November Council Meeting Gives Positive News on TID-9 Development

by Mark R. Fuller

The Cumberland City Council held their monthly meeting at City Hall on Tuesday, November 2. Following acceptance of the agenda and the minutes of the October meeting, approval of the October expenses, and with no public comments from the floor, the Mayor and Council addressed the listed items for the month.

First on the list was approval for payment #6, of $54,466.26, to DeSantis Excavating & Underground Utility for work on the Hospital Extension Project. This comes close to completing their work at the site. This payment includes traffic maintenance, turf establishment, and connection to an existing water main.

An additional payment was approved to Haas Sons, Inc. for $104, 565.56, for construction of the Hospital Utility Lift Station #16 which provides retainage in accordance with contract documents.

The Council then authorized TID-7 money for final payment on the balance due for both a General Obligation Promissory Note as well as Payment, Prepayment, and Redemption of the Outstanding Obligation Refunding Bond Series 2012A, retiring the debt in both cases.

Finally, the Council and Mayor Shoemaker reviewed the proposed 2023 budget, which will be part of a public meeting on November 17 at 5:00 pm at City Hall.

The Council indicated that a look at potential cuts, with a goal of keeping any tax increases to a minimum, had been discussed at length in several Finance Meetings. Mayor Shoemaker added that ongoing Union negotiations was pushing things a bit behind, as the proposal for presentation is looking at an anticipated expenditure of $3,399,578.

The Council's last duty for the evening was the approval of Class A and Class B license applications. Consent was given for Ginny's Class A Liquor license as well as a Temporary Class B/Picnic license to several

Still Serving Our Country and Community: The American Legion and Auxiliary

by Mark R. Fuller

A group of 20 officers, who served in the American Expeditionary Forces in World War I, were asked to suggest ideas on how to improve troop morale. One officer, Lt. Col. Theodore Roosevelt Jr., proposed an organization of veterans, which we know today as The American Legion. It would be chartered on September 16, 1919, by the United States Congress.

As 15 Cumberland servicemen returned to town following the conclusion of WWI, an announcement ran in the October 30, 1919 Advocate, announcing a meeting to form a local Legion Post would take place on October 31, at 8:00 pm, in the K.P Hall above Wang's Drug Store. It was open to any serviceman, with an honorable discharge, who served between April 6, 1918 and the end of the War.

The following week, the Advocate announced 14 men had signed as charter members and asked for names to be sent in to name the new Post.

A second meeting was held that November, in which by-laws were drawn up and H.L. Goodrich was named the first Post Commander. It was also announced that the new name for the organization would be the Homer L. Anderson Post, after the first Cumberland serviceman to lose his life in World War 1.

Graduating from Cumberland High School in 1914, Anderson would join the service, but not survive the German U-boat sinking of the American Transport, the Tuscania, which was part of a convoy torpedoed in the Irish Sea in February of 1918. Headed towards France, it was the first ship carrying American troops to be sunk during WW1.

His body would eventually be returned to the Island City in October of 1920 and following a funeral at the Methodist Church, he would be laid to rest in the Lakeside cemetery.

Anderson's funeral was a time to remember his service and an opportunity to try and grow the Post. Members described the Legion's purpose as, "To get all ex-servicemen initiated into the order, of which every person who wore the uniform should belong."

In January of 1922, the Cumberland American Le-

Cumberland Community Saddened At Loss Of Young Mom; Main Street Business Owner

By Ellen Clare Sendelbach

There have been so many wonderful things said about Chana Wood. Wonderful, well written words. I don't need to repeat them here. Instead, I would like to share another side of Chana. A side that I loved so much!

Chana was a truly giving and accomplished person. Yet she remained oh so modest. She would deeply appreciate it when people would give her a complement on whatever she was doing. She would graciously accept the compliment but somehow manage to turn the compliment back around on the giver.

Chana also had the ability to acknowledge those around her that deserved to be recognized. When Chana was on the phone call for the television show production meeting, it was a key point for her to emphasize to the producer that the show should be 75% about her family and only 25%

The Salvation Army Red Kettle Campaign- We need your support Barron County!

The Barron County Salvation Army Red Kettle Campaign is set to kick off on Friday, November 18th! Community volunteers will be "Ringing the Bell" in in the City of Barron, Chetek, Cumberland, and Rice Lake. The Red Kettle Campaign is 131 year old and found throughout North America, Europe and many foreign countries. The Salvation Army provides for over 30 million people in the United States without discrimination. The Barron County Kettle Campaign goal is $107,000 for 2022. The funds raised through the campaign help support those in need with utility, rent, food, transportation and shelter expenses.

The Salvation Army continues to see a demand for homeless services and basic needs. With increasing utility, food and transportation costs, the Red Kettle Campaign will need the community to come together to help us serve those in need during these hard times.

Volunteers can sign up to ring the bell this season at www.registertoring.com. Businesses, civic, and church organizations are encouraged to take a day of ringing and can even sponsor a kettle for day and make a big difference in the lives of those we serve. As in previous years, there is a bell ringer hotline (715-912-2834) should anyone need assistance with signup. Three additional counties, St. Croix, Burnett and Polk, have their ringing sites listed at www.registertoring.org as well.

As times have changed more individuals are electing to use electronic means to donate. Many of the Red Kettle stands have NFC tags affixed. Donors just tap their smartphone on the NFC tag to be directed to a secure donation site. Contributed funds stay in the county where they are donated.

Help at Home! Donors can go to ttps://bit.ly/2022BarronCountyVirtualRedKettle to contribute to the 2022 Barron County Salvation Army Virtual Red Kettle.

For more Information on how the organization is serving in Barron County, go to Barron County Salvation Army on Facebook. Questions and or comments are welcomed by calling 715-912-2834

Law Enforcement Comes Together to Combat Overdose Deaths in Barron County

On Nov 3, 2022 law enforcement from across Barron County came together to talk about the increase in overdose deaths that have been happening in our communities. Today we stand together to ask for your help. There have been 14 overdose deaths in Barron County and 3 current active cases where an overdose is suspected, for a total of 17 in the past two years. The drugs involved in these deaths have been alcohol, meth, fentanyl, oxycodone, and other prescription drugs.

This is a very concerning issue. One death is too many. Help is available. We need people to keep reaching out to those who may need it. We understand getting help can be hard for many people. If you know someone who is affected by drugs or alcohol continue to encourage them to get help. We need the community to call in more tips. If you see something, say something. Saying something could save a life.

If you experience losing a loved one due to an overdose, though it may be extremely difficult, helping in the investigation can save other lives. If you or someone you know needs help or has a tip, please call 715-537-METH (6384). This is an anonymous helpline, for concerns dealing with all drugs. It is shared between law enforcement and the Barron County Department of Health and Human Services.

We thank you for your commitment to helping our communities. Together we can make a difference and save lives.

City Council...

businesses for the November 19 "Island City Sipper."

The evening closed with Committee and the Mayors reports.

The Utility Committee announced of an initial meeting with Northwest Builders, had provided a starting point for the Street and Utility Building Project, while the report on the Golf Course indicated a strong summer and the transitioning to a winter program which will include the continued opening of the Northwest Brew Pub at the course.

Mayor Shoemaker closed the evening thanking the Council for their challenging but thoughtful work with the budget and reporting on a "Very productive meeting" with the DNR, Engineers, Builders, and the Council on the TID-9 project.

Indicating it had taken a long-time to arrange, the Mayor said with enthusiasm, "We now have a handle on how to move forward and a good vision on how to develop the housing there while vastly minimizing further wetland issues." Mayor Shoemaker added that, "Lower anticipated expenses for Infrastructure" had also been established.

The meeting was adjourned following his comments.

Northwoods Notebook: Did we deserve this amazing fall? By Larry Werner

Guilt is a funny thing. Those of you who, like me, were raised Catholic understand it well.

When I was young, attending a Catholic school, we were given a compilation of rules in something called the "Baltimore Catechism." I have no idea what the city of Baltimore had to do with this book of dos and don'ts laid out in a question-and-answer format.

But it was the handbook for those of us who took our marching orders from Rome. Yes, there was the Bible, but, to be honest, most of us Catholics spent more time with the catechism than with scriptures. And the little paperback laid out the consequences for violating the rules, such as skipping church on Sunday, or, in those days, eating meat on Friday.

I can't remember whether those were mortal sins or venial sins, which were kind of like misdemeanors.

