A False Alarm, Thankfully!

Police Officers from several agencies converged on the Cumberland 3M plant after an active shooter alarm was erroneously triggered last Wednesday, November 1st. There were some tense moments to say the least until it was determined to be a false alarm.

Active Shooter Alarm At 3M In Cumberland Determined To Be 'False Alarm'

Last Wednesday, November 1, at 12:48 pm, Barron County Dispatch was advised of an active shooter alarm at the 3M Plant in Cumberland. Emergency personnel from throughout the area all responded to the 3M location. Well over 20 police cars as well as armoured vehicles were on scene.

Cumberland Elementary School, which is not much more than 100 yards away, went on lock down as did several other businesses in Cumberland. It was a pretty intense situation for the better part of an hour before it was known this was a false alarm. All 3M employees also evacuated with the exception of a few who were hiding in the building. They were safely escorted out by authorities. This was a very scary situation for many people. I know some teachers at the school were shaken up a bit for sure. Classroom doors were locked and shades were pulled. With all the shootings around the country, it is fresh on everyone's minds. I'm sure employees at the 3M Plant had some scary moments to say the least. Police officers, the same. Thankfully this turned out to be a false alarm. Hopefully this situation can be used to learn what can be done better.

Cumberland Police Chief Heather Wolfe issued the following press release: On November 1, 2023, at approximately 12:48 p.m., Barron County Dispatch was advised of an active shooter alarm at 3M in Cumberland. Most of the 3M employees evacuated the building prior to law enforcement arrival. The Cumberland Elementary School (which is in close proximity to 3M) was advised to lock down, which they did. Cumberland Police Department arrived on scene and immediately made entry into the building to search for an active shooter. Additional law enforcement arrived on scene and joined the search of the building. Law enforcement located several employees hiding within the building during the search and all were brought to safety. There was no threat located inside the building and it was determined to be a false alarm. An investigation is ongoing regarding how the alarm was activated.

Thank you to the following agencies who quickly

Cumberland High School Facility Informational Meeting Held

by Mark R. Fuller

Approximately 20 community members attended a special meeting of the Cumberland School Board last Thursday night to be part of a building tour of the High School. The building needs presentation was part of the District's attempt to gain community input prior to an upcoming referendum and answer questions from those in attendance.

Following the pledge and a welcome by Dr. Barry Rose, who called the meeting an, "Open forum for which we want to listen and gain feedback," those in attendance were broken into groups and given a tour by school administrators, staff, maintenance personnel, and Kraus-Anderson, a Consulting and Construction firm. The tour consisted of six stations, where Dr. Rose said visitors could see, "More than the shined hallways and the gym that are part of a typical visit to the building."

The tour included a look at the front entrance to the school, classrooms, the shop area, and plumbing, electri-

Deputies from the Barron County Sheriff's Department along with the Barron Fire Department, Mayo Ambulance, Barron County First Responders and Life Link Helicopter all responded to the scene.

Lifesaving measures were conducted by deputies and continued with Mayo Ambulance and Life Link but efforts were unsuccessful. A 58 yr. old male was pronounced deceased at the scene.

Barron County District Attorney Brian Wright Releases Report on Officer Involved Death of Zachary Veitch

The District Attorney's Office has received and is reviewing information concerning a threat directed at officers who were involved in the Officer Involved Death of Zachary J. Veitch, on October 8, 2023. The law enforcement officers names have not been disclosed in this report for their protection pending completion of the criminal investigation into the threat to harm them.

At the time of the incident, Veitch was on probation after pleading guilty to punching a police officer in the face in 2021, and randomly entering a Rice Lake business and punching an employee in the face, in March 2023. Veitch had a lengthy history involving mental health treatment.

Once again, the destructive role that controlled substances have had in our community was evident in this incident. Residents at the Riverside Arms apartment complex where Veitch lived, in the City of Rice Lake, described his use of methamphetamine which they recognized from the smell coming from Veitch's apartment. Agents with the Wisconsin Department of Justice, Division of Criminal Investigation (DCI) located a green leafy substance consistent with marijuana on the nightstand in Veitch's bedroom when they examined the scene.

Veitch's ongoing use of controlled substances likely exacerbated his mental health disorders. As had happened in the past, Veitch became violent and dangerous on the night when police were called to the report of a stabbing victim at Riverside Arms.

District Attorney's No Charging Decision:

I have determined on the basis of my observations at the scene of the incident and my review of the DCI Investigation Report that the use of deadly force by officers who responded to Veitch's apartment was reasonable and, therefore, privileged under the law of self-defense and defense of others. Responding officers acted reasonably when they used deadly force to protect themselves and other residents at Riverside Arms.

