

Milk Truck Shot at in Burnett County

On Thursday, September 15th, 2022 on State Highway 70 in Daniels Township, it was reported that a milk truck was shot as it was travelling down the highway. The victim called Burnett County Dispatch at 1:39 a.m., stating she saw a male dressed in dark clothing, take a shooting stance with a pistol in his hand and shot the truck she was operating. The bullet was later extracted from the passenger side of the grill guard.

At 2:45 a.m., a second victim called Burnett County Dispatch from the Village of Siren stating that the suspect had broken into her home and camper, threatened her and she fled for safety. Upon arrival of law enforcement, the male suspect, Michael W. Johnson, age 56, of Siren, WI, fled the scene at a high rate of speed. A bullet hole was located within the home.

In the early afternoon of September 15th, the Burnett County Emergency Response Team (ERT), in conjunction with Washburn County ERT and Sawyer County ERT, conducted a search warrant at 10251 State Highway 70. Michael Johnson was taken into custody without incident.

We would like to thank the Siren Police Department, Washburn County ERT, Sawyer County ERT, North Ambulance and the Wisconsin State Patrol for bringing these incidents to a safe end.

Man Arrested for 11th OWI

Thomas S Barthman, 58 years of age, from Osceola has been arrested by the Wisconsin State Patrol Spooner Post for operating a motor vehicle under the influence, 11th offense.

Troopers from the Wisconsin State Patrol responded to a report of a motorcycle crash with injuries in Polk County east of Clear Lake. Upon arriving on the scene, the driver Scott Barthman, was being attended to by EMS. A helicopter was en-route due to the severity of the driver's injuries. As Troopers continued the crash investigation, they noticed the odor of intoxicants emitting from the driver. A routine driver's license check showed the driver had a suspended driver's license with ten prior OWIs. Mr. Barthman was subsequently arrested for operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. Mr. Barthman was transported by helicopter to a local hospital.

"Pursuant to the direction of the Wisconsin Supreme Court, as found in Supreme Court Rule 20:3.6, Trial Publicly, you are advised that a charge is merely an accusation and that a defendant is presumed innocent until and unless proven guilty."

James and Andrea Manning are the new owners of Bona Casa. The popular Italian Restaurant welcomes you to grab some great take out. The couple hopes to have the dining room opened by the first of the year. Congratulations and best of luck on your new endeavor!

Meet the New Owners of Bona Casa

James and Andrea Manning are the new owners of Bona Casa. Andrea was born and raised in Cumberland, and is the great-granddaughter of Tom and Anna Ricci, the original owners of Bona Casa.

When asked what made them decide to buy Bona

Casa, Andrea said it has always been a dream to buy it. It has always been a special place to her and her family. A lot of memories were made at Bona Casa. Andrea also said she and her husband wanted to come back to Cumberland, and start their own family.

As far as the recipes go, everything is going to stay the same. It's been the same recipe forever. They are going to do some redecorating, and go with a 50's theme, as Bona Casa first opened in 1957.

The take out hours will stay the same, and they are hoping to open on Sunday's once they are up to speed, and they want to have the dining room open by the first of the year.

Andrea and James want to thank the community for being amazing and patient as they continue to this journey as new owners.

Barron County Celebrates National Voter Registration Day

National Voter Registration Day was on September 20, 2022. Barron County Votes reminds citizens that its volunteers are available to assist with voter registration. Voters can email barroncountyvotes@gmail.com with questions about registration or to request a ride to the DMV, clerk’s office, or polls.

Every year millions of Americans don’t claim their right to vote because they miss a deadline, move, change names, or don’t know how to register. National Voter Registration Day is an occasion for community institutions, voters, and election leaders to build a more representative democracy.

The goals of Barron County Votes, a non-partisan civic organization formed in March 2018, are to remove barriers to voting and expand access to the ballot box, to reduce confusion surrounding voting laws and rules, and to promote a culture of voting and civic engagement.

Volunteers are available to guide citizens through the registration process and inform them about documents they need to bring to the polls. They can answer questions about name and address changes, the location of polls, when elections are scheduled, where to see a sample ballot, and more.

Because registration lists are sometimes purged, Barron County Votes encourages all adults to check that their registrations are current. That and more can be accomplished at the www.myvote.wi.gov website. Homeless and transient citizens are eligible to vote, as are felons who are “off paper.” Barron County Votes members can assist with creation of a voting plan.

Barron County Votes is a nonpartisan, civic, nonpolitical organization that assists with how, when, and where to vote, never for whom to vote. Its structure is based on Chippewa Valley Votes, which has shared its training and many documents with Barron County Votes.

Both organizations support establishment of a system of Automatic Voter Registration (AVR) in the state of Wisconsin. AVR will boost registration rates, increase voter turnout, clean up the rolls, make voting more convenient, reduce the potential for voter fraud, and lower costs to taxpayers.

Please email barroncountyvotes@gmail.com to schedule Barron County Votes volunteers, if you are interested in volunteering, or if you have questions about registration or voting.

Blacksmith Shops Were Part of Every Early Community by Mark R. Fuller

The blacksmith shop was one of the first businesses established in any frontier community. They were the metalsmiths who created objects by forging metal into gates, grilles, railings, light fixtures, furniture, sculpture, tools, agricultural implements, decorative and religious items, cooking utensils, and weapons needed by the early settlers.

Blacksmithing origins first trace back to 1500 BC when the Hittites of Asia Minor discovered the process of forging and tempering iron ore. Before the Industrial Revolution, every iron tool was custom-forged by a blacksmith.