No wonder some of us feel guilty for almost everything, including the 70-degree temperatures we've been having long after we should have had highs in the 50s. What a wonderful fall it's been! And because we're in a drought, these autumn days have been dry as well as warm.

Our daily walks to the coffee shop have been delightful. We're lucky enough to walk along the lake most of the way to either Roots or Peter & Annie's, two places that make excellent lattes. The other day, while crossing the Grove Street bridge, Ann remarked that the lake has been much calmer this fall than it was for much of the summer. It's looking like glass right now, as I write this overlooking beautiful Beaver Dam.

For some meteorological reason, the summer was windy. I remember hearing it was one of the windiest summers ever. There were days when we talked about going out on the pontoon or kayaks but didn't because of the whitecaps.

This fall, we've remarked more than once that we put our boat into winter storage too early this year. Our homeowners' association president told us the docks were going to be pulled ashore the first week in October. So I dutifully notified Michael Benjamin, who stores our pontoon, that I'd meet him at the Third Avenue boat launch across the bay from my home on Sept. 29. It was a lovely day to turn my boat over to Michael, and there have been many days since when we could have been on the water.

They used to call autumns like this "Indian summer," which some said was like giving sports teams Native American nicknames. So the politically correct term is "Second summer," and we've had a good one. I can't stop feeling we didn't deserve these extra days of walking without coats, grilling steaks on the deck while enjoying a beverage and watching gulls, geese and an occasional eagle soaring under a sky as blue as the water below.

But my favorite season is changing.

The leaves that were yellow, red and orange a few weeks back are brown or fallen. By the time you read this, the days of 60s or better will probably be gone until spring. Daylight Saving Time will mean nightfall by dinner time. The weather guy said snow flurries are expected.

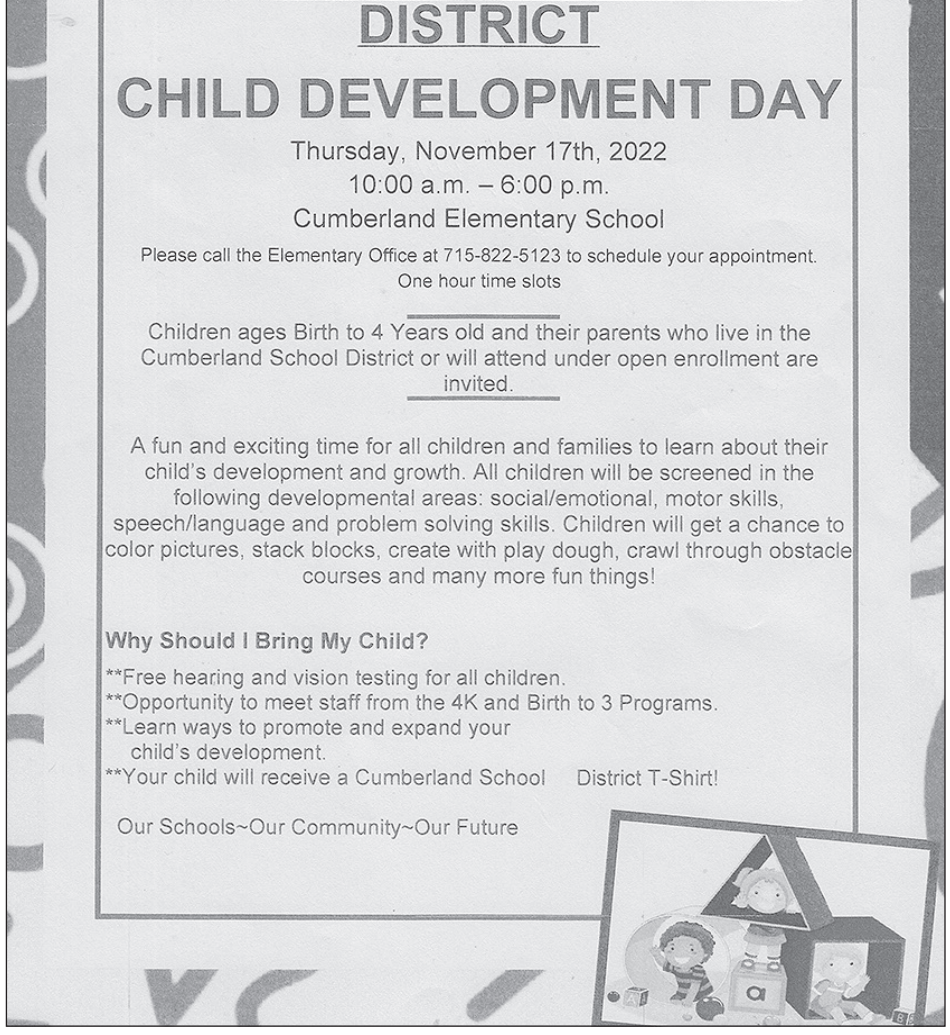

The roofs will be white with frost when we wake, and we'll bundle in our winter coats for the morning walk. We'll turn on the fireplace when we sit down to watch the evening news.

It was wonderful while it lasted. But I can't help feeling we didn't deserve it.

Out My Window

by Paul Bucher, Editor

It was a sad week here in downtown Cumberland with the unexpected passing of Chana Wood. The young mom, wife, and business woman will be missed by all who knew her. I personally talked to Chana on a few occasions and she was always extremely upbeat and positive. She has a beautiful family and a unique fun store just down the street. Cumberland will not be the same without her. Many prayers to Chana's family and friends. You will be missed. Rest in Peace.

I received a unique renewal for the Advocate last week. Robert McFadden, a Cumberland High School Graduate Class of 1955, renewed his annual subscription. Mr. McFadden is a Pulitzer Prize winning writer for the New York Times. Bob said in his letter he is still reporting full time after 61 years at the Times. That is absolutely amazing to me. Thank you for your encouraging words and continued support!

Speaking of subscriptions, if yours is coming due, you might want to pay it sooner than later to save a few bucks. Just like everything else, the cost of paper continues to rise along with Postal increases. The printing plant just announced another increase. That will be about a 16% increase this year and the Postal Service is expected to raise rates again as well. We have no choice but to raise rates. The Advocate will still be less than a buck an issue with a subscription!

The Packers fell to a new low with a loss to the lowly Lions. It's hard to believe how badly the team looks the last five games. It doesn't look like a turn around is in the cards. Meanwhile, the Vikings keep finding ways to win. The next wont will tell a lot. Have a good week!

Inside Wisconsin

by Tom Still

"Don't lose sight of major company successes well past startup stage"

MADISON, Wis. – The spotlight will shine on emerging companies and entrepreneurs Nov. 9-10 during the Wisconsin Early Stage Symposium in Madison and with good reason: Young firms spawn jobs and invigorate the economy from below, sometimes displacing older systems and companies in a process economists call "creative destruction."

Those young companies continue to innovate after they mature, in some cases for decades or more. Three Wisconsin examples illustrate the point that when startup companies "grow up," they play in larger arenas, create lots of jobs and provide goods and services that help everyone.

Promega Corp. was among the first companies to pitch at the Early Stage Symposium, called the "Madison Venture Fair" at the time, with its ideas for producing chemical and biological "tool kits" to help researchers and scientists find better diagnostics and therapies. Today, Promega has about 1,200 employees in the Madison area alone, branches in 16 countries and more than 50 global distributors of about 4,000 products – reagents, assays and benchtop instruments among them.

Recent market news about the company has focused on its standing as a leading global player in "plasmid DNA purification," which has therapeutic uses but can also be used in research settings, such as gene cloning or mapping. With a rising number of people seeking gene therapy for chronic diseases, it is a growing sector.

Promega research has recently gone beyond the confines of Earth. Because astronauts who spend a lot of time in space are exposed to significant radiation, NASA scientists are using a Promega instrument – called OncoMate for short – to measure the effects of long-term radiation on human DNA and increased incidence of diseases, including cancer. Like many space-related technologies from the past, this testing could have much broader applications.

SHINE Technologies in Janesville is getting closer to its goal of producing medical radioisotopes on a scale that could help patients everywhere. The company recently announced testing is complete on a "supercell" device critical to production of molybdenum-99, which is used in about 40 million nuclear medicine procedures per year worldwide. When the supercell structure is delivered to Janesville, SHINE will move one step closer to federal regulatory approval and being able to produce about 20 million MO-99 doses per year at what the company calls its "Chrysalis" facility.

