Man Arrested After Undercover Operation

A press release from the Cumberland Police Department states that on Thursday, June 2, 2022, the Cumberland Police Department took 42-year-old Jason Bowers of Rochester,

Jason Bowers

MN., into custody after he traveled from Rochester to Cumberland with the intent to have sexual contact with what he believed to be a 15-year-old female.

On May 24, 2022, the Cumberland Police Department began an online undercover operation and began speaking with Bowers posing as a 15-year-old female after he posted an ad online with the title "Daddy for little." His ad stated he was a "married professional looking to be discreet. Daddy role for a little to take care of..."

After several online phone conversations, Bowers traveled 2 1/2 hours to meet with purported juvenile at a residence on 8th Avenue and he was apprehended.

During a search of his vehicle, a handgun and sexual objects were located. He was arrested for Child Enticement, Use of a Computer to Facilitate a Child Sex Crime, and Attempted Child Sexual Assault of a Child.

Bowers is currently incarcerated and awaiting formal charges from the Barron County District Attorney's Office.

30th annual Celebration of the Arts June 11

For three decades, Cumberland's arts council, Enrichment Through Culture, has been sponsoring an event at Tourist Park where artists and crafters sell their products, the library sells books, the Methodist women sell food and performers perform.

The event, known alternately as the "Celebration of the Arts" and as "Art in the Park," will be from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday, June 11, at the park, also known as the Cumberland City Beach. This is officially the 30th annual, but ETC took a year off for the pandemic in 2020.

The art fair resumed last summer, and on a beautiful early summer Saturday, art lovers gathered on the shore of Beaver Dam Lake. This year, like last, the booths featured artistic creations and crafts. Members of Cumberland United Methodist Church served a lunch and home-baked pies. And there was live music by some of Cumberland's finest singers and musicians.

So come on down to the park on this event that marks the unofficial beginning of summer in The Island City.

The Generations!

The Generations playing oldies on Library Lake June 14

If you remember where you were when the Beatles first appeared on the Ed Sullivan Show, or when Ricky Nelson sang on Ozzie & Harriet, or when Johnny Cash topped the rock charts as well as country, you'll want to be at Library Lake at 6 p.m. Tuesday, June 14.

The Generations, led by Ron Helstern, will be performing hits of the fifties, sixties and seventies in the second concert of the Island City Music series sponsored by ETC and local businesses. The business sponsor of The Generations is Ardisam, and ETC volunteers will be serving food from the Corner Bar.

The concerts are free, but you're asked to bring your own lawn chair. And if you and the kids want to do a little kayaking during the concert, the school district's kayaks will be available across from the Auto Value store on Hwy 63.

Last summer was the first time Helstern's oldies band appeared on the Library Lake stage. The band was a hit then and again in December, when The Generations did a country-music concert at the Cumberland Arts Center. And the arts center is where the band will play June 14, if it rains at showtime.

Summer Food Service Program

Stressing the importance of offering nutritious meals to children during the summer months, the Cumberland School District announces the sponsorship of the Summer Food Service Program.

The Summer Food Service Program (SFSP), which is funded by the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) and is administered by the Wisconsin Department of Public Instruction, provides nutritious meals to children during the summer, when free and reduced-price school meals are typically unavailable. Free meals will be made available to children 18 years of age and under. Persons over 18 years of age who are determined by a state or local public educational agency to be mentally or physically disabled and who also participate in a public or private non-profit school program during the regular school year may receive free meals as well.

The following locations will be serving the free meals June 6 – 24, 2022, during summer school:

Elementary School, Breakfast 7:45 a.m. to 8:30 a.m. and Lunch 11:45 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Middle School, Breakfast 7:45 a.m. to 8:30 a.m. and Lunch 11:45 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Meals are provided to eligible children regardless of race, color, national origin, age, gender or disability and there will be no discrimination in the course of meal service.

"This program fills a void created when school lunches are not available," said Dr. Barry Rose. "Helping parents meet the nutritional needs of their children is the strength of this program."

Non-discrimination Statement: In accordance with Federal civil rights law and U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) civil rights regulations and policies, the USDA, its Agencies, offices, and employees, and institutions participating in or administering USDA programs are prohibited from discriminating based on race, color, national origin, sex, disability, age, or reprisal or retaliation for prior civil rights activity in any program or activity conducted or funded by USDA. Persons with disabilities who require alternative means of communication for program information (e.g. Braille, large print, audiotape, American Sign Language, etc.), should contact the Agency (State or local) where they applied for benefits. Individuals who are deaf, hard of hearing or have speech disabilities may contact USDA through the Federal Relay Service at (800) 877-8339. Additionally, program information may be made available in languages other than English.

To file a program complaint of discrimination, complete the USDA Program Discrimination Complaint Form, (AD-3027) found online at: <https://www.usda.gov/oascr/how-to-file-a-program-discrimination-complaint>, and at any USDA office, or write a letter addressed to USDA and provide in the letter all of the information requested in the form. Northwoods Notebook: The stage is a great place for kids

By Larry Werner

One night last winter, at a board meeting of the ETC arts council, we heard that Emilie Springsteen, a college student majoring in theater at the University of Wisconsin-Madison, wanted to do an acting camp for kids. I was so excited that I blabbered on to my fellow board members that this could be the best thing ever done at the Cumberland Arts Center.

