Arrest Made After Investigation of Solicitation at Cumberland School

On 10/20/2022 the Cumberland Police Department received a complaint from a parent of a Cumberland School District student advising that their child had been given a phone number from a subject believed to be in their 40's and felt that it was an attempt to solicit their child.

Michael D. Keller

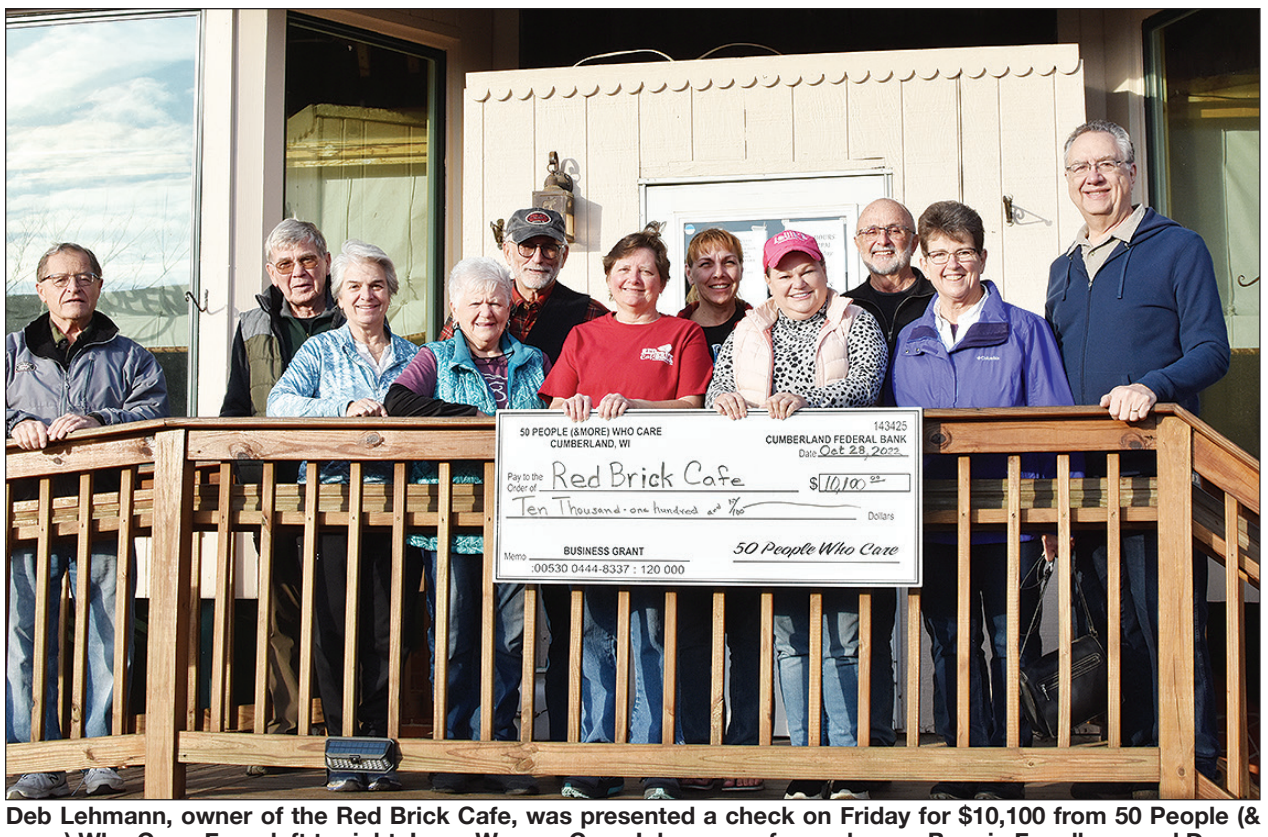

Upon receiving this information, the Cumberland Police Department immediately began an undercover investigation into the matter. Over the course of the next 7 days the Cumberland Police Department chatted with the subject posing as a 15-year-old and exchanged over 940 text messages. At the start of the investigation, officers identified the male and learned he was 43-year-old, registered sex offender, Michael D Keller. Throughout the conversations, the subject stated multiple times that he wished to be in a relationship with the juvenile but at no time ever mentioned or suggested any sexual contact between the two.

On two separate occasions the subject drove to the City of Cumberland to meet with what he thought was a 15-year-old. On the second attempt to meet with the juvenile, which occurred 10/27/2022, Michael Keller was immediately taken into custody on Cumberland School District property. Michael Keller is currently being held in the Barron County Jail awaiting formal charges from the Barron County District Attorney's Office. The Cumberland Police Department has referred the following charges for Keller: 1 count of a Sex Offender Registry Violation, 3 counts of Felony Bail Jumping, and 2 counts of Misdemeanor Bail Jumping. The Cumberland Police Department was assisted by the Barron County Sheriff's Department during the arrest.

The Cumberland Police Department takes protecting the community's youth very seriously. In order to accomplish this, we regularly investigate these complaints and conduct undercover child solicitation operations in order to deter perpetrators from coming to Cumberland to victimize our youth.

Northwoods Notebook: 50 Who Care . . . about the Red Brick Café

By Larry Werner

Deb Lehmann has had her share of challenges in the 15 years of owning and operating the Red Brick Café in Barronett. She's had surgeries on her feet and wrist, dealt with equipment breakdowns and water leaks and struggled to get enough employees – not to mention the pandemic shutdown.

But she's still at it, serving some of the best breakfast scrambles, omelets and homemade pies in northwestern Wisconsin. And last week, she got some good news from 50 People (& more) Who Care, an organization that provides grants to local businesses: Ellen Clare Sendelbach, president of the business-support group, presented Lehmann with a check for $10,100 so she can make some repairs to her old building.

"It's awesome," she said on the front porch of the café while a full house of customers enjoyed her home cooking on a Friday morning. "I really appreciate the organization."

She had already called a cement mason to repair the basement leaks that result in a flood during heavy rains or when snow melts, and she had called an electrician to restore the electricity so there would be light in the old basement below the dining room. Why does she continue running a restaurant when she faces a constant string of problems?

"I enjoy cooking, being busy and I enjoy the customers – most of them," she said with a chuckle.

In her application for the grant, she said she hoped the fifth time applying would be "the charm." It was, but it wasn't an easy victory. She got one more vote than the second-place finalist – Brickyard Pottery, which has also been a finalist before.

In her application video, Lehmann addressed the

Cumberland Man Faces Charges Stemming From 2021 Accident

Blake S. Siebert, 18, of Cumberland, has been charged with use of a vehicle with controlled substance in blood-great bodily harm and reckless driving causing great bodily harm.

