

Teen Driver Arrested After Rollover Crash; Three Injured and One Deceased

On Monday October 10, 2022 at 7pm the Barron County 911 center received a call of a one vehicle rollover on 16 ½ Ave near 19 ¾ St, just north of Cameron.

Deputies from the Barron County Sheriff's Department along with the Cameron Fire Department, LMC Ambulance, Cameron Police Department, Mayo Ambulance, WI State Patrol and 2 Life Link Helicopters responded to the scene.

Initial investigation shows a vehicle occupied by a 16 year old male was travelling west on 16 ½ Ave at a high rate of speed and lost control causing the vehicle to roll several times. In the vehicle were 3 juvenile female ages 15, 14 and 14. Two females were flown to Regions Hospital in St Paul and are in critical condition. The third female was transported to LMC and later flown out to a Marshfield Hospital with serious injuries.

The male driver was treated at the scene for minor injuries. As a result of the initial investigation the 16 year old was taken into custody on charges of operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of a controlled substance causing injury and is currently being held in the Eau Claire Secure Detention Facility. This case is being sent to the Barron County District Attorney's Office for review.

This crash remains under investigation by the Barron County Sheriff's Department and is being reconstructed by the WI State Patrol.

Our thoughts and prayers are with all the families involved.

At 7:30 a.m. the Barron County Sheriff's Department was advised by the Ramsey County Medical Examiner's Office that one of the 14 year old females involved in the crash from last night has passed away.

Again our thoughts and prayers are with the families and friends of those affected from last night.

City Council Has Busy Night; Passes Unlimited Liquor and Fermented Malt Beverage Licenses

by Mark R. Fuller

The Cumberland City Council held their monthly meeting at City Hall on Tuesday, October 4 at 7:00 pm and following the Pledge of Allegiance, approval of the agenda and September minutes, and the approval of expenses, the business of the city began.

First on the agenda was an update from Barron County Economic Development Executive Director Dave Armstrong on the current status of the county. Among observations given by Armstrong was the lack of child care in the area, while adding he hopes businesses may look at providing daycare in the future for their employees. He also discussed the need for more tourism events in the winter time bringing more money and people into the county.

Finally, he recognized the cities work in bringing more housing to the area and emphasized the strengths of the city like low crime and good schools. He added the challenge was to continue to get the message out, "Why Cumberland?" to bring more people into the city.

The Council and Mayor Dan Shoemaker then approved payment application #5 on the Hospital Utility Extension Project to DeSantis Excavating & Underground Utility. The payment provided for work completed and stored materials located on site plus retainage.

This was followed by approval of payment on a $50,000 invoice to Wisconsin Environmental Restorations for Wetland credit on the TID 9 project. Now concluded, this will allow permits for construction on further sites on the Carlone site.

The council then turned their attention towards Ordinance #754 in regards to a review and discussion of Temporary Buildings, Structures, and Storage Containers found within the city. Definitions of the so named were given and the Cumberland Municipal Code relating to the topic was reaffirmed. The Ordinance was unanimously passes limiting their use within the city.

Discussion then resumed on Agenda item #12, recommendations from the Finance and Licensing Committee to approve Ordinance #755 amending the Municipal Code for Intoxicating Liquor and Fermented Malt Beverage Licenses from two to unlimited.

The Committee called the decision very difficult to make and the consequences, "Not taken lightly." They emphasized their understanding on the affect the ordinance would have on the two businesses previously holding the two licenses, but added, "After seeking input from the police department and citizens

The United Fund of Cumberland kicks-off its annual Fundraising Drive

Inserted in this week's paper is a flyer reminding us all that the United Fund of Cumberland is kicking off their annual fundraising effort.

The United Fund of Cumberland is unique to our community. It is not (and never has been) affiliated with the better known national organization the United Way. Though their concepts are similar, donations made are put in a general fund and then distributed to other causes and organizations, the differences are what truly sets them apart and makes the United Fund of Cumberland so special.

The money you donate to the United Fund stays in our community. The Fund supports causes from all tiers of society. The young and old, sports and arts, health and wellness, educational groups and the fire district are all represented in the list of recipients.

By donating to the United Fund of Cumberland, you can help meet needs left unfilled by other organizations shortfalls. Donations made to the Fund will go out to individuals and organizations here in Cumberland.

Over the past few years, the United Fund of Cumberland has been blessed to receive a large donation from an unknown donor. The group decided that these

On October 9, 2022, at 6:02 p.m., the Barron County Dispatch Center received a 911 call reporting a UTV crash that had occurred in the Village of Prairie Farm and the UTV operator was attempting to load an unconscious male back into a UTV but was stopped by citizens at the scene.

Deputies from the Barron County Sheriff's department, along with the Dallas Ambulance, Mayo Barron Ambulance, Clear Lake Ambulance, Prairie Farm Fire Department, Life Link

III Helicopter and the Wisconsin DNR responded to the scene.

The involved UTV was spotted near the crash scene by responding deputies and a short pursuit ensued at a nearby residence.

The UTV operator was identified as Daniel Anson, 35, of Prairie Farm, and was initially taken into custody but was eventually flown by air ambulance to Mayo Hospital in Eau Claire for non-life threatening injuries sustained in the crash.

The other male involved was identified as Gerry Beach, 61, of Prairie Farm. He was transported to Barron Hospital where he was eventually flown by air ambulance to Regions Hospital in St. Paul, MN., for unknown injuries sustained in the crash.