An overstatement, maybe, but it brought back memories and emotions about the opportunity my youngest son, Zack, was given about 20 years ago by the community education director in Lakeville, Minn., where we were living at the time. That community ed director ran a youth theater company called "Giant Step Theatre."

The man will always be a hero to me, Ann and lots of other parents whose children aren't cut out for sports, or band, or other activities, but found their place on the stage.

Zack had a hard time socially when he was young, had difficulty reining in his impulses and difficulty focusing. But Pete Martin, that community ed director, put Zack in his plays, put up with his differences, and a kid who didn't fit in became a star.

I'll never forget watching him wield the ax as the executioner in Pete's version of Alice in Wonderland.

And speaking of Alice, you probably know Emilie from that production and other ETC children's plays and from Cumberland High School productions. She's terrific and is hoping to graduate with a theater degree in a year or two.

She wants to share what she knows about acting in a class, or camp, June 13-16 and June 20-24, with a performance by the campers on June 25 at the arts center.

And, as it happens, ETC is partnering with our own community education director, Susan Bridger, whose granddaughters, Paityn and Presli Butzler, have spent considerable time performing in the Ruppel Family Theater.

"When I was asked as CCE Director to help advertise this free youth theater offering I was more than happy to," Bridger said "As a grandmother, I have proudly watched our granddaughters, Paityn and Presli, perform and blossom on the ETC stage. What a great opportunity for our Cumberland youth!"

Did you catch that word "free" in Susan's comment? How many summer camps charge nothing to participate? ETC is able to do that because of a generous gift from the United Fund. That fund, the 3M Co. and other local businesses, organizations and individuals have supported the arts in The Island City for years. It's one of the things that has caused me to fall in love with this town since I bought a place here eight years ago.

I'm confident our place on Beaver Dam would have been a weekend getaway, a lake place, not our primary residence, if I hadn't got involved with Enrichment Through Culture. After writing a column about a play, "Spitfire Grill," in the fall of 2014, a woman named Lori Bock, ETC's president, invited me to have coffee. Before we left Peter & Annie's, I had agreed to publicize ETC events, and before I knew it, I was acting in plays and producing musical shows at the arts center and on Library Lake.

The Library Lake concerts, by the way, happen every Tuesday in summer, thanks to sponsorship grants from local businesses and organizations. Securing those sponsorships is about the easiest thing I do. It takes a simple email to get commitments for money to pay the performers.

This summer, Kwik Trip and The Cumberland Woman's Club joined these repeat sponsors of Island City Music: Ardisam, Cumberland Federal Bank, Cumberland Boat Storage Dock & Lift, the Thomas St. Angelo Public Library Foundation, Dairy State Bank, Nezzys's, Louie's Finer Meats, Louie's on the Lake and Peter & Annie's Coffee Shop & Café.

Yes, The Island City is an art-loving city. And now, a Cumberland girl who grew up on the local stage will be sharing what she has learned with your children and grandchildren. If you're interested, call Susan Bridger at 715-822-5121 or email sbrid@csdmail.com.

The persuasive Lori Bock, like our community education director and Mike Clay, the theater chair on the ETC board, thinks this camp is a very good thing for Cumberland youth.

"Ms. Springsteen was a star in our summer theater productions for years," Bock said. "We are very happy to welcome her back to inspire students to follow in her amazing footsteps."

Larry Werner's email is lh-werner47@gmail.com.

Jeremy Westin plays a song from "Gilligan's Island City" during rehearsal for the musical comedy written by David Evenson. Westin plays Gilligan, the character from the old TV show. The play, along with songs from another Evenson play-Island City The Musical, will be performed June 9, 10, and 11 at 7 pm, and 2 pm, Sunday, June 12. Tickets are available at Peter & Annie's or can be ordered by calling 715-822-2786.

As I said in the beginning of this article, man it’s been busy and so much is still to come. Art in the Park is at Tourist Park this Saturday. Stop down as the park will be filled with all kinds of arts, crafts, food and fun for all. Music on the Lake is in full swing and takes place Tuesday evenings on the shores of Library Lake. The free concerts run from 6 to 8 pm and feature some great local talent. Stop down for a listen. A Taste in Cumberland is coming up fast. The big event takes place at the Cumberland Golf Course on Monday, June 20th, from 5:30 to 8:30 pm. Plan to attend this awesome event that benefits the Boys and Girls Clubs of Barron County, Cumberland Middle School Extension. Louie’s Finer Meats Bacon Run is scheduled for June 18th, is a fun and tasty time. The Farmers Market takes place every Saturday morning just east of the four corners and Peter and Annie’s. Stop out and try some fresh local produce and more.

Before you know it, the Fourth of July will be here. Get out and enjoy! The winters are long!

“A steady flow of Wisconsin innovation may help ease water woes”

MILWAUKEE, Wis. – In the closing round of the 2022 Wisconsin Governor’s Business Plan Contest, all three finalists in the “advanced manufacturing” category offered ideas for dealing with threats to water supply.

During the recent “Research in the Rotunda” exhibit in the State Capitol by undergraduate students and faculty advisors in the UW System, 16 of 89 posters dealt with challenges to water and aquatic life.

Some of Wisconsin’s largest companies have put water at the core of their sustainability strategy, and groups such as the Wisconsin Manufacturing Extension Partnership are offering water stewardship training programs to help all sizes of businesses better manage water use.