On September 6, 2021, at approximately 1:03 am, two deputies, both with the Barron County Sheriff's Department, were dispatched to a motor vehicle accident with injuries at the intersection of County Road B and 12th Street. Upon one of the deputy's arrival, she observed a vehicle facing northbound at the intersection and she observed that the vehicle had crashed directly north of the intersection of County Road B and 12th Street into a wooded area. The vehicle was upside down in the north ditch of County Road B. The deputy was able to observe that there was a male inside the vehicle hanging upside down and she was not able to get any response from him. Another male on scene, was attempting to assist her. A third male was laying on the ground outside of the vehicle and identified himself as Blake Siebert.

When the deputy asked Siebert who was in the car, he identified him as his friend, L.M.M. The deputy confirmed with Siebert that he was the one driving the car. The report of the deputy indicates that first responders arrived on scene and were able to get further into the car to get closer, trying to get a response from L.M.M. Ultimately, medical personnel were able to get L.M.M. out of the vehicle and into an ambulance where was transported to a landing zone and subsequently airlifted to Regions Hospital.

The report of the deputy indicates that she spoke with Siebert concerning what happened. He indicated he and two other friends who were in another vehicle, wanted to go out and have fun and things got out of control. He denied that he had been drinking any alcohol and the deputy did not detect any odors suggesting that he had. When she asked him if he was on 12th Street, or County Road B, he indicated that he had been on a dirt road that curves. He further indicated they came from the highway and were on a dirt road and came down to the intersection of County Road B and 12th Street going too fast. He indicated he saw the

Margaret's Project Santa Has Begun

Margarets Project Santa has begun preparations for this year's children. Margaret's Project Santa was established by Cumberland's own Margaret Olson to ensure that no child in our community will ever wake up and feel like they were forgotten. It is our strong belief and mission that every child in our community, big or small, should wake up Christmas morning to gifts under the tree and food in the refrigerator. This is more powerful than you can imagine and the ripple effect builds happiness within for children to feel loved and be successful. Margaret's Project Santa is a cooperative of community organizations and groups, the Cumberland School District, as well as families and individuals within the community dedicated to helping children in need in Cumberland. Toys are brand new and donated through yearly toy drives or purchased thanks to monetary donations from supporters. If you wish to donate money, checks can be written to Margaret's Project Santa ,c/o Barb Muench, PO Box 788, Cumberland, Wi, 54829. Toys can be dropped off at US Bank in Cumberland or Dollar General in Cumberland. Help grant wishes today. Thank you.

Cumberland Healthcare Volunteer Partners 30th Annual Love Light Campaign

The holiday season is nearing and the Cumberland Healthcare Volunteer Partners encourage members of the community to remember their loved ones this holiday season through the purchase of lights for the Cumberland Healthcare Love Light Tree and Tree of Hope.

The Love Light Tree will be decorated with colorful lights and pay tribute to someone special to the donor, to remember, recognize or give thanks to a loved one or honor loved ones with current or past military service. The Love Light Tree will brighten the hospital's main reception area.

Lights purchased for the Tree of Hope will be decorated with white lights and will honor those affected by cancer. The tree of Hope will illuminate the Healing Garden located in Cumberland Healthcare's Healing Center. Lights for either tree may be purchased for $5 per light or $25 for a string of lights.

Donation forms may be obtained at the Cumberland Healthcare hospital entrance, Turtle Lake Healthcare Center and hospital website www.cumberlandhealthcare.com. The form will also be printed in the Cumberland Advocate.

Proceeds from the Love Light Campaign will benefit the Cumberland Healthcare Volunteer Partner's Scholarship Fund. Two $1,000 scholarships are awarded each year to graduating seniors from Cumberland and Turtle Lake who are continuing their education in a healthcare field.

Chemical Leak at Jennie-O Turkey Store

At 9:27am on Monday, October 31 2022, the Barron County 911 Center received a call from the Jennie-O Plant in Barron reporting a chemical leak at its Main Plant Feed Mill location. Upon arrival, emergency responders conducted an assessment and determined that two chemicals (Anatox and Lysine) had been accidentally mixed together and were off-gassing a poisonous vapor into the atmosphere. Jennie-O had immediately evacuated the facility to protect employees against inhalation hazards.

Emergency responders enacted a precautionary shelter-in-place on the north side of the plant that encompassed the Barron County Highway Department and Riverview Terrace Estates. A precautionary shelter-in-place was also issued on the south side of the plant, from Hwy 8 to LaSalle Ave, beginning at 6th Street and extending to 11th Street. This also included a detour of Hwy 8 as an added safety measure.

Afternoon weather patterns assisted in keeping the chemical vapor mostly within the Jennie-O property, however air monitoring of the surrounding neighborhoods was continually being conducted by the Barron Fire Department to ensure public safety.

At approximately 11:30am, Jennie-O plant representatives and emergency responders determined that the chemical mixture posed no further danger to public health, at which time the shelters-in-place were lifted and Hwy 8 was reopened.

Two employees drove themselves to local hospitals to be checked out. No other injuries were reported.

Responding agencies included: Barron Maple Grove Fire Department, Mayo Ambulance, Rice Lake Fire Department/Hazmat Team, Barron Police Department and the Barron County Sheriff's Departmen and the WI State Patrol.

concern some had that she was applying for a grant after putting the restaurant up for sale. She said she's had only one potential buyer look at the place and no offers. She promised to return the grant money if she sells the place before spending the money on the repairs.

Right up the street, Bistro 63 got one of the first grants from 50 Who Care, and was put up for sale several months later. It is now operating as Sals on 63 under new ownership.

The business-grant program was started by Cumberland resident E. Dennis Zahrbock. He recruited people willing to contribute $100 each quarter, with the money raised going to businesses that apply. He hoped to get 50 members – thus, the name – but more than 100 have joined, and the size of the gifts increased from about $5,000 to more than $10,000.

In the beginning, only three or four applied, but now the applicants each quarter number more than a dozen. Most of the recent winners have been among the three finalists more than once or twice. So persistence pays off.

It did for Deb Lehman, who bought the restaurant after it had been closed for six years. When Ann and I moved here almost nine years ago, the Red Brick was one of the first places we went for breakfast. The food is great, and the atmosphere is classic small-town friendly.

My favorite is the Barronett Train Wreck – hashbrowns with eggs topped with grilled onions, green peppers, mushrooms, ham and cheddar cheese. That tasty scramble goes for $9.35, or $7.50, if you want half a wreck.