Alcohol is a contributing factor to this crash and remains under investigation by the Barron County Sheriff's Department.

Ellen Clare Sendelbach

As I sat with a cup of coffee at Roots last week, listening to Ellen Clare Sendelbach tell her story of getting involved with Cumberland, I understood it immediately because, as they say, I've been there, done that.

Sendelbach, like me, found a lake place here and, before she knew it, was jumping into one initiative after another. However, my involvement with the arts and music in The Island City can't hold a candle to what this energetic woman has done since she and her husband bought a place on Spring Lake six years ago.

Consider: She's taken over the presidency of 50 People (& more) Who Care, an organization that has given about $100,000 in grants to local businesses since it started a couple years ago.

Even though she doesn't own a business downtown, or anywhere else, she started the Main Street Collaborative, a loose federation of downtown businesses that puts on events, such as "Moonlight Madness," to promote our central business district along with the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce.

When someone suggested Cumberland should have a "car cruise," a parade of classic cars along Second Avenue, ending up in the parking lot on Library Lake, where folks can get an up-close look at the vehicles, she organized not one, but three of those.

When she inquired about the Baga Bunny event and the Miss Cumberland pageant, she learned both initiatives could use additional funds. So she started the Royal Rutabaga Ball, which was held at Das Lach Haus as a fundraiser for those programs.

And now she's working with Louie Muench on a fund-raiser for Scoutland, one of the favorite causes of our famous meat-market owner.

With her name popping up every week, it seems, in connection with something, I wanted to find out, well, who is this woman? And why does she do so many things? And does she ever sleep?

I found out she grew up in Waumandee, Wisc., a town in southwestern Wisconsin about the size of Cumberland. She's worked as an executive secretary in Lacrosse and as a flight attendant for Northwest Airlines. Her husband, Mark, spent his career with Trane Co. in LaCrosse, and they still have a home in Onalaska, just north of LaCrosse.

But since they found a home on Spring Lake in 2016 while visiting relatives, Cumberland is where Ellen wants to be. And since Mark retired not too long ago, it's where the two of them spend most of their time.

"We go down to check on the house, mow the lawn and retrieve things," she said of the Onalaska place. She said they'll probably sell it in a year or two.

She loves Cumberland because it's a lot like Waumandee, where she was raised on a farm, going to school in nearby Arcadia.

"I love Cumberland because it's exactly what I came from," she said. "The terrain, the farms around, the size. We moved to a lake, and we have the kind of small community my husband and I are from. The people are great. It's all the beauty. It's all the same vibes I grew up with."

And she's got the energy for getting things done.

When she heard about 50 Who Care, she joined, and when E. Dennis Zahrbrock, who founded the group, wanted someone to succeed him as president, he asked Sendelbach, and she said yes. When a couple of downtown merchants said they wanted to do a few special events, she formed the collaborative. And when local resident and car lover John Ostrem suggested a car cruise, she got it done.

Ann and I were sitting outside Roots the other day when a fellow stopped by and thanked me for what I've done since moving here two years before Ellen did.

"I'm glad you fell in love with Cumberland," he said. Then he said that he used to be more involved, but people get burned out.

Sendelbach said she understands that.

"I'm a very curious person and a quick learner," she said. "I've collected a lot of information over the years. I'm just sharing my knowledge with people. We all know a lot of people get tapped out. If you get fresh blood in town why not let them jump in and get things going?"

Makes sense. But I have a hard time imagining the woman from Waumandee getting burned out.

The Cumberland City Council passed a controversial ordinance last Tuesday night, allowing for unlimited liquor licenses. This has been a hot button topic in the past and has once again angered some in the community. It seems after talking to a couple of business owners, a lack of empathy and communication was expressed. A couple businesses are obviously happy with the decision. The Council has a tough job to do and difficult decisions to make. We will see how it goes moving forward.

I got a chance to sneak up to Lake Vermillion in Minnesota this past week. The fishing, as always, was good and the scenery was fantastic with the fall colors. With the price of gas, there really are many options in this part of the country for a quick get-a-away that won’t break the bank.

in the community, we don’t feel we have enough evidence or concern to justify limiting licenses. We have been working tirelessly to increase housing and new business in Cumberland and we believe it cannot be done if we’re limiting or discouraging new business into town.”

The committee concluded saying, “We base our recommendations on what we feel is best for Cumberland as a whole.” The Council then passed Ordinance #755 amending the Municipal Code and allowing unlimited Class A licenses for off sale fermented malt beverages and intoxicating liquors.

Also approved was a recommendation from the Finance Committee to approve a Resolution for Inclusion Under Wisconsin Public Employers’ Group Health Insurance Program for eligible employees. The Council approved the switch to the Wisconsin State Plan, a deductible HMO-Standard PPO/Dental.

Following approval of current license applications and committee reports, the meeting was adjourned.

Inside Wisconsin

by Tom Still

“Manufacturing survey reveals how companies are confronting latest challenges”

MADISON, Wis. -- Most Wisconsin manufacturers, large and small, did their best to manage COVID-19 and its aftermath. As the pandemic eased, they were confronted with supply chain woes, worker shortages, inflation and rising interest rates. If any group deserves to be dispirited and a bit worn down, it’s them.

Instead, a survey of 400 Wisconsin manufacturers shows most (86%) are generally optimistic about the financial outlooks of their own companies, even if they harbor doubts about the overall condition of the U.S. and Wisconsin economies.