Those are just three examples of how innovation tied to water – one of Wisconsin’s most vital resources for reasons ranging from farming to tourism to manufacturing – offers hope in coming years as pressures mount on the supply and quality of fresh water in Wisconsin and beyond.

The stories of such pressures have become commonplace, almost numbingly so.

Water supplies in the American West are at record or near-record lows, with extended drought and other factors lowering reservoirs such as Shasta Lake, Lake Mead and Lake Powell.

In Florida, which has the world’s densest concentration of freshwater springs, a combination of poorly placed development, over-pumping, pollution and the effects of climate change significantly reduced water flow from many springs. Some of have stopped flowing altogether.

Closer to home, fishery experts in Wisconsin are worried that warming streams and lakes will make it much harder for trout and walleye to reach maturity, no matter how well those bodies of water are replenished with fingerlings and fry.

“Likely 99% of the U.S. population doesn’t give much thought about how they get their water or where their wastewater goes, but there are endless amounts of technologies required to clean and treat water and to make is safe and abundant for people and business,” said Dean Amhaus, president and chief executive officer of The Water Council, a Milwaukee-based umbrella group that works with industry and academia alike.

“Sadly, we as a nation commit a paltry amount to water technology solutions compared with the research investment of other countries or what we commit to energy innovations. If we want meaningful change, we need to get serious about placing greater value on water innovations and we have to do it immediately,” Amhaus added.

Wisconsin has something of a head start. Water research takes place at most of the state’s major campuses, including the UW-Madison, the UW-Milwaukee and Marquette University. As demonstrated by the “Research in the Rotunda” event, research into water challenges is found at other UW System campuses, as well. For example, the UW-Superior has expertise in maritime science and freshwater estuaries.

It will likely take private-sector investment to spur faster adoption of water tech, however.

Three examples of innovation at the June 1-2 Wisconsin Entrepreneurs’ Conference, where the business plan contest culminated, exhibited the statewide reach of water research and development.

Rapid Radicals Technology, based in Milwaukee, presented its plan to eliminate sewer overflows and basement backups by expanding existing municipal infrastructure to include decentralized, high-rate wastewater treatment technology. This plan emerged as the grand prize winner.

Madison-based ChloBis Water pitched its energy-efficient process to remove salt from water and convert it into valuable chemicals (such as caustic soda or bleach) while creating a sustainable resource recovery cycle.

La Crosse-based ComPrex competed with its plan to develop a water and wastewater treatment system for removal of PFAS, which are chemicals commonly found in consumer and manufacturing products.

Water is still cheap in most places, and the speed at which innovation is embraced is slow. To guarantee the future of fresh water as a resource, it’s time to treat water as a commodity that can run out – and will run out – if taken for granted.

The officer reports he made contact with the male subject, and then proceeded with the male to the male's residence.

The male stated Doby was inside the male's apartment for approximately 15 minutes. The male and Doby then left the male's apartment. The male went to the library. The male returned to his apartment approximately 30 minutes later. Upon entering his apartment, the male noticed the 40 caliber and .380 caliber pistols that he showed Doby were missing. Turtle Lake Man Going to Prison for Burglaries in Northwest Wisconsin

Kevin Johnson, 46, of Turtle Lake, is being charged with 13 counts of burglary and nine counts of criminal damage to property between Barron, Washburn, Sawyer and Rusk Counties. He is also being charged with several counts of theft.

On May 20, 2021, a Rusk County resident reported nearly $2,000 in missing items, including a miter saw with a stand, generator, battery charger, a signed Packers football and weed eater, among other items.

The next day, May 21, 2021, Johnson was on the side of a road, when a Rusk County Deputy came across him. The deputy said Johnson told him his SUV had broken down. The deputy looked in the SUV and saw the signed Packers football and generator. When the deputy asked Johnson where he got the items, Johnson told him "a cabin." An investigator also found three handguns in the vehicle, two of which were loaded.

At the end of February into early March 2021, in Barron County, a person reported a fishing shack that had ben broken into on Turtle Lake. The person reported losing roughly $3,600 in items, including a Vexilar fish finder, underwater camera, custom tip ups and an auger.

A pole shed was also broken into in Barron County, and generators, gas cans and tools were stolen.

When Johnson was interviewed, he admitted going into the pole shed, saying he used to work at the farm and thought the sheds would be unlocked.

Johnson reported selling several items on Facebook Marketplace.

He is currently jailed in Rusk County.

Barron County Judge Maureen Boyle sentenced Johnson to four years in prison last week and he was also ordered to pay more than $2,000 in restitution.

Barron-Cumberland Soccer Team Regional Champions

The Barron-Cumberland Soccer Team took home the Regional Championship last week with a 1-0 victory over Somerset in the title match-up. The team will next play at Rice Lake this Thursday night at 7 pm in the first round of Sectionals.

The team advanced to the Regional Championship game with a 7-0 victory over St. Croix Central last Thursday night. “We played a technically sound game in the victory. We made a few adjustments after half-time, which increased our intensity and helped us focus on passing,” said Head Coach Sarah Stauner.

Cumberland’s Lexi Tschirhart had an assist in the victory. “Lexi did a great job shifting the ball to create space and holding it until the defense collapsed on her when she made the pass to set up the score,” said Stauner.