If you're interested in lunch, the burgers and fresh-cut fries are as good as any around.

And there's the homemade pie, in case you haven't had enough to eat. In fact, you might want to do what Ann's father always did: Have dessert first because you might not have room after the train wreck, omelet or pancakes.

The November 8th Election is just about here. Now is your chance to make a difference. You have all heard the saying, "You can't win, if you don't play." The same goes for the election. If you don't vote you can't bitch. In today's political climate, I'm guessing voter turn out should be very high.

Congratulations to Carly McCreary for making it to the State Cross Country meet. It was Carly's first year running cross country. Next year looks to be a good year for the cross country team.

The Packers lost their 4th straight game Sunday night at Buffalo. The Packers wide receiver room looks awfully empty. I know they live and die by the draft but they need to make a move. They need to trade for a wide out. The Vikes came out of the bye week and beat the Cards to move to 6-1. I'm still not convinced they are a team capable of a deep playoff run, but winning while not playing their best is a good sign. After a trip to Washington next (winners of 3 straight) the Vikes get Buffalo and Dallas in back to back weeks. We will see! Have a great week!

"Hydrogen has pros and cons, but clean energy potential is there"

MADISON, Wis. – It's the most abundant element in the universe, making up about 75% of all matter, and it may hold the key to a future of abundant clean energy.

It's also difficult to store in a pure state; corrodes and weakens metals; is expensive to isolate using existing processes; and it's highly combustible … as in "burn up the airship Hindenburg on the landing dock in 1937" combustible.

Despite its drawbacks, hydrogen is a longer-term entrant in the "green energy" derby, which is being powered by the rising costs of fossil fuels, the push to decarbonize the Earth's atmosphere, and the need for industry and governments worldwide to be free of despots who control much of the world's oil.

The pros and cons of the "hydrogen revolution" was the topic of an Oct. 25 Tech Council Innovation Network luncheon in Madison, where the dean of the UW-Madison College of Engineering spoke frankly about the properties of this simple (one proton and one electron) yet powerful element.

People have been isolating and using hydrogen for centuries, but old-school processes churn out a lot of carbon dioxide, the chief climate-change culprit. The Holy Grail of many energy researchers today is to produce "green hydrogen" at a price that would rival production of "grey hydrogen" (the carbon-dirty stuff), to store it, to transport it and to use it safely to power the world.

Green hydrogen is produced from fresh water by a process of electrolysis. It's often used to make ammonia, which is easier to store and transport. It only earns the "green" label if it's made from renewable electricity.

As Dean Ian Robertson explained, industries poised to be early adopters of green hydrogen produced in mass amounts are marine shipping; makers of heavy-duty trucks, construction and mining vehicles; those that use high-temperature process heating, steelmaking, cement production, chemical production, agriculture and aviation.

Sounds a little like Wisconsin, doesn't it?

Hydrogen can also be used to fuel personal vehicles because, as he noted, "there isn't enough lithium" in the world to make batteries to power electric cars for everyone.

That's likely a down-the-road use for hydrogen, however, given there are only 45 publicly available hydrogen fueling stations in the United States – 43 of which are in California. But the potential is impressive: A tank of hydrogen can fuel a car at the gasoline equivalent of 70 miles per gallon, or 800-plus miles without refilling.

The lack of a public infrastructure is one reason why Robertson believes Europe and Asia are well ahead in hydrogen technology and its uses, but he also believes some recent federal incentives could help to close the gap.

One advantage is the existing industrial infrastructure to create, store and ship ammonia, which contains nitrogen and hydrogen and is routinely found in fertilizers. "Green ammonia" (NH3) is created with an added step after hydrogen is isolated through electrolysis. Nitrogen particles from the air are first separated, then combined with green hydrogen molecules to form the ammonia.

Ammonia is stable, full of energy and half as dense as fossil fuels, which means it can be efficiently shipped to where it's needed. It can then be "cracked" back into hydrogen and nitrogen.

So, if hydrogen is the "Swiss army knife of decarbonization," as Microsoft founder Bill Gates recently touted, what's the hold-up? Cost and technology for starters, Robertson said, but public acceptance and knowing how to safely work with it may be bigger impediments.

"We're going to have to train the workforce how to handle it … we're going to have to train all of us how to fill up our cars," Robertson said.

In Wisconsin, some companies large and small are already working on commercializing hydrogen use in selected sectors. Startups Advanced Ionics and Radom Corp. are two examples. Other carbon-heavy industries in Wisconsin see competitive advantages in transitioning to hydrogen, if production costs come down and incentives are in place.

One major company with a Wisconsin presence, 3M, recently showcased a nano-structured powder that could cut electrolysis costs for hydrogen separation. The powder reduces the amount of iridium – an expensive metal that trades for $4,000 an ounce – needed for electrolysis.

Like some other promising energy technologies, the widespread use of hydrogen may be decades away. But with many possible uses in play, hydrogen dividends will come in time.

Still is president of the Wisconsin Technology Council. He can be reached at tstill@wisconsintechnologycouncil.com.

stop sign and slowed down to approximately 40 miles per hour and then sped up and could see the road was turning and went straight into the trees. He claimed that he did not know the road turned at that point. He also explained that they were going way too fast but claimed that he was only going about 60 miles per hour when he hit the trees.

The report of the other deputy indicates he also spoke with Siebert who advised he was going north on 12th Street when he didn't see that the road had a turn. When the deputy asked him if he had been using any drugs, Siebert advised, "Yes Sir" and that he had smoked tonight. When the deputy asked him how long ago he smoked, Siebert advised hours and hours ago. When the deputy attempted to clarify it with him, Seibert stated roughly five hours ago. The deputy asked him what he had smoked, Seibert advised marijuana. He further indicated that he smokes marijuana roughly once a week.

The deputy was also made aware of this information and subsequently obtained a blood sample from Siebert that was submitted to the Wisconsin State Laboratory of Hygiene. On September 12, 2022, the deputy's report indicates that the Barron County Sheriff's Department received a laboratory report from the Wisconsin State Laboratory of Hygiene regarding the drug testing of the blood sample obtained from Siebert. The test results show the presence of Delta-9-THC at 1.2 ng/ml.