As Cumberland began to grow in the 1870s, the clang of a hammer on an anvil rang through our city. The first of our Blacksmith Shops was built in 1878 by Elmer Wisner, who arrived here from Clear Lake. Soon Ed Christopherson opened up another shop in a log cabin in Section 10. He would be injured while shoeing a horse in 1901 and later gave up “Smithing.”

Each blacksmith shop would contain a forge, bellows, tools, iron and fuel to do their job. The heart of the shop would be the forge and bellows. The forge had a bellows to make the fire hotter and regulate the heat. Near the forge stood an anvil of hardened steel. Here the blacksmith shaped metal with a hammer and other tools.

These blacksmiths had a general knowledge of how to make and repair many things, from the most complex of weapons and armor to simple things like nails or lengths of chain. Their work was critical for the early residents of each city.

With work increasing in the city, Peter Steineck opened up another shop just north of Augustana Lutheran Church. In 1914, he sold the business to Ed Endlick, who moved here from Almena. The early prices for work included 35 cents for each foot shoed, 50 cents for plow lays, and $1 to sharpen points.

Other blacksmiths who served the community were run by Albert Finley and Ole Overby. They operated a shop just south of the four corners. Young children in town loved to watch the work of the men and the shower of sparks, bright coals, and clouds of steam that rose from their building.

The best known “Smithy” in town was probably George Sampson. He was a colorful character who worked at the Steineck shop. Like the other blacksmiths in town, he sometimes was required to travel out of town to shoe horses at a farm in the country.

Eventually the mass-produced metal items, that evolved from the Industrial Revolution, reduced the demand for the blacksmith’s custom-made products, as many shops adapted to changing technology. As farming became mechanized and automobiles became more frequent, they required frequent repairs and some blacksmith shops evolved into mechanical shops.

Although blacksmiths today do not have the demand of years ago, they still exist. They still use their skills to create metal artwork or teach others the art of working with iron. They may be gone from the Cumberland landmark, but played an important role in the early development of our “Island City.”

The best known “Smithy” in town was George Sampson. He was a colorful character who worked at the Steineck Shop, which was located south of the 4-Corners.

Northwoods Notebook: The quiet, colorful season is upon us By Larry Werner

It’s Sunday afternoon as I write this on my deck overlooking Beaver Dam Lake. It’s a pleasant enough day, if a little cloudy, but there isn’t a boat or jet ski out there, which is very different from the last dozen Sundays, when the water was alive with the boaters of summer.

“It’s supposed to be nice tomorrow,” Ann said yesterday. “We should go out on the boat. It might be the last time.”

We didn’t go out, did a little shopping instead, and watched a little football, to the aroma of Louie’s ribs cooking slowly in the oven. Fall has officially arrived, the leaves are turning oh so slightly, as we put another summer behind us.

It was our ninth year in this lovely little town whose population triples in May when the cabin people arrive and shrinks back to a couple thousand when they close up their lake places in September. I do love fall, but there’s something about the end of summer that provokes a tinge of sadness I don’t feel at the conclusion of the other three seasons.

The summer of 2022 was the second consecutive summer when we could entertain guests at the lake – our kids, grandkids, relatives and friends. It hardly seems possible it was two years ago, the summer of 2020, when we couldn’t have company because of covid. But with the arrival of vaccines, we filled the house on the fourth of July 2021 and again this year. How odd it was in that year of quarantine to not be able to greet the kids and grandkids as they arrived with suitcases and sleeping bags for the big holiday gathering.

That was two years ago, and two summers since flew by with days on the lake, fireworks at the beach and the chaos of 15 kids and grandkids making beautiful noise for a few days. Then they packed up and headed back to the city, saying goodbye with hugs, thanking us for giving them a place to visit that they feel – as a sign in our house says – that, “Heaven is a little closer at the lake.”

They tend not to visit in the fall, as the grandkids are busy with school, sports and other activities. So it’s quiet now, and pretty, as the trees all around us begin to change from green to red and orange, before the branches go bare, giving us an even better view of this marvelous body of water. We’ll put the boat in storage and watch the ice arrive, then the snow that turns the lake from blue to white, and the fishing shacks.

It was a hot summer this year, one of the hottest, they say, and last winter was one of the coldest. I like winter, as well, but prefer one that isn’t so cold we can’t take our daily walk into town.

But I’m getting ahead of myself.

Fall is here, and I’m going to enjoy the cool, crisp days, the football Sundays, the color tours and the quiet that comes when summer goes.

DHS Encourages You to Protect Yourself Against the Flu by Getting Vaccinated

The Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS) encourages everyone six months and older to get vaccinated against influenza (flu) this fall. Getting your flu vaccine is the best way to prevent serious illness, hospitalization, and death caused by the virus.

You can get the flu vaccine alone or at the same time as other vaccines, including the COVID-19 vaccine, whether it’s your first or second dose, or a booster.

“While the timing of peak flu cases is difficult to predict, it typically circulates in the fall and winter months. That’s why we recommend getting your yearly flu vaccine in the fall, before flu cases begin to increase,” said Tom Haupt, DHS Influenza Surveillance Coordinator. “Getting your flu vaccine, staying home when you are sick, and hand washing are all important things we can do to stop respiratory illnesses like influenza from spreading.”