This set up the game against Somerset last Saturday to advance to Sectionals. “We went into the contest knowing it was going to be a well-matched, physical game. Last time we met had ended in a 1-0 loss,” said Coach Stauner.

Barron-Cumberland responded with a great effort. They scored the game’s one goal on a penalty kick by Kacey Stauner in the first half and held on for the victory.

“Every single player played extremely hard and the game was won due to an incredible amount of heart and determination. Our goal was to be Regional Champions for the second year in a row and they were not willing to go home with less,” concluded Stauner.

Baseball Lands Two On All Conference Team

Cumberland’s David Olson has been named to the HON First Team All-Conference baseball squad. Twelve players were named to the first team, led by Conference champion St. Croix Falls, who had four.

The HON had numerous talented underclassmen as seven of the twelve players return next spring. This includes all four of the Saints players, as well as Olson.

Olson played several positions for the Beavers as well as being one of Coach Waite’s top pitchers. He was a tough out at the plate and a terror on the base paths swiping multiple bases in a plethora of games.

Another Cumberland player, Sophomore Gavin Prinson was named to the second team. The hard throwing right-handed hurler turned into the Beaver’s best pitcher as the season progressed as well as being one of the team’s best hitters.

Twenty-four of the 33 players recognized by the HON on first or second team as well as honorable mention return to the conference next spring, the most underclassmen ever recognized by the conference. The seven St. Croix Falls players make them next year’s favorite. Their players recognized included 2022 Player of the Year, Brayden Olson.

Cumberland Softball Receives All-Conference Recognition

Three Cumberland Softball players were recognized on the 2022 All-Conference Softball Team.

Making Second Team were Junior pitcher Orion Thompson and Senior Tierney Schramski. Junior Maddy Monchilovich was a Honorable Mention choice.

Thompson will return to the program after a solid year on the mound. She was also a fine hitter in Coach Randy Bielmeier’s line-up and will give the team a strong base from which to build a good mound crew next spring.

Schramski was the team’s shortstop and lead-off hitter and will be sorely missed. She started for the Beavers for three years and played good defense as well as having an excellent on-base-average from the top of the line-up.

Monchilovich, meanwhile, will return as a middle-of-the-order bat, where she will look to become one of the HON’s best hitter’s next spring. “Congratulations to these girls and our whole program for an exciting action-packed season,” concluded Coach Bielmeier.

Stouffer Participates in Sectional Golf Tournament

Cumberland Junior Leighton Stouffer saw his season come to an end last week at the D3 Sectional Golf Tournament at Turtleback Golf Course in Rice Lake. Ladysmith won the Team portion of the meet and will be joined by runner-up Glenwood City as participants in next week’s

State Tournament.

Dane Prohaska of Ladysmith shot an 81 to take Medalist honors, while Stouffer ended the day with a 107. “The wind was strong, and the scores were very high. Leighton had a good season as our top golfer,” said Head Coach Tom Hullander.

The Mississippi Gang comes to Wisconsin!

Hello friends,
Late last December I took part in a camping, canoeing, and hunting trip with my daughter Selina in the Delta National Forest which is located in west central Mississippi. One morning I was 1.5 miles away from camp by canoe and on foot when a group of hunters came through that were using beagles to run deer as it was also the dog/deer season in Mississippi.
It was very hard for me to tell how they did this type of hunt so after it appeared that they had completed what was a push of a large area I introduced myself to them.
My new friends included a couple of young boys that were about 6 years old, three high schoolers and the parents, elders who were Joel Stewart and Dustin Hariel of Poplarville, Mississippi.
Within minutes it appeared to me that I had made good friends, and was told that I was welcome at their hunting camp anytime that I wanted which is located in Delta and like all the other camps in the area off the ground due to flooding.
A part of our conversation that I did not forget was that they asked a lot of questions about turkey hunting in Wisconsin and that is what this week's column is about.
Dustin Hariel is 37, the happily married father of two boys, has a land service business (excavating) and is the associate pastor at Olive Baptist Church in Lumberton MS. Dustin would be my contact person this winter and we exchanged dozens of photos about our lives, and on May 1st when Selina shot a very large gobbler, I sent him a picture.
Dustin replied with a calendar text of a 7-day hunt he was coming my way with and there would be 7 hunters. This was an impactful text, reply, and my brain started working hard on lodging and where they could hunt.

High 64, low 41
My buddies were staying at a motel near Necedah, The Wilderness Inn, in Sprague. It was kind of neat when I saw them for the second time in my life today and the first was in a such a unique way, they had driven 1065 miles. So in reality on this day I am giving Scott Hariel, Dustin's dad, recently retired launch pad builder, maintainer for NASA and Dustin a 50-mile tour of The Meadow Valley Wildlife Area, Necedah National Wildlife Refuge and some state land in Jackson County.