The second annual “Wisconsin Manufacturers Survey” from the Wisconsin Center for Manufacturing & Productivity also revealed some clear differences in how companies with 50 or more employees are managing current threats than manufacturers with fewer workers.

For some of those smaller companies, how they approach workforce challenges, dealing with inflation and managing energy costs may be key to continued profitability.

About three-quarters of the late-summer respondents to the survey were C-level executives from “small” manufacturers, defined as 50 or fewer workers, and the rest were leaders from manufacturers of all sizes above 50 employees. Because the larger firms are having more trouble than smaller companies in finding workers, they’re turning to technology and automation.

That change is occurring in a big way, according to Buckley Brinkman, WCMP’s director and chief executive officer.

“Large manufacturers are having a harder time finding workers than smaller companies and are going all in on automation to make up the shortfall,” Brinkman said. “That automation is also reducing their costs, improving their quality, and making their operations more resilient. It’s altering the manufacturing landscape because companies able to automate are bringing subcontracted parts back in-house, which puts smaller manufacturers at risk.”

Maybe that partially explains why smaller companies (in this case, defined as revenue between $1 million and $5 million per year) were 18 percentage points less likely to expect an increase in 2022 compared to last year. For companies above $5 million in revenue, the “expectation drop” was only 6 percentage points from 2021.

Even though smaller manufacturers in the survey reported somewhat more success in finding workers, they likely can’t keep up with the much-larger “Joneses” forever.

“Small- and medium-sized manufacturers need to engage in an ‘all the above’ strategy to retain employees,” Brinkman said. “We see too many companies fight a losing battle by trying to compete on wage rates alone with Wisconsin’s larger companies.”

Some good news in the survey: Supply-chain problems fell back a few notches from 2021 on the list of concerns among manufacturers, although it’s far from back to normal. Fewer manufacturers were also deeply concerned about the cost of providing health-care coverage for their employees.

Not-so-good news: Along with general inflation, specific worries about energy costs shot up. In 2021, a combined 47% of respondents ranked energy costs high on their list of concern. In 2022, it rose to 67% ... and that was well before this week’s announcements about oil production cutbacks in Saudi Arabia and Russia.

So, what happens if the economy slips into recession, as some economists have forecast and traditional public market indexes already show?

“In all the data we gathered, we consistently find a group of about 20 percent of our manufacturers under severe stress,” Brinkman said. “If these manufacturers are struggling during a strong market, they will be at serious risk in a weaker market.”

That’s not to say all 400 manufacturers surveyed by WCMP think a recession is already underway. About 20% said the economy is still growing, 22% slowing down, 28% mostly flat and 28% in recession, with 2% not sure.

Perhaps that explains the imbedded optimism in Wisconsin’s manufacturing corps. As survey manager Rob Autry told a Brookfield group about the results: “Maybe the state’s business direction is not as solid as it was a year ago... but manufacturers are certainly just as confident about the future of their own firms as they were a year ago.”

Let’s see how the rest of 2022’s fourth quarter plays out.

Still is president of the Wisconsin Technology Council. He can be reached at tstill@wisconsintechnologycouncil.com.

Adam M. Swartz, 35, of Rice Lake, has been charged with battery to law enforcement officer, resisting an officer, and three counts of violating the condition of bond in Barron County which states the defendant shall not commit any crime.

A deputy, with the Barron County Sheriff's Department, reports on September 26, 2022, at approximately 2:57 pm, he was on duty when he received information that the defendant, Swartz, was potentially at the address of 118 East Euclid Avenue in Barron. The deputy reports he recognized the address as Swartz's Grandmother. The deputy reports he conducted an open records check on Swartz and observed he had three felony warrants out of Barron County and one outstanding felony warrant out of Chippewa County.

The deputy reports that he, another officer with the Barron Police Department, and a sergeant with the Barron County Sheriff's Department, responded to the address. Upon arrival, the officer reports he observed a male subject, who was later identified as Swartz, walk out of the garage. The officer reports that, when Swartz saw him, he turned around and ran back into the garage. As the officer approached the service door of the garage, somebody shut the door.

The officer reports he stood by the door and could hear a male voice talking inside the garage. The officer reports he requested the deputy to knock on the house door to see if the grandmother was home and would open the garage door.

The deputy reports he made contact with the grandmother. The deputy reports he asked the grandmother for permission to go into the garage. The grandmother consented for officers to enter the garage. The grandmother attempted to open the garage door, but it was locked. The deputy reports he could hear two people talking inside the garage. The grandmother requested whoever was inside the garage to unlock the door, which they did. The grandmother opened the door and then entered the garage. The officers followed.

Upon entry into the garage, the deputy reports they were met inside the doorway by a female who was identified as Hamm. The deputy reports that Hamm informed him that it was her who ran into the garage, and that she was in the garage alone. The deputy reports he told Hamm that was a male subject who ran into the garage. Hamm then stated she was sleeping and didn't see anybody come into the garage.

The deputy reports Hamm turned to the grandmother and asked if officers had permission to be in the garage. The grandmother nodded in the affirmative to Hamm.

The deputy reports he began searching the garage looking for Swartz. The deputy opened up a closed off portion of the garage with a door on it. The deputy reports he removed a pile of blankets that he observed on the floor. When the deputy removed the blankets, he observed Swartz curled up laying on the floor.

