company. But now the Duncans are back, and Tia's culinary skills are being used at Island City Provisions, the little building on main street she and Kelly own next to the Spot Bar.

They've sold the B&B, sold the house they bought and renovated near Green Bay, bought a house on Jeffrey Blvd., and, while her husband works from Cumberland for Saputo, the dynamo who is Tia operates the takeout restaurant that opened a few weeks ago. It's in the space that housed the Rustic Door for three years.

Island City Provisions has a limited menu and, until a significant percentage of the population has received the COVID vaccine, will remain a takeout and delivery restaurant. It will feature the kinds of things you don't typically find at other local restaurants -- homemade soups, quiches and a weekly ethnic dish -- all prepared by a woman who was trained at Le Cordon Bleu in Paris when she and her first husband were living there.

Last week's menu featured chicken chili, broccoli-cheddar and spinach-artichoke quiches and a dish called giambrotta, which she says is a stew with Italian sausage, roasted potatoes, mushrooms, peppers, onion and garlic. A couple weeks ago, she featured an Indian dish, which caught my attention because Ann and I love the food of India but either have to make it ourselves or order it from our favorite restaurant when we're in the Cities.

Speaking of ethnic food, during Lent, Tia will offer Wisconsin's national dish -- a fish fry.

The restaurant is now open from 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday. After the Valentine's Day weekend, it will be open Wednesdays, as well. And after Memorial Day, Island City Provisions will be open for lunch.

"We plan to offer picnic packs for folks going out on the pontoon or Tuesday music nights," Tia said in an email. "We are here to stay. We are also looking for local artisans to sell their wares in our shop."

Shortly before Tia and Kelly moved to Green Bay, I stopped by the place in McKinley, which had moving boxes packed and stacked everywhere. Tia was emotional. The big-city girl had fallen in love with The Island City but had to leave because her husband had been offered an opportunity he couldn't refuse.

But after a few years, she's back in the place she loves, doing what she loves -- preparing food for the people of Cumberland.

Opinion

By Craig Bucher

Well, they got me again. I listened to all the “spin doctors” for the past two weeks about the upcoming game, of the ages, pitting the young gun against the aging master as the Kansas City Chiefs set out to do battle against the Tampa Bay Bucs in Super Bowl 55. I thought the game turned out to be a bust. The 43 year old Brady took about a quarter to figure out the Kansas City game plan and then proceeded to take apart the Kansas City defense. The game was over and Tampa Bay controlled the Chiefs on both sides of the ball, all the way to a convincing victory. There is no doubt that age 43, Brady is the best there is and the best there has ever been, as a quarterback in the NFL. The game was a “bust” and next year I promise to not listen to the “spin doctors.” The best part of the entire game was watching Brady carve up the Chiefs. It also seems to me that anyone who bets against Brady, even at age 44, has a serious desire to lose money. Next year I will most certainly, however, listen to the “spinners” and will be just as gullible. Somethings never change I will believe them even when they tell me that the Vikings are going to win the Super Bowl. I guess I am “dumb as a box of rocks.”

I am really disappointed in those people who crammed together to celebrate the Tampa Super Bowl win. Hundreds of party goers without masks, yelling and celebrating is a sure way to increase the number of COVID-19 cases and is certain to cause innocent people sickness and even death. Individual freedom is a wonderful thing but where does it stop? I don’t believe there is any individual right to give the virus to the elderly man standing, in the grocery store checkout line, wearing a mask, just because my team won and I celebrated with a group of my friends without maintaining safe distances and without wearing masks. If the elderly man dies, he has lost his “right” to “life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.” No team victory and no celebration is worth that elderly mans life.

SEE YOU NEXT WEEK!

Breaking News!

To the Editor:

Breaking news: General Motors announced it will cease production of fossil fueled vehicles by 2035. Amazon, Ford Motor Company, Citigroup among several others (a total of forty) have called on Congress to work with President Biden to tackle the problem of climate change.

The US Chamber of Commerce, who previously denied climate change issues, now supports a market-based approach to accelerate green house gas emissions reductions across the U.S. Locally, Barron Electric has joined 28 electric co-operatives to create an electric vehicle charging network across five regional states. This pivotal moment is encouraging for those that have been advocating governmental climate change action.

We hope that it is not too late to prevent the catastrophic consequences of climate change. Without action, climate scientists are predicting more and stronger storms, tornadoes, and hurricanes plus severe drought in some areas and torrential rains in others. We have and will see raising oceans, changing ecosystems, insect infestations and animal migration.