I also showed these guys a bear bait that I have out, yep, I have a bear tag for this season and they really got into that. The other members of this group Shane Smith and his 30-year-old son Maverick and 26-year-old son Stetson were exploring on their own as was Joel Stewart and his 17-year-old son Kade. Today was truly a great day to be alive!
Friday, May 27th
High 78, low 48
My first day of hunting, I made a key mistake and thought I would be fine walking in the woods at 5:00 am. It was too light, and I was busted by two toms from their roosts.
Yesterday, Maverick, Stetson, and Shane all harvested turkey and I realized that these guys are hunting machines. This morning I received a text from Dustin saying that he had whacked a turkey and we met at my house, and everyone was happy, meanwhile the Stewart boys teamed up on gobbler number four, and the next thing you know everyone is at my house and we are having a turkey feast.
I am going to be perfectly honest, I felt like these guys were family/friends since we met and today really solidified that. As the days went by, I realized what incredible hunters and gentlemen they are.
One of the gobblers that Steson and Maverick whacked was a two-day chase and in the end Maverick crawled and Stetson did the calling. In one situation they witnessed a wolf on the close heels of a deer, they also witnessed a doe giving birth to a fawn and they frequently spoke about what a great trip this was.
Kade and his father Joel did not harvest any turkey the first few days, but Kade scored on Saturday and Sunday and in the end the group called in and harvested ten turkey, which for big forest country and first time hunters in the state is incredible.

The father and sons team of Shane, Maverick, and Stetson Smith from Poplarville, Mississippi.

Dustin and Scott Hariel enjoyed their Wisconsin turkey hunt.

I heard talk of an alligator hunt with fishing poles in the coming weeks and was given options of a host of different type of trips I could join them on over a years' time.
My guess is that my pals from Mississippi shall return.

He received his M.D. in 1967 and was a Family Practice Doctor in Cumberland for over 30 years.

avid reader and educator of anything whether you wanted to listen or not.

He has donated to over 50 different types of animal and nature foundations over the years. He cares so much that in lieu of flowers we will set up a donation to Nature Foundation to help preserve the environment.

Donald is survived by his sons, James Riemer, and Kaleb Riemer; brother, Jim Riemer and sister-in-law Pam Riemer; brother Monte Hood; nephews: Mike and Donald Riemer; nieces: Wendy O'Brien and Michelle Kaczorowski; and many other family and friends. He was preceded in death by his father, Richard Riemer; mother, Alfie Riemer, and brother, Mick Riemer.

If you wish to pay your respects this Thursday June 9th at the Das Lach Haus in Cumberland from 4-8pm we will have a celebration of life where you can share stories and gather with other friends. For information on donating to a nature foundation or questions you can email Jamesoriemer@gmail.com.

Lynara "Lyn" Amundson

Lynara "Lyn" Amundson, 87, of Cumberland, Wisconsin passed away from COVID-19 complications on November 13, 2021 at Sacred Heart Hospital in Eau Claire, WI.

Lyn was born October 3, 1934 in Ann Arbor, Michigan, the only daughter of Howard and Naomi Hoefler. Most of her childhood was spent in Lompoc, California. Growing up with five brothers, Lyn longed for a little sister and once even dressed her youngest brother Paul up as a little girl.

Lyn met her husband of 67 years, Leonard, at a USO dance while he served in the US Army, and they were married in Lawton, Oklahoma. They lived in Petaluma, CA for several years before journeying back to the Midwest. Lyn and Len's road trip east was filled with accidents and natural disasters – Lyn turned the story in to Readers Digest once and it was rejected as being too unbelievable to print. Lyn had many vocations besides her favorite of wife and mother. She studied nursing in Utah where she met and introduced her future sister in law, Corolie to her brother Roy; she worked at 3M as a secretary in St. Paul, Minnesota, then as a nursing assistant in Cumberland, and later as a secretary at CESA. Her last employment adventure was with her good friend from church, Donna Stoll when Mrs. Stoll opened up a women's clothing store on Main Street of Cumberland.

In her spare time, Lyn enjoyed sewing (she sewed many clothes and Halloween costumes for her children and grandchildren), knitting, and crocheting afghans to great excess. Lyn also loved to paint: she had an easel set up in the basement where she worked in acrylic and watercolors. She was active in the Cumberland Methodist Church where she was a teacher and loved singing in the choir. Lyn was a Den mother for Cub Scouts. Lyn also enjoyed golfing and playing bridge. She and Len enjoyed hosting and playing couples bridge together and separately in women's and men's leagues. She also taught her sons and grandchildren to play bridge, and they played many holiday bridge games together.

After Len's retirement, Lyn and Len enjoyed traveling with Lyn's brother Paul and his wife Priscilla to Niagara Falls, the Bahamas, and Cancun. They would also go on road trips to visit Lyn's brother, Steve, and his wife, Jackie, at their home in Colorado and Oregon.

Lyn will be remembered for her sharp wit and advice. She was known to say, "You don't have the diet drink if you're getting the dessert!" and, "You can fall in love with a rich man just as easily as you can fall in love with a poor man."

Lyn was preceded in death by her husband Len, who passed away just nine months before her. Those that knew their deep love for each other would not be surprised they passed in the same year. She was also preceded in death by her parents and three of her brothers (Roy, Lewis and Stuart). She is survived by her children: Catherine (James) Wilson, Leonard Jr. (Charis) Amundson, and Phillip (Erika) Amundson; grandchildren: Sarah (Aaron) Armsmeier, Daniel (Laura) Shofner, Ben Amundson, and Leonard III (Laura) Amundson; great-grandchildren: Madelynn, Ivan, Mabel, Clara; along with brothers Steve (Jackie) and Paul (Priscilla) Hoefler.