Out My Window

by Paul Bucher, Editor

Well there is a couple of events taking place this weekend. First, Barronett hosts the annual Barronett Fall Colorfest. The 35th annual event kicks off Friday with a spaghetti feed, hay ride and more. There are fun events all weekend long. Check it out. There is something for everyone! Also, taking place this weekend is the Barron County Truck Show. The show takes place at the fairgrounds and starts Friday. Gates open at 5 pm. There will be a truck or treat, silent auctions, and a huge truck and tractor pull at 5 pm Saturday. Best of all, the event gives back. This year, the non-profit organization is raising money for little Nora Reilly of Cumberland. Nora has been diagnosed with Neuroblastoma, a childhood cancer. She has been in and out of several hospitals. As you can imagine bills are piling up. She could use your help. Make the trip to the fair grounds this weekend and help support young Nora.

Everything seems back to normal in the NFC North. The Pack hammered the Bears, which they normally do. The Vikes got smoked on Monday night by the Eagles and the Lions picked up a win. All four teams are 1-1 after two weeks. The Packers ran the ball right at the Bears. Both AJ Dillon and Aaron Jones had big games. I believe they need to stick with the run. Will see how that goes. Meanwhile, the Vikings were awful in all aspects. As the saying goes, there’s always next week.

Fall outdoor events are in full swing. Archery season is open for deer and bear, and hunters have been at it for two weeks and water fowlers are out as well. Soon fall fishing will kick into high gear as well.

Inflation Reduction Act

To the Editor:

A recently published United Nations report has warned that earth is moving toward more severe weather extremes. Heat, flooding, wildfires and drought, driven by climate change, are now common occurrences and happening worldwide.

The just passed Inflation Reduction Act has components that address a reduction in carbon emissions which will curtail climate change. It is estimated by several energy modeling groups that this Act will reduce US greenhouse gas emissions by at least 40% by 2030, significantly narrowing the gap between the our current path and our Paris Agreement commitment. However, in the agreement which internationally limits global warming, the US has committed to cutting carbon emissions by 50-52% below 2005 levels by 2030. Therefore, more needs to be done by the US to comply.

It is so important then, that in this election cycle, we vote for those candidates committed to further reducing our greenhouse gas emissions. Take some time, do some research and vote. Please vote for the candidate that will work to ensure a livable planet for future generations.

“Venture capital rides up and down waves, but it’s navigating 2022 storms”

MADISON, Wis. – Much like other markets in the uncertain 2022 economy, venture capital is an asset class not immune from troubles. Some investment sectors were riding high during the pandemic years but sagged since; others that lost favor for a while have climbed back into the game.

Those fluid trends, charted reliably by the National Venture Capital Association at the 50-state level, can help inform managers of early stage investment funds as well as entrepreneurs looking for money as both groups scout for opportunities.

In Wisconsin, where angel and venture investments shattered previous dollar-record totals in 2021, some observers were worried that 2022 would fall back significantly as rising interest rates, inflation, war in Ukraine and other factors took a toll. While total investments for the year will likely fall below the $869 million mark from 2021, they almost certainly will eclipse the $484 million and $454 million totals from the two previous years.

Through mid-September, about 45 Wisconsin angel and venture deals totaling $435 million have been informally recorded by the Tech Council Investor Networks. The median deal size is nearly $2 million and the average is about $10 million. As always, a final assessment must wait until well past the end of the year, but it’s not too early to conclude that Wisconsin is continuing to see larger deals and more out-of-state investors in those deals.

There are many reasons for that. Venture-track company valuations in Wisconsin are generally realistic compared to those in some other parts of the country; the cost of doing business in Wisconsin is more predictable; companies that raised modest first rounds five years ago are attracting larger investments today; and East and West coast venture firms are “discovering” the Midwest, its diverse technology base and its management talent.

Another factor that helps investors check out young companies are chances to see and hear founders and managers pitch their products and solutions.

One such forum is the Nov. 9-10 Wisconsin Early Stage Symposium in Madison, where it has been a fixture under that name since the early 2000s. Companies may apply now online through the Wisconsin Technology Council for a mix of three chances to get in front of investors.

The 2022 format includes two pitch opportunities – a five-minute track and the 90-second Elevator Pitch Olympics – as well as “Investor Intros.” This more informal setting allows scores of selected companies brief, one-on-one meetings with targeted angel and venture investors.

Because investors and others from across the Midwest and beyond want to hear about the latest trends in venture capital, the keynote speaker Nov. 9 will be Bobby Franklin, president of the National Venture Capital Association. He leads the group’s public policy efforts to promote entrepreneurship and investment.

The NVCA also runs Venture Forward, which has tutored more than 1,500 aspiring and early career venture capitalists, including many from historically under-represented communities.

Madison and Wisconsin can attract such national-caliber players in the investment world because the numbers bear it out. For example, Madison was ranked third among all U.S. cities for its recent growth in startup funding, behind only Kirkland, Wash., and Stanford, Calif., and in the same company as Santa Barbara, Calif.; Ann Arbor, Mich.; Cleveland, Ohio; Wilmington-Dover, Del.; Birmingham, Ala.; and Denver, Colo. The survey was done by York IE, an investment firm based in Manchester, N.H.

Larger deals helped push Madison to the top, but the increase in activity can be charted in cities such as Milwaukee, Green Bay, the Eau Claire-Chippewa Falls region and more.

Wisconsin will never be the Silicon Valley, Boston’s Highway 128 loop or New York City, but it’s on its way to being a Midwest hub for early stage investments. By weathering the storms of 2022 so far, the state is signaling it is here to stay.

Still is president of the Wisconsin Technology Council. He can be reached at tstill@wisconsinstechnologycouncil.com.