The deputy reports he ordered Swartz to put his hands behind his back. Swartz failed to comply. The deputy reports he grabbed Swartz's left arm. As the deputy pulled Swartz's left arm up, he reports he directed Swartz to show his hands. The deputy reports Swartz moved his right hand sliding it under the bed as if he was reaching for something.

The deputy reports that, out of a concern for his safety, he informed Swartz that he was going to get tased, at which point Swartz stood up and attempted to break free from the deputy's grasp. Swartz then proceeded to resist arrest.

The deputy reports he deployed his taser to no effect. The deputy reports he deployed an additional cycle of the taser as Swartz stood up. The deputy reports that, as Swartz was getting to his feet, he grabbed a bicycle frame and swung it at the deputy. The bicycle frame struck the deputy in the arm, causing the skin on the deputy's left arm to break open and begin bleeding. The deputy reports he continued to try and gain control of Swartz, who continued to fight and attempt to flee from the deputy. Swartz broke free of the deputy's grip. The deputy reports he deployed an additional cycle from his taser to no effect.

The officer reports he was able to grab Swartz's arm until the deputy was able to get a better hold of Swartz's body and get Swartz to the ground just outside the garage. The deputy reports he was able to catch up to Swartz. The deputy reports he grabbed Swartz underneath both arms. The deputy reports he picked Swartz up out of the doorway and took him to the ground, landing on top of Swartz. The deputy reports Swartz continued to resist and actively fight being taken into custody. The deputy reports Swartz continually attempted to stand up and flee. The deputy reports that Swartz actively resisted throughout the entire process of taking him into custody, even when he was in handcuffs.

The deputy reports he re-entered the garage after Swartz was secured into handcuffs and informed Hamm that she was under arrest for giving false information about who was in the garage. The deputy reports Hamm began to shout and swear when he advised her that she was under arrest. The deputy reports Hamm proceeded to elbow him in the chest. The deputy reports he directed Hamm to a wall in the garage, at which point she turned around and punched the deputy's chest causing the deputy's camera to deactivate.

The deputy reports Hamm continued to actively resist being taken into custody. The deputy reports he directed Hamm to the ground outside the garage, landing on top of her as well. Once on the ground, the deputy reports he was able to place Hamm into handcuffs with her hands behind her back.

If convicted for obstructing an officer, Hamm may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than nine months or both. For attempt battery to a law enforcement officer, she may be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than three years or both. For resisting an officer, she may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than nine months or both.

If convicted for battery to a law enforcement officer, he may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than six years or both. For resisting an officer, he may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than nine months or both. For three counts of violating the condition of bond in Barron County stating that he shall not commit any crime, he may be fined not more than $10,000 for each count, or imprisoned not more than six years or both for each count. Their adjourned initial appearances are scheduled for October 12 2022.

Beavers Record Stands at 5 and 3; Regular Season Finale on Friday

The Cumberland Beavers Football Team will finish up the regular season this Friday night with a home contest against the Cameron Comets beginning at 7:00 pm. Cumberland comes into the contest with a 5 and 3 record with hopes of breaking a two-game losing streak before the WIAA Playoffs begin next week.

The Beavers traveled to St. Croix Falls last Friday, where a good Saints team rolled to a 52-22 victory. As happened in the North-western loss two weeks ago, the Cumberland opponent crunched out over 300-yards rushing in controlling the clock, putting up points, and keeping the Beavers potent offense off the field.

“I thought we battled for the most part, we just couldn’t get some stops early on or make a big play when we needed it to stay in the game,” said Head Coach Corey Berghammer about the contest. St. Croix Falls never punted in the game, while crunching out 25 first downs and 461 yards of total offense. It was an impressive showing from a Saint team who lost their starting quarterback for the season last week as they moved their record to 7 and 1 on the season.

As they always do, Cumberland battled throughout and had some good performances themselves.

Senior running back Edward Chafer caught five balls for 57 yard and a touchdown, while completing a halfback option pass for 53 more yards and another score to Vaughn Johnson. Quarterback David Olson completed 13 of 26 passes for 104 yards and two scores, while leading the team in rushing with 60 yards on 14 attempts. Roman Ranallo, meanwhile, rushed for 45 yards, caught two passes for eight yards, and had an interception on defense. Johnson added four receptions and a touchdown, while Gavin Gores also had a touchdown reception.

Defensively, Jack Chafer had a team-high 10 tackles with RyKer Allen adding seven.

Friday’s contest against Cameron brings the 4 and 4 Comets into Endeavor Stadium with hopes of taking third place in the HON from the Beavers. They are much improved over last season’s 1 and 8 team. Their top offensive weapon has been quarterback Tyson Lucas and a strong passing game, leading to what should be a high-scoring affair on Friday night.

Cross Country Finishes Regular Season; Sectional October 21 in Phillips

The Cumberland High School and Middle School Cross Country Teams ran in Hayward last week, with the High School Team having participated in the Conference Meet this past Tuesday. With the regular season now complete, the team is now preparing for the WIAA Sectional run on October 21 in Phillips.

In Hayward, the High School Boy’s Team finished seventh out of ten teams, behind the winning Superior Spartan squad, while the girl’s did not have enough runners to qualify as a team.

Cumberland’s Josh Swint had a strong showing in Hayward with an eighth-place finish in 19:58. Jacob Schradle was the second fastest Beaver runner, finishing 26th with a time of 21:07. Sophomore Gavin Stewart of Ladysmith had the winning time in 18:19.