A bipartisan bill in the last Congress, soon to be reintroduced, is the Energy Innovation and Carbon Dividend Act. It charges a fee on carbon with revenue distributed to households. Many economists agree that this market-based approach will stimulate the economy and create jobs. A detailed explanation of the act can be found at <https://energyinnovationact.org/>

Urge your members of Congress to support such legislation. There is little time to waste.

Inside Wisconsin by Tom Still

Some glitzier cities get ink, but Madison, Milwaukee gaining tech workers

By Tom Still

MADISON, WI: “Go Toward the Heat” trumpeted the Feb. 2 headline in the New York Times business section, which led into a story about Miami, Fla.’s, success in luring tech companies and investment firms migrating from New York’s Wall Street and California’s Silicon Valley.

It described Miami’s assets, its open-door culture and high-touch recruiting by Mayor Francis X. Suarez, who has made business recruitment a priority for his sunny and diverse city.

All accurate. Meanwhile, it’s just as true that two Wisconsin cities, Milwaukee and Madison, are performing well in the race for tech talent in the nation’s COVID-19 era.

In a recent column about the Silicon Valley exodus, I noted reasons companies, people and money should put Wisconsin on the short list for relocation.

They included quality of life, available talent trained by good schools, competitive business costs, a strong research and development tradition, ample water supplies and location in what I call the “I-Q Corridor,” the interstate band that connects Wisconsin with two regional powerhouses, Chicago and the Twin Cities of Minnesota. My “move to Wisconsin” list doesn’t include palm trees and Miami’s South Beach, but it does include a year-round attractiveness that can offer the right mix for many people.

The numbers are beginning to bear that out.

Milwaukee and Madison are both regularly ranked as top destinations for workers, especially techies. Milwaukee was recently ranked No. 2 for “remote workers” by Financebuzz.com. The annual U-Haul survey, which basically counts moves in and out from various locations, scored Milwaukee 13th among its top 25 cities.

In addition to scoring 5th on the U-Haul survey, Madison was ranked No. 1 among cities of all sizes the nation’s biggest tech talent influx. The LinkedIn study showed Madison was gaining 1.02 tech workers per each one that left in 2019; in 2020, that ratio climbed to 1.77, an increase of 74%.

No other city was even relatively close in percent-age terms to Madison in the LinkedIn research. Cleveland, Sacramento, the Twin Cities and Hartford, Conn., were next, all ranging from 20% to 15% on the plus side. The biggest losers were the San Francisco Bay area (35%), New York (20%) and Boston (18%).

Another survey by CompTIA, one of the nation’s largest associations for tech companies, was less pessimistic about coastal tech hubs but ranked Madison 18th in its annual Tech Town Index. “Tech job postings are growing here – from 14,617 in 2018 to 16,701 in the past 12 months,” CompTIA reported in November 2020.

Individual rankings can always be disputed, of course, but the collective message is one of opportunity.

Madison, Milwaukee and other emerging tech hubs in Wisconsin have a chance to capitalize on dislocations brought on by the pandemic as well as disgruntlement with conditions in traditional tech centers, whether those be environmental, regulatory or related to business costs.

“Now is the time to welcome tech workers back to the state – those with ‘alumni’ connections whether that is they lived here, worked here, or graduated from here,” said Kathy Henrich, CEO for the Milwaukee Tech Hub Coalition and a scheduled guest in a Feb. 10 Tech Council webinar. “To be successful in attracting them back to the state, we need to show them that we are already a tech hub – which we are – including local tech career and developmental opportunities, even as remote workers.”

It’s almost a Wisconsin genetic trait not to brag, but a dash of boasting by public officials and private-sector executives alike could go a long way. Wisconsin also needs to stop beating itself up over conditions that may longer be true. For example, state and local taxes paid by Wisconsin individuals and businesses has dipped as a share of income for nine straight years, according to the Wisconsin Policy Forum.

A wave of economic and workforce transition is on its way. Wisconsin can choose to ride the crest or watch as it passes by.

The Cumberland Fire Department was called to a house fire at the Cory Anderson residence on Saturday, February 12 at 3:40 pm. When firefighters arrived, smoke was pouring from the eaves of a two-story wood frame home. After gaining entry, firefighters were met with intense heat and large volumes of smoke. The fire appears to have started around the chimney on the second floor of the home, but the cause has not yet been determined. Nobody was home at the time of the fire. A cat and dog were also rescued.