A deputy, with the Barron County Sheriff's Department, reports on August 26, 2022 at approximately 7:40 am, he was on duty when he was advised by the Barron County Communications Center that dispatch had received a call from a male subject, regarding a motorcross bike in the ditch on the north side of 18th Avenue near 23rd Street in Barron County. The male stated the bike appeared to have been abandoned. The deputy reports he went to the location where the male reported observing the bike. The deputy reports the bike was laying in the ditch near a fence next to a soybean field. The deputy reports the bike did not appear to have been involved in a crash and looked like it may have been pushed down into the ditch. The deputy reports the bike was a Suzuki.

The deputy reports on August 26, 2022, at approximately 4: 25 pm, he was advised by the Barron County Communications Center that another male subject called 911 reporting that someone stole his Suzuki dirt bike. The deputy reports he made contact with the male and the male's father at their residence on 20th Avenue.

The deputy reports that the male stated his bike was parked behind the shed near their residence the previous day, and now it was missing. The male stated he suspected Bernstein had taken the bike. The male also stated he thought Bernstein may have come to the residence to get his truck, which had been there for some time. The male's father stated he called the bank after Bernstein left the truck on the property to have it removed. The father stated Bernstein had not paid on the truck for some time, so he worked out a deal with the bank and purchased the truck.

The deputy reports he determined the bike that was stolen was the same bike that he took custody of in the ditch earlier in the morning. The father was advised that he could come to the Sheriff's Department to pick up the bike.

Another deputy, with the Barron County Sheriff's Department, reports on August 27, 2022, at approximately 5:33 pm, he was on duty when dispatch requested he respond to a residence located on 13th Avenue, in Stanley, for a theft complaint. Disptach advised they received a call from a female who reported a miter saw and two chainsaws were taken from her garage sometime within the previous three weeks. The female stated Bernstein, her son, had stolen these items from her garage.

Upon arrival, the deputy made contact with the female, who stated she had a chainsaw and a miter saw in a room that was attached to a detached garage at the residence. She stated she noticed the chainsaw and miter saw missing on August 27, 2022.

The deputy reports that, while speaking with the female, he made contact with a male in the garage. The male stated he was also missing a chainsaw that was last seen stored inside the same garage. The male and female stated they did not consent to anyone entering the garage and taking the two chainsaws and miter saw.

Another deputy, with the Barron County Sheriff's Department, reports on August 7, 2022, at approximately 12:38 pm, she was on duty when she was dispatched to the property located on 24th Street, in Cedar Lake Township, for a burglary and criminal damage to property complaint. The deputy went to the property and made contact with a male subject. The male stated that he had gotten possession of the house and barn on the property after his father passed away. The male stated no one currently resides on the property. The male stated on August 26, 2022, he went to the property and noticed the windows on the north side of the residence were busted out. The male stated he went to one of the back sheds behind the barn and observed that his skidsteer had been moved, and it looked like it had been used to move a tractor that he also had in the shed. The male stated it appeared the bucket had fallen off and everything was left by the opening of the shed.

The male stated he continued looking around the property and noticed another tractor that was parked outside in the tall grass and had three bullet holes in the back window. The male stated the front window of the tractor was shattered. The male stated he discovered some tools in the shed were also missing, including a 20 volt max cordless grease gun and a 20 volt max cordless/corded wet-dry vacuum. In the milk house, the male discovered that his titanium stick 225 inverter welder with electrode holder was missing, along with a welding helmet.

The male stated his son informed him that the door was open to the house. The male stated he went inside and discovered a bear rug that was in the living room was missing. The male sated he went upstairs and observed the two broken windows that he had seen from outside. The male stated that, just past those windows, there was damage to the drywall that appeared to have been caused by someone either punching or kicking the drywall.

The male stated he had been out on the property doing some farm work on August 25, 2022. The male stated he left the property around noon and then returned during the day on August 26, 2022, which is when he noticed the place had been broken into.

A sergeant, with the Barron County Sheriff's Department, reports on August 30, 2022, at approximately 3:00 am, he was on duty when he was advised by dispatch and a sergeant with the City of Rice Lake Police Department, that a female had contacted law enforcement indicating that she believed there were items stolen from her residence in Rice Lake. The female stated that her ex-boyfriend had made previous statements to her, that his friend, Bernstein, stole property from someone's house. The female further stated there was a bear rug at her residence which she believed was stolen after seeing a Facebook post about someone missing a bear rug.

The sergeant reports he contacted the sergeant with the Rice Lake Police Department, who advised that he had spoken with the female and viewed the items she suspected were stolen. The sergeant reports all of the suspected stolen items were located in the back of the female's car, which was parked at the residence.

The sergeant reports he spoke with the female, after going through all the items, and she stated that Bernstein had been staying with her ex-boyfriend and her for the previous four days. The female stated that the items started showing up at her residence. The ex-boyfriend told her the items were being brought there from a storage unit owned by Bernstein. The female stated that, at some point, her ex-boyfriend told her that and Bernstein broke into a dead guy's house the previous Sunday, August 28, 2022. On that same occasion, the female stated she noticed her car had been damaged.

On August 30, 2022, at approximately 10:30 pm, a detective with the Barron County Sheriff's Department, along with one of the sergeants drove to a residence in Birchwood where the ex-boyfriend was staying. He agreed to speak with the detective and sergeant.