The Cumberland Girl’s received an equally impressive showing from Junior Adie Otto, who finished sixth out of 83 runners with a 23:34, trailing the winning time of 21:46 from Barron’s Fran Peterson. The next best time from Cumberland came from Junior Jasmine Woodley, who finished 44th with a time of 29:08.

The Cumberland Middle School Boy’s did not compete as a team, but received a 22nd place finish from Seventh grader, Simon Rodriguez, who ran a 10:50 and a 39th place finish from sixth grade student, Landon Flottum, with a time of 11:47. Ben Giesregen came in first with an 8:38.

Lyla Gago, a sixth-grade student from Ladysmith, ran a 9:56 to take the Middle School Girl’s race. Cumberland finished 4th in the eight-team field, getting a 14th place finish from sixth grader, Jovina Skinner, in 11:24. Also doing well for Cumberland were Brianna Wells, who finished 24th in 11:55 and Olivia Holzman-Byrne, who was 25th in 11:56.

Teagan Monson added 15 kills and seven blocks, Alora Garibaldi had seven assists and four kills, while Madison Graf had 31 assists. Success on the Bear Hunt

Hello friends,

This week's column is about a successful conclusion to my 2022 bear hunting season that has absorbed large parts of my time, thought, and pocket book since I began running baits in northern Juneau County as well as southern Jackson on April 15th.

Tuesday, September 20th

High 82, low 53

The first thing that I would like to say is that like winter camping/ice fishing, deer camp, paddling a canoe and gardening, bear hunting is something that I am simply addicted to and in reality, it is not so much harvesting a bear as it is chasing a bear.

Today would be the 14th day in a row that I sat in a tree and the 158th day since I started the multi mile task of hauling baits. In that time, my life partner Michelle Chiaro has passed away and what was my largest group of papers Portage, Beaver dam, Wis Dells, Baraboo, Reedsburg and Mauston let my column go one week after Michelle's passing. The loss of that group which had run me on a weekly basis since 1992 has kicked my financial ass. The loss of Michelle has taken the happy go lucky part of my soul away.

The 46-mile round trip drive is pure paradise, the heavy lifting, and most importantly the beauty of the forest, swamp, and it's inhabitants is what has kept me from having a break down.

Three weeks ago a new bear started hitting one of my baits, it was a heavy bodied male with a huge head. It removed what was maybe a 220 pound female who was coming in during daylight hours before the season started. This male was very smart and was coming to my bait each night 10 to 60 minutes after I climbed down from my tree and I simply did not know what to do to get a shot other than to keep hunting.

Today I climbed into a mature oak tree where I have a view of a swamp as well as my bait which is placed near a forest edge. In 99% of these situations if anything happens it will be at the bait. I might add that as a pass time on these hunts I was writing out thank you cards to what is literally hundreds of friends, relatives, and readers concerning the loss of Michelle.

So, it has been a few minutes since I looked behind me and I actually cursed myself for that mistake. When I did, I saw the big male and it was instant stress. The range finder would later tell me that it was at 96-yards, had crossed the entire swamp in the open, and was 12 feet and moving from a dense willow stand. Had it been ten more seconds before looking backwards I would not have known this bear had crossed the swamp.

I tried doing a 180 in my stand and two things went wrong, my safety strap stopped me, and I hit my gun on a branch. I dropped to my knees on the platform, and I swear I said this to myself "Lord why did you have to make this so hard?" I was shooting my BAR 300 and I let a bullet fly and I thought I dropped him but could not tell in the marsh grass. Ten seconds later he lunged forward and was gone in the willows. I could actually see the tops of the willows moving, picked a small opening and when I saw black, squeezed off another round and was confident my bullet had hit its mark but could not see the bear.

Another ten seconds goes by, and I can see the willows moving further away but I cannot see the bear. I picked an opening and when I saw black, let another round fly, and again could not tell if I had made a hit. I climbed down, went through waist deep water on the back side of the willows, and worked my way towards where I was hoping he would be laying with a visibility of about 5-feet. The first thing I saw was a big head and I knew I had my bear, the hunt was over, the emotions were incredible, and I let out the loudest war whoop of my life.

Joey Dushek, Joey Snodie, Nathan Potter and I had the task of getting 310-pounds dressed of black bear on a 3/4-mile lug back to the truck. This animal will be honored as a rug and the meat will be consumed, in other words very little will not be used.

I miss my bear hunting partner Michelle Chiaro!

Soccer Has Strong 2 and 1 Week; Tournaments Start October 20

The young Cumberland Soccer Team had a strong performance last week, defeating St. Croix Falls/Unity 7-0 and Altoona 3-0, while dropping a tough 1-0 decision to a good Somerset team last Monday. The Beavers finish up the regular season this Thursday, with a home contest against Ashland at 5:30 pm and then turns their attention towards the WIAA Tournament opener at Washburn/Bayfield on Thursday, October 20 at 4:30 pm.

Cumberland gave Somerset a good run in their narrow loss with the defense having a particularly strong game. The Beavers kept steady offensive pressure on the Spartans throughout the contest, but could not score a goal. Somerset's winning tally came with 10 minutes left in the contest as Cumberland goalkeeper Riley Brown had an excellent night in net.