Starting tonight and until further notice, the door to the post office lobby will be locked at 6 p.m. Patrons who have been in the habit of getting their mail after hours will have to do so earlier in the day. The lobby has been left open in the past for the convenience of the public, but it appears that the post office lobby has become somewhat of a hangout. Persons using the lobby for this purpose have failed to use even common courtesy in keeping the place clean. Dirt, debris and trash have been cluttering up the lobby to such an extent that the postmaster has finally decided to close the place evenings rather than attempt to keep up with the cleaning.

Johnson and Monchilovich Head to State Tournament

Just missing a berth at State was Cumberland Senior, Bryce Baldwin, who finished third at 120 and ended his season with a 10 and 3 record. He would finish his day at St. Croix Falls by going 2 and 2 on the day. Edward Chafer, meanwhile, took fifth place at 160. "I am very proud of all our wrestlers for their efforts this year under difficult conditions," concluded Lundquist.

Bryce Baldwin just missed a trip to State finishing in 3rd place at St. Croix Falls. In a normal year 3rd place would have qualified Bryce for State. Congratulations on a fine year.

Home on the Ice

Hello friends,
This weekend all of my immediate family and much of my extended family were supposed to be having a great time celebrating our Christmas together for two nights and days of being together while fishing, eating really good food, and laughing. Covid 19 put an end to that and so Michelle Chiaro and I, along with my pup Ruby went on a four day winter camping and ice fishing trip on the Mississippi River near Buffalo City.

Saturday, January 23rd
High 31, low 15
This week's column will be all over the map due to the fact that there is lots to say and not a lot of room to say it. I have some rough news for those of you that may not have read last week's column.

Fire passed away literally last night, and this trip would be our first without her. Fire was Ruby's mom, and it is very obvious that she is hurting just like the rest of us.

So, my plan was to take my Polaris "Classic" snowmobile into the backwaters near Trempealeau for about a three mile trip and that is where we would camp and fish. I first fished this area 20-years ago and have had some incredible success on giant northern pike. I even had studs put on the track this week, but my plan was cut short due to poor ice conditions.

Looking back, so far this column is a bummer, COVID-19, Fire and bad ice. My daughter Selina and I camped and fished near Bufflao City and did well which is why we ended up here today. First thing that we had to do was three trips per person pulling gear out to where we would camp.

We spoke with two different groups of fishermen and were given really bad fishing reports but at this point nothing was going to stop us. I have written about the following subject for years but here goes again, late January and the first half of February is the poorest fish catching conditions of the year in the lands of frozen waters.

The reason is that the lowest oxygen levels of the year occur at this time and so fish shut down their metabolisms. In other words, it takes more out of them to catch and digest food then it is worth because of the lack of oxygen in the water.

Anyways we set up a beautiful camp on the ice had homemade chili with everything coming from my garden but the venison and had a "we made it party". As far as fishing goes, we did not catch any.

Sunday, January 24th
High 23, low 14

Four inches of snow fell on camp last night and it was a very pleasant experience as we were in the comfortable confines of our insulated Eskimo "Fat-Shack". This morning would be the 7th prime time that I fished here this winter that a fish was not caught, and it is not just Michelle and I.

Today I tried hard and fished from 4 to 28 feet of water for my favorite quarry which is northern pike and I kept wondering what it would have been like if I had been able to get my snow machine back to my original destination. The subject of poor ice for a person that earns a living like I do is an important and sad one the last few years.

I specialized in going remote with my campsites which meant traveling beyond the crowd with a truck, atv, or snow machine and every ice junky knows that is not so simple anymore. Remote is where the most big fish are not being caught!

So even though we were fishing hard and not catching, we did not care because we were going to listen to the Packers put a hurting on Tampa Bay and have steaks from beef I grew on my property. Long story short another prime time with no action and the Packers "choked." The steak was good and listening to rock and roll was better than the Packers.

Monday, January 25th
High 28, low 10

Despite fish that are not hungry, my favorite sport is winter camping and ice fishing; you have a cabin on the lake and no checkout time. This morning was prime time number 9 and it was rather on the quiet side but I had high hopes and about 9:00 Michelle had a flag and after a good showing on her part landed a northern pike that would weigh about 8-pounds.

Last year and the year before she caught gators in the 12-to-14-pound range on our winter adventure but this one put a big smile on her face and would make a fine meal the next night for Michelle and her twin daughters Sophie and Kylie.

Fishing can be tough; all you can do is keep on trying and enjoying everything about the experience!

Boys Basketball Team Finishing up Regular Season

The Cumberland Boys Basketball Team finishes up the regular season this week with games against Bloomer and Hayward. They will then open up WIAA Tournament play as a second-seed on Friday, February 19, with an opening round home contest against the winner of Northwestern and Spooner, who play next Tuesday night.

