

Search for missing Cumberland woman comes to Tragic end

Hailey A. Anderson

In a press release, Cumberland Police Chief Heather Wolfe stated that on September 22, 2021, Cumberland Police Department received a report of a possible missing person identified as Hailey A. Anderson, date of birth May 16, 1978. The complainant, Hailey's mother, reported no one had heard from Hailey since September 16, 2021 - which was unusual for Hailey. Cumberland Police Department began investigating the incident and, based on information obtained, believed Hailey's disappearance may have been under suspicious circumstances. Cumberland Police Department requested the assistance of the Barron County Sheriff's Office to assist with resources, interviews, and search warrants.

Several search warrants were executed including obtaining Hailey's cellular phone records which showed no activity on the phone since September 16th at 11:58 PM. We were able to determine the last known location was near South Range, Wisconsin based on location data obtained from Hailey's cellular phone. Douglas County Sheriff's Office was requested to check the last known location for Hailey or her vehicle on September 24th, however they could not locate anything at that time.

On September 27th, in the early morning hours, Douglas County Sheriff's Office located Hailey's vehicle near the edge of the Amnicon River. Hailey's vehicle had veered off Highway 53, left the roadway, and crashed into the river bank. The operator of the vehicle had been ejected from the vehicle and was located deceased. The operator is believed to be Hailey Anderson, however, official identification is pending.

The traffic crash is currently being investigated by the Douglas County Sheriff's Office. An autopsy is scheduled for Tuesday, September 28, 2021.

"I would like to extend our sincerest condolences to Hailey's family and friends," said Wolfe. "I would also like to thank the Barron County Sheriff's Office and Douglas County Sheriff's Office for their assistance with this investigation; as well as the public who called in several tips to assist in locating Hailey," Wolfe concluded.

COVID- 19 Booster Doses in Barron County

The COVID-19 vaccines continue to be effective in reducing the risk of severe disease, hospitalization, and death. Fully vaccinated people continue to see protection against hospitalizations and severe outcomes.

Booster doses are now recommended for some groups of people. The CDC recommends Pfizer booster shots six months after the second dose for:

- Older adults age 65 and older and those living in long-term care facilities
- Adults ages 50-64 at high risk of severe COVID-19,

due to underlying medical conditions

- Adults ages 18-49 at high risk of severe COVID-19 due to underlying medical conditions should consider a booster based on an assessment of their individual benefits and risks and consultation with their medical provider.
- Adults age 18-64 for people whose jobs put them at high risk for COVID-19

Booster doses are common for many vaccines. Pfizer was the first vaccine to be authorized so data on its ongoing effectiveness was available first. Guidance is still coming about boosters for the Johnson & Johnson and Moderna vaccines and the safety of mixing different vaccines. Currently, in order to receive a Pfizer booster dose, your first and second doses must have been Pfizer. Booster shots for Moderna and Johnson and Johnson have not been authorized yet.

At this time, booster doses are not available through Barron County Public Health. Public Health works under standing orders and is currently waiting for the update of those orders. The public will be notified when Public Health will be able to provide boosters. Barron County Public Health is planning to hold drive through vaccination clinics when they are able. They will not be offering booster doses in their office at this time.

Please watch your local newspaper, local radio stations, the Barron County website and the Barron County Public Health Facebook page for more information.

We can end this!

To the Editor:

We can end this. Diphtheria, tetanus, pertussis (whooping cough), measles, mumps, rubella, chickenpox, polio, smallpox: when was the last time any of us experienced any of these diseases in our families or community? Because of vaccinations, these diseases are now rarely heard of. Vaccinations work. The next time you or a family member need an operation, tell the surgical team not to bother with masks because they don't work and see if they listen. Health care workers understand masks are used to prevent spread of infection and surgical teams wear them properly for hours at a time every day. Masks work.

This past year, the medical community reported a dramatic decrease in cases of influenza. Cases of children with strep throat infections were much lower than normal, too. Why? Masks, social distancing, hand washing and sanitizers, surface sanitizing. They work to stop the spread of illnesses. When this pandemic began, we protected the children by closing schools. It was hard. But it worked. Some people made the mistake of thinking children couldn't get Covid because so few were getting it. They were wrong. Unlike all the other diseases listed above, children cannot yet get the vaccine for Covid. What is left then to protect them until they can get it? Vaccinated adults, masks, social distancing, hand washing.