The company was born in research at UW-Madison and plans to build a second nuclear medicine facility in the Netherlands after the Janesville plant is running. Founder and chief executive officer Greg Piefer was recently recognized by Goldman Sachs as one of its "most exceptional entrepreneurs" of 2022.

Exact Sciences was a nearly dead company in Boston in the late 2000s when it was moved to Madison with a bit of help from state government. With less than a handful of workers at the time, it stands at about 7,000 employees with many of them in Madison.

Chief Executive Officer and co-founder Kevin Conroy took to Twitter the other day to applaud the latest ruling by the federal Center for Medicare and Medicaid Services, which he said will "reduce barriers and expand coverage for colorectal cancer screening … Colorectal cancer is the most preventable, yet least prevented cancer and finalizing this change means more Americans will have access to earlier detection of this deadly disease."

In its final ruling, CMS said it will eliminate all cost to Medicare patients for a full colonoscopy test that follows a positive, at-home colorectal cancer screening using Exact's Cologuard stool-based DNA screening test. The company will also be a part of upcoming healthcare conferences in London, California and New York with news about other developments involving independent research at Dartmouth College and the Mayo Clinic.

Not all young companies succeed; in fact, most don't. Those that do get over the startup hurdles can pay dividends to investors, local markets and society for years to come.

The closing of Cumberland's Stokely-Van Camp canning plant leaves a void for the surrounding area that not only needs to be filled but comes at a bad time with a nationwide economic slump. The loss of jobs and payments to farmers hits $2 million hard. Employees, farmers and area residents hope that a different company, or Stokely, comes into the community with another plant to help take off some of the weight.

Seeger, 38, of Alma, has been charged with forgery (court document), two counts of forgery (undated letter), forgery-official certificate/return (original notary acknowledgment-altered after notary signed and affixed her notary stamp), forgery-official certificate/return (copy of altered notary acknowledgment), and identity theft-anything of value or benefit (Copy of notary stamp placed on undated letter containing forged signature).

A detective with the Barron County Sheriff's Department, reports he initiated a criminal investigation after he was contacted by K.J.S., who advised Barron County Clerk of Court's office had received two fraudulent letters with his signature that were associated with two different Barron County cases in which K.J.S., is a party. K.J.S. stated that one of the undated letters with his signature had a notary acknowledgment and stamp that is dated July 22, 022. K.J.S's name is printed on the notary acknowledgment. The letter, which is addressed to Circuit Court Judge Maureen Boyle, requests the court to dismiss Case #120, a case in which K.J.S. petitioned the court for, and obtained a harassment injunction against the defendant, Seeger.

K.J.S. stated the other undated letter with his signature was filed in Barron County Case #239, a divorce case in which K.J.S. is in the process of obtaining a divorce from Seeger. In addition to the undated letter, a legal document entitled Stipulation Dismissing Divorce/Legal Separation was also filed with the Clerk of Court's office in #239. K.J.S.'s signature appears on the undated letter and stipulation, and his name appears on a notary acknowledgment and stamp that is dated July 22, 2022. The letter, which is addressed to Circuit Court Judge James Babler, requests the court to dismiss the divorce case with prejudice, and also requests Seeger not be ordered to pay child support.

K.J.S. advised he did not sign either of the undated letters or the stipulation, nor did he send them to the Barron County Clerk of Court's office. The detective reports he compared the signatures on the two undated letters and stipulation and they appear to be in the same handwriting. The detective reports that K.J.S's signature on the two undated letters and stipulation do not match the handwriting of K.J.S's signature when K.J.S. signed two separate voluntary statements regarding the fraudulent letters and stipulation that were sent to the Clerk of Court's office, and his suspicion that Seeger had accessed his AT&T account and changed the passcodes on his account without his consent. K.J.S stated he did not give anyone consent to print his name on the notary acknowledgments or sign his name on the two undated letters and stipulation that were filed with the Clerk of Court's office.

The fraudulent filing of the undated letter in Barron County, Case #120, prompted Judge Boyle to draft a letter to K.J.S. dated July 28, 2022, explaining the process for how K.J.S. should proceed if he wanted to vacate the domestic abuse injunction. This was the first time K.J.S heard of the letter in Barron County Case #120. K.J.S. was aware, after speaking with his divorce attorney on July 27, 2022, that the undated letter in Barron County Case #239 had been filed.

The detective reports he observed that the two separate notary acknowledgments were both signed by a female notary. In the course of his investigation, the detective discovered that the female works at a bank in Barron. The detective reports that the female sent him a written letter describing her interaction with Seeger on July 22, 2022. In the female's letter, she states that Seeger, who the female only knows from Seeger's business relationship as a member of the bank, came into the lobby by herself asking for notary services at the teller station. The female states Seeger was directed to her.

The female states Seeger provided her with two papers. An Acknowledgment of Notary and a personally drawn up document. The female states she asked Seeger for her driver's license in order to positively identify Seeger before completing the notary. The female states Seeger went back outside to her vehicle to retrieve her driver's license. The female states she verified Seeger's identity by looking at Seeger's driver's license. The female then filled out Seeger's Acknowledgment of Notary, and placed her notary stamp on the acknowledgment and on the paper that Seeger signed in front of her.

The female states she had contact with Seeger a second time on July 22, 2022. The second contact was for a vehicle payment to be transferred. The female states she located Seeger's account and made the appropriate payment that Seeger requested. The female states those were the only times she had contact with Seeger on July 22, 2022.

The female states she reviewed the notarized documents provided by the detective. The female states she did not notarize anything for a male subject on July 22, 2022 or at any other time during her registration as a notary.

The detective reports he obtained surveillance video from the bank, in which shows Seeger entering the bank through the front doors on July 22, 2022. the video shows Seeger speaking with a teller and then, a short time later, moving over to another desk and reception area and meeting with the female. Seeger placed the papers she had in her hand on the female's desk. The detective reports he obtained a transaction receipt that shows on July 22, 2022, Seeger made a car payment in the amount of $300 from her account.

The detective reports that when he examined both notary acknowledgments that are dated July 22, 2022, he observed what appears to be an extra line inside on of the letters in K.J.S's printed name on the acknowledgments. The detective concluded that K.J.S's printed name appears where the female had written Seeger's name on the Notary Acknowledgment she signed. The detective further concluded that, after Seeger's name was removed from the Notary Acknowledgment that the female signed, it was replaced by K.J.S's name. The Notary Acknowledgment the female signed was then copied, which is how there were two acknowledgments, one for each of the undated letters that were fraudulently filed with the Clerk of Court's office.

The female did not consent anyone altering the Notary Acknowledgment she signed on July 22, 2022. The female did not consent to anyone copying the Notary Acknowledgment she signed, after it had been altered, as an acknowledgment to a document she did not notarize (Notary Acknowledgment associated with the letter to Judge Babler. The female did not consent to anyone copying her notary stamp and placing it on a document she did not notarize.

If convicted for forgery (court document), Seeger may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than six years or both. For two counts of forgery (undated letter), she may be fined not more than $10,000 for each count or imprisoned not more than six years or both for each count. For forgery-official certificate/return (original notary acknowledgment-altered after notary signed and affixed her notary stamp), she may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than six years or both. For forgery- official certificate/return (copy of altered notary acknowledgment), she may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than six years or both. For identity theft, she may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than six years or both. Her initial appearance is scheduled for November 9, 2022.

Amery Man Leads Law Enforcement on 20 Mile Chase in Barron County

On Monday, November 7, at 7:30 p.m., the Barron County Sheriff's Department received a call of a suspicious male on a property south of Barron. Deputies from the Sheriff's Department responded to the area but did not locate any suspect.

While deputies were on scene of the first call, a second call came in reporting a suspicious male on another property a few miles away. Deputies were advised there was a small red car in the area. Deputies located where the suspect vehicle had been but it had fled the area. The suspect vehicle appeared to have travelled through a field driveway, into a field and through a fence.

While deputies were following the tracks of the suspect vehicle, Barron County Dispatch received a third call from a residence in the area. The caller advised a small red car pulled in and the driver got out and took the caller's pickup truck.

Deputies responded to this area and located this stolen truck. Deputies attempted to stop the truck on Hwy 25 south of Barron. The truck failed to stop and a chase ensued for about 20 miles through the Village of Dallas and towards Chetek. A Chetek Police Officer set up tire deflation devices just east of Chetek and successfully punctured all four tires, however the truck continued into the City of Chetek where it stopped near the Keg N' Kork station. The driver of the stolen truck, exited the truck and attempted to take another vehicle at the pumps but was unsuccessful. The driver then fled on foot into a wooded swampy area.