Officers were confronted with the urgency of taking Veitch into custody before he harmed anyone else. Veitch had already slashed and bloodied one of the residents who lived at Riverside Arms, and apartment complex where residents with varying degrees of special needs and vulnerabilities live. Officers knew that Veitch had been seen with a knife, but were unsure if he had access to other weapons or firearms in his apartment. Officers were also unsure if there were additional victims inside Veitch's apartment.

The victim that Veitch slashed felt he wanted to kill her. Veitch attempted to stab a second resident before Veitch ran into his room. Under these circumstances, officers determined they had no alternative but to enter Veitch's apartment and take him into custody.

No charges will be filed against any of the officers involved in this incident. Their use of deadly force was justified in response to actions taken by Veitch who came at officers holding a knife in a manner that indicated he was intent on stabbing any one of them after he slashed one resident and attempted to stab another resident before officers arrived.

Wisconsin Department of Justice Division of Criminal Investigation:

The City of Rice Lake Police Department turned over complete control of the OID investigation to the DCI. Agents with DCI immediately started their investigation on the night of the incident. DCI agents began the process of interviewing the involved officers and gathering information. DCI agents interviewed residents at Riverside Arms who were involved or had first-hand information regarding the incident. DCI agents collected evidence, interviewed relevant witnesses, viewed and listened to video and audio taken from the body cameras of the involved officers, took photographs at the scene, and reviewed the Call Detail Report (CAD) of the incident.

The DCI Investigation Report was turned over to the Barron County District Attorney's Office on November 2, 2023. In addition to reviewing the entire DCI Investigation Report, I viewed the video and audio taken from the involved officers' body cameras which recorded the entirety of the incident. I personally went to the scene on the night of the incident and observed how close Veitch was to the officers when he exited his bedroom holding a knife above his head as he quickly moved in the direction of two of the officers.

The officers had only seconds to react when Veitch came at them holding a knife. In the small confines of Veitch's apartment, officers were justified in the split second decision they made to utilize deadly force.

Conclusion:

Officers acted reasonably and were justified using deadly force when they attempted to take Zachary Veitch into custody. Officers have a duty to protect the citizens of Barron County. On the night of October 8, 2023, officers were acting in accordance with that duty and were fully justified in using deadly force when confronted with the risk of death or greatly bodily harm to themselves, to the residents who live at Riverside Arms and to the general public.

This is our school. These are our kids and future. Kids need a decent place to learn. We all deserve to be proud of our buildings and they should be comfortable and functional. The tour was a real eye opener. I mean, I've seen the buckets in the halls and cracked walls, and ceiling tiles fall in. But I've never been in the boiler rooms, to see the pieces of pipes and ducts being welded together, because it's crumbling, inches at a time. They have to make their own parts, because no one makes them anymore! Standing outside, you can see light on the inside, all around the doors. That's heat escaping, not to mention security issues! Some outside walls are not even insulated. The second floor is sagging. If you don't think there are reasons for a new school, then you should have been at this meeting. Please inquire. Ask your kids. They freeze in this room and cook to death in that one. Don't our kids deserve a beautiful, functional and comfortable atmosphere to learn in? This includes staff, that is tiring, to always bend and make unbearable circumstances work, to try to teach. Personally, I don't see how adding more band-aids is going to be a good solution. This needs to be about the kids and about our town. It's about the future of our town. The school is the center of everything. Please care. Please inquire. Be informed. That's all I ask. Thank you.

(4) GENERAL SUPERVISION. No member of the Council or the Mayor shall interfere with, or prevent the City Administrator from exercising the City Administrator’s own good faith judgment in the administration of the City. Except for the purpose of inquiry, no member of the Council or the Mayor shall individually dictate to or exercise control over the administration of the City, and no member shall give orders to any department head or employee except through a majority vote of the Council.

1.012 Office of City Clerk and Office of City Treasurer.

(1) APPOINTMENT NOT TO BE GOVERNED BY STATUTES. The City of Cumberland, pursuant to Wis. Stat. §§62.09 and 66.0101 hereby elects not to be governed by those portions of Wis. Stat. Ch. 62 which are in CONFLICT OF THIS SECTION.

“What are you Thankful for”
by Pastor Shane Anderson
Augustana Lutheran Church

With Thanksgiving just around the corner, it’s time to take stock as to what it is, that we are truly thankful for. That’s what Thanksgiving is after all, a day to give thanks to God for all that he has first given us. One of the hallmarks of Christian discipleship is adopting what is known as an “attitude of gratitude,” which is always giving thanks for even the smallest things in life. Now this “attitude of gratitude” is not reserved for just one Thursday in November, but rather giving thanks every day, year-round.

All-too-often, the cares of this world can make us cynical and blind us to the myriad of blessings in our lives. This happens when we focus more on what we don’t have instead of giving thanks for what we do have. It’s like coveting the new iPhone 15 instead of giving thanks for the $1,000 iPhone 14 that you have already. The same is true not only with material possessions but relationships as well.

