

Sex Offender Released in Cumberland St. Anthony Abbot Catholic Church Dedication!

The Barron County Sheriff's Department is releasing the following information pursuant to Wisconsin State Statute 301.46 which authorizes law enforcement agencies to inform the public of a sex offender's release when, in the discretion of the agency, the release of information will enhance public safety, awareness, and protection. The individual who appears on this notification has been convicted of a sex offense. Further, his criminal history places him in a classification level, which reflects the potential to re-offend.

Felix Cardona

This sex offender has served the sentence imposed on him by the courts. He is NOT wanted by law enforcement at this time. This notification is not intended to increase fear. It is our belief that an informed public is a safer public.

Felix Cardona is living at 2305 7th Street in Cumberland, WI.

Sex offenders have always lived in our communities, but it was not until the Sex Offender Registration and Community Notification Law was enacted that law enforcement was able to share this information with the community. Citizen abuse of this information to threaten, intimidate, or harass registered offenders will NOT be tolerated and will be considered a criminal offense.

As a community, this notification provides us with an opportunity to work together by sharing information to enhance the public safety by increasing community awareness regarding this offender and offering positive crime prevention suggestions.

Editors Note: The Advocate received an email from Barron County Sheriff Chris Fitzgerald Monday morning regarding the release of Felix Cardona. Mr. Cardona has been living in Cumberland for the past year and notification was just received this past Monday morning. Sheriff Fitzgerald stated we would have to contact the state to find out the reason for the delay. The Advocate contacted the Wisconsin Department of Corrections on Monday afternoon. After speaking with a representative of the state, it is believed two new charges levied against Mr. Cardona in April (driving without a license) and June (possession of drug paraphernalia) triggered the press release. As to what that had to do with the release of the information about a sex offender, the representative did not know and transferred us to a different person in which we were unable to talk to. A message was left but as of Tuesday no further information was available.

Man Arrested for OWI; Drugs Seized after Complaint Leads to Traffic Stop

On July 9, 2023 around 7:20 PM, Cumberland Officers were advised of a traffic complaint traveling northbound on USH 63 near Comstock. The complainant stated the suspect driver was driving erratically. The caller was able to give a great description of the vehicle and a partial plate.

An Officer from the Cumberland Police Department was able to locate the vehicle shortly after. After observing a traffic violation in a school zone the Cumberland Officer conducted a traffic stop on the vehicle. After speaking with the driver, a Standardized Field Sobriety Test was conducted on the driver. The driver was arrested for Operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated.

Probable cause was established and the vehicle was ultimately searched. Inside the vehicle, officers located approximately 1.2lbs of marijuana, a 1/2 pound of psilocybin mushrooms, 1.8 grams of cocaine, multiple THC gummies, THC vape pens along with Psilocybin Infused candies.

The driver, Andrew Kruienza, of Brooklyn Center, MN was arrested on charges of Operating while intoxicated 2nd offense, Possession with Intent Psilocybin >100 to 500 grams, Manufacture/Deliver THC >200<1000 grams, Possession of Cocaine and Speeding. Mr. Kruienza is currently housed in the Barron County jail.

Library Board Presentation Part of July Council Meeting

by Mark R. Fuller

The Cumberland City Council held their monthly meeting at City Hall on Wednesday, July 5. Following the payment of monthly expenses, the approval of June minutes, and the tabling of an Easement request and a request to purchase a new Street Department pickup, the Council took on the remainder of the prepared agenda.

Mayor Dan Shoemaker began things by recognizing one public comment from the floor by Mike Benjamin, who thanked the Council for, "Bringing back the beach." He added that he had, "Heard nothing but positive comments from others," regarding the installation of the swim raft, ropes and other beach equipment recently reinserted there. Mayor Shoemaker thanked him for his comments and added he had driven by the beach the previous weekend and saw a large number of people using the area.

The Mayor then recognized a delegation from the Library, who he had asked to make a presentation to the Council. Shoemaker commented, "The Library is one of the entities we fund and helping the Council know more about their services will certainly be of use during the budget process."

Library Board President Dave Evenson, Library Director Rob Ankarlo, and several other members of the Library Staff used a power point to give an update on the usage of the building as well as the services currently provided. Over 27,000 visitors used the Library last year with 2,583 current card holders and 273 "Friends of the Library" currently receiving monthly newsletters. The Library representatives discussed Business partnerships, current marketing, and both adult and youth programming activities as well as several services coming from acquired grants.

Following their presentation, the Council approved a payment of $67,962.05 to Haas & Sons Inc for work on Hospital Utility Extension Lift Station #16 as well as authorizing a Cumberland Municipal Airport Commission request for the appointment of Buck Richie to fill the Commissioner vacancy of Dr. Tom Lingen for the remainder of his one-year term.

