Four Corners To See Some Changes

Some exciting news to share with you. As you're aware, there is always traffic downtown at the intersection of STH 48 & 63 (the Four Corners) and it can be downright horrific during busy weekends and holidays. We've all seen long backups, close calls, fender benders and large trucks barely missing (and occasionally hitting) the Corner Bar. The City of Cumberland has been seeking relief for years, and we're finally going to achieve it!

The Wisconsin Department of Transportation (WisDOT) has permitted us to restripe the lanes and turning radiuses at the intersection on a trial basis. We believe it will provide immediate relief, and success may lead to this being part of a permanent solution implemented by WisDOT during the resurfacing of STH 63 next year.

Of course, all of this good news comes with a measure of sacrifice. In order to get WisDOT's approval, the City of Cumberland had to agree to eliminate all parking on STH 48 and 63 (Elm St.) between 1st Ave., and 3rd Ave.

At their regular meeting on August 6th, the Cumberland Common Council amended our ordinance eliminating this parking. Curb paint and signage will be adjusted to reflect these changes soon. We anticipate the intersection improvements to occur within a few weeks. If you have any questions in the interim please feel free to contact City Hall. Randy Reeg, City of Cumberland Administrator

City of Cumberland Requests Public Input on the Communities Parks and Outdoor Recreation Facilities

The City of Cumberland invites area residents and visitors to participate in an online survey to guide future parks and outdoor recreation improvements. Outdoor recreation is an important part of our lives and, as the "Island City" it is vital to our economy.

An important step in providing quality recreation opportunities is planning. Limited budgets, changing resources, new partners, and other community changes require careful consideration of where and how recreational facilities are created and improved. Increasing demands for outdoor recreation opportunities have led to increasing pressure on existing recreation facilities. And the City recognizes that recreational demands and interests change over time.

The City of Cumberland is currently updating its Outdoor Recreation Plan, which will be used to identify future improvements and is a requirement for related grant funding. The City is asking area residents and visitors to assist with updating the Plan by completing an online survey. The responses will help the City understand how you and those in your household use our parks and recreational facilities, along with potential opportunities for the future.

The survey closes on September 20, 2024, so please complete the 10-15 minute survey at your earliest convenience.

The survey may be completed online at <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/cumberlandparks>.

All responses will be treated in a confidential manner. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact Randy Reeg, Cumberland City Administrator, at 715-822-2752 or cityadmin@cityofcumberland.net.

We appreciate your time.

School Board Holds August Meeting; School Prepares for Opening Day

by Mark R Fuller

With the school-year right around the corner, the Cumberland School Board held their monthly meeting last Tuesday evening, August 20. Following the approval of the Consent Agenda and activity fund reconciliation sheets and with no in attendance asking to speak, the Board moved into District Reports.

Director of Learning Isaac Lundquist began the night by giving the Board an update on several staff training programs which have taken place in the past three weeks. Among the topics covered was the recent Act 20 certification for several employees, which will prepare them for 4K-3 literacy screening in seven domains. There was additional training for a new math program, which has great promise and multiple uses, while Lundquist concluded by giving an overview of staff development in a Positive Behavior Support program.

Athletic Director Lorne Majewski was next, giving an update on the high school and middle school programs that are underway. Majewski thanked the maintenance staff for their summer preparation, discussed an upcoming HON Sportsmanship and Leadership Summit, and said the HON will vote in September on a Chetek-Weyerhaeuser request to leave the HON and move to the Dunn St. Croix Conference.

Action Items began with the Board approving a bid for fuel from Synergy and a snow removal bid from Erickson Excavating for the 2024-2025 school year. Superintendent Dr. Barry Rose thanked those who participated, but whose bids were not chosen.

The Board then reviewed and made minor changes to policy po9575 on Indian Policies and procedures. This annual review came after "Some excellent dialogue" with the local St. Croix Education Department. Dr. Rose said there will be continued meetings with the St. Croix throughout the school year.