Everyday, I give thanks to God for all things in my life both great and small. things like: home and clothing; my spouse and my children; my faculties and health; my faith and church family; and of course good weather and good government. It’s like the old saying goes; “You will always find what it is that you are looking for.” what this means is that if you are looking for things to complain about in your life, you will find them and probably in spades! But inversely, if you look for things to be thankful for, you will find them as well, and in fact I would guarantee that there are more things to be thankful in your life than there are things to complain about.

So focus on the positive things in life instead of the negative, and you too will soon find yourself living with an Attitude of Gratitude, and that is something the world is definitely in short supply of right now.

Peace,
Pastor Shane

The snow made me think I better get busy and tell everyone about our annual CHRISTMAS PARTY at the center. It will be held on Wed, DECEMBER 13th starting at noon. We are serving chicken with all the sides. We are asking you to please come in and put your name down as we have to order food ahead and need to know by the 6th how many will attend. We don’t want you to miss out. Sign up sheet on the desk or call Gloria 715-822-8241 or Katherine 719-351-7818.

I would like to also mention that its time to renew your membership for the coming year. It is from January to January and only 15 dollars. Hope all of you will join us again this coming year and if you are not a member maybe you would like to become part of our group. Always happy to see new faces.

Stay well everyone and take care as this time of year seems like lots of things to catch. Here’s hoping to see you at our party and if you would like to bring a friend that’s fine, as long as they are signed up ahead of time. If you are a member maybe you can get them to join too. Stay warm.

Barronett News

By Judy Pieper

The Scandinavian Smorgasbord, held on Sunday at the Barronett Community Center and hosted by Oak View Adult Family Home, was a huge success again this year. Our volunteers were wonderful – they do not have restaurant work in their backgrounds and yet they kept the steam tables filled and coffee, water and milk supplied to our guests. And, we had lots and lots of guests!! I hope they know how much we appreciate the fact that they chose to come to our dinner when both the Packers and the Vikings were playing. There was even one guest who said she would like to help us make lefse next year. Yea! And we had lots of compliments on the food, which always makes us happy.

I do have to tell you how much the volunteers worked – in addition to getting everything ready before the meal. Let’s see now – Cullen, Riley, Toni Jean and Kurt kept the steam table items filled; Kandice and Annie delivered drinks to the guests; Brian and Denise kept the pots and pans clean and washed coffee cups; Tina, Brandi, Hillary and Eddie spent their time slaving over a hot stove to keep the gravy, potatoes and rutabagas going; Duane spent the entire time on his feet delivering fruit soup; Karen spent the morning making krumkake; Lynn made hundreds of cookies; Sue was our money-taker and she also took care of the bake/craft table; Pat donated lots of loaves of banana bread; and Al donated a lot of his hand-made birdhouses for the craft table.

Please don’t think that I mentioned all of the things each person did because everyone was happy to jump in to help out whenever they were needed. I was just amazed at the energy everyone still had at the end of the day when all I wanted to do was go home, fall into bed and sleep for twelve or fourteen hours. Thank you, thank you, thank you to all of our volunteers and to everyone who came to our dinner. I hope to see you again next year.

We had almost enough food this year to last until the end of the day – except for one thing. We ran out of ham again. I bought about half again as much as I did last year, but I guess I’ll have to buy even more next time.

Members of the Barronett Civic Club will be hosting a Hunters’ Supper and Fun event this Friday, November 11th, from 5:00 to 7:00 p.m. at the Barronett Community Center. Two kinds of stew will be served in bread bowls. There will also be mac and cheese or hotdogs with chips for the children if they prefer. There will also be meat raffles, games and prizes. Drawings will be at 8:30 p.m. There will be something for everyone – lots of fun! Please plan to join us for the great food and fun on Friday.

Okay, on to other things – Mark, Tinille and Ivana Bellefeuille came to our house for a visit last Wednesday. We were so happy to meet our new little great-granddaughter in person. Suzy, Ryan and Alyse Lehmann and Lynn Thon were also here, and we all took turns holding the little darling. She is such a beautiful little baby – It’s hard to believe that she is so small. We love babies!

Did you have a good Halloween? We had all of those jack-o-lanterns that the kids made lit up and lined in front of the house, but we did not have even one trick-or-treater. I wish a few would have shown up so that we wouldn’t have all this dang candy left over. If you notice that I’ve gained some weight, trust me on this, it’s not my fault. It’s because I have no will-power and the kids didn’t come to take it on Halloween. Next year, please, bring your little ones to our house to save me from myself.