Next on the agenda was the passage of two Noise

Armstrong Responds to Budget Vetoes

After the Legislature passed the 2023-2024 state budget last week, it went to Governor Evers for his consideration. The Governor signed the bulk of the budget into law on July 5, but he also made 51 partial vetoes. State Rep. Dave Armstrong (R-Rice Lake) issued the following statement: “Unfortunately for Wisconsin families, Governor Evers used his veto pen to reduce the $3.5 billion of income tax cuts to only $175 million. While households in the two lowest brackets will still see the cuts the Legislature approved, households earning more than $36,840 will not. So much for the middle class. “The Governor’s original budget plan - to raise taxes by $2 billion - would have been an insult to Wisconsin residents and businesses. His decision to slash the Legislature’s tax cuts by 95% may be even worse. Once again, he has made it clear that he thinks he knows better than you to how to spend your money. “Similarly, the Governor is trying his hardest to increase property taxes. Thanks to him playing veto games with per-pupil school funding provisions, Wisconsin residents may see enormous increases through the year 2425. I wish that was a typo, but it’s not. “Needless to say, I will work with my legislative colleagues to attempt to override or undo these and other egregious veto decisions.”

Northwoods Notebook: Spend an evening with Manfred & Co. By Larry Werner

This little town built on an island has no shortage of musical characters. One of the most interesting is a German immigrant who lives in an old school near Comstock where he teaches and performs with other talented musicians, most of whom are his students.

One of his students, Dustin DeGolier, plays in many bands – Paisan & the Family Brass, Bare Minimum, the Indigo Quartet, to name a few. And a group led by Manfred Schonauer that calls itself the Pipe Dream Blues Machine.

The free concert, at 6 p.m. July 18 on Library Lake, is a Cumberland version of the Boogie Nights that have been entertaining music lovers for years at Manfred’s home and school, the Pipe Dream Center.

Ann and I attended one of those Boogie Nights for the first time on a cold Saturday last winter. It happened to be just a couple weeks after Manfred had lost his wife, and the evening was a musical memorial to her. And it was a trip back in time to when people listened to blues and folk in coffee shops.

Remember beatniks? They were counter-culture types before hippies, who preceded freaks.

On that night in Comstock, two old folks mellowed out with a couple dozen others of similar vintage to blues, jazz and rock played by Manfred on the organ, Dustin on the guitar and Steve Vogt on the harmonica.

Those three will be joined on Library Lake by Travis Thorp and Jennifer Wozniak. It will be the seventh Island City Music concert of the 10-concert summer season. The concert will be sponsored by Nezzys’.

Careful readers will notice that I wrote the season consists of “10” concerts, even though the posters hanging around town list 11. Regretfully, we’ve had to cancel the Aug. 22 concert by The Wistrills, which was to be a benefit for the scholarship fund set up in memory of the late Roger Wistrill.

As many of you know, my daughter married Roger’s son, Dan, who has been playing in bands since he was a schoolboy here in Cumberland. His dad was a teacher, coach and principal who died in 2018, and his sons, Dan and Joe, have teamed up with other performers in past years to do concerts to raise money for scholarships given to local students by Roger’s widow, Barb.

But Joe will be out of town the weekend before the scheduled concert, returning too late to get to Cumberland by 6 p.m., and we’ve been told we can’t use the Library Lake stage because of setup for Rutabaga Festival. We can’t move it to the arts center because a one-man play, “Vincent,” by Phil Warner opens Aug. 23.

Back to next week’s concert by the Pipe Dream Blues Machine, food will be served by James and Andrea Manning, the new owners of Bona Casa. It promises to be night of familiar music by Manfred and his students and familiar food by the area’s premier purveyor of Italian cuisine.

If it should rain, the concert and food will be at the Cumberland Arts Center. The Cumberland Farmers Market, which sets up alongside the library on Tuesdays from 4:30 to 7:30, will move to the arts center’s basement if the weather turns bad.

Manfred promises “an eclectic mix of boogie-woogie, rock ‘n roll, blues, jazz, reggae and more.” The Mannings are promising their famous cavatelli and sauce. It should be a night on the lake to remember.

Out My Window

by Paul Bucher, Editor

Well I got a few comments regarding my snake problem I wrote about last week. Once piece of advice I received was to put barn lime around my garage. I had heard that before, so I did. I was quite happy to not see a snake in my garage for a couple of days. Well it didn’t last. Sunday morning I opened the door and there was a little snake literally laying the in the barn lime. Man, are they fast! Anyway, I did read about a few products that claim to work keeping them out. I also received a letter from a gal here in town, who stated “ we have lived here 17 years and never had a snake in the yard, garden or lake, BUT since my column last week, she encountered a BIG one in the garden. She had has one last chunk of garden to dig out, but now that will never happen. She blamed me and told me to not write about snakes anymore.

Congratulations to the firemen who once again did a great job with the annual firehouse pancake breakfast. I got to the fire hall at 8 am and the line was already wrapped around the corner with people waiting to get in to eat. I believe some people waited patiently for over an hour to get in and support the guys. I know I live here and probably a little biased, but these guys do a great job. I see them frequently at accident scenes or fires and they are always professional and courteous to me or Jess when covering something. Plus they volunteer for many things throughout the year helping the community. It’s no wonder nearly 1,100 people attended this year! I was talking to Chad Olson, who is an officer on the Fire Department and he said when the annual breakfast started in 2003, just under 300 people showed up that year and they were happy with that at the time. 20 years later and just short of 1,100 people came. How awesome is that! He also said other area Fire Departments are envious of the support this community shows!