Yes, it is hard but worth it to protect the children. When the pandemic began we were warned it could last for several years coming in several waves. This is how the influenza pandemic behaved 100 years ago. There were anti-maskers back then, too. Fifty million died in that pandemic. Fifty million. I researched that number. So far, Covid has killed over four million worldwide and about 600,000 in our country. That is hard.

Covid has created havoc with the supply system in the country. Illness has disrupted production and distribution resulting in shortages, delays and higher prices of the things we need daily. It has caused unemployment and economic hardship. That has been hard. Employers know the value of keeping employees healthy. Vaccinations, masks and the other disease avoidance policies benefit everyone.

I am tired of this pandemic. We are all tired of it. We all want it to end. If we all pull together, get the vaccines, wear the masks, do the social distancing and sanitizing, IT WILL END SOONER! It is hard but Americans have always been able to pull together to do the hard things. So please, just do what needs to be done. Yes, it is hard. But sickness and death are harder.

Let's work together and end this pandemic. Get your shots. Wear the masks. Do what is hard.

The world, like China, must be laughing!

To the Editor:

Last June, the Biden administration warned Nicaragua that more diplomatic and economic pressure would be applied unless the Ortega government released political opponents.

The U.S. claims that these political prisoners are being held without access to medicine or legal representation, and, in some cases, they've been beaten. Biden representatives declare that every day that goes by is "alarming."

According to msn.com, The Biden administration is also accusing Nicaraguan leaders of silencing the independent news media.

According to numerous news sources; those arrested following the January 6, protest at the U.S. Capitol building, are being subject to solitary confinement, a lack of required medical care, and restricted access to defense counsel.

Many news outlets reported that Press Secretary Jen

Psaki said that the White House was collaborating with social media companies to censor COVID "disinformation."