Suzy and Ryan Lehmann came over on Halloween night to play cards. I am not happy about this, but I have to tell you that the guys beat both games. Dang it! And, the funny part is that, at the end of the second game, it was kind of a “bidder goes out” situation – the guys needed one point and Suzy and I needed three. Okay, so I bid two, took the bid, and we made it. We were already celebrating when Ryan noticed that, even though we took the bid, we didn’t make the three points we needed. The guys took one point and the jack was not out! They won. Don’t worry, we will get even – eventually.

I guess that’s about all I know from Barronett this week. I’ve been so busy getting ready for the smorgasbord that I haven’t had time to think of anything else. Now I better get busy on some office work and on freezing apples. Have a great week and I’ll see you next time.

We're reminding hunters to be sure of your target and understand the difference between elk and white-tailed deer this hunting season.

As Wisconsin's elk population continues to grow, the chances of seeing elk in the field increase. Occasionally, elk can roam beyond their Clam Lake or Black River Falls management areas, so it is important for deer hunters statewide to know and understand the difference between elk and deer. Mistakes have been made during prior deer seasons, including hunters confusing antlerless elk for a large doe or a young bull elk for a large buck.

How To Identify An Elk:

Adult elk are larger than adult deer. An adult elk stands about 4-5 feet tall at the shoulders. Deer stand about 3-3 ½ feet at the shoulder. A fall elk calf will be about the same size as an adult white-tailed deer but will display similar coloration to adult elk.

Spot the difference in the antlers. White-tailed deer antlers curve forward, whereas elk antlers are larger and sweep back from their heads.

Look for color markings. Elk have a tan rump patch, dark legs and a dark brown mane. Elk also have a short, tan tail, matching their rump patch. Bull elk tend to have lighter body color than cow elk. Deer have legs the same color as their bodies, a white throat patch and a fluffy white tail.

Additional markers. Elk moving throughout the state may have noticeable markers, including colored ear tags or tracking collars. These collars are fixed around the neck and are typically orange in color, sometimes with a visible printed number.

See the differences between elk and white-tailed deer using our comparison guide.

Elk In Wisconsin

Once widespread across North America, elk were eliminated from Wisconsin in the 1880s. Thanks to the support of many partners and the backing of Wisconsinites, elk were reintroduced within the state in 1995.

Currently, there are two herds containing a total of more than 500 elk in Wisconsin reintroduction areas: one in northern Wisconsin, including Ashland, Bayfield, Price, Rusk and Sawyer counties, and one in Jackson County.

Elk observed outside of the management zones can be reported to the Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources through the Large Mammal Observation Form.

The Barron County Rifle Ranges in the Town of Arland and Town of Maple Plain will be closed beginning at 6pm on Thursday November 16th, and will reopen at 8am on Thursday December 7th.

Montana or Bust

Hello friends,
This week's column as well as next are about a 110% go for it Montana/Rocky Mountain adventure with myself and lifelong friend Todd Cibulka. Though Todd would not be hunting elk he was along for a physical, nonstop laughter, and incredible views trip with two buddies that clicked perfectly for 11-days. We would be near Bozeman, Montana and we would have two camps, one was our base camp at a USFS campground, the other was 2.5 miles up the mountain in elk and grizzly country.

Friday, October 20th
High 67, low 44
There is so much to write about this experience that I am going to be very short on details so I can tell as much as possible. Todd and I arrived on Wednesday, which is 3 days before the elk season opened. We did this because I believe setting up camps and scouting is as important as hunting. On the ride here on I 94 in North Dakota we were caught in a wind storm that was an incredible display of nature and knocked our gas mileage down from 16 to 9.

We are in major grizzly country and there are a lot of rules regarding them, such as food at camp, and approaching an elk kill (if a grizzly is at your kill, the grizzly gets your elk). We both carried handguns and bear spray.

The first part of this trip the air temp was perfect, I was shirtless for much of it, that would change on day 8

Climbing mountains: I am 62, Todd is 59. For me its 30 steps up and a 15 second break etc. Naturally the spot I whacked my 6x6 last year is on the top of difficult climb, and sweat as well as lung and leg pain (feels like both could blow out) are a regular part of life.

Camp fires at night. Todd and I ran around with the same crowd as kids and still do, we are also part of the same deer camp. Most nights we had campfires, and I would cook supper between 9 and 11 and at night. Laughter and talks of 50 years ago as well the recent past were nonstop.

Todd recently purchased and rigged up a Rock River Arms X1 in a 223 with a Vortex scope and was hoping to hunt coyote. We were both pleasantly surprised when we found out that he could purchase a wolf tag for $50.00 and buy up to five.

Scouting: though we were not seeing elk, they were everywhere we went, especially on the top of the mountain, tracks, droppings, and their smell had me higher than a kite at 30,000 feet.

Our base camp was made up of a 10x12 canvas tent that was covered with a 30x20 tarp. My friend Pat from Rice Lake donated it last winter and it was perfect for the job. Our spike camp was made up of two tents, one was an Eskimo pop-up ice shelter that we slept in the other was a 10x10 basic tent for hanging out in. We moved up to the spike camp the afternoon before season opener.