The report of the deputy indicates that on September 9, 2021, she conducted a further interview with Siebert concerning the accident. During the course of the interview, Siebert again confirmed that he was out with two other friends and they were out driving around and ended up on a specific roadway where they would rev their engines and fishtail on the road. He referred to it as "our spot." He also claimed to have been followed by another vehicle and claimed to be trying to get away from this vehicle. He further indicated that when he came up to the intersection of County Road B and 12th Street, he came upon a warning sign for the stop sign at the intersection. He further acknowledged that he was going approximately 70 miles per hour when he saw the warning sign for the stop sign that was coming up. He further claimed to not have seen the stop sign at the intersection and that he slowed down approximately 55 to 60 miles per hour and tried braking and that was all he remembered until he had unbuckled himself and got out of the vehicle. The deputy asked him how fast he thought he was going. Siebert indicated that the fastest he was probably going was 110 miles per hour but claimed that was when he sped up to get away from the vehicle he claimed was following him.

A further basis for the above charges is the medical records obtained relative to the injuries L.M.M. suffered. The medical records indicate he suffered a severe traumatic brain injury secondary to a motor vehicle collision.

If convicted for use of a vehicle with controlled substance in blood-great bodily harm, Siebert may be fined not more than $25,000 or imprisoned not more than 12 years and six months or both. For reckless driving causing great bodily harm, he may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than three years and six months or both.

His initial appearance is scheduled for November 16, 2022.

Dairy State Bank Announces Organizational Changes

Dairy State Bank's Board of Directors recently announced organizational changes to take effect on January 1, 2023.

Clark Yolitz, president of the Menomonie area market, will assume the role of Dairy State Bank's chief executive officer (CEO). Yolitz has been with the bank for 24 years, serving as president in the Menomonie area for the past 10 years. With this change, Yolitz will share time between the Rice Lake and Menomonie locations. This transition takes place as current CEO Mike Bock begins his path for a planned retirement at the end of 2023. While he remains with the bank, Bock will assist where needed to smooth the CEO transition.

Mike Britton, president of the Rice Lake area market, will now lead more of the day-to-day relationships in the Rice Lake area. Britton has been a lender with the organization for 21 years, serving as president in the Rice Lake area for the past four years.

Stacy Medin, branch manager and lender at Dairy State Bank in Bloomer, will fill the role of president in the Menomonie area. Medin joined the bank seven years ago and has been an integral part of the development of the Bloomer location. While Medin will spend more time at the Menomonie location, she plans to maintain the relationships she has built in the Bloomer area.

Dairy State Bank will welcome a new face, Craig Oslund, to the Bloomer office as Medin shares her time with Menomonie. Oslund brings over 25 years of banking experience, primarily in Minnesota, to the organization.

"On behalf of the Dairy State Bank Board of Directors, I congratulate Clark, Mike and Stacy on their new responsibilities. We are confident in the experience these individuals hold and that they, along with the rest of Dairy State Bank's trusted staff, will take the organization forward and allow us to remain an independent, community bank," said Jack Nelson, chair of Dairy State Bank's Board of Directors.

"While we are excited about these changes, we also are grateful to Mike Bock for his 34 years of service to our organization. Dairy State Bank would not be the safe, sound and secure bank that it is without Mike's leadership as President/CEO for the last 18 years. We are also pleased that Mike will stay on with the bank for the next year to support this transition."

Headquartered in Rice Lake, Dairy State Bank is a locally-owned, community bank serving Northwest Wisconsin for 70 years. Locations also exist in Birchwood, Bloomer, Colfax, Cumberland, Downsville, Haugen, Menomonie, Prairie Farm, Turtle Lake and Wheeler. Dairy State Bank is a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC) and is an Equal Housing Lender.

Wisconsin DMV extends hours ahead of election

The Wisconsin Department of Transportation Division of Motor Vehicles (DMV) will extend hours next week at customer service centers that are open on Monday (November 7) and/or Tuesday (November 8). These centers will remain open until 6 p.m. The extended hours will enable those needing a photo ID, frequently those who are new to the state, time to visit a DMV.

Most Wisconsin voters already have some form of ID to show at the polls, including a Wisconsin driver license or ID. There is no separate "voter ID" and a federally compliant REAL ID card is not required for voting purposes. The Wisconsin Elections Commission explains the acceptable options to bring to the polls on its website.

Steps to obtain an ID to vote

Anyone without the required identification to vote may obtain an ID free from the DMV. Voters looking to get their first Wisconsin ID should begin at DMV's website wisconsindmv.gov/idcards.

Next, bring the required documents to apply at your nearest DMV. Certain documents, such as a birth certificate, proof of identity and Wisconsin residency, are necessary to obtain an official Wisconsin ID card. If all documentation is not readily available, the ID Petition Process (IDPP) may be used to obtain a receipt valid for voting while the remaining documents or verifications are obtained. The voter should bring any documentation available to the DMV and complete the required application.

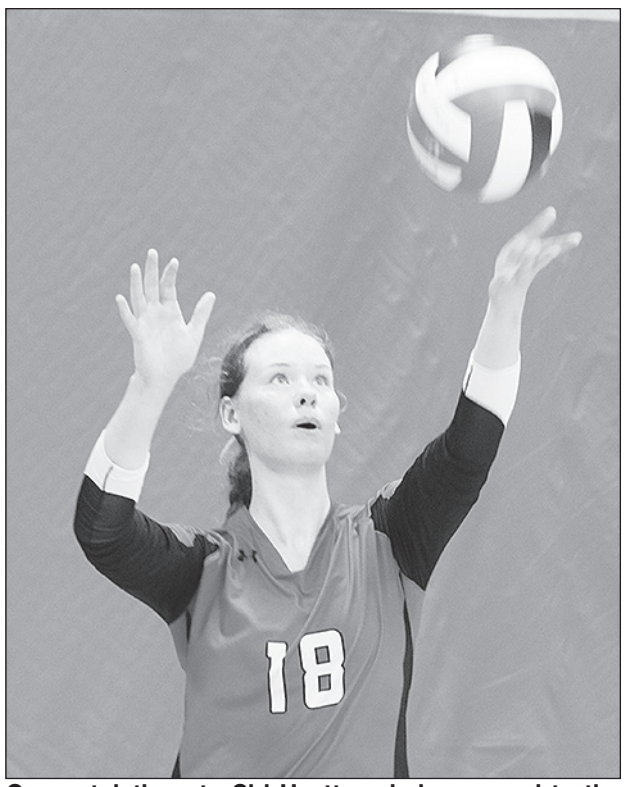

Finally, a receipt valid for voting purposes will be provided and may be used to show at the polls.