The team rebounded for Coaches Brent Sellent and David Stone with an excellent victory over St. Croix Falls/Unity on Thursday. "The team played very well with lots of close technical passing and found the back of the net multiple times. It was a huge improvement from the last time we played them which ended in a loss of 5-1," said Coach Stone.

The Beavers scores included two each from Dawson Johnson and Che Smith and one each by Jack Richter, Alex Effertz, and Ian Sellent, his first as a varsity performer. "It was a nice team effort," added Coach Stone.

Cumberland then concluded the week on Saturday with another shutout, this time over Altoona. Again, Riley Brown was outstanding in net, while the Beavers continued to pass the ball well against a big and physical opponent. Dawson Johnson had another two goals for Cumberland, one off a rebound and the other after a strong move through the Railroader defense. Alex Effertz added Cumberland's final score on a header off a corner kick from Jack Richter.

The Beavers enter WIAA play as a fifth seed

Sports Look Back, October 12, 1972

The Cumberland Beavers fought to the finish at Hayward last Friday night, but a missed extra point forced them to settle for a 6-6 tie. Again the Beavers' defense was tough allowing only a second period Hurricane touchdown. Hayward's defense was tough and so were the officials as they combined again and again to stop Cumberland drives.

After bringing the opening kick off to their own 42, the Hurricanes started to drive. Aided by Dennis Plante's running and Bob Smith's passing, the Hurricanes quickly moved to the Cumberland 14. However, the Beaver defense held and Hayward decided to try a 31-yard field goal which was wide to the left. Cumberland hindered by a couple of penalties punted to its own 48. The Hurricanes were then soon faced with a fourth down, one-half yard to go situation. The Cumberland defense held again, swarming all over the Hayward runner for no gain, getting the ball back on their own 38. This was the end of first quarter, with the score of 0-0.

After an exchange of punts, the Beavers took over on their 36 and advanced to the Hayward 48. Cumberland was stopped on fourth down and the Hurricanes started their long touchdown drive. Bob Smith took a Rob Fadness pass and twisted and squirmed 40 yards to the Beavers' 12. After a couple of runs, Bob Smith passed to his brother, Gary, for 13 yards and a touchdown. The extra point was missed and Hayward led 6-0.

The Hurricanes recovered their following on-side kick on Cumberland's 38 yard line. But the Beavers, again, held on fourth down and got the ball back on their own 24. Cumberland completed two last second passes of seven and 35 yards but the first half ended before they could score with the count still 6-0.

Cumberland started out the second half by executing one of those plays that people talk about for days, sometimes weeks afterward. Taking the Hayward kickoff at the 15, Brad Curtis followed his blocking to the left, made a few moves, tore down the left sideline simply outrunning everyone else while bringing the crowd to its feet with an 85-yard return for a touchdown. While the Hurricanes were still recovering from shock, the Beavers barely missed the extra point, and the score was knotted 6-6.

After a Hayward punt, Cumberland drove to the Hurricanes' 17. But the Beavers were stopped on downs and Hayward took over on its 19. Two more times Cumberland received Hurricane punts and moved deep into Hayward territory only to be stopped twice on fourth down. However, the Beavers had one more chance to win as Hayward punted midfield with seven seconds left. Dennis Dosch completed a pass to Curtis but he was tackled immediately and the game ended in a 6-6 deadlock.

Having allowed only four rushing touchdowns in the Heart O' North this season, the Beavers were susceptible to the pass as Hayward completed eight aerials for 96 yards and one touchdown. However, Cumberland out-gained Hayward with 222 total yards to the Hurricanes' 186.

Tracy Schiebel again led the Beavers' running attack with 90 yards in 19 carries. Brad Williams also gained 40 yards in 10 carries for the Beavers.

Cumberland's passing attack was good as quarterbacks Thompson and Dosch combined for seven out of 17 passes for 85 yards and one interception. Thompson completed four of 12 for 69 yards, while Dosch hit on three of five for 16 yards and one interception. Brad Curtis caught two passes for 43 yards, Schiebel two for eight yards, Dosch one for 15 yards, Williams one for 12 yards, and Thompson one for seven yards.

Barronett News

By Judy Pieper

Congratulations go out to Mark and Tinille (lehmann) Bellefeuille, who were married on Wednesday, October 5th, in a private ceremony at Devil's Lake State Park. Mark and Tinille hosted a reception for friends and family this past Saturday at their home. It was wonderful!! They were dressed in their wedding clothes and Tinille looked absolutely beautiful in her white gown. Mark was very handsome in his suit, but like I've said many times, the wedding day is all about the lady in white. The weather was a little chilly, but Mark had bonfires in several locations, so we were all able to keep toasty. Tinille did her bit to make us comfortable – she had blankets hanging on a rack and we were urged to use them if we wished.

Duane and I hadn't met many of Mark's family members before the reception, and it was so nice to meet them and get to know them a little bit. I especially enjoyed visiting with Mark's Grandma Bellefeuille and hope she will stop by our place on occasion for a visit.

Most of Tinille's family were present and we were so happy to be able to visit with our kids and grandkids and Tinille's aunts, uncles and cousins. There was way too much food, of course, and it was all delicious. It was a wonderful day – and we all wish Mark and Tinille many years of happiness.

Sanara Marsh and Alex Caracappa traveled from Massachusetts for Mark and Tinille's wedding. Sanara, Alex and Savanna stopped by our house for a short visit before heading to the reception. We were so happy to see them, even though they had to leave the next morning. They will be back for the big 50th anniversary of the opening of Hilltop Retreat on Thanksgiving Day though, so it won't be long before we can visit with them again.