I was on my way to Amery last Wednesday morning, just outside of town on Highway 63, when I had to stop for a dog who was just hit by a car and was in the westbound lane. The dog was wearing a collar and obviously a family pet. He had a broken leg and other injuries and was struggling to get up. I don’t know if the dog made it or not but my point here is how do you not stop after hitting the dog! Seriously! WHAT’S THE MATTER WITH YOU! I have had a black lab or two my whole life and they are like family. We actually had our dog Puck hit by a car when he was pretty old and couldn’t see or hear well. My awesome neighbors stopped and came to the house. They felt terrible, but I know it was 100% not their fault. I was just so glad he didn’t lay there and suffer, and most likely get hit again. Shame on whoever left that poor dog in the middle of the road to suffer and most likely get hit again. It only takes a minute to do the right thing!

Have a great week!

“Wisconsin’s personal income taxes: Looking beyond rhetoric on both sides”

MADISON, Wis. – How do disparate tax rates from state-to-state affect business and worker attraction and retention? The debate over that question has been reignited by Gov. Tony Evers’ veto of a personal income tax cut led by the Republican majority in the Wisconsin Legislature.

The answer depends on who is asked – but one thing is certain, economic decisions made by businesses and workers alike don’t often hinge on a single tax category. Total tax burden is often a better indicator.

As expected, Gov. Tony Evers used his veto pen Wednesday to thwart a Republican-led plan to collapse Wisconsin’s four personal income tax brackets from four to three, focusing mainly on eliminating a tax cut for the top two brackets. Many Democrats contended the GOP plan offered too much of a break for Wisconsin’s wealthiest earners.

Also as expected, majority Republicans condemned the veto – mainly because they believe Evers’ veto reached deep into what most people would consider the “mid-

There is truth in the GOP position. The third personal income bracket in Wisconsin has a curiously wide range, starting with $36,841 at the low end for joint filers and ranging up to $405,550 on the high side for joint returns. They all will pay the same 5.3% rate now instead of the 4.4% proposed by Republicans. The fourth bracket is where the “wealthy” earners are more congregated, at $405,550 and above.

Republicans could have constructed a tax cut plan that ensured more people above $36,841 on a joint return would get a tax cut, perhaps leaving the top end at a dollar threshold where it would have been politically difficult for Evers to veto it. They did not do so because of a longstanding GOP belief that Wisconsin should move toward being a “flat tax” state.

As a net result, the truly middle class won’t get much of an income tax break at all. Total income tax cuts proposed by the Republicans were about $3.5 billion over the two-year state budget. With Evers’ line-item veto, it will be about $175 million.

“Evers passed up a golden opportunity to give anyone at all making over $36,840 any sort of break on the next dollar they earn, even though Wisconsin has accumulated an enormous multi-billion-dollar surplus,” commented two leaders of the Badger Institute. The Wall Street Journal editorialized that “Tony Evers’s tax veto is a gift to Illinois,” suggesting it will make it harder for Wisconsin to compete for people and companies to move from Illinois.

Perhaps the Wall Street Journal is correct, but some perspective on the overall tax burden is necessary.

Wisconsin’s composite personal income tax rate is 17th highest in the nation, according to one source I checked, still lower than Illinois (8th highest) and also lower than Minnesota and Michigan.

Indiana, Iowa, Missouri and Ohio all have lower personal income rates than Wisconsin. (It’s worth noting than 10 states have no income tax at all or nearly so.)

Wisconsin’s total state and local tax burden (10.9%) is ranked 20th highest among the 50 states and the District of Columbia. That usually combines categories such as property tax, corporate taxes and sales taxes, among others. Illinois stands at 12.9% and 7th highest in the nation for total tax burden.

Here’s where Illinois has an edge over Wisconsin: Capital gains are taxed at 4.95%, among the nation’s lowest. Wisconsin taxes capital gains at 7.65%, or 8th highest in the United States. On the flip side, the two-year budget just passed by the Wisconsin Legislature included a larger research and development tax credit for allowable expenses, raising it from 15% to 25%. That’s a competitive plus.

Companies and people make location decisions based on many factors, from taxes to quality of life; from education and training programs to traffic jams; and from housing costs to health care quality. Taxes of all types can be a big deal, but they’re not the only determinant.

Still is president of the Wisconsin Technology Council. He can be reached at tstill@wisconsintechnologycouncil.com.

Steven C. Kincaid, 32, of Spooner, has been charged with false imprisonment, do- mestic abuse, battery to a law enforcement officer, attempt battery to a law enforcement officer, take and drive vehicle without consent-abandon ve- hicle, resisting or obstructing an officer and violate a bond condition in Barron County.

A sergeant, with the Rice Lake Police Department, re- ports on June 29, 2023, at approximately 9:49 am, he was on duty when the Bar- ron County Communications Center advised they received a 911 call from C.K.N., who stated the defendant, Kincaid, had taken her car and was threatening to crash it. The sergeant reports he is aware based on prior police contacts, that C.K.N. and Kincaid have lived together. The sergeant reports that he, and two other officers responded to C.K.N.'s residence located in Rice Lake.

While en route, the sergeant reports he was flagged over by C.K.N., who was riding in a vehicle with a woman and two small children. The sergeant instructed C.K.N., to return to her residence where an officer was speaking to Kincaid.