The male stated that was with Bernstein who was driving the female's car when they pulled in the driveway of the property. The male stated Bernstein parked the vehicle by a hay elevator and stated that, as they approached the house, Bernstein removed a Glock 40 caliber handgun from his waistband and held in the air, and then kicked in the door to the house. The male stated that he and Bernstein, along with another male present entered the house.

Once inside, the male stated Bernstein began walking around and picking stuff up and putting them in different totes around the house and yelling at him and the other male to help carry stuff out. The male stated he carried out a tote, as well as a bear rug and sports cards and various other items, including a TV.

The male stated that after they had carried the items outside, Bernstein began punching and kicking holes in the wall. The male stated Bernstein shot the Glock handgun at some of the windows in the house. The male stated that he and Bernstein took many of the items to a pawn shop in Eau Claire. The male stated Bernstein gave him $220 of the money they received from selling the items.

The male stated that they pawned an AR15 style gun that was stolen from a building in the City of Rice Lake that is occupied by a motorcycle club. The male stated Bernstein said he had stolen the Glock 40 Caliber pistol from someone in Chippewa County.

The male stated that a couple of days earlier, he and Bernstein were driving around and were talking about a Honda Shadow motorcycle. The male stated Bernstein told him his mother had a Honda Shadow and wanted to take the male there to see it. The male stated Bernstein was again driving the female's car and they driver to Bernstein's mother's house. The male stated that the motorcycle was not there. The male stated Bernstein told him he needed to pick up some of his items while he was at the house. The male stated Bernstein went into a garage and took two chainsaws and a large table saw, which is consistent with the miter saw that the female reported was stolen from her garage.

The male stated that, when they left the residence, they stopped at a stop sign at the intersection of 13th Avenue and 23rd Street. The male stated Bernstein pulled out the pistol, got out of the car, ans shot at the stop sign three or four times, got back in the car and they drove to the pawn shop in Eau Claire.

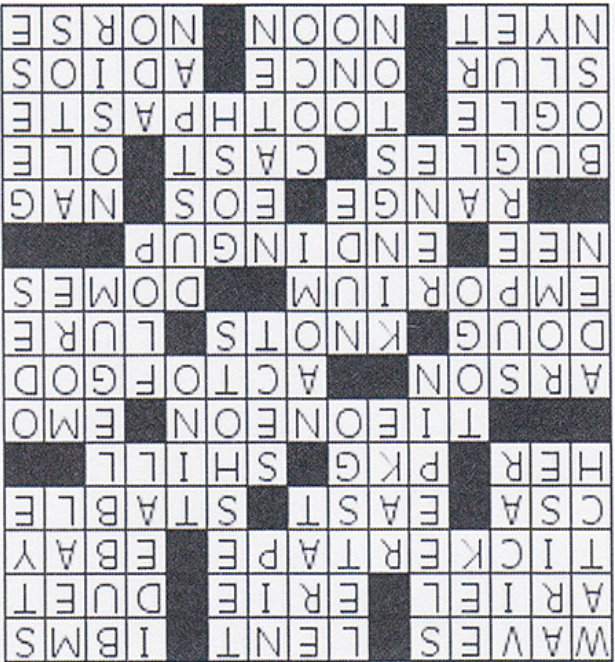

The male stated that he and Bernstein were driving around again, in the female's vehicle when he let Bernstein off at a driveway. The male stated Bernstein walked up the driveway and pushed a dirt bike down the driveway to the road. The male stated the dirt bike would not start so Bernstein got on the dirt bike and held onto the driver's side door while the male was driving down the road. The male stated Bernstein was trying to pop the clutch to start the motorcycle but when it would not start, Bernstein got made and pushed the dirt bike into the ditch.

The male also stated that Bernstein told him an Amish family were going to buy his mom's boyfriend's farm, and had $2 million in a briefcase.

The male stated that Bernstein told him he was going to knock on the door of the Amish house where they had parked near, and when someone answered, Bernstein was going to shoot them in the head, go in the house and look for the money;. The male stated he told Bernstein he was not going to be part of killing anyone. The male stated Bernstein then pointed the gun at him, and told him that was going to help. The male stated he again told Bernstein he was not going to be part of a murder. The male stated Bernstein became upset and pointed the gun at him again, and told the male that if he tried to leave he would kill him.

The male stated Bernstein took the car keys out of the ignition and walked towards the Amish house. The male stated Bernstein was gone for approximately 15 minutes and then came back to the car. Bernstein told the male that no one would answer the door.

If convicted for two counts of misdemeanor theft, Bernstein may be fined not more than $10,000 for each count or imprisoned not more than nine months or both. For attempt criminal damage to property, he may be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than four and a half months or both. For burglary of a building or dwelling, he may be fined not more than $25,000 or imprisoned not more than 12 years and six months or both. For criminal damage to property, he may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than nine months or both. His adjourned initial appearance is scheduled for September 21, 2022.

Last Minute Teal Hunt!

Hello friends,
I was supposed to be on a very simple goose hunt near Burnett for this week’s trip but that changed when my hunting partner told me that there were not any geese coming into the fields that he had permission to hunt. In a matter of hours my plan went from a simple field hunt and staying at his house to loading up my 18.6 War Eagle with decoys, my canoe, sleeping bags, guns and other gear and heading to Ferryville on the Mississippi River to spend two nights living out of my boat.

Wednesday, August 31st
High 81, low 53

So, it’s Ruby, her pup Red and myself. We are going to live and hunt in my boat and explore by canoe. The teal season as well as Early Goose season opens in the morning, and I am running out of daylight as I explore. The water is very low on the Mississippi backwaters and the vegetation is numerous which should mean I can hide the boat and whack some birds the next morning.