The Beavers outstanding run over the past month continued last week, as they defeated Ladysmith 61-51 and Barron 51-27. After starting the season slowly, due to injuries and Covid restrictions, Cumberland has now won 10 of their last 11 contests.

"I thought we played really good defense for most of the night against Ladysmith. That is never an easy place to play, so a win there always feels good," said Coach Corey Berghammer about the Beavers 10-point victory last Thursday against the Lumberjacks.

Jack Martens played his usual strong night of basketball, scoring a team-high 22 points and dishing out three assists. DaShaun Ames added 11 points and Josh Martens eight, while Sam Schradle had four assists. "I thought we really communicated and rebounded well in the second half," said Coach Berghammer.

Boys Basketball Falls to Bloomer

The Cumberland Boys Basketball Team dropped a 46-31 home contest to the Bloomer Blackhawks Monday night. "We couldn't do many things right tonight. Our shots wouldn't fall, which caused us to struggle in every area and Bloomer played harder than we did, and executed better in every way," said Coach Corey Berghammer.

The Beavers shot 25 percent from the floor in the game, missing all 12 of the week with a dominating performance against Barron on Saturday night. "It was nice to see us come out and play really well on both ends of the floor, especially on the road. Each member of the team is finding ways to contribute to our success," said Berhammer about the game.

Defensively, Cumberland held the Bears to 27 total points, including 12 over the game's final 18-minutes of play. Offensively, Jack Martens scored 19 and Josh Martens 11 to pace the Beavers effort. Jax Effertz grabbed a team-high 11 rebounds, while DaShaun Ames dished out five assists.

After playing Bloomer on Monday, the Beavers finish up the regular season at Hayward on Thursday in a 7:15 pm contest. They defeated the 2 and 14 Hurricanes 68-53 back in early January. Jack Martens currently leads the HON in scoring at 21.2 points per game, while Effertz is fourth in rebounding at 8.7 per game.

Cameron is the number one seed in the Beavers Regional. The Regional Championship is scheduled for Saturday, February 20. The Beavers have been showing basketball fans in the area, they will be a force to reckon with heading into Tournament play.

their three-point attempts. Josh Martens was the only Cumberland player in double figures, scoring 13 points, while grabbing six rebounds.

The Beavers finish up the regular season this Thursday in a 6:00 p.m game in Hayward. They will then prepare for their WIAA Tournament opener on Friday, February 19, with an opening round home contest against the winner of Northwestern and Spooner.

Barronett News

By Judy Pieper

All I can say is “BRRR.” But, even though we wish we could hibernate until we get back to unseasonably warm weather, we did get some very exciting news this week. Our granddaughter, Sanara Marsh, called to let us know that Alex Caracappa’s invention, Draft Top, will be one of the items featured on Shark Tank this Friday, February 12th. Alex will not be one of the two people trying to interest the investors, but Sanara said that we will see him sometime during the show. We don’t know yet what the investors will say – maybe “Well, this is the dumbest thing I’ve ever seen” – or, hopefully, “Wow, I want to invest in this. It’s the greatest invention since sliced bread.” I can hardly wait for Friday so I can find out what happens.

Alyse Lehmann and Brad Parnell flew out to Las Vegas last Thursday evening to celebrate Alyse’s birthday on Friday. Suzy and Ryan happened to be in Nevada too, so they had breakfast together on Friday and Saturday. Alyse and Brad are not gamblers, but they enjoy running, so they drove to a state park in the area to run. They also planned to do a lot of sightseeing while in Nevada. I talked to Alyse while they were out there, and it sounded as though they were having a delightful time.

Miriah Lehmann will be celebrating her birthday this Thursday, the 11th. If you see her be sure to wish her a happy birthday.

The Barronett Lutheran women’s group will be meeting the first Thursday of March – That’s the 4th, at 7:00 p.m. We will be deciding on which charities we should help support, and I have a couple other things that I would like to bring up. Please plan to join us. Because this is such an important meeting, I will remind you again the week before it is scheduled.

Bill Gill called on Thursday morning and asked if Duane and I would like to join him for breakfast at the Red Brick. We had already eaten, but we did go to the café to have coffee and to visit with Bill. Sharai Hefty was waiting tables, and Terry Bell was there eating breakfast, so we were able to visit with several of our friends. It was nice – we haven’t been eating out much since last February. Hopefully, that will change soon.