The officer reports that upon arriving at the residence and as he was preparing to exit his patrol squad, Kincaid showed up on foot. The officer reports that while speaking with Kin- caid, the sergeant and the of- ficer arrived on scene. The officer reports that, when C.K.N. arrived at the residence, she began talking to Kincaid about the location of her ve- hicle which Kincaid had left in before she called 911. C.K.N. did not consent to Kincaid driving her vehicle.

The sergeant reports he spoke with C.K.N. while the officer was speaking with Kincaid. The sergeant reports Kincaid was staring down C.K.N., and he spoke with C.K.N. at a lo- cation where Kincaid's view of her was blocked. C.K.N. stated she was getting ready for work and was trying to leave, but Kincaid would not allow her to do so. C.K.N. stated Kincaid either stood in front of her blocking her, or he would close the door when she opened it.

C.K.N. stated Kincaid pre- vented her from leaving for approximately 15 minutes when she climbed out the first floor, driveway window. The sergeant reports he observed a window that C.K.N. point- ed to that was open with no screen on it. C.K.N. was limp- ing and stated she twisted her ankle when she jumped out the window.

The sergeant reports that, after speaking with C.K.N., he walked over to Kincaid and informed him that he was under arrest for false impris- onment. The sergeant reports Kincaid ran away from of- ficers. The two officers gave chase and apprehended Kin- caid after Kincaid rounded a corner and slipped on some gravel.

The officer reports that, after Kincaid was handcuffed, he assisted Kincaid in standing. The officer reports Kincaid went limp, refusing to stand or walk. The two officers as- sisted Kincaid in walking to the sergeant's patrol squad. As they were walking, Kincaid cleared his throat and turned his head towards officers. Out of concern that Kincaid was about to spit at them, Kincaid was directed to the hood of the sergeant's patrol squad and a spit hood was placed over Kincaid's head.

The officer reports Kincaid turned to look at him after the spit hood was placed on Kin- caid and attempted to head- butt the officer. Kincaid was held back from headbutting the officer by the other officer.

The officer reports that, when he was assisting in placing Kincaid him in the rear portion of the sergeant's patrol squad, Kincaid looked directly at him, called the of- ficer a derogatory name and using his right foot, force- fully kicked the officer in the chest. The officer's body camera that he was wearing became dislodged, as a result of being kicked. The officer experienced pain when Kin- caid kicked him, and did not consent to being kicked by Kincaid.

The officer reports he locat- ed C.K.N.'s vehicle on Noble Avenue in Rice Lake. The of- ficer reports a neighbor stated he observed a male subject matching the description of Kincaid drive the vehicle and park it there. The neighbor then observed the male sub- ject walk away from the ve- hicle in the direction of C.K.N.'s residence.

If convicted for false imprisonment and domestic abuse, Kincaid may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than six years or both. For battery to a law enforcement officer, he may be fined not more than $10,000 or imprisoned not more than six years or both. For attempt battery to a law enforcement officer, he may be fined not more than $5,000 or imprisoned not more than three years or both. On July 8, 2023 at approx- imately 2:30 p.m. Burnett County Dispatch received an attempt to locate on a ve- hicle that was stolen from the City of Spooner. The vehicle, a white Pontiac Solstice con- vertible bearing a Wisconsin dealer plate, was allegedly stolen by a female.

At approximately 3:30 p.m. a Burnett County Deputy and a Wisconsin DNR Warden observed the vehicle operat- ing on State Highway 35 in Swiss Township. They began pursuing the vehicle using their emergency lights and siren. The female driver lifted her arm and raised her middle finger at the pursuing law en- forcement.

Several other law enforce- ment officers joined in the pursuit and attempted to set up tire deflation devices at several different loca- tions. During the pursuit the driver of the stolen vehicle damaged two separate yards at residences. One of our squad trucks also sustained minor damage. The pursuit went for just over 33 miles.

The pursuit ended at a business on County Road U in Oakland Township. The suspect, Katrina Boyle, age 34, from Spooner, was uncooperative during her arrest at the scene. She was taken into custody and transported to the Burnett County Jail. Multiple charg- es have been forwarded to the Burnett County District Attorney's office.

Hall Of Fame!

Brent Denoma

2023 Cumberland Hall of Fame Inductee: Brent Denoma

Joining five other inductees into the Cumberland Athletic Hall of Fame this October 14, is 1988 graduate Brent Denoma, who earned 10 letters while participating in football, basketball and baseball.

“My greatest memories from my time at CHS are the friendships I formed in athletics. Thirty-five years ago, our Football Coach Roger Wistrick told us that we would forget the scores of the games, but we wouldn’t forget the guys that we played with and he was absolutely correct. The coaches that led us, made sports fun, pushed us to be our best, and had a positive influence on my teammates and myself. Their impact led me to coach my own kids in various sports, trying to pass along the same skills and life lessons they taught me,” said Denoma.

In football, Denoma became a First Team All-Conference performer on both the offensive and defensive lines. Following All-District recognition as a Senior, he played in the State Shrine game where he had a big performance leading the winning North Team with three sacks. He would sign a Scholarship to the University of North Dakota, where he accumulated 15 starts on the offensive line.

As good as his football career was, Denoma received almost more honors on the basketball floor.