The Board continued by approving the resignations of Mary Miller from Pep Club Advisor and Isaac Lundquist from Assistant Football. Approved to new District positions were Derek Fennern as Middle School Football Coach, Joe Rademacher as Assistant Wrestling Coach, Gina Grewe as Assistant FFA Advisor, Charlotte Krautkramer and Ruth Weyer to Food Service, and Graham Severson, Janessa Petit, Julia Stinson, and Alicia Laursen as Special Education Aides.

The Discussion Items began with a brief Referendum Construction Update from Dr. Rose. The September Meeting will go into more depth, with several people involved in the construction of the new building in attendance.

Dr. Rose explained that meetings are continually ongoing with the Core Planning Group, staff, and others involved. He added that the time table to begin to knocking things down was set for the spring. He continued, "We are starting to get into what things are really going to look like."

Dr. Rose showed diagrams to those in attendance, illustrating both the tentative outside and inside look of the project. Several questions were asked by Board members, as they look forward to further information at the September meeting.

Dr. Rose concluded his report by saying, "The District is currently going through the yearly Financial Audit Week and things show the District is in good order with favorable interest rates locked into the building project." The District received the Department of Revenue's Final Equalized Value calculation, but budget wise are still waiting for State Aids and the September enrollment count. State Aides make up approximately 45 percent of a schools funding.

The evening concluded with the Principals Reports. Each of the three building Principals indicated a "Staff excitement" that is part of the beginning of a new school year. Reports on Staff inservice and Team curriculum meetings led each principal to indicate the teachers and staff were ready to go. With that, the Board adjourned the meeting and moved into closed session.

The September meeting is scheduled for September 17 at 6:00 pm.

Out My Window

by Paul Bucher, Editor

As always, what a fun Rutabaga Festival. Things kicked off in a big way Thursday night when Paisan and the Family Brass put on a great show in front of a huge crowd. It just kept going from there. Way to much to mention so I won't even try. Great food, music, fun and more. From what I understand it was very uneventful in terms of trouble. How great is that to hear in today's times. It got a little toasty Saturday and Sunday but overall went great. Thank you so much to all the volunteers. It couldn't happen without you. I must pass out a special thanks to the volunteers setting up and especially tearing down in 90+ degree heat and humidity. It was miserable Monday. Great job everyone. I hear it every year, "wow what an awesome festival". True story!

Well we're down to one more big weekend this summer and that's this weekend with the three day Labor Day weekend. I might have a little fish fry and just chill out. I don't have much on my plate and that's AWESOME! Don't get me wrong, I enjoy summer, but boy it gets busy. It seems there is something to do almost every weekend. We have a wedding in a couple weeks and that's it for stuff on my calendar.

That was a pretty good storm that rolled through Monday night and Tuesday morning. Knock on wood we have been pretty fortunate this summer. I have seen reports of several trees down in the area and power was out for several hours in many locations and still is as of 10 am Tuesday. It can't be 93 degrees and 75% humidity without something happening most times. It was just gross. Hopefully the severe stuff is done for the summer.

The 9th annual McKinley Corn Feed is this Saturday at the town hall. Eat all the corn you want along with hotdogs, sloppy joes, and more. There will be a petting zoo, vintage car truck and tractor competition and more. The event runs from 12 til 3 pm. Stop by and help out the McKinley Vikings 4-H Club. All proceeds got to a scholarship fund! Paisan and the Family Brass also has another show this time on Sunday night at County Line Tavern. Should be a lot of fun. The night starts at 5:00 pm with Radio Free Comstock with Paisan to follow at 7:00 pm. Have a great week!

Inside Wisconsin

by Tom Still

“At Epic, AI isn’t just the next big thing: It’s already improving care”

VERONA, Wis. – Epic’s User Group Meeting annually offers a themed surprise for thousands of visitors, so it was no shock when founder Judy Faulkner appeared on stage Aug. 20 in the company’s Deep Space Auditorium dressed as “Lady Swan,” a variation on Mother Goose and in keeping with a larger story-telling motif.