A perimeter was set up and K-9 and drones were used to locate the suspect hiding in the brush. Derek Aune, 45 of Amery, was taken into custody without further incident. He is being held in the Barron County Jail on charges of Operating a Motor Vehicle with Owners Consent, Felony Fleeing and a warrant from Probation, and he is awaiting formal charges by the Barron County District Attorney's Office.

The Barron County Sheriff's Department was assisted by the Barron Police Department and the Chetek Police Department.

Winter Sports Teams Begin Practice

Boy's Hockey and Girl's Basketball began practice this week as the fall sports seasons are complete and high school athletes turn their attention towards the winter sports.

Two Cumberland athletes, Dylan Capra and Brodie Chartraw, have signed up to play for the Northwest Icemen's Co-op Hockey Team. Capra was a member of last year's squad, a group that hopes to build on their 5-16-1 record of a year ago.

Spooner will not be part of this year's Co-op after forming their own community team this winter. The team opens up on Friday, November 18, when they travel to Ashland for a 7:00 pm start.

The Girl's Basketball Team, meanwhile, will be under the direction of new Head Coach, Kim Weber. Cumberland is coming off one of their best seasons since the early 2000s, going 15 and 9 a year ago and finishing in 4th place in HON play.

They lost a strong senior class, but returners are headed by Teagan Monson, who finished HON competition, 7th in rebounding and 9th in assists and Orion Thompson, a solid all around player. The team scrimmages at Unity next Tuesday and opens up against Amery on November 17.

Next Monday, the Boy's Basketball Team and Wrestling team begin drills. Both teams were young last season, but return plenty of firepower and look to make a lot of positive noise this winter.

The Boy's Basketball Team finished at 9 and 16, but return First Team All-Conference selection Jax Effertz and lost only one senior off the squad. Other returners for Coach Corey Berghammer include Vaughn Johnson, Monty Peterson, David Olson and Gavin Gores, making the Beavers one of this year's favorites to take home the HON Championship. There looks to be a lot of excitement building for Cumberland Basketball fans this winter.

Another team returning a large contingent, are the Cumberland wrestlers, who struggled early on, but improved to finish third at the 2022 WIAA Regional. They will be headed by two-time State Champion and one of the state's best, Dawson Johnson.

Other returners for Coach Justin Peterson include Conference Champion Jack Chafer and third place HON finishers Jack Owens and Harrison Ruppel. Include wrestlers like Cooper Schramski and Gabe Erickson and one can see the Beavers matmen making a strong bid for another HON title.

Cumberland Alumni Doing Well with College Teams

Several former Cumberland athletes are continuing to do well on their College teams.

Northern Michigan, where Ania Hyatt is a Sophomore, finished up their regular season volleyball schedule last week with a record of 22-7, 14-4 in Conference play. The Wildcats earned a #2 seed in the Conference Tournament, where they opened up Wednesday against Saginaw Valley State.

Jack Martens, a freshman eligible wide receiver at South Dakota, caught a pass for 13 yards as the Coyotes won their third game of the year last Saturday with a 21-14 victory over Missouri State. For the season, Martens has 11 receptions for 169 yards and has returned six kickoffs for a 23.7 average..South Dakota is back in action this Saturday when they take on arch rival North Dakota.

Payton Rose will be playing the last game of his outstanding career at D2 Lindenwood College this Saturday, when the 6 and 3 Lions take on McKendree University. Rose recently set Lindenwood's all-time career touchdown reception mark when he caught his 33rd six-pointer and added on to his totals this past Saturday with two more scoring receptions against Tennessee Tech. On the year, Rose has caught 51 balls for 1018 yards and nine scores

Kobe Berghammer had another excellent game last Saturday, when the 5 and 4 Oshkosh Titans defeated UW-Stevens Point, 45-0. He will run into a former teammate, Sam Schradle, this Saturday when the Titans take on UW-Eau Claire.

Berghammer rushed for over 100 yards and scored a touchdown on the ground against the Pointers, while throwing three scoring passes in the victory. Schradle, meanwhile, in one of the Bluegold's top tacklers as an outside linebacker.

Sports Look Back, November, 1932

Local wrestling fans witnessed some fine exhibition of this sport at the McKinley Town Hall Thursday night. The card consisted of four bouts with a very good double headliner.

In the first match, Duane Damon of McKinley lost to Henry Mortiz of Sand Lake. Moritz appeared to be too strong for young Damon and broke many punishing holds in short order. Moritz took the first five-minute round and then threw Damon for a fall in 4 1/2 minutes to win the match.

Leonard Miller of Almena, had no trouble defeating Lee Hayward of Loraine in two successive falls, the first in 3/4 minutes with an easy body hold, and the second in two minutes with a headlock. Miller was just too fast and experienced for Hayward.

Flash Lamont of Frederic and Sam Monchilovich of Loraine, put on a fast exhibition of wrestling. Flash took the first fall in two minutes with a headlock and arm scissors. Sam retaliated by securing an arm scissors to take the second fall in one minute. Lamont won the match by pinning Sam's shoulders to the mat in one mute with an arm lock and head scissors. Monchilovich appeared to be out of condition and probably could give the Flash more competition if he went into training.

Clarke Damon of Loraine, a coming new professional, ran into a real battle when he tackled Chuck Smith of Cumberland. Damon is a hard, heady wrestler and knows a great deal about the game. He demonstrated his sourcefulness by pulling himself off the mat when in trouble. He threw Smith in 4 1/2 minutes for the first fall, but Smith secured a toe-hold in two minutes to even things up. The boys were both tired but showed fight, and Damon won when Smith forfeited as Damon secured a punishing scissors and headlock.

Rocky Mountain Elk Hunt/The Camps

Hello friends,

I recently returned from what for myself was an epic adventure that I did by myself and that was, hunting elk and mule deer while living in the mountains in southern Montana for 8-nights. I think you will enjoy this series of columns as each one is very unique. As always, thanks for reading.

Wednesday, October 19th

High 71, low 46

I left my home near Necedah yesterday driving a pickup with 354,000 miles and pulling a trailer. The Chevy Hotel would put on another 2600 miles flawlessly and not use a drop of oil.

I took interstate 94 and North Dakota was loaded with ducks and what I also saw was low water in every form and every state. The rivers in Montana are extremely low.

I would drive to where I last hunted for elk in 2007 with then 19-year-old Ryan Moll. On that hunt Ryan harvested a rag horn and we both filled our mule deer tags. This would be my fourth elk hunt and all of the past hunts have had major snowstorms on either opening day or the day before.

I would arrive on a Wednesday with the season opening on Saturday and I was going to hike the mountains as much as possible and when I found "elk paradise." I would build a spike camp near my intended hunting area and have a base camp at the base of the mountain in a US Forest Service campsite. I was well aware that on opening weekend a major blizzard was forecast for the area, and I would use a small tent that was well tarped for my spike camp. My base camp would be made of my pop-up of 13x8 Eskimo ice fishing shack. I put a 20x30 tarp that was heavily roped above the shack and had my usual kitchen, cot, propane lights, heater and cook stove.

First failure, I simply cannot find the mountain pass where Ryan and I based and hunted. I am worn down from the drive, pulling a trailer on some difficult mountain roads, "backing up often," and running out of daylight.

On three occasions I spoke with Montana mountain men and though all of them tried to help me my situation was not pretty. Major learning experience, everyone is talking grizzly bear and carrying both bear spray and pistols. There are lots of stories of bear encounters. I had spray, no pistol.

After 40-miles, and lots of stress I may have found where I camped/hunted with Ryan. The weather is perfect, and I saw elk tracks on a short hike.

On this night I slept in my trailer and let me tell you bear problems are a constant conversation. There are a lot of rules pertaining to cooking in tents and how you store food. Foolish moves can cost people, bears, or both their lives.

Thursday, October 20th

High 73, low 42

The first thing that I did this morning was begin to climb the mountain and explore. My goal was to find open grass areas "sometimes referred to as parks" where elk and mule deer feed.

I am literally on top of the world both physically and mentally and for the first 2000 feet do not see anything that interests me. I keep exploring and have forgotten my compass. I get physical and stay on the move. I find more sign and keep moving, soon I found an area where it is obvious that elk are nearby, I keep moving. I come to an opening where the trees are torn apart by a bull, there is some grass and I know I have found home.