He again was named a First Team All-Conference honoree, while scoring 1,031 career points and grabbing 689 career rebounds. As a team MVP, he would be part of a Beavers Sectional qualifying team and was named to the Third Team All-Northwest squad. During the summer, he twice represented Team Wisconsin in International Tournaments, going undefeated in Austria and Germany in the summer of 1987. He played in the State All-Star Basketball game following his Senior year, where he scored 10 points and grabbed five rebounds.

In baseball, he was a slick fielding first baseman who played on two Regional Championship Teams, both finishing the season ranked among the top-10 teams in the State. He set a then School Record for fielding percentage and was a Honorable Mention All-Conference selection.

“Our senior class had great success in football, basketball, wrestling and baseball. I still get chills remembering the Basketball Sectional and the thrill that we had playing in front of all of the Cumberland fans that traveled to Spooner that Friday night. In football, we had great players like Scott Bents, Mark Schoonveld, Tom Baril, Shawn Thomas, Mark Adler, Jeff Toberman, Jim Ellis, Brent Sirianni and Jeff Rieper, while I can still remember playing basketball with Chris Howell and Shawn, starting out on the small gym at the Elementary School. Baseball was fun from the bus rides to away games, to the many wins and camaraderie we had as a team,” added Denoma.

Brent was named the American Legion “Outstanding Male Athlete” following high school graduation and while at North Dakota, he was an Academic All-Conference performer. Graduating with a degree in Mechanical Engineering, Brent is currently Director of Operations at Viking Engineering and Development in Blaine, Minnesota. Living in Eagan, Minnesota, Brent and his wife Linda have been married for nine years and together have four children.

Brent and his family made many friends during their time here, when Brent’s father Mike served as Plant Manager for 3M. Unfortunately, Brent’s sister Laura, passed away from cancer in 2019. “She traveled to so many of my events along with mom and dad as they always supported me,” he said. We know Laura would be proud of her brother, as mom and dad and the Cumberland Athletic community, who supported him in high school, look forward to honoring him once more this October.

Cumberland U15 Baseball Team Has International Experience

Several members of Cumberland Youth Baseball and their parents had the unique experience of spending a weekend in Whitewater on Saturday and Sunday, July 1 and 2, where they played two games against a traveling U15 baseball team from the country of Serbia. The games were part of a 10-day trip to the United States by Serbian youth players and their coaches.

Serbia, part of the Balkan Peninsula, was a former republic of Yugoslavia, before the country was reconstituted in 2003 and re-named as a State Union of Serbia and Montenegro. This was followed in 2006 by Serbia’s declaration of independence from Montenegro and the re-emergence of Serbia as an independent state for the first time since 1918.

Like many European Countries, soccer is the country’s National sport while basketball, water polo, volleyball, tennis, and team handball are also very popular. Nikola Jokić, of the NBA Champion Denver Nuggets, for example, is a two-time winner of the league’s MVP Award and one of their best-known athletes. Baseball is only played by a few individuals, with diamonds a rarity in the country.

Mark Fuller, along with UW-Whitewater Coach John Vodenlich, has traveled to Serbia on three different occasions to help teach and promote the sport. This is part of their work with the International Sports Group, a non-profit dedicated to spreading the proper coaching and teaching of baseball around the globe. Fuller joined Vodenlich in 2008 and since then has done yearly seminars throughout Europe, from Sweden and Norway to Spain and Portugal. “The Balkan area has special meaning for us, since Vodenlich’s parents and family members come from the area,” said Fuller. Vodenlich is now Head Coach of the Serbia National Team.

“I’ve been able to be part of many special activities in the sport of baseball from Conference Championships, to State Tournaments, to a National Title with the Warhawks, to World Series games. Baseball has blessed me and I count my trips to Europe and the many great people I’ve met, as some of my greatest memories,” said Fuller.

With the Serbian contin-gent coming to the States and looking to play a few games, Fuller knew he wanted to share the experience with the kids of Cumberland, so he contacted Head Coach Joe Waite, Assistant John Peterson, and Athletic Director Lorne Majewski, as they set up two contests at UW-Whitewater.

“It was fun for me as I knew many of the kids from both teams and have great friends on the coaching staffs of both countries. Nik and Popke, the two Serbian coaches, have done a fantastic job with their kids both on and off the diamond. It was also special to have another good friend, Serbian Baseball Federation President Milan Zonic in attendance. Joe, John, and Lorne, meanwhile, are committed to providing learning opportunities for the kids in our city. This was a good fit for all involved,” said Fuller.

Approximately 30 Cumberland players, coaches, and parents traveled to Whitewater, where they played two contests. The “Island City” players quipped themselves well, despite having several younger players in their line-up.

The coaches credited

Max Peterson, Parker Peterson, Mason Capra and Troy Majewski with solid mound work, while the top offensive performers were Majewski, Peterson, and Mitchell Monchilovich. Second baseman Bennett Majewski, meanwhile, took part in three double plays. On Saturday night, the two teams traveled together and watched a Lakeshore Chippewas College wooden-bat league game in Mequon.

Both National Anthems were played before each game, while an exchange of gifts took place between the participants. At the end of each contest, a picnic for players and their traveling group provided an opportunity to share and create lasting friendships and memories.