What may have surprised the Deep Space crowd and thousands more watching around the world is that while artificial intelligence has already transformed many Epic services, there is much more to unfold in the fairy tale “story” of Epic’s pioneering of healthcare software.

Some numbers put Epic’s UGM in context: People from health-care systems, payor networks and more from all 50 U.S. states and 15 other countries were on hand in the 11,400-seat Deep Space venue when Faulkner and team updated how the company’s software is being used.

That in-person audience and about 32,000 more online learned that Epic’s Cosmos database now contains anonymized records from 270 million patients, which helps researchers conduct better studies and doctors to better assist patients. They heard about developments with Epic’s MyChart, which is a patient portal for appointments, care questions and more. They learned the company gets about 370,000 job applications per year, which feeds the growth of Epic’s workforce of 13,000 people – most of whom clustered on the ever-growing Verona campus. They also heard examples of why cybersecurity diligence is more vital than ever, especially when patient data is involved.

A long list of new Epic customers, called out during the Deep Space presentation, showed why the company is a world leader in electronic health records. It reportedly holds a larger market share than its closest competitor, Oracle Health/Cerner. Of course, Epic didn’t get there by standing still after its humble start in a Madison basement in 1979.

Artificial intelligence is one reason. Speakers at UGM stressed AI has been in play with Epic products for years, with some 400 health systems using the company’s predictive models for tasks ranging from estimating readmission rates to patient bills to “drug-drug” interactions that can be dangerous is not avoided. In fact, Faulkner said Epic alerts to caregivers have halted 78 million such instances over time, most likely saving lives in the process.

What’s new but already emerging in Epic’s software suite are uses of “generative” AI such as automated response technology. Examples include a Look-Alikes function, which helps providers who care for patients with rare or mysterious diseases by finding similar patients elsewhere to examine treatment regimens. Another tool being tested would allow doctors to evaluate treatment options based on the outcomes of other patients in the database.

In all, the company is working on about 100 AI products for tasks large and small and, in some cases, designed to take time and human effort out of the process.

One demonstration during the UGM session in Deep Space involved Seth Hain, Epic’s senior vice president of research and development, using a cell phone to highlight how AI might help MyChart users in the future. An AI voice contacted Hain through his phone to see how he is recovering from wrist surgery. It asked him to rate his pain, instructed him to hold up his wrist so the phone’s camera could check range of motion, and compared his progress to others.

“According to Cosmos data, your recovery is ahead of schedule for patients like you. Keep up the good work,” the voice said.

The tool is not ready for prime time, Hain readily acknowledged, and there are health-care providers who worry AI could undermine patient relationships versus nurturing them. Still, the AI phone check-in showed how AI can supplement patient care and help providers get better results.

The Epic “story” must continue to turn the page. Health-care costs are high and some health systems are struggling financially, particularly in rural settings. Regulators abroad, at the U.S. federal level and in states such as Wisconsin are looking at AI with a mix of awe and dread. How a company such as Epic harnesses the power of AI to combat such problems and improve the practice of medicine is the next chapter.

Still is president of the Wisconsin Technology Council. He can be reached at tstill@wisconsintechologycouncil.com.

An Outdoorsman's Journal

by Mark Walters

Rocky Mountain Adventure

Hello friends,
This week's column has good news and is loaded with adventure. As you may know, my 23-year-old daughter Selina Walters has been hired by the USFWS as a biologist in Montana. Selina graduated from UW Stevens point last December and I helped her to move to Missoula in January. Selina and I communicate almost daily, and she has become a very active hiker, fly fisher woman and she does a lot of camping and kayaking.
On April 15th, I was notified by the state of Montana that I was successful in drawing a general combo elk/deer tag. Selina will have been a Montana resident for 6 months and it really looks like she will be able to join me in the Gallatin National Forest near Bozeman, for an October elk and deer hunt with a rifle. Ever since Selina moved, we have been planning a scouting, atv, camping, hangout with the pups trip and that is what this week's column is about.
Thursday, August 15th
High 71, low 41
It is 1286 miles from my house to the trail where we would unload my atv and trailer. Red and Ruby were as excited to see Selina as she was them and the mood was excellent as we began our 3-night adventure. Our first goal was the journey up the mountain with my 570 Polaris "Sportsman" 2up. We would be headed to where I have camped the last 2 falls and 2 years ago harvested a beautiful 6x6 bull elk.