The one sad thing is that Tinille's other grandma, Anita Lehmann, could not be at the reception. She has been in the Rice Lake Hospital for a few days and had surgery on Saturday. Duane and I stopped by to see her on Sunday, and she was not quite up to par but is feeling a little better. She said that she hopes to be able to help at the Scandinavian Smorgasbord in November. We certainly hope so – our guests would miss her if she wasn't there to greet them at the door.

Jay Olson has been in the area for about a week visiting with family and friends. On Saturday evening he was at Hilltop Retreat playing guitar and singing songs (mostly country and western) for the enjoyment of the diners. It was so great having him performing at Hilltop again. It seemed as if we had traveled back in time about 40 years to when we could dance to his music every weekend. Maybe he and Marcia should just move back up here where they belong.

Art Adams celebrated his birthday, which is on October 9th, both days this past weekend. He had dinner at Hilltop on Saturday evening with his son and daughter-in-law, Alec and Anna. And, on Sunday morning he, Jill, Ryley and Gabi had breakfast at hilltop with Jerry Marsh, Jodi, Duane and me. Jerry succeeded in embarrassing Art. He saw him drive in and, before Art and family could get to the door, Jerry announced to everyone in the dining room that it was Art's birthday and that he wanted everyone to sing to him as soon as he walked in. They did – and Art, who does not embarrass easily, was very red-faced. Watch out, Jerry. I'm sure he will get even in January.

Duane and I were among the many diners enjoying the great food prepared by members of Zion Lutheran Church in Turtle Lake on Thursday evening. It was the first time that we had been to their fall dinner, but it certainly won't be the last. Everyone was so friendly, and the food and desserts were so good that it was hard not to over-eat.

Cathy Eichman asks that you continue to pray for her husband, John. He is in critical condition at Marshfield Medical Center in Eau Claire, and she is hoping for a miracle.

Thank you, Joan and Debbie, for hosting coffee hour after church service this past Sunday morning.

I guess that's about all I know from Barronett this week. Hope you enjoy the beautiful weather we are supposed to have the next few days. See you

After retirement, she enjoyed RV camping and attending coin shows with Bob, watching the birds and deer, and listening to country music. “You’re Always Invited”

by Pastor Diane House

Trinity Lutheran Church, McKinley

Then Jesus said...“Someone gave a great dinner and invited many. At the time for the dinner he sent his slave today to those who had been invited, ‘Come; for everything is ready now.’ But they all alike began to make excuses...” Luke 14: 16-18

Some of you may remember this story in scripture from the song “I Cannot Come to the Banquet.” The chorus is this: “I cannot come to the banquet, don’t bother me now. I have married a wife, I have bought me a cow. I have fields and commitments that cost a pretty sum. Pray, hold me excused. I cannot come.”

Jesus told a parable about a person who invited people to come to a banquet and instead of saying yes to the generous invitation made excuses and refused the hospitality. So by the end of the story, the person sends out his messengers to the streets and lanes of the town to invite the poor, the crippled, the blind, and the lame. They are sent out to “compel people to come in” so that the house may be filled and all the original invites miss out on the great dinner.

You are invited to participate in all the events that will be going on at any of the churches in our area. You are invited to come learn, play, worship, and get to know the faith community. Will you say “yes” to the invitation to be part of the faith community to learn about God’s love for you and the world and to have opportunities to share that love with others?

It is my sincere prayer that our faith communities will be creative and generous with the ways we reach out to others to share the love of God. It is also my sincere prayer that those who are invited will receive this gift of grace freely and will come to know Jesus and feel Jesus’ love for them and the world. Come to the banquet and bring “your wife” and “your cow” or anyone else! All are welcome!

United Fund...

funds could be used to help with some bigger projects that may not normally be obtainable in Cumberland. Using funds from this donor they were able to partner with the Cumberland School District on the addition of the Tennis Court/Sport Court, along with funding the new playground equipment at Eagle Point.

This year the United Fund of Cumberland was able to give out a large grant that was put towards the Cumberland Middle School playground improvements. The purpose of this project is to transform the middle school playground into a park that is accessible to all children, parents, grandparents and visitors. This will be accomplished by the addition of accessible ramps and sidewalks as well as new playground equipment. The project is slated to start in early June of 2023.

Your donations to the United Fund help fund their smaller requests. In past years, donations have been made to Kinship, the Boys and Girls Club of Barron County, CASTA, Barron County Meals on Wheels, Benjamin's House, Emergency Services of Barron County and, just to name a few.

Included on the flyer in this week's Advocate is a complete list of last year's recipients, as well as the Board of Directors (which is made up of representatives from all aspects of our community). The flyer also tells you how to make donations and nominate other causes or organizations for consideration by the United Fund.

The United Fund of Cumberland is a totally volunteer organization. There are no administrative costs or salaries paid so 99% of all donations go directly to the charitable organizations, non-profit agencies or causes that are recommended or apply to the Fund for support. Best yet, those donations stay in the community and are used to support our local community needs.

The United Fund of Cumberland would like to thank you for your continued support year after year.