Did you watch the Super Bowl? Duane and I watched the first half, but it was so one-sided that we decided to watch The Long Song on PBS about five minutes into the second half. That was, without a doubt, the worst Super Bowl I have ever suffered through. Even the half-time show was, according to old fogies like us, not worth watching. During the game it seemed as though the Kansas City defensive players were making dumb mistakes just so the old guy could win. I was so looking forward to the big game, dang it. Next year maybe Rogers or Cousins will take their team all the way so we will have someone to cheer for.

Terry Goodrich called with a joke that reminds us how often children say things that might be a little embarrassing to the parents. It seems that a young mother was walking down the street with her seven-year-old twins and was heard saying to them, “I wish you would quit telling people that you are from the same litter.”

Well, that reminded me of something that happened in our family. My son, Jim, who was born in Germany, has red hair and that is because red hair runs in his father’s family. His father, however, has blond hair so, when my kids were small, there were no other red heads in the immediate family. Well, after a while I got very tired of seeing smirks on faces and people asking where the red hair came from. Instead of a milk delivery man, we had a beer delivery man in Germany. Okay, you know what’s coming – I was tired of saying, “from his Nana,” so I started saying, “from the beer truck driver.” Ha-ha – funny, right? Nope – He heard this all his young life, and one Sunday when he was about five and we were leaving church the pastor asked him where he got his beautiful red hair. He, the sweet innocent little angel, looked up and said, “from the beer truck driver.” Talk about being embarrassed. I took him home and told him that if anyone asked about his hair again, he should tell them that he got it from Nana. Be careful what you say in front of your kids – they always hear the stuff you wish they wouldn’t have.

That’s about all I know from Barronett this week. Remember Valentine’s day is this coming Sunday so maybe you should plan to do something nice for your sweetheart. See you next time.

Icemen Hockey: Icemen Season Comes to a Close; Coach’s Comments: by Curtis Cutsforth

NWI vs Wisconsin Rapids - Lincoln 2-2-21
Score: 0 - 6

The first 5 minutes of the game was pleasant to see as we were not only matching their speed but offensively able to hold the zone. A couple of times of mishandling the puck or not getting to it first did not fare well for us as they were able to capitalize on it. We didn’t get the puck to the net enough in the first period but other than that I felt like we were still in the game and would be able to hang in there for a good finish.

We outshot them in the second and third periods but unless you can get the puck past the goalie, shots on goal doesn’t matter much. He was a big goalie that gave us opportunities too, but unlucky bounces or hitting the handle of his stick seemed to be the theme for the evening. Penalties still played a huge role in the game as we gave up 3 power play goals. Not skating 100% even when we were on a power play cost us too as their penalty kill unit scored short-handed to put us down by 3. Wisconsin Rapid’s player Carsen Gause was a quick skater and was always positioned in the right spot, scoring 5 of their 6 goals and assisting on the other one proved it.

It was a tough year and although the team’s record doesn’t necessarily show it, we played tough games throughout with 6 of the losses ending in 1 goal battles to the end. Not once throughout the entire season did we have the entire varsity squad on the ice together for a game all at the same time which is disappointing, but with the pandemic I was happy that the team was just able to get out and play hockey for the season unlike some of the schools down south. I will miss the 11 seniors we are graduating this year, but at the same time I am looking forward to what the younger players have showed what they are capable of for the upcoming season.

“Strength for the Weary, Look Up!”

by Pastor Mike Brubaker

First United Methodist Church, Cumberland

“He gives strength to the weary...” (Is. 40: 29)

How many of you are weary, weary of the pandemic, weary of wearing masks and social isolation, weary of politics, weary of hateful, divisive rhetoric and violence? In this passage from Isaiah, he reminds the people living in exile just who they can depend on when they are weary. “Do you not know? Have you not heard? Has it not been told you from the beginning?” (Is. 40: 21) Isaiah tells them all they have to do is look up at the vastness of the universe. If the Creator of the universe is able to place each star and planet in their orbit and knows each one by name, and not one is lost or out of place, don't you think that God knows us too. Nothing is impossible for the one who created it all. “He will not grow tired or weary, and his understanding no one can fathom.” (Is. 40: 28) We can't even fathom the sheer numbers of those who have become ill, or the pain of those who have had to deal with the death of a loved one without even being present at their bedside when they died. But we can know that God understands and feels the pain, grief and sorrow over each one!