It is a long trip, and I was concerned about 8-year-old Ruby but like her pup Red she climbed the mountain with ease. As soon as we got as far as we could go with the atv, I became pretty excited and even though I was only wearing sandals talked Selina into going up the mountain to my elk hunting spot, 35 physical minutes. I told Selina a million stories, we took 30 second breaks and when we were home, there was plenty of elk and deer sign, but to be honest, it was dry and other than beds and droppings there was not much to see.
It had been a long last 36 hours and we hiked back to our campsite, the mood was perfect, a thunderstorm worked our way and for the next 4 hours we were rained on, which was until like midnight. We stayed outside and cooked northern pike, perch and sweet corn from my garden.
We forgot butter but it was an excellent meal.
Friday, August 16th
High 74, low 45
All 4 of us slept in a tent on the ground and the pups are loving life. Today we went for a long atv ride and then for the last 4 hours of daylight we hiked up to elk paradise. We did not see an elk or deer, but it was fun hoping we would.

If all goes well, this is where Selina Walters will be hunting elk on opening day of Montana's rifle season.

Saturday, August 17th
High 76, low 43
Selina is a Walters, which means she has big energy and each night we have been staying up well past midnight, our phones are useless, we have no music, and it is too dangerous to have a campfire, neither of us let that bother us a bit. Today's goal was to find a back up place to elk and deer hunt. Selina had her OnX and we took the atv a few miles from camp and began hiking. Selina understands that elk like grass, and so we began a journey to find open country amongst the dark timber. From the get go, we were into very steady elk and mule deer sign and then, just like that the dark timber opened up to a beautiful "park" or you could say pasture and it was literally loaded with sign.
We found a spot where Selina will hunt in October, I went further up the mountain. Our last night was a dandy and this daughter/father team have adjusted to her move away from Wisconsin about as perfectly as could be.
Live large,
Sunset

Football Team Drops Opener to Chetek-Weyerhaeuser

The Cumberland Beavers opened up the 2024 football season with a 27-20 loss to the Chetek-Weyerhaeuser Bulldogs in a non-conference battle in Chetek last Friday night. This Friday, the Beavers get back into action with their home opener in Endeavor Stadium, where they take on the Ladysmith Lumberjacks beginning at 7:00 pm.
"Chetek is a much-improved team who played well and didn't make many mistakes. It was an extremely close football game and I'm very proud of our player's effort. We played hard and fought until the end. We just made too many mistakes to win that football game," said the Beavers Head Coach Dan Henken.
The Beavers held an early 6-0 lead, but the Bulldogs scored a second quarter touchdown to set up a 6-6 tie at halftime. Chetek-Weyerhaeuser then scored two third quarter touchdowns to take a 20-6 lead going into the final quarter.
Cumberland didn't quit and scored twice themselves in the game's final 12 minutes. Unfortunately, the Bulldogs added their own six-pointer to come out on top of the season's opening contest.
"We lost the turnover battle, had too many penalties, and gave up a few big plays in some critical situations. I also regret some play calls that put our kids in a couple tough spots," Coach Henken said about the loss.
The biggest thorn in the Beavers side was Chetek's Aiden Becker, who threw for 104 yards and a score, while adding three more touchdowns on the ground to go along with 70 yards rushing. Logan Peterson and Derrick Gideo had nine tackles each for the Beavers, while Harrison Ruppel added eight tackles and a quarterback sack. "Overall, I thought we tackled pretty well," added Henken.