Cumberland player Gabe Graf summed up the trip by saying, “It was by far my best baseball experience yet. It was awesome to hang out with the Serbian team and learn about how different, but how alike we are. I am so thankful for the opportunity to play their team on such a great baseball field.” His views were shared by many in attendance.

An Outdoorsman's Journal

The Best Day of Our Lives!

Hello friends,

A man would be a fool to admit in front of friends and his wife at a party that the happiest he is in a years' time is when he is at deer camp and on an annual fly in fishing trip but I am telling you I think there are a few people on this planet that would agree that I may have a point. This week's column is the 2nd part of what was a Saturday to Saturday fly in fishing trip to Shultz Lake which is 55 airmiles northwest of Red Lake, Ontario Canada "Chimo Lodge and Outposts" a place I have a whole ton of my adult history and it is all positive.

Thursday, June 22nd
High 78, low 51

What is peace and tranquility? Staying at a cabin that is literally in the middle of nowhere for 7-days with people that you 100% get along with. Even if there is a bit of negativity, this group of 9 never, ever has a history of dragging out an issue. Our unwritten code is no slackers, complainers or tight wads and it works.

Peace is ending a great day of fishing with your brother and his grandson and then taking a short hike to a rapids on a river and watching the 2 of them catch 20-inch walleye on just about every cast.

The same can be said when I think about the 2 fires that have burnt the bush here, one back in 95 and the other in 99. Most people think a forest fire is the most horrible thing in the world, now the bush that used to be mature jack pine, spruce and aspen is alive with new growth and the moose are loving the tender feed that has been created as they browse and live a much easier winter.

Happiness is seeing the joy on Roger Franks face after he caught a 29.5 inch walleye and literally kept smiling the entire rest of the trip. Roger's walleye had a huge head in comparison to its body and I am guessing it was on the downward cycle of its life, kind of like the antler's on a buck as they begin to get smaller after the aging process takes place. Both Roger's big walleye and my big gator of the week were released.

Joy is having your day to cook for the entire gang over with. In other words on that day you do all the cooking and dishes, after that day all you have to do is watch and be served.

Satisfaction is seeing everyone's hands in the group after the 4th day that are now covered in small cuts because the fishing was so incredibly good that it seemed we were always taking fish off the hook. The size average here on the walleye has always been about 16-18 inches, this year it was about 19.5 with dozens of 21s and 22s.

Joy is sitting around in the cabin at night, watching the cook, enjoying adult beverages, never running out of things to talk about and always laughter.

My dad the late Robert Walters was the man that found this place, my brother Bobby's ashes are placed in a special place we call Bear Creek. When my brother Tom and I hunted when we were kids, we harvested 2 bear on it as they were harvesting spawning suckers.

At night we have a tradition when we come into camp of doing war whoops as we get near the cabin and do a couple of circles with the boat before we make it to the drive on ramp.

Triumph is winning the big gator bet for the 6th year in a row and knowing that the gang would like to see anyone but me, probably even the Russian leader Putin win!

My history as a writer has been created by this place, this column was originally called North of the Border and it was while I worked for this same business.

Victory is seeing 6 members of this same gang get off the plane to replace us at Shultz lake as we simply have that many people in our super cool group.

Make your own adventure, push yourself, enjoy life while you have the option!

Sports Look Back, July 19, 1973

Tim Nicholson, a teacher in the Cumberland School District, is training at the United States Olympic Modern Pentathlon Training Center at Fort Sam Houston, in San Antonio, TX.

After seven weeks of training and competition, the center has placed Tim Nicholson's, name first on its first team listing. This being the only center of its kind in the United States this could be considered first in the nation.

The national championships will be held in Texas on July 30-August 7. This is when the true national champion will be determined. The top five members of the team will go to London, England, in September for the world championships.

Modern Pentathlon is a sport of riding, shooting, fencing, running and swimming. In competition, each sport is done each day for five days. Points are given for each event depending on how the athlete does. At the end of the five days, the points are added up and the one with the most total points in all five events is the winner.

Modern Pentathlon is an international sport with more than 30 countries competing in the last Olympics. A normal day of training starts with 10-20 miles of running at 5:30 in the morning. An early start is needed because by 10:00 it is usually 85-90 degrees under Texas sun. After that the team heads for the swimming pool and swims between 5,000 and 10,000 meters a day, which is about 4-10 miles. Lunch and a little rest from 12 to 2 pm., then it's back to training. At 2:30 the team spends two hours target shooting. At 4:30 the last of the five sports are practiced. Fencing is done indoors and after a lesson from the fencing master, the athletes fence against each other.

What a wonderful week!! The weather was absolutely perfect for gardening, and we got lots and lots done. Lynn Thon and I worked for about three days straight in the vegetable garden, weeding, raking the rows and rototilling. It looks wonderful. It was so nice of Lynn to help because she hates gardening. She told me that the thing that bothers her the most is that I seem to enjoy it – getting my jeans all dirty and dousing myself with insect repellent. Hmmm – what’s not to love?

Our strawberries are done. I picked about a half-gallon this past week, but they are not as nice as they were. Now I will use the ones that Jessi Stouffer put in the freezer for us. The good news is that, in about two weeks, we will be picking raspberries. And we will have too many of them too, so, hopefully, friends and neighbors will pick some.

