Salmonella Outbreak In Wisconsin Linked To Contaminated Cucumbers

The Wisconsin Department of Health Services (DHS), along with the Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, Trade, and Consumer Protection (DATCP), local health departments, and federal partners, is working to investigate a multistate outbreak of Salmonella infections linked to cucumbers. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC), 68 people in 19 states have become infected with the outbreak strain of Salmonella. This includes three people who live in Wisconsin.

According to the U.S. Food & Drug Administration (FDA), the cucumbers were sold by SunFed Produce, LLC (SunFed) and shipped to 26 states, including Wisconsin, between October 12 and November 26.

The cucumbers have now been recalled. Individual cucumbers may have a sticker that says "SunFed Mexico." More information about the recall and how to identify the recalled cucumbers is available on the FDA website.

Anyone who purchased the contaminated cucumbers is advised to not eat, serve, sell, use, or distribute them and to throw them away. DHS urges Wisconsinites to check their homes for cucumbers, and if unsure whether those cucumbers are part of the recall, contact the store where they purchased them. DHS also encourages Wisconsinites to clean and sanitize surfaces that could have come into contact with the recalled product to reduce cross-contamination. Anyone who ate contaminated cucumbers and is experiencing symptoms of Salmonella infection should contact a health care provider right away. Signs and symptoms of Salmonella infection include diarrhea, abdominal pain, fever, and vomiting that lasts for several days.

Salmonella infection, or Salmonellosis, is caused by Salmonella bacteria that are spread by eating or drinking contaminated food or water, or by direct or indirect contact with poop from infected people or animals. Salmonella is a common cause of diarrheal illness, though in rare cases it can cause bloodstream infections. Children, older adults, and people with weakened immune systems may have more serious symptoms. Though most people will recover from salmonellosis on their own, some may require extra fluids to prevent dehydration.

This investigation is ongoing.

EMPLOYMENT OPPORTUNITY

JOB DESCRIPTION

About Us: Nature's Edge Therapy Center is a nonprofit organization providing intensive therapy services on a nature-based platform. Our 65-acre ranch utilizes hippotherapy, animal-assisted therapy, and horticulture to promote independence and maximize the potential of individuals with disabilities. Join our passionate team and make a meaningful difference in the lives of our patients and animals.

Position Summary: We are seeking a dedicated BARN ASSISTANT & HORSE HANDLER with under saddle knowledge to join our team. This role is essential in ensuring the care and wellbeing of our therapy animals while supporting the success of our therapy programs. If you have a passion for horse care, riding, and creating a nurturing environment, we encourage you to apply!

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES

Horse Care & Barn Maintenance: • Feed, water, groom, and care for horses according to individualized schedules. • Conduct daily health checks and administer basic medical care as needed. • Clean stalls, maintain the barn, and organize supplies.

Horse Handling & Riding: • Safely lead and handle horses during therapy sessions and for farrier/vet visits. • School and exercise therapy horses under saddle to maintain fitness and readiness. • Perform a riding test (required during the interview process) to demonstrate ability. • Provide feedback on horse behavior and suitability for therapy programs.

Program Support: • Prepare horses and equipment for therapy sessions or events. • Assist with educating participants about horse care and handling.

Other Duties: • Maintain accurate records related to horse care. • Ensure a safe and welcoming environment for staff, volunteers, and participants.

Qualifications:

- At least 2 years of experience in horse care, handling, and riding.
- Strong knowledge of equine health, behavior, and fitness.
- Physical ability to perform barn duties (lift up to 50 lbs, work outdoors year-round).
- Excellent communication and teamwork skills.

Preferred: • Experience with therapy horses or equine-assisted activities. • Certification in equine first aid or related training.

Opportunities for Growth: • Wages will increase for candidates interested in becoming certified as a PATH Intl. Instructor (Professional Association of Therapeutic Horsemanship International). • Certification training and opportunities for professional development are available to qualified candidates.

Schedule: • Monday–Friday, 8:00 AM to 5:00 PM, with occasional weekend or evening shifts as needed.

Compensation: • Competitive pay based on experience, with opportunities for wage increases tied to certification and skill development.

Why Join Us? • Work in a supportive, mission-driven environment. • Make a meaningful impact on the lives of individuals and animals. • Be part of a dedicated and passionate team.

How to Apply: • Submit your resume, e-mail a cover letter, and references to nature@naturesedgetherapycenter.org. Please include details about your equine experience, especially your work with horse handling and under saddle training. Selected candidates will perform a riding test as part of the interview process.

Job Types: Full-time, Part-time

Pay: $14.00 - $16.00 per hour

Expected hours: 40 per week

Benefits: • Health insurance • Health savings account • Paid time off • Professional development assistance • Retirement plan

Schedule: • 8 hour shift • Day shift • Monday to Friday

Ability to Relocate: • Rice Lake, WI 54868: Relocate before starting work (Required)

Work Location: In person