Opening day, I was as dedicated as I could be to every part of this journey. It has been on my mind since I was awarded a tag "$1267.00" on April 15th that allowed me to shoot one deer and one elk. I was literally sitting exactly where I harvested my 6x6 last year two hours before daylight. I was sweated up from the climb and had zero cares as I was on top of my game and had 8 days to harvest my quarry.

One minute after sitting down on the root ball of a long since fallen pine tree the first wolf howled within 2 football fields of me.

Talk to ya next week!
Sunset

Our main trailer was heavily loaded for our Montana adventure.

The atv and trailer were used hard on this trip.

DNR Confirms CWD In Wild Deer In Polk County

The Wisconsin Department of Natural Resources (DNR) confirms the first positive test result for chronic wasting disease (CWD) in a wild deer in Polk County. The deer was harvested in the town of Apple River and is within 10 miles of the Barron County border.

This detection will cause the following:

Polk will begin a three-year baiting and feeding ban on Dec. 1, 2023.

Barron will renew the ban already in place.

The deer was a hunter-harvested 3-year-old doe and is the first confirmed wild deer CWD-positive detected in Polk County.

The DNR and the Polk County Deer Advisory Council will be hosting a public meeting on Thursday, Nov. 9 at 5:30 p.m. DNR staff will provide information about CWD in Wisconsin, local CWD testing efforts and disease surveillance options being considered.

State law requires that the DNR enact a three-year baiting and feeding ban in counties where CWD has been detected, as well as a two-year ban in adjoining counties within 10 miles of a CWD detection. If additional CWD cases are found during the lifetime of a baiting and feeding ban, the ban will renew for an additional two or three years.

The DNR also reminds the public that it is illegal to hunt over an area previously used for legal baiting and feeding until that area is completely free of bait or feed for 10 consecutive days.

Baiting or feeding deer encourages them to congregate unnaturally around a shared food source where infected deer can spread CWD through direct contact with healthy deer or by leaving behind infectious prions in their saliva, blood, feces and urine.

More information regarding baiting and feeding regulations is available on the DNR's Baiting and Feeding webpage.

Hunters Can Help

The DNR asks deer hunters in Polk County to help with efforts to identify where CWD occurs on the landscape by having their deer tested for the disease. The collection of CWD samples is essential for assessing the presence of CWD in the deer population across the state.

In addition to submitting samples for CWD testing, hunters are also encouraged to properly dispose of deer carcass waste by locating a designated dumpster, transfer station or landfill location. Proper carcass disposal helps slow the spread of CWD by removing potentially infected deer carcasses from the landscape. A map of CWD sampling and carcass disposal locations is available on the DNR's CWD sampling webpage.

CWD is a fatal, infectious nervous system disease of deer, moose, elk and reindeer/caribou. It belongs to the family of diseases known as transmissible spongiform encephalopathies (TSEs) or prion diseases. The DNR began monitoring the state's wild white-tailed deer population for CWD in 1999. The first positives were found in 2002.

More general information about CWD can be found on the DNR's CWD webpage.

Winter Sports Seasons begin Girl’s Basketball and Hockey

Things are changing at the high school as fall sports have concluded and winter sports teams have begun practice for their 2023-2024 seasons.

First up is hockey and girl’s basketball, which started Monday, with boy’s basketball and wrestling to follow next Monday, November 13.

The Cumberland Girl’s Basketball Team will again be coached by Kim Weber in her second year at the helm. The team looks to improve on last year’s 2 and 23 mark, with a number of players returning with valuable experience gained last season.

The Northwest Icemen, meanwhile, also hope to improve on last year’s 3 and 18 record. They open up their schedule on Friday, November 17 with hopes for a better winter.

Two teams with high expectations get things going next Monday.

The Boy’s Basketball Team was 19 and 7 last winter and return one of the areas top players in Gavin Gores. He was a Second-Team All-Conference selection as a Sophomore, averaging 17.4 points and 9.7 rebounds per game. He will join some fellow underclassmen in what should make for an exciting year for new Head Coach Brian Dutton, who served as the Head Girl’s Coach for a number of years.

Finally, wrestling is poised for a big winter with some coaches in the area picking them as a strong challenger for Team State.

Head Coach Justin Peterson has one of the State’s top wrestlers in Dawson Johnson, who has already committed to the University of Minnesota and will be going for a prestigious fourth straight State Championship. Jack Chafer also returns after putting together a 42-15 record and a trip to Madison last winter. The Beavers look to be the team to beat in the HON with the only bad news, the loss of Cooper Schramski, who will miss the season following knee surgery.

All and All, it looks to be an exciting winter in the high school gym for local fans.