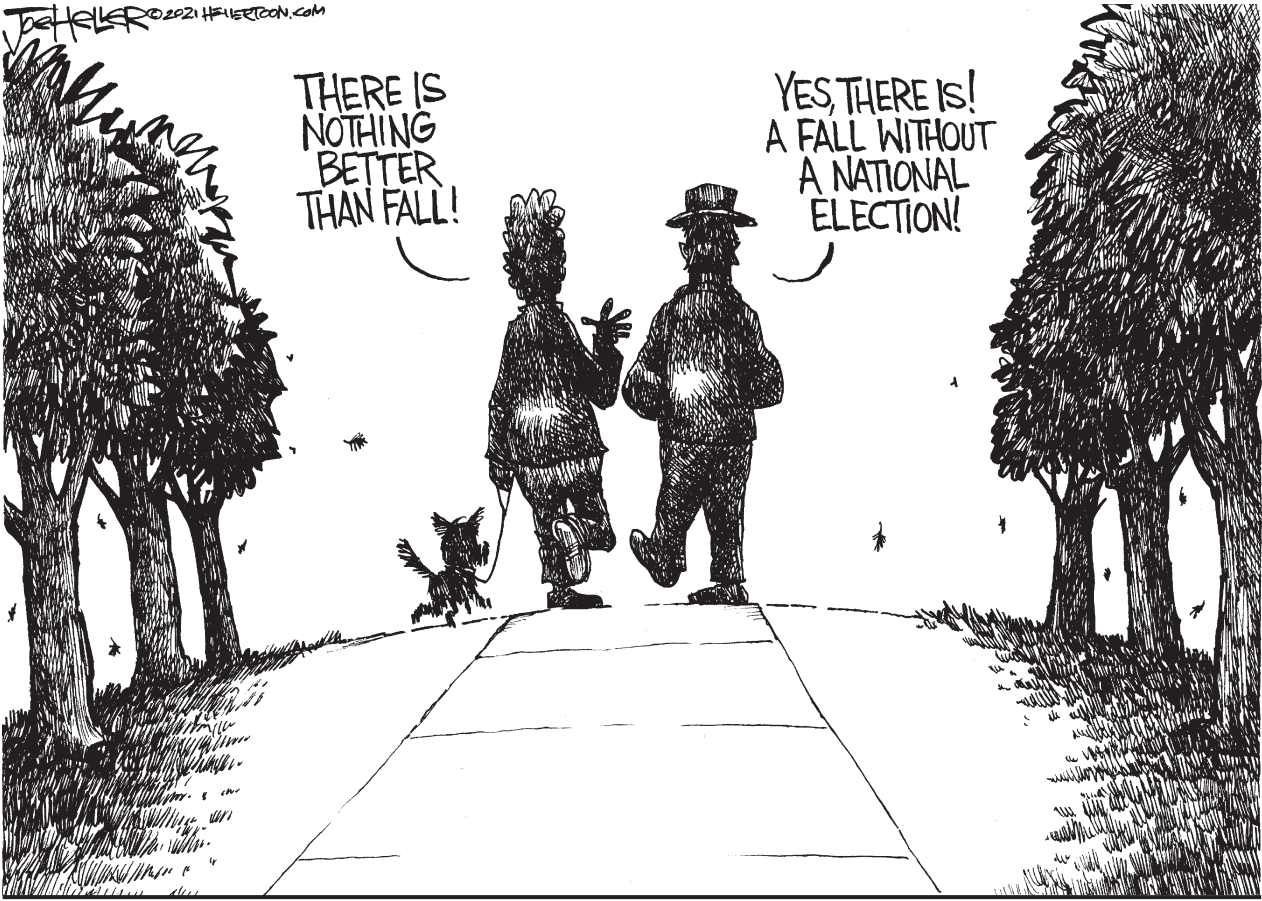

The Biden administration reminds me of the leaders of four centuries ago who tied the tongue of Giordano Bruno so he could not speak to the crowd that gathered to watch him being burned at the stake. This philosopher and scientist had the audacity to suggest that the sun, not the Earth, was the center of the solar system.

Political leaders then, like today, were incapable of considering anything beyond their narrow frame of reference. Those leaders were arrogant enough to demand that any thoughts beyond their own be silenced!

Inside Wisconsin

by Tom Still

Germany, Wisconsin ties have renewed importance in changing world

By Tom Still

MADISON, WI: A landmark election that will directly affect the Wisconsin economy will take place Sunday, but no votes will be counted in the Badger state itself.

Sept. 26 is the day federal elections will be held in Germany amid more uncertainty about the results than at any time in more than two decades. Chancellor Angela Merkel is stepping down after a run that spanned tenures of four American presidents, and which generally reinforced her country's role as the dominant economy and stabilizing force in Europe.

The results won't be known for days or even weeks, but the German elections matter to Wisconsin for economic, cultural and scientific reasons rooted in state history as well as current trends.

"The future of America... in the world depends on the outcome of that election and what direction Germany will take," former U.S. ambassador to Norway Tom Loftus said during a recent online forum that included the Sun Prairie native as well as another former ambassador from Wisconsin, Mark Green of Green Bay.

While noting Germany's strategic importance in Europe, where Russia is flexing its muscles, Loftus and Green also talked about the economic importance of a stable German economy to Wisconsin.

Germany is Wisconsin's fourth-largest export market with $726 million in exports in 2020, according to data from the Wisconsin Economic Development Corporation. Canada, Mexico and China are the state's top three export destinations, with $6.2 billion, $2.6 billion and $1.6 billion in 2020 exports, respectively.

Maybe that's not surprising given that Wisconsin is more "German" than just about any U.S. state when it comes to ethnic heritage, place names, cultural festivals and even topography. It's an enduring tie that includes sister-state relationships with Hessen and other city-to-city bonds, not to mention extensive German investment in Wisconsin companies, academic exchanges and more.

Green said Wisconsin (and cities with German heritage that dates, in some cases, to the middle of the 1800s) should take advantage of the opportunity to renew their ties.

"Milwaukee and its German heritage - exploit that," Green told the WisPolitics and WisBusiness.com forum. "It's something that our German partners are very proud of. Look at those places where we already have those historic ties and cultural relationships... That's a way of getting in the door."

A recent example of enduring ties took place Sept. 15 when Justus Liebig University in Germany held a ceremony to celebrate the installation of "Mildred," a reproduction of a sculpture in Middleton that honors Mildred Fish-Harnack.