My first surprise came when I jumped out of my boat into chest deep water and my waders told me that they have several leaks. I got back in the boat after hiding the War Eagle in some wild rice, opened a can of beer and watched the skies. I saw three flocks of teal, numerous woodies, and not a goose. Towards dark I heated up some chili, put my cot together, and tried listening to my radio, but the batteries were dead, I have to mention that the charger for my phone went to heaven as well so this would be 48-hours of nonintervention from the outside world.

After supper I became very comfortable in my sleeping bag with two golden fur balls laying besides and I watched the sky. By midnight the dew was so heavy that it had soaked through my sleeping bag, I got up, put a tarp over it and kind of slept until 4:00.

Thursday, September 1st
High 84, low 55

I had trash bags that I put in my chest waders, that helped. They only went to my thighs, so I still got wet. This morning I had a flock of teal offer some very easy shots as they flew by, I missed and Ruby was not happy with me. Red on the other hand was fine with watching the sky and about every half hour doing a quick run and dive off the boat into the water. An hour after legal shooting began every bird in the area vanished and so I went exploring by canoe. I was confident the late day hunt would be good, and I really had no cares as I was on the water, my housing was free and I did not have to go home for another day.

Another kind of conundrum was that the sun was a bit of a scorcher and when I tried taking a siesta it was simply too hot. With three hours of daylight left I was super excited for the massive teal and goose flight that was about to begin. I did not care that I was burnt to a crisp, had no radio or phone had not harvested a bird and that my waders leaked quite profusely. Fifty-one years ago my dad the late Robert Walters took me hunting to Ferryville for the first time and I honestly was living down memory lane.

At dark I got in my sleeping bag with two bundles of gold wrestling to see who could put their face next to mine and I watched the sky. Late in the night it started raining, I packed my bag, put on my rain gear and waited for it to get light out where I planned on limiting out on teal and geese. Daylight came, a teal snuck in and landed in my decoys. Ruby kept looking at me and in dog talk was saying, shoot the bird fool! The teal sprung into the air, I took three shots at the flying bird, I missed and then just like the day before the sky was empty.

I packed up, made the journey back to the landing, ran my bear baits before I got home, just like the way I started this trip and thus another “epic” journey came to an end!

Cumberland Golf Team Opens WIAA Tournament Next Week

The Cumberland Beavers Girl’s Golf Season is moving towards a finish with the WIAA Regional scheduled for Wednesday, September 28, at Krooked Creek in Osceola. This will come following this Tuesday’s Conference Tournament which was held in Hayward.

Last week, the team picked up a nice 284-226 victory over Barron. Brook Colburn shot a 50 to be the day’s medalist, while Brigitta Maas shot a 57 and Lexi Peterson a 58. This put the team in 7th place going into the Conference Tournament, only a few points from 4th place. Spooner currently leads the Conference and is undefeated in Conference play.

Individually, Michelle Wallin of Ladysmith leads the HON in scoring, while Cumberland’s Brigitta Maas is 15th and Brook Colburn 19th.

The Rails will be the favorites at the WIAA Regional with qualifying teams and individuals moving on to the Northwestern Sectional on October 3.

Cumberland Soccer Team Defeats Washburn/Bayfield

The Cumberland Soccer Team was busy last week, defeating Washburn/Bayfield 1-0 and dropping a 2-0 decision to an experienced Ashland Oredocker team on Thursday. This week, the Beavers played at Barron on Tuesday and then have a home contest at 5:30 pm on Thursday against Arcadia. Next Tuesday, September 27, the team is back in action with a Parent’s Night contest in Endeavor Stadium against the Hayward Hurricanes. Game time is also at 5:30 pm.

The win over Washburn/Bayfield was a good defensive battle. “Our kids really battled defensively and we had great goaltending from Sophomore Riley Brown,” said Coaches Brent Sellent and David Stone. Alex Effertz scored the Beavers lone goal on a free kick, which bounced off a Castle Guard defender and past their goalie.

The young Cumberland team also played well against Ashland, a team made up of eight seniors. Brown had another nice night in goal to keep Cumberland close on the scoreboard.

Cumberland Alumni Continue College Success

Several former Cumberland athletes continued to find success on their college sports teams last weekend.

At Northern Michigan, Ania Hyatt and her teammates are 10 and 2 in volleyball. Hyatt has contributed 44 kills to the Wildcats team as a red shirt sophomore.

The UW-Eau Claire Football team had a bye last week and is 1 and 1 in early action. Defensive Back/linebacker Sam Schradle is among the teams leading tacklers, racking up 10 in their loss to Central Iowa two weeks ago.

Senior Payton Rose had another big day last week in the Lindenwood Lions 37-3 victory over Keiser College out of Ft. Lauderdale, Florida. He grabbed seven passes for 180 yards and a touchdown as he closes out a tremendous career this fall.

Someone just starting his career is Jack Martens, a redshirt freshman at the University of South Dakota.

He had a big day last Saturday, grabbing two passes for 79 yards and his first college touchdown in the Coyotes 38-21 win over the Cal Poly Mustangs.

Finally, Kobe Berghammer continued his outstanding career at UW-Oshkosh as he led the 2 and 1 Titans to a 41-8 victory over Mississippi last Saturday by running for three touchdowns and passing for two more. Berghammer completed 17 of 26 passes in the victory.