Sports Lookback, November 12, 2003

The Cumberland Girl’s Basketball team hopes to use several returning players with experience to turn around a program that has had eight consecutive losing seasons. The overall record during those eight years is 42 and 133. Last year, the Beavers finished 7 and 14 overall, 4 and 10 in the H.O.N. Conference, where they finished in 6th place.

Twenty-nine girls, 9-12, are out this winter, including returning All-Conference performer Erin Miller. The 5’11 inch junior averaged 12.2 points per game in the Conference last winter while leading the H.O.N. in rebounds with 11.8 per game. She also finished 8th in assists with 2.6 per contest.

Joining Miller is another junior, Nicole Blaser, who averaged 10.8 points and 6.2

rebounds in her 14 conference games. The 5’10 inch forward gives Cumberland two solid underclassmen from which to build on.

The key to breaking the poor records of the last eight years will be finding three other starters, particularly at the guard positions. Junior Leah Thoe had some time at point last year and joins seniors Erin Thorp, Ami Erickson and Whitney Jensen, junior Kelly Capra and sophomores Kerri Dehline and Ashley Schullo as the main competitors for those spots.

Cumberland will have a new coach this year after the departure of Bucky Bergmann to Minnesota. Hall of Fame Baseball coach and former successful football coach Mark Fuller takes the helm this winter.

Out My Window

by Paul Bucher, Editor

Well I have to start with what happened last Wednesday at 3M. An active shooter alert went out and police from all over converged on Cumberland. I was on my way to the Rainy River when I got the call. Wow was that scary. My wife works at the Elementary School, just a stones throw from 3M, as were a friend of mines two kids. As it turns out, it was a false alarm, but a stark reminder of what is almost common in today’s world. I want to say thank you to the responding police officers. I can’t imagine what must have been going through their minds. Especially those first on scene, but all officers for sure. Thank you, thank you, thank you for all you do everyday. Also to the teachers and staff who got the kids inside and kept their minds busy so they didn’t know what was going on outside their playground. I know it was scary for all of you, thanks for taking care of the kids!

The first school planning session was held last Thursday evening. Only 20 or so people attended. This is a big problem that is going to cost a lot of money. It’s not if, it’s when something will have to be done to address the issues of our aging school. A referendum is coming next February. It would have been nice to see more people.

There are several things happening this coming weekend. The Makers Market Craft Fair held at the Das Lach Haus. This is an opportunity to start your Christmas shopping early with many local vendors on hand. The event runs from 10 am to 3 pm. Also on Saturday from 9 am to 2:30 pm, the American Legion will be hosting the annual Christmas Bazaar. There will be various vendors and lunch will be served by the Legion Auxiliary with carry-outs available. Stop and have some lunch. Also raffle drawings will take place at 2:00 pm. Friday evening, November 10th, the Barronett Community Center is hosting a Hunters Supper from 5-7 pm. There will be homemade stew served in a bread bowl, plus dessert. Kids can get a hot dog or mac & cheese. There will be door prizes, meat raffles, an indoor buck board and more. Make plans to stop in Barronett and have some fun.

The Vikes won, the Packers won, so all was good on Sunday. Then came Monday when I heard the news that the Chicago Cubs, the Brewers biggest rival signed the Brewers Manager Craig Council for the last nine seasons. I sure didn’t see that coming. An already intense rivalry surely will go to another level next season when the two teams meet. Should make for some fun games.

As I mentioned earlier, I went up to the Rainy River on the border of Minnesota and Canada late last week. Although we didn’t catch any big walleyes, we caught a bunch and I also caught the biggest fresh water fish I have ever caught. I caught a sturgeon that we estimated between 40 and 50 pounds. Wow, was that a blast. Funny we only saw two other boats on the river those two days. Twenty eight degrees for a high made it plenty chilly but still a lot of fun. Get outside, have a great week!

Inside Wisconsin

by Tom Still

“From pets to AI to medical breakthroughs, entrepreneurs have ideas”

MADISON, Wis. – I don’t live in one of the 87 million U.S. households with at least one pet, but I know pet owners will spend generously to help their little companions live better lives. Entrepreneurs understand that $137 billion per year consumer market, too.

Pitches from three young companies hoping to capture a bite of the growing pet market are among the 24 five-minute presentations that will take place Nov. 8-9 at the Wisconsin Early Stage Symposium in Madison, where they will compete with innovations in artificial intelligence, medical devices, manufacturing, workforce solutions and energy for the attention of early stage investors. Another batch of 90-second pitches includes a pet pitch, as well.

The annual conference is often a microcosm of ideas searching for a marketplace niche, and often reflective of Wisconsin’s economic strengths.

The pet category is a prime example. The owner of Pet Bliss, a Waupaca company, was inspired to create a vacuum-attached grooming brush for dogs and cats by watching dairy cows enjoy their grooming sessions. Contented cows; contented dogs and cats. A patent is pending.