She was a 1925 UW-Madison graduate who was the only American citizen executed at the direct order of Adolf Hitler during World War II. Her German-born husband, Arvid, was also executed by the Nazis, both because of their resistance work inside the country.

Justus Liebig University and the UW-Madison have been partners in various research and other projects for nearly 40 years. The Sept. 15 ceremony included a mix of German and Wisconsin officials and was led by Kristina Sinemus, Hessen Minister for Digital Strategy and Development and someone who has worked with Wisconsin companies and delegation for nearly 20 years.

The United States' position in the world has seen its ups and down of late, and not all Americans even support the notion of global relations beyond the most basic steps. As Republican Green and Democrat Loftus emphasized, however, U.S. interests are routinely cultivated through diplomacy, trade and other economic avenues.

Green, who is now chief executive officer for The Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars, said the United States should engage more patiently in what he called "enterprise diplomacy." In short, that's a strategy of making long-range business investments in other nations, a tactic followed by China to the worry of many observers.

"We need broad-based investments in our economic advantage, which is our public universities, our science and technology startups, in our entrepreneurs in those fields, and understand that this is a long game we need to play," Green said. "We need to make sure we invest in all of these fields, and that we do so in a serious way, and that we do so even if there isn't an immediate economic return."

German election results may not seem all that pertinent to Wisconsin at first glance, but a second look reveals how a changing world inevitably touches the state over time.

Volleyball Team Tied For First Place in the HON

The Cumberland Volleyball Team is tied for first place in the HON with Ladysmith and St. Croix Falls following victories over Barron and Chetek-Weyerhaeuser last week. With all three teams currently standing at 4 and 0, a big showdown is coming this Thursday night in front of a home crowd in Elmer Beran Gymnasium, when Cumberland host the Saints at 7:00 pm. Tuesday, the team played at Cameron.

The first victory last week came over perennial conference power Barron on Tuesday night in front of a Parent Night's crowd. "We were eager to play this contest during Homecoming Week, but we knew it would be a tough match," said Head Coach Teri Lesnar.

Cumberland did not disappoint, taking the match in four sets. They rallied from a tough 25-23 loss in the evenings first set to win 26-24, 25-20, and 25-16. "The girls played incredibly well and stayed confident and collected. Our tough serving really sealed the deal," added Lesnar.

Cumberland Football Rolls to Another Victory Against Cameron

As has been the case the entire fall, the Beavers rolled to a big halftime lead and coasted the rest of the way as the Cameron Comets became their sixth consecutive victory of the year last Friday night in front of an enthusiastic Homecoming crowd. Cumberland led 36-0 at halftime and 42-0 after three quarters before Cameron added three fourth quarter touchdowns in a 42-22 Cumberland victory.

"Homecoming is such an awesome night at Endeavor Stadium. So many fun things are going on, and so many people come out and enjoy themselves. Our kids fed off of this excitement and went out and got the early lead we wanted," said Coach Corey Berghammer.

A first quarter Cameron turnover helped give the Beavers a short field in building a 24-0 first quarter lead.

The first score, however, came following a Comet punt that gave the Beavers their initial possession on their own 37-yard line. It took only five plays to reach the end zone from there when quarterback Maddux Allen scampered for six points from one yard out. Two short passes to Edward Chafer and Drew Griffith were turned into gains of 23 and 25 yards to set up the early touchdown. Allen added the conversion run to make it 8-0.

Cameron then fumbled on their first play from scrimmage following the ensuing kickoff, which was recovered by Griffith at the Cameron 30-yard line. The Beavers excellent running back scored Cumberland's second touchdown four plays later on a two yard run. Griffith would add a successful conversion run to give Cumberland a 16-0 lead.

The Beavers would add their final score of quarter one following a Cameron punt on the next possession. This drive took only nine plays and ended when Griffith added another short run to pay dirt and the conversion on a pass from Allen. Things were well in-hand at the 12 minute mark of the contest.

Among those helping pave the way were Siri Hyatt, who had 11 kills, Amie West, who added 10 kills and nine assists and Mecina Garibaldi with 11 assists. Nele Seiler added nine kills, while Anna Ranallo had five serving aces.