The Board of Directors also invites you to attend their Annual Meeting, usually in November. The date has yet to be determined, as is the format (live or virtual), but will be announced in the Advocate. The meeting is open to the public and offers a great opportunity to help support this organization that does so much to support our community. They are always open to new membership or input from the community and would welcome presentations from groups or organizations who would like to apply for funding. You can contact the United Fund of Cumberland at PO Box 134, Cumberland WI 54829 or by email: unitedfundofcumberland@gmail.com.

The United Fund urges you to consider them in your charitable giving strategy. Also, check with your employer - some have matching programs available or, as in the case of 3M, base their charitable participation on giving done by their employees. The schools, banks and other businesses also have fund raising drives to benefit the United Fund.

The Fund also has a feature on their website which makes it possible to make your tax deductible donations online at www.unitedfundofcumberlandwisconsin.org/donate.

Help keep Cumberland strong. Give what you can, encourage others to do the same. In the long run, our community as a whole will benefit.

Aaron Judge!

Aaron Judge of the New York Yankees and Mark Fuller.

Nice Guys Break Records Too

We’ve heard the quote, “Records are made to be broken,” many times. The Major League home run record has been one of the most exciting challenges for competitors and fans since Babe Ruth hit 60 over the fence in 1927.

Roger Maris, a humble man who grew up in North Dakota, survived the pressures of breaking that record with 61 home runs in 1961. Although Babe Ruth will always be the “Home Run King” to me, I had no problem rooting for Maris as a young baseball fan of 12.

Then the chase for the long ball record resumed in the late 90s, when Mark McGuire set the new MLB record with 70 home runs; the same year Sammy Sosa also surpassed Maris’ record with 66 home runs. In 2001, Barry Bonds, known for his abrasive personality, took it to an even further record mark with 73 home runs. Since then, however, it is understood that all three of these National League players used performance-enhancing drugs, tainting their accomplishments.

This summer we saw another home run chase when Aaron Judge of the New York Yankees challenged Roger Maris American League mark of 61. Judge was adopted the day after he was born and grew up in a small town of 1900 in Linden, California.

His parent’s were both teachers and Judge was a three-sport athlete and excellent student, who returns to Line in the off-season where he takes time to talk to kids about getting an education and encourages them to find ways to help improve their neighborhood. His foundation among other things sponsors a Turkey run every Thanksgiving to feed over 200 homeless families. In Linden, he is described more for his humbleness, loyalty, kindness and friendliness than his home runs.

On Tuesday, October 4, Judge joined the record books by surpassing Maris 61 homers, hit 61 years ago, and swatted his 62nd home run to set the all-time American League record. On my baseball trips this summer, I saw Judge hit two of those blasts and was part of a group in Toronto watching him go for 61 on a night he walked four times. The hometown Toronto fans even booed that night, wanting to see the young man have an opportunity to join the elusive ground-breaking club.

Why was everyone pulling for him so hard? This includes myself, who met him three years ago through a friend and found him to be just as described above.

Maybe it was what he said after the fact. He thanked his mom saying,

“The guidance she gave me as a kid growing up, knowing the difference from right and wrong, how to treat people and how to go the extra mile and put in extra work, all that kind of stuff. She’s molded me into the person that I am today.” We found that nice guys set records too!

Cumberland Beaver Ridge

Let’s take a moment to celebrate one of the awesome experiences our Cumberland students had at this past year. For twenty years, Cumberland sixth graders have gone to Wolf Ridge, an outdoor education and environmental camp in Northern Minnesota. With the onset of COVID, everything changed and the camp closed and has slowly started to come back. In the meantime, school administrators decided that we have the resources and people here in Cumberland to put on our own “Wolf Ridge” and keep the tradition going. The name was changed to “Beaver Ridge” and we brought the tradition home.

In March, the school was given permission to use Scoutland, which is 100 acres with camping cabins, a lodge, and a canoe landing just east of town.

Speakers were brought in to prepare the students to spend a week in the woods building shelters, fire building, campfire cooking, participating in outdoor activities, and learning to appreciate and respect nature. Students were also required to put together notebooks and pass a “survival” test.

The many speakers who worked with the sixth graders included, Clare Janty: Wilderness First Aid, Sue Greenway: How to pack a backpack for various hikes and adventures, Greg Mikunda: Fly Fishing and Turkey Hunting, Dan Kann: Spincasting, Cody Kargus: Mountaineering, Doug Schronke: Fly Fishing, John Yost: Firestarting, Making Cordage and Baskets from Bark, Edible Plants, Billie Molls: Guiding Alaskan Hunts and Ruth King, Dog-sledding.

After prepping and practicing at the school forest and in the classroom the students headed out to Scoutland for the week of May 16-20. On Monday through Wednesday, they built tarp shelters, created fire pits, cooked meals and treats, and participated in outdoor activities during the regular school day. On Thursday students participated in a variety of activities and survived the intermittent downpours. Thursday evening Phil Warner came out with his friends, Kay and Dakota and they helped put on a concert and sing songs with the students that recapped the week’s events. Thursday night the students slept in their shelters amid more rain and Friday was spent eating an awesome sausage and pancake breakfast prepared by Greg Weaver, Kristen Juleff, and Tab Gramberg. The rest of the morning the students cleaned, packed, and spent time in the woods before returning to school to dry out. Many memories were made during the week.

Thank you to the many parent volunteers, student helpers, community members, Cumberland staff, and especially the incredible sixth-grade students who made this first year of Beaver Ridge a tremendous success.

Somehow, this article and photos were misplaced in “internet outerspace” and were recently brought to our attention. We thought better late than never.