The team behind Jango-

Pet, a Fitchburg biotech firm, are developing cell-based regenerative therapies to combat the effects of aging in pets. They’re starting with a product for canine osteoarthritis, which is under review by the Food and Drug Administration’s Center for Veterinary Medicine.

Chocolate Rescue for Dogs, which scored well in the 2023 Governor’s Business Plan Contest, is a Germantown company with a patent-pending, at-home “treat” to help dogs survive ingesting chocolate. If administered with an hour of so of Fido wolfing down a toxic chocolate bar, it can help avoid costly visits to a veterinarian or worse.

Wisconsin is one of the nation’s leading manufacturing states. Young companies that will take the stage at Madison’s Monona Terrace Convention include a Madison company with innovation in adhesive application; a Wales firm with a new way to capture carbon from fluid contactors often used in manufacturing processes; and a 3D metal printing process from Stoughton that uses heat to remove other materials. Also, a Hudson company will talk about its system for replacing lithium-ion batteries commonly used for storing energy produced by wind and solar farms.

Medical pitches will include a Madison company with a rapid DNA test to identify bacteria tied to diarrheal diseases so that treatment can begin sooner; a company from Connecticut with Wisconsin ties working on a drug-based therapy for traumatic brain injuries; an Oconomowoc firm that can convert a manual wheelchair to a power chair through an easy-to-install power base; a Madison company with technology to treat patients with blood-flow complications; and a Michigan company with a portable, wearable phototherapy “swaddle” to treat jaundice in newborns.

One AI pitch ties into the healthcare world. A Madison company has developed a voice-activated platform to help people navigate home diagnostic tests or at-home medical devices. Another AI play from Bloomington, Ind., helps companies and other find skilled translators and interpreters for various projects.

Agriculture is included through a Madison company with a pinpoint system for spraying specialty crops such as fruits, citrus and tree nuts. Also in the food category is a Middleton company that is developing a national network for delivering meals from ethnic restaurants near them.

The construction industry is represented by a Madison company with a cloud-based software system to help contractors make more accurate estimates and schedule the work. Also, a Wittenburg company will pitch its system for producing green “hempcrete” blocks for construction.

Workforce ideas will include a two-side learning platform to connect employers and entry-level job seekers; a data-driven platform that can assist volunteer-driven organizations; a process that connects mentors and mentees; and a company that has established high schools in three countries using Wisconsin curricula in hopes of attracting graduates to Wisconsin colleges. All are Wisconsin-based.

In-state information technology, wealth management and cybersecurity plans will take the stage, as well.

Over the past five years alone, more than 50 companies that have taken part in the conference have raised at least one round of angel or venture capital sometime after presenting. This year’s crop will aspire to do the same.

Still is president of the Wisconsin Technology Council. He can be reached at tstill@wisconsintechnologycouncil.com.

We are deeply grateful for law enforcement’s prompt response to the situation, and our employees’ professionalism as they safely evacuated the facility. We regret the disruption and concern this situation caused. cal, and heating systems that showed their age following 65 years of existence. During the tour, those taking part were shown outdated and inefficient steam heating components, an aged plumbing system, failing electrical panels, severe roof leaks in the two-story wing, wall cracks in the structure leading to safety concerns, and outdated classrooms.

Due to the age of the building, some replacement part for the buildings systems are no longer available. Following the tour, those in attendance went through a question and answer session, for which Dr. Rose said, “We want your input as to what are the alternatives. What would you do” Among items discussed included which part of the current facility is salvageable, cost of new and other types of replacement possibilities, the values to students of a new building, and what is necessary and what is not. It was an informational evening for those that chose to attend as the District continues to provide opportunities for community input.

Northwood Tech to unveil new mechatronics lab with ribbon cutting and open house

Northwood Technical College would like to extend an invitation to a ribbon cutting and open house event at the Rice Lake Campus to celebrate the addition of a new advanced manufacturing training lab as part of the Housing Opportunity and Mobile Education Solutions (HOMES) Wisconsin Innovation Grant. Speakers and attendees at the event will include members of the Wisconsin Economic Development Corporation and Wisconsin Department of Workforce Development, including Wisconsin State Assembly Representative Dave Armstrong. Our mobile lab is an innovative advancement in training with state-of-the-art machinery and equipment for hands-on experience, as well as being paired with a comprehensive curriculum designed to create skilled workers prepared to enter the workforce upon program completion. After the ribbon cutting takes place, the mechatronics lab will be open to view the advanced Amatrol machinery and equipment and overall layout of the lab’s space. While viewing the lab, visitors will be able to see its features and capabilities. Faculty and college staff will also be on hand to answer questions and provide information regarding training and programming at the College. To respond that your organization will be in attendance for this event or if you have any questions, please feel free to reach out via email Mandy.Dietrich@NorthwoodTech.edu.