The team concluded the week by adding a thrilling comeback victory over Chetek-Weyerhaeuser. After dropping the first two sets 25-20 and 25-23, they rallied to win the final three sets to take a big victory. The tiebreaker was a 15-11 thriller as the team celebrated a great effort.

"This group has some grit and worked hard to secure the win. It was a long sprint but we made it to the finish line," concluded Lesnar.

West had another big night at the net with 12 kills, while Ranallo added 11 kills and Seiler 10. Garibaldi had a big night with 18 digs and 11 assists.

Following Thursday's match against St. Croix Falls, the teams next action will come October 7 at Ashland.

By halftime, the Beavers lead grew to 36-0 as they scored twice more. The first touchdown coming on a two-play drive that followed an interception by Vaughn Johnson. It ended quickly in Griffith's third touchdown run of the night, while the second score ended on a five-yard run by Isaac Runstrom.

"I thought we played pretty well in all three phases of the game. Our offensive line of Isaac Runstrom, Josh Simon, Elijah Tetner, Garrett Craine, and Josh Simon had a great night, creating some really nice holes for our run game," said Coach Berghammer.

After the Beavers made it 42-0 on their first possession following intermission, the coaches had a chance to look at their reserves for much of the rest of the contest. The final score came on an Edward Chafer run of 21 yards.

For the night, the Cumberland defense held Cameron to 86 yards of total offense and only six first downs. Two Cumberland fourth quarter turnovers helped Cameron score two of their touchdowns, one on a fumble return for six points. Among the Beaver defenders having big nights were Ryker Allen, Monty Peterson, Griffith, Runstrom, and Chafer.

On offense, Allen was 10 for 15 passing for 172 yards, while adding 19 yards on the ground. Chafer caught five passes for 77 yards, while rushing seven times for 56 yards and a score. Griffith totaled 52 yards on only seven carries and added three scoring runs.

The Beavers look towards another victory this Friday when they take on winless Chetek-Weyerhaeuser in a road contest in Chetek. The Bulldogs forfeited to Northwestern last Friday night. The HON is still set up for a battle for the Conference Title in a regular season finale, when the Beavers head to Northwestern to play the leagues other undefeated squad. First, the Beavers must handle C/W and Bloomer in their next two match-ups.

Several Former Beaver Athletes Excelling at next level

Several former Cumberland Athletes are continuing their career in college and having good falls.

Sophomore Ania Hyatt in on the Northern Michigan Volleyball Team, where she is currently fourth on the team in blocks. The team is off to a slow 4-9 start after wrapping up a big year in 2020.

At D2 Lindenwood College in Missouri, Payton Rose scored another touchdown for the Lions last week to help lead the team to a 28-16 victory over Findlay College in Ohio. The Junior wide receiver continues to have a great career at Lindenwood, adding four catches for 65 yards and a six-pointer to his three-year statistics.

This coming Saturday, UW-Oshkosh quarterback Kobe Berghammer will run into former teammate Max Narges, a defensive back at UW-Platteville.

The Titans are 2 and 0 and Berghammer is off to another great start to the season after passing for 363 yards in the first two games and rushing for 105 yards and another score. UW-Platteville is 2 and 1 and coming off a 44-19 road-win against Franklin College. Narges will join the defensive backs in trying to slow down Berghammer and UW-Oshkosh in an early season showdown.

An Active Bear Hunt

Hello friends,
Last week I helped hunting and fishing guide Joe Flater with his bear hunters. Basically Dave Schmitt and I of Adams were grunt labor; as in stand movers, bear trackers, draggers, and skinner. There is a ton to write about, so I have to be brief.

Thursday, Sept 16th
High 78, low 51

Most of "Musky Joes" operation takes place in the area where the Flambeau and Chippewa Rivers meet in Rusk County. This year, there would be five hunters and yesterday was opening day and no bear were harvested but one small one was passed up by 24-year-old Mitch Dess who is a teacher, and also a football coach at South Milwaukee High School.

Tonight, Joe received the call every guide wants to get, Tracy Martin who was sitting with her boyfriend James Ward, had taken a shot and it was all hands on deck for tracking a bear in the dark.