Offensively, the Beavers had several explosive plays and put up over 300 yards of offense. Quarterback Chayden Berghammer had an excellent first game, throwing for 90 yards and rushing for 151 yards and three touchdowns. Jack Owens caught three passes for 32 yards and Uriah Johnson, two for 39. Offensively, the Beavers outgained the Bulldogs in total yards, 318 to 240.
"Our players and coaches will get back to work this week and keep getting better. It is a great group of kids who represent our community with class. We are excited to get to play a very solid Ladysmith team at our place this Friday," Henken concluded. Ladysmith dropped their opener to Edgar by a 28-20 score.
The home opener will be youth football camp night and any camper who wears their 2024 Beaver Football Camp shirt to the game will be able to welcome the team on the field and stand next to the team for the National Anthem.

Golf Team Hosts Three Teams for HON Opener

The Cumberland Golf Team opened up HON Conference play by hosting Hayward and Luck-Unity-Frederic in a match at the Cumberland Golf Course last Wednesday morning. The Hurricanes easily won the contest with a score of 216, while the Co-op Team from Luck shot a 242 and Cumberland came in third with a 251.
The Co-ops Jordan Olson was Medalist with a 45, while Kelsey Reidy led Tom Hullander's Cumberland team with a 53. McKensie Tahtinen had the team's next best score with a 64.

The ladies of Cumberland were back in action on Monday and Tuesday of this week before heading north to take on the Northwestern Tigers in a contest this Thursday. The team is then off until next Thursday, September 5, when they travel to St. Croix Falls for a 4:00 pm contest.

Volleyball Team Excited for Opener in Onalaska

The Cumberland Volleyball Team heads to Onalaska this Wednesday and Thursday to participate in the Onalaska Sprawl, which brings in teams from around the State to open up the 2024 season. "I saw a lot of good things in our Saturday scrimmage and we are all looking forward to a great season," said Head Coach Erin Miller. Cumberland hosted Grantsburg, Boyceville and Shell Lake on Saturday, where all levels got a chance to play. "Things went well and we played very competitively," added Coach Miller. Following the trip to Onalaska, Cumberland will play in a Quad in Elk Mound next Tuesday and then head to Chetek for a Varsity Invitational on Saturday, September 7.

Soccer Team Holds Alumni Event; Home Opener This Thursday

The Cumberland Boy's Soccer Team was busy last week, holding their annual Alumni get-together on Friday evening and playing in a multi-team scrimmage in New Richmond on Saturday. The team opened up the regular season on Tuesday against St. Croix Central and then play their home opener this Thursday in Endeavor Stadium, when they take-on Amery at 5:00 pm. Twenty-eight alumni played the current team to a 2-2 tie in regulation on Friday, before losing in a shootout to this year's younger team members. "It was a great night of fun," said Head Coach Brent Sellent. He added, "I thought the Saturday scrimmage also went well and we improved throughout the day." Following Thursdays game, the Beavers are back in Endeavor Stadium next Tuesday against Spooner, in another 5:00 pm contest.

First Rutabaga Golf Scramble Held in 1992

by Mark R Fuller

Currently a staple for golfers each Rutabaga celebration, the first Cumberland Golf Scramble took place 34 years ago in 1992. It was held on a warm and windy Saturday, with 78 men and women participating. Following the 18-hole competition, the team of Phil Nelson, Pete Antonetti and Will Weikke were tied with the team of Bill Goldsmith, Bob Nelson, and Lana Benjamin with identical 62s. The Nelson team then took home the initial Championship on the first extra hole, with an eight-foot birdie putt. The team of Ed Hougdaahl, Mark Ruppel and John Miller won the low number of putts at 22, while Dean Patrick took home the greenball shootout over John Benjamin and Dave Odden among others. A fun time was held by all, a tradition that continues today!

Cross Country Team Begins Practice; First Meet on Thursday

The Cumberland Cross Country Team is in their second week of practice with their first competition scheduled for this Thursday at the Grantsburg Invitational. Thirteen runners were part of opening drills for Wilbur Rosenow, who returns in the Head Coaching position and will be assisted by volunteer coach Marshall Straw.

“I’m very excited for this season. We will have a very young squad after losing eight seniors off last year’s team and it will be exciting to watch them improve,” said

Rosenow.