Northwoods Notebook: No Christmas play, but an extra ETC concert

By Larry Werner

It’s never easy getting a cast for community theater productions. Casting “It’s a Wonderful Life — Live Radio Version” proved to be an insurmountable challenge this year. Too bad, since when it was done two years ago, it was one of the biggest hits in the history of ETC, Cumberland’s organization for the dramatic, visual and musical arts. While there won’t be a Christmas play this year, there will be extra Christmas music. In addition to the annual Community Choir Christmas Concert, which will be held at St. Anthony the Abbot Church Sunday, Dec. 10, there’ll be two bands playing songs of the season at 7 p.m. Friday, Dec. 15, at the Cumberland Arts Center. The arts center event is

“A Home Again/Hay River Sisters Christmas (& Bake Sale),” with two of Cumberland’s most popular bands. Home Again — Nancy Keeler, Stan Nosbush and Phil Warner — and the Hay River Sisters — Mary Beth Eighmy, Jolene Colburn and Monica Bastien— will be on the Ruppel Family Theater stage the Friday before the big holiday. The concert at St. Anthony, as always, will collect free-will offerings, as will the concert at the arts center. Louie’s Finer Meats, Cumberland Federal Bank and Dairy State Bank are sponsoring the Dec. 15 event. I’ve thought since I showed up in Cumberland that it would be nice to have Christmas music at the Cumberland Arts Center, with its great acoustics. But the old church on main street isn’t big enough for the crowds that show up for the two performances of the community-choir concert. Thus, those concerts are held in churches that hold more people. But you’ll have another opportunity to hear some holiday tunes on Dec. 15 in a church that was turned into an arts center. And we’ll have a bake sale downstairs. Home Again and the Hay River Sisters draw large crowds at Island City Music concerts on summer Tuesdays. Home Again is led by Keeler on bassoon, and the sisters who grew up on the Hay River in Almena, are accompanied by Eighmy on guitar. Both groups encourage the audience to sing along. And what’s more fun than singing along to Christmas carols? Larry Werner’s email is lhwerner47@gmail.com.

Margaret's Project Santa Has Begun

Margaret's Project Santa has begun preparations for this year's children. Margaret's Project Santa was established by Cumberland's own Margaret Olson to ensure that no child in our community will ever wake up and feel like they were forgotten.

It is our strong belief and mission that every child in our community, big or small, should wake up Christmas morning to gifts under the tree and food in the refrigerator. This is more powerful than you can imagine and the ripple effect builds happiness within for children to feel loved and be successful.

Margaret's Project Santa is a cooperative of community organizations and groups, the Cumberland School District, as well as families and individuals within the community dedicated to helping children in need in Cumberland. Toys are brand new and donated through yearly toy drives or purchased thanks to monetary donations from supporters. If you wish to donate money, checks can be written to Margaret's Project Santa, c/o Barb Muench, PO Box 788, Cumberland, WI, 54829. Toys can be dropped off at US Bank in Cumberland or Dollar General in Cumberland. Help grant wishes today.

Give a Gift of Hope; Collection week for Operation Christmas Child is November 13-20

Cooler weather has come to northwestern Wisconsin, and with it comes reminders that winter, and Christmas, are just around the corner. And with Christmas comes shoebox packing for Operation Christmas Child.

The mission of Operation Christmas Child, a ministry of Samaritan's Purse, is to demonstrate God's love in a tangible way to children in need around the world. Every year since its inception in 1993, Samaritan's Purse has collected shoebox gifts filled with toys, school supplies, and hygiene items for children around the world.

In the past 30 years, more than 209 million children in more than 170 countries and territories have received an Operation Christmas Child shoebox. These shoebox gifts are often the first and only gift the child has ever received. Most importantly, each gift is a tangible expression of God's love that contains the good news of salvation.

Last year alone more than 10.5 million shoebox gifts were collected, with 9.3 million donated within the United States alone. The Northwest Wisconsin Area of Operation Christmas Child, which encompasses all of Burnett, Washburn and Sawyer counties, and the areas of Polk, Barron and Rusk counties north of Hwy. 8, provided more than 4,000 of these gifts.

The Northwest Wisconsin Area and participating churches and individuals invite you to become part of offering love and hope through the simple gift of a shoebox. Learn more online at www.samaritanaspurse.org.

National Collection Week is Nov. 13-20. Drop-off sites are at East Balsam Baptist Church (651-424-6278), First Baptist Church, Webster (715-791-4952), Spooner Wesleyan Church (715-416-0600), Maranatha Evangelical Free Church, Rice Lake (612-308-6425), Hayward Wesleyan Church (715-634-4613) and First Church of Christ, Ladysmith (608-487-4838).