DMV offers this IDPP service and ID card for voting purposes free of charge. Anyone who doesn't have an ID to vote in the fall primary election should start the process now. DMV's toll-free voter ID hotline at (844) 588-1069 is available for questions on obtaining an ID to vote. Questions regarding voter eligibility, poll locations, voter registration information or other election information may be directed to the Wisconsin Elections Commission website.

All Conference!

Beavers Place Six Players on HON All-Conference Team

The Cumberland Football Team had six of its members placed on the HON All-Conference Team for this fall. The Beavers finished with a 5 and 2 record in conference play in third place.

Named to the First Team were Edward Chafer as an end/flanker, Jack Chafer as a linebacker, and David Olson as a defensive back.

Edward Chafer led the HON in receiving with 44 catches for 444 yards, many of those yards coming on short shovel passes from Olson, as he used his excellent speed to outrace opponents to the perimeter. A constant long-distance threat, he played the season with a banged-up shoulder and his use had to be monitored throughout the season.

Olson and Jack Chafer, meanwhile, were part of the Beavers defense that held conference opponents to 310 offensive yards a game. They were both among Cumberland's leading tacklers in those contests.

Olson, meanwhile, was one of two quarterbacks named to the Second Team. Olson passed for a conference-leading 1,095 yards and 15 touchdowns. He was also a threat on the ground, where he rushed for six touchdowns in the seven games. He had an excellent season for Coach Corey Berghammer, as a first year starter in control of the Beavers offense.

Also named to the Second Team were Jax Effertz at both end/flanker and defensive back, Roman Ranallo at linebacker, and Bryce Colburn as a defensive lineman.

Effertz caught 26 passes for 238 yards and had a dazzling punt return for a touchdown in HON play, while adding a pair of interceptions on defense. Ranallo had a strong junior season, rushing for 404 yards as the team's main inside running threat on offense, while starting as a linebacker on defense, where he showed the ability to play run or pass. Colburn, meanwhile, was honored for being a key contributor on both the offensive and defensive lines for the Beavers.

Luke Sedin, of Conference Champion Northwestern was named the HON Offensive Player of the Year, while Tanner Kaufman of the Tigers and Brock Sawicki of HON runner-up St. Croix Falls were named Co-Defensive Players of the Year.

Seventeen ATV, UTV Fatalities Reported So Far This Year

The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR) urges ATV/UTV riders passengers to wear their helmets and seatbelts while out riding this fall.

So far this year, 17 people have died in ATV/UTV crashes in Wisconsin. Most crash victims were not wearing seat belts or helmets.

According to the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety, 71% of fatally injured ATV riders were killed in crashes involving no other vehicles in 2020. Helmets and seatbelts dramatically reduce the chance of serious injury, especially in single vehicle crashes.

"ATVs are popular for work and recreational purposes such as trail riding and hunting," said Major April Dombrowski, DNR Recreational Safety Section Chief. "Protect yourself and loved ones by always wearing a helmet. It's the single most important piece of protection an ATV or UTV rider can wear."

In addition to wearing a helmet, follow these tips for a safe ride:

• Use extra caution when operating on pavement.

• Always operate at a reasonable speed and within your abilities.

• Never consume alcohol or drugs before or during your ride.

• In addition to a seat belt and helmet, wear protective clothing such as eye protection, gloves, long pants and long sleeves.

• Know before you go. Review all ATV/UTV laws here.

Wisconsin law requires ATV and UTV operators born on or after Jan. 1, 1988, who are at least 12 years old for an ATV (and at least 16 years old for UTV) must complete an ATV safety certification course to operate in Wisconsin (exception: on private property owned by operator's immediate family). These safety courses can be taken online or in person. A list of approved safety education classes is available on the DNR Safety Education webpage.

Wisconsin law also requires every operator involved in a crash incident to report the incident without delay to law enforcement officials. Operators must submit a written report to the DNR within 10 days of the incident.

An Outdoorsman's Journal

by Mark Walters

First Deer!

Hello friends,

This is one of those week's where I have five times more material than the space to write it. This column is dedicated to my good friend Rod Bensley who lives with his wife Wendy Vick near Burnett in Dodge County. Rod is probably the best habitat/land manager that I have ever met. Rod has cancer, has majorly outlived his diagnosis, is in tough shape, and for the hunt you are about to read about, opened his property up to a couple of kids for Wisconsin's Youth Deer Hunt.

Saturday, October 8th
High 63, low 30

I would be mentoring and sitting in a portable tree stand next to 12-year-old Carsyn Thiede who is the daughter of Tyler and Patsy Thiede of Mayville. Kieth Kneiser does a lot of volunteer work on this property and would be in a box stand with his 15-year-old granddaughter Kennedy Kneiser of Oostsberg. Tyler Thiede would be on a total go for it hunt on state land near the Horicon Marsh with his 10-year-old son Conner.

Carsyn and I would be hunting in a forest that is a natural funnel between several food plots and corn fields. A brief description of our upcoming hunts, almost nonstop deer or turkey activity and lots of laughter. I did my best to teach Carsyn that this hunt was a learning experience and everything else was a bonus. We had deer long before daylight within 10-yards of us and over the next three hours we had an unbelievable hunt with five buck experiences including one that was bigger than anything that I have ever harvested.

I said this hunt was a learning experience and I meant it. We used "cookie doe" cow manure for a cover scent and it worked perfectly but getting a first-time hunter a shot without getting busted did not happen and we simply did not care.

Just before 7:00 we did hear the bark of Kennedy Kneiser's 270 and though she did not know it at the moment, it was lights out for her first deer which was five-point buck. We took a break after our hunt and found it 30 yards from where she had taken her shot. Our good friend Rod is a hurting unit, but he was able to enjoy some time with Kennedy and her buck and that is what this weekend was all about.

On the evening hunt it was much slower for Carsyn and myself but Conner and Tyler had a great hunt and Conner made a 140 yard shot on an adult doe and now two of our kids had their first deer.

Sunday, October 9th
High 56, low 31

This morning Carsyn and I had most of our experiences at a food plot that we could see but it was too far for a shot. After our hunt we used my loppers and made a ground blind and were we ever excited for our afternoon hunt. As usual, the mood was happy when we got in our blind and it was not long and three does entered the plot about 50-yards away. Carsyn was well composed but shaking like a leaf as she rested her TC 6.5 Creidmore in a bolt action on a shooting stick which I braced. When she went to shoot her gun would not fire. The doe busted us and life was not as much fun but we made it fun. A half hour later the same type of experience happened and again her gun would not fire. Again, I kept things positive. Twice we had deer bust us from behind by snorts that were very close.