It was so nice having the Copus clan and their friends camping on Sand Creek this past week. Duane and I were up there visiting with them a couple times – relaxing around the campfire – and watching corn hole games. We all got together at Sal’s on 63 on Thursday evening for supper – about 15 of us – and the food and service were great. I can personally recommend the cheese and raisin ravioli.

After we finished in the garden on Sunday evening Lynn Thon treated us to Domino’s Pizza at her house. Jamie and Kurt Anderson and the twins, Kaitlynn and Jessica, were there too and we all had a good time visiting and eating. Kurt and Jamie are looking forward to spending the weekend at Rock Fest in Lynn’s motor home.

Tina Anderson’s son, Alex, has decided to move from Florida to Barronett. We are very happy about that – he is such a nice young man. He will be staying with his mom in Katie Wallace’s old house for the time being. If you see him around, please be sure to welcome him to the area.

I think that Kane Thon is probably the guy we will be watching in golf tournaments in about 15 years. He is only eight-years-old now, but he was practicing hitting balls at his grandma’s house this week and he can hit them from her lawn into our strawberry patch – I’m not sure how far that is, but it was very impressive. His brother, Pierce, who is three, was also trying to hit balls, but when he swung, he mostly hit bits of grass in the air. Give him another five years and I’m sure that will change.

Karen Hefty and her friend, Ingrid, stopped by for a visit one day last week. Ingrid hadn’t seen the treehouse, so I took them up there for the tour. It is my favorite place to hang out and visit with friends. We have a couple hammock chairs on the deck, and we can watch the birds and other critters from there. Al Stouffer made a cute birdhouse, shaped like a cat, for Lynn and we hung that on the pump house and there is now a family of birds nesting in it. I’m anxious to see the babies appear soon.

We were at Lakeview Bar and Grill a while back and Brad Kruger stopped by our table to say hello. It was so nice to see him – he used to be a health care worker at Cumberland Clinic, and he was my go-to guy there. He has moved to the Mayo Clinic in Barron now. It was great chatting with him.

I guess that’s about all I know from Barronett this week. Hope you are enjoying the wonderful weather. See you next time.

OBITUARIES

Larry P. Christensen

It is with great sadness I have to write the obituary for my brother Larry Paul Christensen.

Larry died of natural causes on June 29th, 2023 at his home in Bozeman, MT.

Larry was born February 23, 1947 to Glen L. Christensen and Blanche Mary Denham.

He attended school in Cumberland, graduating in 1965. He went on to college at St. Edwards Academy from 1972-74, studying many fields of law enforcement, becoming a Federal Postal Inspector.

He married Connie Chubb Bussewitz while in the service at Texas. They had one son, Thor Eric Bussewitz.

He then married Elizabeth Downs of Maryland, and they had one son, Travis Michael Christensen in 1990.

He later married Irene Lopez. They lived in Corpus Christi, TX.

He is survived by his sister Evelyn (Winton) Dehline and their children Scott and Val Dehline of Cumberland, Lisa and Larry Durst of Minnesota and their families. He is also survived by his significant other Beth Kreuger of Houston, TX.

Larry enjoyed everything about Bozeman, MT., (except the Wisconsin long winters) his house. Feeding his “critters”, visiting daily with his neighbor’s dog Bella and supplying endless treats, Betty’s Restaurant, the food and people and mainly “his mountains and wide open spaces seen from his windows.

He will be missed.

"The Forgiveness of Sin"
by Pastor Paul Green

Hope Community Church

David the Psalmist reaches out to God at the beginning of Psalm 139 when he says, "O Lord, you have searched me and known me! You know when I sit down and when I rise up; you discern my thoughts from afar. You search out my path and my lying down and are acquainted with all my ways.

Even before a word is on my tongue, behold, O Lord, you know it altogether. You hem me in, behind and before, and ay your hand upon me. Such knowledge is too wonderful for me; it is high; I cannot attain it." Psalm 139:1-6 ESV

Have you ever thought about how many times you are photographed in a day?

There are cameras everywhere you go. Cameras are taking your picture at the stop lights, recording you at the grocery store and gas station, and some of them are even measuring your height.

We live in a world where others know our comings and goings, but we can confidently say that they don't really know us, who we are, what we are about, our goals, our dreams, or the desires of our heart. As we look at Psalm 139:1, we see someone who doesn't just have a bunch of pictures of us going about our day, but someone who knows us completely in every moment of every day.

I love how David makes God personal. You know me God; my thoughts, my ways, my words. You know it all God; the good, the bad and the ugly. For many people, allowing others to get that close, to know them that completely, brings fear. Our imperfections bring the fear of losing the love from others that we so desperately desire. Our greatest need apart from forgiveness of sin is to be loved and known. My understanding and experience in being truly loved is that I am known in that love.

I want you to hear this. You are no an accident. God has been involved in your life from the very beginning. From the moment of conception you were God's masterpiece created in His image. He created our souls, crafted us together in body, and he knew beforehand the impact we would make on this world as we live out our days which are recorded in His eternal history book, even before one of them came to be.