Tracy and James are from Boscobel as are their good friends Stewart and Heather Updike. A part of bear hunting that many people may not be aware of is that it is a family/friend type of sport and Tracy certainly had some quality support.

So, we have spent two hours in a beautiful forest tracking in the dark and keep losing blood. It is midnight and the decision is made to call Jeff Ewers of Sheldon who is a good friend of Joe's. Jeff is a dog hunter (runs dogs for bears), and he shows up with his 11-year-old Plott hound named Rosco!

This story is super cool because we were going to lose the bear, Rosco is near the end of his life, and it was very cool to observe Jeff and Rosco slowly but steadily track down what would end up being a beautiful 250-pound dressed sow. Our very happy crew of 8 was done skinning at 3:00 a.m and after supper it was 4:30.

Friday, September 17th
High 81, low 48
I became friends with Jeff Dess a few years back when he was bear hunting with Joe. This year he is sitting with his son Mitchell and today Mitchell harvested his first bear which was a 375-pound dressed boar. This father/son team stays at Flater's Resort as do many of the hunters, so we get to spend a lot of time together and it really is a great experience. Mitchell was a wide receiver for UW Whitewater from 2015 to 2018 and from what I hear his dad was a heck of football player as well.

An interesting side story on Mitch's bear. A month ago, in this same area a friend of Joe's hit what he described as a very large bear with his truck, he rolled it and the bear vanished into a cornfield.

Mitch's bear was totally healthy but had a wound on its right shoulder the size of a basketball and its entire right side was bruised. The damage was well healed but had to have hurt like H E double tooth-picks.

Another one of Joe's hunters is Peter Rubish who is in his mid 30's and a construction worker out of Platteville. Pete had a great attitude, hunted geese in the morning and after Joe moved him to a different stand harvested his first bear.

In closing our youngest hunter was Joel Weeks who is 12 and from Cadott. Joel was on his first black bear hunt, is a sixth grader, and on the Cadott Middle School football team. I was very impressed with the respect this boy had in every sentence he spoke and how accomplished he is for his age.

On Sunday night while sitting with his dad Eric Weeks, Joel harvested his first bear which was a 200-pound male and my friends that is what I call a great bear hunt for everyone involved.

I have run bear baits for ten out of the last eleven years and took this year off due to no one in my gang having tags. Next year one of us will get one and I can't wait.

Respect what you harvest!

Mitch Dess's first black bear was a brute!

Soccer Team Picks up Victory Over Altoona

The Cumberland Soccer Team picked up their second victory of the year last Thursday with a 3-2 victory over visiting Altoona.

A second scheduled contest against Barron was cancelled last Tuesday due to a shortage of Bear players because of a COVID-19 quarantine.

Altoona did strike first in the last Thursday's contest with an early goal, but the Beavers countered with the next three scores of the contest. Noah Sellent had two of the Cumberland tallies, while Jared Lundmark added the third Cumberland goal. Dawson Johnson and Jack Richter contributed key assists during the scoring rally. Altoona would add a second goal before the end of the evening, but the Beavers hung on for a big home field victory.

The team was back in action against Spooner/Shell Lake on Tuesday and then play Hayward in Endeavor Stadium this Thursday night at 7:00 pm in a Parent's Night contest.

Conference Golf!

The Medalist at the Tour-

Tom Hullander's Cumberland team was led by Senior Reyna Bertelsen with a 109.

Brigitta Maas added an 113 for Cumberland.

This Wednesday, September 29, the team opens up WIAA Regional play in the Northwestern Regional at Hidden Greens in Solon Springs

Cross Country Team Holds Own Invitational

The Cumberland-Turtle Lake Cross Country Team ran at Ashland last week and held their own Invitational in Cumberland on Tuesday night. Amery, Barron, Bloomer, Cameron, Drummond, Grantsburg, Hayward, Shell Lake, Spooner, St. Croix Falls and Winter joined the home team for the run at Timberland Hills. Thursday, the team is back in action at Ladysmith for a run beginning at 4:30 pm.

Cameron won both of last Thursday's runs in the girls and boys team categories. Adeline Bauer of Ashland was Girl's Medalist with a time of 21:04, while the Boy's Medalist was Mike Brown of Butternut, who ran a 17:41.