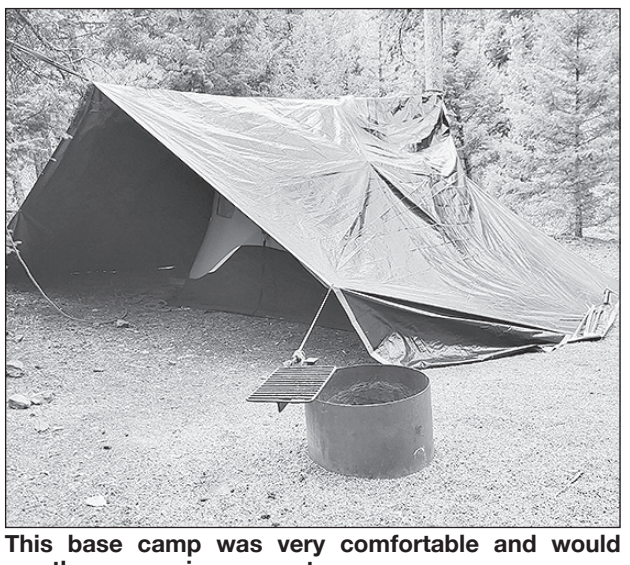

I had three trail cameras, and a chip, not cellular as they are illegal. I put the cameras on trails and am totally into the game. Cameras can be used for pictures but not hunting, I retired them once the season began.

I do the nearly 3-mile hike down to the base camp that I have yet to build. For three hours I work on the most perfect base camp that in my mind for the last three months I could dream up. In the middle of the afternoon, I strap on my fully loaded backpack, climb the mountain, and build my spike camp which is where I will sleep some nights to avoid the long climb, I feel good about my plan.

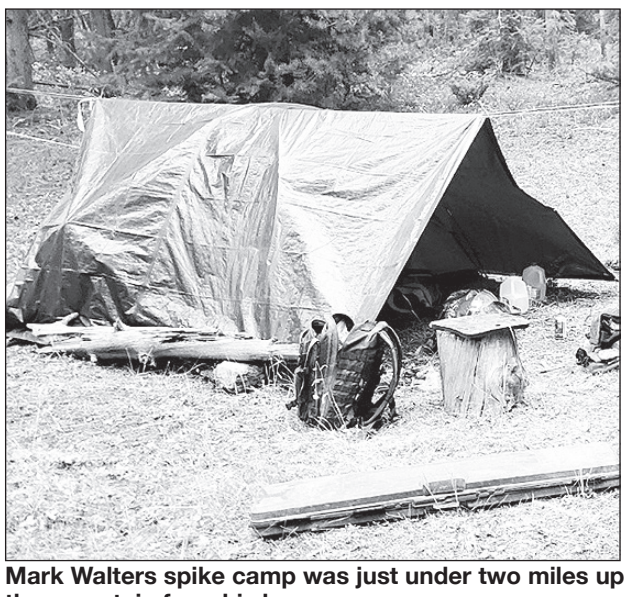

Friday, October 21st

High 68, low 44

Today was physical and also a great day. My plan was to sleep at my spike camp and whack an elk or mule deer the following morning. In the middle of the afternoon I climbed the mountain with a big load, was happy to see that my spike camp had no bear damage and then went the nearly one mile to where

This base camp was very comfortable and would weather a massive snow storm.

Mark Walters spike camp was just under two miles up the mountain from his base camp.

I would hunt the next morning and checked my cameras. Two out of three had multiple elk pictures and everything was perfect in my world.

I went back to spike camp ate nuts and food, you do not cook and at dark went into my tent with a loaded 300 BAR. One of the real stories of the trip began that very minute and that was falling rain that would soon change with dropping temperatures.

Carter Fauske

Nadia Benson

Cumberland School District Represented at the Wisconsin Music Association Honors Concert

The Cumberland School District was well represented at the Wisconsin State Music Association Honors Concerts. Freshman trombone player, Carter Fauske, was a member of the All State Band and Freshman vocalist, Nadia Benson, was a member of the All State Choir. This year, over 850 students auditioned for the privilege of being in one of these ensembles. Young musicians selected for these ensembles discover new levels of individual and group performances. Most importantly, the effort and dedication required of each participant results in a lifelong memory of initiative, achievement, and commitment to excellence as both musicians and future leaders. It should be noted that Cumberland Students who participate in the State Honors Project are provided a scholarship by the ETC Community Choir. The donations that the Community Choir receives at their annual Christmas Concert have been used for this purpose for over 30 years. "We are truly blessed by the support that Cumberland Students have received from the community" said band director, Nathan Pierce.

Another Cumberland faculty member, Mrs. Janet Holdt was also part of the Honors Project as she finished her two-year term as the Alto Coach for the High School Honors Choir.

"It is incredible to see Cumberland represented so well at the State level" said band director Dan Hopkins. "It is just another example of the excellent education and support that our students get right here in our small community" he concluded.

The Honors Band was directed by Dr. Erica J. Neidlinger, associate professor and wind conductor at DePaul University. The Honors Choir was directed by Dr. Jabarie Glass, associate conductor of choral studies at the University of South Carolina. It is part of the State Honors Project mission, to pair world renowned conductors with the Wisconsin students who participate.

Gregory F. Peters

Gregory Frederick Peters of Cumberland, Wisconsin passed peacefully surrounded by loved ones October 31, 2022 at age 74. Greg was born on December 18, 1947, to George and Regina (Drennen) Peters and was raised in the New York Burroughs. He lived most of his adult life in the Chicago area before relocating to Cumberland in 2005. Greg was an entrepreneur and active member of his community.

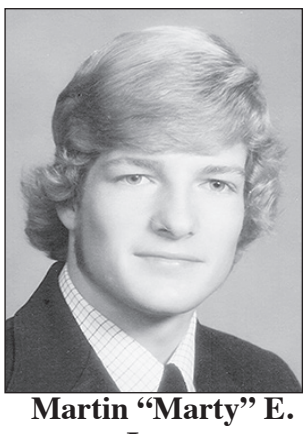

In 1979, Greg founded Lab Safety Corporation and developed an innovative program for training personnel who work in controlled environments and sterile processing. He led the industry in what would eventually be the standardized and federally regulated procedures and qualifications required for facilities and personnel engaged in critical sterile compounding. Eventually, as the business expanded and evolved, Lab Safety and its offshoot Valiteq relocated to Cumberland. In addition to these core businesses, he and his partner, Marghi McKeon, fulfilled a long-time dream by opening the 20-mile Organic and Local General Store and creating an amazing and unique line of organic frozen custard.

Greg was proud to have served his country in the Armed Forces from February 1968 to January 1970. Following his term of duty, Greg enrolled in an air commerce program at Central Texas College and eventually became commercially licensed and instrument rated for both fixed-wing multi-engine and rotorcraft. He later flew Ultralights as an instructor and as a beloved hobby. He loved the exhilarating feel of soaring through the sky with an open horizon before him. Being somewhat of a Renaissance man, Greg was also a highly skilled self-taught jazz pianist and musician, who enjoyed playing to live crowds and also recorded numerous studio projects. He was a writer of both professional scientific literature and science fiction stories, as well as an excellent cook, and was a connoisseur of fine foods and fast cars.

Greg is survived by his loving partner of more than 36 years, Marghi McKeon; his stepchildren Ben McKeon and Martha and Brian Lyke; granddaughter Lilly Lyke; brothers and sister David Farlow and Ralph and Katha Tjelta; nieces and nephews Joel and Sarah Kyrola (Beau, April, Hope), Peter and Jodi Tjelta (Malinda, Ian, Emily, Faith, Jacob), Jessica (Mick) Farlow (Kristy, Jimmy), Chance Farlow, and other loving family.

Visitation will be November 11 from 4:00 to 7:00 PM at the Skinner Funeral Home in Cumberland. The funeral service will be held November 12 at 11:00 AM with an hour visitation prior to the service, also at Skinner Funeral Home. Pastor Tim Carlson will officiate. Pall bearers are Ben McKeon, Martha Lyke, Brian Lyke, Sarah, Joel and Beau Kyrola, Juli Relford and Marc Minten. A private internment will be at a later time at the Lakewood Cemetery Garden Mausoleum in Minneapolis. A luncheon following the service will be served at the Timberland Free Lutheran Church.