Two young ladies, Senior Charlotte Odden and Sophomore Greta Weaver, return from last fall’s squad. Weaver ran a 23:08 for her best time last fall. Four newcomers make up the rest of the team, Sophomores Kiera Fox and Jasmine Delgado and Freshmen Avery Johnson and Caylinn Schultz.

The top returning boy runner is Junior Tommy Dettinger, whose best time last year was an excellent 17:34, leaving him just short of All-Conference honors. Other returning runners are Senior Torin Fountaine, Senior Ashton Brannan and Sophomore Bryce McNulty. They will be joined by Sophomores Jayden Eagleman and Collin Vielleux and Freshman Ben Dettinger, brother to Tommy.

“I believe this group, though young, will still be a very competitive group,” added Rosenow.

Following Thursday’s Meet, Cumberland will be back in action on Tuesday, September 3, when they participate in the Bloomer Meet. The run begins at 4:00 PM.

Purchasing Your CHS Hall of Fame Tickets

ternet, or stop at the store for a brochure and information. The store is staffed completely by dedicated volunteers, some who have been there since the beginning.

During that time, the business has grown. Since covid, the sales have increased and so have the donations. We have outgrown the building. Since we cannot afford to move or have the manpower to do that, we must make adjustments. Our storage area does not accommodate all that need. It was decided to purchase an 8 X 10 outdoor storage shed to store some of the off-season items such as the lawn mower, shovels, shelving, totes, etc. All the money was raised by volunteer donations.

We waited until we found one suitable on sale and brought it to the store on Thursday. This is all done by volunteers as well. The only person able to haul it – unassembled, in a box weighing over 300 lbs – lives in Trego. Rather than make two trips, we decided to leave it at the store. The site prep and construction of the building was being donated by our building owner. Construction was to begin this week.

We assumed it would be ok outside, behind the building for a couple of days. Wish we had known then, what we know now! By Friday morning it was gone.

The RLPD came Saturday morning to make a report. I asked if they cruise through that area at night, or patrol, I was told no. We were told it is probably gone and there isn’t much that can be done. We then went next door to a garage where a man was loading a trailer. He told us about that area behind our store, behind the laundromat, and the drive through alley are busy all night. He said our dumpster lid is up and down all night. He told us homeless take shelter in the laundromat.

Most of our volunteers are seniors that live in outlying areas and are completely oblivious to this kind of activity. We are just sick about losing this shed. Now we are out that money and need to decide if we can ask the volunteers to donate again. We will also put a lock on the dumpster and possibly install a camera.

I will mention that theft inside the store has increased as well. All of this is the same as stealing from a church!

Barronett News

By Judy Pieper

Where does the time go? Rutabaga Fest is already a thing of the past for this year. One of my very favorite small-town festivals, and now we have to wait another twelve months for it. Dang!!

Our group did have a wonderful time at the fun-run/walk. Suzy, Alyse and Tru Lehmann and I did the walk, and Tinille and Ivana did the three-mile run. Ivana was sitting in her stroller, of course, enjoying the sights and smiling at everyone while her mom did the hard part. I don’t remember what Tinille said her time was, but I was impressed. Tru said that next year, instead of walking, she has decided that she would like to do the run too. I am pretty sure that I will continue with the walk and let the young whippersnappers knock themselves out with the running thing.

We saw lots of people along the route cheering the runners (and us) on. We stopped and got a hug from LaDell Anderson – (You know, of course, that we decided to adopt LaDell and her hubby, Steve, this spring. One of the smartest decisions we have made for a long time.) After the walk, while we were on our way back to the car, we saw Mary Schiebel and Jackie Manke, hard at work, selling raffle tickets for the American Legion Auxiliary. Unfortunately, we did not carry our purses on the walk and so we had no money for raffle tickets, but I’m sure they sold lots and lots of them, and the proceeds are always used for very good causes.

After the walk, Duane and I met Tinille and Ivana in Range and enjoyed the pancake breakfast and silent auction put on by the Apple River Volunteer Fire Department. Ivana was thrilled with everything – we have pictures of her sitting on the back of one of the fire trucks. Ten-month old babies are so impressed with everything – It is so much fun watching her see new things.