A brief service will be held on June 10th, 2022 at 2 PM at Northern Memorial Veterans Cemetery in Spooner, Wisconsin. A light luncheon will be served at 4:00 PM at the Cumberland Methodist Church.

In lieu of flowers, please consider a donation to the Cumberland Methodist Church.

Eileen M. Nyhus

Eileen Mae Nyhus, age 89, of Almena, WI, died Monday, May 30, 2022. Eileen was born to Carl and Bertha (Benson) Loken on May 29, 1933, in Twin Valley, MN. She spent her early years in Waukegan, IL. During the 1940's, she and her family moved to Cumberland, WI, where she met Richard E. Nyhus. She married Richard on May 8, 1954. She worked at 3M in Cumberland and farmed in Almena for 53 years.

She is survived by one daughter, Peggy (John) Laney of Rice Lake, WI; two sons, Rick (Shari) Nyhus of Barronett, WI; Randy (Joetta) Nyhus of Almena, WI; 7 grandchildren (Shawndell, Angela, Tonya, Traci, Erin, Trenton, and John); 11 great-grandchildren (Dawson, Braden, Kaitlin, Tevin, Tate, Trey, Brycelynn, Kelsa, Tyler, Karlee, and Jerrad); and many nieces and nephews. She is preceded in death by her parents, husband, two brothers, two sisters, and daughter-in-law.

Place of service will be First Lutheran Church in Cumberland, WI, on Saturday, June 11th at 2:00pm. Visitation one hour before the service. A light luncheon will be served following the service.

In lieu of flowers, the family requests donations be made to the Marshfield Clinic Home Health & Hospice – Rice Lake, or the American Heart Association. Any cash or check donations made to the family will be given to Marshfield Clinic Home Health & Hospice – Rice Lake for the wonderful care they provided Eileen. Donations to the American Heart Association can be made online at <https://www.heart.org/en/get-involved/ways-to-give>.

OBITUARIES

Linda Anne Goergen

May 7, 1958 - May 28, 2022; 64 years young. Linda was born in Minneapolis, MN on May 7th, 1958 and was the oldest of four siblings. She graduated from John F. Kennedy High School in Bloomington, MN in 1976, where she was a cheerleader, band member, and a life-long friend of many. She cultivated her passion for caring for others early on in life obtaining her Associates degree in Registered Nursing from Normandale Community College in 1978; later furthering her education with a degree in Healthcare Management from St. Mary's University in 1999. She began her medical career working at Metropolitan Medical Center assisting in pediatric heart surgery for the Children's Heart Fund, but spent most of her career (29 years) in Fairview Health Services as an operating room nurse, process re-engineering, and later as a Clinic Administrator for Fairview and Cumberland Healthcare.

Volunteering was an integral part of her entire life, she was always eager to help in any way she could from being involved in her children's academic and sport activities, supporting community events, providing local and international medical care to those in need, and being a blood donor.

Linda married Dale on October 10, 1980. They resided in Apple Valley, MN for 33 years, before retiring to their lake home in Cumberland in 2013. Together they traveled the world visiting friends and family, exploring new places, and fulfilling Linda's mission of helping everyone she could through medical mission trips to Honduras and Africa. When Linda wasn't traveling she kept herself busy in her always blooming garden, feeding and watching birds, enjoying lake life, hiking, snowshoeing, golfing, yoga, curling, hunting, pickle balling, scuba diving, crafting, playing scrabble and mah-jong, reading, cooking and baking, volunteering at the free clinic, and hosting and gathering with friends and family.

While scuba diving in Cozumel, Mexico, doing something that she loved, she experienced some life threatening complications. Many excellent medical professionals in both Mexico and the US did all that they could, but after fighting her hardest she passed away on May 28th. Linda's last wish was to be an organ donor and one of her kidneys was transplanted on the 29th and more body tissue will be used in the coming days. Her generous donation will continue to give through other donations and research.

She is survived by her husband Dale, children Mike and Jenny, and Liz and Mauricio, grandson Amos, siblings Marie and Jeff Johnson, Greg and Wendy Kappes, and Mark and Kris Kappes, many in-laws, nieces and nephews, and friends from around the world. She was preceded in death by her parents Vern and Denise Kappes.

Linda lived a full active life with no regrets; her zest for life, big laugh, smiling hazel eyes, fun mischievous ways will never be forgotten. She was hard working, loving, dedicated, driven, loyal, smart, beautiful, adventurous, and inquisitive. Her vibrant attitude will live on through us all. She will be missed, but her impact will never be forgotten and will always be felt.

A Celebration of Linda's life will be held at Turtleback Golf Course in Rice Lake, on Friday, June 10th from 3 to 6 PM. In lieu of flowers or gifts we ask that donations be made in her name to places near and dear to her heart: the Hospital Socorro de lo Alto in Sula, Honduras; Benjamin's House in Rice Lake;

Kinship of Cumberland & Turtle Lake; or the charity of your choice. The best gift of all would be to donate blood at your nearest blood drive and commit to being an organ donor.

“Set your burdens down”

by Pastor Tim Schmidt

First Lutheran Church, Cumberland

My guilt has overwhelmed me like a burden too heavy to bear. Psalm 38:4

In Confirmation class I used to do a little object lesson demonstration. First, I would have the kids run around the church once. Then I took out these weights that you use for working out, five pound plates that you put on a barbell. And on them I had stickers that said things like “regret,” “fear,” “guilt,” “sin,” “selfishness” and things like that. I put those weights in a backpack and then would see if there was a volunteer to put the backpack on and then have the kids run around the church again. And of course the message was that life is so much harder if we carry those kind of burdens around with us.