The hope for us, just as it was for those living in exile, is to put our hope and trust in God. “...those who hope in the LORD will renew their strength.” (Is. 40: 31) I don't know about you, but I sure could have my strength renewed! We are called to bear one another's burdens, to carry their suffering, and I long to reach out and hold each one of you, but my strength needs to be renewed daily. I really like the end of this passage from Isaiah. I call it the 'marathon runners' verse, it reminds me of my own experience running a marathon and reaching that last five-mile mark, I saw this verse printed on the shirt of a fellow runner. “They will soar on wings like eagles; they will run and not grow weary, they will walk and not be faint. (Is. 40: 31) Let us continue the race, learn to trust in God and find hope and renewed strength in reading God's word daily!

God's Peace, Pastor Mike

OBITUARIES...

Lydia Hanson,

Lydia (Siwa) Hanson, born in the Ukraine on April 17, 1937, died at home at the age of 83, on January 24, 2021.

When Lydia was about two years old, she and her mother left the Ukraine, traveling to Poland. At the age of 12, Lydia and other family members left Poland and arrived in the Wentorf settlement camp near Hamburg, Germany where they were issued passports allowing them to travel to America as displaced persons. On September 26, 1949 she and her family left the port in Bremerhaven, Germany on the USS General R.L. Howze transport ship and arriving at Ellis Island in Upper New York Bay on October 4, 1949.

The sponsorship of the immigration and relocation of Lydia's family, as well as 12 other families, was provided by three churches in the Pine County, Minnesota area: Danforth Chapel, Sand Creek Church, and Clover Community Church. Lydia attended Danforth Country School where she learned English; she was now fluent in three languages, including Ukrainian and Polish. At a creek near the Sand Creek Church she was baptized. Danforth became the center point for displaced persons (DP's). When the DP's gave a sum of money to the Grindstone Lake Bible Camp, DP reunions were held there for a number of years. The family's primary sponsorship, once settled, came from Blodgett Holt who later married Lydia's aunt, Augustine. Lydia and her family were welcomed into the community and became very close with the Nelson families.

Lydia was introduced to Orton N. Hanson by his sister, Eunice, who struck up a friendship with Lydia at a bible camp. They were married on September 10, 1955 and Lydia's citizenship was finalized in 1962. Orton affectionately referred to Lydia as "Red", due to her copper hair color. She and Orton became Jehovah's Witnesses in 1961 and continued with the faith until death. They were married for 64 years.

Lydia, like her husband Orton, was a very friendly and generous person. She loved to thrift shop, knit, crochet, upholster, and for years, had a huge garden and tended to an assortment of animals at their small farm in Cumberland, Wisconsin.

Having endured and overcome many trials during the family's trek across Eastern Europe, Lydia loved this country, cherishing her citizenship. She appreciated her freedom in the U.S. and the cost of that freedom; freedom that the countries she had previously lived did not enjoy.

Lydia was preceded in death by her husband Orton N Hanson, Gustov Siwa (father), Bertha Sokol (mother), Theodore Sokol (step-father), Augustine Holt (aunt), Blodgett "Shorty" Holt (uncle), Ludvig Wiczorek (uncle), Olga Wiczorek (aunt), as well as cousins Martha (Marty) Bass, David Wiczorek & John Wiczorek.

Lydia is survived by two sons, William (Teresa) Hanson and Donald Hanson; two daughters, Carmen (Greg) Lentz and Bertha (Don) Herendeen; seven grandchildren, six great-grandchildren, another great-grandchild due March 2021, 11 nieces and nephews, four cousins and her cat Remi.

The family is appreciative for the care, patience and assistance provided by the Skinner Funeral Home in Cumberland, and the encouragement and comfort of the Shell Lake Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses.

The memorial, grave-side service for burial of the cremation remains of Orton and Lydia, or reception has not been scheduled as yet due to COVID and will be announced at a later time.

"And He will wipe out every tear from their eyes, and death will be no more, neither will mourning, nor outcry, nor pain be anymore. The former things have passed away." Rev. 21:4

Lorraine A. Crosby

Lorraine Adeline Crosby, 94, of Shell Lake went to heaven to be with Jesus in the early morning of February 3, 2021, at Care and Rehab-Cumberland. As her spirit soared to heaven, the skies filled with brilliant colors to remind us all to hold to the things that were important to her - faith, hope, and love. Faith in Jesus as savior, hope always for a bright future, and love for God, family, and others.

She was born March 27, 1926, in Webster to Otis and Mary (Baker) Engebretson. Lorraine loved farm life and became a farmer's wife when she was married to Glen Crosby on November 11, 1945. They owned a farm west of Shell Lake where they were blessed with six children and many years of happiness.