Sports Look Back, September 25, 2002

The Beavers used a total team effort and the backing of a large homecoming crowd to beat the favored Northwestern Tigers 14-7 in a game played last Friday on Moser Field.

With the win, the Beavers now have a 1-3 record and will take on arch rival Barron this Friday.

The Beaver defense dominated the Tigers as they held Northwestern to 163 total yards. Northwestern could only rush for 143 yards in the game and completed only two six pass attempts.

The only Tiger scoring threat in the first half was stopped by a Matt Rosin interception. Their lone score came late in the fourth quarter.

The Beavers received an impressive performance by Rosin on offense. The junior scored both Cumberland touchdowns and rushed for 130 yards in 25 attempts. His rushing keyed the Beaver ground game that rolled up 206 total yards. Part of Rosins’s success could be traced to the hard inside running of fullback Phil Capuzzi. Capuzzi drew a crowd of Northwestern defenders thus opening the outside game for Rosin. Capuzzi still managed 46 yards on 14 carries.

Cumberland scored once in each of the first two quarters to lead 14-0 at half. Patrick Cifaldi added both conversion kicks.

After Northwestern scored in the fourth quarter, they mounted one more drive. This one was stopped with a fumble recovery. The Beavers then marched down the field, draining the clock.

Credit must go to the line which opened holes for the ball carriers. Returning starters Adam Jansen and Eric Wiita led the effort with plenty of help from Kevin Lundquist, Matt Haller and Taylor Broten.

Punter Kyle Tempesta also played a key roll as he pinned the Tigers deep in their own end most of the game.

Kevin Miller and Capuzzi keyed the defense from their linebacker spots. Ryan Wiitek, Jake Burke and Rosin were other players who stood out.

Sadie Horton on the tee vs Barron. The girls picked up a nice win on their home course.

Brigitta Maas lines up a putt in the girls win over Barron last week at the Cumberland Golf Course.

Community Connection Conference

The Community Connections to Prosperity Coalition seeks to empower every one of our neighbors in Barron County with skills, resources, and personal connections so that we may all enjoy lives free of poverty. Our goal is to bring organizations, businesses, and community members together to focus on helping those in poverty rise above it.

On October 25, 2022, the coalition will be hosting a first-of-its-kind conference in Northern Wisconsin. This action-focused conference will feature programs that have proven to be successful and teach skills on how to best advocate for issues in local communities. Attendees will hear from other communities that have implemented innovative programs and projects to create meaningful change and walk away with skills and ideas on how to put their ideas into action and make a difference in their own community.

“We are excited to use this platform to present innovative ideas that can be shared between communities and create actionable items, said Coalition Chair Lori Zahrbock. “We want to bring people together, inspire them and teach them how to break down silos and get to work in their communities.”

The conference will be held on October 25th at Northwood Technical College Conference Center in Rice Lake, Wisconsin. For more information on the event and to register, visit, <https://www.eventbrite.com/e/community-connections-conference-tickets-403150693577>

Color Fest is here!! Mike Forster sent an e-mail about all the great things that will be happening this weekend. It all starts this Friday, September 23rd, with a delicious spaghetti dinner, kids’ cake walks, meat raffles and hayride. On Saturday there will be some craft booths, softball, Dairyland garden tractor pull, pie and ice cream social and kids’ activities.

Sunday morning Barronett Lutheran’s worship service will be held at the community center at 9:00 a.m., followed by fellowship hour with homemade cinnamon rolls. The softball tournament will continue, there will be more kids’ fun, a baking contest, wine and cheese tasting and live music by Bare Minimum.

Members of the civic club will be serving Sunday dinner again this year, which will be woodfire grilled chicken, along with homemade smoked mac and cheese –or, if you aren’t into that, you can just opt for mashed taters and gravy. There are lots of things going on – too much to list all the details – but you will want to come to Barronett and check it out.

Be sure to buy raffle tickets!! Our donors are the most generous people, and we appreciate all the businesses that have given us so much. Check out the flyers that are posted all around the area for specific times and activities. Barronett Civic Club will be posting pictures on Facebook of all the fun, so be sure to check it out. We hope to see you there.

information.

Judy Norton called and said that Betty Rich and (hopefully) her brother, Bucky, who are Katy Wallace’s grandchildren, will be in the area this weekend for Color Fest and they would like to stop by Grandma Katy’s old house to see what has been done inside. We are not quite finished fixing it, it seems as though we never will be, but we told Judy that we would be happy to have them stop by. We hope they can tell us some stories about the fun they had visiting with Katy.

You know, of course, that Duane and I enjoy going to small town festivals. Well – this past weekend we traveled to Monroe for their Cheese Days. What fun!! The parade is, we think, the best small-town parade we have ever seen. They start out with brown Swiss cows led by people dressed in traditional Swiss costumes. The cows are decked out with brass cowbells and most of them have flowered wreaths on their heads or around their necks. There were workhorses pulling floats, people leading goats, stilt walkers, tumblers, lots of high school bands, it went on and on. Cheese Days in Monroe are only celebrated every two years, so if you decide that you would like to go, remember, it will not be held again until the third weekend of September 2024. It’s well worth the trip.

Alyse and Tru Lehmann were in our area this past weekend helping Suzy and Ryan get everything clean and organized at Sal’s on 63. Suzy said that it will still be a couple weeks before they open, but that everything is starting to come together. She said that she and Ryan really appreciated all the work that Tru and Alyse did over the weekend.