Every dimension of the human has been created by God. Our soul, our human form, all our days, our history, our future, and our very existence in time and space are held together by God. Can you see the value that God has placed on you in creating you in his image and how much He loves you, because He knows you completely? Yes, even in your imperfection, God has met both of your greatest needs. In Him we are fully known and fully love. And, in His love for us He has provided forgiveness of sin through His son Jesus to bridge the gap between His perfection and our imperfection; the forgiveness of sin.

Chip sealing planned on segment of WIS 25 in Barron County

Maintenance crews from the Barron County Highway Department plan to chip seal a section of WIS 25 north of Barron from 15th Avenue to WIS 48 began Monday, July 10.

A chip seal consists of a layer of crushed stone placed on top of an application of liquid asphalt to reduce further deterioration of the pavement.

Loose stones will be on the highway temporarily during the initial cure of the asphalt. Once the chip seal has cured, crews will sweep the highway to clear away loose stones.

Chip sealing in both directions is expected to be completed by Thursday, July 13.

During chip sealing operations, WIS 25 will be open to through traffic, but motorists will encounter single-lane closures controlled by flaggers and a reduction in the speed limit between 6 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Drivers are urged to take extra caution, drive slowly and allow additional space between vehicles to prevent damage from any loose stone chips.

Schedules are dependent on weather conditions and subject to change.

For more information regarding traffic impacts, transportation news and improvement project updates in Wisconsin's Northwest Region:

McKenzie Creek Trail Hike Planned

Area hikers are invited to join members of the Ice Age Trail Alliance for a hike along the wild and scenic Upper McKenzie Creek segment of the trail.

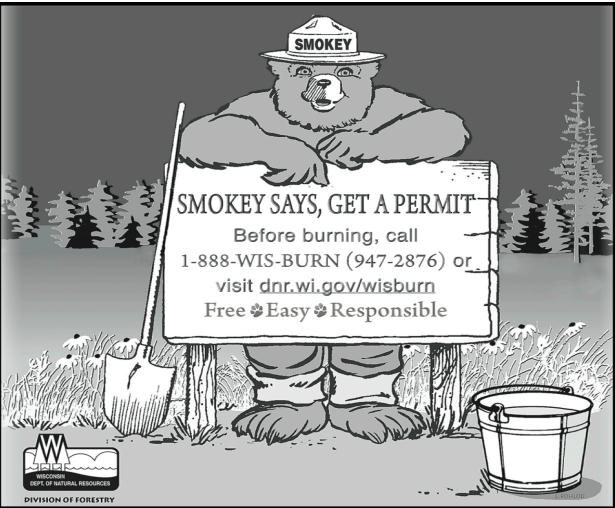

The July 19 hike will be led by Indianhead chapter members. It will begin at 9 a.m. at the south side parking lot where the trail crosses County Road W, between 60th and 80th streets. Hikers will be shuttled back to the start.

Hikers will walk about

3.2 miles over intermediate terrain in a section that features the McKenzie Creek and the Dinger kettle lake.

Hikers should dress for buggy conditions, and bring insect repellent, water and a snack. For more information, contact Barb Ceder at 715-410-9969.

The Ice Age National Scenic Trail is a statewide trail that includes 62 miles of trail in Polk and Burnett counties built and maintained by volunteers.

Hospice Helps Make a Difference

Marshfield Medical Center-Rice Lake Hospice Program helps to relieve suffering, restore dignity, and comfort people with a life-limiting illness. Barron Electric Cooperative is proud to support this program, and recently donated $500 to help Marshfield Medical Center-Rice Lake Hospice Program continue their mission in Barron, Burnett, Dunn, Polk, Rusk, Sawyer, and Washburn counties. Barron Electric's General Manager Aaron Torud said, "This organization provides a valuable service to our area." Funds for donations are derived from the Federated Youth Foundation, an administrative trust overseeing unclaimed capital credits of former members. Barron Electric has served the rural area since 1936 and currently provides electricity to over 19,000 members.

City Council...

Ordinance Variances from the Cumberland Youth Hockey Association from 5:00 pm to midnight for the Truck and Tractor Pull on August 18 and from the Chamber of Commerce for the Rutabaga Festival. The passage of a limited number of Transient, Operator, Liquor and Tobacco license request concluded the major part of the evening duties.

The night concluded with Committee Reports, which included a report on the success of the Fireman's Pancake Breakfast, a change order on the Sewer and Water Main Project by Louie's Finer Meats, due to an abandoned line, which will add a few days to the project and a reminder of the Lake District's Annual Meeting, which will take place on August 5 at 9:30 am.

Finally, Police Chief Heather Wolfe gave a report on two recently installed Flock Safety Cameras, which were part of a program authorized by the Council last July. The first-year cost of the cameras are paid for by donated funds, while the second year will cost the city $7,500. A third camera will be installed in the near future.

These cameras can be used to find specific license plates, car models or catch criminals involved in a crime with officers notified within 10 seconds of entered data recognizing a car or plate. Chief Wolfe said the cameras had counted 27,000 cars entering the city the previous weekend and in the first 30 days, the cameras had helped police find two gas drive offs, four stolen cars, including one leading to a meth find, two missing persons, and helped the department solve one theft.

With this report concluded, the Council adjourned for the night.
