with both hands, telling her to “get in the vehicle.” The female lost consciousness. While they were in the vehicle, the female tried to talk to Stelton calmly, however he punched her approximately four times with a closed fist, causing her to lose consciousness. The criminal complaint also states that Stelton drove to Cameron, in an attempt to reach a residence there. During the drive, Stelton told the female that he wanted to take her where “no one would know where they were, and no one would know where to find her body.” Once they were in Cameron, the female was able to exit the vehicle and run into a local business, where law enforcement were called for assistance and made contact with the female. Law enforcement then located Stelton in a residence in Cameron, and Stelton told law enforcement that he had a knife and that he would stab himself if they entered the room he was in. A K9 Unit also responded to the scene, and Stelton elected to leave the room he was in after the K9 Officer gave the K9 two or three commands. Stelton eventually dropped a large knife before he surrendered to officers.

On June 11, 2023, officers received information that Stelton had attempted to contact the female following his arrest. The criminal complaint states that the officer reviewed the cell phone information and he had placed 16 phone calls to the female from the Barron County Jail. On June 12, 2023, Stelton appeared for a court hearing and the Honorable Maureen Boyle ordered a $25,000 cash bond for Stelton. Stelton is prohibited from having contact with the victim in this case and is also prohibited from possession or consuming alcoholic beverages or entering establishments that sells alcohol. A bail bond hearing was held on June 19, 2023, regarding Stelton’s bond, and Judge Boyle heard a motion from defense council for Stelton to modify his bond. Judge Boyle denied that motion. Stelton is charged with Class I Felony Substantial Battery, Domestic Abuse, Class H Felony Strangulation and Suffocation, Class I Felony Failure to Comply with Officer’s Attempt to Take Person into Custody, and Misdemeanor Contact after Domestic Abuse Arrest. If convicted, Stelton faces a potential sentence of over 13 years confinement is State Prison.