When we left the pancake breakfast, Duane and I traveled to Milaca, Minnesota to attend an engagement party for Duane’s great-niece, Madie and her soon-to-be husband, Matthew. It was held on the family hobby farm, and we were able to see the turkeys, chickens, donkeys, horses and a couple cattle. There were quite a few small children there and, let me tell you, they were thrilled with all the animals. We had a fantastic time, meeting Matthew’s family and visiting with our family members there. We wish Madie and Matthew many years of wedded bliss.

We were unable to attend the parade on Sunday, but Geri Pittman (my partner in crime) was there with her family and said that it was, once again, wonderful. Geri’s favorite part, of course, was the Cumberland Marching Band, which was the first group after the Color Guards and the Boy Scout troops. Next year, for sure, we will be there for the parade and, after that, for the pie and ice cream served at the St. Paul Lutheran Church stand.

Tinille, Mark and Ivana Bellefeuille stopped by that afternoon with some delicious pickled beans and salsa that they had made and canned. Earlier that week they had canned peaches and brought a couple pints over for us. They have had a wonderful time (except for fighting with some horrible ground bees that have taken up residence in their radish patch) gardening and harvesting their produce this year. They do not have a pressure cooker yet, so Tinille came here to can tomatoes, but has been able to do the rest in a hot-water-bath canner. It’s been fun watching her turn into a produce farmer.

I have to do one rant here – Have you ever tried to get in touch with a human at the telephone company? I call to have something installed or for some other service, and am connected with a robot who asks me to enter my account number and zip code – and does not understand either the spoken answer or the numbers entered on my phone, so it asks again for the same information. Well, I am not the most patient person when it comes to speaking with non-human things, and by the time I finally am connected with a human, I am so angry that I’m afraid I am not very nice. I usually apologize right away, and let them know that I hate robots, but I wish there was a way to phone in to a phone company and get a real person. If a company such as Spectrum would have service in our rural areas, I would switch in a heartbeat just to make sure that I didn’t have to go through that again! End of rant. Do you have any suggestions?

Our sympathy goes out to the family of LilaMae (Glessing) Johnson, who passed away on August 23rd. LilaMae was born 100 years ago, and was raised on a farm here in Barronett. She was a loving wife, mother, grandmother, great-grandmother and great-great-grandmother, and will be sadly missed by all who knew her.

I guess that’s about all I know from Barronett this week. Have a wonderful Labor Day weekend – and enjoy Shell Lake’s Town and Country Days this weekend. See you next time.

Master Kurtis "Kurt" Olsvig

Master Kurtis Garold "Kurt" Olsvig, 48, of Turtle Lake, passed away on August 22, 2024 at Regions Hospital, surrounded by close family.

Kurt was born on October 8th, 1975 at Cumberland hospital to Garold and Carol Olsvig. Kurt attended Turtle Lake High School graduating in 1994. During this time, Kurt earned his Eagle Scout award from Boy Scout Troop 24 in Cumberland. He attended UW-Stout in Menomonie, graduating with a Bachelors of Science degree in Business Management and Construction Engineering.

He then moved to Minnesota to work for an Engineering company and later moved back to Wisconsin with the birth of his daughter Shella. He continued working in the construction and mining industry, later purchasing his own construction equipment. In his spare time he also enjoyed working on the family farm, mainly doing field work. He also had a love for animals, bringing them home to take care of.

"Beauty"

by Tim Carlson

Timberland Free Lutheran Church

Ecclesiastes 3:11

"He has made everything beautiful in its time. He has also set eternity in the hearts of men, yet they cannot fathom what God has done from beginning to end."