Lorraine had many gifts. She always raised a big garden, with lots of vegetables to be canned and frozen before winter. She also loved her flower gardens and rose bushes. She enjoyed sewing and making things for her family. Of all her gifting, hospitality was her strongest. She was a wonderful cook and homemaker. There were always smells of good home cooking, cookies in the cookie jar, and room for another place at the table. No matter who walked through the door, there was always time for coffee and conversation.

Of all the things Lorraine loved, there was nothing she loved more than her family. She always put her family and others before herself. She led by her example and quiet strength. She treasured her time with her children and grandchildren and watching her great-grandchildren play always brought a smile to her face.

She is survived by her two sons, Garry (Beth) Crosby and Glen "Gene" (Donna) Crosby; three daughters, Donna (Jerome) Melin, JoAnn (Tim) Bauer, and Kathleen (Mike) Spears; daughter-in-law, Kim Crosby of Elkhorn; 19 grandchildren; 32 great-grandchildren; sister, Irene (Richard) Sahr; and Carl's family; many nieces and nephews, and other dear family and friends. She was preceded in death by her husband of 73 years, Glen T. Crosby; son, Darrel Crosby; grandsons: Kenny Melin, David Bauer; and one who was like a son, Carl Hopke; five brothers; and one sister.

A private family service was held on Monday, February 8, 2021, at Shell Lake Full Gospel Church with Pastor Al Bedard officiating. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery of Hertel in the spring. Pallbearers were her grandsons.

Skinner Funeral Home of Shell Lake is serving the family.

NOTICE OF SPRING PRIMARY AND SAMPLE BALLOT FEBRUARY 16, 2021

OFFICE OF THE BARRON COUNTY CLERK TO THE VOTERS OF BARRON COUNTY:

Notice is hereby given of a spring primary election to be held in Barron County on February 16, 2021, at which the officers named below shall be nominated. The names of the candidates for each office, whose nominations have been certified to or filed in this office, are given under the title of the office, each in its proper column in the sample ballot below.

INFORMATION TO VOTERS

Upon entering the polling place, a voter shall state his or her name and address, show an acceptable form of photo identification and sign the poll book before being permitted to vote. If a voter does not have acceptable photo identification the voter may obtain a free photo ID for voting from the Division of Motor Vehicles. If a voter is not registered to vote, a voter may register to vote at the polling place serving his or her residence, if the voter presents proof of residence in a form specified by law. Where ballots are distributed to voters, the initials of two inspectors must appear on the ballot. Upon being permitted to vote, the voter shall retire alone to a voting booth and cast his or her ballot except that a voter who is a parent or guardian may be accompanied by the voter's minor child or minor ward. An election official may inform the voter of the proper manner for casting a vote, but the official may not in any manner advise or indicate a particular voting choice.

WHERE PAPER BALLOTS ARE USED

The voter shall make an (X) in the square next to the name of the candidate of his or her choice for each office for which he or she intends to vote. To vote for a person whose name does not appear on the ballot, the voter shall write in the name of the person of his or her choice in the space provided for a write-in vote.

WHERE TOUCH SCREEN VOTING IS USED

The voter shall touch the screen at the name of the candidate of his or her choice for each office for which he or she intends to vote. To vote for a person whose name does not appear on the ballot, the voter shall type in the name of the person of his or her choice in the space provided for a write-in vote.

The vote should not be cast in any other manner. Not more than five minutes' time shall be allowed inside a voting booth. Sample ballots or other materials to assist the voter in casting his or her vote may be taken into the booth and copied. The sample ballot shall not be shown to anyone in a manner that would reveal how the ballot is marked.

SPOILED BALLOTS

If the voter spoils a paper ballot, he or she shall return it to an election official who shall issue another ballot in its place, but not more than three ballots shall be issued to any one voter. If the ballot has not been initialed by two inspectors or is defective in any other way, the voter shall return it to the election official, who shall issue a proper ballot in its place.

The voter may spoil a touch screen ballot at the voting station before the ballot is cast.

AFTER VOTING THE BALLOT

After an official paper ballot is marked, it shall be folded so the inside marks do not show, but so the printed endorsements and inspectors' initials on the outside do show. The voter shall deposit the voted ballot in the ballot box or deliver the ballot to an inspector for deposit and shall leave the polling place promptly.

After an official touch screen ballot is cast, the voter shall leave the polling place promptly.

A voter may select an individual to assist in casting his or her vote if the voter declares to the presiding official that he or she is unable to read, has difficulty reading, writing or understanding English or that due to disability is unable to cast his or her ballot. The selected individual rendering assistance may not be the voter's employer or an agent of that employer or an officer or agent of a labor organization which represents the voter.