One year this really athletic kid volunteered to wear the backpack. And he was still the fastest around the church. I think that was the last year I did that object lesson.

But the point is still true. We are carrying an awfully heavy load if we carry around our guilt and our sin. It can weigh us down. It can slow us up and keep us from doing what we were made to do. Carrying that burden can keep us from being who we were made to be.

But God has promised to take that burden from us. God has promised to forgive our sins and to let us set that burden down and be free of it.

Prayer: Forgiving God, may we lay the burden of our sin at your feet and be free of it. For we pray in the name of your Son, Jesus Christ, the one in whom we have forgiveness and life. Amen.

HELP CUMBERLAND BOY SCOUTS Deposit Aluminum Cans in the Scout Bin Behind the City Shop.

The Island City Bachelors; 1886

by Mark R. Fuller

In an apparent attempt to help the single girls of Cumberland, the January 9, 1886, Advocate printed a list of eligible bachelors in the newspaper. They described their intention by stating, "There are a few "old" bachelors left in this neck of the woods, who need good help-meets, and there seems to be no good reason why they shouldn't have them." The following were those listed in the Advocate article.

1. There's Operator Lindsay. He appears a trifle dude-ish at times, but his habits are good, he is kind-hearted, and would make a model husband. The fact that he is a trifle bald is more than made up by his oriental mustache, his fine Grecian figure, and his captivating smile. Mr. Lindsay is all right, and by-the-way, he has plenty of money.

2. Jens Swenson is another rich young bachelor, who would have been married long ago, had it not been for his bashfulness. He is a blonde and parts his hair in the middle, and there's not a girl in Cumberland who would not be happy to have his company and very few of them haven't had it at one time or another. Jens stands in with the girls, but that horrible bashfulness of his has kept him single all these years.

3. Elmer Fuller evidently thinks he will never grow old and homely or need anyone to take care of him in his declining years. Otherwise, he would probably have been "sliced" long ago. Elmer dresses in the height of fashion, curls his mustache very artistically, and wears tooth pick shoes. He is quite a ladies' man and his name has a dashboard and three initials.

4. Henry Shepherd hasn't any time for the girls, but he is a sensible and good-looking musician. He crosses the street when he sees a young lady approaching and he has an attack of nervousness every time one deigns to speak to him. He has a good heart which is in the right place and he is a good humorist. We will give a year's subscription to the first young lady who proposes to him.

5. The fact that Selby Doolittle isn't married is no fault but his. Now, girls, if we were a young lady, Selby would be out first choice. He is the stuff husbands are made of and don't you forget it. He has a fine new house all ready and if that should burn, he can build another. Selby is pretty near a hustler.

6. Grant Briggs is another young man who is just as good as he looks and the girl who captures him will wish she had married him years ago.

7. Will Cleary is a "lightening" young fellow and quite a favorite with the girls. He is a great fellow to sit up nights and would make a splendid beau for any girl.

8. Sam Luff is still in the market and making no effort to change his circumstances. He is too independent for most girls and if he gets married this year, someone else will have to do the proposing. Sam bought a farm last summer, but his courage failed him apparently just as he was about to settle down and he isn't married yet.

9. Jay Hamilton is a very marriageable young man, but as he will be away from home attending or teaching school most of the year, we will let him off.

"Then there are Axel Arons, Jacob Jacobson, Edward Brown and a score of others to select from and if the girls can't make a choice from this list, they are advised to go to Shell Lake, where we know of a whole lot of nice fellows," the Advocate article concluded.

I could not find any evidence of this free advertising helping any relationships develop. I do know that one individual mentioned, however, was happy to stay single. In a November 26 paper corresponding with Thanksgiving, several individuals from the community were asked what they were thankful for. Will Cleary's answer was, "The year is nearly gone and I have escaped the matrimonial noose."

Structure Fire!

The Cumberland Fire Department was called to 2536 3/4 - 5th Street for a fully engulfed cabin/house fire at 8:07 am on Tuesday, June 7th. The origin of the fire is unknown at this time. The Cumberland Fire Department cleared the scene at 10:30 am.

BarronettNews

By Judy Pieper

School’s out for the summer!! We will be seeing lots of excited children running hither and yon, trying to find the most fun possible with their friends. And that means, of course, that we are going to be even more careful when driving past parks and playgrounds because children are not noted for being careful while they are having fun. Let the games begin!

I have information on a few more of our graduates. They are:

Kirsten Hohweiler – Kirsten graduated with high honors and was a member of the National Honor Society. She will continue to work at the Apothecary through the summer. This fall she will be attending Eau Claire Barron County Campus in Rice Lake, majoring in pre-med. Kirsten is working toward a career as a physician’s assistant.

Allison Zarr: Ally has been interested in farming for many years. She plans to continue milking on the Jerry family farm.

Lulu Ingham: Lulu did not graduate from our area, she lives in Fort Lauderdale, Florida, but she and her family enjoy reading the Barronett News. Lulu is officially a high school graduate and will be studying history and political science at Washington University in St. Louis, Missouri.