These words of God through Solomon move me to consider how blessed we are to live near Beaver Dam Lake and the beautiful trees and wildlife around us. From sunrise to sunset, starry hosts and northern lights, sunshine and rain, plantings and harvest, all speak of the abundant blessings of God. Too many times we take all of this beauty for granted. Solomon goes on to say that mankind cannot fathom God's creative and eternal power at work in our world, in contrast to our limited mortality. Within our hearts and our very being is a need to know purpose and to understand that we are created by God and we exist for His purpose. Without God's help, we really cannot understand a Creator who is the beginning and the end of all things. The finite existence of our bodies teaches us that we need to seek this God; yet, how do we find Him? The beauty of creation is one sign of His existence which should move the observant mind to seek out that Creator. Fortunately it is God who seeks us. He sent His Son Jesus to us!

In Luke 19:9, Jesus said, "Today salvation has come to this house...for the Son of Man came to seek and to save what was lost." Those who seek to know God must repent of lives seeking to fulfill selfish desires which are fleeting and meaningless. We must turn from our sins and ask Jesus to forgive us and take over our lives.

Those who trust in Jesus as their Lord will replace the beauty of the created things in this world with the beauty of the next—Heaven! King David prayed, "One thing I ask of the Lord, this is what I seek: that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to gaze upon the beauty of the Lord and to seek Him in His temple. (Psalm 27:4)

Imagine how much greater this beauty will be!

Northwoods Notebook: The assisted-living exodus by Larry Werner

The moving truck was loaded up, then hit the road for Minnesota, unloading at an assisted-living facility there. Our neighbors were making the move so many do – from Cumberland to a place where they can get health-care services in the senior home where they will live.

It's the second such exodus from our little neighborhood in the last two years, one – to be honest – we have contemplated at some point for ourselves. We're not ready yet, but we have some health issues, and if we must move out of our home, we'll be moving into a senior home in Minnesota, from where we moved 10 years ago.

We have four good friends who are on a waiting list for assisted living in the Cities, another wait-listed in Eau Claire, close to where her daughter lives. And children are usually part of the equation, as it was for our neighbors who moved recently.

Our kids and grandkids are in the same suburban area in Minnesota, and, as we get older and more infirm, we think we should probably be near the kids. Another acquaintance here put her house up for sale after a bad fall and is moving near her son in Pennsylvania; a friend moved a couple years ago from her mobile home in Cumberland to where her son lives in Texas.

One of the first people I met here 10 years ago – a guy named Gene, I think – was no longer showing up at the old Our Place Café. I asked the owner why not: He moved back to Minnesota to be near the kids, she said.

So the move back is often because the kids are there, but it's often because our elderly neighbors need to live in a place where they can be checked on by medical staff, given their medicine, get their meals. The kind of place we don't have here in The Island City.

That's unfortunate.

In the Twin Cities, there are senior homes in every neighborhood, it seems. And they fill up quickly. We have an apartment in Apple Valley, Minn., and, two blocks away from us, there's a lovely home that has the three stages – independent living, assisted living and memory care. Cumberland Care & Rehab is a nursing home and rehabilitation facility where people can get rehab and nursing services for a while after a hospital stay, or long-term and memory care. There are actually two attached assisted-living apartments. But our town lacks a housing facility that offers all three stages of living to seniors.

As I said, Ann and I have talked about whether we should move back to where the kids live and where our health-care specialists are. But when we start thinking about that, we take a pontoon ride on Beaver Dam Lake, or hear the cry of those loons on a summer morning, or attend a play at the arts center or a concert at the beach, or meet with friends at one of our wonderful restaurants for Friday fish.

We love living here and, chances are, so do you. But if we have to be in a place that has services on site, that has a dining room where we can get our meals, we'll have to leave this lovely little town on that beautiful lake.

Shortly before the new Cumberland Health Care building opened, I was on a tour of the hospital and clinic. Our tour guide, CEO Mike Gutsch, now retired, said there had been discussions with a developer concerning building an assisted-living facility near the new hospital.

Here's hoping it happens before more of our neighbors have to leave this good place called Cumberland.

Cumberland Municipal Utility Crews worked on a down power line Tuesday morning on 5th Avenue in Cumberland. Overnight heavy winds brought widespread power outages, and downed trees to the area.