We had about 20-minutes of daylight left when a large buck entered the food plot from 100-yards away and began rubbing his antlers on a tree. I had Carsyn set up on the shooting stick and she was too excited for an accurate shot. I changed the plan to lay on the ground and put the rifle on my backpack. When she told me she was ready to fire I said shoot if you are ready.

The first thing she told me was the gun won't go off. I knew this had the potential to be very bad for her hunting drive in the future. I told her there was nothing I could do and lets just live for the moment and watch the buck. After about 20-seconnds I said give me the gun and pushed the safety forward real hard and set her up for another try. She was real nervous but smooth. I told her to think about something serious. When the rifle went off the 8-point, very heavy bodied buck was dead before it hit the ground and we had a memory of a great weekend that both of us will always cherish.

Carsyn had a great attitude every minute of this weekend and she really got into the deer and turkey spotting contest that we had on each hunt.

Rod came down with the UTV, we took pics and life is grand!

Sunset

Kennedy was fortunate enough to be able to share first deer experience with her Grandpa Keith!

Carsyn put in the work for her first buck, but it all worked out in the end.

Carly McCreary Runs at State Cross Country Meet

Cumberland Junior Carly McCreary was one of 149 participants at the D3 State Cross Country Meet held in Wisconsin Rapids last Saturday. McCreary qualified by finishing fourth at the Phillips Sectional the previous week.

McCreary, completing her first year in the sport, ran a 22:38 to finish 100th in the field. Cochrane-Fountain Freshman Addy Duellman won the State Meet with a time of 18:58, 10 seconds ahead of the second-place finisher. "It was a lot of fun and I want to thank Coach Rosenow and my teammates for their support and help in getting me to Wisconsin Rapids," said McCreary.