Wrigley Marsh called me on Friday evening to ask for some pumpkin bar recipes. He won a baking contest that he and I had a couple years ago during a pumpkin carving party, and now he wants a re-match – that he thinks that he will win. Ha!! Alyse and Tru have decided that they are going to enter too, and, hopefully, a few more of the great-grandchildren will join in. I think we will have the judging up at the treehouse where we can sit around a bonfire, relax, and eat as many pumpkin bars as we can hold.

Duane and I watched Queen Elizabeth’s funeral on TV Monday morning. Whether or not you are a fan of the royal family, that was very impressive. It’s hard to imagine a more beautiful setting than Westminster Abby.

How in the world did they erect buildings like that hundreds of years ago? We would like to travel to England and tour all the old churches, watch the changing of the guard, see the old bridges and visit the small towns. Maybe someday.

I guess that’s about all I know from Barronett this week. I hope you will join us at the Color Fest this weekend. Remember, the women of Barronett Lutheran will be serving homemade pies and ice cream all day Saturday. See you there.

“Faith, Hope and Love”
by Deacon Steve Linton
St. Anthony Catholic Church

In the Gospel of Matthew, we hear Jesus say to his disciples: “Do not store up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moth and decay destroy, and thieves break in and steal. But store up treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor decay destroys, nor thieves break in and steal. For where your treasure is, there also will be your heart.” What does Jesus mean when he says to “store up treasures in heaven?” How is that done? It’s very easy for us to visualize storing up treasures on earth. We live this out almost daily in this selfish me first mentality that has gripped our nation. I could sit down and write a list two pages long of things that I would like to have here on earth that I don’t have now, if I only had the money to purchase them. But what can I do here on earth to store up treasure in heaven? I believe we store up treasure in heaven by living the very example of faith, hope and love that Jesus demonstrated for us during His time here on earth. We store up treasure in heaven through our personal relationships with one another. We do it by living, in our own lives, the example of love and compassion that Jesus demonstrated for us and taught us. We show genuine care for others and respect for their lives. We don’t judge, ridicule or put down. This is not to say that we can’t, or shouldn’t, acknowledge sin where sin exists. This we must do. But we must begin first by acknowledging our own weakness, our own sin. My prayer for all of us is that we work to build right relationships with everyone we encounter. That peace, love and compassion become the cornerstones of all our relationships. That we live our lives as an example of Christ’s love, compassion and forgiveness. That we always keep in mind those less fortunate, that we care for the poor, the widows and the orphans as Christ commanded us. That we reach out to the marginalized and those who need help. That we put others before ourselves. That we offer forgiveness to all who have harmed us, and that others find the strength and courage to forgive us. Let us acknowledge first our own sin, rather than focusing on the sins of others, and seek reconciliation with God the Father. May the Peace and Love of Christ be with you always!

Follow Baiting And Feeding Bans; Properly Dispose Of Carcasses

The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR) is asking deer hunters and the public to help prevent the spread of chronic wasting disease (CWD) by following baiting and feeding bans and by properly disposing of deer carcass waste this hunting season.

Placing bait to hunt deer or feeding deer for viewing is banned by state law in certain counties due to the presence of CWD. In counties where CWD has not been found, hunters and other wildlife enthusiasts can still choose not to bait or feed deer and help reduce the risk of CWD transmission. You can easily check county baiting and feeding bans on the DNR website.

Bait is any material that is placed or used to attract wild animals for hunting purposes, including scent materials, salt, minerals and grains. Feed is any material used to feed or attract wild animals for non-hunting purposes, including recreational and supplemental feeding, except as allowed for birds and small mammals. Bait and feed placed on the landscape, even in limited quantities, often attracts unnatural numbers of deer.

Counties fall under a three-year baiting and feeding ban when wild or farm-raised deer have tested positive for CWD in the county. If the CWD-positive deer is found within 10 miles of a county line, the adjoining county will fall under a two-year ban. If additional CWD cases are found during the lifetime of a baiting and feeding ban, the ban will reset for an additional two or three years.

In counties where baiting and feeding is allowed, the following precautions should be taken when feeding birds and small mammals:

Feeding devices and structures are at a sufficient height or design to prevent access by deer.

Make sure feeding structures and devices are no further than 50 yards from a dwelling devoted to human occupancy.

If deer, bear or elk are using bird feeding devices or structures, the devices or structures shall be enclosed or elevated higher to prevent access.

More information on Wisconsin's deer baiting and wildlife feeding regulations is available here.

Deer Carcass Disposal

With a successful harvest comes deer carcass waste. Proper carcass disposal helps slow the spread of CWD by removing potentially infected deer carcasses from the landscape. To properly dispose of deer carcass waste, locate a designated dumpster, transfer station or landfill location accepting deer carcass waste near you on the DNR website.

The department does not recommend transporting whole deer carcasses to areas outside the county or adjacent county where the animal was harvested.

Chronic Wasting Disease (CWD)

CWD is a fatal disease that affects the nervous system of deer, elk, moose and caribou. Transmission occurs when disease prions are shed by infected animals through saliva, urine, feces and natural decomposition after death. The CWD infectious agent, or prion, is extremely resistant to decay in the environment. Because of this, baiting, feeding and improper carcass disposal increase the risk of transmission.

While there has not been a documented case of CWD in humans, the Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS), the Centers for Disease Control and World Health Organization recommend against consuming meat from CWD-infected deer. Infected deer can look healthy; however, DHS encourages testing for the disease regardless of your harvested deer's physical condition. The DHS also recommends the public only consume venison from deer where the test results indicate CWD was not detected.