In lieu of flowers, Greg would have appreciated a donation to a charity close to his heart, the Shriners Hospitals for Children, which cared for him as a young boy when he was in an iron lung with polio.

Martin "Marty" E. Jensen

Tears fell on Wednesday, November 2, 2022, as Martin "Marty" Edward Jensen, of Barronett, WI, passed one day shy of his 63rd birthday, at Abott Northwestern in Minneapolis, MN. Despite holding on for 18 days, his heart of gold was too damaged and further interventions were not successful.

Marty was born in Garden City, Michigan, to his parents Raymond Robert Jensen and Edith Mae Parrott on November 3, 1959. Marty was the youngest son of six children. His mother passed away on December 2, 1960. Marty and his siblings moved to California for two years, back to Michigan, and in July 1969 went to live with their grandmother Eva Jensen and Grandpa George in Timberland (Barronett), WI. In August 1971, Marty and two of his siblings came to live with Harold K. and Deloris M. Anderson of Cumberland, WI. This loving home was a haven for the Jensen children. These generous foster parents extended their love and compassion beyond the age of adulthood, having been immortalized as Ma and Pa, Grandma and Grandpa, and Great-Grandma and Great-Grandpa. Marty was a devoted son and even more so after Harold's death in 2013. If you called on Deloris, Marty was either there, had just been there, or was on his way to see Ma.

He graduated from Cumberland High School in 1978 and earned an Associate's Degree in telecommunications from WITC (Northwood Technical College) in 1979, then a degree in autobody restoration, and years later earned a degree for welding. Marty was a Wisconsin Golden Gloves Boxing Champion around 1980-1981 and was also a local arm-wrestling competition champion.

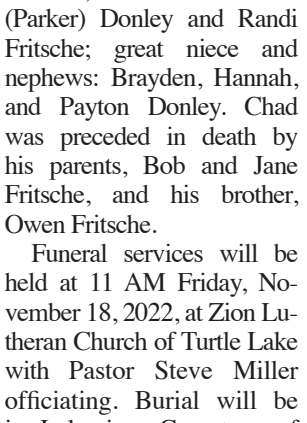

Marty was married to Roxann A. Lloyd July 1983 until 2004. During this time, they raised three beautiful children who deeply loved and appreciated their father. He never hesitated to help family or friends no matter the project or need. Marty was an unsung hero; anytime others would boast about him for his good works, he would quickly retreat to the background. He would not have anyone make a fuss over him under any circumstance. Even capturing a photo of him wearing his infectious smile was a challenge. This world lost and heaven gained a grand and most humble soul.

In addition to being devoted to family, a generous provider, and an expert welder, Marty was well-known for his remarkable work ethic, his astute mechanical skills, and his love for fishing. His tranquil spirit, kind eyes, generous heart, sincere smile, and pleasure in kidding-around will be forever missed. Marty was fiercely loved by his entire family. The lack of his presence in the everyday, at family gatherings, and days at the lake will be deeply felt. They will ever be filled with precious memories and entertaining stories of his youth where a curious boy full of ingenuity could only find himself and somehow survive "mostly" unscathed.

Marty is survived by his partner Shannon Anderson, a daughter, Alicia Jensen of Barronett, WI; two sons, Jonathan (Michelle) Westrum of Colorado and Matthew (Karla) Jensen of Ladysmith, WI; five grandchildren - Ivy, Hailey, Austin, Nathan and Noah; his mother Deloris M. Anderson; two brothers – Mike (Jan) Jensen and Ron (Juliann) Jensen; two sisters – Sandra Maxwell and Cheryl (Joe) Pharo; five nieces and two nephews, and four grandnieces and twelve grandnephews; as well as Shannon's two children, Tanner and Tori Whitman, and Papa Marty's bonus grandson, Kendrick.

He was preceded in death by his parents Edith and Ray, his father Harold K. Anderson, his eldest brother Raymond "Bob" Jensen, his children's mother, and his niece Tina Merzwski.

A memorial service will be held on Saturday, November 12, 2022, at 3:00 p.m. at Skinner Funeral Home in Cumberland, with visitation to be held one hour prior to the service at 2:00 p.m.; Pastor Paul Green of Hope Community Church will be officiating. A lunch will be served following the service.

Chad E. Fritsche

Chad Everett Fritsche, 52, of Cumberland died Monday, October 31, 2022. He was born August 7, 1970, in Minneapolis, MN to Robert and Jane (Kunkel) Fritsche. Chad grew up in Turtle Lake, was confirmed at Zion Lutheran Church, and graduated from Turtle Lake High School. He loved to read, watch PBS, especially "Dr. Who'', Rachel Ray, old "Batman", "M.A.S.H.", and television Game Shows. He was a fanatic when it came to the Green Bay Packers and the music of "The Beatles".

He is survived by his sister, Laurie (Lee Shehow) Fritsche; nieces: Nicole (Parker) Donley and Randi Fritsche; great niece and nephews: Brayden, Hannah, and Payton Donley. Chad was preceded in death by his parents, Bob and Jane Fritsche, and his brother, Owen Fritsche.

Funeral services will be held at 11 AM Friday, November 18, 2022, at Zion Lutheran Church of Turtle Lake with Pastor Steve Miller officiating. Burial will be in Lakeview Cemetery of Almena. Visitation will be from 1 hour prior to the service on Friday.

Skinner Funeral Home of Turtle Lake is serving the family.

Gertrude "Trudy" Borgne Bangsberg

Gertrude (Trudy) Borgne Bangsberg (nee Moe) left our earthly world on Tuesday, October 25th on Holy Island on Long Lake (Sarona, WI) at the age of 97. Trudy was born on August 18, 1925, to Sigurd and Maria Moe in Graceville, MN, graduated from Colfax (WI) high school, and was a 1948 graduate of St. Olaf College. She married Harry F. Bangsberg on August 10, 1952 and moved their growing family to follow Harry's career in higher education from Iowa City to Eau Claire to Madison to St. Louis, and finally to Bemidji, MN in 1964, when at age 36, Harry became president of Bemidji State College.

Widowed at age 40, when Harry died in a 1967 plane crash in Vietnam with a team of U.S. Educators, Trudy never complained about the hardship she endured. She had five children (aged 3-13) to raise. Motherhood was her calling and she became the best mother she could be. She moved her family back to Madison (WI) to be near cousins and her sister, Elsa. As the children settled into high school and beyond, Trudy worked at Oakwood Village including three years as Director of Development. In 1989, she left Madison for her beloved Holy Island but continued to work as a Board Member of Lutheran Social Services of Wisconsin for years.

Trudy lived her life with love and grace. She was a lover of her lake, literature, loons, and lefse. She was an accomplished pianist, scrabble player, crossworder, endless volunteer, and as the daughter of a Lutheran pastor, a strong woman of her Lutheran faith. She surrounded herself with music, books, her dear friends, and most of all, her family. She found beauty in the ordinary: a snowstorm, a fire on a winter's night, the calling of the loons, the falling leaves, and in the miraculous: the infinite stars in the heavens and the northern lights.

At the age of 97, Trudy still lived in her own home and swam each summer morning. She loved to linger on the dock with a cup of coffee until the sun dried her off. Whenever possible she would bask in the glow of the sun with a book in her hands. The secret to her long life could be attributed to her strong Norwegian genes, her sense of humor, or the fact that, even in winter, she had to crack the window for fresh air as she slept.

Trudy is survived by her five children: Mark (Jackie) Bangsberg, Peter (Mary) Bangsberg, Sara (Tom) Raasch, Christopher Bangsberg, Andy (Barb) Bangsberg; eight grandchildren: Emily Raasch, Cody Raasch, Gunnar Raasch, Borgne Raasch, Naida Bangsberg, Jacob Bangsberg, Luke Bangsberg, and Lindsey Bangsberg; four great-grandchildren: Xander Bangsberg, Xylus Bangsberg, Xena Bangsberg, and Mara Fuller; her sister, Elsa Lawrence; special family friend, Hunter Johnson; and her beloved nieces and nephews.

She was preceded in death by her husband: Harry; her parents: Sigurd and Maria; siblings: Malcolm, Harold, Erling, and Genevieve; and her great-grandson, Xerxes Harry.

Trudy will be missed immeasurably by her family and friends, but her light shines on in all of us. She made the world a better place. She instilled in her children the importance of love for all mankind. She believed in the power of Love and the power of Kindness.