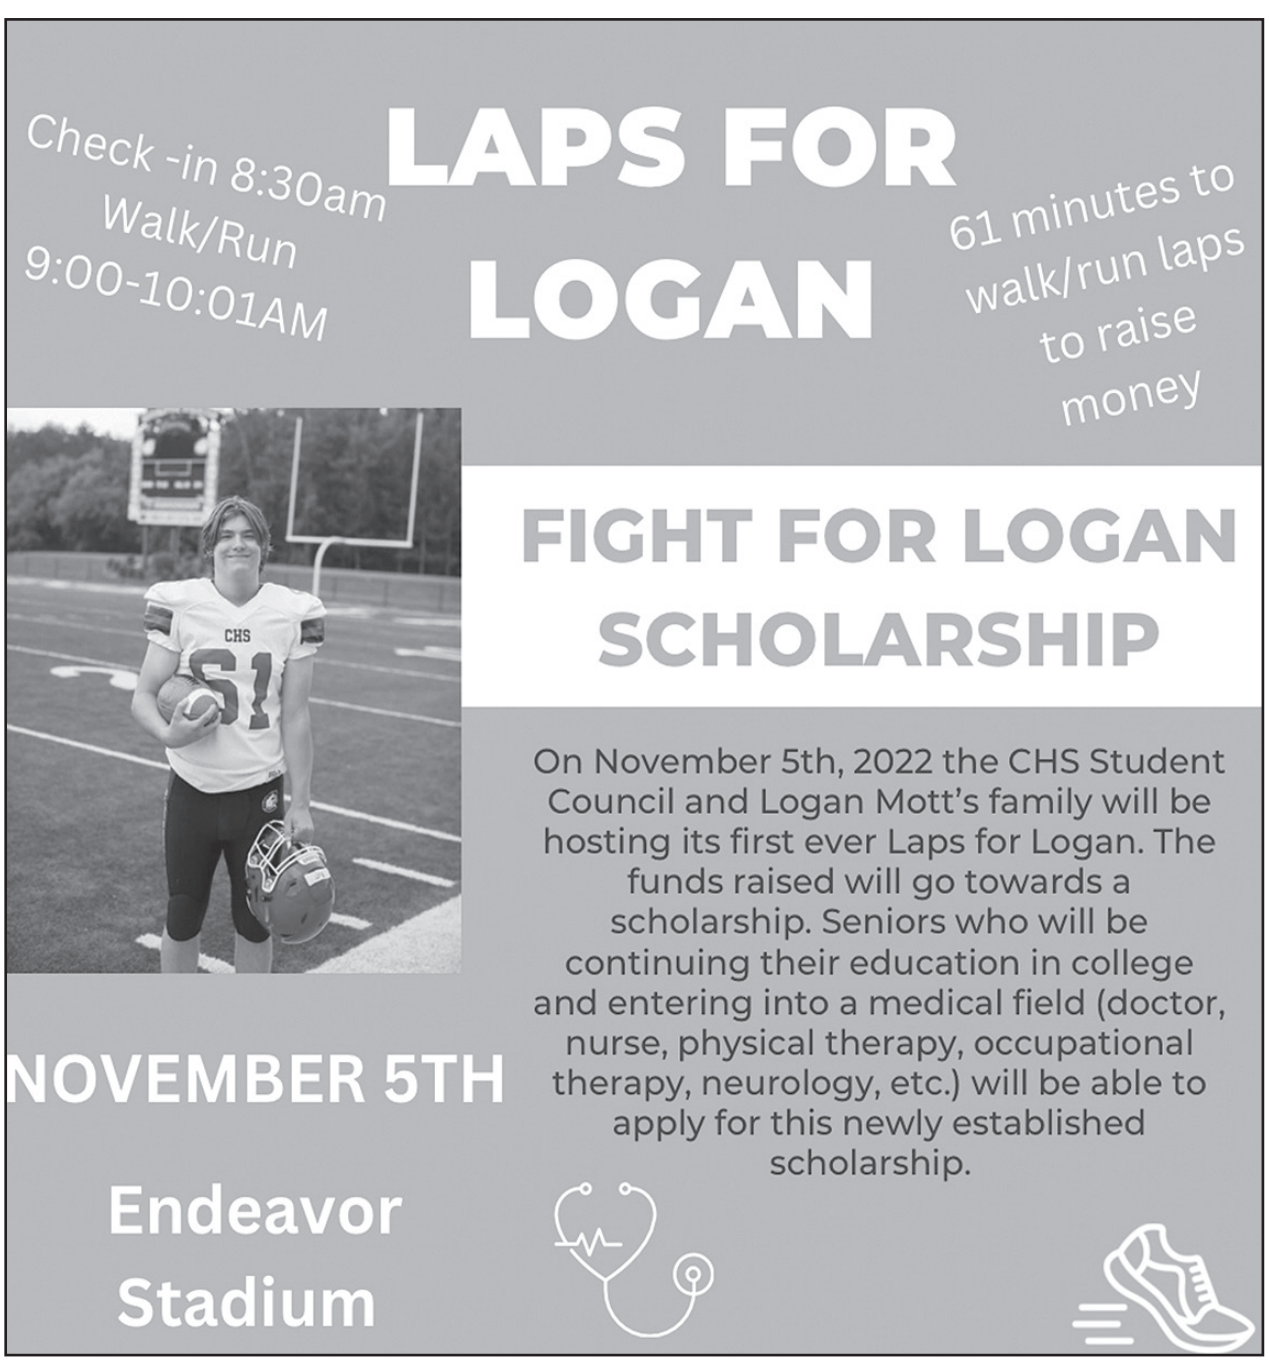

Cochrane-Fountain City took home the D3 Team Title. Locally, Amery took 5th place in the D2 competition. "Carly's trip to State was a great finish to our season. I can't wait to see what Carly and the rest of our team can do next fall. They were a great bunch to work with and our future is very bright," concluded Head Coach Wilbur Rosenow.

Carly McCreary had a great send off before heading to Wisconsin Rapids for the State Cross Country Meet. Congratulations Carly!

This week:

"The Extraordinary Life of an Ordinary Man"

by Paul Newman

c.2022, Knopf $32.00 320 pages

The eyes must've been two feet tall. And they were looking right at you.

For a minute, you imagined that they were following you as you sat eating buttery popcorn in a darkened room. And that was your introduction to the work of a man you loved more with every movie he made. Now meet Paul Newman in his memoir, "The Extraordinary Life of an Ordinary Man" and follow him.

In the fall of 1986, Paul Newman sat down with "a dear friend" and they began a series of recordings of Newman's thoughts on his life. Volunteers and family made transcripts and the project grew, then disappeared when he died in 2008.

In 2019, it was found, and the family decided "to finish what was started."

Newman began his story with surprising bitterness. His family was well-to-do, but the sounds of "constant warfare" filled the home; his father seemed trapped in a life he didn't want, his mother was a "suspicious" person. Newman "began to feel like an outcast."

It didn't help that he was scrawny as a teen, and was obsessed with girls. That preoccupation continued when he was drafted and entered the Navy. He came home from World War II with romantic experience, and immediately enrolled at a non-coed college, which he says was a mistake. It reignited his obsession with women.

It was there that he auditioned for a part in a play, and discovered acting.

Readers will have to look hard to find any bragging in this book, which is refreshing but also rather curious: Newman-the-heartthrob was reticent about the details of his love life. Still, he shares keen memories of meeting and falling in love with Joann Woodward when he was still married to a woman he loved and respected. He had children with that woman, but "Joanne gave birth to a sexual creature."

Fame, for Newman, was "a dream and a nightmare at the same time." He admired the steely professionalism of Elizabeth Taylor; loved being a parent, but seemed slightly baffled by it; drank too much, and he knew it. And, surprisingly, he said, "I never enjoyed acting."

To say that "The Extraordinary Life of an Ordinary Man" is like eavesdropping on your favorite celebrity isn't going far enough. This book is like having drinks in an overseas pub with him, and he doesn't think you know who he is.

An unguarded attitude is apparent from the very beginning of author Paul Newman's part of this book; there are other points-of-view scattered about here, but Newman is the star. In his own words, we get a story, nothing glossy, no hogwash, straight facts, emotions, and a near-total lack of varnish that's shocking in its nakedness. That's something you don't expect in a book about Hollywood.

Also don't expect unnecessary names in "The Extraordinary Life of an Ordinary Man," because it's not that kind of memoir. It's humble, but honest; charming, with an I-don't-care-what-you-think attitude. And if you're wondering if you'd like that kind of book, the ayes have it.

If you're in search of something great to take in the car, on vacation, on the tractor, or to the lunchroom, Terri can be reached at bookwormsez@yahoo.com. Happy Reading!

Barronett News

By Judy Pieper

I hope you had a happy Halloween and were able to give treats to lots of little ghosts and goblins.

Members of the Barronett civic club hosted their annual kids' Halloween party on Saturday. There were lots of children dressed up in costumes, playing games and enjoying the snacks and beverages prepared by club members. Lily Bos came closest to guessing the number of candies in a water bottle and so was able to take the bottle and candies home with her. The cake walk was, once again this year, very popular with the little ones. There were lots of prizes and candy given away and civic club members would like to thank everyone who so generously donated items for the party. They would also like to thank all the volunteers for setting up and the youth volunteers who helped run the games.

Kurt and Jamie Anderson and their children, Kaitlynn, Jessica and Alex, came to our house on Saturday afternoon for a pumpkin carving party. It was great!! I'm not artistic at all, so I was the designated seed-puller-outer and the others were in charge of making the pumpkins look scary or, in some cases, beautiful. A dozen were carved, and they were placed in the lily bed in front of the house. After the kids were done carving pumpkins, I served sloppy joes, chips, Jello and cookies. (A small price to pay for getting the Halloween decorations done without having to work too hard.)

The carving party was held in our garage, and I came out dressed in my witch costume. (No snide comments, please.) The kids thought it was great, and I hardly had to change my facial features at all in order to look scary.

Oh, by the way, Jamie's daughter, Jessica, was one of the Cameron Middle School band members selected to participate in the jazz ensemble this Thursday evening at Shell Lake High School. Duane and I were at the middle school band concert last week and were so impressed with the great performance by the kids. Their band director gets amazing results from her students. Anyway, that's when the names of the students selected for the performance in Shell Lake were announced and we were very proud that Jessica was one of them.

Geri Pittman, Duane and I enjoyed a delicious breakfast at Sal's on 63 Sunday morning. The restaurant has been open for almost a month now, and things are going very well. A lot of the crew from Bistro 63 stayed on, and the Lehmann's have added some kitchen help and servers. If you haven't been in yet, stop by and check things out.

Oak View Adult Family Home will be hosting the annual Scandinavian Smorgasbord this Sunday, November 6th, from noon until 3:00 p.m. at the Barronett community center. We will be serving Swedish meatballs, ham, rutabagas, potatoes, lefse, fruit soup – the list goes on and on. There will also be a bake and craft sale table. Check out the ad in this newspaper for all the details. All proceeds go to the Cumberland and Shell Lake school lunch programs. Please plan to join us for delicious food and great conversations.

Oh, and remember, this is the weekend that daylight savings time ends so be sure to set your clocks back an hour before you go to bed Saturday night. If you do forget about setting the clock back and get to the smorgasbord an hour early, you can sit and have coffee until the food is ready.