Cumberland's Sydney Jain ran a 26:53 to finish 17th in the Girl's competition involving 39 girls, while Jasmine Woodley was 21st with a run of 28:45.

Sophomore Dallas Smith was ninth out of 40 boy runners with a fine time of 20:57, while Bryce Jorgenson, Torin Fountaine and Noah Hile finished in 21st, 22nd and 23rd place.

"The kids are working hard and showing great improvements each week," said Coach Kyle Polzin.

The Conference Meet is in Ashland on Tuesday, October 12.

Barronett News

By Judy Pieper

It was wonderful to see everyone having such a good time at Barronett's annual Colorfest this past weekend. It started out with the spaghetti supper, meat raffles and quite a few cake-walks on Friday evening. The dinner was delicious, and I checked out the cakes and they looked so nice that I was wishing I was one of the little ones participating. I especially looked for the ones that our neighbor, Morgan, made, a Mickey Mouse and Minnie Mouse, and they were perfect. She said that two-year-old Owen helped a lot with the decorating.

On Saturday the women of Barronett Lutheran Church hosted the pie and ice cream social. It went so well this year! We sold almost everything by about 4:00 p.m., and the few pieces we had left were taken down to the Dairyland Garden Tractor Pull where they went like hotcakes. We would like to thank everyone who stopped by to chat, buy a piece of pie and stopped back to tell us how good it was.

There were craft sales inside the community center and produce sales outside on Saturday. I picked up a few really nice things at the craft tables, but my favorites are two crocheted Cabbage Patch doll dresses. My poor Cabbage Patch only had one outfit, and the kids needed more things to dress her in. They should be happy now.

There were six teams competing in the men's slow-pitch softball tournament this year. They were: Watertight, who were the first-place winners; Camp Neitzel, who won the beer trophy; Arsenal; Mackey B's; Twin Town; and Mixed Nuts. The teams played Saturday and Sunday.

Barronett Lutheran Church service was held at the community center, and after the service we all enjoyed freshly baked rolls and coffee.

The wine and cheese tasting event was held on Sunday, and was, of course, very well attended. There was also a produce and flower display, and hayrides were available. After the last ball game the prizes were drawn and the weekend came to a close. The winners of major prizes were: Bella Neitzel, 2-person inflatable kayak; Mike Werner, $250 cash prize; Frank Montemayor, Green Bay Packer canopy, chairs and cooler; and Jen Patraw, winner of Tracy Thompson/Cumberland Tire lottery ticket board.

The Barronett Civic Club wants to thank everyone who attended, donated a prize, played ball, bought a ticket, mowed grass, picked up garbage, volunteered to work a shift or anything else involved to make the Colorfest successful. Without all the volunteers and guests there would be no Civic Club or community center and the members appreciate all the help.

The weather was perfect with cool, sunny days, and the autumn colors were nicer this year than ever before. It was a great weekend, and we hope that next year will be even better.

Pat and Doug Sweet have had a very busy month. It began with a visit from Robin Sweet, Doug's nephew, who visited for a week from Centennial, Colorado. The next week they had the Montana family, Jan, Reese and Kenzie LeaVesseur, and their friends, Megan Sherburn and Alysya Myles. Next Jason and Cree Sweet came up from Cross Plains, Wisconsin and stayed a couple days. Other "drop-by" visitors this month were Joanne Sweet, Justin Gensing and their friends, Nichole and Kalee, John Sweet, Bonnie

The Cumberland High School Choir sang the National Anthem at the Cumberland Golf Course before the Girl's Golf meet on Wednesday, September 22.

OBITUARIES

Wanda Surman

Wanda Surman, 98, of Cumberland died, September 24, 2021 at United Pioneer Home. She was born January 8, 1923 in Daugavpils, Latvia to Stanislav and Ana (Evanoska) Kurtish.

She was married in Heidelberg, Germany on February 16, 1946 to Stephen Surman who preceded her in death on February 1, 2016. Stephen was stationed in Heidelberg with the U.S. Army. Wanda immigrated to the United States in 1946 and became a citizen while Stephen was stationed in New York.