Congratulations, Graduates. We wish you all the best in the future.

We visited with Mary and Steve Thompson at the Red Brick one day last week. Mary said that she had extra sunflower plants and asked if we would like some and, of course, I said yes. Well, Steve dropped them off this past weekend and they are beautiful, healthy plants. Wrigley Marsh and I planted them on the north end of the vegetable garden by the gate. I’m sure the birds will be happily feasting on the seeds later this fall. Now I have to convince Mary to stop by to relax and visit by the garden.

David Hook was up from Verona vacationing with friends last week. He stopped by to visit one morning, and I convinced him to stay for breakfast. David said that he plans to spend a lot of time in our area this summer, enjoying the peace and quiet and the great fishing.

Connie Goodrich sent a letter to Terry with an update on his great-nephews, Ben and Zachary Goodrich. You probably remember that Ben is a Paralympian and that he competed in US Para Judo in Japan last winter. Well, he and the love of his life, Nicolina, who is also a Paralympian and who also competes in Para Judo, were married on January 7th. They will be having a wedding reception in Stillwater on a riverboat on July 9th. Congratulations – we all wish you many years of marital bliss.

Ben’s brother, Zachary Goodrich, was one of the top gun instructors at Fallon Air Force Base in Nevada. For the past three years he has been a Naval Aviator who flies in the back seat of the two-seated F-18 Super Hornets. He flew one of the planes in the new Top Gun movie. His face was not seen, but he is listed in the film credits as being an aviator of one of the planes. He is now a lieutenant commander with the Jolly Rogers Squadron based out of Oceana Naval Air Station in Virginia. To quote his mom, Connie, “Pretty cool, huh?”

You know, of course, that Terry has also appeared in films of Civil War reenactments. He was never included in the list of credits, but his face was seen. Hmm. I think Zachary has one-upped his great-uncle.

I want to personally thank Jeanette Rydberg and the Cumberland Library for their service of bringing a library car to Barronett every Thursday at noon. I have told Jeanette what type of books I like, and she invariably has two or three with her that I thoroughly enjoy. This week, in addition to the books, she had a Thomas St. Angelo Public Library T-shirt for me. I earned the shirt through the Adult Reading Challenge. There is also a Youth Reading Challenge for the kids where they can earn T-shirts by reading ten youth books or three chapter books. Check out the library ad in this paper – there are lots of things for the kids to do that will be fun and educational.

Duane and I stopped by to visit with Mark Bellefeuille and Tinille Lehmann on Sunday afternoon. They showed us around their “humble abode” (Tinille and Mark’s words, not mine.) And they took us four-wheeling and showed us around their property. We saw lots of deer and pine trees. It was a great way to spend the afternoon.

I am very sorry to report that my cousin, Jerry Hefty, passed away unexpectedly on June 2nd. Jerry lived and farmed in Campia for many years and, later in life, worked for Johnson Truck Bodies in Rice Lake. He was a great guy, and we are all going to miss him very much. Please keep his wife, Carole, and his daughters, Karen and Jo Ellen, in your prayers for comfort.

That’s about all I know from Barronett this week. See you next time.

Gavin and Ava Nelli are two of the first children to earn this year’s Thomas St. Angelo Public Library Summer Reading T-Shirt, sponsored by Cumberland Woman’s Club, Cumberland TSAPL Library Foundation and Friends of the Library. The library has t-shirts, prizes, a scavenger hunt, a concert and programs to accompany this summer’s theme of “Ocean of Possibilities.

The Cumberland Track Team received some excellent performances from their track athletes at the State Track Meet held in La Crosse last weekend.

Competing for the girls were Senior Amie West in the shotput and Teagan Monson in the high jump.

After finishing a spot away from State last spring, West made it to La Crosse as a senior, where she threw the shot 33 feet to finish 14th in D3. The winning toss came from Monraye Ermis of Manitowoc Lutheran, who took first with a toss of 39-01.

Monson, meanwhile, was unable to match her top high jump of 5-01 in La Crosse, as her best leap of 4-08 put her in 15th place. The winning jump of 5-05 came from Kallie Volk of Three Lakes. The team champion for the D3 girls was Webster, who edged out Dodgeland by a point.

Another team from Northern Wisconsin took home the boy's title as Chetek-Weyerhaeuser defeated Durand and Grantsburg for the team championship.

Representing Cumberland was Junior Nick Kasper, who leaped 42-05 to finish 9th in the Triple Jump and Junior Ed Chafer, who ran a 23.14, but did not qualify for the 200-Meter dash finals. The 200-Meter Champion was Brock Dortman of Howards Grove, who ran a 22.47, while the triple jump winner was Trey Colts of Cambridge who jumped 45-08.

The final participant was the Beavers 4x100-Meter Relay Team, who finished a strong 5th with a time of 43.66. They trailed the winner Eau Claire Regis, who ran a 43.27. Chetek-Weyerhaeuser was third with a 43.40. "It was an incredible race where the top six team were less than a second apart," said Head Coach Ryan O'Connell. Running for the Beavers were Gavin Jarchow, Isaac Runstrom, Drew Griffith, and Edward Chafer.

O'Connell concluded, "It was a great spring for the Cumberland Track Teams and we're already excited for next March. Both Kasper and the 4x100-Meter Relay Team broke School Records in La Crosse."