I have been frantically shopping for all the supplies for the smorgasbord. Even with lists I find that I get home and discover that I missed a dozen things. How do people who cater all the time get things done? That is way above my skill level.

Randy Lehmann flew in from Portland again this week to be with his mom. Anitia is still in the hospital in Rice Lake in very serious condition and Randy has been allowed to spend some nights with her in her room. We are all praying for the best for Anitia.

I'm sure you are reminded about the mid-term elections often enough with all the ads on television, radio and in the paper, but I will remind you one more time. Be sure to vote on Tuesday. Every vote counts!

That's about all I know from Barronett this week. Enjoy our beautiful fall weather. See you next time.

OBITUARIES

Ruby Nystrom

Ruby Nystrom (Ruby Elgene Huehn) died peacefully in Cumberland Memorial Hospital on October 24, 2022, at the age of 95.

Ruby was born on February 23, 1927, in Cumberland Wisconsin to Charlie and Edith (Case) Huehn. She graduated from Cumberland High School in 1944. On January 8, 1945, Ruby married Frank Babcock, who preceded her in death on July 8, 1952. On February 19, 1954, she married Donald Nystrom, who preceded her in death on July 25, 2006. She happily resided in Cumberland all her life as an outstanding active lifelong member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, and a loving mother and wife.

Ruby will be dearly missed by her children, David (Donna) Nystrom of Montgomery, Alabama, Gloria Babcock of Fallbrook, CA, Mary (James) Bolles of Woodbury, Minnesota, and Craig (Suzzan) Babcock of Tacoma, Washington; ten grandchildren; ten great-grandchildren; and two great-great-grandchildren; Preceded in death by parents, Charlie and Edith; husbands, Frank Babcock and Donald Nystrom; sons, Terry and Frank "Mickey" Babcock; granddaughter, Theresa Bercel; brother, August "Butch" Huehn; and sisters, Hazel Droege, Frances Grover, Dorothy Johnson, Hazel Johnson, Marjorie Turcotte, and Esther Miller.

Ruby's Memorial Service was held Friday, October 28, 2022, at St. Paul Lutheran Church of Cumberland. Interment Wisconsin Veterans Memorial Cemetery.

Skinner Funeral Home of Cumberland is serving the family.

Blue Hills Welcomes Arthur Thexton

Blue Hills Unitarian-Universalists welcome Arthur Thexton to the Rice Lake congregation Sunday, November 6th to conduct the Service. As election information and concerns fill the airwaves, many of us are challenged with the need to be "Coping with an Ugly Political Climate." Mr Thexton will seek to find ways to lead us to that goal.

Noting that our country was born in violent revolution, our right to vote is written in the blood of the patriots who fought for our independence. Fundamental freedom was again defended with blood in the Civil War and again in the war against Hitler. Thus, Thexton notes "It seems fitting and proper to reflect upon the meaning of the political campaigns that now routinely lead up to our voting, 246 years after the Revolution, 160 years after the Civil War, and 80 years after World War II. If I'm not mistaken, no one is happy with the tenor of politics in 2022. How shall we cope?"

The Sunday Service begins at 10 a.m. and all seeking insight are welcome at BHUU. Both the service and a free-range discussion period at 9 a.m. may be accessed via Zoom. The link is sent to members, but all interested may contact patriciashifferd@gmail.com for the link. Wearing masks is optional for those attending in person, although recommendations of the CDC are followed; all are expected to be fully vaccinated. Gathering for fellowship & coffee after the service is encouraged. https://bluehillsuu.org

Sons of Norway Dovre to Meet

Sons of Norway Dovre Lodge 5-353 will meet the "THIRD" Tuesday, November 15, 2022 at 6 PM at Chetek Lutheran Church, in Chetek, Wisconsin. (Please note the change of meeting date) A "potluck" supper will be served. Bring your favorite dish or goodies to share. The program will feature Norwegian Songs and Prayers. Come and join us for an evening of food, fun and fellowship. Visitors are always welcome!

Wisconsin Receives Federal Approval to Implement Housing Benefits

The Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS) received approval from the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services (CMS) to provide housing support for low-income Wisconsin families in need. Those who are eligible include families with children 18 and younger and individuals who are pregnant who have low income (below 200% of the federal poverty level) and do not have housing. Wisconsin is the first state to implement this type of housing benefit through a Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP) Health Services Initiative (HSI). The HSI option allows states to use a portion of CHIP funding to implement initiatives that improve the health of vulnerable children.

"We are very excited to be able to provide housing support to Wisconsin families in need," said DHS Secretary-Designee Karen Timberlake. "Research shows that stable housing is a crucial factor in health, and that health in childhood sets the foundation for positive lifelong outcomes. Connecting families with supportive housing services not only helps them right now, but is a proactive measure that can build a better future for Wisconsin children."

Church Directory

"Are You on Target?"

by Pastor Jared Andrea
Cumberland Baptist Church

With rifle season around the corner, some will be sighting in their rifles to ensure they're on target so they don't miss that big buck on opening weekend. Knowing if your rifle is on target is important, but being on target spiritually is infinitely and eternally more important. What does God consider to be on target? We must go to God's Word. Through the apostle Paul, God reveals to us what it's to be on target: The aim of our charge is love that issues from a pure heart and a good conscience and a sincere faith (1 Timothy 1:5). I'll briefly break down some main points of this verse:

Love is the goal/the target; specifically, love for God and others.

True love for God and others comes from sincere faith in Jesus Christ, the only Savior of sinners.

It's sincere faith in Christ alone that purifies the heart* from the defilement of our sin.

A pure heart desires to obey God's commandments and is enabled by God to obey His commandments (including His commandment to love Him and others)

Obeying God's commandments leads to a good conscience before God

We've all missed God's target to love Him and others. In and of ourselves, we are incapable of loving God and others no matter how hard we try. We must confess this to God and turn to Jesus Christ who, out of love for His Father and for sinners, laid down His life to save sinners and who took up His life again to give new and eternal life to all those who trust in Him. Those who receive new life by faith in Christ are given a new and true love for God which is demonstrated by keeping His commandments by their ongoing faith in Jesus. Those who trust in Jesus don't obey God perfectly; they still sin, but they humbly confess their sins to their loving Father who, because of Christ, is faithful and just to forgive them their sins and to cleanse them from all unrighteousness (1 John 1:9).

*In the Bible, the heart is our whole being; it includes our thoughts, desires, and will which lead to our actions.