A private burial was held. A Service and Celebration of Life will be held during the summer of 2023. If you wish to make a memorial in Trudy's name, please consider Long Lake Lutheran Church (Music) or Lutheran World Relief.

Anitia Lehmann

Anitia Lehmann, 88, of Barronett died November 8, 2022 at Care and Rehab-Cumberland. She was born June 7, 1934 in Barron, WI. She was married in Mora, MN on April 9, 1954 to Donald Lehmann who preceded her in death on June 5, 2017.

She is survived by sons, Craig (Deb) Lehmann, Randy Lehmann (John Libra), Ryan (Suzie) Lehmann, Kevin (Kate) O'Neil; 10 grandchildren, Aaron (Erin) Lehmann, Heidi (Cary) Diesterhaft, Chad Lehmann, Shane (Angie) Lehmann, and Travis Lehmann, all of Cumberland, Tinille and Alyse Lehmann, both of Hudson, and Miriah Lehmann of Barronett, Loren (Emma) O'Neil of Hudson; great grandchildren, Steven, DaShaun Gavin, Adalyn, Miles, Charlie and Tru; sisters, Mary Jane Griffin, Peggy Knowlton; brothers, Harry Knowlton, Richard Knowlton, and Melvin Knowlton; daughter-in-law, Cheryl Lehmann; and many other family and friends. Anita was preceded in death by her husband, Donald; son, Gary Lehmann; and two brothers, Robert and Jerry Knowlton

Funeral services will be held at 11 AM Monday, November 14, 2022 at First United Methodist Church with Pastor Mike Brubaker officiating. Visitation will be from one hour before the service. There will be a luncheon following the service at the Barronett Community Center.

OBITUARIES

Chana M. L. Wood

It is with heavy hearts that we share our beautiful Chana departed this earth on Tuesday, November 1, 2022. Our lives were enriched by her pure love, creative spirit, bright personality, hilarious wit, contagious laugh, endless energy, and compassion for everyone she met. She will forever live in our hearts.

Chana Marie Lynn Lombard was born on December 22, 1979, in Rice Lake to Joy (Ricci) Becker and Jim Lombard. Chana spent her childhood days on her grandparents' farm in Cumberland watching Grandpa Ricci harvest his crops and milk the dairy cows. It was there Chana learned her love of baking from Grandma Donna Ricci. Her deep connection and bond with Grandma Ricci is something she cherished all her life. Chana grew up surrounded by friends and family in Almena, running around with the neighborhood kids and creating lasting friendships with Almena and Barron friends that would last 30 years. She graduated from Barron High School in 1998.

Adulthood led Chana to Minneapolis, the start of many adventures for our free spirit. She was never afraid to try something new and made friends with everyone she met. A variety of jobs in the restaurant business, sales and Pier One provided another wonderful network of lifelong friends and an abundance of life experiences. Minneapolis also led her to the love of her life, Jon Wood. Their connection was instant, and they fell madly in love. Jon and Chana were married on September 8, 2007, in Oakdale, MN at the home of Chana's cousin. Together they created a life in Minneapolis, welcoming Sophia Marie Lynn in 2008, and Ava Joy in 2011. Chana spent her days in the kitchen baking and taking care of the girls, throwing elaborate birthday parties for them, and elating in the joy of being a mother.

A life transition in the summer of 2013 brought Chana and her family back to her roots in Cumberland. Although scared and unsure of what life would hold, little did she know this next chapter was certain to be her best. Chana's love of baking and Grandma Ricci's shortbread recipe started a small hobby/business of holiday treats and quickly turned into her entrepreneurial debut, Sugar Wood. Sugar Wood thrived with Chana's creative energy, brilliant ideas, and never-ending drive to follow her gut and her dreams. And that she did. We were in constant awe of her. To be in her presence was pure joy. Countless appearances in newspapers, magazines, social media, and TV interviews showcased her unique talent and sparkling personality. Never one to sit still, in 2021 Chana launched her second entrepreneurial endeavor, Sugar Wear – a downtown boutique in Cumberland. She was so grateful to Jim for his help in getting the store up and running and for their loving friendship. She loved all the adults and kids who filled her store and bakery with laughter and light; helping to fill orders, model for Sugar Wear or assist with her newest idea or crazy venture. The last dream to come true happened when Chana and her family filmed a show for a national TV series just a week ago at her grandparent's farm – a girl in her glory, she again conquered it with grace.

More than anything though, Chana touched the lives of so many people wherever she went. She was always striking up conversations with strangers who felt drawn to talk to her, she was everyone's best friend and confidant. She had special bonds with her cousins whom she loved with all her heart. Her words, whether spoken or written, were poignant, full of truth and straight from the heart. Her hilarious sense of humor and the fun adventures and stories that she told and shared with us (some of which can never be repeated) are treasured memories forever engrained in our hearts. She was magical. To know her, was to love her.

Surviving to honor her legacy, are her husband, Jon Wood and daughters Sophia Wood and Ava Wood all of Cumberland; mother, Joy Becker of Cumberland; sister Brooke (Andy) Constable of Weymouth, England; brother Derek (Emily) Stauner of Hanover, MN; father, Jim (Barb) Lombard of Cumberland; sisters, Alyssa Lombard of Rice Lake, WI and Brittany (Jay) Prettyman of Prior Lake, MN; father and mother-in-law, Robert and Camille Wood of Chaska, MN; sister-in-law, Katie (Austin) Zach of Jim Falls, WI; brother-in-laws, Michael (Jackie) Wood of Delano, MN, Stephen (Kelsey) of Norwood Young America, MN, and Christopher (Danielle) Wood of Lakewood, CO; nieces and nephews, Layla and Brody Stauner, Hudson Wood, Cole, Audrey and Emma Zach, Noah, Ellen and Joanna Wood and many beloved aunts, uncles, cousins, and friends.

Chana was joined in heaven by her perfect, beautiful baby girl Georgia Lynn Wood and preceded in death by her grandparents, Donna and Paul Ricci and stepfather, Russ Becker.

Visitation was held on Monday, November 7 at Skinner Funeral Home in Cumberland. A celebration and brief service to honor Chana's life was held on Tuesday, November 8 at the Das Lach Haus in Cumberland.

Chana's legacy can be honored by living the way she did – however you want. Love with all your heart, follow your dreams, laugh until hurts and shine your light bright. We love you forever sweet girl.

Donations can be made to the Chana and Georgia Wood Memorial fund at Cumberland Federal Bank or US Bank, Cumberland to offset medical and funeral expenses.

Georgia L. Wood

Georgia Lynn Wood joined her mommy in heaven on November 1, 2022.

From the moment her family learned she would be joining their family, they loved her and were so excited to meet her.

Georgia is survived by her daddy, Jon Wood and big sisters, Sophia and Ava Wood of Cumberland, as well as grandparents, aunts and uncles and many cousins, friends and second mommies who all loved her too.

"Give Thanks and Praise to God"

by Pastor Tim Schmidt
First Lutheran Church

When I gather the people of Israel from the nations where they have been scattered, I will be proved holy through them in the sight of the nations. Ezekiel 28:25

This is an interesting passage from the prophet Ezekiel. What he is saying here is that people will recognize God's ability to draw his people together. And that will cause them to give thanks and praise to God, and to recognize God and to honor God.

And I think that we could say something similar today. I think when people see Christians coming together in Christ they take notice. In our world that is so often divided in a lot of ways the church is a place where we can find unity together. And I think people recognize that. And they see it. And it might cause them to give honor and glory to God. So let us continue to come together across all the lines that divide us and give witness to the God who unites us together in his Son, Jesus Christ.

Prayer: Merciful God, bind together in your Son, Jesus Christ. May our unity to be a witness to your loving power in him. For we pray in his Holy Name. Amen

Barronett News

By Judy Pieper

It's over!! We served the Scandinavian Smorgasbord this past Sunday. It was amazing. There were over 100 people at the door when we opened at noon, and they just kept coming. This is the first year we ran out of places for our guests to sit. I hope they all know how much we appreciate their support and their patience. Our thirteen volunteers were wonderful. I don't think any of them have worked in a restaurant, but the kept the buffet line filled and served drinks to the guests. The volunteers were Lance, Hailey, Eddie, Jessi, Collyn, Riley, Jamie, Kurt, Karen, Garett, Kandice, Kane and Pierce. Lynn made hundreds of cookies for the dessert table and bake sale and helped with clean-up, and Duane served fruit soup. Thank you, thank you, thank you!!! We could never get that done without all the help of the volunteers. A special thank you to Pat Olson, who helped me make over a thousand meatballs, and Dick Grover, who made lots of pizzelles for the dessert table and bake sale. Again, thank you to everyone, guests and volunteers, who made this year's smorgasbord such a success. I will let you know next week how much money we were able to donate to the Cumberland and Shell Lake school districts because of you.