Wanda and Stephen moved to Duluth in November of 1946 to live with his family. They later moved to Hibbing, Minnesota and spent many years enjoying their family and the beauty of the northern lakes camping with the family. In 1963 the family moved to Fargo, North Dakota. After the girls grew up they moved to Port Charlotte Florida and found many dear friends and enjoyed the Florida weather. In 2005 after a terrible hurricane hit their community they decided to move back north and decided to settle in Cumberland where they enjoyed the community and could share their lives with their families. Family was the most important part of Wanda's life. Getting together with all the grand and greatgrandchildren would gave her the most joy. She will be greatly missed by all of us. She was deeply loved.

She is survived by her three daughters, Shirley (Dennis) Crowe of Luck; Kathleen (Salvatore) Bizzarro of Colorado Springs, CO; Cynthia (Ira) Klein of Sarasota, FL; four grandsons, Jesse (Amy) Crowe, Forrest (Sherry) Crowe, Christopher (Becky) Crowe and Giancarlo (Martyna) Bizzarro; five great grandchildren, Brianna, Emily, Sophia, Eloise, and Ezra; one great great grandchild, Emberlynn Dosch; sister, Irene Grinwald of Latvia; nieces, nephews, and many other family and friends.

"Give thanks in all circumstances"
by Pastor Shane Anderson
Augustana Lutheran Church, Cumberland

"Give thanks in all circumstances; for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus for you." 1 Thessalonians 5:18

This past week my wife wanted me to put up "cafe' lights" around the perimeter of our deck. This one little change totally transformed the space. Instead of the single patio light by our our back door that cast harsh shadows, now when you step outside, you are enveloped in s soft light that brightens up the entire deck. It transformed the ambiance of our deck from a cold place at night, to a warm and inviting sanctuary to gather with friends and family. Who knew that one little change could make such a difference?

One little change is all it took to change how we see and utilize our deck. And the same is true for our lives. If we make one small change in our attitude, it can transform our entire world view and how we see ourselves and others within it. Instead of complaining about your life or your job or your neighbors (and heaven knows how much we like to complain about "those" neighbors), adopt an "attitude of gratitude." When you are able to find the positive in any situation or when you are able to be grateful for the life that you have instead of always complaining about the life you want, you no longer will be like that single patio light-bulb casting harsh shadows. Instead, you will be like those "cafe' lights," that will give off a warm and inviting light to all those around you. Who knew one little change could make such a difference?

After a nearly two-year hiatus, the Cumberland High School Marching Band hit the turf at Irondale High School on Saturday to compete in their first marching band festival of the year. Cumberland students impressed the audience and judges alike as they placed 2nd in class “AA” and 4th place overall of the ten bands in competition. In addition, the Colorguard received the Best Colorguard Award.

“It felt great to compete again” said director, Dan Hopkins. “I’m especially proud of our Colorguard Squad and instructor, Casey Morrison, for performing at such a high level” he added.

This Saturday, the Beavers travel to Chippewa Falls where they will compete in an open class division where every school is in the same class.

“This is a tremendous opportunity for us” said co director Nate Pierce”. This band can compete with anyone and we are ready for the challenge”.

The competition in Chippewa Falls takes place at the high school and begins at 6:50. Tickets can be purchased at the gate. The following day Cumberland will travel to Hudson for a competition that starts at 12:00 noon.

I Flunked Retirement!!!

❖ Four years ago, I sold the company I founded and felt I could now “just live life.” Having practiced what I preached, I was financially prepared to do so.

❖ Since then, many new and old friends have asked if I could still help them achieve their financial goals. I also found I missed the incredibly great feeling received when people I’m helping have said: “No one has ever told me you could do it that way” or “Where were you the past twenty years of my life?” I love helping people and realized I still have the skills and experience to do so.

❖ I have reaffiliated with Valmark Securities and Stef Fiedler at Business & Estate Advisers of WI, Inc. in Rice Lake. I will work jointly (on a very limited basis) with Stef’s team as I want someone to take care of those that trust me after my age finally ends my career.

❖ If you have heard me on the radio or have heard it “on the street” that I may be someone you should talk to, please call the Rice Lake office of Business & Estate Advisers of WI, Inc. at 715-434-0440 to schedule an initial appointment.