The following is a sample of the official ballot:

Official Primary Ballot Nonpartisan Office February 16, 2021

Notice to Voters: If you are voting on Election Day, your ballot must be initialed by two (2) election inspectors. If you are voting absentee, your ballot must be initialed by the municipal clerk or deputy clerk. Your ballot may not be counted without initials (see back of ballot for initials.)

Instructions to Voters

1941 CHS Basketball Seniors!

The 1940-!941 Basketball Team; Seeking Perfection

By Mark R Fuller

Every sports team seeks that perfect season. During the fall of 2020, the Cumberland Football Team achieved that feat with a 9 and 0 mark. While other Cumberland teams have come close, the 1940-1941 basketball team took their chase of perfection all the way to the State Tournament.

The season would deserve one asterisk along the way. A Christmas break scrimmage against an alumni group led to 36-28 defeat, as Swede Nelson led the victors with 16 points. In the Beavers defense, Coach Elmer Beran used the game to brush off rust while leading scorer Conway Thompson played limited minutes and did not score a point.

By the time of this scrimmage, Cumberland was already 7 and 0 on the season. The team was led by Senior Conway Thompson and Junior Sam Donatelle, while three other Seniors, Dick Neurer, Donald Wick and Tom King brought additional experience to the squad.

The game was much different then, with strategy often calling for a slow pace of play, while shooting the basketball was not yet refined. An article in the paper would say of the team as it reached a 10-0 record, “At the free throw line is where Cumberland has largely accounted for its successful season. Those close matches are often decided on free throws and Cumberland has made 52 percent of their charity tosses and that’s good going anywhere.”

The paper would later describe the Beavers, as they wrapped up a perfect 14-0 regular season and the HON Championship, by saying, “They’ve done everything that makes a good team. They’ve shown the ability to win a close battle, they can come from behind, they have motivated against rough outfits and they have beaten good teams.”

There were plenty of close games during their season. In Conference action alone, they’d beaten Ladysmith twice, 37-35 and 25-24, while edging Bloomer, 28-27, in a contest on February 21. They were down by one in the last few seconds of the Bloomer game when Thompson put back a rebound for the winning basket.

The team would have a much easier time defeating Bloomer on the Blackhawks home floor in January. According to the Advocate, the only issue for the Beavers in that 37-21 victory was, “Bloomer has a gymnasium which has a low ceiling and quite a few Cumberland shots hit it due to the fact they are use to playing on a floor with a high ceiling.”

The years most exciting contest was the teams 25-24 victory over the Lumberjacks. Trailing 24-23 with 30 seconds remaining, Sam Donatelle dribbled to the free throw line and as the Advocate described, “Shot the ball back to Dick Neurer, who let fly well out towards the middle and the ball whispered through the mesh without touching the rim.”

Donatelle was the team’s floor general and second only to Thompson in scoring. During the regular season, Thompson would average a team-leading 11.3 points per contest, while Donatelle scored 7.5 points per game. These totals came as the team scored less than 30 points per competition.

Cumberland’s excellent season would earn them a place in the eight-team District Tournament the first weekend in March. Four teams earned automatic spots, while four teams had to win play-in games. The Tournament would be played at Spooner’s brand new 2,000 seat gym, which had only recently been completed. Tickets for the four-day event would go on sale at the High School at a cost of $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for students.

The team would coast through the field with wins over Chetek (26-21), Ladysmith (26-22) and New Auburn (40-37). New Auburn had upset Rice Lake and Spooner on their way to the Championship game. Conway Thompson would score 48 points over the three games, while the March 13 Advocate added, “Sam Donatelle had great floor play and Dick Neurer played his best ball of the year.” The team would head to Madison with an unblemished record of 17 and 0.

Unfortunately, the quest for perfection ended at State. The team would drop an opening round 29-19 contest to Superior East and then fall 19-14 to Taylor in a consolation contest. The Beavers would head home with a final record of 17 and 2, but memories of a great winter.

Over 200 community members attended a banquet at the Legion to honor the team on March 27. They may not have celebrated a perfect season, but the chase had sure provided a lot of fun.”

Wisconsin State Ice Fishing Contest 2021

Jenna Nowaski gives an envelope with $1000 cash to Zack Boetcher for catching the biggest fish of the day. A 3.98 pound Brown Trout did the trick.

Kevin Kristorf won an ION Electric Ice Auger for catching the days biggest panfish, a .47 pound sunfish.

Cold temperatures did not stop hundreds of anglers from trying their luck. This fisherman came up empty on this flag.

As always a big crowd waited to hear their named called as a lucky winner at the conclusion of the contest.