I stopped by to see Anitia Lehmann after the dinner to let her know how it went. Anitia has always been such a big help with preparing and serving in the past, and this year she was unable to be there because of health issues. I let her know that just about everyone who came in asked about her. We know that she would have been there, bustling around, if she had been able.

When I stopped to see Anitia, I went into the hospital door instead of entering in the back where the extended care facility is. (Did you know that you can't get through that way anymore?) Any way, I'm glad I made that mistake because Chrissy Herman was working the hospital front desk and I chatted with her for a while. I miss seeing the Herman family since they sold Bistro 63, and told her that we would love to have her stop by once in a while to visit.

Barronett Community Club members will be hosting their Hunter's Supper and Fun Night this Friday evening, November 11th from 5:00 p.m. until 7:00 p.m. They will be serving stew in bread bowls and there will be lots of other stuff going on. They will have door prizes, meat raffles, an indoor buckboard, a "shake the dice" game, dry firing (which is a game where a person shoots a real rifle, but it uses laser bullets, so challenge your friends to a shoot-off.) The top raffle prizes are a Yeti cooler, valued at $300; a package of fireworks, also valued at $300; and a 22 rifle.

Our little great-grandson, Pierce Thon, celebrated his third birthday on Saturday, November 5th, by helping decorate the community center for the smorgasbord. We took a break from decorating in the middle of things for his special day and he opened his gifts, and we had cupcakes. He enjoyed blowing out the candle and listening to us sing "happy birthday" so much that we did it three times. We love that little guy – we think he will be a heavy equipment operator when he grows up because all he wants is Cat or Tonka toys for any occasion. Happy birthday, Pierce.

Jamie and Kurt Anderson, Kaitlynn Holmen, Lynn Thon and I were among the hundreds of people at Shell Lake Arts Center for the Middle School Band Festival on Thursday evening. Our great-granddaughter, Jessica Holmen, was one of the middle schoolers chosen to participate in the concert. Jessica plays the French horn. We were very impressed – to say the least -- with the performances of all three bands and are very proud of Jessica. I think we will probably be going to lots of concerts in the future.

It's so much fun stopping by Sal's on 63. I have the most interesting conversations there. On Wednesday evening I visited with Viking fans, Rose and Tony, and on Thursday I visited with Connie and Mark from St. Paul. And, it's so nice to hear all the compliments on the food that Suzy and her crew send out. I'm glad Suzy and Ryan decided to become restaurant people.

I'm glad the mid-term elections are over. I hope you are satisfied with the results. Now we can relax for a couple years before we have to think about the 2024 elections. I'm especially glad that we won't have to hear politicians bad-mouthing each other for a while.

I guess that's about all I know from Barronett this week. (It's been pretty hectic – I'm going to relax for days now.) Remember to stop by the Barronett Community Center on Friday evening for all the fun at the Hunters' Supper. Hope to see you there.

Legion Auxiliary...

gion Auxiliary was formed and Vivian Dunham was chosen as the first President. The Auxiliary members goal was to help the Legion through volunteer hours, programs, and an increased presence. The annual dues were set at fifty cents a year and included a subscription to the "American Legion Weekly." A joint meeting with the Legion Post was held on February 21 as the Advocate said, "The eve of Washington's birthday is a fitting time for these two patriotic organizations to make their debut."

One of the Auxiliary's Charter members was Nellie Hart. Following the passage of Woman's Suffrage, she would cast not only the first ever official woman's vote in Cumberland, but also the first city vote on that morning of November 4, 1920.

Hart would also become an important member in the early days of the Auxiliary, not only as the Cumberland President, but eventually being elected a State Historian and in 1924 the State President.

Over 100 years later, the two groups are still serving our country and the Cumberland community.

The Legion meets at the American Legion Post 98 hall on the 2nd Tuesday of every month. There are currently 145 members in Post 98, led by Commander Dennis Free.

The Legion serves the community by supporting veterans and their families in need, participating in the November 11th Veterans Day Program at the Elementary and High School, supporting local scouting and youth groups, providing yearly Scholarships, placing Honor Guards in local parades and funerals of veterans, and furnishing USA Flags in 22 cemeteries for veterans. They also sell a memorial paving stone to help memorialize a loved one, placed outside the American Legion by the American Flag.

Working side by side is the Auxiliary. Eligibility for membership goes to any mother, grandmother, sister, daughter, granddaughter, male or female spouse, or a female veteran related to a veteran who has served. There are two paths to membership: A) you are related to a living veteran and a current member of the American legion or B) you are related to a deceased veteran who served and was honorably discharged.

The Auxiliary has many programs to help carry out their mission of "Service, not self." One of their most popular programs is the Poppy Drive. Locally, they help educate the youth on the purpose of Veterans Day and Memorial Day and serve lunch at the Cumberland American Legion on Veterans and Memorial Day, An Annual Christmas Bazaar will be held at the Legion this Saturday, November 12th, with all money raised going back to local veterans and their families.

More recently, another addition to our Legion programs became a reality when a charter was granted to the Cumberland Sons of American Legion Squadron 98, on July 9, 2020. Its goal is to honor the heritage and the sacrifices of our service members and support the local American Legion Post 98 financially and through volunteerism in the many projects they do.

This past year they donated many hours to the Legion, assisting them in the placement of flags on veteran's graves prior to Memorial Day and collecting them after the 4th of July. They aided the Barron County Veterans at the Barron County Fair by shuttling fair visitors in golf carts and tractors, ran the Louie's Brat Stand, and helped the Legion run two gun shows. There major fundraiser was an Indoor Fishing Contest, which netted $3,700 and was donated to the Cumberland American Legion Post 98.

The American Legion's motto continues to be, "Veterans Strengthening America." Their contributions and those of the Auxiliary and Sons of the American Legion are not only strengthening our country, but our community.

This Friday, a Veteran's Day program will take place at the High School, and lunch will be served at the American Legion afterwards. Additionally, the Island City Piecemakers will be honoring our veterans by providing quilts to active Post 98 Veterans following the lunch. The quilters have spent the past year designing and sewing red, white and blue quilts to show support for those that served in the military and continue to support our community.

Veteran's Day should not be one day a year, however. We must make sure we never take for granted the sacrifices they made to get their day. Every day provides another opportunity to say "Thank you" to one of their members!

Main Street Business Owner...

about her business. The producer said that was very refreshing to hear. Usually, the demands are the other way around. Chana's vision was for her to share her family, the family that was the foundation of her success.

A reoccurring comment from Chana was one that is typical for those of us who grew up in a small rural community. She was happy to grow up here but happy to be able to move away to the big city. As she would say, she had to move away otherwise she would end up marrying someone who was her cousin. However, when Chana and her family moved back to Cumberland, Chana embraced the life of small town Cumberland and was happy to be back. She really hoped her daughters would ultimately grow to see the advantages of being raised in a small community. The last time she made that comment to me, she was looking out her store front window looking past the hustle and bustle of the street focusing on her prayer for her daughters. That her daughters would ultimately embrace and treasure this community like she does.

For various reasons, we would regularly have conversations about mentoring high school students. A hot passion for us and why it came up so often. And Chana did it! She started to hire high school students and mentor them in running the bakery, marketing, social media, and customer service. I stopped by the bakery the other day to check on orders and found that everything was completely under control, even though their Mentor was gone. The gift I saw in front of me was a group of young ladies working side by side, they could answer questions with authority and knowledge, well spoken and delightful. I was so proud. I was so proud of my friend who was walking the walk and talking the talk. I cannot wait to see where these students are in 10 years, because they will be leaders in their chosen field. As I stepped out of the bakery and I thought, "Thank you Chana!" "You did an amazing job. How could I not be busting my buttons with pride?" You quietly wove your magic with your business, the customers you served and the people who served under you. You have done the work of two women.

Rest in Peace beautiful friend. I am so proud of you and I know your legacy will carry on.
